Organize County Child Welfare Association Here

At a meeting held in Eastland Friday afternoon an Eastland County Child Welfare organization was perfected with Walter Harwell of Ranger as chairman, Mrs. Jos-eph M. Perkins of Eastland as vice chairman and Rev. Miley of Cisco as secretary-treasurer. A member-chairman and Rev. Miley of Cisco as secretary-treasurer. A membership committee, composed of Walter Harwell, Rev. Miley, Mrs. P. Pettit of Cisco, Mrs. Howard of Rising Star, Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland, Mrs. Saunders Gregg of Ranger and Mrs. Stubblefield of Gorman was also appointed.

The aims of the organization, as pointed out at the meeting, are to know the needs of dependent, neglected and handicapped children of the county; to familiarize the citizens of the county with the needs children in need of assistance and to encourage in the county the development of all character building, health educational and recreational work, believing that prevention is beter than correction.

Lotief Wants to Get Information

Cecil A. Lotief, representative representative from the 107th district in the state legislature, has sent out a letter asking for information as to how he should vote on the gross sales tax proposition. He calls attention to the fact that the legislature has received a message from the governor requesting the enactment of a law providing for a tax of 3 per cent on gross sales. In commenting on this he suggests the possibility of the house passing a 2 per cent law instead of the one proposed.

Among other things Mr. Lotief says: "I personally do not know whether it is wise or unwise to levy an extra tax on the wares, merchandise and other things in general that people consume. I decided, at this time, to ask the people of my district to let me know as to whether to cast my ballot for or ngainst the sales tax; for, of course, I am not familiar with it. AUSTIN. — Technocracy, the economic doctrine expounded by Howard Scott at Columbia university, is an old theory, professors at the University of Texas maintain.

Both C. A. Timm, professor of government, and E. T. Miller, professor of economics, describe technocracy as a theory existent for many decades.

"Technocracy is socialism, an old subject, presented in a new way to avoid scaring the people although the inevitable results of both systems are the same," said

"It is an attempt to study our whole economic structure from the point of view of energy and resources and is calling attention to the fact our means of production have jumped ahead of our means of consumption:"

Miller said: "Technocracy is a theory as old as the Marxian doctrines and more recently those of Thorstein Vebelen, an economist who wrote about the effects of technological improvements of society."

MAKE LIFE'S PATHWAY BRIGHT

"I rejoice in my life because the lamp still glows; I seek no thorny ways; I love the small pleasures of life. If doors are too low, I bend; If I can remove a stone from the path I do so; if it is too heavy, I go round it; and so, I find something in every day that pleases me. And the corner stone, my belief in God, makes my heart glad and my face shining.'

These words were written by a woman seventy-six years old, Frau Goethe, who, like the sister of Charlemagne, knew how to pour out the rich wine of life. Yet, her life was not an easy one. At seventeen she was the wife of a sedate, severe lawyer of thirty-eight, and she had her share of the griefs and ills which fall to our human lot. Her husband lost his mind, lay an invalid for two years and she was left a widow; yet, her spirit was not broken nor did her spring of

Of her six children, three died in infancy, and she lost her only daughter in mid-life. Soldiers were quartered in her home for months at a time, first French and then German. She endured bombardment when her home city was shelled and was forced to flee for her life. Yet, through all the ups and downs of the years, in war and in peace, in illness and in health, her simple faith held, and she came to a bright old age, happy and unbowed, busy to the end in the fine art of

"Lives of great men live after them." This is true of Frau Goethe; for she passed on to humanity a woman's greatest gift, a child. Her eldest son, Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, a myriad-minded genius, was one of the world's greatest poets, and through him she has made her impress on the multitudes of the nations. Surely, those who have found life's battles hard in these stressful times and are in a mood to surrender, could meditate on the outcome of the life of this mother and face the future with courage.

TAX EXEMPTION NOT FOR BACHELORS AND MAIDS

At the November election the people of Texas voted to exempt from taxation homesteads valued at $3,000 and less. This law is soon to become effective but it will not apply to bachelors and old maids, who own homes in their own names, Under the Texas laws unmarried men and women are not entitled to claim homesteads. Therefore, they will not be able to avail themselves of the State tax exemption to be made effective when the Legislature puts into force the constitutional amendment, unless they are the heads of families.

No matter how much property a single person owns, and no matter whether he or she lives in a home, the exemption will not be allowed. As a result of this law, bachelors and spinsters, who own homes, will have to pay a State tax, not to exceed $20.70, for the privilege of retaining single blessedness. Some may have the idea that this exemption applies only to homesteads whose value is $3,000.00 or less. This is not true. Regardless of how high the value placed on the homestead, the owner would pay only on the excess above

Commerce banquet last Thursday night. Possibly, this was we cannot. boom days. A spirit of optimism prevailed; not a note of pessimism was sounded. As speaker after speaker came on the floor, we expected to hear something said about plans for a bank that should materialize during the year. But no such announcement was made.

Is there now no movement extant for providing a bank for Eastland? Have the business leaders given up? Do they believe that to secure a bank is impossible at this time? Do they not realize that the lack of banking facilities is as a constrictor around the throat of business, slowly but surely squeezing out its life? It is difficult to cash checks in Eastland; therefore, the customer with a check goes to a bank. Is it not natural that he does his buying in that town? This is not the fault of our merchants, as a class; they are not prepared to do a banking business.

It is unnatural that a city with the population and resources that Eastland has should be without a bank for eighteen months. There is a reason. We are not attempting to say what the reason is; we are not concerned with that phase of the proposition. The business leaders can secure a bank for Eastland when they get together and make the proper effort. This is the paramount task now. All others are secondary. The obtaining of a bank is a challenge to the ability of the business leaders of Eastland.

NORTH DAKOTA IN BIG PICTURE

North Dakota is one of the newest of American commonwealths. Sen. W. E. Martin of that state introduced a resolution recommending 39 states of the sisterhood should resolution recommending 39 states of the sisterhood should walk out of the group of Eastern states to form a separate nation. And the Martin resolution said the 39 states would "carry with us the star spangled banner leaving with group of transfer. One would "carry with us the star spangled banner leaving with the Eastern states the strines they so richly deserve." Something in the nature of a riot followed. When the resolution came before the North Dakota senate, a motion was made to strike from the resolution a reference to the star spangled banner. This motion was defeated by one vote. Lieut. Gov. Ole H. Olson cast the deciding vote. There was a turbulent debate. Charges were hurled that the proposal bordered on treason. A motion to publish the resolution carried, 28 to 20. One distinguished senator declared that while he was not discussing the merits of the resolution, he strongly favored its publication in the journal to

Martin, the author of this famous withdrawal resolution, sought to withdraw it so that he could introduce it as a bill but was ruled tarantula leaped but the out of order by the distinguished member of the ancient and distinguished Scandinavian house of Olson. According to the newspaper reports, "applause from the galleries and some of the members rang out through the chamber on announcement that the motion to publish the resolution had carried." Away down here under Southwestern skies Texas will vote no. If put to the test, they will vote loudly and about the many times. In the long ago Texas voted itself out of the union of states. Today in the ranks of the people now on earth a majority of the men and women of the mighty commonwealth are the descendants of the men who fought for the bonny blue flag and the planters republic. They are in the union of states and it is a thousand to one that they are for that union "now and forever." North Dakota will be given wide publicity in the great newspapers and the leading periodicals of the nation; North Dakota will be recognized and have "a place in the union."—Breckenridge American.

STAY CLOSE TO THE COUNTRY NEIGHBOR

"The town in this county that survives will be the one that augural address that he may a candidate for governor in stays closest to its country neighbors." These are words that were spoken by county agent, J. C. Patterson, at the Chamber of Commerce banquet last Thursday night. In com-menting on the above statement. Mr. Patterson mentioned being mentioned most are Speaker menting on the above statement, Mr. Patterson mentioned the fact that oil interests in the county are declining and that business must depend to a greater and greater degree on the farming activities of this territory. In making an application of his assertion, he emphasized the necessity of providing an adequate market for anything the farmer can produce. In other words, the town that stocks the merchandise that the farmer needs and then buys his chickens, cucumbers, watermelons and peanuts will get the business.

The Chronicle believes that the county agent was imminently correct in his statement. Land and its products have been the basis of the economical structure in this country since the day the Pilgrims planted the first crop of corn and oil companies. It is hardly possible to the prosecution of the prosecution of the prosecution of the prosecution of the product the rainformly has anti-trust suits he has filed against won its tilt with various governors oil companies. It is hardly possible to the post of the post More than two hundred people attended the Chamber of ommerce banquet last Thursday night. Possibly, this was the most representative gathering of Eastland citizens since om days. A spirit of optimism prevailed; not a note of similar of pumpkins. Since the first oil wells were discovered in this county, we have been trying to get away from this fact, but we cannot.

We are about to make a prediction. Possibly few, if any, will agree with us; nevertheless, we shall predict. The form ers have already broken a chunk out of the depression. This debacle had its beginning among the high and mighty in theft and was taken to the penibusiness and worked down to the farm. Now the farms tentiary at Rusk, Texas, to serve have started a ripple of prosperity that will spread to the a two year sentence. Soon he was farthest reaches of business. Rep. Lon E. Alsup has offered in the house a bill that would re-peal an entire statute book full of special game laws and substitute a short, simple, clear law that will save the confusion and trouble which sportsmen are now put by the multitude of special and local

Mr. Alsup's bill would abolish the statutory open seasons on game, and give the game commission power to fix open seasons in the few permanent zones to be fixed for the state, the seasons to be announced by August of each year for that year. The bill also emrowers the commission to fix bag limits. That would give it the right to remedy the situation of over-abundance of does in some

Two main effects of the Alsup law would be, first, to allow the state to adjust its open seasons and bag limits to federal regulations, so as to protect sportsmen against failure of the two to co-incide; and, second, against the and, second, against the ainty that now prevails. uncertainty which men started hunting where they started, but where it was il-

There is a catch of at least $3.000,000 in the three per cent sales tax plan, satisfactory as the bill may be otherwise.

Government will just be taking this $3,000,000 out of one pocket and putting it into another. It is just like a three per cent tax on the state's total expenditures.

The joker schedule is that which levies the gross receipts tax on contractors. Builders of state highways, street paving, public srucires suh as courthouses.

and the like, will pay that tax.

Of course, the money will come from certain funds that get in hard cash, and lots of it, and go inhard cash, and lots of it, and go in-to a fund that needs money mighty badly; but after all, the cities, counties and state—the taxpayers -will be paying it.

This is the oath that Rep. W. F.

Among eight bills growing out of the senate fee committee investigations, designed to correct abus-es and provide remedies for conditions found in it, Sen. Will Beck has offered a measure to stop state's being an "angel" to the ocunty treasuries and to the funds out of which officers fees paid.

In felony cases, the costs are orne by the state. In misdeborne by the state. In misde-meanor cases, the fees come from the county. Sen. Beck's bill pro-vides that where a felony charge is tried, resulting in a misdemean or conviction, all the fee officers shall return the amounts they received to the state. The bil provides their bondsmen shall be liable for the reimbursements.

Another of the bills requires the count yattorney to represent the state in the absence of the disrict attorney, or shall aid the district attorney, when requested, and al-lows him all, or alf the fees al-lowed the district attorney in such

Many orators who think they been a shining example of what ave an important message to de-chamber of commerce could do, for with his ark he kept afloat while all the rest of the world was in liquidation. Citizens of Chicago date everything from the great fire of Oct. 9, 1871. Here in Eastland we are inclined to date from that fretful day, Oct. 2, 1931, when our only bank closed its doors.

Certainly, so far as the Chamber of Commerce was concerned, that was an eventful day, for we were left high and dry financially.

We surely needed the example of Noah to keep the doors open while all around us, and all over the world for that matter, people were struggling with this sea of depression. Citizens of Chicago date every-depression.

I am happy to report to you this evening that the Eastland Chamber of Commerce passed through this flood without being overwhelmed. Perhaps the struggle for existence was a blessing in dis-guise, for today we are financially sound. While we have no money in the treasury (for that matter I do not know that we ever did have any to speak of), we have our bills paid and we have a pocket full of hope and courage.

Courage to do and dare and a hope for that eternal reward in the land toward which we all are travelling.

No matter what opinion we may have of this great country of ours, in the eyes of the world at large we stand as dollar chasers. It is said by the citizens of other na-tions that money is our god.

Speaking of money, it comes to this point in the life history of any business or organization. If you cannot make a profit in dollars and cents, it is time to call in an expert to find out what is the matter or close out the business

I mention this fact that the Eastland Chamber of Commerce can show a profit in real dollars and cents, and this justifies its exexistence in this community. With the assistance of the Cisco, Ranger and Rising Star Chambers of Comand Rising Star Chambers of Com-merce we have brought to this county $64,000 in real cash from the reconstruction finance cor-poration at Washington.

Some $13,000 of this amount is being spent in the Eastland dis-trict for work relief. This major activity of our Chamber of Commerce is one evidence of a paying business. The benefits are not alone in the relief to the needy, but the improvements constructed will be of lasting benefit to our city and community.

However material all this money talk may sound, there is still a more sacred task entrusted to the Chamber of Commerce, for it is not written that we shall know nothing but that which is measured in dollars and cents. We are charged with sowing the seed of good will among our neighbors and friends. We are under the obligation of carrying the torch of idealism high until others can pick up the vision up the vision.

One of the greatest dangers of so exacting a period as that through which we are passing is the loss of vision and imagination.

the loss of vision and imagination.
We are too apt to say as Cain of old, "Am I my brother's keeper?"
We most emphatically say, "Yes."
I am pleased to say that an abiding faith in our community has pervaded in an unusual degree among our board of directors. They have displayed a conscientious regard for the well being of our citizens during all of this most our citizens during all of this most critical period in the life of our $2,676 is aid in providing trans-

FOODS DEVITALIZED Modern methods of refinit rob them of much of the Mineral content so necessary to health. Poor cooking and unbalanced diets are another source of trouble. The body is starved for the essential Minerals and Vitamins. Soon we suffer with indigestion, constipation, headaches, nervousness, pimply skin. We lose weight, feel tired and listless, fail to get enough sleep. Health deserts us and we wonder why.

NATURAL WAY TO HEALTH After years of research, a new and remarkable formula has been perfected that supplies the body with the essential Minerals. This preparation is not a "patent" medicine but a scientific blending of Minerals and Vitamins that aids Nature in quickly balancing the mineral content of the body, clearing away intestinal poisons and building new strength and vitality.

60 cents* of every gas bill goes for TAXES...

IN the course of a single year, MORE THAN TWO AND THREE-QUARTER MILLION gas bills are rendered to customers of the Lone Star Gas System. It requires 60c for each and every one of these bills to pay the numerous TAXES levied against the fuel service of this dependable System for the production, transportation and distribution of natural gas.

This figure computed from the amount of taxes paid compared to the rendered in a year.

This money comes from the pockets of the gas consumers, and adds to the cost of gas service. The company acts as an agency for the collection of this tax money from its customers, and has no control over this item of expense which is a part of the rate you pay for natural

The friend who wrote me was disposed to question the propriety of the church permitting such use of its lot on the ground that much business would be done on Sunday.

It is an interesting question for all to consider in relation to the teaching and practice of Jesus concerning the Sabbath. Every one who considers the question honest-

For instance, if food were not sold on Sunday in a large city to-day, many people would inevitably go hungry, and the law and custom of our modern cities has recognized this.

It ought, I think, to be fairly in harrow and mechanical Sabbatarianism, which would necessitate a return to a very much simpler form of civilization, but by bringing into all of our complex life the beauty, the power, and the richness of what Jesus taught and lived.
