Cotton Reduction Campaign Closes Saturday

NEER WEST VISITS EASTLAND

...and wife of Lingle... visitors in Eastland Saturday morning most of the day... is one of the real pioneers in this section. When a very young man came to Rising Star to survey the original tract for that city. He first settled more than 50 years ago and recalls that the land was occupied by the court-ship of post oak trees, with no cotton, when he first saw it. When a very young man went up the trail with his wife and child, he was met by Maj. George Little, who recalled, "making a trail in 1876 with 5,000 men from Gonzales to the Wyoming territory. I went through Fort Worth, a small town, and camped under a big cottonwood tree on the bank of a creek a short distance from Fort Worth, where I never again saw cotton. I know of course that since then the cotton has spread and now it is now far inside the limits of Fort Worth," he said.

Eastland County Woman Aviator Is Complimented

Mrs. Agnes Harwood Doyle of Eastland, who has just returned from Dallas, where she took her plane to be overhauled, had the following story about her in the Dallas News, which stated that after an interview with Ruch Nichols, the famous aviator in San Antonio, that Mrs. Doyle quit thinking about taking up flying, and started after her pilots license and that she is now headed for a transport license. The article stated that Mrs. Doyle makes her home with an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Schmieck in Eastland. "The only disadvantage to flying that I can see is not being able to get out and fix the motor when you are thousands of feet in the air, and the engine goes 'pffft.' Just at present, I am getting better acquainted with the engine and 'fielding' out the airports of the State. I have passed the physical examination for a transport license and most of the rest is practice. I think that there is a great field for women in the air so I am staying with it." Mrs. Doyle started her training at the Southern Aviation School in San Antonio, and soloed after 9 hours and 40 minutes of flying. She had had 35 hours in the air, when a pilots license was granted. She hesitated to tell her aunt and uncle that she had been flying alone, but the minute Mrs. Schmieck heard the news, she decided to buy a plane and present it to her niece. The 80 year old aunt is an aviation enthusiast and if there is room in the plane for her she is there. The 91-year-old uncle doesn't object, but he stays out of the air. Mrs. Doyle has now 65 hours of flying all of which has been between Texas airports, and much of it alone in flights between Eastland and Dallas, and San Antonio.

NATIONS AGREE ON CURTAILING WHEAT CROP

LONDON, July 5.—Delegates representing the United States, Canada, Australia and Argentina today reached agreement in principle on a "policy of temporary adjustment" to raise wheat prices, but argued that cooperation of European consuming nations was necessary as any final solution of the problem. It was announced officially. "The four overseas wheat exporting countries today agreed on a policy of temporary adjustment of production and trade to world demand, with the view of improving the price of wheat and liquidating the surplus stocks now hanging over the market," the statement said. "They recognize, however, that a solution of the wheat problem depends upon the cooperation of European countries." Thirty Farmers Have Signed Up To Plow Cotton RANGER, Texas, July 6.—With only two more days left in which farmers can sign contracts to plow up their cotton crops, or part of the crops, about 30 farmers have visited the chamber of commerce and completed their part of the agreement with the cotton acreage reduction board. The local committee, composed of Ben Whitehouse, E. H. Mills and W. C. Hickey planned to visit one of the communities this afternoon and inspect the cotton patches that have been staked off, estimate the stand and yield and pass on the applications of the owners for permission to participate in the rental plan. The applications average from eight to 10 acres each to be plowed up with an average indicated yield of from 100 to 125 pounds of lint cotton per acre, while in one or two instances the yield was estimated by the farmer at from 170 to 175 pounds an acre. When the local committee has visited the cotton fields and inspected the growing cotton, the contracts will be sent to the county committee and from there in to the regional office. The farmer will then plow up his cotton and checks to cover the amount of cash involved will be mailed to him. Unless orders from the regional office are changed, Saturday, July 8, will be the last date on which farmers can sign contracts to plow up part of their cotton and participate in the government plan of cotton acreage reduction, it was stated this morning by members of the committee.

CROWD ESTIMATED AT 20,000 CELEBRATES 'FOURTH' HERE

A crowd estimated at approximately 20,000 well fed well dressed and happy men, women and children saw the big free two-day celebration in Eastland Monday and Tuesday. The program began with a parade Monday at 1 p. m. and ended at 1:40 a. m. Tuesday night with a big street dance. Throughout both Monday and Tuesday and until late each night the streets were thronged with people. The entire program was given without a mishap of any kind. The program, which consisted of a big two-day rodeo with plenty of bronc busting, wild steer roping and riding, calf roping, boxing, wrestling, jackass polo games, old fiddlers contest, square dance contest, etc., was pronounced one of the best ever witnessed in this section. Those in charge of the program are being highly praised for their efforts. One of the features of the program was the parade Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Frank Robinson was chairman of the parade committee and Sam Gamble was marshal in charge. A string of decorated automobiles, trucks, wagons, and 150 head of horses with riders up the one- and one-half mile parade. The Lone Star band, directed by A. J. Campbell, the Eastland band and Herring String orchestra furnished music for the entire program. Out of appreciation for the splendid service rendered by these bands the Retail Merchants association of Eastland gave them a barbecue dinner Monday at noon at the City Park. On this occasion Mayor Donald L. Kinnaird, in a short address, expressed the appreciation of Eastland citizens for the co-operation of Mr. Campbell and the individual members of the band. Also to the Lone Star Gas company of whose employees the Lone Star band is composed. Mayor Kinnaird also delivered a welcome address at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, welcoming the visitors to Eastland, assuring them of Eastland's appreciation of their co-operation and promising them that the July 3rd and 4th celebration in Eastland is to be an annual affair and that an effort will be made to improve the program each year. The athletic events, in charge of a committee composed of Geo. Belcher, Ralph Crouch and Bill Hassan, featured the program on Monday night and were witnessed by a large crowd. Tuesday night's program was in charge of George Harper, Horace Conley and B. E. McGlamery. This program was made up largely of the old fiddlers contest, square dances and a big street dance for all. Ira L. Hanna, Carl Johnson, Judge Funk, J. O. Earnest, Felix Brown, Clarence Henderson had charge of the rodeo program and novelty events. Wood Butler and Frank Robinson had charge of concession. H. C. Davis had general supervision of the entire program. A list of the winners at the rodeo and in the old fiddlers contest was not available today, but will be published later.

170 KILLED IN UNITED STATES OVER HOLIDAY

CHICAGO, July 5.—The nation's independence day celebration cost the lives of at least 170 persons, a survey by the United Press revealed today. Traffic accidents, drownings, plane crashes and fireworks explosions contributed the majority of deaths. With fair weather over most of the country, automobile and crossing mishaps took the heaviest toll. In Michigan alone 23 persons died in automobile accidents. Sixteen died in California from the same cause and seven in Kansas. A heavy toll was taken by similar accidents in other states, with Pennsylvania having six, Ohio eight, Iowa five and Indiana five. Mexican's Common Law Wife Collects $1,000 In Insurance Judgment was rendered by Judge George L. Davenport in the 91st district court for the plaintiff in the case of Flora Ortego vs. the Metropolitan Life Insurance company. The evidence in this case was heard several weeks ago but the decision was delayed awaiting a brief that was furnished by parties interested in the defense. The Ortego case is of interest not only for legal bearing of the decision but also because of its partial international setting. Ortego came to Eastland several years ago and was employed by the Texas & Pacific Railroad as a section hand. The employer furnished him with an insurance policy for $1,000, as was his custom with all employees. He had the policy made to an uncle in Mexico as beneficiary. Soon after coming here he began living with a Mexican woman, who was considered as his wife though no formal ceremony was performed. Merchants and business men of Eastland recognized her as Mrs. Flora Ortego. About a year ago Ortego became ill and was taken to the company hospital at Marshall. He realized that he could not live and just before his death told the doctor and nurses that he wanted the beneficiary of the policy transferred from his uncle to his wife. Evidence indicated that he had heard some time before that his uncle was dead. The officials of the hospital notified the Metropolitan Insurance company, who had issued the policy, of his wish. Before settlement was made a Mexican claiming to be the uncle gave an attorney at Dallas the power of attorney to act for him in the collection of the policy. The services of the Mexican consul was brought into the case and he filed an answer to the plaintiff's pleadings, asking that the money be paid to the original beneficiary. The effect of Judge Davenport's decision was to the effect that the dying request of Ortego though not written and signed by him was binding on the insurance company. SUCCESS OF PLAN IS SEEN BY DIRECTORS

Williamson, Texas extension service vice-director and state agent of the reduction campaign. Williamson has notified county and local committees in charge of the contract-signing drive, that the campaign for signatures will close July 8. The committee, however, are still at work and contracts are to be signed up to July 8. County Agent Patterson, on July 1, issued the following bulletin: "To Cotton Growers Who Have Signed Contracts to Plow Up Cotton: Contrary to state made in public meetings: "You will please proceed at once to select, measure and stake the cotton which you will plow up. To freshen your memory there are 4840 square yards per acre. To calculate acreage: divide the 4840 by length of rows in yards to determine the width for an acre. Multiply this by the number of acres to be plowed up in that field. This gives width of strip to be plowed up. Include in this calculation only land actually growing cotton... no turning rows. You do your own measuring on the land you want plowed up. Then the committeeman inspects the crop to satisfy himself as to accuracy of measurements... that cotton should produce what you estimated... and that it is an average of all of your cotton. Later federal men inspect fields selected at random to check us. Committeemen will begin Monday afternoon inspecting on this basis. Please have your stakes up by then if possible although it will require several days to inspect all fields. You will not plow up any of this contracted cotton until notified from Washington that your contract is accepted."

RECORD PRICE FOR WOOL IN CONCHO RIVER SECTION

There is prosperity in the Concho River section where wool is the chief staple and mohair has a commanding place. According to a San Angelo news story the West Texas range wool market disclosed six weeks of strenuous activity during which a new high of 28 1/2 cents a pound was set for 12 month clip and a record price of 26 cents a pound for eight month wool has also been set. Most of the free wool has been purchased at prices which ranged from 24 1/2 to the top of 28 1/2 cents with the average well above 25 cents, and about 450,000 pounds of mohair is a recent offering at fancy prices.

Speaker Henry T. Rainey is reminded that rainbows continue to appear in Lone Star skies. He is reminded that the Texas world is scoring a comeback. Speaking of mohair, Uvalde reports the sale of 180,000 pounds of mixed wool and 175,000 pounds of mohair, the largest remaining clips of these commodities in the county seat of the home section of the vice-president of the United States. Boston buyers were the principal bidders and the mohair and the wool of Texas will go to the storehouses of the city made famous by brown bread and beans. Someday there will be mohair mills in Texas; someday there will be woolen mills in Texas; someday there will be tanneries and shoe manufacturing plants in Texas. Hasten the day.

ROAD BUILDING ACTIVITIES IN TEXAS

Texas is the largest of commonwealths; Texas has been allotted the largest sum of money for road building purposes by the federal government. It calls for an expenditure of more than $25,000,000. Money used for highway purposes, if not wasted or grafted, increases taxable value of community and commonwealth and ties the country to the city and the city to the country. It is a real investment in public highways which should be made durable and lasting. Rivers and creeks should be bridged and the bridges should not be makeshift affairs to be swept away when the torrential rains come or tumble in because of inferior material or workmanship. There should be no favoritism shown to sections. All the people of all sections, north or east or south or west, should be given ample recognition, there should be competitive bidding and the state should receive 100 cents in modern highways for every dollar paid for labor and material.

There are thousands of Texans who are in need of employment. Crack down and build during the summer and fall seasons of 1933. Furnish idle Texans paying jobs. Give them an opportunity to support their dependents and restore as far as possible the purchasing power of the commonwealth. Build for the future. Build state arteries of traffic and travel that will be monuments to their builders and of lasting service to the people who will make use of the highways and contribute in gasoline tax paying the cost of maintaining them.

CHARLES E. MITCHELL WINS A VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY

Charles E. Mitchell, erstwhile one of the outstanding bankers of the American world, won a verdict of not guilty at the hands as well as the voices of a jury of his peers, "all New York city young business men and income tax payers." He was declared to be not guilty of evasion of the income tax laws. "A bird with a broken wing never flies high again." Let it go at that.

In a democracy where the constitution rules, or should rule, it is wise to bow to the verdict of a jury and it is ever safe to trust to the rulings of the higher courts and the court of last resort. Now the loop-holes in the income tax laws will be plugged. Now drastic amendments will be added to the law and the holders of great fortunes and the clients of able and shrewd and cunning lawyers will be compelled to pay their fair share of the cost of government.

FARLEY SIGNS NEW POSTAL ORDER

Postmaster General James A. Farley has signed an order restoring the 2 cent local rate on first class postage on July 1. Farley hopes the volume of business will be increased to a point where work will be provided for thousands of postal employees who otherwise might be furloughed without pay. Rate on letters mailed to outside cities or villages remains at 3 cents and the rate for cards remains at 1 cent. A frank confession that a general postage raise was a rank failure and resulted in decreased receipts for the post office department. That will happen to the petroleum industry someday and all on account of taxing the gasoline buyer a higher levy "than the traffic will bear."

AN ARMY OF IDLE TEACHERS ASKING FOR JOBS

Thousands of thoroughly equipped young men and women educated for teachers in the schools of the nation are seeking jobs and seeking in vain. Well, Texas has eight teachers colleges, and there is a large surplus of teachers just as there is a huge surplus of cotton. Just why an overproduction of teachers in a commonwealth where there is an army of idle teachers?

War Hero Sees A New Dry Era For United States

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—The prohibition cause will not be lost with repeal of the 18th Amendment, Sergt. Alvin C. York believes. The World War hero, interested in prohibition since 1914, believes repeal is a "certainty," but is looking forward to "a new dry era."

"I believe the prohibition amendment will be repealed alright," York said, "but the dry cause will not be lost thereby. In fact, I look for a new era for temperance."

"With all the troubles of unemployment and general unrest, the American people are too bothered and upset to think straightly. It may take outright repeal to bring them to their senses."

"When Americans have had their fling, I believe they'll wake up, realize what it's all about, then oust liquor for once and for all. They'll discover that what I've been preaching for 19 years has some sense to it."

"No man should drink something that puts him in only partial command of his senses."

Sergt. York, now 45, looks upon the legalization of 3.2 per cent beer as a "huge joke."

"I don't know whether or not this new beer is intoxicating," he said. "I've never tried it, but I understand from those who have that it's not much of a drink. In fact, I think it's a huge joke."

York is touring in behalf of the Anti-Saloon leagues.

Youthful Judge Is West Texas Legend

ROBERT LEE, Texas.—County Judge E. O. Gerron at 26 already is something of a legend here. The "newcomer," as he is affectionately known to old-timers of Coke county, came here three years ago from Ellis county to accept appointment as county attorney.

A year ago he announced his candidacy for county judge. Lacking an automobile, he canvassed every community in the county on foot before the primary election in torrid July.

It was a footsore and weary young man who limped back to the county seat to await outcome of the election. He won, and is now serving his first term as judge. But Gerron's legend started before he adopted West Texas as his home. He was a mere youngster when he was graduated from law school and hung out his shingle in Ellis county. Shortly after going into practice he ran for the state legislature, was elected four years ago and served through a regular and five called sessions as representative. He resigned to make his permanent home here.

Dead Sheep Aid To Utah Jobless

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—"Finders are keepers," is the slogan of the high desert country these days as unemployed men and women hunt for the bodies of sheep and pull the wool from them.

It was a bad spring for sheepmen along the Utah-Nevada border. A late blizzard caught flocks. Thousands died.

From this disaster came the unique occupation of "wool pulling." Death of an animal doesn't hurt wool, so men needing funds started following the blizzard trail.

At Eureka, Nev., within a two week period, 8,000 pounds of "pulled wool" was sold and hundreds of skins were stored.

Pulled wool differs from clipped wool only in that it requires much more labor to prepare for cloth. This is because pulled wool, generally speaking, is dirty and must be cleaned.

In most instances, and solely because of the necessary additional cleaning effort, pulled wool sells for about half the price of regular clipped wool.

Employer Had To Fulfill Old Promise

JEROME, Ariz.—Since 1918, of the 14 girls employed by John MacIntyre at his Verde Furniture company store here, 13 have married. To each he promised a $50 twin baby carriage if the occasion ever called for it.

MacIntyre's hand was called when a former employe, Mary Landers, became the mother of twin girls.

AIRPLANE DELIVERS BABY'S FOOD

DALLAS.—Every day an airplane leaves here with breakfast for Mary Ann Neuhoff, 14-month-old sojourner at Galveston, 300 miles away. It is the only way Mary Ann's mother can spend her vacation on the gulf, Mrs. Henry Neuhoff Jr. explained, because "baby just must have her specially prepared food."

LA GROSSE, Kan.—A chicken hatched in the Schwab hatchery here has four legs, but to date has found use for only two of them.

Joshua 14:6-14

By BEULAH K. HICKS

Caleb, a marvelous old man; now 85 years old, was the representative of the great tribe of Judah, the royal tribe.

He stood there a noble specimen of manhood that day in 1454 B. C. and reviewed his life to Joshua that he might claim the promise of God which was promised 45 years before.

He spoke of the time when the 12 spies were sent out and 10 of them saw the giants and impossible places and that he saw God and wholly followed Him.

For this reason Hebron, occupied by a race of giants, Anikem, and "cities great and fortified," was promised to Caleb.

With youthful eagerness he spoke of his age and strength for war as it was in the year that the promise was given.

Joshua, no doubt, as he listened to him, and looked at the well-preserved man, whose body and mind had learned discipline under the overseer in the days of bondage, saw again his deep experiences, in their struggle for freedom, that developed a great faith that came from the consciousness of God's presence with him. This comprehensive faith led to deep courage which gave him a noble courage which knew no fear and put a singing heart in his bosom which kept him young. No doubt but that he said to Caleb, "Blessed is that man that maketh the Lord his trust."

So Joshua blessed Caleb and granted him Hebron for his inheritance.

Caleb stood firm and spoke decisively, "I have wholly followed the Lord my God." We are told that this is a striking word in Hebrew; a pictorial word, describing a ship going at full sail. He "went in" for God and his cause, like a ship in full sail.

In this rush of the present day when many are falling victims to nervous prostration and filling a suicide's grave, we might study Caleb more closely and wholly adopt his program. Truly the giants are numerous, the hills are high and fortified from all sides; yet when we, like Caleb, "go in" for God's cause like a ship with full sails, we develop a "conscious sincerity and a conscious union with the Father" that will conquer all obstacles.

It will give "the singing heart" that shines out and develops a personality that "will let others see Jesus in you" and leads in paths of service over Hebron's rocky hills to the valley of service in an obedience which can reach out and claim God's promises at all times.

"I will lift up my eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made Heaven and earth."—Psalm 121:1-2.

Little Community Has Anniversary

WESTPHALIA, Texas, July 5. Ox carts and prairie schooners creaked across the roads of this parish July 4 in celebration of the community's golden anniversary.

The parade of carts and wagons of yesteryear depicted the material progress of the agricultural community since pioneer settlers first arrived to turn the prairie into farms and homes in 1879.

In the rectory lay the gold vestments of the bishop, brought from Galveston by Father Otto Bauer, as symbols of the parish's spiritual progress.

Westphalia parish, located in Falls county, was settled by thrifty, progressive German Catholics. The average tourist speeding across state highway No. 2 between Waco and Temple fails to notice that on his right and left lie bits of Old Germany.

The community has a population of only 1,000, but the Westphalia church has six buildings located on 100 beautifully landscaped acres. The church, built entirely of wood in 1894, still is the largest frame church in Texas.

Twice the little community has been honored with the convention of the Staats Verband, Texas Grand Catholic society.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The First Christian Church of Eastland, Rev. C. W. Lipsey, pastor, extends to the people of Eastland a most hearty welcome to all their services.

The spiritual atmosphere and friendship is of the highest type. The Lord's Day Bible school begins at 9:45 a. m. Communion and service 11 a. m. Subject for this Sunday, "The Corner Stone a Sure Foundation."

The evening services will be of great interest to everyone. Subject for this Sunday evening, "Hell, What It Is, and Where It Is." One of the most striking messages of the day.

Question: "Is there a Hell, if so, where is it?" Mr. Lipsey will answer this question.

St. Francis Xavier Church

Mass on Sunday will be at 9:00 a. m., by Rev. M. Collins. Sunday is the Fifth Sunday after Pentecost and the gospel read is taken from St. Matthew's V. 20-24. This gospel teaches us to forgive those who have injured us or whom we deem our enemies; otherwise God will not accept our gifts or forgive us our offenses.

JAPANESE FLOATS FOUND

GEARHART, Ore.—Glass balls used by Japanese fishermen for floats for nets are frequently picked up on this and other Oregon beaches. The balls range in size from about 6 to 45 inches in circumference and are of varied colors. It is impossible to tell how long it takes them to cross the Pacific. One large ball picked up had barnacles growing on the sides.

Procedure For August Election Is All Worked Out

AUSTIN—Under the act providing a method of ratification or rejection of federal constitutional amendments, the wet and dry convention chairmen must file their lists of delegates and alternates with the secretary of state.

Then all will be in readiness for the campaign rallies, stump speeches and election advertisements.

Aug. 26, John Citizen will have his say.

In the general election that day he will receive a ballot. The ballot will have two perpendicular columns of the same width. One will be headed, "For repeal of the 18th Amendment," and below it will be inserted the list of 31 delegates and 31 alternates pledged to vote that way.

The other column will be headed "August repeal of the 18th Amendment" and will have under it the rival list of delegates and alternates. The voter will scratch out the names of the candidates he opposes.

Thanks to the new unofficial election returns law, the practical result of the vote likely will be known by the night of the election. Official returns will be canvassed 30 days later by Secretary of State W. W. Heath in the presence of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson and Attorney General James V. Allred.

Sixty days later, Nov. 24, the delegates declared elected will meet in Austin and formally cast the vote of Texas for or against repeal. The secretary of this Nov. 24 convention will certify the action to Secretary of State Heath and the Secretary of State of the United States. Heath also will certify to the United States Secretary of State.

Memorial Building Contains Data for Future Citizens

NEW BRAUNFELS, Texas.—When and if archaeologists of future ages examine the ruins of the Sophienburg Memorial, recently dedicated here, they will find comprehensive data on 20th century life in Texas, the United States and the world.

In the cornerstone of the building, erected as a memorial to German pioneers who settled in Comal county in the 1840's, were placed papers and articles relating to many phases of contemporary life. They included:

A list of local churches and schools and their memberships; population figures for the United States, Texas, Comal county and New Braunfels; current commodity price lists; "rules" of all civilized nations and their forms of government; copies of the New Braunfels Zeitung, the New Braunfels Herald and the Texas Bluebonnet; stamps and coins, and records of local American Legion and Boy Scout organizations.

The memorial was planned and erected as a tribute to a group of Germans who came to the United States to escape oppression in the fatherland. They landed on the Texas Gulf Coast at Matagorda Bay and toiled slowly over the wilderness by ox cart and afoot, finally reaching the foothills at the head of Comal Springs. On the spot where the memorial building stands they built their first shelter, the Sophienburg, named after Sophie, the sweetheart of Prince Solms Braunfels.
