

Funeral Services For Crash Victim Held At Eastland

Funeral services for H. C. Duke, 33, who died at 2:55 Monday in the Payne & Lovett Hospital at Eastland from injuries sustained in a car accident, were conducted from the Eastland Church of Christ Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. W. E. Moore, pastor of the church, officiated. Burial was in the Eastland cemetery.

An employee of the Arab Gasoline Corporation for more than eight years, Duke was on his way to the plant seven miles north of town to go to work when the accident occurred at the top of the hill and in front of the J. R. Gilbreath home about one mile north of Eastland. Members of the Gilbreath family, aroused by the noise of the crash when the car failed to make a turn, skidded across the highway and turned over, went to the scene. They called an ambulance that rushed the injured man to the hospital.

Apparently unscratched except on the head, Duke was unconscious when picked up and never regained consciousness, it was stated. A specialist attempted an operation but found the brain in such a serious condition that the operation could not be performed.

The deceased is survived by his widow and one 12 month old baby girl, and four brothers who reside at Baton Rouge, La.

Merchants Must Select Group By Monday, Nov. 6

The code of fair competition for the retail trade was signed by President Roosevelt on Oct. 21 and became the law-merchant of retail trade on Oct. 30. It affects hundreds of thousands of business establishments and millions of employees. It regulates all retail establishments except those that have already had codes approved and those that will have separate codes approved in the future.

Every retailer should immediately obtain, or should consult, a copy of the code, because it provides that: "On or within one week after the effective date of this code" (that is, by not later than Monday, Nov. 6) "every retail establishment shall designate under which of the groups set forth" (which of the schedules of store-hours and employee working hours) "it elects to operate and shall post and maintain in a conspicuous place in the establishment a copy of such election showing its store hours and employee working hours."

The three groups of hours from which each establishment may choose are as follows: "Group A—Any establishment may elect to remain open for business less than fifty-six (56) hours per week, unless its store hours were less than fifty-two (52) hours prior to June 1, 1933, in which case such establishment shall not reduce its store hours; no employee of these establishments shall work more than forty (40) hours per week, nor more than eight (8) hours per day, nor more than six (6) days per week.

"Group B—Any establishment may elect to remain open for business fifty-six (56) hours or more per week; no employee of such establishment shall work more than forty-four (44) hours per week, nor more than nine (9) hours per day, nor more than six (6) days per week.

"Group C—Any establishment may elect to remain open for business sixty-three (63) hours or more per week; no employee of such establishment shall work more than forty-eight (48) hours per week, nor more than ten (10) hours per day, nor more than six (6) days per week."

All establishments covered by this code must elect their store hours and employee working hours schedules from Groups A, B, or C, except drug stores, which may elect either of them or they may choose Group D.

"Group D—In place of any of the schedules of store hours and hours of labor set forth in" (Groups A, B, and C) "retail drug establishments may elect to remain open for business seven (7) days a week for a total of eighty-four (84) hours or more per week, but on no day for less than eight (8) hours; no employee of such establishment, except as provided in Article V, Sections 4 and 5, shall work more than fifty-six (56) hours per week, nor more than ten (10) hours per day, nor more than thirteen (13) days in any two consecutive weeks."

Retailers should immediately make their elections of schedules, drug stores choosing either Group A, B, C, or D, and all others choosing only either A, B, or C, because if they do not have their schedule posted by Nov. 6 they will be violating the code.

Eastland Boy Is "Showing Up" With The T. C. U. Frogs

FORT WORTH, Oct. 31.—Rex Clark, Horned Frog football star from Eastland, played a great game for the Purples Saturday even though the contest with the Centenary Gentlemen ended in a 0 to 0 deadlock.

Clark looked strong especially when the Gentlemen were trying desperately by means of passes to break the scoreless tie. This week the Frogs journey to Waco where they meet the Baylor Bears. Although according to dope the Frogs have a slight edge they are not even considering it because the Bears are known for the fierce battles they put up on their home field.

The Bears were defeated by the Texas Aggies 14 to 7 and the Frogs defeated the Aggies in Fort Worth Oct. 21, by a 13 to 7 count.

Coach Schmidt is working the Frogs hard this week and they are expected to be in fine shape for Saturday's game with the Bears. Clark will probably be in the starting lineup.

Gold Lure Revived in Old West

New life stirs in ghost towns of the old west and pick and pan play a tinkling tune along hundreds of watercourses and on hillsides of Pacific coast and Rocky Mountain states. Thousands are hunting gold, since higher prices came by Roosevelt edict. Above is shown a typical sluicing operation. The gravel comes down the flume, which is "riffled" to hold the sparkling particles.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED
Connie Rollins and her husband, Chick, are entertainers in Connie's father's cafe down in Panama. Pop Riley, Connie's father, does a fair business, but Connie is ambitious for her husband, who she thinks would make good if given the proper chance in New York. She plans with him, but they have to wait until they have the necessary money. Tonight, the cafe is filled to capacity with a crowd of tourists just landed. The Purser of the boat states that John Bradley, president of the American Broadcasting Company, is present.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
"Where?" asked Connie.
"Over there. Do you know him?" McCluskey answered.

The waiter came up to them and informed Pop that the package for the purser was ready. McCluskey thanked them and Pop and the waiter walked away. Connie and McCluskey were left alone.

"Sure. Come on,"
"It's too late to marry you."
"No feeling. I want to meet him."
"Who?"
"Bradley."

"Do you want to go on the air?"
"I want to take the air. Will you do it, Mac?"
"Sure. Come on."

They started towards Bradley's table.
"And look, Mac—when you introduce me—it's Miller."
"What's the matter—are you going to forget you're married?"
"No. I won't."

As they reached Bradley's table, Bradley stood up.
McCluskey spoke first. "Miss Hunt."

Bradley turned to Connie. "It's no use. I might as well go when he starts that. He'll keep it up for ten thousand years."

The conversation was interrupted when Miller returned to the table.
"We ought to be getting back, Mr. Bradley. We've got two hours' work ahead of us."

"Oh, there's plenty of time, Miller."
"You'll be tired, Mr. Bradley. And we really must get those messages off."

Bradley turned to Connie. "It's no use. I might as well go when he starts that. He'll keep it up for ten thousand years."

It was decided that the association would put up a deposit of $10 on a gas meter for the cafeteria on the condition that the manager of the cafeteria, at no time, permits the gas bill to become delinquent.

"Where?" asked Connie.

(Posed by Helen Twelveteetres.)

Riley, may I present Mr. Bradley?"
Connie smiled prettily as they shook hands. The other man at the table arose.

"How do you do?" said Bradley.
"This is Mr. Miller."
Miller bowed coldly in acknowledgment.

Bradley turned to Connie. "Won't you join us?"
"Thank you," Connie sat down.

The purser stood in back of Connie. "Miss Riley's been dying to meet you, Mr. Bradley."

Connie was embarrassed. "He shouldn't have said that."
Bradley smiled. "I feel complimented. I can't recall when anyone was really dying to meet me. Can you, Miller?"

"Yes. But they always wanted something."
Bradley turned back to Connie. "Mr. Miller is cynical. It's his nature."

"It's a good way to be," said Connie.
"Do you think so?" asked Bradley. "Well, at least you never get short-changed," Connie answered.

"Quite true," said Bradley. "Would you care to dance?"
"Love to."

They stood up and were soon dancing to the strains of a syncopated rumba melody.

"Do you," Bradley asked as they danced, "own this place, or is the name Riley just a coincidence?"
"My father does."

"It seems very prosperous."
"We do all right," said Connie. "Did you like the show?"

"I thought you were lovely."
"Oh, I just fill in. How did you like the master of ceremonies?"

Bradley nodded. "I thought he announced in a clear voice."
"He's really very clever. Name is Chick Rollins. He was in vaudeville in the states. Look! He's going to sing this chorus."

Chick was singing through a megaphone. Soon the number was over, and Connie and Bradley returned to the table. Miller had left.

"The regular show's starting now, Mr. Bradley. You watch Chick Rollins and see if you don't like him. We thought we were doing very well to get anyone like him down here."

Bradley obediently watched Chick Rollins through a megaphone for a few moments, then turned back to Connie.

Birthday Party For Bobby Ray Guthrie

Mrs. C. S. Guthrie, 113 North Walnut street, entertained a number of the little friends of her 5-year-old son, Bobby Ray Guthrie, in honor of his birthday, with a delightful lawn party on Saturday afternoon, when games were led by Margie Guthrie and Ouida Jane Harbin.

The birthday cake, white iced and topped with five pink lighted tapers, set in iced decorations, of pink roses, centered a lace covered table in the diningroom, placed under a canopy of pink and white streamers, that flowed from the chandelier to the corners of the table.

LIGHTING is like style. If it is not "good," it is not good enough. Any store that wants to impress its customers favorably should be sure that its lighting is as modern as its merchandise.

Lighting has made great forward strides in the past five years. New uses have been discovered that make it of even greater help in speeding up sales—attracting new business—cutting overhead—building store prestige.

How does your store lighting measure up to modern standards? We can give you the answer quickly.

By means of new, delicately balanced, scientific instruments, as sensitive as a doctor's thermometer, our lighting engineers can show you where your lighting is a help or a handicap in building sales and profits for you.

This demonstration will cost you nothing. It may pay you immeasurably. Phone at once for an interview.

ST. FRANCIS XAVIER CHURCH

Mass on Sunday will be at 8 a. m. by Rev. M. Collins. Sunday will be the 22nd Sunday after Pentecost and the epistle read is taken from the Philippines 1:6-11; the gospel is from St. Matthew XIII 15-21. In this gospel we are told to do our duty towards our church and state; and if we follow that teaching there will be peace in both church and state.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Nov. 5.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him" (Genesis 1:27).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The great truth in the Science of being, that the real man was, is, and ever shall be perfect, is incontrovertible; for if man is the image, reflection, of God, he is neither inverted nor subverted, but upright and Godlike" (page 200).

FUNDAMENTALIST SERVICES

All Christians should co-operate in soul winning. Now is the testing time for many people under the times in which we are living. The need for real evangelism, old-time gospel preaching, was never greater than at present. We are doing everything possible to reach as many lost souls in Eastland county as possible for us to do under the leadership of the Holy Spirit. The Lord said, "The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into the harvest." We have been praying that the Lord would send more labourers into this field. The Lord has sent us Rev. W. L. Massee, to labour with us in the soul winning work here in Eastland. Beginning Wednesday night November the first Brother Massee will conduct the preaching service at the Fundamentalist Gospel Mission for a long period of time. Rev. W. L. Massee is one of the old-time missionary Baptist preachers, the old-time religion type. We invite every citizen around Eastland to come and take part in the services, corner of Commerce and Roswood streets, lower floor of the Elks club building. Services begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Harmony Baptist Church Services Each Friday Night

The public is cordially invited to attend religious services at the Harmony Baptist church on the Ranger and Morton Valley road each Friday night. The services are being conducted by the Rev. Woodie W. Smith of Eastland.

The annual Hallowe'en carnival under the auspices of the Olden Parent Teachers Association was held here Tuesday night, Oct. 31, and a large crowd attended. The men's style show was especially funny and well acted, the men modeling ladies evening dresses, parading slowly to "The Grand Marche," played by Mrs. Roberts. T. H. Stanton announced the individual models, and gave brief but humorous descriptions of each; Bill Edwards was presented as Willie Lee Edwards modeling a gown called "Moonlight Magic"; Pete Holt as Patricia Holt modeled "The Clinging Ivy Vine"; Colonel Croft as Nellie Croft was presented in a style known as "Arlington Downs"; Mr. Roberts as Roberta Roberts modeled "The Road to Romance"; E. J. Allen as Matilda Allen modeled "Sweet Sixteen"; Henry Munn as Henrietta Munn was "At-tar of Roses"; Everett Everett modeled "Sunday Best" and Walter Gage modeled "Evening in Paris." Following the style show Mrs. Roberts gave a piano solo, "Hungarian Rhapsody" in a pleasing and skillful rendition. This was followed by a novelty black-face number presenting Katherine Stanton as Interlocutor, Mary Ford as Snowball, Hazel Woods as Hambone, Eloise Morton as Rastus; Jean Adams as Rabbit, Mildred Wynn as Shoofly and Ruby Curry as Lasses. Their number included many clever jokes and several good songs, a humorous reading by each one and an instrumental number played on combs and imaginary horns. Dady Buckley, Mr. Mills and Mrs. Roberts furnished several good numbers on the piano, violin and bass viol. After the show every one went to the other attractions including the fish pond, bingo table and lunch department, where they enjoyed the games and partook of excellent cakes, pies, sandwiches, cocoa and coffee. The proceeds from the carnival goes into the general fund of the Olden P. T. A.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Holt have moved to their new home here they purchased recently from Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Horn. Mr. and Mrs. Horn have moved south of town and expect to move to their farm near here between now and the first of the year.

The story centers around the romances of these two persons. At first these romances are separate—Miss Gaynor's for another man, and Baxter's for another girl. But the development of the plot finally does send them to each other and makes them admit their mutual love, even against their will.

The characters that they portray represent two different worlds—one the quaint intimacy of a village on the Irish seacoast, and the other the cosmopolitan life of a much-travelled sportsman. It is this element of difference that is report as the means for giving this film some of its most distinctive qualities.

Gaynor-Baxter Film Opening

Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter are together again for the first time since they were seen in "Daddy Long Legs," in their latest picture for Fox Film, "Paddy, The Next Best Thing." It shows at the Lyric theatre Monday, and is scheduled for an engagement of two days.

In this film, Miss Gaynor and Baxter respond to the popular demand for more pictures in which they are both featured. And the roles they portray are the type which give each of them their greatest opportunities thus far. Miss Gaynor is a young, impish feline, who adds a strong dash of coquishness to her famous wistfulness and thereby creates a new kind of character for herself. Baxter has the part of a big-hearted fellow who, much as he may try,

WHY IT PAYS TO HAVE YOUR CAR OVERHAULED...

Winter is always a most supreme test on the driving of any automobile. So many people wait until they are caught in the trouble zone of winter driving by neglecting the importance of having their car prepared for the time you need it most. Rain, sleet and snow all tend to rust out cars that need painting. Bad tires cause wrecks in slippery weather. Worn out batteries cause stalls, worn out rings, bad valves, leaky radiators, bad hose connections, worn out tops, faulty ignition, all these show up most in the coldest weather. YOU SHOULD HAVE YOUR CAR AT LEAST TESTED BY US.

At Lyric Sunday

Lilian Harvey, of a number of Continental photoplays, who has already taken America's motion picture audiences by storm with her role in "My Weakness," starts an engagement at the Lyric Theatre Sunday in "My Lips Betray," her second production for Fox Film. In this picture, specially adapted to her versatile talents, she has John Boles as her leading man.

The story is laid in a strange and mythical setting, and the principal characters are a romantic king and a charming cabaret entertainer. Through an error perpetrated by the royal, if tipsy, chauffeur, rumors begin flying about that this young girl who is on the verge of being evicted by her landlady for non-payment of rent is really the king's favorite. Things change with amazing rapidity. Instead of being a poverty-stricken entertainer, the girl becomes the centre of everyone's attention. She is dined and wined and feted and decorated and, entirely against her will, is forced into accepting the situation. She must play the part if only to keep the people around her happy.

The king finally hears about the rumor and decides to investigate for himself. He goes to see the young woman who is supposed to be his favorite and put a stop to her ruse. But he finds a girl who captivates him completely and makes him fall a victim to her indomitable charm. He finally decides to let rumor and romance take their course.

The cast in support of Miss Harvey and Boles includes El Brendel, Irene Browne, Maude Eburne, Henry Stephenson and Herman Bing. John Blystone directed, from the screen play by Hans Kravitz and Jane Storm. Dialogue by S. N. Behrman, with music and lyrics by William Kernell.

PAUL IN JERUSALEM

Where the spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.—2 Cor. 3:17.

The Golden Text expresses the golden essence of the entire lesson, true liberty.

In the summer of A. D. 49, Paul and Barnabas returned to Antioch after their first missionary journey, covering a period of more than two years.

They found the church in confusion due to a bitter controversy concerning the question of the admission of Gentiles into the church without the obligations of the Mosaic law being observed.

Paul with his great experience and vision saw at once the danger of putting anything in the way of salvation.

Two words in the opening verses are interesting, "certain men came down from Judea." "Certain others of them should go up to Jerusalem"—down and up.

Jerusalem was regarded as the pinnacle of Jewish authority and the temple hill as the center of revealed religion. This people had a great respect or belief in tradition and were jealous of the historic faith.

In studying the entire chapter we see Paul standing out boldly and proving the teaching false. It was the great difference in experience. He called the council of the church to consider and delegates, Paul and Barnabas, were sent to Jerusalem, "unto the apostles and elders about this question."

The picture of this council, considering, speaking and even pleading, looking for divine leadership is a powerful plea for such a

James, presiding, summed up the testimony and quoted prophecy from Amos. Certain phrases in the lesson are interesting study: "Being assembled with one accord; beloved Barnabas and Paul, and our Lord Jesus Christ."

Truly with the leadership of the Holy Ghost and with the Lord Jesus Christ in their lives, they cannot help but love leaders called out by the Lord of Lords. Happy was the ending of that council.

"So when they were dismissed, they came to Antioch; and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle which when they had read, they rejoiced for the consolation."

It is a time of rejoicing when anyone visions Christ and the meaning of liberty. It was hard for the people then and now also to understand.

For the law of the spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death.—Romans 8:2.

It requires a knowledge of Christ through leadership of the Holy Spirit found in study and meditation of God's Word so that we can understand that we must love our neighbors as ourself and seek to serve as did the lowly Nazarene. With understanding of our fellow man and sympathy for all we can say with the Psalmist: Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity.—Psalm 133:1.

Bermuda Grass Losing Long

NORMAN, Okla.—One of the longest and most unique of nature's battles ever witnessed is drawing to a close.

For 15 months, two natural enemies have battled to overcome each other.

Bermuda grass, which has evidence of overcoming all which will grow in Oklahoma, is losing to the tall blue grass planted with it in an experimental plot.

The result is expected to be much value to farmers who have seen the Bermuda variety crowd other grasses from the pastures.
