MANY WILL BE PRESENT FROM A LARGE AREA

Preservation of human life through safety practices and ways and means to successfully carry out accident prevention programs will be the central themes of discussion at the annual Oil Belt safety conference to be held Monday, April 29, in the municipal auditorium at Ranger. Employees of the Lone Star Gasoline company, with the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company, will be hosts. The one day session will be sponsored by the Gulf States Division, Petroleum Section, National Safety Council. A. W. Local arrangements for the conference are in charge of D. B. Hiatt of the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company, and B. H. Peacock, field safety engineer of the Lone Star Gasoline company.

Invitations to the safety meeting have been extended to a large number of business and industrial concerns in Central and West Texas. Mr. Breeland pointed out, including independent and major oil and gas companies, and electric, railroad, ice and other public utilities, as well as nearby municipal and civic organizations interested in the program of saving human life.

"Any person interested in accident prevention and safety work is invited to attend the conference," Mr. Breeland said. "Response from invitations sent out indicates that the meeting will be one of the largest of its kind from the standpoint of attendance ever held in West Texas."

Principal speaker for the conference will be Judge James G. Blaine, assistant general counsel of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad, with headquarters at St. Louis. Judge Blaine, accident prevention exponent, was heard recently in Eastland at the Connellee hotel at a meeting of West Texas employees of the Lone Star Gas system, discussing ways and means to prevent accidents.

The tentative conference program has been announced by Mr. Breeland. Talking pictures, depicting safety in its various phases, will be shown in the Columbia theatre beginning at 1 p. m. Registration of guests will begin at 7 p. m., in the auditorium lobby, simultaneously with a concert by the Ranger high school band.

The main program will begin at 7:30 p. m., with the invocation by the Rev. H. B. Johnson, pastor of the First Christian church at Ranger. Following the address of welcome, Joe Risinger, manager of the accident and fire prevention department, Magnolia Petroleum company, Dallas, will speak on "Your Home and Mine."

D. B. Hiatt and employees of the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company will present concrete principles of first aid by men on the job. The subject of their part of the program will be "The First Aiders Have It." H. N. Blakeslee, manager of the safety section, American Petroleum Institute, Dallas, will discuss "Public Enemy No. 1."

A delightful birthday party was given Wednesday night at the presented a three-act comedy, "Wedding Cake." Preceding the play there was a varied program of music and readings by the expression pupils of Mrs. J. C. Brewer, who came over from Gorman and teacher of expression in the high school. Another very enjoyable feature of the program was the singing of three numbers by Miss Ruth Crenshaw, who is studying voice at John Tarleton college. The scene of the play was a railroad station at a country town, with the station man off duty and a girl telegraph operator taking his place. A storm causes a delay of the train and the several waiting passengers react to the enforced wait in various ways. Those making part in the play were Mrs. A. C. Robert as ticket agent; Miss Adell Maltby as Susie Smith, a girl visiting the agent; Mrs. Clarence Ragland, as Edith Eaves, a detective; Mrs. Roy Ashburn, as Peggy Porter, college girl on her way to a wedding; Mrs. W. H. Davis as Elizabeth Lowry, a lecturer; Mrs. David Parks as Rosemary Ross of the films; Mrs. W. C. Bedford as Mrs. Carey, who has hysterics over the loss of her pearls; Mrs. Mattie Henry as Ruth Reed, a private secretary, who aids the secret service; and Mrs. J. E. Heeter as Edith Everson, a real detective. The play was directed by Mrs. C. W. Maltby, who not only coached the players but arranged the stage setting so it looked very much like a country station. Due to the fact that there had been several school plays within the past three weeks the attendance was not as large as desired but the house was fairly well filled. Mrs. Maltby deserves much credit for her work in directing the play. The "21" Study club gave the play in order to have money to make a donation to the furnishing of the Sixth District room at permanent headquarters at Austin.

Tuesday morning of last week, funeral services were held at the Methodist church over the remains of Mrs. Sarah Jane Andrews Key, who passed away Monday morning at the home of her son, T. H. Key, one of our leading business men. Her death was caused by old age and a serious affliction from which she suffered for several months. She was 85 years of age, born at Prairie View, Ark., and coming in an ox wagon with her husband to Texas in the year 1866. They suffered many hardships in the early days but helped in the development of the state. She was the mother of 10 children, six of whom survive her. For 16 years she had made her home with her son, T. H. Key, who came here two years ago to lease the gin and later opened a grocery store. Services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. H. H. Nance, who was assisted by Rev. J. J. Gilley. After the funeral, interment took place at Mount Zion cemetery, four miles north of Lingleville.

EDITORIAL

So many of us feel that we can gain the things we desire by complaining, whining, and bullying. But just stop to reason and consider for a moment; do we really gain anything by this procedure? Indeed, we do! We gain the dislike of our companions! We gain the unpopularity that is the winner's lot!

If we really want to be and do great things and to have people like us, we must put aside petty grudges, stop whining and start working for the things we want. We must learn to exert ourselves for the benefit of others. We can never amount to anything so long as we strive only to gain our own selfish desires.

After all, so long as we have to live in this world of men, we may just as well strive to get along with them in the easiest way possible. Complaining of our associates' faults will never help to correct them. We must be patient and tolerant and in this way we may help ourselves by helping others to overcome in themselves the faults and habits we dislike.

ALUMNI

Word has been received from John Tarleton Agricultural College that Hazel Woods, 1934 graduate of Olden High School, was one of two Eastland Countians on the honor roll there.

SENIOR NEWS

Members of the Senior class, accompanied by their sponsor, Mr. Collins, enjoyed a picnic Friday afternoon near Eastland. Each of the following reported a good time and plenty to eat: Lena Norton, Frances Hunter, Ollus Cox, El Merle Stanford, Mary Louise Wilson, Ruby Lee Oglesby, Valeta Aldredge, Lemar Whisenant, James Ward Robertson, Vernon Patterson, A. C. Gibson, Frances Edwards and Elzo Gullett.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Junior class enjoyed a theater party and picnic Friday evening. We went to Eastland and saw "West of the Pecos," starring Richard Dix. After this delightful show we motored to Trionon Park and enjoyed sandwiches, cakes and everything good to eat. Members who went were: Mr. and Mrs. Scruggs, Joan Adams, Goldia Brashears, Charlie Butler, Margie Lynn Fowler, Milton Fullen, Johnny Jarrett, Mildred Wynne, T. J. Weeks, Den Whisenant, Beatrice Young, Howard Young and Fay Young.

Loma Sue Haynes has withdrawn from Olden High and we wish her luck in her work.

SPORT NEWS

Spring training has started and the boys are working diligently every afternoon. Some of the boys have not as yet reported for practice because of track.

SIXTH GRADE READING CLUB

The sixth grade of Olden grammar school met April 8 and organized a reading club. The aim is to improve some of the poor reading of the class and to encourage more reading. According to the rules each member must read one short story, outside of class and five chapters from the Bible each week. Each member must read one good book and memorize one good poem during the next four weeks.

The members are: Jo Wynne, Geneva Magill, Catherine Drake, Luce Dow Myrick, Betty Sharpe, Stella Drake, Christine Holt, who is reporter; J. W. Wright, Guy Buntin, Carl Butcher, who is the chairman; James Hendricks, president; Jack Elliott, secretary; Sheba Horton and Marvin Newcomb.

GOSSIP

We wonder why Florene got tickled the other night. . . . By the way, Florene, did you like Mineral Wells as seen at night?

The seniors feel very complimented; a certain sophomore says he is going to give a sophomore party and invite three special seniors.

Betty Everett, always trying something new, got tired of calling her boy friend by his regular name, so she addressed a letter to him as 5 & 10. The wonder is that it seems that he got it! (P. S. Our postmistress unknowingly gives us lots of things to use in this column).

We hear that on the junior picnic when they were playing "Coffee-pot" Howard Young became so entangled on the words "parking" and "kissing" that he inadvertently divulged some things that we imagine he would rather have kept quiet!

FLASH—Commercial Teacher Gives Fine Exhibition of Fan Dancing! Miss Ina Mae Reik, with a red sweater serving the purpose of a fan, gave the group that attended the shorthand picnic a first class interpretation of what she termed an up-to-date fan dance. Titch! Titch! What's the faculty coming to?

Announcement—Jim Gilbreath opens up Matrimonial Headquarters on fifth floor of the courthouse. You say the word, and Jim does the rest.

And then she said, "Bob, what do you mean coming in here at 12 and 1230?" and would you believe it, it was 2:30. May you have such luck in the future, Siki, my boy.

Several of the students have requested that Clifford do his practicing at home instead of on the campus of the dear old Alma Mater.

Here's something for the whole school to rejoice about: "Hair-brain" Harris now plays a baritone and he lives so far away from town that anyone won't be molested, by such sound waves as may be produced by the machinery that he blows all his hot air into. There is a slight possibility that the old cow will listen to the dear boy if he succeeds in tying her down, or I believe Bill Jones will come out and listen to "sweet" William practice if he'll slip him a two-bit piece for every two minutes he listens.

It so seems that the following group composed the happy party that enjoyed Sunday night in "Butch" Horton's car, "Butch" Horton, Olivia White, Bob White, Doris Williams; Irvin Cottingham, Mary Lou Ripley; Roger Arnold, Jamie Stover. All scenes from the Connellee race track to the Atlantic Ocean were enjoyed by all. (Mostly the Connellee race track).

The glowing sun melted below the western horizon, and the day was hurrying to its close, when a green Oldsmobile parked beside the church with Jack Brown as pilot, and the big ham has "Shady" Lane's girl. Sunday night marks the date, my dear Warren.

And to think our good friend Pipkin runs around with a quarterback's girl. Take it easy Pip, those guys carry a mighty nice punch sometimes.

Charles Hickman and Claude

O'Neil were welcomed to Ranger with closed hands not many moons passed, and I think they ended the battle, wishing they had never seen the town of Ranger. Charles Van Geem was the only smart one in the bunch. He ran.

Strange as it may seem Samuel Butler had a date with Clara June last Saturday night—Gentlemen, the question is open for discussion.

Vincent Craft seems to be the young gentlemen that breaks dates and tells them that he is going to a stag party and it isn't a stag party after all.

Could the fellings, by any chance, toward Maxine Coleman and Doris Lawrence, be mutual.

Our man about town, Roland Lee Perkins, Jr., stepped out with Helen Butler Friday night, and he's still hoping his Dad doesn't look at the speedometer and find out how many miles he put on the old buggy.

Marshall Carter Coleman, Esq., has the most unique pair of overalls in this good old Southland.

Dreams have an important place in our lives, and just think what Louise Flack dreams of—Jim Connellee. This is quite a complication—Edmond thinks Louise is the only one, and then she ups and dreams about Jim Connellee. That's a heck of a way for a girl to act.

James Hill proved to be a good substitute for Lambert Sunday night.

John Garrison and Verna Ray Night no longer hold the attraction for each other as they have in days past, but from all indications Aubrey Brawner doesn't mind that.

Some of the fair damsels in the dear old school wear enough lipstick to paint the Woolworth building three times every day for a period of five years. From the looks of things Monday morning they put enough on to last all week, and in that case it might be a pretty good policy after all.

Lovett and Doss, the time has come when all this note writing in civics class has got to come to an abrupt end. From a most reliable source there comes the report that half of the period is spent every day in passing these love bearing messages from one to the other. Lovett, if you could just wait and tell her how much you love her when you are out of class I think it would be much more effective. Just think; those sparkling moonbeams dancing down on those rosy cheeks, a nice sweet breeze gently blowing that blond hair, and, ah heek, it would take Tanner to finish such a description.

Ladies and gentlemen! May we present—Bob White, creator of styles!

And why was Hunter going around bragging about the one she was taking to the Gad-About blow-out? Her only consolation about taking him seemed to be that she could handle him. We wonder who the poor kid is.

Boys and girls its open to the public. That admiring feeling that exists between Sara Maude Cawley and Rudolph Little.

Then there was the girl that said she would sure like to go with Ralph Mahon, but from all indications he lacked one thing, and I about half way think that she has the idea twisted around in her head. The writer of that note should change her opinion of the dear boy. (He's a keen kid when he's asleep, but he's been keeping late hours lately).

Eloise Ligon has resorted to Cisco now when it comes to getting sweaters. The Big Dam Lobo seems to be George Sledge.

Irvin Cottingham is the gentleman loosing sleep thinking about

Doris Lawrence at the present. Wesley has that little artesian blond on the mind, and so it goes.

It looks like the fair sex of Eastland High school are turning westward to find their boy friend.

Adis Weaver doth have thoughts of Coleman Williams.

Our good friend, Pauline Bida, was back in town last week-end, and Truman Brown completed the other member of the duo, to see that she had a good time.

Murder mysteries are always expected to hold an audience spellbound, and one of the finest murder mysteries to come out of Hollywood is to be seen today at the Lyric theatre, where the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, "The Casino Murder Case," is showing.

This new mystery proves conclusively that the field of science is virgin soil for excellent mystery plots for S. S. Van Dine, the mystery-weaver, has plucked one of science's newest discoveries as the basis of his murder plot.

What do you mean, three years from seed bed to cigarette?

I mean simply this—it actually takes three years to make a Chesterfield cigarette.

It all starts with these little plants, tobacco seedlings. They are grown under cover and transplanted to the open fields in the early spring.

Then the warm Southern sunshine gets to get in its good work and as the grow and ripen the mild ripe leaves are sent to the curing barns. The farmer then takes his tobacco to the auction house where it is sold to the highest bidder. All of this takes about a year.

The tobaccos for Chesterfield cigarettes are then stored away for two years or more to make them milder and taste better.

It all takes time—just about three years—but there is no substitute for tobacco in making a good cigarette. That's the reason smokers—men and women—say that Chesterfields are the best and that Chesterfields taste better.

Tobacco seedlings are transplanted to the open fields in the early spring.

For two years or more the mild ripe Chesterfield tobaccos are stored in wooden hogheads to age.

Machines like this—new and modern in every respect—make Chesterfields.

Electric Appliance Sales Stimulated By Housing Act

Mr. George Harper of the Harper Music company, local representative for the General Electric company's home appliances, states that his sales on General Electric refrigerators so far this season has exceeded all expectations and far greater than any year since the introduction of electric refrigeration in the home. Mr. Harper attributes his increase in sales to the public's acceptance of modern methods of economical food preservation and family health protection. Also that the federal housing act has made it possible to modernize the home and purchase the General Electric refrigerator on long term contracts at the very lowest carrying charge. Mr. Harper adds that anyone interested in the methods of the federal housing act for home appliance contracts are welcome to come to his place of business where the entire program will be explained in full detail.

"Summer-izing" Is Begun by Magnolia

DALLAS, April 6.—Armed with new knowledge gained through attendance at the spring course of Magnolia Institute, field service men of the Magnolia Petroleum Company have left Dallas to assist dealers and station men throughout Magnolia land in launching their annual "Summer-ize" service activity. Magnolia's "Summer-ize" program is of particular significance this spring as it marks the introduction of the new improved Summer Mobiloil made by the revolutionary Clearosol process.

Introduced several years ago as a simple, but certain precaution against summer driving troubles, Magnolia "Summer-ize" service has gained steadily in popularity as motorists have learned the economic value of having their cars checked at Magnolia Dealers and stations and lubricants changed to the proper grades to match changes in the weather. Fred M. Lege, Jr., Vice President in charge of marketing, said, "Each fall Magnolia performs a corresponding service for its customers known as 'Winter-Proof' at which time heavier summer lubricants are changed to lighter grades for winter driving.

"Magnolia's 'Summer-ize' service as developed and taught at Magnolia Institute consists of seven distinct operations including draining, cleaning and refilling with summer grade lubricants such vital parts as the crankcase, transmission and differential, a thorough greasing, flushing and cleaning of the radiator, battery check and a tank of Mobilgas adjusted for summer driving. Magnolia dealers and stations throughout the Southwest are now performing this service for motorists in preparation for hot weather driving.

Mobiloil made by Secony-Vacuum Clearosol process was made available to the public for the first time last fall only in the "Arctic" grade. The proven advantages of motor lubricant made possible by this revolutionary process of manufacture are now found in the entire line of Mobiloils for summer. The Clearosol process actually washes away all the gum, sludge and tarry elements not essential to good lubrication and produces a totally new kind of motor lubricant impossible to obtain by old methods of refining.

Magnolia, the oldest petroleum producing, refining and marketing company in the South, is celebrating its twenty-fourth birthday in April with the annual observance of Founders Month and the "Summer-ize" activity at Magnolia Dealers and Stations.

Judging from his recent antics, "Old Man River" must have heard of the Townsend plan.

Three Unopposed in Eastland Voting Elected to Office

Name Officers of Colony Committee

Members of the Eastland county farm colony committee in session at Eastland Friday elected County Judge Clyde L. Garrett as chairman and Albert Taylor of Eastland as secretary.

The board will submit a farm maintenance project in the next two weeks to Texas Rural Communities through William Boaz, engineer employed by the county.

Projects for the location of the farm colony will be submitted from Cisco, Ranger, Eastland and Rising Star.

It is a possibility, Boaz states, that one of the sites will be approved for the project which will mean the expenditure of $375,000. Members of the Eastland county farm colony committee are C. E. Williams, manager of a lumber company at Rising Star; Frank Kirk, oil operator of Gorman; F. E. Harrell, manager of a Cisco lumber company; R. V. Galloway, secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce; L. A. Hightower of Eastland, farmer, rancher and stockman, and Judge Garrett, and Albert Taylor, Eastland banker.

The judgment, obtained July 1, 1933, in court here was for interest assertedly delinquent on $75,000 bonds of the school district held by the Woodmen organization.

The residence was at 309 South Oak Lawn in Hillcrest. Theory of the fire's start has not been advanced.

His run of the 100-yard dash in 9.8 equaled the conference record. Deimer, his twin brother, did not participate in the events due to an injury.

The letter:
Dr. Chas. W. Estes, 1014 South Seaman Street, Eastland, Texas. Dear Doctor Estes: Just a line to thank you for the nice evening we had with you and your newly made friends at Eastland. I enjoyed being with you again and meeting the live, progressive citizens of your new home town.

I know something of the struggle Eastland and other similarly situated cities have undergone for the past three or four years and it's encouraging to see the aggressive, progressive and enthusiastic manner in which they are meeting their problems and looking forward with fond hopes and anticipation for the future.

May you continue to enjoy your new work and new associations in your earnest wish. Come to see us

EASTLAND RENEWS QUEST FOR FARM COLONY OPTIONS AS RESULT OF CC SMOKER

Eastland men Saturday renewed quest of Flatwood land options in order that a project for a farm maintenance project may be submitted to Texas rural communities.

Shown by figures given by William Boaz, engineer, at a chamber of commerce smoker Friday night, that other towns in the county had completed similar projects and Eastland had made little headway, immediate action was suggested by several speakers.

As a result of a meeting held Saturday morning by projectmen on the colony at the Eastland National bank, it was decided.

Curtis Kimbrell and L. A. Hightower take charge of option securing; J. A. Beard contact persons who owned land in the desired territory, but resided out of the county; and Milton Lawrence contact Flatwood landowners who resided in the county.

Deploing the fact because of non-cooperation of parties in a project that would mean the expenditure of over $375,000 in Eastland's backyard, business men were spurred to action by smoker speakers Friday.

Boaz stated 11,000 acres had been blocked up at Rising Star, options had been secured by Ranger on 6,000 acres, while Eastland had secured about 3,000.

Albert Taylor, Eastland banker, declared "I'm not enthusiastic, some of us haven't been working." "We're sleeping. It takes co-operation."

"Men, we can't sleep. We're living in an age where we've got to work."

"This project can be put over. The government is not asking much—they're putting up money." "We can't sit idly by," Taylor reminded.

Four Denton residents encouraged fostering of dairy cattle breeding at Eastland, citing success that has been shown in other Texas points.

Speaking in interest of dairy breeding and the cattle industry in the county were D. T. Simons, officer in several cattle associations; Otis Fowler, secretary of the Denton Chamber of Commerce; Rudy Copeland, cattle industry enthusiast and business man; and John Underwood, retiring president of the Texas Jersey Cattle Club.

The speakers were brought to Eastland at the instance of Dr. C. W. Estes, former resident of Denton.

R. F. Boston, county work supervisor, reminded Eastland business men that a cannery could be opened up at little expense. He stated utilities would have to be furnished.

C. Metz Heald, county agent, encouraged the livestock and pecan industry in and around Eastland.

T. H. Landon, county engineer, told of conference with John Norris, chairman of the state board of sibility of securing a dam at Mangum was possible if the Brazos river bill passed in Congress. However, Landon declared, action would easily be deferred on the work as more attention demanding projects were on hand.

Milburn McCarty invited business men to the "89 Airline Highway celebration" at Thurber, on Thursday, May 30. Elimination of four railroad crossings and 14 miles of road were pointed out as virtues of the new highway.

John Burke represented the publicity committee in a report.

Hamilton McRae, president of the chamber of commerce, presided. Seventy-two attended.

First Thursdays of each month was selected as date of the smokers.

R. F. Ferguson presented a report of the last Trades Day.

ON TEXAS FARMS

April is rearsate spring to the poet but it is just bitter weed and wild onions to the dairyman—and that means plenty of grief with the customers.

Extension dairy husbandmen advise the use of oats for pasture if the native pasture is badly infested with these two ill flavored spring blossoms. Pretty good cows make a good oat pasture worth $3 per month per cow, and one acre will take care of two cows.

The oats can be grazed two months and that's a return of $12 per acre. But remember that month per cow, and one acre will land.

If the permanent pasture infested with the pests is the only grazing to be had, the next best thing apparently is to take the cows off of it at noon daily and feed some dry roughage such as hay, fodder or hulls. Also feeding two or three pounds of sweet feed with the grain mixture at milking time will help they say.

Sudan grass planting is the good word that comes from South Texas dairymen at this time. This is the month for dairymen all over the state to be getting it in. And it will furnish more grazing planted in rows than if the seed are broadcast, the ones who know say.

Which in a way is good news, because Sudan grass seed is high this year, and planted in 30-inch rows eight or 10 pounds of seed will sow an acre. If broadcast in a big-hearted way it will take 20 to 25 pounds to the acre.

HENRIETTA — Seventy-two head of cattle fed on cotton fodder have wintered better than cattle wintered on cane, Johnson grass and other forage on the farm of Brad Staggs, Clay county stockman, according to M. S. Duncan, county agricultural agent. All cattle were fed cake twice a week. Staggs bought 100 acres of cotton last fall which he had mowed and stacked as he would any other hay except that it was not packed as tight as the ordinary stack and that a mixture of salt and lime was sprinkled throughout the stack. The land produced an estimated 100 tons of cotton fodder at a cost of $100. Seventy-two head of cattle were wintered on this fodder and Staggs will have one stack left when he quits feeding. At first the cattle did not seem to like the cotton fodder but now they will quit other fodder to eat it.

MASON—Forty Mason county ranchmen have agreed to donate calves to 4-H club boys of the county who will produce at home 2,000 pounds of grain and 2,000 pounds of roughage as a crop demonstration on which they will keep records, and who will start the calves on feed next September in dry lot without nurse cows, according to R. B. Tate, county agricultural agent. The boys must provide a suitable self-feeder and water for every pen, along with a complete record of the crop demonstration, before they can receive the calves. They will be fattened on home grown feed supplemented with only the necessary protein PERRYTON—Chinese elm, Russian mulberry, American elm, red cedar, flowering willow, and red bud are a few of the varieties of 350 trees and shrubs set out by Mrs. Curtis Roach of Ochiltree county as a windbreak for her garden, she reports to Miss Marie Ludwick, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Roach has tiled her garden, and to insure plenty of water a 1,000-barrel tank is being installed.

Mrs. Roach has completed her meat canning and has eight varieties of meats, totaling 900 pounds. She is also planning a supply of poultry products for the family and is raising 1,200 baby chicks.

LIVINGSTON—Eight feed sacks have been washed, bleached, pressed and made into a mattress cover by Mrs. R. S. Peebles of Polk county as part of her bedroom improvement work, according to Miss Ruth Causey, home demonstration agent. In order to make the cover as smooth as possible, the sacks were put together with flat fell seams. Since buttons from discarded garments were used to fasten it at one end, the only cost of the cover was thread and labor. Mrs. Peebles is now saving sacks to make a mattress pad, and other members of her home demonstration club, inspired by her example, are saving for the same purpose.
