Two Are Facing Series of Charges

Two Nimrod men were in Parker county jail at Weatherford Monday with charges lodged on two counts for one and three for the other, officers reported.

Paul Tomlin, 22, is charged with driving while drunk, cattle theft. J. W. Adams of the same community is charged with forgery, driving while drunk and cattle theft. The forgery charge was made in Tarrant county, the driving while drunk charges in Weatherford and theft charges in Eastland county.

The statement of facts made to Parker County Attorney Frank Fulham recited taking of cattle from a field east of Cisco, their sale at Brad, writing of a check by Adams for an automobile by forging a name; purchase of liquor, collision with a California woman's automobile.

Adams, the statement of facts recited, drove the car purchased with the fraudulent check.

Tomlin stated to arresting officers of Fort Worth that he borrowed the trailer from a neighbor to convey the cattle for Adams.

De Leon-Dublin and Eastland Golf Meet Postponed Sunday

Golf match between DeLeon-Dublin at DeLeon Sunday was postponed because of qualifying in the Ranger golf tournament, W. E. Storey, Eastland team captain, stated Monday.

Leaders in the Oil Belt association are Eastland and Ranger, who are tied, the Eastland team captain said.

Seymour Coach Is Eastland Visitor

A recent graduate of Baylor university at Waco and athletic coach at Seymour high school, Abe Barnett, was a visitor in Eastland Monday night. He accompanied Johnny Kitchen, Eastland coach, from Fort Worth.

More Lose Lives Today Than Died At Bunker Hill

BY JERRY PHILLIPS
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

Death dances among Fourth of July merrymakers today as in the past. But now he lurks no longer with firecrackers and explosive noise-makers. He comes with his bony hand on the steering wheel of an automobile.

America fought long and sturdily against blinded eyes, mangled hands, and the agony and horror of lockjaw, only to find the victory snatched away by the automobile.

So successful has been the "Safe Fourth" campaign that in the last seven years, for instance, an average of only eight persons died each year that Uncle Sam might celebrate his birthday in the customary noisy fashion.

But the toll of the auto has risen meanwhile, reaching always a peak during the crowded traffic of the Independence holiday. The Glorious Fourth during that same seven-year period claimed an average of 88 auto victims, 11 times as many as explosives each year.

Look back to the turn of the century, and you will find this picture reversed. Victims of the automobile, then a rarity to be pointed out in the street as it chugged past, were correspondingly few.

Awakens to Horror
A succession of July 5 "morning afters" gradually brought America to a horrified realization of the price it was paying for a boisterous birthday. The antique cannons dragged out for a gunpowder salute, the "dynamite crackers," the "practical" jokes, the fuses that really were lighted, the rockets setting fire to houses, all counted their ghastly toll on the morning of each July 5.

And every victim lent further strength to a movement for a

B. E. McGlamery of Eastland, supervisor for vocational rehabilitation and crippled children's work in West Texas, returned this week from Chattanooga, Tenn., where he attended a conference of southern workers with the Federal Department of Education.

In the historic locale of what was a Confederate stronghold, McGlamery and others were told how to do their work by the federal men.

Recognition of 21 years experience in his field came to Mr. McGlamery recently from Supt. L. A. Woods of the State Department of Education by appointing him for the work which includes all West Texas.

Object of Mr. McGlamery's work is finding of persons over 16 who are physically disabled, arrange to make them physically fit by hospitalization, train them for work and finally place them.

In the crippled children's work division, Mr. McGlamery will endeavor to locate children handicapped, under 16 and outline training for them as others over that age.

After the conference in Chattanooga he and others attended the national convention of blind workers in Louisville. On his return he stopped at Little Rock, Ark., where physically disabled people are treated for paralysis and rheumatic ailments.

Mr. McGlamery's position is one of four in the state. He does not know whether he will continue to live in Eastland, pending arrival of a Federal Department of Education official from Washington who will advise him.

The work is carried through auspices of state and federal government, each matching dollar for dollar. Over $300,000 has been appropriated for this year.

U. S. DEFICIT FOR YEAR REACHES $30 PER CAPITA

WASHINGTON, June 29—Record-breaking peace-time expenditures in the fiscal year ending tomorrow sent the federal government "in the red" to the extent of approximately $3,550,000,000—the fifth successive year it has been unable to make income meet expenditures.

Heavy relief and recovery costs, as well as a sharp increase in regular government costs, sent expenditures in the 12-month period to approximately $7,300,000,000. Although income was bolstered by new and increased taxes, it amounted to only $3,750,000,000 and was $3,550,000,000 short of expenses.

In the previous fiscal year, covering the first quarter of the Roosevelt term, expenditures amounted to $7,243,725,625 and income to $3,277,733,940, leaving the government "in the red" in that period to the extent of $3,965,991,685.

Estimates on Per Capita Basis
On a per capita basis the federal government in the 12 months ending tomorrow spent the equivalent of $59 for each man, woman and child in the country. Against these expenditures it was able to collect in incomes only $29 per capita. The balance was borrowed.

The further heavy borrowings carried the national debt to another all-time record peak of nearly $29,999,999,999, or more than $9,000,000,000 above the top reached just after the World War. It was $13,000,000,000 above the low point of $16,000,000,000 reached in the early days of the Hoover administration.

In the 11 years up to June 30, 1930, the federal government's income in each year exceeded its expenditures. This permitted the paying down of the public debt immediately after the war.

Deficits Started in 1930
Beginning with the fiscal year starting July 1, 1930, the federal government has had deficits for five successive fiscal years. The accumulated deficit in this period has reached approximately $14,600,000,000.

The government in the current fiscal year spent less for credit and financial relief and more for direct relief. Total relief and recovery costs were slightly under the $4,000,000,000 layout for these purposes in the preceding fiscal year. The balance went for regular government costs which expanded sharply because of increasing interest costs and a more liberal attitude on the part of the government.

Operating Costs Within Revenue
Had it not been for the nearly $4,000,000,000 of relief and recovery costs during the current fiscal year, the government's normal expenditures. About $3,750,000,000 was spent for regular operating costs, or about the same sum as was collected as income.

Among the nearly $4,000,000,000 recovery and relief expenditures, $1,250,000,000 went for direct relief; nearly a billion for public works; $400,000,000 for emergency conservation work and $350,000,000 for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Perhaps the president's statement that the supreme court's NRA decision was a return to the "horse and buggy" days wasn't so wise, in view of the current automobile toll.

One Youth Killed In Attempted Break From Reformatory

PENDLETON, Ind., July 2—One youth was killed and another wounded today when four prisoners attempted to escape from the state reformatory.

Simon Dyer, 24, was shot down just as he was scaling the outer wall and Robert McClister, 21, was wounded in the shoulder as he

Ex-Students of Hankins College Will Reunion At Gorman Aug. 12

Date for annual reunion of ex-students of Hankins College of Gorman has been set for Aug. 12, County Judge Clyde L. Garrett announced Saturday.

Program for the annual reunion is being arranged, Judge Garrett, program chairman, stated.

Judge Garrett estimated there are 1200 to 1500 ex-students of the school. "They are scattered all over like everything else," he said, when asked if all resided in Eastland county.

Earl Bender of Eastland, an ex-student, stated the school closed in 1912 after 10 years' operation. He estimated 500 ex-students reside in the county and about 150 in the Eastland territory. Mr. Bender taught in the institution for two years.

Thousands of Acres In Valley Escaped Floods Because of Control

MALLEN, Tex.—Because of the government's giant flood control program, thousands of acres of land in the Upper Rio Grande valley escaped damage in the recent floods.

The gigantic flood control system was constructed as a result of the disastrous floods of 1922, when thousands of acres of fertile farmland was devastated.

The original construction cost $1,600,000 but since then the government has spent an additional $2,000,000 in improving and maintaining the original project.

The government also has cleaned and kept virtually bare the floodway channels so that water can pass swiftly and in great quantities into the floodways. The entire levee system has been strengthened and rebuilt throughout its 175 mile length.

When the river reaches a stage of about 20 feet, the water starts flowing into Hackney's lake about six miles southwest of Mallem. The lake overflows in turn between the two levees forming the south floodway branch.

Water also leaves the Rio Grande and enters the north floodway branch at a stage of about 23 feet at Ojo de Agua, southwest of Mission. The two floodway branches join south of Pharr, then continue as one to Mercedes, where they again branch.

One arm proceeds north from Mercedes, then turns east to the Gulf of Mexico, passing between the towns of Sebastian and Combes in Cameron county. The other arm continues east from Mercedes, emptying into the Arroyo Colorado.

The Arroyo has also been improved, straightened and cleaned out to permit faster flow of floodwater as a part of the government's program. It empties into the gulf northeast of Harlingen and Rio Hondo in Cameron county.

Relief Clients Are Learning to Help Themselves Again

SAN ISIDRO (Starr County) Texas.—Rehabilitated relief clients are learning to help themselves in San Isidro work center here.

Six "units" are represented at the center, where former unemployed this spring produced articles valued at $307 at a cost of only $126. The units producing almost every type of home necessity for rehabilitation relief were divided into canning, mattress, blacksmith, woodworking, leatherworking, and sewing divisions.

Women in the sewing unit perform the most important duty, making and renovating clothes and other needed articles for the home.

Shepherd Family Meet at Ranger

Children of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Shepherd and their children held a reunion this week at Ranger at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Hubbard, daughter of the Eastland citizens.

All children of Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd were present except Mrs. James Milam of Big Spring and her family.

Children of Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd at the reunion were Frank, Mary, Florence, Virginia and Gordon of Eastland; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Little and two daughters, James and Vera Mae of Eastland; Mr. and Mrs. Otho McGehee and children, Otho, Betty Lou and Helen of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Hubbard and daughter, Margaret Sue, of Ranger; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cole and daughter, Shirley Frances of Strawn.

FIGHT AGAINST FLU EPIDEMIC GAINS GROUND

PHILADELPHIA, July 1.—A 32-year-old University of Pennsylvania bacteriologist—Dr. Horace Pettit—who led a research expedition into an influenza-infected area of Alaska, predicts that "the time may be coming" when such epidemics will be brought under control.

The immediate aim of tests now being made, according to Dr. Pettit, is to determine whether all influenza outbreaks are caused by the same filterable virus now known to science, but which have never been seen—even under the microscope, and whether protection by vaccine or serum against the virus may afford a future means of control of such epidemics.

Virus strains taken from stricken persons in influenza epidemics in Philadelphia, Puerto Rico and London are identical, research examinations have revealed.

More Proof Needed
"If the same virus caused the Alaskan outbreak, this will give encouragement to the effort to develop a vaccine or serum to check the progress of any future epidemic of this disease," Dr. Pettit said. He recalled the worldwide epidemic of 1918-19 which caused 21,000,000 deaths.

Dr. Pettit and his associate, Dr. D. Sergeant Pepper, had a three-fold purpose in making their 11,000-mile dash to and from Alaska.

"Our first objective was to bring back some serum from convalescent patients, which we did," Dr. Pettit said. "Our second thought was to collect virus in acute cases. This we failed to do, as the epidemic had burned out when we arrived at Kotzebue. Our third objective was to test immune horse serum as a preventative and curative agent. We left about half of our supply in case of a new outbreak."

Seek To Develop Virus
Dr. Pettit pointed out that if it is determined that epidemics all over the world are caused by the same virus it will be necessary to determine whether this virus or the serum of persons or animals vaccinated with the virus can be used to protect other persons from the disease.

The preservation of protective material will be made "much easier" by the aid of an apparatus which was shown at the Scientific Exhibit of the American Medical association in Atlantic City by Dr. Carl W. F. Flossdorf and Stuart Mudd of the University of Pennsylvania.

Mice and Ferrets Used
Dr. Pettit said mice and ferrets are being used in the experiments. He said the serum collected in Alaska has been bixed with virus of other influenza epidemics. Then the animals are exposed.

If the mice or ferrets live, the scientists pointed out, science then will know that the serum of convalescents from the Alaskan epidemic protects against the virus known to have caused influenza in other places, and that the Alaskan virus is probably the same as others.

Dr. Pettit said that experiments with the Alaskan serum are being made in laboratories at Johns Hopkins University, Rockefeller Institute at New York and Princeton, and in the British Medical Research Council, London.

"Safe and Sane Fourth" and temperance in use of fireworks.

Spurred by the tide of sentiment against unsafe and foolhardy observance of the Fourth, the American Medical association, in 1903, began to compile mortality statistics. That year's Independence Day, it found, cost the lives of 466 people. The injured numbered 4249.

During the next few years, until widespread pleas for a more sensible method of celebration began to take effect, the slaughter went on.

Toll Worse Than War
The terrible price America paid for its patriotic hysteria in those days was strikingly shown by Mrs. Isaac L. Rice, president of the Society for the Suppression of Unnecessary Noise, comparing July 4 casualties with the important battles of the American Revolution. Here they are:

Lockjaw Kills Hundreds
Of these 34,603 Independence Day victims, 1531 were killed, 901 of them dying from tetanus (lockjaw). Of the remainder, 155 people were completely blinded; 518 lost one eye; 406 lost legs, arms, or hands; 1420 lost one or more fingers; and 30,606 suffered miscellaneous injuries.

Almost as effective as the "Safe

To celebrate its independence, America has paid far more than the cost of winning it. Automobile accidents, drownings and fireworks casualties during past Fourth of July celebrations have cost America more lives than the Revolutionary War, in which 4044 Americans died.

Fourth" campaign in reducing the fireworks toll was the development of tetanus anti-toxin. Note from above statistics that lockjaw, caused by germs entering wounds created by burns or gun wadding, was responsible for most of the deaths.

Approximately 8 of 10 victims died from this ailment, rivaled only by hydrophobia in its agony and horrible aspect.

Fireworks Toll Falls
In 1910, the tide began to turn, and the fireworks peril went into a decline, hastened by the force of combined public opinion. These mortality statistics, covering the years 1910 to 1917, when compilation ceased, tell the story:

1911	7	70	71	11

Roosevelt Social Security College Talks Reveal

F. D. R. never hesitates. He never deserts his must program. His important measures are given the right of way. His vast social security plan, calling for the largest tax in the nation's history, was pushed through the senate by a 76 to 6 majority and thereby assured final enactment.

Five republican senators and one democratic registered against the enactment of the measure. It was a record vote. Several pairs were announced. Although it excludes farm labor, domestic, casual, governmental and charity workers, the bill creates a huge national reserve. Its backers are assured that it would cover nearly 25,000,000 people who would draw $10 to $25 a month after they reached 65 years of age.

Beginning next month, July, it would offer $15 of federal money a month if matched by state funds, for every individual over 65 years of age, or needy blind persons of any age. States without pension plans would not have to match the federal fund for the first two years. Another important provision would appropriate about $50,000,000 for dependent or crippled children, mothers aid and other welfare work, all of which must be matched by the state. Eventually the social security bill contemplates that about 25,000,000 workers will be covered by state unemployment funds to take care of them in periods of idleness.

The old age pension fund will be financed by taxing employers each 3 per cent on the payrolls of employees up to $3,000 a year. This is estimated to yield almost $2,000,000,000 annually by 1950. Companies with approved pension plans would be exempt. Altogether the measure contemplates eventual expenditures between four and five billion dollars annually, more than the present cost of running the entire government. A reminder that the house has enacted the measure and conferees will be named by house and senate to report a compromise measure and then the approved bill will be sent to the President. It is perhaps the most important as well as the most far reaching social justice ever enacted by the congress or the parliament of any nation in the history of the world. It must be true revolutions never go backward."

Society Gets Problem of Woman Kidnaper

What is Mrs. Waley like, this woman who admits a part in what the United States has come to regard as the most heinous of all crimes—kidnaping?

Is she a heartless creature, utterly unmoved by a mother's agony, deaf to a little child's pleas? Or is she coldly calculating, defiant of society and its rules?

Apparently none of these. Once more, as has so often been proved before, crime in real life lacks the glamour attached to it in fiction. Margaret Waley, plain, unimaginative, married a thief and gunman and helped him in a desperate crime. Then stepped into the traps set by the law.

Mothers with babies of their own in their arms will have scant sympathy for Margaret Waley, branded, by her own admission, "woman kidnaper." Mothers and fathers and thousands of others will remember her as the girl who could plot to steal a curly-haired child from his home, hold him for ransom, and with the money gained buy soda fountain drinks, cheap finery, a tin cigaret case.

Margaret Waley is a mystery of the times. Unraveling the mystery of her life, the environment and the forces of her life, the environment and the forces that made her what she is, might indeed throw interesting light on the solution to many of society's baffling problems in criminology.

Kingfish Long Scores Another Defeat as a 'Buster'

Kingfish Long led a filibuster movement in the senate against the enactment of the so-called new NRA recovery measure. It was a remarkable performance.

He held the senate in session Wednesday and until a late hour Thursday morning. Then defeat came to him and by a vote of 43 to 13 the senate enacted the measure and sent it to the house where it passed. Kingfish was at his ugliest. He denounced the President, "as Franklin the Little." He branded the NRA as a measure that should be thrown into the waste basket and one of the reasons he advanced was that not a democratic voter in the State of Louisiana approved of either the old NRA or the new. Kingfish will come up for re-election in 1936. It is for the voters of the Creole State to organize their forces in all the precincts of the Pelican commonwealth and retrace the Kingfish to private life. He has had his day. He is one of the political pests of the country. He is "agin" everything that does not carry the brand of the Kingfish. The red-blooded voters of Louisiana are entitled to a senator who believes in the people some of the time and not himself all the time.

As a filibuster Long has had his day. Why are rules, which prevent an important branch of the legislative government from doing business without interruption and the country in constant turmoil as well as a threatened defeat at all times of legislation which a majority of the people appear to demand, allowed to stand?

Named to High Lutheran Post

First change in the presidency of the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran Church in 24 years occurred during the denomination's triennial convention at Cleveland, when the Rev. Dr. J. W. Behnen, above, of Houston, Tex., was elected to the post. The Rev. Dr. Frederick Pfotenhauer of Chicago, president for nearly a quarter of a century, failed of re-election by a narrow margin.

BOY CHARGED WITH MURDER OF HIS FATHER

DALLAS, July 1.—Duane Kellum Martin, 18, was charged with murder today in connection with the shooting last night of his father, W. A. Martin, 50, former leader of a notorious gang of outlaws in Denton county. The elder Martin, a paroled convict, was assessed a 99-year term in 1925 for the murder of R. B. Parsons, Denton county deputy sheriff.

Detectives said the youth told them the father had been drinking and started to abuse a daughter, Ada Ray, 20. Duane knocked him down. Martin left the house, muttering threats.

Later the elder Martin returned and threatened him with a hammer, Duane related. Mrs. Martin seized his arm and as Martin turned to strike her, Duane shot his father five times.

Girl Displays Feats of Mind

PARIS, Fr.—The metaphysical Institute of Paris has just announced after extensive tests that it has discovered the most accurate mathematical memory on record in the brain of a girl of 22 named Mlle. Osaka.

Mlle. Osaka can raise a number to its tenth power by mental arithmetic, and can extract the root of a number of the same power in less than a minute. Twenty persons may each give her orally a number running into billions or trillions, and after she has heard them all, she will repeat, in any order desired, their numbers. If you would like to know the number of days, hours, minutes and seconds you have lived, give her the date of your birth, and she will tell you almost instantaneously, with due allowance for leap years.

If you read off 48 figures at the rate of two a second to Mlle. Osaka, she will repeat them after you without error. Inaudi, known as the Paganini of figures, was able to remember 42. The average person can retain seven.

BILL MEHLHORN, the star golfer, adds this timely word: "I've got to keep fit to compete in tournament golf. I can smoke Camels steadily. From years of experience I know they won't get my wind or jangle my nerves."

To new scouts that have not been in camp, we will explain that the 'Bugle Call' is the daily paper that is put out in camp. Some scouts become so busy that these serve as their letter home each day unless a letter or card is required to get in to the mess hall, then of course the folks at home get a written message.

"Toots," says: "You scouts, who want to get your Merit Badges off

STATE CONSTITUTION WILL GET A NEW FACE LIFTING AT THE POLLS AUGUST 24

AUSTIN.—Texas' much amended constitution goes up for another face-lifting at the polls August 24 with the old age pensions threatening to displace prohibition repeal as the most controversial issue.

Since its adoption in 1876, Texans amended their constitution 74 times. Latest changes were in 1933. Last year eight amendments were defeated.

No. 1 on the list of seven proposed changes which Texans will decide is the old age benefit amendment, empowering the state legislature to provide $15 monthly pensions to citizens in good standing who have reached 65 years of age.

Pensions promised to lure most voters to the polls, although early indications point to a small vote.

Texans have voted upon the liquor question numerous times since statehood, but the amendment adopted in 1919 making the state "dry" was the only prohibition proposal ever to carry a statewide election. Two years ago, voters liberalized it, legalizing sale of 3.2 per cent wines and beer. They also ratified the 21st amendment to the national constitution.

Wet and dry forces organized early this summer, but popular enthusiasm is yet to be greatly stimulated.

Adoption of the amendment would return Texas to a local option status, with the "open saloon" forever barred. Legislators would define "open saloon."

Texans also will decide August 24 if seemingly insane persons may be committed to state hospitals for 90 days observation without trial.

An amendment to allow submission of emergency constitutional amendments at special sessions of the legislature also will be considered.

Another proposal is to allow judges to suspend sentences. Sentences now may be suspended only by the jury.

Another much-discussed subject to be voted upon is abandonment of a fee system of paying public officers.

Six other amendments will be up for a vote Nov. 3, 1936. Included are proposals to allow a state monopoly on hard liquor sales and to raise salaries of major state administrative officers. Under the present schedule, part of the 1876 constitution, the governor receives only $4,000 a year.

SEARCH GOES ON FOR FOUR IN NEW MEXICO

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., July 1.—Search for the missing tourists extended today from the mountainous Pajaros canyon country of New Mexico to the painted desert of Arizona.

State police and national guards and Arizona's "Navajo patrol" trail readers from the Indian reservations, followed apparently conflicting clues in an attempt to find the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. George Lorius and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heberer of East St. Louis, Ill., believed slain for their money the latter part of May.

Gov. Clyde Tingley of New Mexico established headquarters here and personally directed the two state search for the tourists, last reported alive at Vaughn, N. M., May 22.

Small Well Bright In Young County
GRAHAM.—Nash & Windfohr report that their Graham-Vick No. 18 is good for a small well from the upper pay. They are swabbing and cleaning out after opening the well last week.

Casing Set For Kirk's Gowan Well
GORMAN.—Six inch casing was set in the Gowan well of Kirk et al north of town and drilling is in progress toward the anticipated depth. Should the well show gas or oil it will be shot with acid to make it a paying proposition. The Thompson test being drilled by Northrup and Campbell is past 2500 feet and they should be at the pay level within the next few days. Pay is expected around 2,700 feet.

Texas has always been famous as a cotton state; but in recent years this crop has taken second place to another "crop". In 1932 the value of the oil business was $50,000,000 more than cotton.

Astor's Thrift In 1838 Shown

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Sale of the former Union Congregational church here recently recalled aid given by John Jacob Astor and Washington Irving to house Wisconsin's first protestant organization, formed Jan. 9, 1836.

The congregation, continuing unbroken since that date, although its first edifice burned and it has moved from the second, participated in many stirring events recounted in its records.

Astor, nationally famous as a fur trader, was reputed to be the wealthiest man in the United States at the time he donated land and $300 for the church.

In a letter dated at Yorkville, Oct. 1, 1838, he grumbles to a church committee that he did not anticipate being asked to donate a bell after giving land and money.

He adds in a postscript: "You will please see that the church settles the account of the freight and expenses."

Advice on 87 Cents N. Goodell, Astor's Green Bay agent, received directions regarding expenses of transferring the property donated for the church.

FLOOD DAMAGE MORE THAN OFFSET BY CROPS IN STATE

DALLAS, July 1.—Flood damage in the Southwest from recent rains will be more than offset by material improvement in agricultural and livestock industries, the Eleventh District federal reserve bank's monthly business review predicted today.

"A period of dry weather," the report explained, "would do much to overcome the bad effects and the good season which now obtains will be a sustaining factor in crop development throughout the growing season."

"Distribution of merchandise in wholesale channels continued active in May," the review reported, "which is normally a quiet month. The volume of business in a majority of reporting lines was substantially larger than a year ago."

"Sales department stores located in larger cities were slightly larger than in the previous month and exceeded those of May, 1934, by two per cent. Collections in both wholesale and retail trade were well-sustained."

"Debits to individual accounts at banks in leading centers, while two per cent smaller than in April, were 12 per cent greater than in the corresponding month last year."

The review reported that the daily average of combined net demand and time deposits of member banks in the district totaled $798,311,000 in May, "reflecting less than usual seasonal recession and an increase over the same month of 1934 which was the largest reported during the current year."

In its optimistic view of the agriculture situation the review reported that "good yields from feed crops are practically assured and the outlook for other row crops is generally promising."

"The condition of ranges and livestock has shown a marked improvement and there are prospects of ample pasturage in all sections of the district, as the prolonged drought in the western portion was definitely broken by the heavy rains around the middle of June."

Building operations, the review found, reflected a slowing down during the last month. The valuation of building permits issued at principal cities declined 24 per cent as compared with the large

April volume, but was 13 per cent above that in the corresponding month last year.

EASTLAND IS PLANNING NEW NATATORIUM

EASTLAND, Texas, July 2.—The swimming pool project for Eastland jumped from the discussion on state Monday night into one with life when city commissioners snapped the general fund purse, voting to expend up to $1,038 for cement and lumber for the pool.

Belief that "sucker rods" and steel necessary for the pool will be donated by various oil companies was expressed by Mayor C. W. Hoffmann.

Actual preparation of the project is now in progress. After preparation it will be submitted to County Administrator H. E. Driscoll who will forward it to Austin.

Under relief sponsorship it is believed an $8,000 pool can be obtained by the city for the sum of $1,038.

"If it exceeds that," said Eastland's oil man mayor, in reference to cost of cement and lumber, "I'll put up."

The pool, to be located at the city park south of the clubhouse, would be 45 by 120 feet with water ranging from sides from three feet and six inches to 10 foot depth. A wading pool, to be included in the project, would be 20 by 45 feet with depth considered safe for children.

Both pools, according to Mayor Hoffmann's discussion with city commissioners, would be cement bottomed. Drain water would be used to water grass and other vegetation at the park.

Calling of election to fill the vacancy created by the recent resignation of O. E. Harvey was passed off until July 15, next meeting, because of absence of Commissioner Ben Pryor.

Commissioners present were C. W. Hoffmann, H. O. Satterwhite and "Uncle Tom" Johnson.

Hearing John Harrison as spokesman for firemen wanting aid for J. R. Wood, fireman injured in line of duty, crippled for life, commissioners voted to increase his allowance from $25 to $40 per month.

The body gave no ear to proposal of Guy Quinn to purchase a city lot on West Main street for $25, instructing City Manager J. F. Little to tell him to see the body if he was desirous of purchasing at a higher figure.

Although no order was passed, commissioners instructed the city manager to tell merchants they might sell Fourth of July fireworks, telling purchasers that they are not to be shot on the square.

Connection of several water consumers with one meter was criticized by commissioners and indication made that the practice be eradicated.

Minutes approved of two former meetings were:

Appropriation of $48.25 for Chamber of Commerce for expenses entailed in opening of canneries.

That artificial heart which Lindbergh helped devise is said to be the first of its kind. We thought every banker had one.

While the cat's away the mice will play . . . and this time the playing that Allen Sneed, assistant manager of the J. C. To make a long story short, Allen is staging an event for Friday and Saturday while G. H. Hipp, manager, is out of town, with the slogan head, "You Get the Bargains," signed by Allen Sneed, assistant manager.

"LES MISERABLES" NEW SCREEN DRAMA

Frederic March and Charles Laughton play fugitive and pursuer in the most celebrated of all fictional man hunts in Darryl Zanuck's 20th Century production of Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables," which begins a two-day run at the Lyric theatre Monday.

March is seen as Hugo's ill-starred young hero, Jean Valjean, who spends five bitter years on a French prison ship for stealing a loaf of bread and then becomes a fugitive from justice by violating his parole. Laughton is Javert, the fanatical detective, whose devotion to the letter of the law drives him relentlessly along the reformed ex-convict's trail.

Sir Cedric Hardwicke, the distinguished English stage and screen star, shares stellar honors with the pair as the benevolent Bishop Bienvenu, whose faith starts the degraded galley slave on the road toward a better life.

Richard Boleslawski directed "Les Miserables" from a screen play by W. R. Lipscomb.

Rochelle Hudson, Frances Drake and John Beal are featured in the supporting cast which also includes such popular and distinguished players as Florence Eldridge, who is Mrs. Frederic March in private life, Jessie Ralph, Ferdinand Gottschalk and little Marilynne Knowlden, who played Madge Evans as a child in "David Copperfield."

"Les Miserables" is a Joseph M. Schenck presentation, released through United Artists.
