Litigation Resulting From Voting Of $4,500,000 Road Bond Issue Is Ended With Action of County Body

Litigation resulting from Eastland county voting $4,500,000 in road bond issue in 1919 ended this week when the commissioners court decided to release and quit claim any lien on property of four defendants.

The county had sued G. A. Davison, C. R. Starnes, Joe Burkett and Sam D. Young, getting a judgment against Davison and Starnes, jointly and severally, for $388,575.50 and against Burkett and Young, jointly and severally, for 5,000, with interest from Jan. 2, 1922, and cost of suit, amounting to $353.07. The judgments were rendered June 4, 1926.

The action of the commissioners court in the current session in adopting a resolution releasing and quit claim title to the property of the defendants, is substantially as follows:

"Whereas, an abstract of the above mentioned judgments was filed in the county clerk's office of Eastland county June 5, 1926 and recorded June 23, of that year, creating a lien on any real estate with which the defendants may be possessed, and

"Whereas, an appeal was prosecuted by the defendants before the state supreme court in which the judgment of the district court in all things was reversed and became final on July 8, 1929, and the mandate of the supreme court was duly issued to the district clerk of Eastland county, and

"Whereas, these defendants filed a plea in abatement which was sustained by the court, and the cause dismissed, from which judgment no appeal was ever prosecuted.

"Now, therefore, to remove any cloud upon any property of all or either of these defendants that may have been created or caused by the abstracting of said judgment be it.

"Resolved, that Eastland county, acting by and through its commissioners court, on this 19th day of August, 1935, do hereby by release and discharge to each and all the defendants any lien that may exist by reason of abstracting said judgments, and do hereby quit claim all rights, title, interest or claim that Eastland county may have to any property owned by either or all of said defendants since the abstracting of said judgments."

This action finally closes all matters ancillary to the litigation over the expenditures of the largest road bond issue ever voted in Eastland county, and concerning which many changes were afloat declaring extravagant and unlawful expenditure of the funds derived. The only material roads that were constructed from this fund were the brick highway from Eastland to Cisco and the Leary road. The latter was faulty, and practically condemned a few years after its acceptance by the commissioners court, of which C. R. Starnes was presiding officer at the time.

John Hamilton Was Killed By G-Men In Battle

OSWEGO, Ill., Aug. 29.—John Hamilton was shot and killed in a battle with federal agents at South St. Paul, Minn., April 3, 1935, it was revealed today at an inquest following discovery of his body near here.

The examination of the body convinced federal agents he was wearing a bullet proof vest when shot in the battle, but the vest was insufficient armor against the powerful rifles in the hands of the federal agents. Three small pellets of lead were found lodged in the small of the back of the dead man.

Those New York physicians amazed by the baby which lived 27 days without a brain would probably faint if they examined the head of a reckless driver.

To meet the budget of Eastland county for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1, a tax rate of $1.40 on the $100 valuation has been confirmed by the commissioner's court. The rate is 10 cents higher than last year's.

fund, 25 cents; permanent improvement fund, 2 cents; court-house interest and sinking fund, 11 cents; special hospital maintenance fund, 3 cents; road bond interest and sinking fund, 76 cents.

Compared to last year tax rate for the various county funds, the hospital maintenance fund shows a decrease of 1 cent, the road bond interest and sinking fund an increase of 16 cents, the courthouse interest and sinking fund a drop of 3 cents, the permanent improvement fund a drop of 1 cent and the jury fund a drop of 1 cent.

School Believed Most Modern and Complete for Negro Students In West Texas Is Completed Tuesday

What is believed the most modern and complete school for negroes in West Texas was completed Tuesday at Eastland when laborers put the finishing touches on the Frederick A. Douglas building.

The school, completed by relief labor, will be officially opened next week when K. B. Tanner, president of the Eastland school board, makes an address. Open house is planned for several days.

Frank Evans, who has been principal of the Douglas school for colored at Eastland, will continue as head of the school which occupies the entire 3C block in Eastland. The school faces on East Patterson street and measures 74 by 30 feet.

High school work will be offered at the school, only one in Eastland county in which the higher subjects are available for colored students. An enrollment of 37 is expected in the elementary grades. Fifteen high school students will attend, six coming from Ranger and three from Cisco.

The building has an office for the principal, cloak room, two class rooms, drinking fountains and a stage. The class rooms which extend across the length of the building are convertible into an auditorium.

The class rooms have a new type of blackboard which eliminates the glare found in the usual type, it was stated.

Swings and other playground equipment, furnished through civic organizations and citizens in Eastland, are available for recreation of the colored students.

Lumber for the school was used from the old Scripture Lumber company building. The material was obtained by the Eastland school board, which also furnished supervision for the project which has given $1,800 in wages to relief clients.

The Eastland board and Eastland school board views the completion of the project as one of its major achievements.

Cisco Peeping Tom Causes Commotion

CISCO, Aug. 27.—A peeping Tom caused a lot of disturbance in West Cisco at midnight when he was discovered peering through a young woman's bedroom window.

The occupant of the room made known her discovery in a loud voice and the police were called. Meanwhile, however, the prowler had fled to the front porch next door, it was reported, and the occupants fled to the house of the original disturbance.

When police arrived, they were unable to find the window-watcher, but the frightened midnight callers preferred not to return to their home.

Railway Company Sued for $20,000

Damages of $20,000 are asked from the Texas & Pacific Railway company by Mrs. Fannie Nash, whose attorney has filed suit in 91st district court.

The petition recites the damages are wanted for Mrs. Nash and two sons, Elisha, 15, and Marvin, 7, because of the husband's and father's death, allegedly caused by a T. & P. train May 17.

The petition alleges that Nash, a peddler, was halted on Daugherty street in Eastland when a train of the defendant company stopped, blocking Nash's path, who attempted to cross the train by climbing over couplings of two freight cars.

Climbing across the couplings, the petition recites, the train, which Nash thought was "dead," started with Nash thrown to the rails with a wheel cutting off a portion of his foot to the ankle.

It was because of this accident, the petitioner alleges, that Nash died May 24.

Mrs. Nash asks $10,000 for herself and $10,000 for her sons because they have allegedly been deprived of support, counsel and advice of the husband and father.

The railway was negligent and at fault by allowing the train to stop at the allegedly lengthy of 60 minutes and by not sounding a whistle when it re-started, the petition states.

Football Coach, Team Captain Are Heard By Rotary

Football this year in Eastland—the plans of Johnny Kitchen, coach, and Bob Sikes, captain—was the main topic of discussion at the Rotary Club's meeting Monday.

Kitchen stated he welcomed suggestions, but would not promise their adoption. He promised to devote his greatest effort to the maverick team this year.

Taking cognizance that grades are the paramount concern of team members, Kitchen stated “brains and brawn” are a desirable combination in the game which is each year becoming more intricate.

Sounding praise for the coach, Bob Sikes, team captain, promised a hard working aggregation, who are appreciative of a softer field this year.

Suggestion that other entrances be made for the field was made by J. E. Lewis.

Following solicitation of Ralph Mahon of the Hi-Y club that members be aided in attending a Hi-Y officers and sponsors training school at Camp Crockett, near Granbury, Sept. 7-8, the club voted to pay half or all expenses of those unable to attend.

Resident Hamner authorized a member to contact the Lions club and ascertain if they would follow similar action.

A project committee was appointed in Albert Taylor and Jim Horton to work with other agencies on a farmers market.
Carl Springer and J. E. Lewis were program committeemen.
Visitors were Sikes, Kitchen, Mahon, Eastland; and F. T. Hindman of Dallas, guest of F. Mundy.

HAMILTON, N. Y.—Marty McDonough, one of the best ball carriers in football, has just broken his leg playing baseball, which probably will eliminate him from the Colgate University squad this fall.

McDonough is the second star college halfback to suffer an injury of this kind this summer. Phil Dickens, of Tennessee, broke bones in his ankle and tore ligaments in a meaningless amateur baseball game in Alabama in June.

Dickens is off crutches, but limps badly. The broken bones have healed, but the torn ligaments are still troublesome. The team physician says that there is no way to tell whether he'll be able to play until practice starts, but Major Bill Britton, new tutor of the Volunteers, plans to hold him out for the season unless he is right.

Tennessee men were confident that Dickens would bring additional All-America honors to Knoxville this autumn as a sophomore in 1934 the running and passing of the powerful and speedy Dickens brought fond memories of Beattie Feathers.

Yankees Get Colgate Star BUT to get back to Marty McDonough and Colgate, I dropped in on Andy Kerr, famous coach of the Maroon and White, just as he received the sad news. A message of the kind would send the majority of mentors into a blue funk, but "It's a tough break for Marty, a fine kid," was Kerr's characteristic comment. Little Andy isn't much for singing the blues on his own account. McDonough is a senior, which probably means that he never again will lug leather for the Red Raiders of the Chenango. He was one of the more spectacular backs of the past two campaigns.

McDonough's misfortune concerns the New York Yankees almost as much as it does Colgate. It is to the Yankees that Marty is to report at the conclusion of his college course.

McDonough is tabbed as the best second baseman in the college ranks. The Irish youngster hits the ball as hard as he rams a line. Frankie Frisch followed the Colgate varsity around last season attempting to inveigle him into the St. Louis Cardinals' organization.

Tulane and Iowa Toughest

COLGATE lost 14 of 25 letter men by graduation, and the loss of McDonough on top of that causes Kerr to remark that the Hamilton institution's prospects for 1935 are just fair.

Colgate's schedule includes Holy Cross, Lafayette, Tulane, Iowa, Syracuse, Rutgers, and Brown. Kerr believes his combination's toughest contests will be with Tulane in New Orleans and Iowa at Iowa City. He also anticipates plenty of competition from Lafayette, Holy Cross, Brown, and Syracuse, the latter an ancient and legendary foe.

If Colgate goes places, Kerr expects Don Irwin, fullback, to contribute much to the cause. The coach also considers Ike Kern, a triple threat back, All-America material. At the outset he will bank on Portmann, right guard, and Wastek, captain and tackle, to become outstanding linemen.

And just wait and see what Little Andy, a punner with the probably

Vast Fortune In Buried Gold Believed Spotted By Inventor Of A Mysterious Divining Rod

HAYWARD, Cal.—The fabulous fortune reputedly buried by Joaquin Murietta, California's most picturesque bandit, has been located under the biggest oak tree in California, according to Frank Ramos of Hayward.

Ramos has spent 12 years perfecting a device which he says automatically locates various classes of hidden treasure. In the case of metal and minerals, the little instrument will nose out buried treasure to a distance of 25 miles, Ramos declares.

If hunting a lost body, however, such as the corpse of a murderer or a stray horse, the effective distance is much shorter.

Instrument Is Guarded Ramos' process is secret, although several persons have seen the instrument with which he works. He asserts he has given the device several startling tests which have assured him of its effectiveness.

For example, just to prove that his invention is workable, Ramos says he went into the Big Sur area and without any trouble the instrument located the exact spot where the Navy dirigible Macon rests beneath the waves.

Then he started out to find the great store of gold presumably buried many years ago by the bandit, Murietta. The instrument drew him, Ramos said, to the neighborhood of the Pinnacles. There, he asserts, his invention located the bulk of the treasure under a giant oak.

More Difficulties Ahead It may take some time to determine whether the treasure-spotting device told the truth. Before he can dig for the gold, Ramos must get the permission of a land-owner. And once the treasure is recovered—if it is where Ramos believes it is—there is the question of whether or not Spain will claim title.

The Murietta treasure originally was Spanish gold. A galleon from Spain had anchored off Monterey with supplies and a huge amount of gold bars and coins for the Spanish garrison at Monterey, then the capital of California.

Murietta with several of his bandit companions waited until the tide was out and then made their way by raft to the galleon, removed the gold, loaded it on five mules and fled.

But the dragoons followed closely and caught the bandit band near the Pinnacles. In the ensuing battle several of the bandits were killed. Murietta, hard pressed, is said to have buried his treasure beneath a large oak tree and headed southward.

According to the old story, the gold never was recovered.

Trench Silos Are Big Benefit to Farmers of Texas

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. — The importance of simple holes in the ground for wringing the greatest possible benefit from the huge Texas feed crop received emphasis from E. R. Eudaly, extension dairyman of Texas A. & M. College, in a talk to vocation agriculture men gathered at John Tarleton College from thirty-two Texas counties.

These holes in the ground, otherwise known as trench silos, are inexpensive and easy to construct. Properly made and used, they will preserve feed for about seven years, at the end of which time they will yield twice as much food value as would the same feed six months after harvesting if used in the form of hay.

In selecting the location for the helpful hole in the ground, it is wise to look around to see if erosion has not left a likely ditch somewhere on a gentle slope. If so, the farmer doesn't even have to dig. He can just manœuvre the sides of the ditch to the proper slope, put the feed in, and cover it with water so that all air will be excluded.

In case it is necessary to dig the trench and it probably will be, it should be located on the slope of a hill and near water. The size of the trench will be determined by the size of the herd, since when it is once opened it is necessary to take off a slice of feed every day. For that reason, the width and depth should be that which will afford an adequate day's ration for the number of cattle to be fed. The length of the trench makes no difference.

Helpful hints Mr. Eudaly gave include these: Be sure to replace ALL the air with water, and to pile on so much dirt that no air can get in. Round up the top. Make future feeding easy by putting a post at the top and bottom of the trench (which should be on a slope remember), and throwing over them a block and tackle cable equipped with tubs. Then the heavy lifting and carrying can be replaced with relatively negligible work.

Use only ripe feed for silage. Its sugar is its greatest value, and ripeness develops the sugar.

Provide an ample supply of silage. Then when feeding it, don't be stingy. Give the stock generous rations, and watch for improved

WORK OR ELSE IS DECISION OF THE WPA HEAD

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.— Federal and city authorities combined today to compel relief clients by court action to take jobs under the WPA. Persons who do not accept work will be dropped from relief rolls and where the offender is the head of the family, prosecuted for non-support.

The order was approved by Harry Hopkins and Mayor Laguardia. Failure of Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, New York City WPA administrator, to realize an employment goal he set himself Aug. 1, caused the action.

Johnson had assured Hopkins he would put 75,000 persons to work on projects this month, raising the New York total of WPA employees to 175,000. He went into the fourth week Thursday 50,000 jobs behind.

Johnson intimated his difficulties were due to many men refusing to leave home relief to work for the $55 a month offered unskilled laborers.

William Lange, city director of the National Reemployment service said delay was caused by inability of his staff to find 75,000 persons in the time given it. Johnson said a strike of 2,000 skilled laborers who protested against WPA wage scales had collapsed.

AUSTIN, Aug. 24.—Beginning Monday state comptroller's certificates showing gross production tax has been paid will be required before oil tenders will be issued. The order was decided upon after the commissioners attended a hearing at Kilgore. There already is a ruling requiring a tax certificate for gasoline movement.

PREPARATIONS FOR WAR ARE IN THE NEWS

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Warlike preparations echoed throughout Europe today.

News reports and rumors of the Italian-Ethiopian crisis dealt with preparations of nations to defend their interests in event the war spreads to Europe.

There was no word at all, for the moment, of efforts to avert an Italian-Ethiopian war. The talk was of troop and ship movements, penalties to be imposed on the aggressor.

The sole non-marital note was sounded here where the interview which Benito Mussolini of Italy gave yesterday to Ed Kees, European manager of the United Press, was called the first friendly gesture he has made to Britain.

This gesture was Mussolini's assurance Britain had no need to fear his encroachment on its great Nile River irrigation project, centering on Ethiopian Lake Tsina and its neighboring Nile waters.

SELASSIE NOW PREPARING FOR AIRPLANE RAID

ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 24.—Emperor Haile Selassie today addressed a communication to his people telling them how to conduct themselves in event of raids by airplanes.

Adapting European air defense ideas, the Emperor said: "If enemy airplanes arrive over any village or town to destroy or burn, a warning is to be spread by giving three gunshots and ringing all church bells."

"At this signal the population must leave their houses and seek shelter in bushes, or in the wide open spaces. They are to watch the planes to save themselves from bombs falling nearby."

The royal proclamation assures the people they will have full police protection and their houses will be guarded against looting in times of a crisis. It declares the government has taken all possible measures to protect the people against air raids.

Today's instructions were indicative of the growing alarm in Ethiopia. There were no orders of evacuation except on an "if and when" basis, but the thoroughness of the decree showed Selassie is inclined to feel invasion is a strong possibility.

Senator Touched With Emotion As War Is Mentioned

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—An emotional scene, such as the senate rarely witnesses, occurred today after a flareup of two senators.

Sen. M. M. Logan, Dem., Ky., tears in his eyes, retired to quell a tumult of memory recalled by reference to two brothers killed on the battlefields of France.

Sen. Thomas Gore had been speaking on his stand against American entry into the war and was chided by Logan "for fighting the World War all over again."

The blind Gore turned on Logan and rebuked him with reference to the 200,000 graves in France which warn against future wars.

When Gore concluded, Logan arose. Speaking slowly and deliberately he said:

"I believe I have more cause than the Senator from Oklahoma to remember the graves. I want to merely say my two youngest brothers sleep in two of those graves he has mentioned."

Logan sat down. For a moment there was not a sound in the chamber or in the gallery. Logan stumbled against the chair next to his, and head bowed, walked from the chamber.

Grand Jury May Consider Poker Game Case On Saturday

DALLAS, Aug. 27.— Sheriff Smoot said today the Dallas county grand jury would probably consider the cases of Fred Batson, Cleburne, and Jack and Buck Terry, brothers, of Fort Worth, charged with murder in connection with the poker game killing of one of the players.

The sheriff said Batson made a statement detailing his version of the slaying. He is still too ill to appear before the grand jury. He was arrested in Cleburne last week and is now confined in the hospital ward of the jail.

YOUNG AND INEXPERIENCED MAVERICK GROUP GO TO CAMP AT BUFFALO GAP THURSDAY

Training — intensive training — which is needed for a "young and inexperienced squad" in the opinion of Johnny Kitchen, Eastland coach — lay before 35 prospective members of the Eastland Maverick team as they left Thursday for a 10 day encampment at Buffalo Gap.

Kitchen, this his first year as coach, will not commit liberally on prospects. Further amplification of his remarks were only made in "the rest remains to be seen."

As a nucleus to build the 1935 machine, Kitchen has five lettermen. Nine veterans, Hart, Tulley, Garrison, Horton, Butler, Shoopanna, Frost, Brawner and Bagley were lost to graduation last May.

Troy Taylor, Bob Sikes, Ben Mackall, Evans Mitchell and Truman Brown are the five lettermen. Taylor and Sikes are co-captains.

Only 12 squadmen are left from the last team's roster.

Previous to the departure, Kitchen listed the following as going on the encampment: Ralph Greer, Billy Woods, Claude O'Neil, James Fields, James Hill, Buck Perine, Tom Samuels, Jean Gage, Irvin Cottingham, Andy Taylor, Travis Cook, Captains Bob Sikes and Troy Taylor, Roy Taylor, Daus Simmons, Harry Taylor, Jim Taylor, Charles Van Geem, John Frank Williams, Wesley Lane, Waarren Laane, Raymond Hamilton, James Daniel, Jack Trantham, Red Hanlin, Cleo Key, L. A. Dolberry, John Mackall, Jack Sikes, Gates Brelsford, "Happy-Go-Lucky" Simmons, Ray Hatten, Truman Brown and Evans Mitchell.

The aggregation represented the total coming out currently for the team, but Kitchen expects the number to be augmented when school starts.

Schedule for Eastland is as follows:

- Sept. 13, Friday, at Mineral Wells.
Sept. 21, Saturday, at Sweetwater.
Sept. 27, Friday, at Olney.
Oct. 4, Friday, at Brownwood.

Executive of the Texas Synod Will Visit In Eastland

Summer days are about over. Vacation is a thing of the past. Church activities are now facing everyone. The Presbyterian church now makes clear an active program beginning Sept. 1, 1935, to continue through the winter season.

The very last day of August, 1935, we are to have as our special guest of honor the Rev. George W. Fender, D. D., executive of the Synod of Texas, Saturday afternoon, from 5 to 9 o'clock, the pastor kindly invites all members and friends to come to the manse, 1014 South Seaman, and meet Dr. Fender, a native of Texas, and has given his entire life to the work of the church in Texas. Dr. Fender will speak Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service, also will address the adult class in Sunday school at 9:45 a. m., to which all men and women are kindly invited.

The evening service will begin at 7 o'clock with a special beginning for the young people, to organize and begin permanent work. At 8 o'clock the pastor will deliver a special message covering several facts in the present social and industrial situation, requiring religion and spiritual leadership.

The three most urgent social questions now confronting the church, the nation and the world are, Can peace be preserved? Can social and economic prosperity for all be achieved and stabilized? Can social and economic security be insured? The character of our future civilization depends on our answer to these three inescapable questions. The pastor will enlarge on these questions, giving the stand the Presbyterian church has taken in order to benefit the world. This is a special Labor Day message. The public kindly invited. Come, help fill this church house and study these questions. REPORTER.

DOMINANT STARS HEAD CONNELLEE FILMS

SHIRLEY AT HER SUNNIEST

SHIRLEY TEMPLE is revealed as the really is in her sunny Fox Film production, "Curly Top." America's darling sings and dances in this happy, tuneful treat.

In "Curly Top," a charming story of a little girl who captures the heart of a lonely bachelor and makes both their dreams come true, Shirley has two new songs to sing and several new and intricate dance routines for audience approval.

In this Fox Film comedy-drama, John Boles is cast as a bachelor who adopts Shirley and her big sister, Rochelle Hudson. His generosity takes them from the drab and dreary atmosphere of an orphanage to the sunny summer surroundings of a palatial home in Southampton. There the romance of Boles and Rochelle Hudson flourishes under the childish guidance of little Shirley who sings, dances and laughs her way into their hearts.

Shirley is really happy in this picture, for she has the opportunity of displaying her full talents when she sings "Animal Crackers in My Soup" and "When I Grow Up."

Shirley is not the only one to sing in this joyous film. John Boles sings "It's All So New to Me" and "Curly Top," while Rochelle Hudson surprises by singing for the first time, "The Simple Things in Life."

Ray Henderson, America's ace song writer, wrote the melodies for all the song numbers for "Curly Top," which was produced by Winfield Sheehan and directed by Irving Cummings.

"LET 'EM HAVE IT" COMING TO TOWN

When the Reliance thriller, "Let 'Em Have It," comes to the Connellee Theatre today, audiences will have an opportunity to see at first hand the dramatic and fascinating activities of the world-renowned operatives of the United States Department of Justice in their current warfare on crime and criminals.

Richard Arlen, Virginia Bruce, Alice Brady and Bruce Cabot head the imposing all-star cast of the production, which Sam Wood directed from an original story by Joseph Menckure March and Elmer Harris. Prominent in the supporting cast are Harvey Stephens, Eric Linden, Gordon Jones, the sensational new football star-film "find", Dorothy Appleby, Barbara Pepper and others.

Arlen, Stephens and Jones are seen as three fearless federal sleuths and the story deals with their relentless pursuit of "Public Enemy No. 1," played by Bruce Cabot, and his gang of kidnapers, holdup men and bank robbers, as they careen madly across the middle west, leaving a shocking trail of death and destruction.

The romance is supplied by Virginia Bruce, who plays the society girl victim of Cabot's kidnap attempt, and Arlen, Eric Linden is seen as her young brother who meets death at the end of a gang dealing with the intense rivalry between a man and a woman reporter on opposing newspapers, plays at the Connellee theatre Sunday.

Bette Davis, deserting for the moment the heavy dramatic roles she has portrayed in the past, and George Brent, the Irish-American actor, are starred in the picture, which includes a supporting cast comprising popular players such as Roscoe Karns, Winifred Shaw, Walter Walker, J. Carroll Naish, Gordon Westcott and others.

Miss Davis is cast as Ellen Garfield, sob-sister on the staff of the "Star," while Brent has the role of her rival on the "Express." Their professional enmity begins in the press room of a prison shortly before the execution of a Broadway butterfly for the murder of her paramour, carries thru a series of dramatic and comic situations, and ends in a truce and, of course, love.

The picture was adapted from Richard Macaulay's magazine story, "Women Are Bum Newspapermen," by Roy Chanslor and Lillie Hayward. The screen play was written by Laird Doyle. Michael Curtiz directed.

BETTE DAVIS TRAINS TO BE REPORTER

Bette Davis' greatest ambition at the moment is to sit in the editorial rooms of a newspaper while a big story is breaking. To this end, she spent several days in metropolitan Los Angeles newspapers, waiting for a "break" at the same time soaking up "local color" for her current picture, the Warner Bros. production, "Front Page Woman," showing at the Connellee Theatre Sunday.

If Shirley Temple, star of "Curly Top," which comes Monday to the Connellee Theatre, could have

BETTE DAVIS GETS NEW MOVIE NAME

Bette Davis has a new name. It's "Miss Front Page." She acquired the new title during production of Warner Bros. "Front Page Woman," which comes to the Connellee Theatre Sunday.

Whenever Director Michael Curtiz wanted Miss Davis for a scene, he called: "Step up, Miss Front Page." Finally the entire cast and technical crew were addressing her by that title and the name has stuck.

Miss Davis is co-starred with George Brent in the newspaper picture.

Safety Is Tested In Blimp Plane

PARIS.—A fool-proof aircraft, whose inventor describes it as "the dream of fearful people, children and nurses" has undergone remarkably successful tests at Toussus-le-Noble, near Paris.

It is a curious machine—half airplane, half "sausage." A ride in it is proclaimed to be as safe as a morning walk. The ship can rise as straight as if it were in an elevator shaft, can descend the same way, and is capable of remaining virtually still in the air at almost any altitude or can travel forward at about 50 miles an hour.

M. de Broutelle, the inventor, calls it a helistatic. It consists of the usual cigar-shaped gas bag fitted with a tail and held in a network of graduated elastic braces connecting it with the nacelle. The nacelle is the unusual part of the helistatic, for it is almost exactly like an airplane.

Of light material, the nacelle is fitted with a 60-horsepower motor, but besides the propeller in front, which drives the machine forward, it also has a propeller underneath, directly below the cockpit. This auxiliary propeller, which has its own 12-horsepower motor, holds the secret of the machine's ability to rise vertically.

The entire machine is so perfectly balanced when the gas bags are properly filled with hydrogen that at almost any reasonable low altitude as well as on the ground it is static; that is, it will not rise or fall without motor power.

De Broutelle begins a flight by starting the horizontal propeller underneath the nacelle. This causes the machine to rise straight up. Once at the desired height, he turns off the horizontal propeller and starts the vertical one, which moves the craft forward.

When he wants to descend, he shuts off the regular motor, turns on the little 12-horsepower one controlling the horizontal propeller—in reverse—and the craft descends gently in a vertical line.

Farmer Invites a Search For Gold

CLARENCE, Mo. — Treasure hunters are invited to dig for $30,000 in gold.

William Hutchinson, who lives on a farm near here, has decided to call strangers to his farm to help him dig for the gold he says is buried there.

John Chyle, his grandfather, buried $30,000 in gold on the farm during the Civil war and because of Chyle's sudden death, the hiding place of the money never was learned.

Because bushwackers were rampant in those days and there were few safe places to keep money in the western frontier, many persons buried the money for safe-keeping.

Chyle, Hutchinson said, was preparing to take a large herd of cattle to Hannibal for sale. Not wishing to leave the $30,000 in the house with his oldest daughter, he buried it in an iron box. The daughter declined to be told where the money was buried because she was afraid robbers might torture her if she knew the hiding place.

Chyle took his cattle to market. Returning home he suffered a stroke and died.

Hutchinson has spent several years digging on the farm but has not found the gold. Now he says that anyone may come and dig, provided there is an agreement to divide the treasure if found.

Cattle Rustling Is Becoming Real Thing In The West

DALLAS, Tex. — Westmoreland Gray, sometimes referred to as the "Zane Grey" of Texas, reads with interest news dispatches concerning cattle rustling activities in West Texas.

"Looks like my yarns are becoming more and more authentic," he grinned as he read the account of cattle raids in the cow country.

Gray writes fiction for a dozen magazines of the "Western" and "Adventure" type, and his published books, all of them with a setting in the cowboy world and the
