Higher Quota Is Obtained After United Request

Word has been received from the State Cotton Allotment Board that all cotton producers of Eastland County who have an allotment basis of 1630 pounds or above will receive an additional allotment of cotton tax exemption certificates within the next few days.

C. Metz Heald, County Agent announced Saturday. Those producers having an allotment basis of 2400 pounds or above will receive 20 per cent additional certificates, which is half as much as they received in the original issue. Those between 1630 and 2400 will receive enough additional to make their allotment up to 60 per cent. Those producers with an allotment basis of less than 1630 pounds have already received 60 per cent or more of their allotment basis, therefore will not receive an additional allotment.

This will make a total of at least 60 per cent allotment to every producer in the county on this year's crop, except the producer who began planting cotton in 1935 for the first time since 1927. He will receive a total of 40 per cent for the year.

The County Agent and the Cotton Control Committeemen were gratified at this additional allotment, which shows that they have not been asleep on the job. They have been striving to get some relief in this matter ever since it became apparent that the two-bale regulation would work a hardship on approximately 40 per cent of the cotton farmers of this county.

Numerous individuals as well as the county organization have written letters to the officials explaining this unjust situation and seeking to have it remedied.

Heald and A. E. Arthur, assistant in cotton adjustment, state that each producer will receive a card notifying him when his certificates arrive in the county office. They especially urge the producers not to deluge them with inquiries before the certificates arrive, because it is impossible to tell a producer exactly the poundage of certificates he will receive.

They also urge those producers above 1630 pounds to delay buying certificates, in case they are contemplating such, until they receive this new allotment.

Blanton Pledges Ciscoans Aid In Project of Park

Pledging his support for development of a state park for which 500 acres north of Cisco have been acquired, Congressman Thos. L. Blanton addressed 100 from Cisco and this section at a banquet of the Booster Club in Cisco Monday night.

Designation of the area as a metropolitan park instead of a state park is preferable, Congressman Blanton advised.

Control of the state park would be in the hands of state officials, the speaker explained.

Blanton praised work of the CCC, interpreted appropriation of the recent war funds instead of "dole" money as heartening, indicated business was on an upturn and invited solicitation for aid he might render for his constituents.

Johnny Cox, president of the Booster Club, presided.

From Eastland attending was a group including Chamber of Commerce Secretary H. C. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Jones.

Two cruisers steamed north to aid the loyalist forces. Navy and army planes, infantry and police preceded them as re-enforcements for loyalists. Messages said rebels in Natal and Pernambuco still were in a defiant mood. There had been hand-to-hand fighting in other towns.

SMU Has Won Only One TCU Game In Past Seven Years

FORT WORTH, Nov. 26.—Only once since 1927 have the Southern Methodist Mustangs succeeded in defeating the Texas Christian Horned Frogs. That victory came last year and was a smashing one for the Methodists—19 to 0.

The last seven games have produced four Frog victories, two ties, and one Mustang win.

The two schools have met on the gridiron 17 times, the series beginning back in 1915 with S. M. U.'s first eleven. The competition began with the Christians, with some 18 years of football behind them, holding a strong upper hand for the first few years. Then S. M. U. began to turn out winning teams, and the Pones carried along for several years with a series of victories. The last several years have favored the Frogs.

Pensions Bring Up Some Novel Ideas

AUSTIN.—Old age pension discussion, particularly the talk of what to do with men placed on the shelf, has led to the intriguing suggestion that the state constitution be changed to raise the age requirement for governor and members of the legislature. The suggestion is to require that they be men or women who have acquired the wisdom and experience of 65 years. Now the governor may be only 30; a legislator is qualified as to age at 21.

There is one present senator who could qualify if the age were raised to 65—John Hornsby, Austin. His activity, energy and quickness in debate answers the object that a legislature of men 65 years old would be inert. The house dean is Dr. A. Crossley, Linden, who is 70. Representative J. W. Adamson, Denison, would not be barred by a 65-year minimum age rule. W. W. Fitzwater, Bonham, also is over 65 and by the time there is another regular session Representative H. R. Stovall, Waxahatchie, will be 65.

Lawyer members of the legislature dread going home after the pension session. They know that when they re-enter their law offices they will find the offices filled from morning to night with old men and women, constituents, who will ask that pension application papers be prepared. Many will expect the service free; some will be unable to pay for it. Some of the lawyer members say frankly that they expect to have little time for other business for a long period.

Worse than the demand for preparation for pension applications, which alone might be a good cheap campaigning, they fear the never-ending enmity of those who fail to get the pensions.

Business Failures In Texas Decrease

Total liabilities of $160,000 was 3.2 per cent above the preceding month but 2.4 per cent under Oct. last year.

POLITICAL WRITER FINDS MAINE AGAINST NEW DEAL

around here before they'd vote democratic. Dennis is about 80 and an old-time Democratic leader in Arrostook county.

He teetered back in his rocker in "The Handy Store"—D. Sheehan, Prop." as he discussed the current political situation in Maine.

Sheehan sells a strictly cheap and unostentatious stock of all-day suckers, bulk candy and canned goods.

He thinks the nation will go for Roosevelt next year, but that Maine will vote for the Republican nominee for president—any Republican nominee. A few drills up and around market square and down toward the railroad yards where the potato warehouses stand row on row indicates that old Dennis is not far wrong on Maine.

This north country likes Col. Frank Knox or Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas for President after next November.

That, however, is community preference. The farmers farther up country are thinking of Senator Borah although they suspect he is a trifle wild on money questions.

There is some resentment against former President Herbert Hoover for too free spending. They say he has broken most of his campaign promises. George Paul, who taxed me around Arrostook county, not so populous—78,000 persons or thereabouts.

The 1935 congress made potatoes a political crop. It passed a sort of potato "Volstead Act" which may land you in jail if you purchase "bootleg potatoes." You will be able to recognize the legal potato by a stamp which Secretary Wallace or some of his men will lick and affix to each lawful container.

You won't go to jail right away. Congress neglected to appropriate money to administer the act. Meantime, Wallace plans a January potato farmer referendum—There are three million growers—to determine whether they want "Volstead" potatoes. Wallace hopes the farmers vote "no." Farmers in this part of the country are going to vote "Yes" I was informed, by about three to one.

To Maine, potato control merely is its share of the Agricultural Adjustment Act booty. H. W. Grinnel, potato merchant, whose office overlooks market square, told me that Connecticut tobacco farmers and southern cotton farmers who were paid not to raise their staple crops, had turned surplus land in to potatoes and were wrecking the market.

"Maine thinks if they would just abolish the AAA we might get along okay," Grinnel said. "But if there is going to be any AAA, Maine wants some of it."

Colds Cause Half Of All Diseases, Gas Company Says

A caution against huddling in one room with windows closed during the winter has been issued by the gas company, which is continuing its series of educational messages on prevention of colds by proper heating and ventilation. The company started the winter heating season with a program of information designed to assist customers to make their homes more comfortable and more healthful. According to investigations by the company, many colds and other respiratory diseases prevalent in this section in the winter time are due to improper house heating. After exhaustive study and advice from the medical profession, the gas company advises its customers that an even temperature throughout all rooms of the house with a certain amount of moving fresh air is one of the best preventatives of colds to be found.

"Many families huddle in one or two rooms during cold days around a small open flame heater with windows and connecting doors tightly closed," says a current ad in the heat-for-health campaign. "If you are a huddler, you are violating one of the most important rules of personal hygiene and good health. Without adequate circulation air may become as foul and unhealthy as that of a tenement slum even though the home may be the most beautiful in the neighborhood."

The advertisement states that if people go from an overheated room into a cold hall or unheated adjoining room they have subjected themselves to a condition that makes them highly susceptible to communicable winter diseases.

The common cold germ is called America's Public Health Enemy No. 1, because, according to medical authority 50 per cent of all diseases are traceable to the cold germ. In order to reduce this menace, the gas company advises an even temperature throughout the home with warm air in every room.

"HUDDLED"

CLOSED DOOR!

Many families "huddle" in one or two rooms, during cold days, around a small open flame heater with windows and connecting doors tightly closed. If you are a "huddler," you are violating one of the most important rules of personal hygiene and good health!

Stagnant air is depressing and fails to produce the stimulating effect of air in motion. Connecting doors left open between adjoining rooms, when the entire house is adequately heated for comfort, provide a natural circulation of pure, warm air from one room to the other. Without adequate circulation air may become as foul and unhealthy as that of the tenement slums, even though the home may be the most beautiful in the neighborhood.

If you heat only one or two rooms at a time . . . if you "huddle" in these rooms with connecting doors tightly closed, sudden temperature changes are unavoidable. Your family goes from an overheated room where the temperature has climbed past the point necessary for comfort, into a cold hall or unheated adjoining room. Then, shivering and chilled, they return to the heated room. This happens many times a day and each time they have unnecessarily subjected themselves to conditions that make them susceptible to highly communicable winter diseases. America's Public Health Enemy Number One, the common cold germ, finds a fertile field in an inadequately heated and poorly ventilated home.

Don't "huddle" in one or two rooms during the short winter season. . . . Guard the health of your loved ones with adequate heat and proper circulation of pure, warm air in every room in the house.

. . . Community Natural Gas Co.

Tune in each Thursday night at 6:30, WFAA-WBAP, for vital facts to help you guard your family against the common cold germ.

Italy to Consider Oil Embargo As A Hostile Act

ROME, Italy, Nov. 25.—An Italian government spokesman told the United Press today that if the United States should declare an oil embargo against Italy it would be considered not only an unfriendly but "hostile" act, and would necessitate the adoption of Italian counter-measures.

The attitude of the United States has become a vital matter to Italy.

Roumania, an important oil producer, notified the League of Nations it is ready to extend an embargo on oil, coal, iron and steel against Italy, provided other League members agreed to do likewise.

Sen. Bankhead Has A New Cotton Plan

JASPER, Ala., Nov. 25.—A plan to prevent "disastrous dumping" on the market of some 5,000,000 bales of cotton now controlled by the federal government was advanced today by Sen. John Bankhead, Dem., Ala., author of the Bankhead cotton control act.

The title of all unsold government financed cotton would be placed with the commodity credit corporation or some similar corporation under terms of a bill which he will introduce and urge passage of at the next session of congress.

THANK YOU, AMERICA,

for more than a Million cars in 1935

Once more, at this Thanksgiving season, Chevrolet wishes to express its hearty appreciation of the friendship which America has given to this company and its products in 1935 and throughout the past quarter-century.

This year Chevrolet has two very good reasons for saying, "Thank you, America."

One reason is that people have bought so many Chevrolet cars that production for the year will reach 1,040,000.

And the other reason is that they have placed a record number of orders for new 1936 Chevrolets during the first few weeks these beautiful new cars have been on display.

This is a double gift of friendship, representing, as it does, one of the biggest years in all Chevrolet history, and one of the most enthusiastic welcomes that any new automobile has ever received.

Chevrolet is indeed happy to say, "Thank you, America," and to pledge continued adherence to the manufacturing and service policies which have won and held this friendship.

SPECTACLE OF SPLENDOR AND DESTRUCTION COMES TO SCREEN IN 'LAST DAYS OF POMPEII'

Drama That Portrays Age-Old Cruelty of Man His Fellow Creatures And The Dawn of Christian Influence Has the Background of Ancient Rome's Pomp.

A new high in spectacle picture achievement is shown at the Connellee Theatre, bringing for the first time to the city the most magnificent and stirring events in the history of the Roman resort in the terrifying destruction of the barbaric city of Pompeii. The Last Days of Pompeii is an amazing story of a city of a million people, a city of a million desires, a city of a million passions, a city of a million loves, a city of a million hates, a city of a million deaths, a city of a million lives.

The Last Days of Pompeii portrays a powerful theme that rises high through this spectacle of mighty and terrible events, and brings home a lesson as poignant today as it was when it touched the heart of Marcus. Riches and power avail a man nothing, for happiness and soul-peace can be attained only by consideration of others, in a spirit of compassion and service.

Gripping New Warner Film

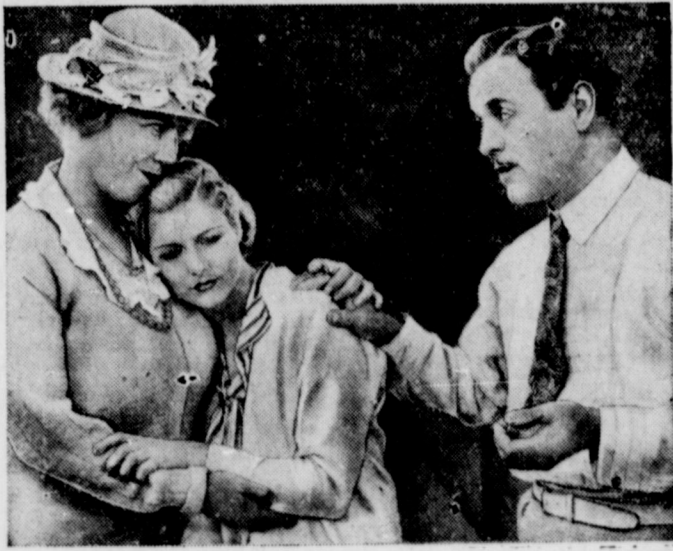

James Cagney and Lili Damita will come to the Connellee Theatre Friday in what is heralded as the greatest of his big 1935 hits, "Frisco Kid," a story of the past in the vicious fifties.

Barbara Stanwyck as "Annie Oakley" At The Connellee

In her screen characterizations, Barbara Stanwyck is the title role of "Annie Oakley," RKO's dramatization of the famous markswoman. Other principals are Melvyn Douglas, Moroni Olsen, Andy Clyde, Pert Kelton, and Merian C. Cooper.

When a Daughter Needs Consoling

Louise Fazenda, Irene Hervey, Leo Carrillo in "The Winning Ticket." at the Connellee Theatre Thursday.

CAGNEY COMING TO CONNELLEE TODAY IN "FRISCO KID"

"Frisco Kid," Warner Bros.' thrilling tale of the glamorous Barbary Coast of the old San Francisco, opens at the Connellee Theatre today with an all-star cast headed by James Cagney, Margaret Lindsay, Ricardo Cortez and Lili Damita.

The picture is set in the colorful background of the early fifties when the waterfront at the Golden Gate was a flaming panorama of gilded gambling halls and palaces of pleasure; when murder, arson, crimping and robbery was winked at by the authorities who derived huge revenues in bribes from the denizens of the underworld.

The characters are based on historic personages of the time who flocked to the city of gold from every part in the world—adventurers all, ready to risk their fortunes or their lives on the throw of a dice.

Into this picturesque atmosphere comes a sailor, strong, purposeful, crude, ignorant, but a man of tremendous force and magnetic personality, who rises to be the master of the Coast, and who dares to fall in love with the most beautiful girl of San Francisco's highest society.

James Cagney and Margaret Lindsay, as the two characters, carry on this strange romance in the midst of a series of thrilling episodes when the city is rocked by terrific battles between the vigilantes and the denizens of the Coast.

More than two score talented actors have important roles in the picture while thousands take part in the gigantic riot scene in which the dens of the waterfront are set ablaze. The leading characters, besides those mentioned, include Donald Woods, Barton MacLane, George E. Stone, Joseph King, Robert McWade, Joseph Crehan, Robert Strange, Joseph Sawyer, Fred Kohler and Claudia Coleman.

FAMOUS FRONTIER CHARACTERS IN "ANNIE OAKLEY"

Many figures drawn from real-life characters associated with the Western frontier come to life in the vivid screen drama, "Annie Oakley," in which Barbara Stanwyck is starred.

Annie Oakley, the central character, was born in the backwoods of Ohio. She became the most amazing rifle shot the world had ever known, the toast of America, welcomed by European royalty. Her whole life was a brilliant pattern of romance and action, said to be captured faithfully in the film.

Col. William F. Cody, the famous Buffalo Bill, noted army scout, Indian fighter and plainsman, is another. His "Buffalo Bill Wild West Show" affords an appropriate and authentic background for Annie's romance with Toby Walker in the film.

Sitting Bull, the gallant Sioux who led 3,000 Indians at the massacre of General Custer in 1876 at the battle of the Little Big Horn, and Rain-In-The-Face, his famed lieutenant who was crippled for life in the same battle, are reincarnated.

As Buffalo Bill's press agent in "Annie Oakley" is seen Ned Buntline, who brought his boss, Wild Bill Hickok and Texas Jack Omohundro to the stage in "Scouts of the Prairie." He was adjudged the most prolific dime novelist in America, and his life was once described as "one continuous series of sentences and sensations."

These and many other colorful characters live again in the film version of Annie Oakley's dramatic life. The romantic lead to Miss Stanwyck in the title role is Preston Foster portraying Toby Walker. Other principals are Melvyn Douglas, Moroni Olsen as Buffalo Bill; Pert Kelton; Andy Clyde; Chief Thunderbird as Sitting Bull and Phillip Ar-Men-Ta as Rain-In-The-Face. "Annie Oakley" is an RKO Radio Picture.

Cagney's Hair Long In Two Pictures

James Cagney, the Warner Bros. star, has worn long hair during most of the last year. He permitted his red locks to grow almost to his shoulders for "A Midsummer Night's Dream." In his subsequent picture, "Frisco Kid," which comes to the Connellee Theatre today his hair again is long, the picture representing a period in the 1850's.

Costly Props Used For a Short Scene

Twenty-one truckloads of costly equipment were used for a scene that appears for three minutes on the screen in "Frisco Kid," the Warner Bros. production now showing at the Connellee Theatre.

The scene was filmed on a location trip to the old Grand Theatre in downtown Los Angeles. It involved all the principal players, James Cagney, Margaret Lindsay, Ricardo Cortez and others and 450 extras.

Cagney Wears Forty Hats In New Film

Jimmy Cagney has forty new hats. The "tough mug" of the movies has not entered a race for sartorial honors of Hollywood, however, for the hats are a part of his equipment for the Warner Bros. production, "Frisco Kid," which comes to the Connellee Theatre today.

The plain and fancy head gear reflects an idiosyncrasy Cagney develops when he climbs to power as the kingpin of early day San Francisco's Barbary Coast.

To Tour World Before the Mast

Barton MacLane, Warner Bros.' villain of the "Frisco Kid," which comes to the Connellee Theatre today, has planned a novel vacation for next spring.

As soon as he can get a few months leave of absence—MacLane has made seven pictures now without a rest—he expects to sign on the crew of an American tramp freighter. He hopes, in this manner, to make a complete tour of the world.

Miss Lindsay Wears 19 Costumes In Film

Margaret Lindsay has nineteen changes of costume in the Warner Bros. production, "Frisco Kid" now showing at the Connellee Theatre, with James Cagney in the stellar role.

Miss Lindsay plays the role of a San Francisco society woman in the 1850's. She also is the editor of the city's leading newspaper. The part requires a number of dazzling costumes of the period, including evening gowns, street dresses and negligees.

All gowns are of the variety worn at the time the upper-garment was tight fitting with a wasp waist and the skirt long and sweeping.

Type of Peaches For Texas Climate Is Now Discovered

WICHITA FALLS. — Experiments on with various types of peaches carried on at the state experiment station near Iowa Park during the past nine years indicate that the variety known as Dr. Burton is best suited to survive and produce regularly a good crop in the Wichita Falls area, according to results announced by L. E. Brooks, horticulturist, and C. H. McDowell, superintendent, at the station.

Data compiled by Brooks from the completion of extensive tests on 72 different varieties and strains of peaches is now being prepared by him for publication as a bulletin for the extension department of Texas A. & M. The experimentation to be reflected in the bulletin covers several years. It is expected to be in print shortly after Jan. 1, 1936.

The Dr. Burton peach originated as a seedling at the home of Dr. E. S. Burton in Grayson county more than 30 years ago. It is practically a free-stone, although classified by the horticulturist as semi-free. The fruit is of medium size, is of a light color and is red-checked.

County Library Urged by Speaker

Hundredth anniversary of birth of Andrew Carnegie, founder of libraries bearing his name, in Dunfermline, Scotland, was brought to attention to Eastland when Mrs. W. G. Womack of the Thursday Study club spoke on "County Libraries of Texas," before Rotarians Monday.

Introduced by Mrs. E. R. Townsend of the same women's club, Mrs. Womack urged support for a county library in Eastland county. There are 223 libraries in 32 states, Mrs. Womack stated.

Equitable in cost and of value to rural school students is the county library, the speaker explained. The tax-supported libraries, the club woman stated, have met with success in all parts of the United States.

Toys, Materials Asked for Work

Another appeal for old toys for repair by the Eastland voluntary and paid firemen was issued Tuesday. The firemen are repairing old and manufacturing new toys for distribution to Eastland's needy children Dec. 24.

Twenty-five dollars was netted by the auxiliary at a dinner given Saturday. Ninety-six dolls were purchased with receipts.

Persons having old toys or material that can be transformed into presentable playthings were urged to call 627. A fireman or member of the auxiliary will call for the material.

Names, too, of children who may escape attention of Santa Claus, were requested. Eastland citizens knowing of these children will aid in the work by calling at the city hall and listing names and address.

Chief A. W. Hennessee stated.

Fifty wooden horses and 40 ducks had been completed by the firemen up to Tuesday, as a part of work of 10 days.

Lathes, jib saws and other materials have been contributed by Eastland residents, including the following: Karl Timmons, Sherman Root, H. C. Davis, Fred Michael, Texas Electric Service Co.

ALIBI PROVED FOR SUSPECT IN KIDNAPING

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The past-off husband of 17-year-old Mrs. Mary Philpot established an alibi today that eliminated him from connection with the kidnaping and slaying of Leroy Smith, friend of Mrs. Philpot, who was found shot to death Thursday near her home in the Sleepy Hollow country.

Police said Luth Philpot proved beyond doubt he was in New York city at the time young Smith was held captive and killed. The alibi left detectives without a hint of means to identify and trace the slayer.

Philpot was questioned almost 24 hours because Smith, apparently a small-town Lothario, had told friends he was threatened with a "shotgun" wedding and planned to defy it.

New member No. 14, Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co., of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce was announced by Secretary H. C. Davis Tuesday.

Clear in Slaying of Alleged Rival

Police have cleared Luther Philpot, above, in the mystery killing of LeRoy Smith, alleged rival for the affections of Philpot's 16-year-old estranged wife, Mary Swope Philpot. Smith was found shot to death near the home of the girl's parents in New City, N. Y. Philpot, reported to have had a fist fight with Smith several weeks ago, established an alibi.

"Other Roosevelt"

Charged with "attack with a dangerous weapon," Cornelius Roosevelt (above), son of Col. Theodore Roosevelt and grandson of the late president, was held with a companion at Cambridge, Mass. A student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, he was accused of peppering motorists with pellets from a spring gun. When arrested he identified himself as "the other Roosevelt."

Chrysanthemums Grown By Local Florist

Eastland can be justly appreciative of the fact that among its useful industries, that one is unusually outstanding. P. L. Parker, operator of the Parker Floral Co., has done many things in the manner of growing plants that take lots of time and nursing in this dry section of the country. For most any kind of plants and flowers there is much more work and expense involved to grow them here particularly those that are foreign to this climate. Chief among his present interesting flowers is his large assortment of beautiful chrysanthemums. Those pictured here were grown in a large canvas covered hothouse 17 by 22. Mr. Parker states that much time and labor must be devoted to them from time of planting until maturity. The plants are set out usually on the 15th of May. After a few weeks wire is stretched over them and strings are fastened in the earth near the root and on the wires. Each day they must be trained and every stray bud pinched from the individual plant. They are of several varieties and begin to show color in the remaining bloom about October 15th. Lots of water is required during cultivation. They continue to bloom until about the 15th of December.

The blooms are now of the full large variety in colors of pink, bronze, white yellow and mixed blends. Three beds were required to complete the ensemble which is now in the hothouse ready for sale. Naturally besides his attention to his chrysanthemums, Mr. Parker with his pleasing wife has many other varieties of plants and flowers that are grown and cultivated at his nursery on the corner of Green and White streets. Mr. and Mrs. Parker are always glad to show visitors through the hothouses and general nurseries and explain in detail the different varieties of plants and flowers. Mr. Parker is a member of the national florists association and wire flowers as well as to him. Thanksgiving chrysanthemum time are fill your order for plants to really live with God all the way to see the things of are beautiful at the Company.

Dear Mr. Wolf:

The arches you made for me certainly have been satisfactory. My feet never hurt me any more. I have told several about your wonderful work. You can use my name as reference any way you wish. I'll see you when I want shoes again.

Very truly,
MRS. OLIN ELLIOTT,
Moran, Texas, Rt. 2.
