By United Press WASHINGTON.—Food poisoning can be avoided if "common sense precautions are exercised" in the opinion of Dr. William DeKleine, medical director of the American Red Cross. Bacteria are the most common form of food poisoning, Dr. De-

Kleine said because they produce toxic products in canned food that has not been properly sterilized and in other foods that have not been properly refrigerated stored and handled. He said chemicals accidentally mixed with foods also causes poisoning but is far less common than that caused by bacteria. "If all home canning were done by the pressure cooking method, food poisoning would be far less common," Dr. DeKleine said. He pointed out that "putting up" fruits and vegetables in the home under unsanitary conditions, without knowledge of scientific methods to prevent bacterial contamination, may be responsible for illness. He exploded a common fallacy by saying: "There is no more harm in leaving food in an opened tin can than transferring it to another clean receptacle. Proper refrigeration is the important consideration here."

Dr. DeKleine listed the following physical indications of food spoilage: 1. The content of tin cans which bulge should be treated with suspicion. 2. Leakage around the rubber "cap" rings of jarred produce is not difficult to detect, and it indicates that food in the jar has probably been contaminated. 3. When a can or jar has been opened, the presence of bubbles, should warn the housewife of danger. Liquid in a glass jar should be clear to denote proper preservation.

Books About Texas Much In Demand

By United Press DALLAS.—Advent of the Centennial year has heightened interest in Texas. Among the latest books to be issued concerning the Lone Star State is "Texas," by Norman Beasley. Beasley has written a compact history of the state in 54 pages. He has made an effort at generalizations, saying to attempt such would be an impossibility "because Texas is so vast and so varied." The book is expected to be of general interest to prospective Centennial visitors. It was published by Doubleday Doran.

Sport Glances. . . . . By Grayson

CHICAGO.—Obscure persons and minor incidents frequently start wars, which is what happened when Dizzy Dean referred to Gordon Slade as a cheese hitter. Dean declared that he never would pitch another ball to Virgil Davis as the result of Slade's reply to the pitching celebrity of the St. Louis Cardinals. Dean and Davis fought verbally at long range a good part of the winter and spring. They threatened to punch each other on the nose, and kept the stove league hot. Slade, former Brooklyn and Cincinnati shortstop, tells the real inside story of the row which finally was patched up by Branch Rickey. It seems that Delmar Baker, the Detroit Tiger coach, isn't the only slick sign thief in the majors. Charley Dressen, manager of the Reds, also is adept at the practice. "Last year, with Dean pitching against the Reds, Dressen caught the signs Davis was using," says Slade, now with the St. Paul club of the American Association. "As Davis flashed the sign for the pitch to Dean, Dressen caught it and flashed up Cincinnati batters what to expect. "As we left the field Dean walked beside me, moaning, 'I don't know how in the world a cheese hitter like you could nick a great pitcher like me for three hits in one game.' "I didn't care much for that cheese hitter crack, so I went back at him with, 'Davis was tipping me off as to what pitch to expect.' "And Diz fell for it. "The only thing I'm sorry about is that they didn't go through with it and really punch each other."

ATTEMPTING to pick Brevity apart, the worst critics can turn to is that Joseph E. Widener's colt has neither the conformation nor blood necessary for a stayer. The answer to that is that Brevity wouldn't be the first sprinter to bag the Kentucky Derby, which the son of Sickle and Ormanda is favored to do on May 2. Morvich was not bred to run and in 1922 sharps said that he could not run the Derby mile and a quarter. But Morvich captured it all at Churchill Downs, although it was the last race of any kind that he won. While he didn't quite get there, another son of Brevity's dam, Osmand, in 1927 demonstrated that a sprinter can very easily capture Col. Matt Winn's special. Whiskery had to call on all his gameness and courage in his makeup to beat Osmand.

WILD BILL CUMMINGS says that the Indianapolis Speedway is faster and safer since it has been rebuilt. The home-grown pilot who won the 500-mile race in 1934 has been around the new course in a stock car. "I know it is much faster, because Babe Stapp took the car Wilbur Shaw drove last year and got four miles an hour more out of it three weeks ago," explains Cummings. Cummings, the speed driver, is now a truck driver. Wild Bill is demonstrating a four-wheel rear-drive, eight-speed transmission vehicle pulling a 44,000-pound load to 26 different cities.

Women Buyers of Life Insurance Showing Increase

Feminine purchases of life insurance have quadrupled since 1915 when war-time emergencies began to open new fields of employment to women. Today life insurance companies are securing up to 15 per cent of their total new business on the lives of women and have 10 per cent of their total insurance in force on the lives of women.

This rapid increase of women's life insurance investments was revealed today in a survey prepared for Life Insurance Week, which is being observed throughout the nation May 11 to 16.

Extra charges for the insurance of women have been eliminated by companies, the survey showed. Today a number of statistical studies indicate that women show better than average life expectancy. A number of companies have installed women's departments in their agencies, devoted to special promotion of sales among business and professional women. There is no longer doubt as to the insurable interest of the woman risk.

Insurance to provide for retirement and old age security was reported to be the most popular with policyholders. This was attributed to the fact that women ordinarily do not have the family responsibilities that men have.

The actual insuring of women is not new, but a hundred years ago there was a substantial extra charge for insuring women which discouraged this type of business. The real development of life insurance for women began with the turn of the century and, by 1915, women had increased their share of total policies to 3 per cent of the total number of lives insured.

In the period since the war this figure has quadrupled. It is estimated. The steady progress made by women in every type of business and profession forecasts that every year will bring substantial increase in feminine purchases of life insurance, according to estimates by leading life insurance companies.

Magnolia Lounge Is Being Built at The Centennial

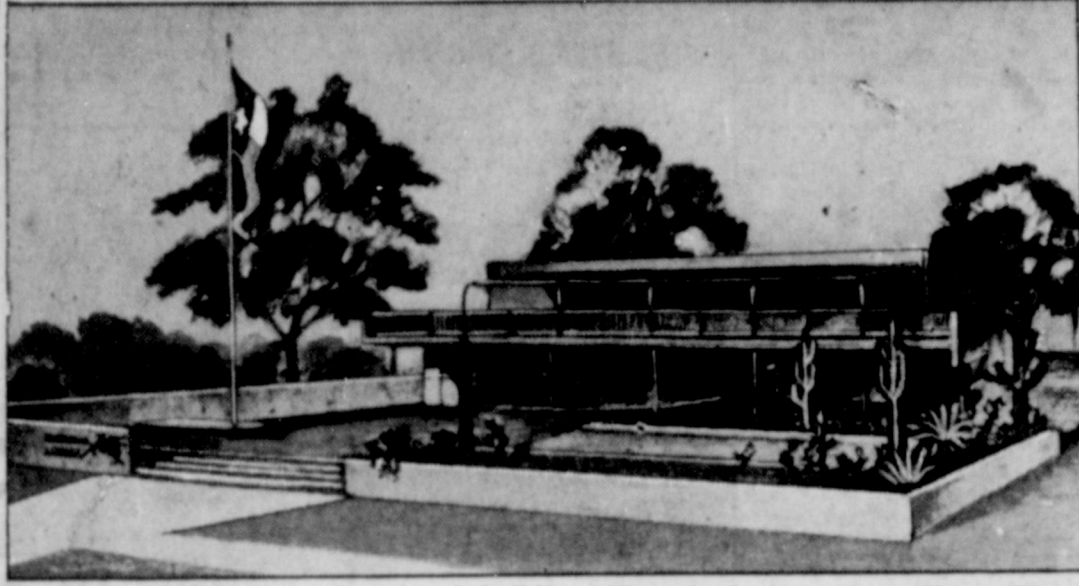

DALLAS—Planned to typify the friendliness of the Southwest and the picturesque history of its various sections, the Magnolia Lounge is rapidly approaching completion on the Central Exposition Grounds of the Texas Centennial. Fred M. Lege Jr., vice president in charge of marketing for the Magnolia Petroleum Company, announced this week. A two-story building of ultra-modern design, completely air-conditioned by its own 20-ton refrigeration plant, and an adjoining cactus garden will provide a unique method of restful entertainment for weary sightseers and will represent an expenditure of more than $75,000, Mr. Lege said.

Magnolia Lounge will offer a glimpse of the past and the present of the five states of Magnolia-land and a sample of Texas hospitality. All Centennial visitors will be invited to relax in cool comfort, among the interesting surroundings, as guests of the Southwest's first petroleum producing, refining and marketing organization.

Entering the Central Exposition grounds through the Grand Avenue entrance, visitors will find Magnolia Lounge near the Hall of Natural History, Fine Arts Gallery and other buildings in the civic and cultural group which surrounds a spacious lagoon. The approach to the building, an extensive terrace, is to be planted with many rare species of cactus native to the Southwest, with each plainly marked to show its nature, locale and history. The building itself is of stucco on concrete with hollow tile walls. An elevated promenade deck reached by an outside stairway extends over a sheltered area on the ground floor and will be equipped with comfortable chairs and tables for guests. Beautiful interior decorations and furnishings are by Heiman-Marcus of Dallas. Rest rooms for men and women will be handsomely finished in exotic marble and tile.

In the spacious lounge room where comfortable seats for 100 persons will be provided, continu-

Hidalgo County Forming A Soil Conservation Board

EDINBURG, Texas. — Organization of the Hidalgo County Soil Conservation Board will be completed soon, according to County Agricultural Agent R. G. Burwell, who has been supervising local community meetings for the past week.

The county has been divided into eight districts containing about 500 farms each, and committees from each district have been named to participate in organization of the county-wide board.

The committees include three members and three alternates and will be named at the county board meeting.

BRECK OPERATOR WILL DRILL NEAR GRAHAM

GRAHAM.—A deal was closed and contract signed in Graham for a new deep test to be drilled on the H. L. Rogers land in the J. Ray Survey, six miles Southwest of Graham.

Art Cox of Breckenridge will drill the well and it is understood that work will begin at once. He agrees to drill to the new deep pay sand which is found around 4,000 feet in wells in the Rathke pool recently.

This well would extend the Rathke pool about a mile and half East.

A block of three forty acre tracts has been formed for the test. They are the Sneed, Rogers and Wadley tracts.

SHOT HELPS WELL NEAR DE LEON

DE LEON.—The Carter well on the Haynes tract, four miles west of this city, was shot with 60 quarts of nitroglycerine at 2:00 o'clock last Tuesday and responded with an increased flow of gas. The well has been tested and seems good for two and one-half million feet of gas daily. A large number of interested persons from this city witnessed the shooting. No oil or water responded as a result of shot. Only a trace of oil was found in the well. The well is regarded as a profitable gas well as it stands. It is about 2700 feet deep.

The owners are preparing to treat the well with acid immediately. This frequently increases the production of oil gases.

It is probable other wells may be drilled in the vicinity of the Carter well the Free Press has heard.

OFFSET OF BIG PRODUCER NEARING COMPLETION

MORAN.—The Lone Star R. W. Brooks No. 4 was reported to be 3121 feet Wednesday with prospects of drilling in next week. The well is being drilled to the Caddo lime found there at 3400 feet. This well is an offset to the Brooks No. 3, which came in 6 years ago estimated at 4,000 barrels daily.

The No. 4 is about 600 feet northwest of the No. 3 and it is expected that the oil will be found in large quantities.

BAIRD—Leland Fikes, Ungren & Frazier have completed a well on the Jackson ranch which is making 180 barrels of oil per day. The sand was encountered at 990 feet and completed at 1007 feet. Pueblo Oil company, C. E. Snyder No. 1-A, running pipe at 654 feet.

Pueblo Oil company, Mrs. Louise M. Williams No. 1, location. Murry & McDavid, H. W. Ross, No. 1, on location North of Baird school property, moving in rig and tools.

Jackson Bros., et al, in West Baird closed down at 540 feet. E. G. Johnson, A. G. Hobbs No. 1, drilling at 1345 feet. Hal Hughes, T. A. Irvin, rigging up, ready to spud in for a 4550 foot test.

Tom Bryant, Bryant fee, cleaning out at 2850 feet, with a good show of oil and gas. S. J. Price, J. F. Dyer, No. 2, location.

Two locations have been made on the J. H. Grimes north of Baird in Shackelford county. Drilling will commence in a few days. McQuagg et al, location, Mrs. P. L. Sheriff North of Clyde.

L. A. Warren, Jackson ranch, rigging up for a test off setting the Leland Fikes et al producer. Frank A. Oyster et al, J. F. Dyer ranch, location.

School Friend Says Hitler Mischievous

By United Press
WOOSTER, O.—Adolf Hitler as a schoolboy was "bright, mischievous but not over-fond of study."

That's the picture of Hitler at 17 as drawn by John Schemmel, who was a schoolmate of the German dictator in the village of Hermanstadt in Transylvania.

Schemmel, once a wagonmaker, now a farmer, recalled that Hitler had a determined nature and "usually got what he went after." "He was learning the trade of painter and paperhanger, while I was an apprentice at wagon-making," Schemmel said. "Hitler went to class wearing the clothes he wore at work. The smell of turpentine was obnoxious to one teacher."

"When Hitler learned that the teacher frequently dismissed class early to get away from the odor, he made it a point to increase the turpentine scent. The teacher protested but Hitler said he had no other clothes."

"He got a new suit out of the deal."

Public Is Warned About Misleading Civil Service School

WASHINGTON.—The United States Civil Service Commission has sent a notice to post offices, warning that misleading information is being given the public by representatives of schools which sell "civil service" courses.

For a long time, the service has been receiving complaints from different parts of the country which indicate that opportunities for obtaining Federal employment have been greatly exaggerated.

It was made clear that no school has any connection whatever with the Civil Service Commission or with any other branch of the Government, and also that the Commission has no agents who solicit applications for Civil Service positions or who sell "civil service" courses.

No school can "guarantee" Government employment and none is given information regarding examinations, or any other information, which is not available to the general public. The Commission stated that it does not recommend any school, and explained that it is not necessary for anyone to take a course with a so-called civil service school in order to compete in a Civil Service examination.

A special point was made of the fact that information concerning examinations may be obtained at any time, without cost, from the Secretary of the Civil Service Board at any first- or second-class post office or from the Commission's office in Washington, D. C.

Philippine Regime Makes a Showing In First 6 Months

MANILA.—The Philippine Commonwealth government is nearly six months old and contrary to some predictions it has suffered no economic or political upheaval, nor has it slipped into the orbit of foreign powers.

On the other hand, affairs are moving forward in a manner to please the most optimistic.

President Manuel L. Quezon, without rest after the busy and tiring inauguration program, plunged vigorously into his administration and already has accomplished many things toward stabilizing the new government, including:

1. Inauguration of the national defense program.
  2. Organization of a new appellate court.
  3. Arrangements for retiring outstanding bonded obligations of the Manila Railroad, government-owned corporation.
  4. Maintenance of law and order, including suppression of banditry in Tayabas, removal of a number of officials for inefficiency, corruption or the good of the service, and inauguration of a campaign against jueteng, prevalent form of lottery.
  5. Reorganization of many of the departments and offices of the government.
  6. Steps to prevent profiteering in the rice shortage.
- Other items of lesser importance might be listed.

Farmers Grasp 4 Per Cent Interest Rates On Loans

WASHINGTON.—Attracted by the record-low interest rate of 4 per cent on new Federal land bank loans, 3,233 Texas farmers borrowed $13,565,060 from the Federal land bank and Lend Bank bank commissioner in the nine months ending April 1.

In announcing the total loans, Gov. W. I. Myers of the Farm Credit Administration said the average land bank loan in the state was $4,117 with an estimated interest saving to the borrower of about $115 a year, compared with the average rate which farmers refinanced had been paying on their debts.

The Federal land bank started making new loans through national farm loan associations at the contract interest rate of 4 per cent on June 24 last year.

Farmers used the 4 per cent for refinancing higher rate debts, for buying farm land and equipment and for other general agricultural purposes, the governor said. The land bank made 2,043 first mortgage loans totaling $8,410,300. Farmers borrowing from the emergency funds of the Land bank commissioner, many of them on second mortgage security, obtained $4,954,750.

REMEMBERING AUNT CLEMMIE

Great-Aunt Clemmie was brought up to the Spartan life. She enjoyed (she always said) getting up at five on a Saturday morning, hanging her market basket over her arm, and going down town to do the marketing for the week-end. She said, "If you get there first— you'll get the best!"

Aunt Clemmie is a fine reminder of her time. Nowadays one needn't rise with the birds to be sure of a full market basket. It's so much simpler and more efficient to spend a few minutes with the advertisements. Marshalled before you, in your newspaper, is all the news that is necessary for your good living. There, in the advertisements, are facts—sound, solid facts—about prices and quality. Advertised, trade-marked merchandise must be honest merchandise. Or it wouldn't be advertised.

Many Attended Safety Meeting Held In Ranger

By B. H. PEACOCK
According to conservative estimates of those in attendance, there were approximately 5000 who were on the sidelines watching the Safety Parade in Ranger on Friday, May 1. There were likewise approximately two thousand school students and others in the line of march, making a total of approximately 7000 people who were in attendance in order to witness or have some part in the conference program.

Nearly 2000, including students, availed themselves of the opportunity of seeing the safety moving pictures that were shown at both the Arcadia and the Columbia theatres during the day. Safety pictures of national prominence, among which were "Remember Jimmy" and "Once Upon A Time" were brought to Ranger by the Conference committee for this showing.

The afternoon program was replete with activities until the closing address in the auditorium at 10 p. m. Visiting ladies during their leisure time were entertained by Mrs. M. O. Atterbury and her assistants, Mrs. Harry Wheelon, Mrs. Chester Rogers and others in the green room of the Gholson hotel.

At 4 p. m., the safety parade, approximately a mile in length began its line of march up Main street led by six girls of the Ranger Junior college carrying the six flags of Texas. Next followed the Lone Star band, which was in turn followed by the various divisions of the Ranger, Morton Valley, Colony and Olden schools.

The pet section, in the language of someone on the sidelines, was simply a "knockout." Pets of every description, from a shetland pony to a basket of kittens, were in holiday attire.

Bobbie Ann Buchanan riding her shetland pony, and accompanied by the little colt, captured the judges and won the first prize of $7.50. Gwendolyn Tunnell came second with her basket of kittens, and Norman Durham won third place with his dog.

The first aid contest, which was held on Lillard Field beginning at 4:30 p. m., was supervised by W. A. Allred of Dallas. Eight teams, all in uniform, made a splendid picture as they went into action before some 1500 or 2000 spectators who had gathered on the bleachers to witness the first contest of its kind ever held in Eastland county.

Kraus Earhart, safety director of the Texas company from Tulsa, Okla., presided as chief judge, assisted by several safety engineers who were in attendance at the conference. The eight teams in question were captained by Messrs. J. E. Ferguson, Gale Smith, R. O. King, W. M. Brown, R. L. Williams, Cecil Louks, Carl Heinlan and Archie Robinson. The winning teams and their relative positions were: R. O. King, first; J. E. Ferguson, second, and Cecil Louks, third. Appropriate prizes consisting of flashlights, first aid kits, and medals, were presented by E. R. Schmidt, general superintendent of the Lone Star Gas company of Dallas.

The safety display in the lobby of the Gholson hotel during the course of the afternoon and evening received much favorable comment. Safety posters prepared by the various ward schools of the city, together with a splendid display of safety equipment from several safety appliance companies made this part of the conference quite interesting to those in attendance.

The evening's program in the Recreation Building proved the climax to a very successful conference. Approximately 1200 listened attentively from 8 p. m. to 10 p. m. to the splendid array of talent that had been engaged for the occasion. "Through the Eyes of the Safety Patrol" was the subject of a very gripping appeal by Capt. J. E. Draper of the Texas Highway Patrol from Wichita Falls. Dr. J. Stuart Pearce of Cisco spoke on "The Human Side of Safety." Entertainment during the early portion of the program was presented by Horace M. Conley, superintendent of the Consolidated Gasoline company of Cisco, and consisted of several good features. Mrs. O. B. Denney presented the combined ward schools choral clubs in several selections. By special arrangement with the management of the famous Gainesville community circus, a troupe of actors presented an acrobatic act in tight wire walking and other features that were well received. Music during the course of the evening was furnished through the courtesy of Don Minniek's orchestra of Olden.

"Around the Clock with Safety" was the subject of an address long to be remembered by all of those present. Capt. C. C. Nicholson of the Texas Company from New York City came all the way to Ranger to deliver the conference address, and it would be putting it mildly to say that his talk was a success. According to R. S. Huffman, who represented the Mid-Continent Petroleum Safety Council of Tulsa, Okla., at the Oil Belt conference, Ranger was exceptionally fortunate in getting such an outstanding speaker as Nicholson. "His breadth of vision, his choice of language, his unusual ability as a speaker, and his captivating influence over the audience from the very start, endeared him in the hearts of every man, woman, and child present," stated Huffman. "Your Oil Belt Safety conference," stated Nicholson, "is the only thing of its kind in the United States, and Ranger should deem itself proud in its method and variety of selling the great subject of safety to the people."

Snake Bite Season Suggests Caution

AUSTIN.—Spring fever, that seasonal malady which accompanies the first warm days and early blossoms, has become more or less of an epidemic, Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer, reminds the citizens of Texas with some suggested precautions.

The most outstanding symptom of spring fever is the urge felt by both old and young to get out into the open as often as possible. While people are getting all the benefits possible from contact with Mother Nature, Dr. Brown urges the use of common sense precautions.

"Some of the glamour has been taken from the swimming hole by the modern pool," Dr. Brown said, "but it is more than offset by the sanitation and safety devices which promote health and save lives. Swimming now can be learned by everyone, without the needless sacrifice of lives and without the constant threat of typhoid fever which is a hazard of every out of the way swimming place.

"With the first excursions into the woods and fields in quest of wild flowers, everybody should remember that about 75 per cent of snake bites occur on the lower

Rubinoff Holds World Record for Broadcasting

Rubinoff and his violin—and Chevrolet—are a combination that few, if any, radio listeners in the United States have not received in their homes via the air. The famous violinist and his Stradivarius, stars of the Chevrolet Musical Moments program, have the distinction of going on the air from more broadcasting stations than any other program in the history of radio. Three hundred and seventy-eight stations broadcast Rubinoff three times a week, a total of 1134 fifteen-minute programs. That figures out at 283 hours, and if one week's programs were broadcast one after the other, day and night, it would require 11 days. The illustration shows Rubinoff, carrying his precious violin, posing with his car after a special appearance at Detroit.

extremities. Snake bites could be prevented to a large extent by wearing boots or heavy leggings and being cautious. If one should be bitten by a rattlesnake, prompt action is necessary and a physician should be consulted as soon as possible. No time should be lost in removing the poison by suction. Apply a tourniquet above the wound and make cross-cut incisions over the fang marks. Suction should be applied for at least half an hour. The most dangerous fluid is farthest away from the wound; its absorption must be prevented as it is the source of the systemic poisoning.

Britain Views Murder As A Serious Crime

It wasn't especially pleasant to read about the hanging of that English woman who poisoned an aged cripple to win an inheritance. But the story had overtones, just the same, on which we in America could dwell with some profit.

For if there ever was a case designed to show how British justice manages to get along without all the lather of sentimentality and soft-headedness which afflict the American variety, this was it.

Consider the facts briefly. Mrs. Dorothea Waddingham, trained nurse and mother of five children, fed poison to a patient who had made a will bequeathing to Mrs. Waddingham a considerable sum of money.

There evidently was no doubt as to her guilt; however, there was a man in the case—the father of two of Mrs. Waddingham's children—who was tried with her and found not guilty.

Because Mrs. Waddingham had five children, because it may have seemed that she was not solely responsible for the crime, and because the execution of a woman is never a matter which ordinary folk can contemplate calmly, the jury that convicted her added a strong recommendation for mercy.

The trial judge indorsed it. The public signed numerous petitions to the same effect.

But all this made no difference. These appeals went to the convicted British criminal's last resort, the home secretary—in this case, Sir John Simon—and he refused to intervene. Despite her five children, despite public sympathy, despite the attitude of judge and jury, Mrs. Waddingham was duly hanged in the manner prescribed by law.

The British, you see, have an old-fashioned notion that murder is a serious crime. They feel especially bitter about poisoners. Poison is so easy to administer, so hard to detect; the British seem to feel that, unless poisoners are given the heaviest penalties the law allows, without exception, their tribe will increase beyond all endurance.

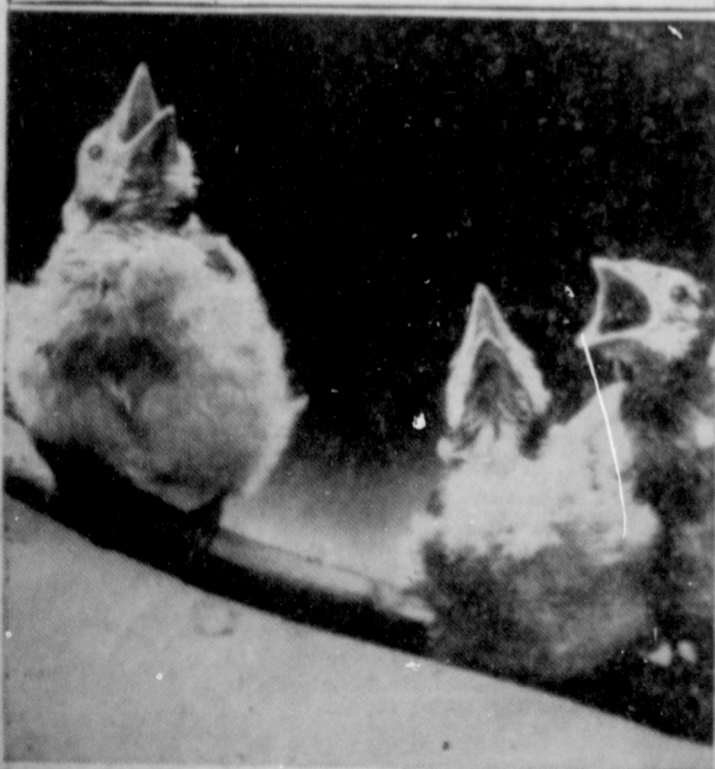

So Mrs. Waddingham was hanged, in spite of everything. And the next time some English nurse feels moved to slip a little rat-killer into a wealthy patient's soup, it is quite likely that Mrs. Waddingham's experience will rise before her mind's eye and cause her to pause.

All this is worth going into at this length because, in America, we never seem able to adopt that eminently sensible viewpoint. Our sentiment always goes out to the killer, not to his victim.

If we had had Mrs. Waddingham over here, we would have had innumerable appeals stays, reprieves, and pleas for clemency. In the end, the lady might have spent as many as five years behind the bars; and her case would have been no deterrent at all to other potential poisoners.

The contrast is too striking to overlook. British law may at times be heartless and cold, but it is strictly logical. And—which is very much to the point—it does put the fear of God into murderers.

It's hard to persuade Pontiac owners that any car could be more economical

ALMOST all motorists who buy Pontiacs notice a sharp drop in driving costs. It simply made official what they knew before—you can't do better for all-around economy.

Remember that when you buy a car. Over and above its smart distinction... its wealth of modern features... and its smooth, lively performance, Pontiac offers savings that are nothing less than phenomenal! It asks no odds of any car—not even for economy!

*List prices at Pontiac, Mich., begin at $615 for the "6" and $730 for the "8" (subject to change without notice). Safety glass standard on De Luxe "6" and "8". Standard group of accessories extra. Offered on G.M.A.C.'s new 6% Time Payment Plan.

THE WINNER of the 500-mile Indianapolis classic, Kelly Petillo, says: "Camels hit the spot. I've found that smoking Camels—during and after meals—goes a long way in helping keep my digestion in good shape." Camels set you right!

WOMAN'S WORK is never done, according to the old saying. Mrs. Frank Smith is a typical modern homemaker. "Camels make food taste better," says Mrs. Smith. "My digestion works smoothly when I smoke Camels during meals."

ALL ABOARD! Away from home, a business man meets many conditions that upset the normal routine of digestion. Camels stimulate good digestion no matter where you are. Smoke them for digestion's sake. Camels never jangle your nerves.

MASTER WELDER—Dan Rafferty has a job where good digestion counts. He needs a steady hand and a steady eye. "Smoking Camels helps my digestion," says Dan. "Camels taste mild and rich." Turn to Camels—for digestion's sake.

FOR DIGESTION'S SAKE SMOKE CAMELS

SECRETS OF THE DEEP. "Camels make food taste better and digest better," says Henry Siemer, master diver. "That tasty Camel flavor is made to order for me."

Smoking Camels Encourages Good Digestion, Good Feeling... Increases Alkalinity

Modern days are trying. Nerves get "wound up." Hurry, worry, and strain tend to interfere with normal processes of digestion.

It is a scientific fact that smoking Camels has an alkalinizing effect, through increasing the flow of the alkaline digestive fluids, helping to keep digestion on its proper course. You sense a comforting "lift" and feeling of well-being as you enjoy the delicate flavor of your Camel. You can smoke Camels steadily. With their matchless blend of costlier tobaccos, Camels never get on your nerves or tire your taste.

COTTON ROADS WILL UNDERGO ALABAMA TEST

By WILLIAM BENNETT, United Press Staff Correspondent MONTGOMERY, Ala. — Alabama will be the nation's testing ground for cotton highways if present plans of highway officials are approved.

The program, part of the federal department of agriculture's search for new uses for American-produced commodities, involves the use of rough cotton fabric as a reinforcement for bituminous surfaced highways.

The United States Bureau of Public Roads recently received the state's application for enough cotton to build 162 miles of road, embracing 14 projects in widely separated areas. Engineers are surveying the road sites.

In building the roads, a base of sand and clay, or gravel is laid and allowed to "ripen" under weather and traffic for several months until it settles and hardens. A liquid "prime" coat tar will be poured over that, and while it is still wet, the long strip of fabric, resembling heavy burlap bagging, will be laid.

Varying in width, the cotton strips are made so that three of them will cover the width of the road, with a three-inch overlap. Lengths will vary from 50 to 100 yard, with similar overlaps on the ends.

The road surface, two to three inches of bituminous (asphalt and tar) material, then is laid on the cotton and rolled.

Engineers estimate roads averaging 20 feet in width would require about six bales of cotton a mile.

The government has made $1,300,000 available for the experiment, which it estimates will build about 1,000 miles of the bituminous roads in various states.

H. H. Hook, engineer of the state highway department, said Alabama was in a peculiarly fortunate position to test the new fabric due to its "three-way" program.

Under the old relief setup, hundreds of miles of roads were started, with the county, state and federal relief administration each contributing one-third to their cost. Relief labor was used. Alabama was the only state to have such a program.

More than 200 miles of those "farm-to-market" roads have been based since last fall, ready and damp and dry sections.

Inspectors will ride the roads, keeping check in weather, volume of traffic, and road conditions, and will make constant reports to the federal bureau of roads.

Experiments also will be conducted in using cotton mats for "curing" concrete roads, but on a smaller scale.

Cotton brokers are watching the experiment closely, and in view of the unpredictable future of the new cotton control plan, regard the road project as the bright spot of the 1936 cotton market.

TOLEDO.—A new university will be formed here when St. John's University and Toledo Teachers' College merge. A name has not yet been chosen for the school. It will offer a complete sional education, Mgr. F. J. MacElwane, dean has announced.
