British Expand Travel Service

LONDON. — British railroads have spent in excess of $5,000,000 during the past three months to extend and accelerate facilities for summer travel business.

Equipment which has been overhauled includes 20,165 steam locomotives, 1,507 electric locomotives, and 100 steam and 14 oil rail cars.

Railroads are operating 645 restaurant cars and 52 buffet cars. British railroads have 77 hotels. There are 6,754 passenger stations along the 19,267 miles of British lines.

The penny-a-mile, third-class return ticket introduced last year are being retained with extended privileges. Other cheap fares and excursions are to be offered.

Ship Service Offered

British railroads also operate 140 steamships with a total gross tonnage of 182,573 between Great Britain and the Continent, Irish Free State, Northern Ireland, Channel Islands, Western Isles of Scotland and Isle of Wight.

Regular routes operated by Railway Air Service will be increased to 62, compared with 42 last year. The 500,000 miles flown last season are expected to be doubled this year.

Services are confined entirely to the British Isles.

New routes, on which large luxury air lines will be used, link Interfermes, Perth and Glasgow; Glasgow and the Isle of Man; Belfast and the Isle of Man; Bristol and Cardiff; Leeds and Bradford; and the Isle of Wight and Brighton.

Fast Schedules Arranged

Flying times will be reduced, making it possible to travel by air from Manchester to the Isle of Man in 50 minutes and from Liverpool to the Isle of Man in 45 minutes.

Railway Air Service offer tickets which permit the traveler to make the entire journey by air, or to use part air and part rail and steamer. Passengers holding a return railroad ticket may pay a slight supplement and travel by air. Slight discounts off the air fare are allowed railroad season-ticket holders on routes which also have airplane services.

Combined surface and air travel facilities are being offered at lower rates this season.

College Graduates Find More Work Than Since 1929

MINNEAPOLIS, Ind.—Business and industry this spring recruited the largest number of men from the 1936 graduating classes of any year since 1929, a survey just completed by Investors Syndicate reveals. Not only do nearly all of the universities and colleges included in the survey report substantial increases in employment of graduates, but many of them say salaries offered are from 10 to 25 per cent above those offered graduates a year ago.

This information is the outgrowth of reports made from colleges of 2000 students or more, making up about half of the college enrollment in the United States, in connection with the company's personnel developments.

Graduates of business administration took first rank in employment with most of the institutions having such schools, while in a few instances engineering graduates took first position. Generally speaking, business administration and engineering took the lead over other graduates, although agricultural graduates are reported in increased demand.

Columbia's University reported that the demand for its graduates is 600 per cent over any recent year. The University of Illinois stated that demand for graduates in business exceed the supply of competent men, while University of Notre Dame said anticipated employment of its graduates is "60 per cent greater than at any time since 1929." University of Michigan reports employment as "approximately double that of last year."

Dallas School of Commerce, in reporting that "employment of graduates is as good with us this year as it has ever been," comments that demand for college graduates "seems to be growing even faster than business recovery."

All institutions replying to the inquiry express the opinion that in the present competition for employment, college trained men, especially those specializing in such fields as business administration and engineering, have a distinctly better chance for employment than men without specialized training.

Sea to Engulf An Ancient Town

LES - SAINTES - MARIES - DE - LA - MER, France — This ancient town on the Mediterranean, one of the most picturesque in France, is in danger of disappearing—in danger so imminent that the Prefect of the Department of the Bouches - du - Rhone has been asked to do something about it.

The sea is eating its way into the coast. Already the city proper, once three-quarters of a mile from the sea, is protected from it only by dikes, one of which, on the west, has been almost destroyed by this year's storms. Middle-aged inhabitants remember playing in fields now well out in deep water. Customs officers huts that once stood on a cliff above the sea now are in deep water.

The town is almost entirely surrounded by water. To the south is the Mediterranean, to the west the salt lake of Les Lones, to the east the Imperial salt lake. Both of these bodies of water are separated from the sea only by a thin strip of shore, through which narrow channels are beginning to be cut.

It will not be long, if nothing is done, until the barriers break down, the lakes become part of the Mediterranean, and Les-Saintes-Maries-la-Mer, a small promontory on the end of the neck of land bearing the road from Arles, gradually will sink beneath the sea as so much of the land about it has already done.

Dikes built along the banks of the Little Rhone to protect the region from floods have helped to increase the speed with which the sea is eating away at the coast, for the silt which the Rhone used to spread at its mouth to replace the land eroded by the sea is now carried out into the Mediterranean.

Les - Saines - Maries-de-la-Mer retains all its picturesqueness because its inaccessibility keeps all but the most determined tourists away. Whereas other famous old cities of France have been spoiled for the sensitive traveler by the commercialization of their attractions, Les - Saines - Maries-de-la-Mer has remained untouched. It is too far off the main roads, it is the only point of interest in a desolate region, and so it retains its native customs and its primitive character.

In Desolate Region

It is in the Camargue, the desolate region of salt marshes in the delta of the Rhone's multiple mouths, where the only thing that grows is cattle fodder. There the cowboys of France live, armed not with lasso, but with a long pike. Large stretches are practically uninhabited, Les Saines-Maries-de-la-Mer being the only community in its administrative district.

Chief attraction of the town is the curious fortified church of the 12th Century with beehive walls within which worshippers could, in case of need, become defenders. In the church is housed the Black Virgin, which the gypsies come regularly to worship, in pilgrimages from all parts of Europe.

of the opinion from the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Palmer has been held in the Midalago county jail here since his conviction June 1 by a trial jury on the 92nd district court on a charge of murder in connection with the Calkins slaying.

The youthful defendant was given a new trial after the Court of Criminal Appeals reversed his conviction on grounds that the trial court was in error in refusing Palmer a second special venire after the first special venire had been quashed.

James D. McAlister, also a former Texas convict, was electrocuted at the Texas penitentiary in Huntsville the morning of June 5 after the Court of Criminal Appeals confirmed his conviction for the slaying of Calkins.

McAlister and Palmer, according to testimony in both trials, were "picked up" by Calkins on State Highway 66, south of Palfurria, and were given a ride toward the Valley, in Northern Hidalgo county, according to the testimony, McAlister, sitting in the rear seat of the sedan, shot Calkins through the head. Calkins' body was thrown into the rear of the car and later dumped, only partly clothed, into a clump of

CARDUI

Helped Three Times

At three different times, Cardui has helped Mrs. Ike Wright, of Sealy, Texas. "I used Cardui when a girl, for cramps, and it helped then," she writes. Next, after marriage, she reports having taken Cardui when she felt weak, nervous and restless before her children were born.

And during middle life, it helped her again. "I was miserable," she explains. "I did not have an appetite. I was very blue and upset. I remembered Cardui had helped me, so I took it again and soon began to pick up. I ate and had more strength. I kept up the Cardui and did not have any more trouble. Is it any wonder that I recommend Cardui to all my friends?"

"Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU consult a physician.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

WE used to think that cottage cheese was something you served only as is. The smart modern cooks and dietitians have found a multitude of uses for it as an accessory. In fact, it's become such a fashion that most of the city markets and dairies offer a very good quality on their counters. It usually may be had in two forms, mixed with cream ready for use or unmixed. The unmixed is cheaper to buy, but if cream must be purchased for the mixing, the final cost is practically the same.

However, cottage cheese can be made at home and it's an excellent way to use up milk when it sours. If you follow the rules carefully you will have successful results.

How to Make It

The directions are very simple. Thick, curdled milk that has soured quickly is the best foundation for a good quality of cottage cheese and the following is the easiest of several ways to make it.

Place the bowl containing the thick sour milk into a large pan of hot water. Never let the milk become hotter than blood heat. Too high a temperature toughens and hardens the curd. Let stand until thorough separation takes place. Then pour into a large square of cheesecloth—double thickness—placed over a colander. Gather up the four corners of the cheese cloth and hang up to drain. Let it drain until the curd is firm and the whey is drained out. It's the whey that has the strong acid taste. Remove from cheesecloth to a bowl and beat with a fork, adding cream, either sweet or sour, to make the mixture of the right consistency. An electric beater is splendid for this mixing. Add salt to taste, which is usually about 1 teaspoon to 2 cups of cheese. Season well with white pepper.

Lamb in rice border is a light main dish that needs a dessert rich in protein to finish the meal.

One and one-half pounds of lamb, 1 pound green peas, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 1 small onion, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-2 teaspoon pepper, 1-2 cups cold water.

Use a piece of the shoulder of lamb. Trim meat in neat pieces of clear meat. Put bones and trimmings into sauce pan, add cold water and let stand thirty minutes. Bring slowly to the boiling point and simmer thirty minutes. Strain. Brown lamb in hot oiled frying pan and put into casserole. Add tomatoes, minced onions, salt, pepper and broth. Cover casserole and cook about an hour. Add peas and cook thirty minutes longer, until tender. Remove meat and vegetables to center of hot platter and surround with a border of steamed rice. Thicken liquid in casserole with flour stirred to a smooth paste with a little cold water. Pour gravy over meat, garnish with ripe olives and serve.

DESDEMONA

Edward May and family left Tuesday morning for their home at Dimmitt, Texas, after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. May, and their many friends who were delighted to see them.

After two weeks' serious illness, Barbara Henslee, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Obed Henslee of Freer, passed away early Friday morning at Gorman. Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church at Ranger Saturday afternoon, with the pastor of the Baptist Church at Freer in charge of the services and with Rev. K. C. Edmonds of Olden assisting. Interment was in the Ranger cemetery. The floral offerings were numerous. Barbara was born in Desdemona and spent most of the eight years of her life here as this was the home not only of her parents but also her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Henslee (who moved to Freer last year) and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hilliard. From her very infancy Barbara was known as one of the brightest and friendliest children who ever lived here and her death is regretted by all. An immense crowd of relatives and friends filled the church at the funeral.

Mrs. Sam Roberts and children formerly of Desdemona, and Mrs. Jimmie Upton, formerly of Olden, visited Mrs. J. H. Jackson and Mrs. Bailey Stark and a number of other friends here Friday before returning to their homes at Headton, Okla.

Mrs. Bill Parks drove to Strawn Saturday and took Miss Mollie O'Rear, John O'Rear and Mrs. Annie Daniel, who had been called there to attend the funeral of their great-nephew, the two-week-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Seed, formerly of Eastland but now of Clovis, N. Centennial Pens Are Upon Exhibit

DALLAS.—Garland Adair, veteran newspaperman and Centennial organizer, exhibited at the Texas Centennial Exposition grounds the pens used by President Roosevelt, Vice President Garner, and Gov. James V. Alfred to sign the legislation which provided $6,000,000 for the Centennial.
 The pen which had been flourished by Franklin Roosevelt was a grey fountain pen, and the one Garner used was a brown straight gadget to sign the bill in which was earmarked $500,000 for the Texas Memorial Museum, a permanent structure to be erected at the University of Texas at Austin.
 Adair originated the Centennial commemorative coins which are being sold to help finance the construction of the museum. He was also for more than three years chairman of the American Legion Centennial committee which raised over $6,000 for the anniversary celebrations.
 Adair, now a candidate for state treasurer, was given the pens for his work in behalf of the Centennial. Upon the exhibition of the pens here he commented that his little display bore evidence that the pen was still mightier than the sword, although it took the pen and sword both, plus the plowshare, the drill, and the lariat to build the state of Texas.

ARE YOU ON THE BORDERLINE OF ACTUAL SICKNESS?

Constipation* Causes Discomfort, May Lead to More Serious Troubles
 You may have days, perhaps even weeks, when you feel below par. Not sick enough to go to bed, but certainly not at your best. The trouble may be with your diet. Poorly balanced meals can affect your physical condition.
 Meals which lack proper "bulk," for instance, may lead to common constipation. Continued neglect of this condition causes discomfort, may lead to headaches, poor appetite, listlessness.
 Guard against common constipation.* Make sure the meals you eat contain plenty of "bulk." Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a generous source of effective "bulk." Within the body, it absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, and gently cleanses the system.
 Two tablespoonfuls daily, with milk or cream, are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN softener. Serve ALL-BRAN either as a cereal, or cooked into muffins, breads, etc. Eat it regularly for regular habits.
 ALL-BRAN is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
 *Constipation due to insufficient "bulk"

GET GULFLUBE—It's "Stripped for action"!

Poorly refined motor oils, like a swimmer with all his clothes on, can't do an efficient job. They carry too much excess baggage—waste that should be "stripped off" by refining.

Most 25c oils, like a swimmer stripped of part of his clothes, are rid of some waste—but not enough for best performance. No refiner of 25c oils could afford to go further, before Gulf's Multi-sol process was perfected.

GULFLUBE MOTOR OIL, like a swimmer stripped for action, is rid of every bit of excess waste. It's the only Multi-sol-made 25c oil—the finest, purest oil a quarter ever bought. Gulflube gives you better lubrication, lower bills and a cleaner motor. Prove it—at the Sign of the Orange Disc.

Female of Species Not Only Deadlier But Also Stronger

DALLAS.—The female of the species is not only more deadly than the male but is the stronger and sturdier, Dr. H. V. Halladay, trainer of athletes and professor of anatomy at Des Moines (Iowa) College of Osteopathy, said at a recent convention in Dallas.

"Women do not bruise as easily as men and have much greater recuperative powers," said Dr. Halladay, who is in charge of training Drake University and Des Moines high school athletes.

"A coating of fat under the skin not only gives women curves but gives them a protection from muscle bruises that proud males do not have," he said.

Attributes possessed by women that enable them to survive childbirths without ill effects probably give them an ability to recuperate from exhaustion and injuries more quickly than men, he added.

Dr. Halladay said he had seen women athletes return to competition the day after suffering injuries that would have kept men out for a week.

Men have greater muscular strength, he noted, but women undoubtedly possess the greater ability to absorb punishment.

Three Injured In Automobile Wreck
 BRECKENRIDGE, June 17.—Tom Fuller, Mineral Wells, and Jack Woods, Millsap, were in a hospital here today and Harold Wolf of this city was at home recovering from injuries suffered late yesterday in an accident two miles east of Caddo.

Fuller suffered a fractured skull and Woods painful bruises. It was thought Wolf may have several broken ribs. The men were injured when two cars collided head-on when passing a truck.

Roumanian Bars Betting Except At Race Tracks

By United Press
 BUCHAREST.—A law, unanimously adopted by the chamber, has put an end to gambling and betting in Rumania with the exception of betting on race horses.

For the first time in Rumania's post-war history, the various positions to pass the legislation.

Aside from innumerable gambling clubs in Bucharest and the larger cities, Rumania's summer resorts boasted of the most elegant casinos; Sinaia, the royal family's summer residence in the mountains, and Constantza, on the Black Sea, had the ambition of competing even with Monte Carlo.

Parliament's drastic action was caused by the fact that the gambling mania has assumed alarming proportions and had caused several embezzlements and suicides.

To combat clandestine gambling dens, which are certain to spring up, efficiently the Rumanian Department of Justice has created a special police squad on the same lines as the famous "G-men" in the United States.

Zioncheck Gives Attendants Slip To Tell His Story

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Representative Marlon Zioncheck gave the slip today and appeared unexpectedly in the corridor of Gallinger Hospital to "tell my side of this case."

His dramatic appearance came while officials were attempting to decide what to do with the playboy congressman, who was confined for mental examination after a series of escapades.

Running up to newspapermen, Zioncheck gave an "explanation" of the sudden switch in plans yesterday when attaches were ready to take him from the building, then changed their minds and retained him.

He explained congressional leaders had asked him to go to a Baltimore sanitarium for treatment.

Texas Charters in May Show Increase

AUSTIN.—The number of new charters granted to Texas corporations during May was nearly 16 per cent greater than during the preceding month and nearly 4 per cent greater than during the corresponding month last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has announced.

Total capitalization was up nearly 46 per cent from April but was almost 30 per cent below that of May, 1935.

Banking-finance and merchandising corporations showed substantial increases in the number of new charters granted over the two comparable periods. In transportation there was a sharp drop.

There was a sharp increase in the number of charters with capitalization of $5,000 or less in comparison with both the preceding month and the corresponding month last year.

"Tailor Made Golf Clubs" Bring Profit

AMARILLO.—Walter Sikes, professional at the River Drive Golf Course, is making a bid for a new industry—making "tailor-made" golf clubs, built for the individual golfer.

The clubs will be ordered from the Professional Golf Club company of Chattanooga, Tenn. The exact specifications which appear to Sikes to be needed by the golfer will be followed to a letter by the manufacturers.

When the clubs are delivered in Amarillo, Sikes will trim them to the length required by the man or woman who orders them.

Thus it is possible to straighten out the ever present problem of a golfer being unable to get the clubs which he needs.

Equipment is already on hand for the finishing process at the River Drive Course.

Musician Who Can't Write Music 'Writes' A Popular Tune

By United Press
 DALLAS.—"The Wranglers," a song composed by a Dallas man who can't read or write a note of music, will be played Saturday by an 80-piece band at the opening of the Texas Centennial Exposition.

Ten years ago P. L. Evans began playing the piano by ear. Five years afterwards, he picked out the notes of an original melody—but was unable to write it down. Musicians heard the tune, and asked Evans to play the song while writers put the notes down.

An oil company had the song recorded, and an arrangement was made for it to be played by the Centennial band at the exposition opening.

Will Set Aside Fund for Party

PHILADELPHIA.—George G. Griffith stipulated in his will: "I give and bequeath to the Passyunk Rain Makers Association No. 139 one-half sum of $25 for a Dutch set cut."

A "Dutch set out" is a beer party with all the fixings, say those who know. The Rainmakers is the "fun" organization of the Great Council, Improved Order of Red Men.

Griffith left an estate of $3,380 to his sister, Sallie M. Firth.

Bull Elephant Is Crazed by Heat and Kills His Keeper

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—Maddened by the unseasonal heat, a bull elephant literally tore his keeper apart at the local zoo today.

The keeper, Ed Brown, was killed before he could be rescued by other attendants.

A score of men attracted by Brown's screams and the trumpeting of the elephant, rushed to the scene, but were too late to aid Brown.

A Baltimore cat, which for years has been forecasting the weather accurately, has passed away. From a broken heart, no doubt, after that winter.

Man Gigs Frog In His Back Yard
 GONZALES, Texas.—Tired of a continual "jug-a-rumming" in his back yard that kept him awake, R. A. Renschel, Gonzales lumber dealer, went frog-hunting one night recently.

The scene of the hunt was a fish pond in Renschel's yard, and the weapon used was a flounder gig. The result was six pairs of frog legs for dinner next day and a night of noiseless rest.

One of the frogs measured 16 inches in length. Apparently the six amphibians had abandoned the river bottoms for life in a city fish pond.

By United Press
 HARRISBURG, Pa.—There is no unemployment problem in Pennsylvania's mental institutions.

The patients are placed in lines which medical authorities believe will prove greatest benefit in restoring them to normalcy.

They plan to serve the best of foods and to cater to those who wish to have the best to eat at reasonable prices. They invite their many friends, both in Ranger and Strawn to visit them at their new location.

DILLON, Mont.—Electric "prod poles" which get their kick from batteries are now being used in hunting rattlesnakes. The last organized hunt here reaped a harvest of 65 rattlesnakes.

State Agricultural Council Organized

COLLEGE STATION—A state Agricultural Council was recently organized here of representatives of the twelve Extension districts. Each member of this Council came from a county farm demonstration council.

The function of this council is to cooperate with the Texas Extension Service in an advisory capacity, in all of its Extension activities, including the administering of the new Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act.

During the first organized meeting recently at College Station, the members of the State Agricultural Council unanimously passed a resolution favoring all farmers filling out work sheets in the Soil Conservation program on the grounds that such cooperation does not obligate the farmer in any way, that it is needed to make the program most effective this year, and that it will help in the 1937 program.

The seven houses left are all ideally located, close to schools and churches and near the business district.
WHY eight houses sold in seven days is because materials are advancing in cost.
Wages are going up, price of construction generally is advancing and in all probability rent will soon advance. These houses were sold for one-third to one-fourth their real worth, with lot thrown in. The seven left are equally as good buys as the eight sold. Why not you be one of the lucky buyers?

States' Rights Theory Struck By Own Dart

The U. S. Supreme Court has many remarkable achievements to its credit, but nothing can ever excel the sheer virtuosity of the sleight-of-hand performance which passed states' rights from one fist to the other, and then made them disappear utterly in thin air.

Observe the neat way in which this was accomplished. The court led off with the Guffey decision. In this case it ruled that the federal government could not try to remedy evil working conditions through the fixing of minimum wage laws, on the ground that this was a right of the states.

Then came the New York minimum wage law. Here, apparently, was the answer to the Guffey case. This attempt to fix minimums was the work of a state, not of the federal government; an exercise of the right which presumably had been preserved by invalidation of the Guffey act.

But when the smoke had blown away, the New York law had gone the way of the Guffey law. The "states' right" which the Guffey act was killed to preserve turned out to be non-existent.

That leaves us out in the middle of no man's land, with our supreme legal authority ruling that neither state nor national government can act against such things as sweatshops; and it is a ruling which should cause far more dismay to the old-fashioned believer in states' rights than to the most radical of New Dealers.

For the whole case for states' rights rests upon the belief that our nation can best make progress by letting the individual states handle such problems in their own way.

Our age has grown so complex, the interplay of economic forces affects the life of the individual so profoundly, that the problems have to be handled by someone. They can't be ignored.

And the old-line believer in democracy and freedom is likely to prefer that the states do the handling.

For it is in that way that we may be protected against too great regimentation by the central government. We don't avoid the erection of an oppressively strong federal power by giving the power to nobody at all; we avoid it by giving the power to the states.

A state which can protect the economic interests of its citizens is the best of all guarantees against over-reaching at Washington.

Timber Growth Exceeds the Drain

WASHINGTON, D. C. — That the United States is cutting off its forests many times faster than they are being replaced has long been the impression of the average American citizen. With this idea in mind many people have purposely aimed to specify materials other than wood in an effort to display their "American spirit" in conserving our forests. This erroneous public attitude, according to P. A. Hayward, chief of the Forest Products division of the Department of Commerce, has done more damage than good since it had aided in weakening the consumption of products produced by states that any shortage of timber for lumber and allied products could be only at some far distant time. What is more likely is that there will always be sufficient forest in the United States to meet all reasonable needs and that the immediate and pressing problem, according to Hayward, is that of expansion of markets for forest products, as without adequate markets our forests resources would be largely an economic waste. Moreover, timber as a national resource is an exception, since it is reproducible. Timber should therefore be considered as a crop, and unless it can be utilized as once America's greatest industry. As a result thousands of former workers are looking for employment.

Even by making the most extreme assumptions Mr. Hayward sized the crop ceases to be an important asset.

In making the foregoing comments, Mr. Hayward referred to a recent report of the Industries Studies section of NRA which was prepared by experienced experts in the field of forest products economics.

Seven Negroes Die When Trucks Crash

TIMPSON, Tex., June 15.—Seven young negroes were dead today, and 15 others seriously injured following a collision between two trucks three miles west of here Sunday night. The negroes were returning from a baseball game played at Logansport, La., when the truck in which they were riding side-swiped another truck.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

IN THE TORRID ZONE, WHERE THE WORLD'S HEAVIEST RAINFALL TAKES PLACE, THE NEW MOON ALWAYS LIES ON ITS BACK, IN THE POSITION POPULARLY CALLED "THE DRY MOON."

INSECT EGGS VARY IN HATCHING TIME FROM ONE DAY, IN THE BLOW-FLY, TO NINE MONTHS, IN LOCUSTS.

A MOON that lies on its back is known popularly as a dry moon, since, being bowl shaped, it is said to hold water. The tilted moon, from which water would spill, is a "wet moon." As the horns of the crescent always point away from the sun, the angle at which the moon is tilted depends entirely upon the zone of the earth from which it is observed.

Jail Comforts are Boon to Indians

NEW DELHI, India. — Indian railway authorities are baffled by thousands of "bikers"—who want to be arrested. Beggars for a long time have been making a practice of traveling on railways without tickets so that arrest will lead them to the "comforts" provided in the prisons.

Officials are almost at their wits' end to deal with this "racket." Now they propose amendments for ticketless travelers. They estimate that 2,700,000 persons have been getting free rides on the trans annually, representing a loss to the railways of nearly $2,000,000.

JONAH DIDN'T STAY IN WHALE EXPERT SAYS

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The story of Jonah's three-day stay inside a whale arose from mistaken translation centuries ago, according to data submitted today by George Lamsa.

An expert in the Aramaic language of the time of Biblical history, he argued the original text simply meant to indicate Jonah was puzzled for three days, or as American slang would phrase it, "he was in a hole" for that time. Jonah was to tell the king that Nineveh was to fall and his great empire crumble. This was not an easy task for a peasant like Jonah to do and the historian simply said he spent "three days in the whale" or as we would put it today, "three days thinking over the matter," the historian said.

YOAKUM, Texas.—The Alabama-Coushatta Indians, attired in picturesque tribal regalia, will attend the ninth annual Tomato Tom Tom celebrated at Yoakum, on June 5 and 6.

The Indians, forming the remnant of a once powerful nation, now inhabit a government reservation near Livingston and compose the only Indian tribe left in Texas. Chief Cooper Styelstine, tribal head, is expected to accompany his braves to the festival here.

The Presidential Room of the Mayflower Hotel Washington, D. C.

Beautifully gowned women... diplomats and statesmen... gather here, while the Mayflower kitchens give forth a stream of rare and tempting dishes. The famous maitre d'hotel of the Mayflower—greeted as "Fred"—says: "Of course, our cosmopolitan clientele prefer Camels. They are a great favorite with our guests."

A SUGGESTION At mealtime, try Camels yourself and see why smokers say "For Digestion's sake—smoke Camels"

WHEN THE ALARM RINGS, Fire-Chief Frank Gilliar forgets about food and rest till the last spark is out. Does he enjoy smoking? "You bet I do," he says—"Camels. Smoking Camels while I'm eating and after gives me a great feeling of cheer and contentment."

BEST-DRESSED GOLFER. Johnny Farrell was voted the best-dressed golfer at the National Open Championship matches for a number of years. He says: "A Camel puts me on the top of the world. Camels aid my digestion."

Science confirms the truth of the popular phrase "For Digestion's Sake... Smoke Camels" Scientists have found that Camels promote well-being by stimulating the flow of the digestive fluids... alkaline digestive fluids... necessary for good digestion. Often fatigue, worry, excitement, nervousness—all interfere with this digestive flow. Camels restore and increase it, thus assisting digestion to proceed normally and healthfully. With their finer, costlier tobaccos, Camels give mildness a new meaning. They do not get on your nerves or rasp your throat. Make Camels your smoke—for their cheery "lift"... for digestion's sake. Camels set you right.

Costlier Tobaccos! Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

O. LYERLA OF FLATWOOD IS NEW DEMO HEAD

Candidates were assessed election costs and places drawn at the Eastland County Democratic executive committee meeting in the courthouse at Eastland Monday afternoon.

Oscar Lyerla of Flatwood was named county democratic executive chairman, succeeding Earl Conner, Jr., of Eastland, who resigned. Lyerla's term is until the second primary, Aug. 29.

A resolution was passed against Congressman Thomas L. Blanton's purported postmaster selection method.

A motion of Omar Burkett of Cisco for abolition of the second primary was downed by vote of the committee.

The second primary will be held Aug. 29 in races in which no candidate obtained a majority of the voting. The two highest will be in the runoff.

The committee on assessments was composed of W. C. Bedford, Desdemona; Burkett; W. E. Lusk, Sabanno; L. R. Pearson, Ranger; W. W. Gilbert, Carbon. Candidates were given until June 20 to pay the assessments.

The executive committee will meet at Eastland, June 22, to prepare the ballot, it was decided.

The pilots, Ed Heiby of Shreveport and Eugene Schacher, Houston, brought the flaming craft to earth near Ferris, Texas, soon after it took off from Dallas, Texas. Schacher, co-pilot, died Saturday afternoon of his burns. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Hobby, and Toomey escaped with cuts and bruises. Heiby is seriously burned. The picture of Jones was made Friday morning as he came to Dallas with President Roosevelt and his party for the Texas Centennial celebration.

The following resolution was passed:

Resolution

WHEREAS, in the recommendation for the appointment of postmasters, it has been the method of our congressman, in many instances, to go in person to a mass meeting called by him for the purpose of selecting a postmaster and in the convening of such mass meeting, he would inform the persons present that the postmaster would be selected for his recommendation by vote, but no one would be permitted to vote in such election for postmaster except voters who had supported him and voted for him in the last two campaigns for congress, and who lived within one mile of the post office, thus eliminating 75 per cent or more of patrons of the post office besides evading and ignoring entirely the civil service law which provides that the postmaster must be one of three who has made the highest grade in a competitive examination.

Whereas, this county and the surrounding counties composing the 17th district, are practically all democratic and no republican opposition to a congressman has ever developed.

Noose to Claim Its First Kidnaper

First kidnaper sentenced to die under the Lindbergh law, Arthur Gooch peered between bars of his tiny cell in death row of McAlester (Okla.) state prison, awaiting the march to the gallows June 19. Gooch was convicted of abducting a policeman from Texas to Oklahoma, interstate kidnaping now being punishable by death. At the right, with a new coil of rope, is Rich Owens, veteran Oklahoma executioner. He has electrocuted more than 50 men at $100 a "job." The U. S. pays only $25 for a hanging, so federal officials made up the difference in pay, rather than spring the trap themselves.

Working in the West, he met up with his ideal "makin's"

JOHN PETIT discovered the ideal "makin's" tobacco cut when he first tried Prince Albert. "I'll hand it to P.A. for snuggling down quick, the way a roll-your-own likes," says Jack.

HERE'S JACK showing a friend how to roll his own. "Being 'crimp cut,'" Jack says, "Prince Albert rolls easier and smokes cooler. I get around 20 cigarettes from every tin. And because P.A. is packed in tin it keeps in prime condition. Never loses one single speck of its fragrance or taste." And don't overlook P.A. as the world's best bet for a pipe.

70 fine roll-your-own cigarettes in every 2-oz. tin of Prince Albert

No-risk offer proves Jack's judgment right!

Roll yourself 30 swell cigarettes from Prince Albert. If you don't find them the finest, tastiest roll-your-own cigarettes you ever smoked, return the packet tin with the rest of the tobacco in it to us at any time within a month from this date, and we will refund full purchase price, plus postage. THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

Wherefore, be it resolved by the Democratic Executive committee of Eastland county, Texas, that we declare that the method and policy practiced in the matter mentioned above by our congressman, Thomas L. Blanton, is un-Democratic to the highest degree; that it is an abuse of his right of patronage and exhibits a lack of courage; that it thwarts the wishes of the majority of the people and it is absurd unfairness and is detrimental to the well being of the patrons of such post offices, creating dissension and distrust between neighbors and friends and is condemned by us as petty politics.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to postmaster general, James A. Farley, to the press and to Congressman Blanton.

Passed this the 15th day of June, 1936.
