

LONE STAR TO HOLD SEVENTH ANNUAL PICNIC

Funerals of Two Who Died Monday Held at Eastland

Funeral services for T. M. Johnson, 74, city commissioner, and Mrs. Augusta B. Reed, 79, were held from different churches in Eastland late Tuesday.

Survivors are the following children: Herbert Reed, Eastland; Allen Reed, Dallas, and Mrs. G. B. Chastain.

Rites for Johnson were held from the First Methodist church with Rev. E. R. Stanford, pastor of the church, officiating. Burial was in the Eastland cemetery.

"Furrows Orator" Booms McDonald At Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, June 24.—Opposition to the state "going into the oil hunting business on a huge scale and losing millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money" was expressed by June K. Hendricks, known as the orator of the furrows, who was here Tuesday in behalf of W. H. (Bill) McDonald of Eastland county, candidate for state land commissioner.

"Mr. McDonald's opponent is committed to such a policy which would be so costly that it would severely cripple the state's revenues and payment of an adequate pension to our elderly citizens would be made difficult if not almost impossible," said Hendricks, who also lives in Eastland county, where he is a farmer. He once made a race for office against McDonald.

Rev. Ross Respass will fill his regular appointment Sunday morning and night at the Baptist Church at Staff, it was announced here Tuesday.

Candidates Must File Expense Accounts

The next date for candidates to watch is the filing of the first campaign expense account between June 25 and July 1 with County Clerk T. M. Collier.

Harry Henry Needs 100 Terrapins at Five Cents a Head

Harry Henry, who is in charge of the terrapin race, to be staged in connection with the annual Lone Star picnic, which is to be held in Eastland this year, is having his troubles. It seems that there are no terrapins in this country now. On previous occasions he has advertised that he wanted 100 terrapins, for which he would pay 5 cents each and would get lots of them. This year he is getting uneasy because not a terrapin has been secured for the race, though he has made the usual 5-cent offer.

So if any of you boys or girls can round up a terrapin—or a sack full—Harry Henry would like to buy them. The offer is made for the first 100 brought in, however. Henry can be located at the Lone Star garage, Blackwell road, Ranger, where the terrapins, if any, can be left. The picnic is to be held this Saturday, though, so there is not very much time left for making a deal with Henry.

Man Is Allowed To File His Name On Primary Ticket

The Eastland county Democratic executive committee decided Monday afternoon to allow the name of Charlie Wende, of Cisco, candidate for county commissioner of Precinct No. 4, printed on the primary ballot July 25. The meeting was held at Eastland.

The decision was reached after opponents of the candidate who failed to file his name by the deadline with the executive chairman requested the committee's action.

Resolved: We the Democratic executive committee of Eastland county desire to express our appreciation to Earl Conner Jr., for his very active, efficient, impartial and faithful service as county chairman. He worked in harmony with the committee and actively sought the advancement of the party's interest. His interest seemed to be controlled entirely with the thought of services well rendered to the party.

Robot Charts a Hot Air Belt High in Ozone

SYDNEY, Australia. — Radio experiments just completed by Drs. D. F. Martyn and O. O. Pulley of Sydney University have demonstrated the possibility of exploring the entire stratosphere for a distance of 150 miles above the earth without the necessity of further dangerous ascensions.

Except for the possibility of ascertaining whether the stratosphere constitutes a medium for speedy aerial travel, the two Sydney scientists are convinced that all necessary information about the earth's upper atmosphere can now be obtained from the earth itself.

Under the system invented and thoroughly demonstrated by Dr. Martyn, the upper air can now be probed by radio signals.

His new method gives accurate data on the amount of electrification, the amount of ozone, and the temperature throughout the whole thickness of the upper air from 22 up to 150 miles.

The new type apparatus which Dr. Martyn has perfected consists of a robot that sends out signals, catches the echoes, varies the wave lengths and pilots all the information obtained on a tiny chart.

One of the first discoveries made by Dr. Martyn with his new invention was that there is still another cold layer of air far above the stratosphere cold layer recently reached by Russian and American balloonists. Between the two cold layers there lies sandwiched a warm layer, and it is in this layer that Dr. Martyn thinks that stratosphere flying might become a possibility.

According to the radio records made by Dr. Martyn, temperatures again dip in the second stratosphere above the warm ozone layer, reaching a minimum at 50 miles above the earth's surface.

From these upward the temperatures increase till they end in a "terrid zone" at 150 miles of altitude.

On this latter heated zone, Dr. Martyn's radio reports contradict the belief of Professor Appleton, who was convinced this zone was hot only in summer. Martyn's experiments show that the sea-

Huge Gun, Long Silenced, Displays Might in Tests

With earth-rocking repercussion, this huge 14-inch railroad rifle is shown as it sent a projectile screaming through space toward targets 25 miles distant, in tests along the California coast. Simulating war-time conditions, the scene of the firing was near Don, Calif., about 40 miles north of San Diego. So terrific is the shock of firing the guns, which propel a 1400-pound shell, that they have not been used since 1928. Windows in coast houses for miles around then were broken by their discharge and many Californians believed an earthquake was in progress.

sonal drop in only from 1,300 to 1,000.

As a consequence, Dr. Martyn declares, that the earth is perpetually gridled by a fiery ring of inconceivably rarefied air, in which, necessarily, no human activity could ever be hoped for.

Measurements of the upper ozone show fluctuations exactly corresponding to barometric measures on the ground, but anti-dating them. As a consequence weather forecasts, Dr. Martyn declares, can be made from these radio probes of the air.

Australian authorities are so impressed with Dr. Martyn's findings, that modern ozone measures are now being installed at the Commonwealth Weather Bureau, the Solar Observatory at Canberra and at the installation of the Council for Scientific and Industrial Research.

New All-Time Oil Production Record Was Established in the United States During the Month of May This Year

By ELMER H. JOHNSON, Industrial Geographer Bureau of Business Research University of Texas.

A new all-time record in oil production in the United States was attained during the week ending May 16, 1936, with an average of a little more than 3,000,000 barrels a day. The previous highest stage had been attained during the week ending Aug. 23, 1929, with an average of 2,975,435 barrels a day.

The proportions contributed by the oil producing states and by major fields, however, was very different for the week of May 16, 1936, from what such proportions had been in the peak production of 1929. Comparisons of these changes during this period show that two states—Texas and Louisiana—have gained considerably. The large gain in Texas has been due, of course, to East Texas which was not producing oil in 1929. Two other sections of Texas also show gains—the Gulf Coast and East Central Texas—but the sum of the gains of these two districts is more than offset by the decrease in West Texas, North Central Texas and the Texas Panhandle. There has also been a slight gain in Southwest Texas.

The gain of the whole of Texas amounts to nearly 31 per cent over that for the week ending Aug. 23, 1929. In Louisiana both North and Coastal Louisiana show significant gains. Largest decrease in oil production by states during this period occurred in California—a decrease of 34.5 per cent. And in Oklahoma in spite of the enormous increase in the Oklahoma City field, the state total had declined by nearly 23 per cent. The States of Kansas and Michigan and the Rocky Mountain field show increases but substantial decreases have occurred in Arkansas and the Eastern fields.

Comparisons of these data, together with other available information, show unmistakably certain well-defined tendencies and changes in oil production. The section of greatest current production and of largest increases since 1929 is the Gulf Coastal Plain in Texas and Louisiana. This section includes the producing territory lying along the Gulf—the Gulf Coast, of Texas, and Louisiana—and the interior Coastal Plain fields—Southwest Texas, East Central Texas, East Texas, and North Louisiana.

Certain major fields elsewhere show significant increases in the comparisons under consideration—such as Oklahoma City; Kettleman Hills, Calif.; Hobbs, N. M.—but oil output as a whole outside the Gulf Coastal Plains, coast zones and interior, shows decreases. To what extent these changes are indicative of a long-time trend which may increase the relative importance of Texas and Louisiana in oil production it is impossible to say. New discoveries no doubt will be made outside Texas and Louisiana; but it appears now that the great happy hunting grounds for new reserves in the United States will be largely confined to these two states.

One by one the older oil producing states have been left behind. Pennsylvania was for years the leading oil producing state; but its largest annual production, 1891, was only 31,424,000 barrels. During the later 1890's Ohio held leading rank. Alternately Oklahoma and California have been the leading producers. Texas' annual production since 1931 has eclipsed that of any state at any time in the past. Texas is not only the leading producer of all time, in 1935 producing nearly 24 per cent of the world output of oil, but it apparently is to be the last stand of big

3,000,000th Ford V-8 Driven to Southwest Exposition

The Centennial at Dallas, Texas, made a great "to-do" when the 3,000,000th Ford V-8, off the assembly line in less than a year after the 2,000,000th left last year for the Exposition at San Diego, California, arrived at the Exposition gates. In the upper photograph, taken in front of the Ford Exposition building are shown Rex Ryan, chairman of the Centennial; Fred F. Florence, president of the Centennial; Mayor George Seargent, of Dallas, and smiling James Rooney, who drove the V-8 from

Dearborn, collecting "3,000,000" license tags from the states he crossed. The good-looking young ladies at the right of the car are Rangerettes, too. In the lower photograph, taken after the Ford had entered the Centennial grounds, are shown

Messrs. Ryan, Florence and Adams with Jimmy Rooney holding the scroll, making the car an "Ambassador of Goodwill."

Laughs Under the Big Top!

Gay crowds are thronging Dallas for the magnificent Centennial Exposition. And why? Well, one good reason is that the Gainesville Community Circus is booked for three shows June 25, 26, and 27, and laughs and thrills will tumble over each other in three big rings of excitement. Juanita Bailey, daring aerialist, is as comfy on a dizzy high wire as she is here in the ample arms of Billy Basinger, chief clown, whose specialty is a hula in a grass skirt. The circus, the only enterprise of its kind in the world, is composed entirely of amateurs drawn from ranks of merchants, waitresses, judges, policemen, Sunday school teachers, and many other classes.

There Are Sails And Sales!

A friend of ours is the wife of a seafaring man. She knows what "charting a course" means. She believes in it.

Her charts are the advertising pages of this paper. Before she starts a shopping trip, she plots her course. Here's a bargain in canned goods. There's a good buy in kitchen utensils. Here's a sale of shoes. Thus the fog of haphazard shopping lifts, and the course is clear. Time is saved. Money is saved.

"Certainly," she tells us, "I would no sooner start on a shopping tour without having read the advertisements than my husband would try to navigate without his charts and compass."

Even if you have never set foot aboard a ship, you can chart your shopping course. Read the advertisements on these pages every day. Follow them as a mariner follows the weather report and see how much simpler and easier shopping becomes. Remember, an advertised product is a reliable product—it has to be!

Soviet Output of 1936 Autos 161,500

MOSCOW.—Government plans call for the construction of 161,500 automobiles in the Soviet Union in 1936, compared with 96,700 produced in 1935.

The first closed cars ever to be made here also will be produced. Despite severity of Russian winters, all automobiles manufactured so far have been touring cars. The most luxurious type will be a seven-passenger sedan to be produced by the Moscow Stalin Automobile Plant. It will have an eight-cylinder motor of 110 horsepower and a speed approaching 100 miles an hour. Four thousand of these will be produced during the year, according to plans.

First new sedans of the five-passenger type are scheduled to leave the production lines of the Gorki Automobile Plant soon. The government has announced that they will be constructed with the precision of American automobiles and be furnished with every comfort, "even including ash trays." These cars will be of 52 horsepower. The 1936 manufacturing quota is 15,000.

A foreign nation has paid its debt to the Standard Oil in mouth organs, but America itself still has to whistle.

CONSTIPATION* MAY SLOW YOU DOWN

Correct It by Eating the Right Meals

The most common type of constipation is due to insufficient "bulk" in the diet. When you continue to eat poorly balanced meals, over a period of weeks and months, faulty elimination often develops. You feel uncomfortable, lack your accustomed vigor.

Eat a balanced diet. Include milk, fruits and vegetables as protective foods. Also sufficient "bulk." Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a convenient source of "bulk." Within the body, it absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the intestinal tract.

Fruits and vegetables contain some "bulk," of course. But scientific tests show that, with certain people, this "bulk" is largely broken down within the body. This does not happen to the same extent with bran. When you eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, you can be sure of obtaining effective "bulk."

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal, with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, breads, etc. Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN oftener. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company as a natural laxative food for constipation. Eat it regularly for regularity. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

By HARRY GRAYSON

has been and is expected to be a tremendous help to the Chicago Cubs, Ethan Nathan Men, an outfielder scarcely mentioned in the deal that shipped Buck Klein back to his favorite Coker Bowl, has been—and is—the key man in the revival of the National League champions.

Chicago experts consider an Allen, hitting .308, vastly more valuable than a Klein sporting an average 20 points higher. Allen, much faster than the erstwhile senior loop batting champion, can steal a base in a crouch, and otherwise play championship baseball. It wasn't his fault that he spent seven years with poor Cincinnati and Philadelphia clubs.

Those closest to the Cub situation believe that the Klein deal, which also brought the Phillies $50,000 (correct) and Pitcher Mike Kowalik, will enable the Bruins to repeat in the National League.

THE Cub outlook was dismal just before the Klein transaction was consummated.

Lon Warneke's arm appeared to be a sad remembrance of the world series of last fall.

Billy Jurgas was lost for the season with a nub on his elbow.

Klein was a distinct flop when measured up to Wrigley Field standards.

Tuck Stainback, of whom so much was expected in 1935, was a failure.

A mistake in judgment, or something had benched the youthful Phil Cavarretta and re-installed the ancient Charley Grimm at first base.

Augie Galan's batting average tumbled to .230.

The Cubs fell to fourth place.

But a young club that closes a season with 21 straight victories doesn't figure to be kept down very long the following one, and the Cubs' recent protracted winning streak makes it clear that those who picked them to score again made no mistake.

It develops that there never was anything wrong with Warneke's arm. The long hill-billy had as much stuff as ever. His trouble was that of the other Cub pitchers. He simply couldn't win.

Jurgas' loss sounded more serious than it really is. Woody English is just as accomplished at shortstop, and scarcely could be more of a lightweight at the plate than the Brooklyn boy.

CAVARRETTA'S form at first base only stresses the error Grimm made in removing him. The former Chicago high school boy figures to improve his batting mark of .268.

Ken O'Dea commenced to hit so well—around .394—that Grimm didn't have to call on Gabby Hartnett behind the bat.

Galan, a remarkable center-fielder, got going with the willow, and the Cubs were off when the pitchers struck their true strides simultaneously.

It's Lee, Warneke, Henshaw, French, Davis, Carleton, and then more Lee, Warneke, Henshaw, French, Davis, and Carleton for rivals of young P. K. Wrigley's lads these days, which means that the opposition has 75 per cent the worst of it at the start.

Again the Cubs have shown a great likeness for their home park, but with the brand of pitching that they are getting today, they are reasonably certain to give their low road average of .388 a terrific boost.

The young Cubs are capable of most anything, as they demonstrated in the phenomenal spurt that skyrocketed them to the title last fall.

Lady Took Cardui During Middle Life

Women who are entering middle life will be interested in the experience of Mrs. L. C. McDonald, of Paragould, Ark., who writes:

"I cannot say anything but good about Cardui. I think it is a grand medicine. I took Cardui during change of life. I was so weak, so nervous, I could hardly go. I just dragged around. I had fainting spells and would just give down. My back and head hurt. I knew I had to take something to give me strength. I read of Cardui. I took about seven bottles. It gave me relief and strength. I am now 60 years past, and can do a pretty good day's work in the house and garden."

Thousands of women feel Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Collie Answers Criticism From His Opponents

In opposition to my re-election to a second term as State Senator, some of my political opponents are spreading the propaganda that I have stood in the way and sought the defeat of the payment of Old Age Assistance. They would place at my feet the controlling influence over the entire legislature and governor for the legislation passed, at the same time decrying what an outrage the law is.

For this reason, I want my old friends to know clearly my views and position concerning it; and what I shall say now is not a change from my views when the law was passed by the legislature.

The regular session of the 44th legislature last year submitted and the people approved by a tremendous majority, a Constitutional Amendment granting authority to the legislature to make provisions for Old Age Assistance. I heartily supported the submission of the amendment and its adoption. When the legislature was reconvened in a special session last fall, I attempted with all the efforts one individual could exert to pass a law in keeping with the people's mandate, Senate Bill No. 1, as amended by the Senate, provided for payment to those in "necessitous circumstances," therefore, I sought to have adopted the following amendment which would have broadened the definition of "necessitous circumstances":

"Amend the Shivers amendment to Senate Bill No. 1, Section 2, 6th line, by adding the following after the concluding sentence:

"To constitute 'in necessitous circumstances' within the meaning of this act, neither the applicant, nor the applicant's husband or wife, nor each of them jointly or severally shall own property, real or personal, exceeding in value three thousand ($3,000.00) dollars, exclusive of household goods and wearing apparel, and if assessed value be not in excess of four thousand ($4,000.00) dollars; Together with the applicant's net annual income, annuity, emoluments of office, or wages for services shall not be in excess of four hundred eighty ($480.00) dollars for a single person, or if married a community income from all sources not exceeding seven hundred ($700.00) dollars, exclusive of all taxes, insurance and payments of interest on the property of his or her designated homestead. Only those in necessitous circumstances, under the foregoing definition, shall be entitled to a pension under this act."—Page 29, Senate Journal, Oct. 22, 1935.

The federal law provides for the matching of state funds if the state law confines the payment to those in necessitous circumstances. It will be observed that, while my amendment was defeated, it would have liberalized the present law had it been adopted. I believe it would have more nearly fulfilled the desire of the people as the amendment contains almost the exact language of the Confederate Pension Act.

For several reasons the state government should not give "Aid" to millionaires and the rich. The very heart and soul of the amendment voted by the people, was "OLD AGE ASSISTANCE".

So long as we have multiplied thousands of men out of employment, pacing our streets in grim despair; thousands of women hesitating between the wolf of want and the life of infamy; hundreds of insane and physical wrecks confined in our jails; hundreds of the blind, the deaf, and the dumb, unable to make their way; thousands of neglected and dependent children coming up in ignorance and crime; thousands afflicted with tuberculosis and other highly contagious diseases—so long as the state is unable to make provision for these, it certainly would not be just to take from the state's treasury, or to

NOOSE CLAIMS FIRST KIDNAPER DOOMED BY LINDBERGH LAW

The death mask on his head, Arthur Gouch, first man to be sentenced to die under the Lindbergh kidnaping law, is shown on the gallows at McAlester, Okla., state prison, a moment before the trap was sprung. With him as he went to his doom, a grim warning to lawbreakers, were Deputy U. S. Marshals Allen Stanfield and George B. Hall, left, and the Rev. E. S. Priest, prison chaplain.

TSETSE-FLIES, although little larger than a common house-fly, are the curse of Equatorial Africa. One bite by the fly brings inevitable death to horses, cattle and dogs; but the wild animals of the region are harmed no more by its bite than by the sting of a small gnat. The bite itself is not poisonous, but it conveys a parasite which causes the trouble.

North Section Rally
A rally for the north section of the Coahuila Trail Council was held in High School Park, Breckenridge, Friday evening.

Troop No. 18 was winner of first place, Troop No. 31 placing second, and Troop No. 17 won third place.

Those placing first, second and third in the essay contest were: Carey West Troop No. 18, Ray Arnold Troop No. 31, and Phillip Shaw Troop No. 17.

Essay No. 2: "There are three good reasons why I want to go to Billy Gibbons. They are: (1)

Games and sports that are engaged in — swimming, hiking, canoeing, archery, and baseball; (2) the educational value that may be obtained; (3) and the best of the good, wholesome meals served three times a day."

Essay No. 3: "I would like to go to Camp Billy Gibbons and enjoy the good fellowship and participate in the activities provided. Billy Gibbons is well known for its good accommodations and good grub."

The Scouts and Scouters present made up an enthusiastic group and all entered into the spirit of the occasion.

First Bale Grown In Star County

M'ALLEN, Texas, June 22.—A race to produce the world's first bale of 1936 cotton apparently was won by Starr county today for the fifth time in seven years.

A bale grown on the farm of Tofilio Garcia, in southeastern Starr county, was ginned here at noon and sent hurriedly to the Corpus Christi cotton exchange where a cash price of $500 was offered for the first bale.

Weighted 478 pounds, and was classed a middling. Garcia has produced the first bale on two previous years.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking acids and wastes out of the blood. A healthy person should pass about 2 pints a day and get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, waste stays in the body and may become poisonous. It may start nagging backaches, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't let it lay you up.

Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills—used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills.

PLANS BEING RUSHED FOR JULY FOURTH

Roy Sanderford, candidate for governor, today wired his acceptance of an invitation to be one of the speakers at the Fourth of July celebration in Ranger and requested that he be notified of the time he would appear on the program.

His telegram was turned over to E. A. Ringold, master of ceremonies for the speaking engagements, and a program is being worked out whereby each candidate will be allotted as much time as possible. It was thought today that the program would be worked up in time for publication by Sunday.

Some changes have been made in the plans for the fat man's relay race, which is to open the day's activities.

G. A. Murphy, who was scheduled to run one lap of the race, has announced that he will not be in condition to run because of a stab wound he received several years ago, which has been bothering him some, so a change was made in the personnel of the two teams.

B. E. Garner, who was scheduled to begin his vacation on Sunday, June 28, has delayed his departure for California in order that he could run in the race, and he announced today that he would be ready to run. Others who have agreed to take part in the race are Hal Hunter, Willis Wall, D. Joseph, Dr. W. L. Jackson and E. M. Glazner. Spud Reynolds might be pressed into service, it was announced today.

The team composed of Hal Hunter, D. Joseph and Dr. Jackson will compete against Willis Wall, B. E. Garner and E. M. Glazner, according to present plans for the race.

Other events have been worked out by the chairmen in charge, and it is expected that the entire program will be run off in rapid order.

AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE Wasn't Needed Then

LIFE back in the "horse and buggy" days was less dangerous than now. Automobile accidents were undreamed of and personal injury damage suits were rare.

Not a day this year will pass, however, without thousands of automobile accidents and claims for damages.

The only sure way to avoid such losses is through adequate insurance.

Church of Christ Revival Continues Through Sunday

The revival being conducted by Even, Cled E. Wallace of Austin, Texas, for the local Church of Christ, will continue over Sunday, June 28. A splendid interest is being manifested by the congregation at both morning and evening services.

The morning sessions are devoted to the teaching of Christian living. Regardless of your belief,

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food does not digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, rank and the world looks black.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A men's bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Barmine, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Satisfactory relief anytime else the

Centennial to be Completed Soon

DALLAS.—Many visitors to the Texas Centennial exposition never know it, but the show won't really be finished until mid-summer.

The principal building—the $1,200,000 Hall of State—will be ready within two months after labor difficulties slowed construction for several weeks. Many exhibitors were not ready to open their displays to the public, June 6, date the exposition was opened.

The Hall of State forms the background for the show's chief thoroughfare—the Esplanade of State. Its stately columns will grace the 184-acre park for years to come. During the Centennial, colored lights and powerful spotlights transform the Hall of State and Esplanade into a scene of indescribable beauty.

Contractors were hampered by a late start on the state building. With board of control specifications asking more than funds would permit, days were spent trimming the plans to fit the appropriation. Completion of the structure will give Texas a show building ranking with the best in the world. A Hall of Heroes will seat statues of men who made Texas history.

Union workmen staged a peaceful strike shortly before the exposition opened in protest against alleged employment of non-union workers on the building. They also charged that standard labor regulations were not being observed.

Lord Dawson Pushes Crime Hospital Plan

LONDON.—A movement to found a "crime hospital," where criminals may be sent for psychological treatment instead of being imprisoned, has been launched by Lord Dawson of Penn and several other prominent British physicians and psychologists.

Officials of the home office are said to be in sympathy with the scheme, which they believe may lead to revolutionary changes in the state's attitude on crime.

An appeal for $50,000, with which to build a clinic in London, is being made.

Detroit Judge Warns Slow Motor Drivers

DETROIT.—Detroit, one of the unhealthiest cities in the nation for automobile speeders, has turned thumbs down on the slow road hog.

Traffic judges have asked Police Commissioner Heinrich Pickett to stamp out the practice of slow-moving vehicles holding their own in the center of busy streets, blocking several lanes of traffic.

"These slow movers are causing other motorists to dodge in and out of traffic, thus increasing the hazard," Judge George T. Murphy said. "They are as much a menace as the speeder."

Houston Quiet After Campaign To Stop Noises

HOUSTON.—Noise has been "nipped in the bud" in Houston, Police Chief Payne stated.

A day after police began enforcement of the new anti-noise ordinance the chief said, "Quietest town I ever saw—and the most effective law."

"We have had only a few minor complaints, some of them ridiculous, but haven't made an arrest. The silence is positively deafening."

"Out my way you can hear the grass growing. We're ready for the noise-makers, though. If anyone is disturbed by anything, I hope they call us. The muffler squad will be out right away."

"We're going to keep Houston in this condition of peace and dignity, even after the politicians start yelling for votes."

The Evil We Bring on We Can Wipe Out

Most of us probably failed to notice it, but the fact is that an epoch in American history—an ugly, unsavory epoch, withal—has recently come to a close.

This epoch was that of the gangster. It began about 1920 and petered out a few weeks ago with the bringing to justice of such specimens as Alvin Karpis and "Lucky" Luciano. And in the study of its rise and fall, there is a wealth of illumination about the ways and customs of the American people.

The principal bit of illumination is the not entirely surprising fact that we did it all ourselves. We brought on the era of crime, and we cut it off.

We had gangsters because we were what we were, and we at last taught them who is boss because, by the grace of Providence, we are what we are. The good that is in us and the bad that rides along with it played equal parts in the era of gangsterism.

It is easy to say that we wished the gangster on ourselves by passing the prohibition law. Easy—and inexact. For, although prohibition gave the city tough his chance, he didn't come in out of the void. We had set the stage for him, and given him a spear to carry, long before.

We did that chiefly by forgetting one of the race's oldest axioms—that where there is no vision the people perish.

And there was precious little vision, during those dark and feverish years; or if there was foresight, it was clouded over so that we seldom saw it.

We tolerated slums, crooked politics, fixers of high and low degree, four-flushers, go-getters; we let the wealth-at-any-price spirit steal over us, decided that the man who had the most money must of necessity be the finest citizen, and figured that any city with tall skyscrapers and handsome boulevards must be flourishing.

We were, in other words, on the make pretty steadily. We sowed in disregard of the spirit, and we reaped—among other things—gangsterism. We got just about what we asked for, and we had nobody to blame but ourselves.

But there is a brighter side to it. It didn't, after all, last forever. The country did wake up, finally.

Once more, as of old, it showed that American wrath can be a terrible and deadly thing when it is roused; and it swept over the underworld in an irresistible tide.

The epoch is over, now, but the record remains for us to study. By studying it we can learn something; we can see our own strength and our own weakness, we can learn the price we have to pay for our folly.

FORD V-8 ECONOMY MEANS HIGH

"Dollar Mileage"

MORE MILES PER DOLLAR

- ONLY THE FORD V-8 GIVES YOU ALL OF THESE FEATURES
- 1 V-8 ENGINE PERFORMANCE WITH ECONOMY
 - 2 SUPER-SAFETY MECHANICAL BRAKES
 - 3 WELDED STEEL BODY—STEEL STRUCTURE AS WELL AS SURFACE
 - 4 SAFETY GLASS ALL AROUND AT NO EXTRA CHARGE
 - 5 CENTER-POISE RIDING COMFORT.

NO MATTER how you classify your expenditures for car up-keep—it's your total expenditure that counts. How much "dollar mileage" is your car giving you?

Dollars do go farther in the Ford V-8. Modern improved carburetion gives you unusual gasoline mileage with brilliant V-8 performance. Most owners of today's Ford change oil only at 2000-mile intervals and never add a drop between changes. And after the first few thousand miles you know what Ford V-8 "dollar mileage" really means.

It gives you more miles per dollar because it gives you all-round economy—low first cost, low up-keep cost, low depreciation and long life—as well as low gasoline and oil consumption. All these help to make the Ford V-8 the most economical car.

VICTOR HUGO'S IN LOS ANGELES. The world of fashion calls Victor Hugo's charming Garden Room "Paris in Los Angeles." And, as the diners pause to enjoy their Camels, Hugo says: "Our guests know fine tobacco. They have made Camels the outstanding favorite here."

ON THE RYDER CUP TEAM. Henry Picard (right) is rated the best golfer at full iron shots. "I know that Camels set you right!" he says. "Smoking Camels aids my digestion. And Camels never get on my nerves."

"YOU KNOW WHAT nervousness and eating fast can do to digestion," says Claire Huntington, public stenographer. "I find that smoking Camels makes food taste better and helps digestion."

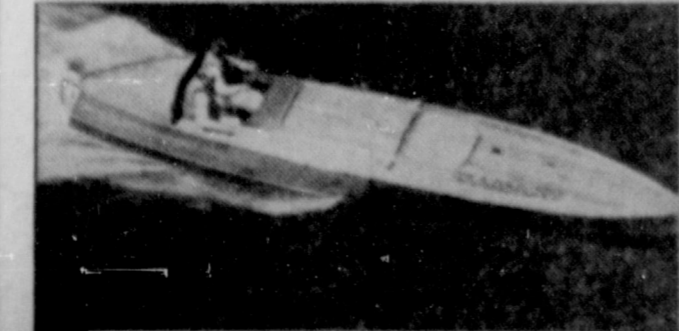

Camels stimulate digestion in a pleasant, natural way . . . increase alkalinity

The human digestion responds unfavorably to nervousness and strain. It is definitely encouraged by smoking Camels.

Scientific studies show clearly the manner in which Camels aid digestion. Using sensitive apparatus, it is possible to measure accurately the increase in digestive fluids—alkaline digestive fluids—that follows the enjoyment of Camel's costlier tobaccos.

For a cheery "lift" and for digestion's sake, enjoy Camels. They never get on your nerves. They are gentle on your throat. You'll like the firmness of Camels too—no loose shreds annoy you.

During and after meals, Camels bring a sense of well-being and good feeling. That's why people say: "for Digestion's sake... smoke Camels"

GOLD-CUP WINNER! George Reis won the trophy three times! "I'm a Camel smoker," says this outstanding speed-boat driver. "I eat heartily, smoke Camels, and enjoy that feeling of well-being that goes with good digestion. Camels set me right!"

MRS. WM. I. HOLLINGSWORTH, JR., popular Californian, well-known in New York and London society, says: "Camels are so mild. They please my taste and aid digestion."

COSTLIER TOBACCOS!
Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

Universal Hunting Regulations Urged By a Federation

PALESTINE—Universal hunting and fishing license and regulatory powers for the Texas legislature toward game control are the chief advocates of the new Texas Wild Life Federation. T. W. Sharpe, of Austin, declared.

Sharpe appeared before members of the Anderson county chapter of the federation and outlined the salient points of the program. Predicting passage of a bill next session that will give the Texas legislature power to regulate game-taking as to size, species, bag limit and territory, Sharpe said that out of 650,000 hunters and fishermen in Texas only about 65,000 pay licenses.

"In other words," the secretary said, "the man who pays a hunting or fishing license is not only paying his own way but is also paying for nine others." As an example of the damage from lack of state territorial regulation, he cited an incident in West Texas when a drouth almost exterminated prairie chickens. Still, he said, hunters could legally kill the game because there was no law to protect it.

Sharpe said there was a strong possibility that when Texas is organized solidly for game conservation, which is now the aim of the federation, the federal government will sponsor wild life sanctuaries, breeding grounds and national game preserves in the state.

He mentioned that the federal government had purchased 450,000 acres for this purpose in Houston county, but added that the state is not yet ready to do its part toward conservation.

Before the Palestine sportmen, Sharpe showed several movie-reels, showing the restoration of game in Pennsylvania.

The federation secretary said the federal government is working hand-in-hand with the Texas Wild Life Federation.

Spark Plug One Of Important Parts Of an Automobile

The spark plug may seem to be an insignificant bit of equipment, but it plays a mighty important part in making the car run smoothly and economically. As G. J. Moore of Moore Auto Mart, Hudson and Terraplane dealer here, says: "Spark plugs can make an 'old plug' out of your car, or keep it as fit as a race horse.

"If the spark plugs are kept clean, with the points properly adjusted, a sweet-running motor will result, providing the rest of the car is in shape mechanically," said Moore, "but if they are neglected, then excessive gas consumption and even a 'bucking' motor may be looked for.

"Poor acceleration, misfiring, spark knock or pre-ignition, hard starting and engine overheating are a few of the conditions that may be attributed to neglect in the care of the plugs.

"Spark plugs should be cleaned periodically, for any plug will become at least partially fouled with long service. Fouling consists in coating the firing tip of the porcelain to an extent which makes it easier for the high tension ignition current to pass along the porcelain to the shell than it is to spark across the gap between the electrodes. It may be caused by excessive oil in the combustion chamber or by continuous operation at low speeds or long periods of idling the engine."

Moore emphasized the importance of using as far as possible the same kind of plug as that used in the original equipment, pointing out that car manufacturers spend considerable time and money to determine the proper plug.

"However," he said, "the one plug can suit all operating conditions of a given engine, and changes in driving conditions may occasionally demand a different kind of plug. The plug specified for a given engine will not cause pre-ignition under normal operating conditions, but if the carburetor mixture is lean or the ignition timing late, pre-ignition may occur. This may also happen if a slight leak has developed either between the control electrode and the porcelain or between the porcelain and the shell. What might appear to be only a very small leak will increase the temperature of the firing tip of the porcelain to a point where pre-ignition will result. In order to meet these conditions, however, spark plug manufacturers have provided plugs which, under given conditions, will operate with the lower end of the porcelain at different temperatures. Therefore, if continued difficulty is experienced, it is wise to consult an authorized service station to see if a change may be advisable."

Moore stressed the importance of spark plug maintenance from a standpoint of safety. "With safety being stressed more than ever," he said, "it is important that every motorist keep his car in the best of driving condition, and a car that is slow to accelerate, due to fouled plugs, cannot be termed a 'safe' car."

Legionnaires and the Story of Their World War Experiences

Private William C. Fontaine as he appeared in camp at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., in April, 1918, prior to sailing overseas.

WILLIAM C. FONTAINE

Editor's Note: This is the sixteenth of a series of World War biographies being written by B. H. Peacock, Commander of the American Legion Post of Ranger, covering the experiences of members of the local Post. The biography of another veteran will appear in next Sunday's issue.

The employment of the Signal Corps in the winning of the World War was a real achievement in itself, and no doubt but that many of the all-important contributions which these battalions have made have gone unsung with the average reader. Modern warfare, together with that of World War days, would be utterly impossible were it not for the application of the signal branch in the development and maintenance of communication lines between the directing and operating forces.

For William C. Fontaine, 22, of Kaukauna, Wis., it became a real task, rather than a requirement, to become numbered in the armed forces of his country. He weighed only 109 pounds, so both the combat branch of the army, as well as the navy, saw fit to reject his application to serve. But for the signal branch, the story was different. On February 26, 1918, through the assistance of the Wisconsin advisory board, Fontaine was allowed to take the oath of allegiance and to proceed at once to Fort Leavenworth for further orders. Being naturally equipped by training, it was only logical that he should be assigned to Company D of the 413th Telegraph Battalion. His previous experience in the shops and telegraph operating stations of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad was therefore ample evidence to the United States Army Signal Corps that it could accept and use his services to advantage.

Fontaine, though at that time, a Wisconsin by adoption, was born and reared in the wide open spaces of the great Southwest. At the age of four, the lad was orphaned through the death of his father. Shortly thereafter, the mother together with her young son and two small daughters, removed from their home near Waco, Texas, to join her father on his farm near the little community known as Nocona in Montague County. After seven years in this community, the family together with young William removed to the town of Walters, Okla. By this time, though still a youth, William decided to make his own mark in the world and he was soon employed as a station helper with the Union Pacific Railroad at Luray, Kan. From there he went to Sheboygan Falls in Wisconsin to work in the machine shops and telegraph offices of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad.

Though orphaned early in youth, fate had been good to him and the training which he received in his chosen vocation stood him in good stead during the months that were to follow on the western front in France.

The 413th Telegraph Battalion, in which Fontaine was attached, was in the main made up of employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The outfit enjoyed the most interesting trip overland from Fort Leavenworth via Niagara Falls and Canada to Camp Mills and Hoboken.

Anchors were weighed in the harbor of Hoboken, N. J., at 7 p. m., on June 10, 1918, and the outfit was off for the great adventure. The U. S. S. Agamemnon and the President Lincoln together with two other smaller ships, formed the convoy that was to make the trip in the then fast sailing time of some eight days.

"The Agamemnon," stated Fontaine, "was the converted Imperial German liner, the Kaiser Wilhelm II, and had been taken in charge at the outbreak of the war by the United States. On this particular trip, she carried a total load of 7,100 men of the service, of which 4,500 were colored and 1,500 white soldiers, and 1,100 sailors of the crew."

Some four or five days after the landing at Brest, the outfit was transferred to the A. E. F. Signal Corps Headquarters at Tours. At this point, the battalion training was continued with only one break in the schedule, insofar as Private Fontaine was concerned. It happened to be July 14, which was known as Bastille Day in all of France. In fact, it was their July 4. Fontaine, together with several of his buddies, received his first leave on this occasion. Angiers, France, was their destination—and what a celebration. Parades, band concerts, and the like reminded the visiting doughboys of the historical reference to the time then long since past, when the famous Bastille was stormed. It was an epochal occasion for the French republic, and was celebrated once each year by the populace.

The next day (July 15) twenty-one signalmen, including Private Fontaine, under the direction of Lieutenant McCormick, were detached from the American Army and assigned to operate with and under the French Fourth Army command. It was with a degree of reluctance, naturally, that the lieutenant and his twenty-one men should leave their buddies for what proved later to be the balance of the war. But the occasion was the winning of the World War for the Allies, and a natural inclination to follow the dictates of their command as typical American soldiers.

The detachment, after three days of driving, arrived at Oleans by truck on July 18, and were immediately billeted in the Forty-fifth French Artillery barracks. And it was in this historical city of Oleans that Private Fontaine experienced his big moment of the great conflict.

"Our group had accepted an invitation to supper with the American hospital unit that was stationed at this point. It happened to be a very pleasant evening, spent in company with the doctors, nurses, and hospital attendants who were stationed here. But shortly after supper, news arrived that the battle of Chateau-Thierry was well under way, and the unit was ordered to prepare all available space for the reception and treatment of the wounded. We pitched in and assisted in every way possible, and it was well into the night before the schools and other public buildings were in proper order and equipped to receive the patients. By midnight, the ambulance trains began to arrive with the injured and dying, and by 8:00 a. m. the following morning, we had placed a total of 488 wounded doughboys in the wards as the result of the first day's fighting in this world-renowned battle. Yes, it was truly a big moment, but a very sad one, seeing those hundreds of the flowers of young American manhood as they were brought in maimed and mangled, and many of them were never to recover. That was my first, but most lasting vivid impression of the war, which will remain in my memory as long as I live."

The chief employment of Fontaine and his fellow signalmen of the detachment from that time on during the course of the war consisted in the installation and maintenance of approximately forty-five miles of communication lines between Oleans and Montargis. "One of the French signal officers supervised and directed our work," stated Fontaine. "Like all other nationals, the French had their own eccentricities, and this officer was no exception. Regardless of speed, he would insist that the cross arms on the telegraph poles be at precisely the exact specified angle; the poles at the precise specified depth; and other details in the same order of exactness. And of course every soldier well knows that this is not the method or theory of the American soldier, for with him speed goes hand in hand with practical efficiency."

The extra-curricular work of every soldier that served in France had its own particular human interest angle. The experience that stood out in Fontaine's recollection was that of a fire and explosion that followed in its wake in one of the French villages. An ammunition factory and storehouse of hand-grenades near the city of Montargis caught fire and shortly blew up in a terrifying explosion. Fontaine and his buddies of the detachment were ordered to the scene after the explosions had subsided to assist in fighting the fire that was raging in the village. For several hours the old reliable bucket brigade worked with speed and precision, but not until quite a portion of the plant and village had been wrecked and destroyed. "It was quite pitiful, though comical," stated Fontaine, "to note the expressions of despair among the French as the results of their months of toil stored up in their wine supplies spent itself in the butters. For it ran like so much water down the streets after the containers had been punctured from the explosions and fire."

The roll call of the outfit indicated that only one man of the 413th had "gone west" over there. He was a corporal of Company E, and had gone with a detachment to carry some signal material into the lines. Not having had the experience of the doughboys in the trenches, he failed to use the precaution necessary and was killed from a German sniper's bullet. "My most unique experience," recalled Fontaine, "was the witnessing of a court-martial of some fifteen French Algerian soldiers by officers of the French army. At the conclusion of the ceremony, a French officer proceeded quite informally to cut off the insignia from the Algerians' uniforms, after which he proceeded further to tea the lining from each of their caps. The significance of removing their insignia was apparent, but the removing of the lining of their caps probably was a secret to them."

On November 11, 1918, the war ended for Fontaine as with the thousands of others. Fontaine and his buddies enjoyed to the fullest about ten days of "off-duty" and celebrating, and according to good logic, the job must have been well done. Thanksgiving and Christmas with their attendant joviality and celebrations broke the monotony for the boys, and on April 16, 1919, the 413th Signal Battalion, A. E. F., embarked from Bordeaux on the U. S. S. Texan.

"The Bay of Biscay proved plenty rough," stated Fontaine, "and the gentle art of 'feeding the fish' was participated in by, oh, so many doughboys."

An unusual little document which in substance were Private Fontaine's special orders, consisted of the troop billet card. Among other things, it told him where to go and what to do while on board ship on his return to America. It reads as follows:

"U. S. S. TEXAN—TROOP BILLET
"Compartment E, Hatch 6, Deck 3, Bunk Number 79
"Parade Station near Hatch 6, Weather Deck Port Side
"In case of an emergency stand fast and keep quiet. If abandon ship call is sounded, fall in, on parade station on the weather deck. In actually abandoning ship, troops go over the knotted ropes provided, and are picked out of the water by boats and rafts.
"Wear your life preserver at all times.
"Wear your haversack at all times, with mess kit stowed in it.
"Keep this card in your pocket."

On April 28, the battalion landed at Hoboken, went through Mill No. 2 (delouser); paraded in Jersey City; went thence to Camp Dix; and shortly thereafter found Fontaine and a number of his buddies transferred to Camp Grant, Illinois, where on May 9, 1919, they were honorably discharged from the service.

For Fontaine, the war was a great and somewhat exciting adventure. The pursuits of peace, however, brought him back to his old home at Walters, Okla., where on May 18, 1919, he entered the employ of Lone Star Gas Company as a time-keeper in the pipe line department under the direction of the late F. B. Barton. On January 15, 1931, he was transferred to the gas measurement department at Shamrock, Texas. In 1932 he was again transferred and moved with his family to Ranger, Texas, at which place he has resided since that time.

On November 10, 1920, Mr. Fontaine became married to Miss Lora Sismore of Hulen, Okla., and to this union, one child, Monette, 5, was born.

It has been said that a good soldier in time of war will develop into a good citizen in time of peace. For the many friends and acquaintances who know him, his record has proven that he has made a good soldier, and the quiet, unpretentious, and straightforward bearing of William C. Fontaine as a citizen has endeared him to his neighbors and friends.

TEXAS HISTORY TEST WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Mrs. John E. Speer, Rt. 3, Box 309, Amarillo, whose husband is principal of the Pleasant Valley school, wins the $100 first prize in the eighth of a series of nine Texas history contests sponsored by the makers of Post cereals, the contest judges announce. Mrs. Speer's winning answer to a question dealing with the early activities of the Texas Rangers was best among thousands of entries sent in from all parts of Texas.

Mrs. Lenora Lane, Texarkana, was awarded the $75 second prize. The third prize of $50 goes to Frank Eggell, rancher and business man, of Big Spring.

Winners of the ten $10 awards are: B. B. Hoskins, Jr., Gonzales; Mrs. Emily Cole, Houston; A. B. Lewis, Amarillo; M. C. Bryson, El Paso; Mrs. C. M. Miller, Ben Franklin; Mrs. C. R. Bones Disclose An Ancient Indian Multiple Birth

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Discovery of the birth of Indian twins 15 centuries ago is as important an event to Pennsylvania archeologists as the birth of the Dionne quintuplets was to the world.

Skeletons of the infant aborigine twins, uncovered recently by WPA workers in an ancient burial ground near Somerset, Pa., are believed to be the first of their kind in the United States.

Unearthing of the twins born among the Indian tribes which roamed what is now Somerset county opens a new chapter in archeological research. Dr. Donald A. Cadzow, state archeologist, who made positive identification of the skeletons, pointed out that while multiple births among the Indians 1,500 years ago were rare, to find the remains of Indian twins of that period is "without precedent in archeological work."

FLOWER HAS PEDIGREE MEDFORD, Ore.—Oregon has considerable reason for believing its state flower, the "Oregon grape" is of native origin. Dr. G. A. Arnold, paleobotanist at the state university, has established the fact that it has been growing for the past 30,000,000 years.

In new water taps, red and blue will be used instead of the old "hot" and "cold." And if the water comes out cold, the water will be blue, too.

"Fold Into the Beaten Whites"

Just knowing the ingredients of an Angel Food cake doesn't enable a woman to bake a good one—for the MIXING is so important. Perhaps you haven't realized that prescriptions, unlike recipes, usually give the ingredients only, and leave it to the pharmacist to know how to combine them properly.

With many prescriptions, as with Angel Food Cake recipe, this knowledge of HOW to combine the ingredients is vital.

The pharmacists at this store always "know how." They study new drugs, learn how to combine them properly with other drugs. This precaution is your best health protection.

THE finch family is scattered all over the world, with the exception of Australia. In the United States alone there are some two-hundred species and subspecies. These birds are seed eaters, and of great value to farmers of many countries. All members of the finch family have twelve feathers in their tails.

Be Careful July 4 To Avoid Tragedy

AUSTIN. — On July 4, 1936, Texas will celebrate along with the State's Centennial year, the one hundred and sixtieth anniversary of National Independence.

Thousands of visitors will be in Texas on this National Holiday, and it is up to loyal Texans to do everything possible to see that this day brings pleasure and not tragedy to our visitors and ourselves, says a warning from the State Department of Health.

Springs; Foxhall A. Parker, Houston to minimize the joys of this nation-wide holiday," said Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, "it is only common sense to respect hazards to life and limb, and to govern one's actions accordingly.

"Not so many years ago the newspapers on each July 5 would publish columns detailing the tragedies that were invariably associated with the handling of dangerous fireworks by careless persons. For a number of years now, however, the press has been placing particular emphasis on the need for a "Safe and Sane Fourth of July," with the result that accidents of this kind have decreased.

"All injuries, however slight, may carry the lock-jaw or tetanus

Army is Proud of Big Naval Guns Guarding Hawaii

By United Press

HONOLULU.—The army uses navy guns to guard Oahu, the island on which lies the largest military concentration under the American flag.

This paradox of coast defense is due to diplomats and the formulation of the Washington Treaty. The treaty banned the addition of 16-inch guns on battleships, so the surplus "rifles" were turned over to the army.

Two of these guns, mounted on carriages constructed by the army's ordnance department, were proof fired recently at Fort Barrette, 20 miles west of Honolulu, guarding the western approach to the island.

Their performance showed strikingly their defense capabilities in time of emergency. Each is capable of hurling a 2,100-pound projectile over a maximum range of 45,000 yards—nearly 26 miles. They can be swung around and elevated to a maximum of 55 degrees.

Hence they could drop a shell at nearly any spot on a line described by the perimeter of the island, guarding it from attack from virtually every side.

The guns weigh 140 tons each and are as large as any in the world.

Army experts believe they are of infinitely more value for defense than the lighter, mobile anti-aircraft guns and indicate they may recommend construction of similar batteries at other points.

A similar battery at Fort Weaver now guards the entrance to Pearl Harbor, the navy's mighty mid-Pacific base.

These guns are capable of firing 200 round without being dismantled. Thus each of them could throw 200 tons of steel at an enemy fleet.

You never know what he's going to do next, so you can imagine the surprise that the stowaway aboard the Queen Mary wasn't Zinchenko.

Former West Texas League Player is Now a Candidate

KAL SEGRIST

Kal Segrist, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, in the July primary, and who can claim several qualifications no other candidate for the office can claim, was a visitor here Monday in the interest of his candidacy.

Segrist, who was reared on a farm near Hico, where he still lives when he is not campaigning, not only can claim several qualifications for the job but he is:

The only ex-service man in the race for the office;

The only candidate for the office who has attended an agricultural college.

The only ex-Texas League baseball player who has ever run for a state office;

And the youngest man to enter the race for agricultural commissioner.

Segrist, who is 39 years of age, played sandlot baseball around Hico, graduating to the old West Texas League, where he played one year before being bought by Dallas. He played third base six years for Dallas and one year for San Antonio, before going to Omaha to manage the Omaha club. For a few years he managed ball clubs, the last being at Midland, before he returned to his farm near Hico to become a dirt farmer.

But before becoming a ball player and a farmer he attended John Tarleton, served in the army during the World War and then entered Simmons University at Abilene. After securing his education he turned to baseball for a few years.

Chief planks in Segrist's platform are:

- To appoint a state honorary agricultural advisory board, without pay, composed of leading citizens representing the various farming sections of the state. The board will have 14 members, one from the Panhandle grain section; one from the West Texas sheep and goat area; one from the fruit section of the Rio Grande; one from the rice section of South Texas; one from the diversified farming section of East Texas; two from cotton belt; one dairyman; one poultryman; one florist; one nurseryman; one from the agricultural colleges and one man at large. This board will be designed to keep Segrist in touch with agricultural conditions and needs throughout the entire state.
- To distribute to the best advantage the jacks and stallions among the farmers of Texas.
- To cooperate and work with the A & M College, John Tarleton, Texas Tech, North Texas Agricultural College and the Vocational Agricultural departments of the high schools in every way possible as well as with county agents and 4-H clubs.
- To devote to the several divisions under his supervision the attention they deserve, each according to its importance.

"Farming is important to our city population no less than it is to our rural," Segrist said, "because their interests are too vitally related in the phase of producer and consumer. I seek the office of agricultural commissioner of this large farming state with full comprehension of the importance of the office. I shall always and all along face its problems with a very definite understanding of its duties and my obligations to perform them."

Counseling . . . with the bonus boys!

Most of you have received your "Bonus Money." You have probably been told many times what to do with it—no one knows better than you what your desires are in regard to YOUR OWN money.

Here are just a few simple suggestions:

Save as many of the bonds as possible. There is no better investment than U. S. government bonds and they will bear 3 per cent interest. When you cash the bonds use the money to buy what you need and can afford.

Pay up your past due accounts! Get out of debt, stay out of debt for things you cannot afford, re-establish your credit 100 per cent. There is no better rating than a "good pay" record.

Just this other word—DO YOU OWN YOUR HOME? There is no investment that brings any more joy, happiness and pleasure than the purchase of your own home. Think these things over and if we can be of service in any way call by the bank and we shall be glad to counsel with you.
