CHICAGO, June 29.—One hun-million dollars worth of crops ravaged by insects and withering under a scorching sun today in the west.
The United Press survey discusses the damage to crops in states which have cost at $100,000,000.
in fell in a scattered section the week-end, but in most ons it was feared the rains too late, or too light to save up crops or kill the hoard of ets which have stripped leaves stalks and left barren fields.
The double-edged menace spread ss the agricultural section in a ngle, the United Press survey
wed. It reached south to Okoma, Kentucky, Arkansas, Miss-ppi and west to the Rockies.
Heavy losses resulted from raughts in the Southeast. Hower, recent rains replenished the ched soil there and the prolong-drought greatly reduced the in-est pest menace. The central part Canada's wheat belt suffered om drought.

Judgment Rendered
County By Court
Judgment of $138.17 was rendered for Eastland county and the State of Texas against Carrie Waters and husband, D. E. Waters, of Cisco, by 91st district court, Tuesday.
The court found that a previous valuation of lots 5 to 21, inclusive, of subdivision 1 of block No. 108 at Cisco from 1924 to 1935, inclusive was exorbitant and decided $500 was a reasonable valuation of the defendant's property. The $138.17 judgment represented what the court determined the reasonable taxes for the 1924-35 period.

Dangerous Nail Is Pulled from Lung

His life menaced by a three-inch nail that lodged in his lung more than a year ago, three-year-old Kelvin Rodgers (above) made a 53-day trip to Philadelphia from Australia to the bronchospas clinic of Dr. Chevalier Jackson. Only seven minutes were required to remove the nail in a bloodless operation.

Persons who become 21 years of age after Feb. 1 and prior to elections will be eligible to vote even though they did not obtain an exemption certificate before Feb. 1, according to George H. Sheppard, comptroller of public accounts, who sent the county tax assessor an interpretation of a conference opinion by Attorney General McCraw.

Chief Deputy Clyde S. Karkas pointed out the following part of Sheppard's letter which applied to this county:

"Young persons not residing in a city of 10,000 inhabitants or more, and who become 21 years of age prior to Feb. 1, 1936, should have obtained an exemption certificate prior to that date in order to vote.

"If they have become 21 years of age since Feb. 1st, or will become 21 years of age prior to elections during the year in which they offer to vote they will be entitled to vote, even though they did not obtain an exemption certificate prior to Feb. 1."

Educator Buried At Rising Star

RISING STAR, July 1.—Funeral services were conducted here Monday afternoon for George T. Barnes, 64, former president of Daniel Baker College in Brownwood and a member of the first graduating class of that school. He died in Baptist hospital, Dallas, Sunday.

He was a pioneer educational and civic leader in Central Texas, having been superintendent of the Rising Star schools. At the time of his death he was president of the school board here. He was a former secretary of the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce, and was engaged in the dairy business.

Funeral services were held in the First Baptist church.

Mr. Barnes is survived by his widow and the following children: Homer Barnes, Hereford; Mrs. Gaston Green, Gustine; Jack Barnes, Rising Star; Charles Barnes, Rising Star.

Also surviving are these brothers and sisters: Ross Barnes, Fort Worth; Pete Barnes, Des Moines, N. M.; Jim Barnes, Shawnee, Okla.; Joe Barnes, Rising Star; Mrs. Alice Holmes, Louisville; Mrs. G. G. Foster, Rising Star; Mrs. J. W. Smith, Rising Star; Mrs. Bernice Richardson, Oklahoma City.

Outfits That Are Fun to Wear

These are the days of bathing suits and beach wear. If you didn't go out and complete your vacation wardrobe a month or two ago, you can have fun doing it now. Not only should you enjoy your belated tours to sports departments, but telling your more energetic friends about the marvelous bargains you've found ought to be pretty amusing, too. These bathing suits are fashioned from soft woolen. The one on the left comes in a rather conservative chenille weave. The other is a woolen pebble melleasse. Both can be ordered in a variety of flatter-in colors. Both have uplift-effect bodices which makes the wearers' waistline seem twice as slender.

Profits Mounting For the Australian Growers of Wool

SYDNEY, Australia—American advertising methods are to be used this year to push the world-wide sale of the Australian wool crop.

A first attempt last year at advertising produced such astonishing results that all of the wool growers this year consented to a voluntary levy of 25 cents on each bale of wool for advertising purposes.

The experimental 1935 advertising campaign resulted in a 72 per cent increase in sales. The campaign was carried on along the lines of creating new fashions and consequently new demands in woolen wear.

The 1936-1936 Australian wool crop thus far brought $222,515,980 with only 6 per cent still unsold.

Growers are convinced that advertising can be made to pay for the reason that an increase of only 2 cents a pound in the market value of their wool would bring them another $18,750,000.

Legislator Gives Pledge to Correct Age Pension Laws

George A. Davison Jr., candidate for re-election to the legislature for the 106th district, Saturday in speeches at Gorman, Cisco, and Ranger, "dedicated" himself to "correction" of the old age pension.

"The old age pension," said Davison, "as originally written by Mr. Calvert, Mr. Hoffheinz and myself was amended by the senate so that it does not conform to the constitutional amendment by the people. I dedicate myself to the correction and the adjustment of these discrepancies as they now exist in the old age pension."

Davison predicted that unemployment insurance will become a reality since the constitutionality of the social security act has been upheld. He said the house unanimously reported the bill he wrote on unemployment insurance during the 44th legislature.

"I passed a bill," Davison told audiences, "for the conservation of the waters of the Leon river and the reclamation of the lands heretofore devastated by seasonal floods and these waters will be used for the benefit of the agriculturists of this county."

WORLD SUPPLY OF WHEAT LOW SURVEY SHOWS

WASHINGTON, July 1.—In the midst of drought that has ravaged the northwest spring wheat section, the Bureau of Agriculture reported the world wheat supply on July 11 was the smallest in nine years.

The bureau estimated the July 1 wheat crop in the United States will be about 125,000,000 bushels, the smallest since July 1, 1928.

The bureau estimated the surplus in principal exporting companies on July 1 at 538,000,000 bushels compared with 532,000,000 bushels a year ago 741,000,000 in 1934 and 789,000,000 an all-time peak in the summer of 1933.

Survey to Start From Breck For Brazos Project

BRECKENRIDGE, July 1.—Work preliminary to construction of the second of the system of dams representing parts of the Brazos river authority's proposed system will open by July 10, with headquarters here for the surveying engineers.

The dam will be located, according to preliminary plans, in the southwest corner of Throckmorton to form a lake that would cover parts of Throckmorton, Shackelford and Haskell counties.

Maj. E. Haquinus, chief engineer, announced he was moving from Mineral Wells to Breckenridge with a staff of six. He has been engaged in the surveys of the Possum Kingdom dam in Palo Pinto county.

The Throckmorton county dam, officially termed the Breckenridge dam, will cover several thousand acres. It will be part of the $20,000,000 conservation program of the state, to which $50,000,000 in federal aid has been promised.

The work on the dams is being continued despite a suit brought by several Texas utilities companies against the creation of hydro-electric power by use of the dams.

Alf Surely Is 'Landon' Em

The finny denizens of Cow Creek, near Estes Park, Colo., just haven't a chance these days. Gov. Alf Landon's eyes gleam with pleasure as he studies another of the trout he has been capturing with as much ease as he landed the presidential nomination.

Iron Bar Falls, Rips Shirt But Misses Worker

BONNEVILLE, Ore. — The "Crowbar Case," famous in medical history, nearly had another one to rival it here in what is probably the outstanding freak accident on the Bonneville Dam.

A concrete worker was standing on a heavy timber at the base of one of the piers in the main spillway dam. Above him a crew was stripping forms from the pier top, 60 feet from the ground. One of the strippers accidentally dropped his crowbar, a five-foot, straight, pointed bar.

It dropped like an arrow, pierced the brim of the concrete worker's hat, shot down between his heavy coat and his underwear, and literally pinned him to the timber when it came out the seat of his trousers and stuck in the wood. The point of the bar was buried more than three inches in the heavy timber, yet it had never touched the man's skin. He was treated at the emergency hospital for shock.

Revival is Urged For Old Hawaiian Body Massaging

HONOLULU.—The lost art of Hawaiian body shaping if revived would beat modern beauty treatments, Lalani Hawaiian village instructors believe.

Ancient Hawaiians shaped the bodies of their children by skillful massage. Even heads were shaped according to standards of anatomy.

"The soft, formative body of the newborn child was constantly massaged so that eyes, head, fingers, toes and other parts of the body were beautifully formed with greatest care," one instructor said.

"The head was well formed partly by having a child sleep on both sides. Eyes were beautified by massage with thumb and forefinger dipped in kukui oil. Fingers and toes were taped by massaging."

"Babies were partly buried in the sand and made to struggle freely, thus giving early strength especially to lower limbs."

Both sexes learned grace thru the hula. Men received rigorous military training. Women surfed and swam as well as the men.

Only By World Peace Can We Allay Fears

If a good dose of fright can persuade the people of England to rush down the paths of militarism, Alfred Duff Cooper, England's war minister, proposes to see that the dose is applied.

Mr. Duff Cooper has been having trouble getting enough men to enlist in the army under the expansion program recently adopted by the British government. So he told a London luncheon meeting the other day:

"It is difficult to persuade our own people of the dangers that lie ahead. We are told we should never frighten people. But it is the duty of those in authority to frighten the people of this country out of their wits.

It is strange thing, the way the mind of man sometimes works.

Here we have a member of the British cabinet proclaiming that the nation is in greater danger now than it was on the eve of the World War; and yet the only solution that occurs to him is the solution of 1914—warships, guns and airplanes—which nearly wrecked the civilization of the whole world.

Mr. Duff Cooper speaks of "facing facts." The most notable fact about 1914 would seem to be that the nations of the world, having followed selfishly nationalistic policies with a blind disregard of the dangers involved, finally got themselves to a point where they had to fight their way out, a process which came within a hair's-breadth of ruining all of them. And yet it is precisely this fact which the gentleman seems unable to face.

How the human race, with the dreadful object lesson of 1914 so fresh in its memory, can even dream of repeating that experience is one of the greatest mysteries of all history.

It may be, as Mr. Duff Cooper says, that what people need is to be frightened out of their wits. But the result might not be what he expects. It might, indeed, be the exact opposite, to the everlasting doom of the militarists of all nations.

For if the plain people of the world could once understand the holocaust that seems to be in preparation for them, and could fear it as they ought to fear it, they might take their assorted statesmen by the scruff of their assorted necks and tell them:

"Here—we want no more of that, at any price. Get together and settle things, somehow, anyhow—no matter what it costs you or us. The world has lived under the law of the jungle long enough. Find a new way—or get out of the way for someone who can."

Why Gulf is the Gas for the Fourth

GROWN-UPS SHOULD CELEBRATE the Fourth too! Drive somewhere. Do things. But to get maximum mileage use a gasoline that's made specially for July weather conditions in this district. If you don't, part of your fuel will blow out the exhaust unburned, wasted. That Good Gulf Gas is "Kept in Step with the Calendar"—its chemical formula is suited to the season. That's why all of it goes to work, none of it goes to waste. Try a tankful!

ANNUAL PICNIC OF LONE STAR 'ONE OF BEST'

Appreciation for courtesies of Eastland extended at the seventh annual Lone Star system picnic Saturday was expressed Monday by committee members who had charge of the program. Attendance was estimated at 1,000.

Central West Texas Oil Field

DISTRICT'S OIL QUOTA SHIFTED

ABILENE.—Schedules of allowable production of oil for the West Texas district, received here this week for the June 21-July 20 period, show revision in the top allowable basis with resultant drop in the actual allowable production.

Excluding the south half of Jack county—added to district 7-B last month—the 15 county districts was cut 2,113 barrels daily allowable for the district at 33,172 barrels.

Allocation factor for determining the allowable from the potential of wells was lowered from 20 per cent for all less than 2,000 feet, to a standard 10.6 per cent throughout the district.

Top allowable basis was lowered from 100 barrels to 90 barrels on the wells producing from less than 3,000 feet; and from 150 barrels to 135 barrels on wells producing from more than 3,000 feet.

Counties affected are: Brown, Callahan, Coleman, Comanche, Eastland, Erath, Fisher, Haskell, south of Jack, Jones, Paloalf Jack, south half of Jack, Jones, Palo Pinto, Shackelford, Throckmorton, Stephens, Taylor, and the south half of Young.

Delegations from the United States and Mexico participated.

TEST NEAR DE LEON READY FOR SPUDDING

DE LEON.—A new oil and gas test in the eye of spudding on the Ree McGinnis tract, 1250 feet east of the Carter No. 1, Haynes, four miles west of this city. This well will be known as the Carter No. 2. The Carter No. 1 was completed six weeks ago and the Railroad Commission test revealed that the well has been completed with a production of 19,000,000 feet of gas daily. It is one of the strongest gassers in this entire section.

The Carter No. 1 has been sold by Mr. Carter to the Southwest Gas Co.

The new location, about 500 feet south of the north line of the McGinnis tract, and about the center of the tract, has been geologically reported as likely for oil. The test will be watched for possible oil production, as well as the practical certainty that it will produce gas in paying quantities.

The test well was drilled with a Fort Worth Spudder. Lowe & Delaney, drilling contractors, will use a National machine capable of drilling 5,000 feet on the second well, however, the contract calls for around 2800.

C. C. Ham, Cozanche county Attorney, is owner of the McGinnis mine.

Negro Car Thief A Little Careless Picking Customer

DALLAS.—A negro buttonholed Detective E. L. Warnack in the Dallas downtown business area.

"I can get you any kind of an automobile you want for a little money if you're interested," he confided.

Detective Warnack, whose duties consist of arresting automobile thieves and recovering stolen machines, admitted he was interested slightly.

The negro then said, "We'll have to drive a short distance out of town. I've got a car there I stole."

Detective Warnack considered. "Well," he said, "wait until I call my brother. He's got a car."

The officer went to a telephone and called headquarters and asked for his "brother." The "brother" was Detective M. M. Bullock and the car was a police squad car.

The two detectives and the negro drove into a deserted field north of town, and there found a small coupe hidden behind high grass.

"This is it," the negro said. "So are you," said Detective Warnack, slipping on the handcuffs.

Arrangement at Burr Store Made For Convenience

Completion of removal of its millinery, ladies' ready-to-wear and shoe departments from upstairs to the main floor was announced by the Burr Department Store Thursday by Manager R. L. Ferguson.

The change will be an added convenience for Burr shoppers as they will not have to walk the stairs, which was necessary under the old arrangement.

Adequate lighting, fans and comfortable seats will provide for the comfort of ladies now in the lower floor where the lines have been moved.

WPA Workers' Loss Negligible By New Program

By United Press
ABILENE, July 2.—With notice of apportionment of new funds to this district, WPA's Progress Administration workers have been assured by local officials that little or none of their wages would be lost in transition from the old WPA program to the new.

Some projects will be halted temporarily before this money can reach the field, but assurance has been given that no projects will be shut down for more than two days, while others will operate without interruption.

In the emergency education division, teachers closed classes Tuesday, and no information has been received concerning future operation of the department. Since teachers have been paid a weekly wage, there will necessarily be some loss in pay to them.

One change has been noted in the National Youth Administration setup. Only youths from 18 to 24 years of age, rather than 16 to 24, will be employed on work projects. School aid projects will continue to assist youths from 16 to 25.

In most cases workers will be able to regain all lost time within a few days, thus drawing their usual income. Workmen in district 13 are allowed 140 work hours per month. For this common laborers receive $24 in Taylor, Nolan and Eastland counties, and $21 in the other 10 counties of the district.

Intermediate workers earn $36 in the three counties named and $30 in others. Skilled workmen make $48 and $38 monthly. Cost of operation of WPA is $576 annually per man, the part not going for wages being used in purchasing material. Under the old program cost was $600 per man annually.

That the operation cost is being cut does not indicate that wages are being lowered or increased, but instead more employables per job will be given work. Under the new program hours will be reduced but wages will remain practically the same.

T. L. Cooper Asks County Judge Job

To the citizens of Eastland county:

My friends, you, the voters of Eastland county, have, by your votes and the confidence and trust you have manifested in me, given me the inspiration and courage to seek greater and higher ideals; and our people, and I would like to see Eastland county employ a good trained nurse in order that the boys and girls, who have defects or ailments and whose parents are not financially able to provide the necessary aid and assistance, may have fair and equal opportunities to arrive at manhood and womanhood in the bloom of health, which is most essential in the pursuit of happiness and every success in this life.

I have visited most every farm in Eastland county, many of which are rapidly depreciating in value and productiveness and which could be greatly improved by terracing; and if elected as your county judge, I would favor any feasible plan whereby every farmer could get his land terraced at actual cost by the county.

I believe in a fair and square deal to each and every person, with special favors to none but justice to all.

You are entitled to a fair, honest and efficient administration of the affairs of your county, and I pledge you my word and honor that if you elect me, I shall conduct the affairs of this office on that basis.

Sincerely yours,
T. L. COOPER.

WHEELS OVERHEAD IN CAR OF 2036

When you go for a spin in the park in 2036, your wheels will be over your head instead of under your feet. As a matter of fact, your car will have only one wheel, if we are to credit Mr. H. G. Wells' prognostications for the future as set forth in Alexander Korda's amazing production, "Things To Come," which will be on the screen at the Connellee Theatre Saturday night and Sunday, and that one will run along an elevated structure.

The car itself, the last word in streamlining, will be a cigar-shaped vehicle, suspended by a cable and driven by electricity. As in all his prophecies, Wells' approach to his problem is practical and scientific. The suspended cable-car, by virtue of its single-wheel contact, rather than a four-wheel contact as in surface vehicles, eliminates a great portion of the resistance that is generated from frictional contact. The streamlining, reducing the width of the car, much in the manner of the dirigible, lowers the air resistance.

These cars, according to Mr. Wells, will be used only for the briefest trips, airplanes being the prime means of transportation. In these latter, the author indicates, there will be a vast variety. There will be small cruisers, "joy-buses," and huge super-planes—liners capable of carrying as many passengers as a train. One important improvement that will have a universal effect on air-carriers will be mechanisms to permit practically vertical take-offs and landings. In one scene in "Things To Come," for instance, an auto-gyro is shown which rises vertically into the air to flying height and then proceeds on a straight line. The landing is accomplished in a similar manner—the plane comes to an almost dead standstill, and then descends perpendicularly to land on the proverbial dime.

And while we are on this topic of transportation, we must not neglect to mention Mr. Wells' predictions in the development of the elevator. In 2036 we, or rather our great-great-grandchildren, will ride in pneumatic "lifts," set in motion by compressing or releasing air into a decorative, transparent, glass shaft. Pneumatic elevators have the twin advantages of speed and safety and are not dependent on steel cables, which are subject to accident, but are controlled by automatic safety valves.

"Things To Come," which the distinguished William Cameron Menzies directed for release through United Artists, boasts a cast of 20,000, headed by Raymond Massey, Ralph Richardson, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Pearl Argyle, Margaretta Scott and Patricia Hilliard.

Tone plays opposite the diva in the role of Emperor Francis Josef of Austria, a young monarch in search of a bride; he plays the part in fine fashion. Boquets must also be thrust at Walter Connolly, who once more turns in a bull's-eye performance; Raymond Walburn, an excellent character actor who also, in his short film career, has known no wrong; Victor Jory, Elizabeth Risdon, Nana Bryant, Frieda Inescourt, Thurston Hall and Herman Bing.

The story goes that the young ruler wants a bride, and his ambitious mother selects for him Duke Maximilian's daughter, Helena, without the girl's knowledge or consent. The Duke has always been on bad terms with the Emperor, who law. Wanting to take his daughter in marriage, he takes her to Vienna, where he takes her to the Emperor's court. There the Emperor, a seamstress, falls in love with her just as he has a betrothal to her sister. Naturally things don't go right; but not before the Emperor has filled the throne with her golden hair. Sternberg is responsible for the fine direction; and man for the administration. "The King Steps Out" is a picture, step by step, romance, gaiety and merit.

More Than 60,000 Qualified to Vote In Seventeenth Congressional Race

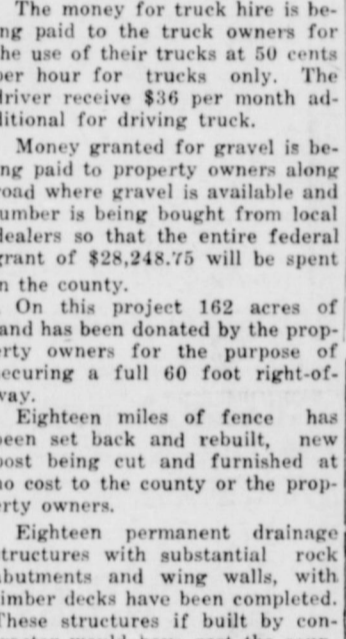

(From Abilene Reporter-News) ABILENE, July 1.—More than 60,000 persons are qualified to cast ballots in the 12 counties of the 17th congressional district in the first democratic primary Saturday, July 25—three weeks from next Saturday. Congressman Thomas L. Blanton of Abilene is opposed for re-nomination by Clyde L. Garrett of Eastland county and Fred O. Jaye of Comanche county. Nearly 51,000 voted in the congressional race two years ago, when Congressman Blanton won another two-year term without necessity of run-off. Basing the estimate upon the 1934 vote, it is expected that the total of ballots cast for congressman in the district will surpass that of 1934.

A GLIMPSE AT STATISTICS

Government statistics recently published revealed the fact that 25 percent of the family budget is used for rentals or home ownership. This may not be true with the case of every individual or correct in every section of the country, but this is the amount set aside by the majority of the American people to take care of these needs, as shown by statistics compiled on the subject by the government.

Bravery in 1803 Brings 1936 Reward

LONDON.—Conspicuous bravery by a naval officer 133 years ago has benefitted his daughters, now 98. On July 14, 1803, J. Gill, master of the H.M.S. Raccoon on the Jamaica Station, played a large part in the capture of the French national brig Lodi at St. Domingo, and lost an arm during the action. Gill, who later attained the rank of Admiral, died in 1874. Admiral Gill's bravery and service to his country was remembered when his indigent daughter applied for assistance to Lloyd's patriotic fund. In view of her father's distinguished service, trustees gladly aided her.

WTCC Building at Centennial in Fort Worth to Open on Schedule

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce building in which panels describing the resources of this section will be displayed and where motion pictures of many affiliated towns are to be shown will be ready when the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial opens July 18.

This was announced Thursday at Eastland by Milburn McCarty, vice president of the W. T. C. C. and chairman of the exhibit committee, who conferred this week with D. A. Bandoen of Stamford, manager of the chamber. Bandoen was returning from Stamford to Fort Worth, where he is aiding in operations at the W. T. C. C. building.

Explaining that Fort Worth officials have provided approximately $20,000 to the regional chamber for presentation of its resources in a graphic manner to the show's visitors, McCarty added that it is this building in which souvenirs of the late humorist Will Rogers will be displayed.

"There is positively no competition between the Fort Worth and Dallas centennial," McCarty stated. He added: "Fort Worth is not presenting a 'spite show.' The centennial is state-wide and celebrations are being held all over the state."

"There has always been competition between Fort Worth and Dallas, which is only natural. This will not be exaggerated during the Centennial Fort Worth will urge visitors to see the Dallas show and Dallas is doing the same for the Fort Worth event."

McCarty praised both events, describing Dallas' as educational and Fort Worth's entertaining.

Extension of Trades Day Program to September 19 Voted by CC Committee: Regular Event Is Slated for Saturday

Setting September 19 as an expiration date, the trade extension of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce voted Wednesday afternoon to extend the weekly Saturday trades day events.

The program has been in effect since March 28.

Discussion by committeemen at the committee meeting revealed the weekly events have pleased those who attended and the Eastland merchants.

That the events are attracting wide-spread interest was shown in a report that some attend from a 30-mile distance.

The September 19, set Wednesday for the final event, will be the last date of the annual Eastland county fair.

Attendance at the events have steadily increased, Secretary H. C. Davis of the Chamber of Commerce commented Thursday.

A large attendance is expected at the event Saturday. Shoppers may obtain any goods they desire at Eastland stores as all establishments except tailor shops and the bank will be open.

Members of the trade extension committee are: Chairman Carl Johnson, Frank Robertson, J. W. Miller, R. L. Ferguson, G. C. Kimbrell, Grady Pipkin and R. S. Searls.

ritory so soil-conservation conscious "that we will get that ECW camp."

"I feel like the SCS program generally is O. K. We have been working all spring to get farmers interested and I want to see that camp established," Haitt stated. Earhart declared that "soil erosion is one of the major problems the southwest must meet."

W. L. Cowan, Amarillo, director of EWC work in Texas, explained that ECW camps can cooperate with farmers or ranchers, who wish aid, within a 25-mile radius—virtually a million acres. The ECW camp furnishes labor for everything except terrace building. On other work cooperators must furnish mechanized power—the camp furnishing hand labor.

Cowan accompanied the Meade delegation over the Dalhart SCS project—first wind erosion control demonstration attempted in the U. S.—set up Aug. 1, 1934. The visitors were shown how moisture is conserved by terracing and contouring to gain a vegetative cover which protects land from blowing and who plowed under eroded soil.

Operation of demonstration areas (like the Dalhart project) and ECW camp areas is similar, varying a little in aid given cooperation. WPA laborers, paid security wage scales by the relief administration, take the place, in a manner, of the CCC boys in the jump areas, officials explained.

H. H. Finnell, Amarillo, conservator of the five-state erosion program—on the High Plains of Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado—estimates some 8,000,000 men are working directly or indirectly toward soil conservation in that area. This includes farmer-rancher cooperators, CCC boys, SCS office and field forces, and those farmers and ranchers, who are not cooperators but are taking their cue from the project or ECW camp area near which they live. In that five-state area there are nine demonstration and five ECW camp areas.

Woman Active In Game Department

AMARILLO, Texas.—The only woman member of a state game department, Mrs. Hal C. Peck of Amarillo, member of the Texas State Game Commission, has her own ideas about the conservation of state's game and fish.

Mrs. Peck in no sense is a figure-head. She takes an active part in all business in the game department, and frequently takes the leading part in a new program.

In a recent release, Mrs. Peck attacked oil companies that drill for oil along the Gulf coast. "Oil companies," she said, "are getting permits to drill in our Gulf and bays. They are preparing to use dynamite in some of their operations. If they get oil, the waters will be sprayed with it."

"Fish will be killed, and the natural beauty of our waters will be destroyed in some cases."

"It is illegal to pollute waters in Texas. That would seem to be a protection. But you can't drill an oil well in a waterway without letting loose some oil."

"I am often asked what the Game, Fish and Oyster commission is going to do about this problem. It is not up to the commission. But we can all do our part by voicing our disapproval of allowing drilling contracts, and when the legislature meets in January let our lawmakers know we wish the law to be specific."

High Plains Gets Behind New Soil Saving Program

DALHART, Texas.—Additional momentum gathered behind soil conservation work on the High Plains this week when a delegation of Meade, Kans., farmers and business men conferred with Soil Conservation Service Authorities and inspected the Dalhart SCS project with the expressed view of getting an emergency erosion control program upon which a permanent plan of land conservation can be built.

E. E. Innis, president of the Meade Chamber of Commerce, with four committeemen, C. A. Marrs and Alex R. Wilson, Meade, Farmer J. H. Hiatt, of near Plains, president of the Meade County Farm Bureau and A. E. Earhart, Meade, directing State co-operative Experiment work in 11 Southwest Kansas counties, headed the delegation.

The CCC camp 13 miles southwest of Meade will finish its park project and be moved by Sept. 30 unless it can be transformed into an Emergency Conservation Work Camp, Innis said. He hopes to get a camp similar to the ECW units in the Texas Panhandle—about 150 CCC boys, Ten SCS technicians, two army officers.

The 60 farmers were a cross-section, he said of the Meade area. The aim is to make the Meade ter-

Freedom! Throughout the life of our nation, it has characterized the hope, the desire, and the force behind each forward step. Freedom has motivated, and marked the development of our government and our people. To the other nations of the world, it has become the trait to be desired above all else, and its virtues have been embodied in the country that we now enjoy.

But freedom cannot exist without responsibility, and with us that responsibility must continue to rest with the individual. Concerted action of individuals made it possible; concerted action of individuals must retain it. On this, the one hundred and sixtieth anniversary of the birth of the world's first free nation, we must acknowledge this responsibility, and in acknowledging it, pledge continued support and allegiance to it.
