SANTA CLAUS TO BE IN RANGER FRIDAY

Winter Stocks Of Merchants Are Complete Now

With the advent of the cool weather many people are making plans to lay in their winter merchandise needs. This is as it should be. Today in Ranger the merchants are looking forward to a large volume of business and are urging the people wherever it is possible to do their Christmas shopping as early as possible.

"There are so many reasons why lots of our customers can trade early," said several of the merchants today. "When the folks put off buying until nearly Christmas they are, in lots of cases, disappointed because stocks have been picked over and styles and sizes are broken.

Stocks Larger This Year Than For Many Years

Not in many years have the Ranger stores contained such complete lines of merchandise as are now being displayed and prepared for display, a survey of many stores today revealed.

One of the largest Christmas stocks ever assembled in Ranger has been received and for days clerks in all the larger stores have been busy unpacking, sorting, tagging and preparing the goods for display here Friday night when Santa visits town, and when the merchants will keep their stores open so the public can inspect, for the first time, this large assortment of Christmas gifts.

Prices in Ranger this year, according to all indications, will be as low as those found in the larger cities, and in many instances they will be lower, due to lower overhead expense in operating the stores.

This combination of unexcelled stocks, low prices and a concerted effort on the part of the Ranger business men to induce people to come to Ranger to do their shopping and to keep those who live in Ranger in town on their shopping expeditions, is expected to make the Christmas business this year one of the best in many seasons.

All stores carrying Christmas toys will remain open late Friday night in order that the people may see them before the rush of Christmas buying depletes them and when good selections can be made.

Barber Is Given A Term For Murder

KERMIT, Nov. 17.—A jury in district court today found V. C. Newchurch, a barber, of Wink, guilty of murder and sentenced him to prison for five years. Newchurch was charged with killing Elmer Crouse, 46, last Sept. 8. On Sept. 2, Crouse married Newchurch's oldest daughter, aged 17.

JAPANESE IN FINAL MOP UP NEAR NANKING

SHANGHAI, Nov. 17.—Japanese forces today took a firm grip on the Yangtze River Valley, jugular vein of China, foreshadowing the fall of the Nanking Capital and eventual end of the war.

A U. S. gunboat sped down the river to protect Americans at Nanking. General Chiang Kai-Shek resigned all civil offices to lead a last military stand. Government ministries fled to widely scattered interior cities and hordes of panic-stricken civilians moved out of the capital as the Japanese approached.

Seventy Japanese warships were strung along the Yangtze. A report said the Japanese had reached the barricade in the river at Kiangyin, approximately 10 miles south of the capital and were preparing to open the river.

Chinese admitted that once the blockade was penetrated the Japanese would drive quickly to Nanking. The evacuation fever spread rapidly. President Lin Sen already had left for Chungking.

The Russian Embassy was the first to announce plans to move up the river and the United States, British, French and German embassies were expected to follow.

The United States river gunboat Oahu was enroute to the capital from Iahang, 450 miles away, presumably to protect 56 Americans in Nanking.

Chiang Kai-Shek, the country's strong man, was reported to have resigned as head of the executive council to devote his time to the army.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The house today refused to consider, immediately, a resolution calling on President Roosevelt to declare that a state of war exists between Japan and China and invoke the neutrality act.

Ranchman Is Held In Assault Case

BRADY, Texas, Nov. 17.—Jamie Brook, ranchman and president of the Brady Chamber of Commerce, faced a charge of assault to murder in San Saba county today in connection with the shooting of Mike Miller, 40, Fredonia stockman, last night at a hunting camp on a ranch which Brook had under lease.

Miller was reported near death from gunshot wounds. W. A. Parker, ranch foreman, who witnessed the shooting, said Brook shot in self defense.

Two of Escaped Kidnapers Caught

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 17.—Harold Crowley and John Oley, two of the three O'Connell kidnapers, who broke out of a penitentiary at Jamesville yesterday, were captured today in a rooming house here without a shot being fired.

Trade In Ranger For Savings Is Plea of Merchants

At this time of the year everyone begins to think of winter merchandise and lots of people wonder where is the best place to buy their supplies and how much money will it take.

Today Ranger merchants are calling attention to the fact that in Ranger will be found everything that anyone needs and the prices are in line with what one will have to pay in larger cities and in many cases the prices are much lower.

The merchants are inviting the people over the trade territory to come to Ranger, compare prices and quality and see for themselves. Stocks are complete in all lines and all goods are displayed for the convenient inspection of the public.

Do your trading in Ranger—and save the difference.

The case was transferred from Ward county because many of the witnesses reside in this section.

TOYLAND EXHIBITS

Ranger toy merchants today invite everyone to visit the Toyland Departments of their stores tonight, beginning at 7:30, after Santa has paid his official visit to Ranger.

Santa will arrive in town at 7:10 and will leave about 7:30, after which the stores will welcome visitors who want to look over their toys and other Christmas presents that have been selected and displayed for this big occasion.

Merchants who have prepared Toyland exhibits are: Montgomery Ward & Co., J. C. Penney Co., Joseph's Dry Goods, Furniture, Hassen Company, Scott Stores, Killingsworth, Cox & Co., Western Auto Associate Stores.

Cheaney, Alameda Residents To Get Road to Markets

Cheaney and Alameda residents will have an all-weather route to Eastland, Ranger and Gorman with the completion of a $42,741 Works Progress Administration road improvement project in commissioner's precinct No. 2, according to County Engineer A. F. Taylor.

The project, begun Monday, is for improvement of the Cheaney and Gorman road by way of Grandview and Alameda. Seven and a half miles of road are to be improved, starting at the Cheaney store and going south to the Gorman-Desdemona highway.

Completion of the road will mean finishing of a complete route from Ranger to Desdemona road, tying in with the Eastland-Desdemona road.

An average of 140 men will be employed on the project for six months. Total man hours involved in the project is 69,340.

Improvements called for in the project are graveling, widening of right of way and rebuilding drainage structures.

T. G. Gray of Gorman is project supervisor and Leo Huckaby, also of Gorman, timekeeper. The project is located in the area of County Commissioner N. C. Crawley.

Aching Tooth Still Bothers President

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—For the second successive day, an aching, infected tooth, kept President Roosevelt confined to his bed today. All engagements were canceled.

Mr. Roosevelt spent a more comfortable night last night, awakening only once. However he was examined again today by white house doctors who found him still running a slight temperature and advised him to stay in bed.

Masonic School Is Conducted Tuesday

Jim White of Colorado, Texas, committee on work for the Grand lodge of Texas Masons held a school of instruction in Ranger Tuesday. Those taking the examination were F. D. Hicks, R. H. West, R. V. Burns and D. L. Jameson of Ranger and Bill Sinclair and Jim Wilson of S-ravn.

VFW Post Meeting Scheduled Tonight

The Veterans of Foreign Wars post at Cisco, sole VFW organization in the county, will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Odd Fellows hall. It was announced here today. Meetings are held first and third Wednesdays of each month.

Stores To Stay Open Later On Friday Evening

In order that everyone may have an opportunity to inspect the Christmas stocks of the local merchants, now being prepared for the coming of Santa Friday night, the stores making a specialty of toys and other Christmas items, will remain open as late as is necessary Friday night.

Toylands have been prepared in a number of stores and the variety of toys and the prices are really unusual.

After Santa leaves, after his short stop in Ranger, the children and their parents are invited to visit each of the toyland stores in order that they may see these large assortments of things that have been placed on display.

A special invitation to every child in this part of the county to visit each of the Toylands has been issued and a large crowd is expected to greet Santa and to visit the stores afterwards.

WPA Projects In County Approved

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 17.—Approval of 27 new Works Progress Administration projects, involving federal expenditures of $638,426 and $335,872 provided by local governmental agencies, was announced today by Stearns S. Tucker, deputy state administrator.

Projects approved, with amount of federal funds, sponsors' funds and number of persons to be employed, were listed by Tucker and included:

Eastland County—Water system improvements; federal funds, $8,600; sponsor's funds, $5,794; workers, 144. Gorman—City street improvements; federal funds, $5,866; sponsor's funds, $3,151; workers, 46.

County—Farm-to-market road improvements; federal funds, $29,565; sponsor's funds, $13,176; workers, 142.

Authorities Puzzle Over Disappearance Of Money Package

ABILENE, Nov. 17.—Postal authorities were still puzzled today over the disappearance of a package containing $28,950 in coins and currency from a mail car on a fast train between Dallas and O'Donnell.

The registered package, sent from the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank to the First National Bank at O'Donnell disappeared Nov. 4 or 5, it was revealed by postal authorities here.

None of the money has appeared in circulation, the inspectors said.

TOYLANDS WILL OPEN FRIDAY NIGHT AFTER SANTA CLAUS' VISIT

Santa's Arrival is Scheduled for 7:10, and All Children In This Part of the County Are Invited To Be Present.

Santa Claus will be in Ranger Friday night, arriving by bus at 7:10 for a short visit with the children of Ranger and this entire trade territory.

Word has been received that he is making good time along his route, in spite of the fact that he is leaving his reindeer at the north pole so he can return on Christmas Eve night.

WALLACE SAYS HE FAVORS A MIDDLE POLICY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace told the senate agriculture committee today he favored the Pope McGill farm bill in principle.

Concerning opposing views on voluntary and compulsory crop control, Wallace advised a "middle of the road" policy. Southern senators who have demanded outright compulsory control in the cotton program will meet late today to discuss Wallace's suggestion.

The Pope-McGill bill provides "voluntary" compliance in the farm program until commodity prices reach a level to be determined by the secretary. At that time a referendum vote will be taken to determine whether compulsory control shall be enforced. Affirmative vote by two thirds of the farmers growing a commodity would inaugurate compulsory control.

A special invitation has been issued by Santa and by all the merchants in town to all the children in this part of the county to be sure to be on hand early Friday night so they can see Santa in person and then look over the largest assortment of toys displayed in Ranger in many years.

Five Barrels For Amount of Pay In Phillips Firm Test

CISCO, Nov. 17.—A showing estimated at five barrels daily developed from the test of the Phillips Petroleum company's Cozart No. 1 in the Scranton area southwest of Cisco in the 1,600-foot sand which it picked up in its quest for deep oil possibilities.

As a result drilling will be continued to the deep pay, original destination of the drill. The showing was incidental and was encouraged in a 12 1/2-inch hole at 1,661 feet. To test it more than 300 feet of open hole was underreamed, the pipe lowered and the hole bailed of water yesterday.

Late yesterday afternoon the limey sand was drilled through at 1,691 feet and the oil production possibilities rated at five barrels. The showing found at this level was not disappointing in view of the intention of the test. It is taken to indicate that possibilities for profitable shallow pay exist in the area and it is not unlikely that extensive exploration of this level will be undertaken in the future with cheaper rigs.

Gallagher and Lawson, Cisco, are drilling contractors on the well.

Senate Filibuster Is Aiding Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Senate filibusters tightened their ranks against the anti-lynching bill today in a drive to delay the vote until the farm bill is ready for debate. The farm bill would displace the anti-lynching measure and mean at least a temporary victory for the filibuster.

The senate conflict appeared likely to aid administration efforts to speed action on crop control legislation, which is the principal business of the special session.

NAMED APPRAISERS

Connie Davis, E. P. Crawford, and E. J. Poe have been appointed by County Judge W. S. Adamson to appraise the estate of George Sawyers, who died Nov. 24, 1921, without leaving a will.

Farm Income In September Higher Than Last Year

AUSTIN, Texas—Farm cash income in Texas during September was estimated $101,000,000, compared with $87,000,000 during September last year, an increase of more than 15 per cent, according to Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director of the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas. The average September farm cash income during the sixty months base period, 1928-32, was approximately $114,000,000, so that the September index—percentage of the base period income—was 88.4 this year and 76.4 last year.

"The wide variations in the indexes, shown in the table below, as between the different crop reporting districts during September, and also as between the same district this year and a year ago are attributable to the marked differences in production of the main sources of cash income, and to the changes in prices of major crops and of live stock enterprises compared with last year, and with the base period, 1928-32," Dr. Buechel said. "It should be added that government benefit payments and subsidies are not included in any of these computations."

Tattoos In Many Languages to Be An Aid to Identification

MARSHFIELD, Ore. — Claiming to be the only man in the world who "cannot be lost," T. D. Rockwell, of Portland, carries his name tattooed in 34 languages on his legs.

idea of the tattooed names to provide him identification for cashing checks no matter what part of the world he traveled in.

Languages include Russian, Italian, Spanish, Japanese, as well as the symbols of the Morse telegraph code, the Continental code and the Braille system. Rockwell said he had several Indian languages he planned to add to his investment—which, he said, already has cost him $50.

AVOID NEEDLESS CHANCES

PROVED WAY TO TREAT COLDS

Doubly proved—in world's largest colds-clinic, and by everyday use in more homes than any other medication of its kind. No "dosing." Just massage VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. Relief begins almost at once. And long after sleep comes, VapoRub keeps right on working its positive-and-vapor action: loosens phlegm, relieves irritation and coughing, helps break local congestion. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

2 WAY RELIEF FOR THE MISERY OF COLDS

Take 2 BAYER ASPIRIN tablets and drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours. If throat is sore from the cold, crush and stir 3 BAYER ASPIRIN tablets in 1/2 glass of water. Gargle twice. This eases throat rawness and soreness almost instantly. All it usually costs to relieve the misery of a cold today — is 3¢ to 5¢ — relief for the period of your cold 15¢ to 25¢. Hence no family need neglect even minor head colds. Here is what to do: Take two BAYER tablets when you feel a cold coming on — with a full glass of water. Then repeat, if necessary, according to directions in each package. Relief comes rapidly. The Bayer method of relieving colds is the way many doctors approve. You take Bayer Aspirin for relief — then if you are not improved promptly, you call the family doctor.

Car Registrations In October Grow

AUSTIN, Texas—New automobile registrations in Texas during October increased moderately over September and substantially over the like month last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has announced. For the first ten months of 1937 registrations were a fraction of one per cent under those of the corresponding period last year. Reports from fifteen representative Texas counties show total sales of 4,953 new passenger cars during October, an increase of 5.4 per cent over the preceding month and 23.1 per cent over October, 1936. Sales for the past ten months in these counties totaled 55,955, a decrease of 0.8 per cent from the like period last year.

It should be noted that the sharpest increase over October last year occurred in the medium price group, the Bureau's report said.

Movie producers try to rent advertising space on Egypt's pyramids. We might balance the budget by selling billboards on a few dams or the Grand Canyon.

Who Said Pills? It's Fun to Keep "Regular"!

Is keeping "regular" a chore in your family? Does it mean over-stimulating your intestines with cathartics? Then here's good news! You can AVOID common constipation and cathartics, and have a grand time doing it!

Instead of abusing your intestines, eat a NATURAL laxative food. Instead of bad-tasting pills and liquids—ENJOY crunchy, toasted Kellogg's All-Bran with milk or cream and fruits. Or in All-Bran muffins, or All-Bran cookies.

All-Bran will KEEP you "regular" as the time-table—but it works so differently from harsh purgatives; it doesn't over-stimulate your intestines; it gives them TWO things they crave and need. First, All-Bran provides "bulk"—it absorbs water and softens like a sponge. This water-softened mass aids elimination. And next, the intestinal-aiding vitamin "B." All-Bran is a good source of this vitamin that tones up your intestinal tract.

Use All-Bran regularly: eat two tablespoons every day and drink plenty of water. The results will delight you! Every grocer sells All-Bran. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Safety Talk Given At Rotary Meeting

Lee Russell had charge of the Rotary Club program today and presented a display of the latest in safety automobile tubes, which are really tubes within tubes. He stated that proven tests had shown that after a blowout it required 20 to 25 minutes for the tire to go down, allowing plenty of time for a stop or to reach a service station.

He also presented moving pictures of the plant of the Good-year Tire and Rubber Company in operation as part of the program.

He stated that the safety tube was in line with all steel bodies and safety glass on automobiles, all of which were designed to make automobiles safer.

Ray Newham, a charter member of the club resigned and his resignation was accepted in order that he might join a Rotary club in Longview, his home.

The decision as to who won the attendance contest was checked back to Cisco for a decision. Both clubs had a 100-per cent attendance over the contest period, but a technicality was pointed out by the Cisco Club, wherein a former member, who was not now a member of the club, had not been properly dropped from the rolls. The Cisco club asked the Ranger Rotarians to decide whether or not the Cisco Club should pay the debt as the loser in the contest.

Visitors at the meeting were J. E. Lewis, Eastland; E. A. Cain, Breckenridge; Pete Pettit, Cisco and B. N. Shepard, Abilene.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Colored—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Karis' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes these good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Roving Blacksmith Finds Business Is Good In Panhandle

AMARILLO, Texas—When the horse shoeing business began to slack off several years ago, R. J. Beeler of Amarillo packed his bag and became a "hand-ringing" blacksmith. Today, claiming to be the only horseshoer left in the Texas panhandle, he travels from Clovis, N. M., to Pampa, Texas, and says that business is fine.

Starting in the trade when he was 11, Beeler estimated that he had shod 326,000 head of horses and mules in the past 25 years. From 1912 to 1923, he averaged shoeing 10 to 12 head a day.

"At one time I shod horses for a $1 a head, but in recent years, because of the smaller number of horses and because there are few horseshoers left, the price is now $3."

Beeler said the hardest thing about shoeing a horse is getting the hoof level at the right angle.

"All horses take different types of shoes. When a person thinks of the many different types of gaits, such as a rack, slow gait, canter right and left, trot, running walk, fox trot and others, and the different types of horses, such as the trotter, running horse, hurdler, hunters, polo horses and the work horses, it is not hard to understand that the business of shoeing horses is really a specialist's job."

U. of T. Library Is Becoming One of Best In Country

AUSTIN, Texas—The library of the University of Texas will cover 531,000 volumes in well on its way to becoming one of the great libraries of the country, according to Donald Coney, University Librarian. On August 31, 1937, the University Library contained 531,454 volumes.

"With the beginning of the University year," Mr. Coney said, "the University Library gives every promise of passing the 550,000 volume mark by September 1, 1938. Already the largest and most important library in the South, with the continued support of the Legislature and citizens of the State, he able to hold its place in this respect without difficulty. Continued growth of the library is necessary to support the expanding program of research at the University, and to provide study materials for the rapidly increasing undergraduate student body."

The library purchased 17,755 volumes in 1936-37, a 28 per cent increase as compared with the 14,054 volumes acquired by purchase in 1935-36.

"It is gratifying to observe that the number of gifts increased from 3,500 in 1935-36 to 5,111 in 1936-37, an increase of 43 per cent," Mr. Coney continued. "No library ever becomes great through purchases alone. It is only through the continued and generous support of its friends that it acquires many scarce or expensive books."

The total addition to the library for 1936-37 were 22,327 volumes as compared to 18,782 for the preceding year. No small proportion of this increase was due to the generous grant of the General Education Board of New York City to the University of $86,000 for the five-year period beginning February 1, 1936.

Some New Faces in the Cheering Section

many families tolerate an indoor temperature during the colder months to which they would and do strenuously object in the summer. Such persons are not only uneconomical with their fuel supply, but are endangering their health as well," Dr. Cox continued.

"People living in homes with overheated temperatures become soft, the system is weakened and is at a decided disadvantage in defending itself against the sudden change from a too great intramural heat to the penetrating cold."

"Consequently colds, bronchial troubles and pneumonia, taking advantage of the situation, step in and do much unnecessary, and not infrequently, fatal damage. You will agree that this is entirely too high a price to pay for a few extra degrees of unneeded heat."

"We all know families who are starting on their annual scourge of colds and sore throats. But this does not alter their affinity for super-heat. They ignore the fact that 68 to 70 degrees is the best temperature. A thermometer kept within that range, plus proper humidity, is a definite safeguard. We need that safeguard. What does your thermometer read?"

JILL

BY MARY RAYMOND

Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

CHAPTER XXV

It seemed strange, Alan thought, to be in New York, in America again.

Six months had passed since his hurried departure that morning. It might have been yesterday. Things were so unchanged.

It was even stranger to be here in a new role. Not as a penniless young man at odds with his father, seeking a foothold in a big, strange city. But rather, as an artist returning with his father's full approval, called back by an amazing turn of fortune.

"Sun Over Seville" had really been sold by the dealer this time, and to an authentic purchaser. A connoisseur of art, who had paid $5000, and then had insisted on an exhibit of Alan's pictures.

And strangely of all—with the world suddenly so friendly—that there should be no thrill or happiness for him.

Jill, by now, he was sure, had married Milo Montagne, and was living a luxurious life with him. During the six months he had been away, Alan had tried to put her completely out of his mind. He had told himself she was hard, unworthy, deliberately cruel.

Whenever he thought of Jill's goodness, he would remind himself of that cheap, spectacular exhibit of the dreadful sound of the wedding march in one-step time.

How could he think for a moment that he could love a girl who could do a thing like that!

He had reached his destination, and a servant was ushering him into a room filled with beautiful art treasures, rich with color. A hand was suddenly on his shoulder. Alan turned to face the smiling dealer.

"So you're back! This time here to make terms, rather than seek them. I'm glad to see you, my boy. I think I shall be very proud one day to say I sold your first picture in New York. Sit down."

Alan sat down. "It is scarcely believable," he said, "I am very anxious to meet the man who liked my picture so well. I'll be frank. I had become utterly discouraged."

"I know. Artists are like that," the dealer said slowly. "I think your first unfortunate experience had something to do with it. It was misplaced kindness on the part of Miss Wentworth. Poor girl!"

A chill of apprehension ran through Alan. Poor girl! What did he mean, speaking of Jill like that?

"I don't think Miss Wentworth is to be pitied," Alan said stiffly. "It seems to me she was very—"

Q. What caused the abandonment of the Chisholm Trail?
A. The Abilene, Kansas, market closed in 1873. At that time farmers had settled along the Chisholm Trail until large herd driving had become difficult. The market at Dodge, Kansas, about 100 miles west of Abilene, was opened in 1876, and drivers from below San thing to make her happy."

The dealer stared. "Is it possible you don't know that her father died? His fortune was lost, and the young lady is working in a department store."

"But her fiancé!" Alan began. His voice shook. "Surely, he would not let her down because her father's business failed?"

"I'm afraid, Jeffrey, that you don't understand the human heart," the dealer said softly. "The young man was not to blame. The papers carried the story. It seemed Jill Wentworth had become engaged to him to save her father's business. And after his death—the police tried to make something of a mystery out of a heart attack—Jill Wentworth asked young Montagne to release her."

"What mystery! Great heavens," Alan cried. "Tell me something."

"I'm trying to tell you now, Jeffrey. There was a blow on Mr. Wentworth's temple, which the police declared contributed to his death. They tried to place suspicion on the girl. But an old woman had seen her in front of an apartment on 67th street at the exact hour Mrs. Wentworth and the secretary had heard Mr. Wentworth fall. Curiously, Jeffrey, it was the same apartment building where you also lived."

Alan's face was white. Jill had come to him that morning. And he had been away. Then, he had sailed for England, without knowing of her trouble. What could she have thought about his disappearance? She had not married Milo. And she had planned to save her father. And then when her father was dead, she had chosen to be poor rather than marry Milo.

He could have shouted his joy to the world.

"And now!" the old dealer said softly. "I suspect you have forgotten all about that meeting you are to have with Mr. Fenwick this morning. You will be going to see Jill Wentworth. And isn't it fortunate that I've been keeping up with her through the newspaper stories, and am able to tell you where she is staying?"

"I wish I could be like the optimistic gentleman who said every day will be better and better," Patty said, speculative eyes on Jill's wan face. "But I can't. Every day you look worse to me. There's no need for you to be staying in a store downtown, when I make enough to take care of both of us. And if you won't accept help from me, there are Jack and Sylvia offering you a home."

"As much as I'd like you, I wish you would go to them. You're not used to hard work. I'm awfully worried about you."

The two girls were at the breakfast table at Patty's home.

"You needn't be," Jill spoke in a cheerful tone. "It's very good for me to work. Millions of other girls have to work. Why shouldn't I?"

"But those millions of other girls haven't been reared as you have," Patty countered. "You need time to become strong enough to take the tough breaks."

"I'm strong enough," Jill insisted. "Please don't bother, Patty. I don't know what I would have done without my job. It keeps me from thinking."

"Well, you certainly haven't much time to think, with all those frenzied females pawing over everything on the counter. Jill, I absolutely boil when I think of you behind a counter. Though, I'll be honest—I was absolutely delighted when Barry had to go to work and he and his mother moved into a dinky little apartment. I always felt she was trying to throw suspicion on you to keep police from thinking—"

"Please don't talk about it," Jill broke in, her face white.

"I'm sorry, Jill. I'm no help at all," Patty said.

"Gracious!" Patty said, now, "there's the bell. Who could be calling on us at breakfast time? You go, Jill, while I do things to my face."

Jill got up from the table and went into the small front room. She was gone quite a long time. Patty, now rouged and powdered, was giving the breakfast dishes a vigorous bath in hot suds.

"Whatever can be keeping Jill?" Patty thought, finally. "She'll be late for work! If she doesn't hurry up. And if she wants to keep that job, she'd better watch the clock."

She dried her hands on the dish towel and started to investigate. For a moment she stood quietly in the doorway—amazed eyes on two young people. Jill was standing near the door, close in some man's arms. He was kissing her! The young man lifted his head at last. Patty caught her breath. Alan Jeffrey!

She tiptoed back to the kitchen. After another long interval, Patty walked briskly into the living room. And this time Jill's radiant face was lifted from Alan's shoulder.

"Where, may I ask, did you find that?" Patty asked, gently.

"I didn't find him, Jill's happy voice rang out. "He found ME!"

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox, NEA Service Staff Writer

A well-dressed roast likes a bit of sauce in its grooming. Not too much, understand, for the roast doesn't care to have attention taken away from its own charms. But just enough to play up the occasion.

Garden Sauce
One cup water in which vegetables were cooked, 2 tablespoons flour, 3-4 tablespoons butter, 1 cup sour cream, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1-8 teaspoon cayenne pepper, and a pinch of nutmeg.

Heat 2 tablespoons butter, stir in flour. When blended, stir in sour cream and the vegetable water. Simmer for about 15 minutes, then add another 1-4 tablespoons butter and the remaining ingredients. Stir carefully and serve very hot on broiled lamb chops.

Bermuda is a lovely spot, with friendly people and a beautiful outlook where ever you stand. On my most recent visit there, I picked up this fine sauce which they serve with roast leg of lamb.

Bermuda Lamb Sauce
One carrot, 3 stalks celery, 2 leeks, 1 onion, 2 tablespoons minced raw ham, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 bay leaf, pinch of thyme, 1 pint meat stock, 1-2 cup strained canned tomatoes, 1 tablespoon melted butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 3-4 tablespoon prepared mustard, 1 tablespoon mushroom sauce and 1-2 cup sherry wine. Simmer another 5 minutes, then serve on roast shoulder of veal.

Anchovy Sauce
Twelve skinned and boned anchovies, 3 tablespoons butter, pinch salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, dash cayenne pepper, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 cup clear veal stock made from trimmings from roast. Mash anchovies. Heat butter, add mashed anchovies, salt, pepper and cayenne. Simmer very gently for 2 minutes. Stir in sifted flour, and continuing to stir, add the veal stock. Simmer another 5 minutes, then serve on roast shoulder of veal.

Canada Called Land Of National Holidays

OTTAWA, Can.—Canada has more public holidays than probably any other country in the world. Beginning with New Years day, Canadians observe Good Friday, Easter Monday, Victoria day, the King's birthday, Dominion day, Labor day, Thanksgiving day, Remembrance day and Christmas. In addition, they had Coronation day this year.

Besides the 10 national holidays Quebec has five religious holidays and other provinces have one or two provincial holidays.

GREAT BRITAIN GOOD CUSTOMER OF ITALY

MILAN, Italy.—Great Britain is selling less to Italy than Italy sells to her. This occurred for the first time in 1936, and all indications are that this trend will continue for the whole of 1937.

SOME of the more useful plays in football were stumbled upon accidentally.

The most widely discussed play of the year was conceived by Ray Morrison of Vanderbilt, but looks like an accident; and scarcely will be incorporated in the Commodores' or the system of any other coach. It served its purpose, however. It beat Louisiana State in an upset, 7-6.

Describing Vanderbilt's hidden ball trick, you run the risk of being warned to quit drinking the stuff before you go blind.

There have been several explanations, but motion pictures show that this is what happened before thousands of pairs of astounded eyes as Vanderbilt shaded Louisiana State by shaking a tackle, Ricketson, loose for a 56-yard touchdown run in the first five minutes of play.

Quarterback Reinschmidt deftly took the ball from center, placed it on the ground between the legs of a guard, and faked out to the left as if he had the ball. Ricketson dropped back and fell on the ground as though he were down. Then, with the Tigers' defense sucked to its right, Ricketson got up slowly, picked up the ball, and scampered to the touchdown behind three linemen.

AS related in the foregoing, many of our deceptive plays were born by sheer accident, most notable of which are the spinner and the dust-covered Statue of Liberty, more familiarly known as the Michigan "83."

Dyke Beede, Carnegie Tech back, stumbled upon the spinner in 1924. Taking the ball from center, he spun around to hand it to another back who was supposed to come across. The other back wasn't there, and when Beede's momentum spun him around again he saw a gaping hole in front of him and shot right down the middle.

One of the late Dan McGugin's backs at Vanderbilt staggered into the Statue of Liberty. Dropping back to toss a forward pass, the pigskin fell from his hand just as he brought it back. For some inexplicable reason, a teammate was racing around behind him as he cocked his arm. He caught the ball as it fell from the would-be passer's hand and continued wide around end for a substantial gain.

WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The possibility of an exemption from the capital gains tax for profits made on new housing construction has become considerably stronger since these dispatches first reported that this device for stimulating a building boom was being considered by the administration.

Into the secret discussions of this proposal has come the further suggestion of tying it up with a move to deprive the income from government securities of its tax-exempt status. Sentiment for this step has been growing for a long time and it is now argued that it would divert billions of dollars, now in tax-exempts because they're tax-exempt, into construction now to be freed from income tax.

There is some fear as to the effect on the government bond market and the Supreme Court would have to reverse an old decision if it were to hold that income from government bonds was subject to income tax.

Proponents of government stimulation of a private capital housing boom are piling up arguments. The unemployment census is expected to show that among skilled workers over 45 who can't get jobs, by far the largest groups will be building trades workers. A huge house-building boom would serve "a useful social purpose" and ameliorate a bad housing shortage. It would absorb the unemployed, both directly and indirectly, as in the steel and lumber industries.

The government has put a couple of hundred million dollars into housing, much of which must be charged off to experience—or experiment.

The private housing industry is developed by large entrepreneurs who prefer quick turnover. It's proposed to limit the capital gains exemption to profits made within two years and it's hoped that enough building would be stimulated to keep profits down to a "fair" level which might make many of the properties purchasable by limited dividend corporations.

Meanwhile the atmosphere of "peace and co-operation" between Nathan Straus, administrator of the new U. S. Housing Authority, and Secretary Ickes, whose $135,000,000 PWA housing program the U. S. H. A. will take over in addition to its own new half-billion-dollar loan - subsidy program, is so surcharged that everyone expects some hot smoke if not actual flame.

Ickes has "general supervision" over Straus, under the Wagner Housing act, but Straus has the powers — appointment, approval and expenditure. Ickes insisted he wouldn't take Straus as administrator and thumped the tub for his own PWA housing director, Howard A. Gray. Senator Wagner insisted he wanted Straus. Wagner was backed by many local housing officials and other experts who opposed what they knew would be complete Ickes control of the new program.

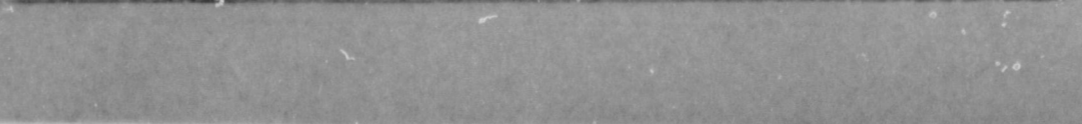

Now Straus is acting with cocky independence, obviously intending to work out his own policies with his own advisers. The Ickes group is predicting some bad headaches for Straus and betting that it will take him three times as long to get some construction started as he thinks it will, which is about three months.

The private housing industry is (Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)

Auxiliary Social Offers Rare Program of Entertainment

The local ladies auxiliary of the American Legion, Carl Barnes Post No. 69, made up of members whose activities are carried forward with untiring efforts throughout each year, offered for the entertainment of guests and members Tuesday night, a program rare in many respects. Time was taken by the program committee, composed of Mrs. J. D. McClister and Mrs. S. C. Schooley, for every detail when such a program was first planned. Invitations were sent to Mrs. Mildred Beatty, district committeewoman of district seventeen, along with other persons who continue to manifest interest in each undertaking.

The principal speaker last night was none other than Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, who is a charter member and one of Ranger's most valued clubwomen. Her topic was beautifully interwoven about the subject, "Important points in auxiliary work and Thanksgiving." Her hearers were held spellbound by her splendid talk, covering so many all-important features of auxiliary study. The president, Mrs. J. D. McClister, introduced next Mrs. Beatty, whose guest was Mrs. Walraven, also of Albany, president of the Albany unit. It was at this time the visitors announced the appearance of the Stamps quartet at the Albany high school auditorium on Friday night of this week.

The program proper was opened with the sing-song of numbers "The Star-Spangled Banner," and "America," with Mrs. Weldon W. Webb at the piano.

Later in the program Mrs. Webb presented Geraldine Pirkle in a piano solo, "Rustle of Spring," Dorothy Jean Williams, a piano number, "Aidde Ballett." Dorothy Jean Bruce gave a reading, "Thanksgiving Prayer," by Edgar A. Guest.

During the last period of the program games and contests brought prizes to Mrs. L. L. Bruce and Miss Lillian Carter.

Gift Book:

Floyd Killingsworth at Killingsworth, Cox and company, let us in on a very interesting offer and it is certain to be of special importance to the kiddies of Ranger. We are not sure where Mr. Killingsworth secured the book "Billy and Ruth," a complete book of toys listed by Santa Claus. Perhaps it was his suggestion that Mr. Killingsworth and employees give each child in Ranger one of the books. The first time mother is down town for a shopping tour remind her to get for you one of the books if her visit happens to take place while you are at school. Billy and Ruth have for the past eight years assisted boys and girls in getting what they want Santa to bring when he returns Christmas Eve night. Investigate this attractive gift book.

Mrs. J. L. Ambler Program Leader

Child Study club No. 1 meets in the home of Mrs. Clayton Hunt Lorraine apartments, Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. J. L.

Ambler will have charge of the program, carrying the topic, "The Happiest School in the World." Members are invited to hear this program.

NOTE BOOK

Mrs. Artie McFatter of Archer City is visiting in the home of Judge and Mrs. J. N. McFatter this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. May were Dallas and Fort Worth visitors on Tuesday.

Covers will be laid at the luncheon board Thursday at noon for the luncheon to compliment members of the Euzelian class of Central Baptist church. A special invitation is given each member.

KIDDIES! Santa is coming to town Friday night for a visit with you. Make a date with mother and dad for the visit to town at 7:10, just after his arrival.

Today's visitors in Ranger are prominent delegates attending the district Royal Neighbor camp convention which reaches its close this evening with a banquet in the basement of the First Methodist church. Miss Erna M. Barthel, of Rock Island, Ill., supreme recorder, is the house guest of the district deputy, Mrs. Carrie E. Henry.

Miss Grace Rigby, who comes to Ranger to assume management of the Western Union Telegraph company, is formerly of Comanche. A number of months was spent at Cleburne before her transfer to Comanche, thence to Ranger. Miss Rigby succeeds Miss Thelma Walling, who returned to Comanche, the home town of her parents.

'Big Chief' Gardner Will Speak at the First Baptist Church

"Big Chief" (T. C.) Gardner, Texas state B. T. U. president, will be in the First Baptist church of this city this evening to deliver an inspirational address promptly at 7:15, until 7:45. Gardner is not only one of the leading Baptists of Texas, but one of the most dynamic personalities in all the South. Recently returned from a youth conference in Switzerland, he will have unusual and interesting experiences to tell. For a number of years he has contributed his entire time to organizing and developing training work and it is said he has done more for the B. T. U.'s of Texas than any other person. To hear him speak is an unusual privilege and it is hoped a full house will be present to hear him this evening.

Gardner is in the city in connection with the training school which is now in progress in the First Baptist church here, and in a number of the churches throughout the association. He will be in this vicinity today and tomorrow
