

Two Sets of Girl Twins Raise Havoc On U. of T. Campus

AUSTIN, Tex.—Those unbelievable Stamm twins, four of them, are bringing havoc to the University of Texas campus these days. There happen to be four because Aurelia and Eliska, 19 look so much like Joy and Jocelyn 16, that only intimates—and not all intimates—can tell one from the other. They look so much alike that the Alpha Delta Pi sorority pledged them all at once to avoid confusion. Boys, they confess, occasionally go out with the wrong sister without knowing it. When Aurelia, for instance, gets a chance to make two dates for the same hour she merely passes one along to Eliska, Joy or Jocelyn. The boy never knows the difference, and everybody is happy. All four are trim, brunette, and pretty. They live together and wear the same kind of clothes even the same sizes. They are almost always together and even catch colds at the same time, Eliska said.

The girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Stamm of Rayme, La. Stamm is an oil dealer. The older twins graduated from high school three years ago went two years together to Southwestern Louisiana Institute, and then were separated for the first time in their lives.

Last year Aurelia taught at Morse, La., and Eliska at Lake Arthur, 25 miles away. The distance was short, but neither enjoyed the separation.

When Joy and Jocelyn chose the University of Texas, the 19-year-old twins came along to take some more education courses. The younger two are studying physical education.

When the four girls appeared on the campus, eye-hubbing started. Aurelia and Eliska were waved aside with "we've seen you, quit kidding" when they appeared for medical examination. Joy and Jocelyn had been there a short time before. The girls have an older brother and a younger brother and a sister. "It's fun being twins," they admit.

Housewife to Pay High Meat Prices At Least a Year

CHICAGO.—The wife paid almost as much for tonight's steaks on chops as she—or her mother—paid in world war days, and she may expect to go right on paying these prices at least until next summer, a United Press survey showed today.

Price of beef and pork, especially the choice cuts such as steaks, have risen as much as 50 per cent since last Halloween. The biggest boosts are in the east and on the west coast. Butchers and packers blame the droughts of past years. Corn and feed of all kinds was burned out, became so scarce there was not enough to feed the usual supplies of prime stock. Many ranchers and farmers sold what stock they had and decided there would be no profit in raising more. Others took a chance on buying expensive feed, but demanded higher prices.

Hope for relief lay in this year's bumper corn crop, but packers said its effect will not be reflected in the prices of meat until next summer.

Sharpest rises in beef prices were in Indianapolis, Omaha, Buffalo, N. Y., Memphis and Seattle. Sharpest pork rises were in Buffalo, Des Moines, Cincinnati, Columbus, Indianapolis and Memphis.

Success of Roosevelt's western trip to feel the nation's pulse seemed to depend on finding public thought in the right vein.

FINE HORSES DOMINATE CIRCUS PROGRAM

Motorized transportation has replaced horses to such an extent that in many localities the horse has actually become a curiosity. Even on the modern circus, the multiple teams of draft horses backs upon which acrobatic riders cavort with elfin agility; the galloping, mettlesome "pintos" and "pinks" with which roughriders and Indians keep alive the vigorous sports of the old West. All these will be seen with the Russell Bros. Circus, not to mention capricious trick mules and cunning little ponies performing their drills with military precision or racing with tiny monkeys as jockeys.

The Girl Who Became a Man

The second such strange case in two years to crop up in Czechoslovakia—the metamorphosis of Miss Stephanie Pekarova—a girl athlete, top photo, into Stepan Pekar, a man, lower photo, is drawing the attention of medical authorities. The pictures show Miss Pekarova as she was when the athletic commission officially declared her a woman two years ago after careful examination, and same individual, now Stepan Pekar, medical student at Prague University, as he looks today, with equal definiteness declared a man.

Finding Middle Path Is Democracy's Job

Secretary of State Cordell Hull told the American Legion convention the other day that our government is trying to follow a middle path between isolation and entanglement in the affairs of other nations.

For the very essence of democracy, after all, is this attempt to find and follow a practical middle path—in foreign policy, and in domestic affairs as well.

A good part of the world has fallen into the hands of extremists of late. In one country after another the people have been won over to the idea that there is one plan, and one plan only, which can help them; and it is getting so that you can hardly pick up your newspaper without reading of some spot where people have been executed, imprisoned or bombed from the sky for daring to disagree.

Democracy can survive only by proving that it is possible to find such a course; by proving that men still have enough good sense and good will to compare ideas, to take the best that the rival extremists have to offer, to compromise and harmonize and blend them so that people do not have to be bombed and bludgeoned into obedience.

It isn't easy to do this. It calls for hard, sustained thinking, for critical examination of all slogans and panaceas, for recognition of the often-forgotten fact that there are few passable short-cuts to the millennium.

All of this, to be sure, is perfectly familiar to us, as citizens of the world's oldest democracy. Yet we must remind ourselves constantly that democracy will continue to work only if we take the trouble to make it work.

Finding this middle course is unspectacular and uninspiring work. It would be a lot easier to resign everything to the hands of some leader and contribute cheers to the goose-stepping storm troopers.

Shifting Trends That Vex Business Men

Just as if we didn't have enough other things to worry about these days, we are now invited to view with alarm the fact that mother doesn't begin to bustle around in the kitchen the way she used to.

The invitation comes in the form of an address delivered before a recent convention of the American Gas Association by a veteran gas company executive, Walter G. Beckjord.

The good old days of man-sized breakfasts, says Mr. Beckjord, seem to be gone forever. No longer does the sturdy citizen sit down to a table full of bacon and eggs, cornbread, potatoes and fried cornmeal mush, as in the good old days.

Mr. Beckjord and the gas companies draw cards in this situation, of course, because of the fact that when mother cooks a big breakfast she uses a lot of fire; and when, as and if, she is using a gas range, a lot of the gas company's product is consumed.

Now all of this probably strikes the ordinary citizen as mildly amusing. Yet it is far from amusing to the gas companies, which find an unlooked-for shift in popular habits cutting into their business; and it is just a sample of the unpredictable hazards that all kinds of business face these days.

The cotton textile industry, for instance, had no way of knowing that women were suddenly going to stop wearing three petticoats at a time and content themselves with one filmy slip; but they did, and the demand for cotton textiles is a good many million yards less today than it would be otherwise.

You could go on citing such examples all day, and when you got through you would begin to understand why business executives so often get gray hair. Ordinary competition a business man expects. He can meet that; it's part of the game.

Such shifts are characteristic of American life. They offer fortunes to the men who can foresee them and get in front of them; but they mean the biggest kind of trouble to the men who get caught in the squeeze.

Pictures of Heaters Will Win Contest And Cash Awards

"See the pretty birdie," time worn slogan of photographers, is no help at all in catching the glowing personality of a radiant gas heater, declare prospective entrants in Lone Star Gas System's ten-week contest for amateur photographers.

Interested camera fans are already lining up pictures of gas heating equipment with which they hope to capture the ten $10 prizes which will be awarded each week by the gas company in its contest which will open October 11 and close December 18. They are taking their cue on the type of pictures wanted from the company's newspaper advertisement, one of which appears in this issue, and from a folder on the contest, furnished by the gas companies participating in the contest.

"I've had several people ask me whether a picture of a living room would be better than a bedroom showing gas heating equipment," said the district manager of the gas company in talking about the contest. "That is something each contestant will have to decide for himself, because as far as the company is concerned a picture of any room in the house is acceptable if it shows gas heating equipment."

"What we hope to obtain through the contest are some good, clear pictures showing various types of gas heating equipment used in homes of this section. Customers who come to our display floors to buy heating equipment find it difficult to visualize just how the appliance they are considering will fit into their home. With the wide selection of photographs we hope to receive during the contest, we can show them that in addition to furnishing a comfortable, healthy heat throughout the house, modern gas heating equipment is available in styles varied enough to fit into any decorative plan."

Posting of Bond Permits Operation

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zellars of Rising Star had posted $1,000 peace bond Thursday which allows operation of their business near Rising Star.

Previously 91st district court had perpetuated an injunction against Mr. and Mrs. Zellars from operation for a year unless the bond required by law for continued operation and observance of regulations should be given.

The bond will be forfeited should the defendants allow intoxicants kept, sold or drunk at a dance hall near their residence, or if gambling or other regulations are violated.

CASE ERASED

Dismisses at plaintiff's case recently was suit of A. W. Williamson, executor, and others against J. E. Gray and others. The court, 91st district, was advised matters in controversy had been settled.

DISMISSED

Eighty-eighth district court has been dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff the suit of Mrs. Nannie Walker against J. J. Parks.

New Stamp Issue Is Received Here

Frank A. Jones, Eastland postmaster, Thursday announced arrival of a supply of three-cent stamps commemorating the 150th anniversary of the signing of the United States constitution.

Size of the stamp is 0.84 by 1.44 inches. The top of the stamp is titled "Constitution Sesquicentennial." Below is the inscription "Signing of the Constitution—In Philadelphia Convention—September 17, 1787—Independence Hall."

At the bottom is the writing, "United States Postage" with a decorative scroll underneath. On the left side is the date 1787 and a Roman fasces, and on the right side the date, 1937, and an enlightened emblem.

Attorney Carded On Townsend Meet

Fred O. Jaye, DeLeona attorney, will address the Townsend club of Eastland at the semi-monthly meeting Friday night at 7:30 in the courthouse, it was announced Thursday.

Representatives of the club stated the public, negroes including, are invited. Entertainment will include numbers by a male negro quartet.

IMPROVEMENT OBSERVED IN PLAY OF MAVS WHO ENGAGE ABILENE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

In final practice Thursday before the Abilene game Friday afternoon at 2:45 on Welch field at Eastland, the Eastland Mavericks were believed by E. B. Grady, Jr., coach, as showing considerable improvement since the first game of the season with Brownwood.

The passing of the Eastland squad, presumably the Mavericks' first choice in the battle against the Eagles, was clicking in a manner that aroused the enthusiasm of fans, Coach Grady and Assistant Coach Miller.

San Angelo's team which buried the Mavericks in an avalanche of touchdowns last week, is acknowledged by many scouts as the classiest in the district. That belief is cheering to the Mavericks in that possibly the worst has passed.

The game against the Abilene team marks the fourth of the conference season for Eastland. Brownwood was winner of the first, Eastland winner over Big Spring in the second, and then the Mavericks lost to San Angelo.

Standings of teams in the district. Table with columns: TEAM, W, L, Pct. Rows include Stephenville, Brownwood, Abilene, Sweetwater, San Angelo, Breckenridge, Eastland, Cisco, Ranger, Big Spring.

Judge Will Greet Rural Lettermen

County Judge W. S. Adamson will deliver the address of welcome at a meeting of the 17th congressional district rural letter carrier's association on Saturday night, Oct. 23, at the Laguna hotel in Cisco.

Governor Clyde L. Garrett will give the principal address. Commissioners' court members of the county also plan to attend. Attendance is estimated at 150.

Jersey Prizes at Fair Cornered By Alameda 4-H Boys

Jack Walker, Alameda 4-H club boy, was chief winner in the dairy division of the livestock department of the West Texas Free Fair in results announced Thursday at Abilene.

Walker owned the Jersey female judged the champion, and the champion Jersey bull, G. C. Gibson, dairy specialist of the extension service, was judge for the event.

Walker's Jersey heifer, in milk, and another, not in milk, were also first prize winners. James Calvert, also of Alameda, placed fourth with a Jersey heifer in the "not in milk" class.

Two High Postal Officials May Be At Ranger Oct. 21

Mrs. Martha Davenport, postmaster at Ranger, has received letters from Smith W. Purdham, fourth assistant postmaster general, and Karl Crowley, solicitor general of the post office department, stating that they would make an attempt to be present at the homecoming celebration on Oct. 21, at which time the cornerstone of the new Ranger postoffice building will be unveiled.

The letters, which thank the postmaster for the invitation, state that unless other business keeps them from being present, they will attend.

STATEMENT OF OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912, OF THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE

PUBLISHED AT EASTLAND, TEXAS, OCTOBER 1, 1937.

STATE OF TEXAS, County of Eastland. Before me, a notary public in and for the state and county aforesaid, personally appeared E. Hinrichs, who, having been duly sworn according to law, depose and say that he is the publisher of the Weekly Chronicle and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper), the circulation, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 411, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of publisher, editor, managing editor, and business manager are: Publisher—E. Hinrichs, Eastland, Texas. Managing Editor—S. M. Doss, Eastland, Texas.

2. That the owners are: (Give names and addresses of individual owners, or, if a corporation, give its name and address of stockholders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of the total amount of stock.) Times Publishing Co. (Owner), Ranger, Texas. Stockholders: Walter Murray, Mineral Wells, Texas; Blanche Murray, Ranger, Texas.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgages and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities, are: (If there are none, so state.) None.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, of a corporation, give its name and address of the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary capacity for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest, bond, or other securities than as so stated by him.

E. HINRICHS, Publisher. Sworn to and subscribed before me this 4th day of October, 1937. FAYE HOCK, Notary Public. My commission expires June 1, 1935.

Have You Entered The Photo Contest?

This interior view showing a gas circulator type heater was taken in the home of one of our customers.

5 Simple Rules of the "Heating Photo Contest"

- 1. All photos must include a view of the gas heating equipment used to heat the room or adjoining room in which the photo is taken. (See sample)
2. The house in which you reside must receive its gas service from one of the companies of Lone Star Gas System and all photos submitted in the TEN WEEK CONTEST must be taken in a home served gas by one of the companies of Lone Star Gas System. These companies are: Lone Star Gas Company; The Dallas Gas Company; County Gas Company; Community Natural Gas Company; Texas Cities Gas Company.
3. Employees of any company of Lone Star Gas System and their immediate families and professional photographers or persons engaged in the business of making photographs for commercial purposes are not eligible to enter this Heating Photo Contest.
4. All photos submitted must have your name and address (including the town) PRINTED PLAINLY ON A SEPARATE PIECE OF PAPER AND PASTED TO THE BACK OF EACH PHOTO ENTERED IN THE CONTEST.
5. All photos submitted should be delivered to your local gas company office or mailed to LONE STAR GAS SYSTEM, ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT, 305 S. HARWOOD ST., DALLAS, TEXAS.

The contest is for a TEN WEEK Period from October 11, 1937 to December 18, 1937 (inclusive). All photos submitted will become the property of Lone Star Gas System to be used as desired by the company. Photos entered in the contest will not be returned and weekly prize winners will be advised by letter. At the close of the ten week contest a complete list of prize winners will be available for inspection at your nearest gas company office.

YOUR gas company wants to buy one hundred photos or "snap-shots" to be used to illustrate various types of gas heating appliances used in homes of the Southwest.

Note the sample photo in this advertisement and read the five simple rules of the contest and submit your entries NOW. No matter what type gas heating equipment you prefer — floor furnaces, gasteam radiators, gas circulators, or gas radiant type heaters — take pictures of your living room, dining room, or bed room and submit them in the TEN WEEK PHOTO CONTEST. Be sure to include a view of some type of gas heating appliance.

Nothing to Buy...No Letters to Write

Weekly prizes of $10.00 each will be awarded the ten best photos submitted each week during the contest. A total of one hundred prizes of $10.00 each will be awarded for the best photos submitted between the dates of Oct. 11, 1937 and Dec. 18, 1937. At the close of the contest additional grand prizes will be awarded as follows: 1st grand prize, $100.00; 2nd grand prize, $75.00; 3rd grand prize, $50.00; 4th grand prize, $25.00. Send in your entries EACH week. Yours may be just the kind of photos we need.

Quanah Has Many Cooperative Plans For Doing Business

QUANAH, Tex.—Quanah is far ahead of many southwest towns in the present trend toward cooperatives. The town has a cooperative filling station, lumber yard, feed store, farm implement store, grain elevator and cream station.

Texas farmers are fast pointing cooperatives to secure maximum profit from their produce and crops. A group of Texas Chamber of Commerce managers recently made a tour of the state to determine if cooperatives were a threat to private business and injurious to financial interests of a city.

They found that the co-ops were not putting on competitive prices but were staying at the price standard set by established merchants. Profits went to members except for funds for expenses.

Chamber of Commerce officials in several cities said that business men in almost every instance stated cooperatives helped their towns.

Childress, Texas, has a cooperative cotton gin owned by farmers who decided to establish it after allegedly getting poor work done at exorbitant cost.

Amarillo, Texas, has a $500,000 cooperative elevator. The Plains cooperative owns a 15-year-old creamery at Plainview and a cotton gin at Lubbock, Texas.

Hidden Wealth of Texas Lies In Her Natural Resources

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 7.—Hidden gold lies in Texas—wealth awaiting development by some Ford with his small workshop, some Edison with a backroom laboratory.

That was the theme of an address here today by Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, before the state convention of Texas Real Estate Boards.

True wealth of Texas, Thompson said, is in her natural resources, and that wealth will be the heritage of those who step forward at the threshold of an era of industrial expansion in the state in which the raw materials are transformed into articles of commerce.

Neglected items in the storehouse of Texas form a "vast untapped reservoir," Thompson said, "rich unopened treasure vaults that hold our sleeping power, waiting to be dispensed for the common good."

In this category he listed newsprint, for which the piney woods of East Texas are perfectly suited; potash, of which "we have already a large proven supply, and an imaginably great possibilities" meat-packing and its auxiliary, leather; cotton textiles, to absorb the enormous export which gets producing markets; wool and hair textile mills; dairying, poultry and eggs, especially turkeys; garden spots rich enough to furnish raw materials for a half dozen of the greatest ports in the nation; fruit canning and fish packing, ceramics, marble and granite, helium, and the "greatest industrial fuel that nature has to give natural gas, with 65 percent of the entire nation's supply—begging for use."

Money, Thompson termed the "stimulant" to transform this wealth into the material things. "The thing that is necessary, therefore, to bring our latent resources into liquid wealth is to furnish invited capital coming here with all reasonable security possible."

Gerald C. Mann Is Still a Follower Of Football Teams

DALLAS.—If former Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann decides to enter the attorney general's race, he will have to wait until the football season is over to do any serious campaign work.

Football, it seems, runs a formidable interference against political aspirations if the aspirant happens to be famous in pigskin annals. That's Jerry's trouble. He made history more than a decade ago as ace quarterback of the S. M. U. Mustangs, and the football gentry hasn't forgot it. His love for the game today is just as ardent as it was in 1927 when he was wowing the fans with spectacular passes and touchdowns.

Traveling about the state during the past month, Mann says he has found it difficult to attend to his personal business affairs because everybody is more interested in football than politics. When the word is passed that the former Mustang star is in town, he is usually besieged by a crowd of football enthusiasts and hustled off to the high school grounds to give the local rookies a talk on gridiron tactics and show them some of the finer points of the game.

"They don't give me much time for speech-making these days," Jerry says. "Even since the football season opened, I have been dedicating new stadiums and scrimmaging with high school teams."

"I ruined a new pair of pants last week getting into a scrimmage line and my arm is sore from passing footballs. But it's lots of fun, and if I can help the boys I'm always glad to take time out to do it."

"It doesn't leave much time for court house business but it doesn't make much difference after all. I usually wind up by finding everybody from the county judge and leading preacher to the town barber out on the football field."

Mann likes to show young football aspirants the backfield tricks that won him fame and the All-Southwest quarterback title more than a decade ago. He has frequently spent an entire afternoon with some small-town football squad, showing the boys how to make short and long passes.

Jerry was captain in his high school football team at Sulphur Springs, and lettered in football at S. M. U. where he was elected captain in 1927. He studied law at Southern Methodist University and finished at Harvard, and he is now practicing law in Dallas.

Oyster Association To Be Formed By First of the Year

ROCKPORT, Tex.—Texas oysters will have an organization behind them in 1938—the new Texas Oyster Association which will be formed at Palacios before January 1st.

The new association will include both growers and dealers. The purpose will be to conserve the supply of shellfish off the Texas Gulf Coast and to make plans for improving the quality.

Temporary officers are Travis Johnson of Rockport, president; and Alex Lillico of Rockport, secretary. Permanent officers are expected to be elected at the Palacios meeting about three months from now.

Students to Censor Editorials For a University Paper

AUSTIN, Tex.—Editorials in The Daily Texan, student publication at the University of Texas, will pass through a student council "censorship" before publication this year.

The plan was adopted after editorials last year led to faculty censorship and protests by students against the censors.

Dr. Paul J. Thompson, chairman of the Department of Journalism, said the council would have a representative from each of the schools and colleges in the University. The resulting editorials were expected to reflect more clearly campus opinion than the writings of any one student.

Last year's furor followed editorials criticizing the Colorado River project sponsored by the late Congressman James P. Buchanan of Brenham. Buchanan had been equally active in sponsoring projects that aided the University of Texas building program.

Water and Gas For Corpus Christi Is Assured by Bonds

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas.—Corpus Christi's industrial interests received a guarantee for an adequate water and gas supply last week with the passage by a four-to-one vote of $750,000 in bond issues to rehabilitate the city's water and gas systems.

The bond issues were for the building of a new water line from the Nueces River at Calallen to Corpus Christi and for general rehabilitation and extension of the city's water and gas systems. Bonds for the water project total $650,000, and those for the gas improvement program total $100,000.

Construction of the water line is expected to get under way in time to have it ready for use early next summer. The line will supplement a 20-inch main to Calallen now in use.

The improved water and gas facilities, instituted to meet Corpus Christi's rapid industrial development program, will be a boon to new industries contemplating entering the local trade area.

Among the major industries which have announced plans for entering Corpus Christi are the Columbian Carbon Co., which will build a $100,000 quick-freezing plant for frosting and preserving foods. The General American Tank Storage Terminal company is constructing a $50,000 refinery and contemplates construction of a plant to build and repair tank cars and a pre-cooling plant for perishable foodstuffs.

The Southern Alkali Corporation will soon add units for the manufacture of salt and chlorine.

Circus Performer's Ease of Action Packed by Many Hours of Hard Work

The "greatest of ease" with which the much-touted daring young man flies through the air, which in fact characterizes all the alluring feats which take place under a circus tent, is the result of the very antithesis of ease, namely: hard work and much of it, to the accomplishment of equal portions of patience and perseverance.

This fact will bear testimony of any of the performers and trainers with Russell Bros. Circus which is billed to exhibit in Eastland on Friday, Oct. 8.

It may be disillusioning, but circus performers do not get that way by some magic gift. True, there must first be a natural aptitude. But beyond that are endless hours of practice, blistered palms aching backs and frayed nerves, yet underlying all of these, the pride that comes from true achievement.

Roger T. Babson, world famed financial expert, has found inspiration in the circus and writes of it in these terms: "If every industry were operated with the same intelligent organization and strict discipline as those of a great circus, would there be and business depression? If every young man developed the courage and exactness of those performers, would there be any unemployed? If we all in our daily work showed the persistence and patience of those animal trainers, could we help being successful? Of course these people require character, health and intelligence as a foundation on which to build. . . . The secret of circus success continues to be those old-fashioned qualities of industry, courage, good habits, and thoroughness."

This comes from Dame Laura Knight, England's foremost woman artist: "Circus performers are the hardest working, cleanest living people I have ever met, with a pride in their bodies, an ideal of attainment and an infinite capacity for endurance." And to this, another famous Englishwoman, Lady Eleanor Smith, the novelist, adds: "The performers of the circus are neither savages nor magicians; they are charming, normal, industrious people, whose private existence might well set an example to us all."

Farmers Operate a Railroad Rescued From Scrap Heap

ARCADIA, N. Y.—A group of farmers in New York state have gone into the railroad business. They operate the Arcade & Attica railroad, one of the most unusual in the United States. One train is run daily between Arcade and Attica, a 26-mile stretch.

The railroad is 100 years old, but when private management threatened to abandon it, the farmers along the line pooled their resources and purchased the entire system and equipment.

The owners are the railroad's best customers. Their milk shipments, together with the milk freight of several milk companies, keep the railroad in the "black."

HOSPITAL EMPTY 3 YEARS

LONDON.—A gray, 50-year-old hospital stands on the Thames bank at Rotherhithe—empty except for a day and night staff of nurses. No patients have been admitted for three years; yet the hospital must be kept going. It is designed to keep smallpox from London.

Black Bass Adopted By Canadian Town

CANAOQUE, Ont.—The villagers here have adopted a fish. Several weeks ago a black bass, weighing about 3 1/2 pounds, appeared in the water near the town bridge and a villager began killing flies and feeding it.

Soon the fish became so tame that it appeared at the same spot regularly four times a day and waited to be fed. The villagers placed it on a meat diet, and it now eats about a quarter of a pound of meat daily.

The fish is a town pet, and a crowd gathers daily to see it fed.

Old Cattle Group Is Still Active Over Half Century

AMARILLO, Tex.—The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, formed 62 years ago under a tree at Graham, Texas, by a determined group of pistol-toting cowmen to halt rustling, is keeping alive the romance of the west.

It still finds work to do in fighting cattle rustlers and "bad men" who were not totally banished or exterminated in the re-making of the Western plains.

The Association, now a corporation with far-flung operations spends much time and money in tracking down cattle rustlers, and has widened its scope to include political questions affecting the industry.

Its officials point out that when beef prices go as high as they are now, rustling invariably increases and usually does a good business. But the crude, old branding iron in use since the days of the open range, still marks the path that leads to jail. It once led to the end of a rope dangling from the limb of a live oak tree on the western prairies.

BULLDOGS ARE WORKING FOR LIONS GAME

The Ranger Bulldogs, after two strenuous workouts since the Abilene game, had another stiff round of practice under the lights Wednesday night, with Coaches Baker Wright and H. G. Jennings brushing up on several weaknesses found in the team in their first two conference games.

A running attack, with a varied assortment of plays, is being worked out methodically, with such attention given to the part the linemen play in the offense and one the defense, and the ball carriers being taught to add more drive to their offense.

Many of the squadmen who saw service at Abilene learned much in that game, and, together with what is being taught them by the coaches, they will likely show a much better brand of teamwork when they go up against the Brownwood Lions at Brownwood Friday night.

Encouraged over the two touchdowns pushed over against the first string Eagles, the Bulldogs are putting more snap and fight into their scrimmages, with blocking getting a good bit of attention. Poor blocking, due to lack of spirit, was largely responsible for the two defeats suffered by the team this season, and this part of the play is being improved rapidly.

Practically the same lineup that started against the Eagles is expected to start against the Lions this week end, though Boney is expected to be in a position to start at a tackle position. He was not suited out for the Abilene game because of an injured knee.

The Lions are in good shape, having suffered only minor injuries in their Big Spring game last week, and are reported to be in the best of shape.

Tree Rings Show Drouths at Time Of Columbus' Trip

WASHINGTON. — The year that Columbus discovered America the weather was dry—had been dry for 28 years—the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine of the Department of Agriculture has discovered.

But it started raining before Columbus could get back to Spain to tell Queen Isabella about it. F. O. Keen of the bureau found by a study of annual rings of trees. He described these rings as almost infallible weather records.

A study of rings from trees cut in Oregon, some dating back more than 150 years, revealed that the ponderosa pine forests were in 1492 in very much the same kind of a growth depression as they have been since 1917, Keen said.

But, he added, the punishment the trees have taken in the past 20 years is the worst ever, with insect attacks added to drouth injury. Billions of board feet of timber have been killed and desert has encroached on thriving pine stands, he said.

Keen said the long-time weather record revealed by these trees is more reassuring than some weather records which seem to indicate an 80-year trend toward increasing dryness. They show, he said, that there have been periods of relative dryness for longer than 80 years, followed by a return to more favorable moisture conditions.

Keen said his tree calendar had not revealed definite evidence either for or against the existence of long term weather cycles, but that tests for the short cycles did not support any of the shorter cycle schemes for weather predictions that have been proposed.

His survey included a study of records of 1,240 pine trees selected from five areas 50 to 50 miles apart. By cross checking average records from the several areas he was able to read not only the weather record but record of fires and insect attacks as well.

House Author of Ranger Oil Boom Tale in Magazine

FORT WORTH, Oct. 7.—What happens to a great oil boom town in the years that come after the big wells quit roaring in? The story is told by Boyce House, well-known Texas newspaperman, in next week's issue of the Saturday Evening Post under the title, "It was fun while it lasted." The article deals with Ranger and the other towns of Eastland county, scene of a mighty rush 20 years ago. Incidentally, Ranger will hold a celebration on Oct. 21, the anniversary.

This is House's second oil boom article in the Saturday Evening Post. The first, appearing several months ago, was the story of Mexico. He is also the author of the book, "Were You in Ranger."

Deputy Sheriff Tug Underwood reported Thursday that Lanham Brown, charged with burglary, has posted $750 bond.

Programs Prepared For Medical Meeting

Programs Thursday were prepared for the Tuesday night, Oct. 12, meeting of the Eastland-Callahan County Medical Society at Connelley hotel roof garden in Eastland.

Dr. Frank S. Schoover, Jr., of Fort Worth, will speak on "Renal surgery under difficulties," and Dr. T. C. Terrell, also of Fort Worth, on an unannounced subject.

The meeting will begin at seven o'clock, with a meal.

Sheriff Back After Court Attendance

Sheriff Loss Woods has returned to Eastland after appearing before a federal court grand jury at Abilene on cases from this county.

Caft Diner Demands Service for a Dog

DUNCAN, Okla.—An aged man accompanied by a small dog, entered a restaurant here and asked if the establishment supplied canned dog food. It didn't, so he bought a sack of hamburger meat for the dog.

Then he asked that the meat be served at a table and that the dog receive service comparable to that given any other customer. The management refused, politely but firmly.

GET DIVORCE

Ninety-first district court has granted divorce to Ollie Dula and W. R. Dula, Jr. Custody of a minor child was given Mrs. Dula.

THE TRAIN CAME IN ON TIME...

... And I missed it... the sun rose majestically this morning, spreading beauty and light worth millions, but I was not awake... only yesterday, important opportunity knocked at my door, but I was away from home...

We would like to think that the type of person pictured above is now extinct, but not so. Many good folks keep on missing trains, sleeping late, and missing opportunities all around them.

We know of a dozen people who could and should buy a bargain home from us this coming week. Only a few will... the others will put it off another year, or perhaps forever.

We have the HOME, the plan of payment, and every facility to suit you.

SEIBERLING'S

Patented Vapor-Cure Process

MAKES TIRES WITH NO WEAK SPOTS!

All tire manufacturers, with the exception of Seiberling, vulcanize their tires in molds where rubber is pressed against blistering steel. Since rubber and cotton are vegetable products, heat burns the life and strength out of them. All Seiberling tires are cured by the Patented Vapor-Cure process as shown in the photograph at the right. This process of gentle steam vapor preserves the life of the cotton and rubber and makes a tire with No Weak Spots.

A SEIBERLING TIRE FOR EVERY PURSE AND PURPOSE!

Whether you select a Seiberling Special Service Rib tread design, a Special Service Low Pressure tire design or the famous Seiberling Standard Service tire, you can rest assured that you have a tire incorporating every construction advantage known to Seiberling engineers, with the exception of the Air-Cooling principle. Let us equip your car today with genuine Seiberling tires. We make you a liberal trade-in allowance on your old tires.
