"There Should Be a Law"

(Editorial from The Crane Chronicle, H. R. Long, Publisher, Crane, Missouri, Nov. 24, 1938.) "A year or so ago a visiting speaker told a group of Crane business men that unless some step is taken to divert the trend, many a small town is due to degenerate into a cross-roads stop for gasoline and free air.

Crane has a cleaning and pressing establishment. But even so, at least four out-of-town firms are trying to offer pick up service to and from their plants, one of which is located in another state.

In a country that has been built upon the practice of free competition it is not fitting to begrudge a man the business he can get. Nor is it proper to question the right of a man to spend his money where he thinks it will bring him the most in return.

The least contribution that should be expected from the merchant who has no home here, who has no regular place of business here, is a license fee that would help in part to pay for the streets that he uses for his salesroom."

Come To Eastland Daily For Your Entertainment

HERE AND THERE

BY CECIL BARHAM

An Open Letter To— Mr. and Mrs. Eastland . . .

Today marks the end of my first six months in Eastland as manager of your theatres and during that time I have given you many hours of grand entertainment in such pictures as "Robin Hood," "Love Finds Andy Hardy," "Boy's Town," "Test Pilot," "Too Hot To Handle," "Sweet Hearts," "Valley of the Giants," "White Banners," "Four Daughters," "Little Miss Broadway," "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "The Texans," "Arkansas Traveler," "Marie Antoinette," "You Can't Take It With You," "Stablemates," "The Young In Heart," "Trade Winds" and many others, and I guess a few that was not up to par, but all in all the good ones were so numerous that we could afford to forget a bad one now and then.

In my capacity as manager of your theatres, I have tried not to make the mistake that so many managers and press agents make and that is to tell you that every picture I play is just a little better than the ones before it, for I realize that if my advertising and my personal word is to be worth anything to me at the boxoffice, I must be truthful with you and although I recommended the majority of the above-mentioned pictures as being good entertainment and well worth your time and money to see, and I believe you will agree with me that they were, I only recommended three of these over my personal signature as being such outstanding entertainment that they would be placed among the ten best of the year and the first of these was "Love Finds Andy Hardy" which won 6th place, the second, "Boy's Town" placed 7th and the third "You Can't Take It With You" won 4th place.

Now for the fourth time I personally recommended a picture to you that I think is outstanding and one that you should by all means see, that picture is "The Citadel" for I feel that after seeing it your life will be richer and to further stress how much I think of it, I will gladly refund your price of admission if you do not enjoy it. There is no guess work on my part as to it's being among the ten best as it has already been selected as the 5th best of the 1938 season.

"Heart of the North," the thrilling story of the Canadian Royal Mounted Police film in beautiful technicolor, playing at the Lyric today and Saturday will not be among the ten best of 1939 but it is good entertainment and I am sure that you will enjoy every minute of it. The Robert Taylor-Wallace Beery co-starring picture "Stand Up and Fight" playing at the Lyric Sunday and Monday will in my opinion be placed among the twenty best of 1939.

"Men With Wings," "Topper Takes A Trip," "Idiots Delight," "Dawn Patrol," "Artists and Models," "Great Waltz," "Kentucky," "Jesse James" and "Son of Frankenstein" are pictures that assure us a good time during the next few weeks so watch this paper for their play dates.

Thanks for reading this letter and let me assure you again that "Motion Pictures Are Your Best Entertainment," if you don't believe it, ask your neighbor.

Your friend,
CECIL BARHAM.

A PEEP INTO THIS WEEK'S ATTRACTIONS!

Torn from the pages of a great novel "The Citadel" is now brought thrillingly to life on the screen by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios. The scene above is from this smashing story made into a film by King Vidor with Robert Donat and Rosalind Russell in the leading roles. "THE CITADEL" has just been selected through a national poll as one of the ten best pictures of the 1938 season, which is one of the highest honors that can be given a picture. The cast includes in addition to Donat and Russell, the celebrated English actors, Ralph Richardson, Rex Harrison and Emyl Williams. "The Citadel" will be shown at the Lyric theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

A Royal Mountie seen in the Technicolor hit "Heart Of The North" at the Lyric today and Saturday.

George O'Brien and Kay Sutton in "The Lawless Valley" at the Connellee theatre today and Saturday.

The Wallace Beery-Robert Taylor free-for-all, anything-goes fist fight staged in "Stand Up and Fight," in which the stars are seen together for the first time on the Lyric screen, will probably go down in film history as one of the wildest and most realistic battles ever to take place before the cameras. Beery is a veteran in film battles, whereas Taylor gained considerable experience as a fighter in "The Crowd Roars." So it was an even match, with no punches pulled. "Stand Up and Fight" comes to the Lyric Sunday and Monday.

"The Citadel" Selected As The Fifth Best of 1938

"The Citadel," A. J. Cronin's dramatically powerful story of a young doctor who barbers his ideals for worldly riches, has been selected, by a national poll, as the fifth best picture of 1938 and one of the first West Texas showings of this fine picture will be at the Lyric Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday.

With superb portrayals upon the part of Robert Donat and Rosalind Russell in the principal roles and the understanding and incisive direction of King Vidor, the new picture becomes at once a tribute to its author, to the medical craft and to the art of motion pictures.

A dramatic love story is unfolded in the account of the young surgeon who struggles among the miners and marries a humble schoolmistress. There is agonizing suspense when he descends into a mine that has collapsed to amputate the arm of a man trapped beneath a fallen timber. There is drama when he deliberately dynamites a sewer that has been spreading disease but which authorities refuse to remove.

Cronin's moving story has become even more dramatic on the screen, without an alteration, but because of the added power of visible action. Donat is outstanding as the disillusioned young doctor and Miss Russell has the best role of her career as his sympathetic wife. Ralph Richardson and Rex Harrison, two of Britain's most capable actors, appear as fellow doctors with Donat and their performances are excellent.

Much credit goes also to Emyl Williams as an official of the Miners' Medical Aid Society; Mary Clare as the sympathetic care proprietress and Penelope Dudley-Ward as the society girl. There are more than one hundred speaking parts in the cast.

"The Citadel" is one of the most popular novels in years, having topped the list here and abroad since its publication about a year ago. The M-G adaptation does it honor.

"STAND UP AND FIGHT" RATED THE GREATEST ADVENTURE DRAMA SINCE MUTINY ON THE BOUNTY!

Combining the punch of "The Crowd Roars" with the vigorous drama of "The Bad Man of Brimstone," the new outdoor drama, "Stand Up and Fight," co-starring Wallace Beery and Robert Taylor for the first time, comes to the screen as one of the fastest action stories ever to be filmed. It opens Sunday at the Lyric theatre.

Unique in that it combines authentic historical background of a period and locale hitherto untouched in motion pictures with the sort of rapid-fire pace that made the Westerns of silent days so perennially popular, "Stand Up and Fight" seems likely to be the forerunner of a cycle of stories of the kind, so sure is its hold on audiences who demand motion above all in their motion pictures.

Taylor's role of the bankrupt young Maryland aristocrat shanghaied into going to work for the stage coach line is a happy choice for it gives him an opportunity to combine romance appeal with the he-man type of characterization which won him laurels in "A Yank at Oxford" and "The Crowd Roars." Beery's role of the hard-boiled, often unscrupulous manager of the Bullet Line is another natural, a typical Beery part played to the hilt and comparable with any of his finest work.

For Florence Rice the feminine lead is a sure augury of great success to come for she handles this, her finest major assignment, with a sure touch and appealing charm.

Never has she been photographed to greater advantage than in the hoopskirts and bonnets of the 1850's. Comedienne Helen Broderick is at her sardonic best, Charles Bickford and Barton MacLane are as villainous as could be wished of a "heavy." Clinton Rosemond embodies all the pathos of the Negro slave, and Charley Grapewin, John Qualen, Robert Glecker and others lend memorable support.

Besides keeping a fast-moving story always straight as a bullet in its objective, Director W. S. Van Dyke II has combined a warmth of atmosphere with the roughness of his backgrounds to a remarkable degree.

One Man's Work

The headlines these days go to the men who are out to make trouble. And there are so many trouble-makers, making so many different kinds of trouble, that it sometimes seems as if nobody was left to carry on the old job of making the world a better place.

But you can get a distorted view of things by using the headlines as your sole gauge. Of necessity, the black type is reserved for things that are exciting; and there is not unfortunately, anything very exciting about a man who is patiently wearing out his life trying to take a load off of mankind's back.

All of which was somehow brought to mind recently when the papers announced the death of T. Wingate Todd, the physician who guided Cleveland's famous Brush Foundation.

Dr. Todd had made extensive studies of the growth and development of children. He had trained many doctors, and had charted a far-reaching attack on some of the infirmities and disabilities of old age. All in all, the work he did meant more health and happiness for—literally—thousands upon thousands of people; and the work remains, and will continue to benefit people for many years to come.

Now Dr. Todd was in the prime of life when he died. We may not know as much as we should know about what fatigue does to the body, but it seems safe to say that he simply worked himself to death. He had been spending from 12 to 20 hours in his laboratory each day, ignoring warnings that he ought to take an extended rest. In the end it was too much for him.

Unless you are more widely informed than the average person, it is probable that his name was quite unfamiliar to you. He had had his share of scientific acclaim, of course, but the general public had hardly so much as heard of him. The work he did was not headline-producing work. It was unexciting, unsensational.

But—it is quite possible that the child next door to you (or, for that matter, your own child) is alive today because of this man's work. Somewhere in the United States, and in other countries as well, children are happily playing who would be less active, less robust, if he had never lived. And perhaps you yourself, when you reach old age, will be spared some of old age's infirmities because of his work.

Nor is that all. The research he did and the knowledge he gained are at the disposal of medical science everywhere. A century from now, the art of healing will be just a little broader and surer than it would be if Dr. Todd had not done his work.

All of which simply means that there is no need for anyone to be too discouraged because the trouble-makers are grabbing all the headlines. Quietly and without benefit of publicity, the Dr. Todds of this world are still at work. Half the time we don't even know they exist—yet in the long run what they are doing is infinitely more important.

A Boston judge ruled a man may slash his wife's clothes or ribbons. On further consideration the judge ruled the husband can't slash them while she is in them.

Farming Classed As Business So Records Are Help

Farmers and ranchers who wish to keep up with their business and know where they are making profits and where they are sustaining losses are being advised by County Agent Cook to keep a complete farm or ranch record in 1939.

"Now is the time to start these records," states Cook. "No time in the year is quite as good for beginning records as at the first of the year."

Farmers and ranchers who wish to start keeping records can get a complete and simplified farm or ranch record book through the county agent. The A. & M. College of Texas has printed a farm record book for this purpose for several years in a form so simple that anyone can understand it, yet it contains all the information needed for complete records.

A few of the reasons that can be given any farmer or rancher for keeping records are, according to Cook:

- 1. Determine where the profits or losses occur and remedy the losses.
2. Establish proof of production for use in the A. A. A. program or in case it is needed to help make a sale.
3. A means of keeping permanent accurate records for any purpose needed, such as dates of births of registered animals, etc.

Regular Study Is Made Of Ticks In Infected Counties

AUSTIN, Jan. 19.—The Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas in conjunction with the Bureau of Animal Industry conducted activities for the prevention and eradication of the fever carrying tick in 61 counties in Texas for the month of December.

Six whole and parts of three other counties are engaged in Systematic Tick Eradication work. Twenty-five whole and parts of one county that are released from both Federal and State quarantine still contains a small number of quarantine herds that are being systematically treated.

The remaining 27 counties and parts of two are also released from quarantine but are counties in which inspections or dippings or both are done in accordance with State and Federal requirements. 31,165 herds and 594,093 cattle, horses, mules, jacks and jennets were dipped or inspected.

Six herds and 23 livestock were upon inspection found to be infested with the fever tick. 1,446 herds and 20,067 livestock are being held for further systematic treatment.

Precinct Officers To Get Pay From Fees

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—The German government decreed today that diplomas of Jewish dentists, veterinarians and druggists would be voided, effective Jan. 31.

It was assumed that those affected would be no longer qualified as professional graduates.

It was decreed, also, that Jewish nurses and assistants would be permitted to practice only among Jews or in Jewish institutions.

Certified Seed Is Received By Agent

County Agent Elmo V. Cook stated today that he has just received a supply of state certified seed from the experiment station at Lubbock which had been requested by Wayne Thurman of Cisco.

Registered grain sorghum, disease resistant milo, ordinary Texas milo, blachul kafir, hegari, spur feterita and sumac were the types of state certified seed being supplied Thurman. He plans to raise state certified seed for all these products.

Thurman already is a producer of state certified new Nortex seed. Last year he made 80 bushels to an acre with New Nortex oats.

Advice Is Given On Notaries Public

Residents of Eastland county who desire appointments as a Notary Public, have been requested by County Clerk R. V. Galloway to turn their names in to him in the near future in order that the appointment might be made during the coming session of the legislature.

Galloway stated that a complete list of those who now have commissions as Notaries Public will be submitted to the legislature for reappointment but asks those who desire appointment and have not in the past had commissions to turn their names in to him.

The appointment will be effective June 1st, 1939 and will be for a term of two years. However those wishing an emergency appointment as a Notary Public to be effective as soon as the appointment is made may get one, but this emergency commission will expire on June 1st of this year.

Parker County Is Enriched Christmas By Turkey Sales

WEATHERFORD, Tex.—Parker County turkey growers received an extra $100,000 to spend as a result of a successful holiday season that saw more than 50,000 dressed birds shipped away to grace festive tables.

The income was the largest received from turkeys in this county for more than 10 years, and the numbers were greater than for several years. The better birds, growers said, went out before Thanksgiving; but the quality generally was good despite a detrimental, dry fall season.

Twenty-one carloads of dressed turkeys were sent out from Weatherford by railroad, and their total weight was almost 50 per cent greater than the shipments last year. The value of the dressed turkeys was about $90,000, and an additional $10,000 worth were sold alive.

Tax Exemption Is Again Under Fire In New Proposal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—President Roosevelt today renewed his request that congress pass legislation removing tax exemption privileges from future government salaries and bonds.

He also requested action before March 15 to bar retroactive federal income levies on state officers and bondholders whose income has been regarded as exempt from federal taxation until recent decisions by the U. S. Supreme Court.

The president's special message renewed recommendations made last spring. A senate committee already is considering the tax exemption question. Treasury witnesses told the committee today federal revenue might be increased by more than $300,000,000 by removal of the tax exemption privileges.

THE PROOF OF THE PUDDING IS IN THE EATING!

The connoisseurs of good foods are right, and the same line of reasoning may apply to homes as well as foods. No one knows better the inner joys of the family fireside than those who experience them. Moving from place to place, from one rented house to another, affords one but little opportunity to get ahead, to really live, and to enjoy many of the pleasures and comforts that are so abundant in the quiet, settled homes of millions who enjoy their pudding while they eat it.

So own your own home! Here in Eastland is an excellent place to live. Every enjoyment and convenience, we have, including many simple but attractive and well-kept homes, good schools and churches, paved streets and roads, and above all a friendly sympathetic attitude toward those who are so unfortunate as to live elsewhere.

2,200 FARM FAMILIES INFLUENCED BY WORK OF COOK, ASSISTANT

A total of 2,200 of the 2,425 farms and ranches of Eastland County have been influenced in 1938 by County Agricultural Agent work, according to an annual report just compiled by County Agent Elmo V. Cook and Sam E. Rosenberg, his assistant.

At the beginning of the year a plan-of-work was made, embodying as its main features soil building, production of food on the farm, production of feed for livestock and conservation of this feed, and increasing the farm income.

breed were purchased by 15 boys. This club has shown considerable expansion, having sold in offspring from these registered pigs more than the original number.

An Eastland County 4-H Registered Jersey calf club was organized in July, 1936, when nine bred registered Jersey heifers were purchased. This club has expanded rapidly and in 1938 there were 22 members owning 48 registered Jersey cows, heifers, calves, and bulls. These cattle are distributed among six communities of the county.

In line with this plan, 3,133 acres of cropland were terraced in the county, 2,500 acres of green manure were turned under, 40,000 acres were strip cropped, 10,000 acres of cropland were contour planted where terraces had not been built, and 470 tons of commercial fertilizers were used by farmers of the county. An estimated 500 tons of barnyard manure were added to the land.

In the program to conserve feed a total of 43 trench silos were filled with 1,025 tons of feed. Fifty percent more farmers than usual kept peanut hay on the farm for feeding to livestock, 20,000 young fruit trees were set out in new farm orchards.

Eastland County 4-H club boys have participated in various activities including contests, game conservation, insect collecting, radio broadcasts, club building construction, parties, rallies, encampments, achievement days, fairs, tours, and trips.

Lodge Membership Check Brings Two Together Again

FORT WORTH, Texas—Efforts to check up on a lodge membership brought together Ray Newton, Fort Worth policeman, and his father, whom he hadn't been able to find in 25 years.

Newton left his father in 1913 at a small Oklahoma oil town, informing the parent that he would write "when I stop rolling." When young Newton became established in Fort Worth, his father had moved to Muskogee, Okla. Each had made his location without the other's knowledge.

The elder Newton had remarried and transferred his lodge membership to Muskogee from Grapeville, Texas, where he had lived 30 years. The Grapeville lodge secretary was a friend of the younger Newton, and told him about the letter sent from Muskogee in regard to his father's membership.

WILL WIPES OUT DEBTS

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—Dr. Andrew S. Gregg, who was a practicing physician here for 57 years, left provisions in his will that debt owned to him by "widows, orphans and others unable to pay" be cancelled. The will directed the trustees to give receipts in full to persons owing such debts.

Cook said 1,250 peanut growers were assisted in the marketing of 4,000 tons of peanuts which were worth $52,800 more through cooperative marketing.

A total of 200 farmers and ranchers saved crops valued at $24,500 by cooperating in a grasshopper control campaign and 150 farmers saved $1,600 in the control of jackrabbits by using poisoned grain.

Two carloads of certified seed Irish potatoes and one carload of high analysis commercial fertilizer were purchased by farmers, the members saving $1,500 by their purchases.

One hundred thousand acres of land were placed into game preserves by 250 landowners who are not only conserving beneficial wild life species but are also lessening erosion by leaving vegetative cover on roadsides, fence rows and ditches.

Four poultry demonstrators, with 1,500 laying hens, made profits of more than $3,000.

Thirteen demonstrators planted more than 100 acres of hairy vetch, southern giant bur clover, and Italian rye grass in the fall of 1938 for winter cover. Five demonstrators who planted vetch in the fall of 1937 on 50 acres reported good results.

Five demonstrations in New Nortex oats produced yields from 50 to 80 bushels per acre. The county average is less than 40 bushels per acre under the same conditions.

Five flocks of goats totaling 2-250 head were dipped in wettable sulphur by demonstrators who reported they apparently have their goat lice under control.

Two dairymen kept complete production and cost records of their herds.

There were 168 4-H club boys enrolled in 1938, of which 49 boys completed their demonstrations and submitted record books to the county agent's office showing completed demonstrations. The total earned profits of these 49 completions was $2,133.96.

These demonstrations were distributed among seven dairy demonstrators, who owned 12 head of registered Jerseys and earned a total profit of $385.41 with their demonstrations, 5 swine club boys who had 26 head of registered Poland China hogs returning them a profit of $184.51, three beef calf club boys who had three calves which returned a profit of $34.41, one poultry demonstration of 40 hens which returned a profit of $24.33, twenty-five peanut club demonstrators, who had 64 1-2 acres of peanuts which returned them a total profit of $1,374.68, and ten feed crop demonstrations containing a total of 14 acres of feed which returned the boys a profit of $130.62.

In 1938 an Eastland County boys' 4-H registered pig club was organized when 13 registered Poland China sow pigs and three registered boar pigs of the same

Recent Survey of Crippled Work Tells Activities In Past 5 Years

Following is an article prepared by B. E. McGlamery, supervisor in this area for the crippled children's work of the State Department of Education:

A recent survey of the work of the crippled children's division in the State Department of Education over the five-year period ending Aug. 31, 1938, reveals many interesting facts concerning the activities of the division. While the survey covers the five-year period, most of the work of the division has been done in the past three years since the enlarged federal program and state appropriations have been available through the Social Security of the Federal Government and the state funds which have matched the federal appropriations. The children's bureau in Washington and the State Department of Education have made the fund available to our crippled children's division and the work in Texas as in some other states is sponsored by the Department of Education, with Hon. L. A. Woods as state superintendent and Mr. J. J. Brown of Austin as the director of the crippled children's division.

Treatment is provided for children of normal mentality who are under 21 years of age and whose parents are unable to provide the care that is needed for crippled children whose condition can be improved by surgery, hospitalization or artificial appliances. Hospitals and surgeons are chosen by the State Board of Health for the use of the crippled children's division, and are so located as to make their services available to children in all sections of the state. During the five-year period ending on Aug. 31, 1938, the crippled children's division has hospitalized 4,011 children. There is scarcely a county in all the state that has not had at least one child cared for. In spite of the large number who have been hospitalized there are now on the waiting list, Dec. 20, 1938, more than 800 children who are asking for treatment, with little chance that many of them can be cared for in five to six months. One of the things responsible for this condition is the fact that very rarely we find a child who can be properly cared for by a single trip to the hospital or the surgeon's office. Instead the survey reveals that often many trips are needed, stretching over periods of two, three or even four and five years. In fact, if 1,000 new cases are cared for during the year 1938, 600 of these cases will be returned for hospitalization during 1939; 300 of the same cases will be hospitalized in 1940 and 100 of them will require care in 1941. To give you a single instance we have a child in one county that has received treatment over a three-year period that to date has cost the division $719.85, and the treatment must continue for some time to come. If the question is raised as to the value of such treatment let me say that this child, to begin with, was a helpless case following infantile paralysis and that today she is walking with the aid of braces and crutches and there is every reason to believe that she will be able to go to school and ultimately be able to live a fairly normal life in the local community.

A brief study of the types of diseases and other causes of the crippling will be of interest. Of the 4,011 children cared for during the five-year period there were 959 cases of infantile paralysis, 459 cases of osteomyelitis, 192 cases of tuberculosis of the bone, 120 cases of spinal curvature, 62 cases of rickets, 46 cases of bone tumor, 299 cases of club feet, 289 cases of hare lip and cleft palate, 259 cases of old fractures which needed reconstruction under the direction of an orthopedic surgeon, 25 cases of wry neck, 15 cases of bow legs, 55 dislocations, 25 cases of extreme flat feet, 60 amputations and many others in different classifications.

As supervisor in North Central Texas with an office in Eastland, B. E. McGlamery has charge of the work in 41 counties. In these counties there are more than 700 children who have been hospitalized during the five-year period. Of these 700 children, 359 were crippled from disease, 227 were born crippled and the other 114 were crippled because of accidents. In quite a number of the accident cases amputations were necessary. Most of these cases have been hospitalized at the hospitals in Fort Worth, Dallas, Waco or Marlin, but a few have gone to other hospitals, even to the State Hospital for Crippled Children at Galveston.

The actual securing of hospitalization for crippled children is but a small part of the work of the supervisors and other field workers. Most of their time is spent on the after-care program of the children, who having been hospitalized for such time as absolutely necessary, must be sent home to convalesce. The supervisors are constantly making visits to the homes to see that the children are receiving the best possible home care in order that the benefits of hospitalization may not be lost. Where homes are not able to provide the proper care the supervisors get in touch with the various local welfare agencies and solicit their assistance in the care of the children. It is occasionally necessary to find a foster home for a child who cannot have the proper care in its own home. In some states convalescent homes are maintained for such care of children. Our funds will not as yet allow us to provide the actual hospital and surgical needs and at the same time maintain this much needed after-care program.

A breakdown of the crippled children's dollar as spent by the crippled children's division over the five-year period shows the expenditures to be as follows: 2.1 cents far anaesthetics, 1.3 cents for occupational therapy, 3.4 cents for physical therapy, 3.5 cents for x-rays, 8.2 cents for artificial appliances, 10 cents for case supervision, 46.2 cents for hospital costs, 1.1 cents for laboratory fees, 13.9 cents for surgeon's fees, 1-20 cent for transportation, 2 cents for plaster casts and medication, 2.4 cents for operating rooms and 5.8 cents for administration.

Work done in Eastland county over the five-year period includes treatment of 38 children for whom $4,922.80 has been spent as follows: For hospital costs, $3,176.80; for artificial appliances, $531.60; for surgeon's fees, $1,120.00; for physio-therapy, $94.00, and for occupational therapy, $55.00.

The largest amount spent on any one child was $719.85, while the smallest amount spent was $5.00 for an examination in which no hospitalization was recommended.

Alcohol Test Shows Plus, But He's Sober

TORONTO—Walter E. Lunn's ability to absorb alcohol amazed medical authorities here.

During an inquest into a fatal accident, Dr. W. L. Robinson, Toronto University pathology professor, told a coroner's jury, that, according to a new blood test, the alcoholic content of Lunn's blood after the accident was 3.8 to 1,000 parts of blood—enough, according to accepted standards, to make anyone completely drunk.

Coroner W. H. Avery, who conducted the inquest, however, told the jury that Lunn was quite normal after the accident except for a slight odor of alcohol on his breath.

"According to the test," the coroner said, "Lunn should have been absolutely drunk and unable to walk straight and answer questions. Yet when I saw him he did not appear to be drunk and he was very co-operative concerning the blood test."

According to statistics compiled in the British Medical Journal, an alcoholic proportion of 2.5 renders a man absolutely drunk.

Lunn was the driver of an automobile which collided with a milk truck, killing Beverly M. Stoddart, the truck driver.

Student Teachers in Charge of a School

NEW ORLEANS—While the faculty of the Louisiana State Normal school attended a teachers' convention in Baton Rouge, their students took over and operated the school.

Administrative officers were named by the student body to manage the executive departments. Faculty members appointed outstanding students to teach their classes.

The C. I. O. seems to have changed its name but not its laundry mark.

Shoe Department At Burr's Enlarged

Optimism and faith go hand in hand at Burr's and plenty of action has been noted this week in the enlarging of the shoe department of this popular department store.

Brooks Robinson, manager of Burr's, states that due to the unusual large purchases of new spring and summer shoes and early arrivals the added space was necessary. Practically the entire width of the store in the rear is now devoted to shoes exclusively, and the additional space provides for more convenient customer service.

Ghost Stories In Village Lead Mayor To Form a Hunt

POMERCY, O.—A female ghost who for months has excited and alarmed citizens of the little village of Hartford, W. Va., across the Ohio river from here remains at large even though a posse was organized to apprehend her.

Many of the town's 433 residents said they had seen the ghost and others were awakened at night by the clatter of her footsteps on the hard surfaced road between Sliding Bill creek and the village school, distance of half a mile.

The spook usually appears, it is said, between 1 and 3 A. M., and walks along the road, always disappearing in the vicinity of the school.

One prominent Hartford resident, Hugo Juhling, declared he had seen her pass his residence every night for a year. He said he has seen her clearly beneath a street light near his home and that on several occasions he called his wife's attention when the apparition appeared.

Some villagers said the ghost has no arms; others declared she had two heads.

Mayor Charles Smith, responding to the many reports of the ghost, formed a posse, himself, Marshal Robert P. and Constable Wayne P. Members were placed at tenuous points and instructed "corner" the ghost and learn her identity and the sound of footsteps was at 1:30 A. M., but when it closed in a man and his on a spook-hunting expedition, were apprehended.

Late travelers passing Hartford can see little green men with flashlights, guns determined to solve the mystery. More timid citizens in the side after dark, draw down the windows and double-lock doors.

After that Coster "bonny" was newest recruit to "is our family department is Who's Who. To be

Funeral Service Is Held Sunday For T. K. Maynard

Funeral services for T. K. Maynard, 87, for many years a resident of Eastland county, who died Saturday night at 6:30, were conducted Sunday at Eastland.

Mr. Maynard died at the home of a son, L. D. Maynard, in Putnam, where he had been the past four months.

The services were held at his home, 114 East Hill street, with Rev. A. D. Stewart of Breckenridge officiating.

Children surviving are Claude (Curley) Maynard of Eastland, T. C. and Frank Maynard of Rotan, Charlie Maynard of Gatesville, Mrs. H. E. Craven of Eastland, Mrs. O. B. Moon of Gladewater, and L. D. Maynard of Putnam.

Pall bearers were O. E. Harvey, H. B. Sone, R. B. Reagan, V. E. Vessels, John Lee Roper, all of Eastland, and T. J. Anderson of Ranger.

Mr. Maynard was formerly mail messenger at the Eastland post-office. His work in that position officially closed October 16, 1936.

When Mr. Maynard first acquired the contract as mail messenger he used a team and hack. In 1925 Maynard gave up his horse transportation and learned to drive a Model T Ford truck when he was 76.

In an interview in 1936 at the time of his retirement Mr. Maynard commented: "I've carried the mail long enough." His work required him to awake and carry the mail at 4 o'clock each morning.

A peaceful man, Maynard was relieved in 1924 when the government allowed him to do his work without a gun strapped on his hips. The government had required the carrying of guns for the protection of the mail.

"I've got my first doctor to call yet," Mr. Maynard told a reporter two years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Maynard, formerly Mary Hatten, were married at the present site of the Corner Drug Store in Eastland, February, 1881. The building in which they were married then was used for a courthouse and also had been the location of a mill.

He was born Feb. 9, 1851, in West Virginia. At the age of 24

The child was fatally scalded about 2 o'clock Friday afternoon when she stumbled backwards into a tub of boiling water which had been used in the family wash.

The child would have been four years of age on February 22. She is survived by her parents, two sisters and three brothers. The brothers and sisters are Mrs. Bill McLaster of Cisco, Mrs. Clifford Dugan of Eastland, Lenard Hageman of Tularosa, N. M., and Buford and Estil who live with their parents near Romney.

JAPS DEPLORE NEW AIR BASE ON GUAM ISLE

TOKYO, Japan, Jan. 19.—Japanese navy sources today denounced American proposals to fortify Guam as putting "a gun against a neighbor's door" and charged that the United States, Great Britain, France and Soviet Russia were prolonging the war in China by assisting Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. The navy issued a vigorously-worded pamphlet, intended to promote popular support of its navy demands when the budget is presented to the diet next month. The statement declared the Japanese navy command of the Western Pacific had prevented the four powers from taking forceful or military action in China and had confined their efforts to shipping war supplies.
