Slum Clearance—An Administration program increasing by $800,000,000 the amount of bonds the U. S. Housing Authority may issue for loans to aid in slum clearance and low rent housing projects, was stepped ahead by the Senate. ### TRENCH SILO CONTEST FOR COUNTY DUE

A trench silo contest in the county is to be sponsored by the Eastland County Dairy Association, according to tentative plans formulated Tuesday night at a meeting of the board of directors of the association at the Cisco Chamber of Commerce. Details of the contest are to be decided at a membership meeting of the association at the city hall in Cisco Monday night, July 24. Directors and others present at the meeting Tuesday agreed to contact business men in each town of the county and enlist their aid in planning the contest and in financing prizes. Business men at Cisco will be contacted by J. F. Alsop at Eastland by Louis Pitzer, at Ranger by F. E. Walker, at Gorman by George I. Lane, at Carbon by Sam E. Rosenberg, at Rising Star by J. B. Eberhart and A. W. Armstrong and by Roy Armstrong at Scranton. At the meeting July 24, in addition to planning the trench silo contest, a 30-minute record on trench silos by E. R. Eudaly, extension dairyman from College Station, will be played. Talks will be delivered by M. E. ### New Booster Truck Constructed by Fireboys

FIREMEN'S WORK RESULTS IN Self-Made Unit Equals $3,500 Value BOOSTER TRUCK ACQUISITION

Combining skill and cleverness in devising and combining, Chief A. W. Hennessee and three members of the Eastland Fire Department have constructed a booster truck valued at $3,500, but which actually cost only $625. Working in close cooperation with city officials, the firemen realized the need of a booster truck but felt that the expenditure of $3,500, as was asked by companies, too much when it was possible to near duplicate commercial jobs at a much lower figure. So a Ford truck chassis with a 127-inch wheelbase was purchased. There was an old truck in the department, fast outgrowing its usefulness, so many of its parts were salvaged to form the new addition to the equipment. Breckenridge is the only city in this section, beside Eastland, it is understood, which has a "home-made" booster truck. The booster truck will enable the Eastland firemen to go to a fire carrying a water supply of 300 gallons which lasts for two and one-half minutes. This enables a fire to be fought and many times brought under control before hose of the other trucks is connected. In 75 per cent of the cases the booster truck will be the only equipment necessary in combating fires. A system of cooling on the booster truck is believed unusual. While the engine is running cool water is pumped into the radiator which keeps the mechanism from getting too hot. It is possible to spray a moving fire with water and keep the truck in motion. In another respect the truck is unusual. The tank top is portable and may be removed for frequent painting. The aid of Otis Knox was secured in fixing the tank. The truck has two flood lights and one spotlight. The flood lights are mounted near the rear and operate from an independent battery supply. The flood lights also have extensions and may be placed in strategic positions when fires are being extinguished. There are three lines from the tank, one with a three-quarter inch line and 200 feet of hose and two with one and one-half inch lines with 150 feet of hose each. Construction of the truck took nine weeks. The old truck from which parts were taken still has equipment which when salvaged is worth $250, said Chief Hennessee. Addition of the booster truck to the department brings equipment value of the department to $30,000. The department as yet has not had a fire on which to use the booster truck. Chief Hennessee said the other two trucks are in excellent condition.

EVENT IS TO BE CONFINED TO OUTBOARDS

Boat racing today was added as another feature of the annual July Fourth celebration Monday and Tuesday, July 3 and 4, at Eastland. The boat racing will be on the morning of the second day of the celebration. Chief of Police W. J. Peters, who will be in charge of the committee arranging the races, said the event would be confined to outboard motorboats and the event will be held at Lake Eastland. Persons to witness the races must go to the lake by the golf course entry. An admission charge of 10 cents per person will be assessed. A boat parade from the lake bridge to the dam and back at 9 a. m. will precede the races, starting at 10 a. m. Chief Peters said the number of divisions, to be determined by boat horsepower, has not been determined fully. He said that automobiles may not be parked on the bridge or spillway. Prizes will be a percentage of the receipts. He said that plans are to make the boat races an annual event. The first event will be the inauguration of the feature which is expected to take its place as one of the most interesting contests of the annual celebration. All persons with motorboats in this section were urged to participate. Those who wish to enter the parade but not the race were urged to do so. ### REA GIVING EXAMINATION TO REQUEST

The Rural Electrification Administration has given preliminary consideration to an application of the Comanche County Elec. Coop. Assn., Comanche, Texas, for an additional loan of $130,000 to extend 175 miles of rural lines to serve some 525 members in Comanche and Eastland counties, and has outlined the steps which must be completed before an allotment of funds can be made. The original application covered 200 miles to serve 595 members. REA has already allotted $178,000 for this project. It will be necessary for the project sponsors to obtain and submit signed applications for membership in the cooperative as well as applications for electrical service from it; also obtain signed easements for the right-of-way for power lines, and prepare and send to REA a detailed map of the proposed extension. The same retail rate which has already been established for the first section of the project will probably apply on this new section. Under this rate, residential members pay a minimum bill of $2.45 a month, for which they may receive 25 kw, enough electricity to light the average size home adequately and operate an appliance such as a washing machine or iron. $5.90 pays for 100 kw, enough for all these uses, an operating an iron, a radio, a water pump and one major appliance, such as a refrigerator. Speed in further development of this project depends in large measure upon a continuance of the community cooperation which is principally responsible for the success of the project so far. If the information about this proposed addition is satisfactory, REA expects to be able to allot money to meet the entire construction costs. No money will be lent to pay for rights-of-way.

The Individual Merchant Holds His Own

So much is said about the trend toward centralization, toward bigger units, toward co-operative effort, that one is apt to exaggerate the drift toward these things.

It isn't true, according to a survey just completed for the Twentieth Century Fund, which concludes that nearly two-thirds of the total volume of retail sales is still handled through such stores.

That is a sizable block of people engaged in distribution of goods—with their families, they would represent probably more than 20,000,000 people.

It is pretty certain that no other country in the world can present so large a group of proprietors of small individual businesses.

It is only in America that this tremendous field for individual enterprise has been left open, and it is only here that it has been able to maintain itself in the face of adverse business conditions.

When the individual store has been able to maintain its position not only in the face of competition from other individual stores, but in the face of competition from other methods of distribution, like chains and co-operatives, it must mean that it is meeting a need and filling a place.

And so long as any institution can successfully do this, it need have no great fears for the future. It is the useful, in the long run, that survives.

Strawn Organizes Strong Baseball Club For Season

STRAWN, June 20.— Looking forward to a highly successful season, the 1939 Strawn independent baseball club is preparing for its debut appearance here at the Greyhound Athletic Field Sunday afternoon, July 2.

Roasting an abundance of diamond talent, the hopes of the current Strawn aggregation are pinned on a pitching staff unequalled in the annals of local diamond history.

Buck Caraway, lanky right-hander and ex-Texas leaguer who pitched for Abbeville in the Evangeline loop last year, heads the hurling staff. Three semi-pro moundsmen—Gene Forgy and Bucky Buchanan, righthanders, and Eno Visentin, southpaw—are also ready for action.

Several outstanding stars of the old Oil Belt league competition a few years ago are on the Strawn club roster. Sam Grabin, popular catcher, has been assigned to duty behind the plate. George Guydis, rated as one of the best outfielders in this section of the country, and his brother, Mickey, stellar second baseman; the Mott brothers, Albert and Walter, Jo Supina, Paul Rogers, Joe Lovera and half a dozen other talented baseball players comprise the Strawn club.

Joe Lovera, captain of the new team, announced that all four pitchers would get a chance to display their talents on the mound during the opening doubleheader July 2.

Clubs in this vicinity who are interested in booking games with the Strawn nine are asked to communicate with G. C. Lee, Jr., Strawn, Texas.

Two From Ranger Invited to Meeting Of Peanut Growers

A. N. Larson, president, and Pless E. Moore, secretary, of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce are among officials from organizations over this part of the country who have been invited to the meeting of the board of directors of the Southwestern Peanut Growers Association, which will be held in the Connelles Theatre, Eastland, Wednesday, June 28.

The meeting will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning and will continue until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. A large attendance of peanut growers, chamber of commerce officials and others is expected to be present.

Summer Playground Activity Increases

Since the opening of the Summer WPA recreation playgrounds two weeks ago, there have been many children taking part in the playground activities.

As a result of a few days' work, several girls are the proud owners of table mats woven from the bright colored yarn. Other children have learned games that they had never played before, equipment for which can be made at home with little or no cost.

Each day girls and boys are bringing more of their friends to Hodges Oak Park, Cooper, City Park, or the colored playgrounds for an hour or two of free and recreational play.

Police at Butte, Mont., have been ordered to grow beards for a civic festival. When they're stalking a criminal, they can hide behind their whiskers.

New Rulings Made For Vital Statistics

Justice of Peace E. E. Wood at Eastland has announced that the following paragraphs are taken from the new law that controls the manner of preparing old date birth or death certificates:

"And provided further, that any citizen of the State of Texas wishing to file the record of any birth or death, not previously registered, may submit to the Probate Court in the county where the birth or death occurred, a record of that birth or death written on the adopted forms of birth and death certificates. The certificate shall be substantiated by the affidavit of the medical attendant present at the time of the birth, or in the case of death, the affidavit of the physician last in attendance upon the deceased, or the undertaker who buried the body. When the affidavit of the medical attendant or undertaker cannot be secured, the certificate shall be supported by the affidavit of some person who was acquainted with the facts surrounding the birth or death, at the time the birth or death occurred, with a second affidavit of some person who is acquainted with the facts surrounding the birth or death, and who is not related to the individual by blood or marriage. The Probate Court shall require such other information or evidence as may be deemed necessary to establish the citizenship of the individual filing the certificate, and the truthfulness of the statements made in that record."

"The Clerk of the said Court shall forward the certificate to the State Bureau of Vital Statistics with an order from the Court to the State Registrar that the record be, or ob not, accepted."

"The State Registrar is authorized to accept the certificate when verified in the above manner, and shall issue certified copies of such records as provided for in Section 21 of this Act. Such certified copies shall be prima facie evidence in all Courts and places of the facts stated thereon. The State Bureau of Vital Statistics shall furnish the forms upon which such records are filed, and no other form shall be used for that purpose."

Two Eastland County registered Jersey cows have been placed on the official Register of Merit test which is conducted under the supervision of the American Jersey Cattle Club.

The cows are Decemvir's Fairy Baby, three year old cow owned by Jack Walker of the Alameda Boys 4-H Club. The cow was classified and received a blue ribbon at two of the recent dairy day shows, first at the official Dairy Day Show at Abilene and then at the Brownwood Dairy Day Show.

The other cow is Victor's Carnation Sybil owned by L. C. Cooksey, who also lives in the Alameda community. This cow was awarded a blue ribbon at the Eastland County Dairy Day which was held at Rising Star and was then acclaimed the Grand Champion cow of the Dairy Day Show.

These cows are hitting along at a very high clip as shown by their records made on first test. Jack's cow milking 34 pounds of 5.7 per cent milk and Mr. Cooksey's cow milking 38 pounds of 4.7 per cent milk.

Charles H. Bell, vocational agriculture teacher in the Ranger high school is supervising the testing of these cows for the American Jersey Cattle Club.

Further Plans To Hold Goat Show In County Formulated

Goat raisers and others interested will hold a meeting in Eastland County some time in August, according to plans that are being made by Elmo V. Cook, county agent.

The tentative plans for the meeting are that it will be held at a location where goats are being run. W. R. Nisbet, extension animal husbandman, will classify goats that are brought to the meeting by goat raisers and will discuss proper management of goats for success. Dr. I. B. Boughton, veterinarian of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Sonora, Texas, will discuss diseases and parasites of goats and their control.

Interest in goat problems is increasing in Eastland County in proportion to the rapid increase in the number of goats in the county. The number of goats in the county has increased several hundred per cent in the last three years, according to recent estimates.

Details of the goat meeting are being worked out by Elmo V. Cook, county agent, and Dr. R. H. Hodges, who is chairman of the Eastland County Agricultural Council, an advisory board created to cooperate with the county agent in planning his work.

Whoopie parties by a "beauty lobby" in Washington were described by prosecution as trial of sociolite William P. Buckner, Jr., and four others for alleged $1,000,000 Philippine bond swindle opened in New York Federal Court. But comely, flame-haired chorus girl Noel Carter,
right, seemed unperturbed as he entered court.

Funeral Services Are Conducted For Pioneer Of Sector

Funeral services were conducted Monday at Lingleville for J. M. Jones, 89-year-old native Texan and pioneer, who died Sunday.

Mr. Jones was born Feb. 4, 1859, in Upshur county, Texas. He came to Eastland county in 1883 as a young man with L. I. Cox, also a pioneer in this section. From Eastland county Mr. Jones went to Dublin.

One year later he married Henrietta Jones (no relation), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Jones. At the time of his death the couple had been married 55 years.

For about two decades the couple had lived at Lingleville. Mr. Jones was known as a progressive citizen. He was one of the first to conceive of a new route from Stephenville via Lingleville to Eastland county. The highway proposal is now becoming a reality.

Mr. Jones is survived by his wife and nine of 10 children born to the couple. There also are 7 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren among the survivors.

Eastland Party Off On N. Y. Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Maxey and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hammer of Eastland left Tuesday for a motor tour to New York City with stops at Washington and other points enroute.

Mrs. Maxey, who is chairman of the executive committee of the American Society of X-Ray Technicians, will attend the national convention of the X-Ray Technicians June 26-30 at the McAlpin Hotel in New York City.

Mrs. Maxey will preside at a luncheon for honorary members of the society.

The vacationists plan to be away for three weeks.

When lightning struck the telephone system in Olyphant, Pa., all the phones in town rang at the same time. The effect must have been something like the rural party line.

Application Made To Continue NYA Work For County

FORT WORTH, June 21.—The District Office of the National Youth Administration has forwarded to J. C. Kellam, State director of NYA, project applications to furnish employment to Eastland County youths during the next fiscal year, beginning July 1.

The projects which have been forwarded to Austin are as follows: a continuation project of the boys' resident shop project at Ranger, the girls' resident center at Ranger, a county-wide clerical project to furnish clerical assistance to the various public offices, aides for the Eastland County Nursery School, and a county-wide soil conservation project for the surveying of terraces to conserve soil and water.

The projects are designed to furnish worthwhile employment to Eastland County youths and will give them the opportunity to gain valuable work experience as well as earn a livelihood.

Chief Williams Is Speaker At Meet

The annual fireman's short course, scheduled July 17-21 at College Station, was described Tuesday night at a meeting of firemen of Eastland, Cisco and Ranger, at the City Hall in Eastland. Twenty-five attended.

Frank Williams, drill instructor for the course, from College Station, where the schooling is conducted, was the speaker.

Williams also showed moving pictures taken at the last firemen's school.

Emancipation Day Celebration Is Set For Fourth of July

The Emancipation Day celebration, which was scheduled to be held in Ranger on Monday, June 19, but which was rained out, has been announced for Tuesday, July 4, members of the committee in charge stated today.

Included in the day's entertainment will be a double-header baseball game between a Ranger and an Eastland colored team, and with a team from Weatherford.

Plenty of shade will be provided and the public has been invited to attend. The entire entertainment will be staged at the Ranger soft ball field.

Expect U. S. Man At Peanut Parley

Gasoline Company Safety Meeting Held in Ranger

With James L. Higginbotham acting as chairman and the garage in charge, about 60 employees of the Ranger District of the Lone Star Gasoline Company met Wednesday night in the Ranger Office Yard for their regular monthly safety meeting.

In a talk on "The Reasons for Attending Safety Meetings," Arthur Deffenbach pointed out that these meetings make the employees safety conscious; that many worth while talks are heard; that the policies of the company are explained, and that these meetings are a means of a get-together for the employees. "Since these meetings promote and encourage safety among the employees, it is entitled to the whole-hearted cooperation and support of every one of us."

Hoyt Agnew, in a talk on the "Benefits of Good Driving," explained that when an employee drove a company car with the company insignia on the side, he was in the eyes of the general public the company and his every action was judged either for or against the company and as such should drive with the utmost consideration and safety. One of the cardinal rules of safe driving to follow is to: "Keep your eyes on the road and your mind on your driving."

Walker Germany told of the near accidents of company cars that he had seen in employees driving in the office yard and the plants. Just as much care should be used on the company premises as on the highways. The cars should not be parked where there is any danger of coil pit water spraying on them or the possibility of paint from the paint crew spraying on the cars.

Howard Elwood talked on "Safe Welding Practices," pointing out how this industry had grown from a small beginning to the position it now holds as the nation's sixth largest industry. The shield arc rod had advanced electric welding to a point where it now materially reduces the cost of many of our every-day commodities, such as the price of gasoline.

On behalf of the "Sailor's Domino Partners Association," Archie Robinson presented to J. F. Byas a book entitled "How to Play Dominoes."

Alton Allred, Assistant Supervisor of Safety, pointed out the large number of drownings that has occurred this summer and the importance of knowing artificial respiration and the other general rules of administering first aid.

P. C. Coffin, Assistant General Superintendent, explained that these meetings are the only place at which he will contact a majority of the employees and that the impression he receives of the plant or department is the type of meeting that they put on. He commented on the talks presented and the obvious effort and time indicated in their preparation.

Mike Miller was in charge of the refreshments.

Jimmy Braddock and Tommy Farr are to mix in London. Only question that fight will settle is which was whipped most thoroughly by Joe Louis.

Agent Gives Hints Killing Bagworms

"Kill the bagworms off your evergreens before they damage them permanently," is the advice of County Agent Cook, who has been answering a number of inquiries recently regarding control of the insect pest.

Cook warns that arbor vitae and other cedars can be heavily infested with the little bags which hold the bagworms without the owner being aware unless a close watch is kept on the shrubs. The worms eat the leaves and also use them to cover the silken bag which later holds the cocoon or resting stage and the eggs of the insect.

Bagworms can be controlled by spraying until the tree or shrub is dripping wet with a mixture of three pounds of arsenate of lead in 50 gallons of water. The poison should be kept on the plants until the worms are all dead. As arsen-
