TOWN AND FARM IN WARTIME

(A Weekly News Digest From Federal Rural Press Section of the OWI News Bureau)

November 10, 1943

RATION REMINDED

Fuel Oil—Period 1 coupons are good through January 3.

Sugar—Stamp No. 29 in Book Four is good for 5 pounds through January 15, 1944.

Shoes—Stamp No. 18 in Book One good for 1 pair. Stamp No. 1 on the "Alyplane" sheet in Book Three good for 1 pair.

Meats, Fats—Brown stamp G, H, and I, good through December 4. Brown stamp K becomes good November 14 and remains good through December 4.

Processed Foods—Blue stamps X, Y, and Z good through November 20. Green stamps A, B, and C in Book Four good through December 20.

V-MAIL CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

Relatives and friends still have time to send men and women overseas V-Mail notices of war bond gifts for Christmas. The Army Postal Service has assured delivery by December 25 of all V-Mail notices sent before December 1. War bonds as Christmas gifts will help to hold down inflationary buying of scarce merchandise, and will be a financial cushion for the service man or woman upon return to civilian life, the Treasury Department said.

Raise Hamburger Point Value

The ration point value of hamburger has been increased from seven to eight points per pound. OPA has also broadened its definition of hamburger to include additional meat cuts of the "meat" system of beef.

Increase Civilian Food Supply

More peas, beans, rice, and chicken soups are going to be available for civilian consumption. Supplies have been increased by the removal or reduction of government set-aside orders. Present conditions indicate there will be enough dry beans to provide about 16.4 pounds per capita for civilian consumption in the 1943-44 marketing season, compared to 8.6 pounds in 1942-43.

Tire Situation Tightens

Operators of passenger cars may find it impossible to obtain used tires because commercial vehicles delivering essential goods are now eligible to receive used passenger and truck tires of sizes smaller than 7.50-20 to replace tires no longer serviceable. Number quotas recently released by OPA for new passenger and truck tires show 30 percent fewer for trucks and 1 percent fewer for passenger cars.

No More Issue of Books One or Two

No more copies of War Ration Books One or Two can be issued by local rationing boards for any purpose whatsoever. All stamps in the two books have expired except stamp 18 in Book One, for shoes, and blue stamps X, Y, and Z in Book Two, which may be used to buy processed foods through November 20. OPA said the covers of the two books may be thrown away when the stamps have been used or have expired.

Ration-Free Children's Shoes

Some relief from the shortage of youngsters' shoes will be provided about the first of the year by a new supply of children's non-leather shoes for general wear, to be sold ration-free. OPA has announced. In general, children up to about eight years of age will benefit. The shoes will have canvas uppers and soles made from remnants and heavy woven fabric, reinforced with vulcanized rubber. Shoes of this type, larger than misses' and youths' size three will be rationed.

"Impossible" Is Accomplished By Motor Company

FONTAINE, Mich. (UP)—Another case of doing the thing that "could not be done" has enabled Pontiac Motor Division to achieve a remarkable improvement in one phase of its war production.

The company has reduced by 80 per cent rejections on the difficult operation of machining teeth in the elevating arc of the Pafors run. This was accomplished by using a shaving machine in a manner that the machinist trade had said was "impossible."

The Pafors elevating arc is a half-circle segment with spur teeth which lower and raise the run. The best cutter available for the job has a "built-in" error of seven ten-thousandths of an inch, and made rejections high.

Alton J. Hole, assistant superintendent of the Pafors plant, decided the situation might be helped if the elevator were cut on a shaving machine after the cutter had done its work.

He thought of a 20-year-old boring mill which Pontiac had used in the die room in recent years to turn spiral automatic cutters. Then he designed an adapter to hold this surplus tool on the lathe rigidly and at the proper angle.

"This was where the 'impossible' came in. The machinist trade said that a shaving machine cannot be operated unless the work is stationary while the cutting tool is driven into it.

Citation By Publication

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To John D. Sevier Greeting: You are commanded to appear and answer the plaintiff's original petition at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday the 20th day of December, A. D. 1943, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. before the Honorable 77th District Court of Eastland County, at the Court House in Eastland, Texas.

Said plaintiff's original petition was filed on the 2nd day of November, 1943.

The file number of said suit being No. 17,746.

The names of the parties in said suit are: Rosa Etta Sevier as Plaintiff, and John D. Sevier as Defendant.

The nature of said suit being substantially as follows: to wit, that plaintiff and defendant were legally married on or about the 31st day of August, 1941, and continued to live together as husband and wife until on or about the 8th day of December, 1942, at which time the defendant commenced a course of unkind, and harsh treatment toward plaintiff, abandoning her shortly before the birth of a child and refusing to bear expenses necessary and incident to birth of said child.

There was one child born of said marriage; there is no community property.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that citation by publication issue to defendant; and upon final hearing that she have judgement dissolving said marriage relations, that she be granted legal care, custody and control of their said child, John Mach Sevier; and for such other and further relief as she may be justly entitled.

Issued this 2nd day of November, 1943.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Eastland, Texas, this 2nd day of November A. D., 1943.

40. THE SKELETON'S AT LAST HEADING FER THE CONSTRUCTION JOB, EH? THEN I'M TAKING THE BULL BY THE HORNS!!

DAD! WHERE ARE YOU GOING?

GUNNING FOR A SHERIFF!!

WE'RE GOING WITH YOU, MR. HADDING!

YOU BET WE ARE!

WELL - I HAD A CHANCE TO CLEAN UP - A REAL BANK ROLL - BUT - I KNOW, YOU HAD BAD LUCK - YOU OUGHT TO STICK TO CHECKERS AND BEAN BAGS.

THERE'S A SWELL WRITE-UP ABOUT YOU ON PAGE 19 -

BY PAUL ROBINSON

IT'S ONLY A SUPER DAY - I'LL WALK ACROSS THE CAMPUS.

MELVILLE HALL - THAT'S HER KENNEL.

I DIDN'T WRITE TISH I WAS COMING.

OH!

I'LL WALK IN AND SURPRISE HER.

A PIGEON!

A QUAL!

BY PAUL ROBINSON

ETTA - DARLING - TISH!

THE JOKE'S ON YOU - I THOUGHT I WAS IN MELVILLE HALL - DIDN'T YOU?

I WALKED IN TO SURPRISE YOU - IS MY FACE PINK?

WERE OUT! THE NAVY TOOK OVER - THE JOINT IS SIMPLY BULGING WITH CUTE MEN!

YOU MEAN STUFFED WITH DATES.

HONEST ZERO - I KINDA GET THE WIM-WAMS EVERY TIME I MEET FOLLY LUCILLE - SHE ALWAYS KINDA SNIFFS AN ACTS LIKE SHE DIDN'T SEE ME AT ALL.

I KNOW SHE'S MAD AT ME, BUT I NEVER DID ANTHIN' TO HER - I THINK SHE'S TERRIBLE PRETTY AN SHE RIDES JUST LIKE AN ANGEL -

I GUESS SHE JUST LIKES HORSES AN' RICH PEOPLE AN' DONT LIKE ORPHANS AN' POOGHES - BUT, GEE - I WISH SHE WASNT MAD AT US -

IT'S NO USE TRYING TO COAX OR FLATTER ME INTO GIVING YOU ANY MORE MONEY - THE TROUBLE IS, I GAVE YOU SO MUCH MONEY I'VE SPOILED YOU.

INSTEAD OF RAISING A HE-MAN CAPABLE OF TAKING OVER THE SHOW AFTER I'M GONE - I'VE RAISED A BUBBLE-BRAINED TAILORS DUMMY.

AN IMITATION GENTLEMAN - TOO REFINED TO WORK - WHO DOESN'T EVEN KNOW HOW TO SPEND THE MONEY, I LAVISH ON HIM - FROM NOW ON YOU'LL EARN YOUR BREAD OR STARVE!

BUT, PATER!

HONEST, MR. CARNY - I DONT WANNA MAID TO DRESS ME - AN' I DONT WANNA SWELL, EXCLUSIVE WAGON TO TRAVEL IN - I'M NOT SWELL AN' EXCLUSIVE - BUT I'M TERRIBLE HAPPY ALL THE TIME -

GEE - ALICE - EVERY WEEK I GET ANOTHER TERRIBLE BIG MONEY ORDER - PRETTY SOON I'LL HAVE SO MUCH MONEY - I CANT CARRY IT ALL.

WELL, MONEY - MOST PEOPLE WOULDNT BE COMPLAINING, BECAUSE THEY HAD PLENTY OF MONEY.

OH, I'M NOT COMPLAINING.

BUT IT DONT SEEM REAL - IF I WAS WORKIN' AWFUL HARD LIKE A TRUCK-DRIVER OR A WASH-WOMAN - BUT ME AN' ZERO ARE JUST HAVIN' LOTS A FUN -

WHEN WE DO OUR ACT THE AUDIENCE LAFFS AN APPLAUDS AN' IT MAKES ME FEEL GLAD ALL OVER - SO SOMETIMES I THINK MAYBE I'M ONLY DREAMIN' A SWELL DREAM -

DAD! PLEASE DONT LET ME INTO TROUBLE WITH THE SHERIFF!

I KNOW WHAT I'M DOIN'!

THE ONLY MAN ALIVE THAT CAN FIGHT THE SKELETON WITH ANY CHANCE OF SUCCESS IS THE LONE RANGER AND HE'S LOCKED IN JAIL.

BUT THE SHERIFF KNOWS HE'S THE LONE RANGER. HE'S GOING TO LET HIM ESCAPE TONIGHT.

BY NIGHTFALL THE SKELETON WILL HAVE REACHED THE CONSTRUCTION CAMP!

SHERIFF, I'M BACKING MY DEMANDS WITH A GUN. IF YOU KEEP THE LONE RANGER A PRISONER TILL TO-NIGHT, IT WILL BE TOO LATE. LET HIM OUT!

IT'S TOO LATE, ALREADY!

It Is Not Just An Accident

—that Eastland enjoys one of the lowest fire records in Texas. Usually, it is the fire department, or the City Commission, or both, that get the credit and they deserve all the credit they get, but without the co-operation of the individual, no town could have a good fire record. Elimination of the common fire hazard found everywhere yields results worth thousands of dollars. Here they are defective electric wiring, faulty fuses, greasy rags, and mops, rats and mice, weeds and grass, and the worst, the careless smoker. Do you have any of these hazards in or near your home?

Postwar Planning Groups Set Up By Many States

CHICAGO (UP)—Interim committees to study postwar planning interstate co-operation, juvenile delinquency, future highway projects, aviation and public welfare have been set up this year by 40 state legislatures, the Council of State Governments announced.

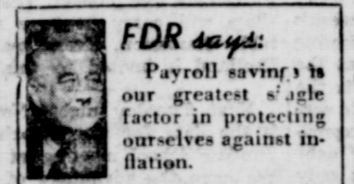

Postwar planning committees were provided for in the following states: California, Connecticut, Illinois, Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Texas and Wisconsin. Illinois, Connecticut, California, Maryland, Massachusetts, North Carolina and Wisconsin assigned committees to study highway and aviation plans.

Commissions to report on war emergency problems were set up in Arkansas, Colorado and Minnesota, while California and Oregon appointed committees on interstate cooperation. Ohio has a small business committee, and New Hampshire has one to survey the possibility of Federal aid for business or recreational property made imperative by war conditions.

California has a commission to study juvenile delinquency and New York has one to investigate court procedures with respect to youthful offenders. Texas will consider the problem in reformatory institutions while Illinois, Oregon and Wisconsin will study delinquents in state training schools.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP)—"A million points worth," or several or several tons of groceries went up in smoke and flames recently when a large truck and semi-trailer overturned and burned after striking a bridge abutment east of Apache Junction, on U. S. Highway 60, the highway patrol reported.

NOTICE!

There will be a public hearing on the Eastland City Budget for 1944 at the City Hall from 3:00 to 5:00 P. M. Monday, November 15th, 1943.

How to conserve eyesight and light!

Eyesight and light are both vital to the winning of the war. Conserve both by following these six easy suggestions:

1. Clean lamp bulbs and reflectors regularly with a damp cloth. Dry thoroughly before using.
2. Use shades with white linings to reflect light instead of absorbing it.
3. Keep all lights properly shaded to avoid glare.
4. Arrange furniture so one lamp serves two or more people if necessary.
5. Always turn off lights in unoccupied rooms.
6. Have eyes examined regularly by a competent eyesight specialist.

Don't waste Electricity just because it isn't rationed—use what you need, but need what you use.

completed a minimum of 23 goals. High lights of the girls' work are given below.

Jessie Lee Houser, 2nd year member of Desdemona 4-H Club, transplanted 200 plants from plant bed, helped with the family garden, washed and sorted 170 jars for canning, and helped can 130 containers of food. She was poultry demonstrator for her club, conducting her demonstration in cooperation with her mother. They made a lamp brooder, and raised 113 baby chicks. She worked thirty days in the field; and improved her closet by adding additional shelves and making a shoe rack and hat rack.

Ima Louise Little raised 1 acre garden, washed and sorted 250 jars, helped a neighbor lady can 130 containers of food, canned 200 jars, and helped her mother can 80. She raised 100 chickens in cooperation with her mother, and worked 64 days in the field.

Wanda Myrick, 5th year club member of Alameda 4-H Club, raised a frame garden, helped with 1 acre garden, set out a strawberry bed, washed and sorted 400 jars for canning, canned 30 containers of food, and helped can 370. She made 38 strings of China Berry beads and improved the bath room.

Mary Jo Wheeler, third year club member of the Gorman High 4-H Club, transplanted 600 plants from frame garden. She improved her closet by adding extra shelves and making a hat and shoe rack. She washed and sorted 700 jars for canning, canned 15 containers of food, and helped can 650 containers. For her poultry demonstration she raised 50 chickens. She worked 25 days in the field.

Mary Gene Ferrell, 5th year club member of Alameda 4-H Club raised a frame garden, helped with a 1 acre garden, washed and sorted 200 jars, canned 20 containers of food, and helped can 200.

She raised 25 chickens, a calf and worked 18 days in the field in addition to raising 5 acre peanut crop. In clothing she made a dress and improved her closet.

Patty Jean Fleming, 2nd year member of Scranton Girls 4-H Club, helped with family garden, canned 37 containers of food and helped can 200. For poultry demonstration she raised 30 chickens. She worked 50 days in the field and made a shoe rack for her closet.

Wanda Faye Jones, 4th year member of Morton Valley High 4-H Club, helped with garden, washed and sorted 250 jars, and helped can 246 containers of food. For poultry demonstration helped her mother with 130 chickens. She worked in field 3 weeks, kept a clothing expense record and made part of her clothing.

Dogs Must Go If Mail Is Delivered

BEAUMONT, Tex. (UP) — If there's a biting dog at your house, you might as well resign yourself to an empty mailbox.

Postmaster Ogden Johnson reminded Beaumont citizens that dog-owners will not be asked to deliver mail to any home where there was a vicious dog.

His warning came after one of the mail carriers was bitten severely when he stepped up on a porch to deliver mail. In this case, the dog dashed over from another house and attacked him.

Results—two deep gashes in the mail carrier's right leg.

The Baptist Herald

First Baptist Church
Rev. Homer J. Starnes Pastor

The Pastor has been away this week attending the Convention at Dallas. These meetings are always a source of information and inspiration. We return to our work inspired to do more. The fellowship with the brethren is a source of joy and encouragement.

Letters have been mailed to former Pastors inviting them to a week's Homecoming Revival beginning Dec. 6. This was Devoted at the last church conference. It is the feeling that some appropriate service should be had as an expression of gratitude for being debt-free. Let us make this not only a time of thanksgiving but a real revival. As soon as we can hear from the former Pastors a program will be arranged.

The local Brotherhood meets Monday night. We trust that by that time some man will have felt it in his heart to be president of the men's organization. We regret to have lost our president. However, we have other able men who can do a needed work here. Let us give the Lord a chance to use us. Every man of the church is invited to be present Monday night. Bring a visitor.

The Pastor will teach the Sunday School lesson next Sunday to the intermediate boys. Trust we may have every boy of intermediate age present. The men's class will carry on in a roundtable discussion. Every man of the church is invited to this class.

Next Tuesday night, Nov. 16, is the date for the Associational Sunday School meeting at Cisco. We have the advantage of being close by. So let all our teachers and officers who possibly can attend this meeting. It will give us many helpful ideas for our local work. A goodly number attended last meeting. If you wish to go, see either the Pastor or Supt. so transportation may be arranged.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia University, said "The last World War cost 30,000,000 lives and $40,000,000,000. With that money every family in the United States, Canada, Australia, England, Wales, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany and Russia could have been given a $2,500.00 house with $1,000.00 worth of furniture, on five acres of land at $100.00 an acre. And there would be enough left over to have given every city of over 20,000 in these countries a $5,000,000 library and a $10,000,000 university." Think of what could be done for good with what is expended on World War II! Surely at this Armistice season peoples over the world will determine to outlaw war.

Christian Science Services "Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 14.

The Golden Text is: "If ye live after the flesh, ye shall die; but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live" (Romans 8:13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offsprings" (Acts 17:29).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Immortal man is not and never was material, but always spiritual and eternal" (page 336).

Your Government Says:

Enough food is wasted annually in the home to feed the larger part of our armed forces at home and abroad. This waste must be reduced by better meal planning, better food storage. If waste is cut down by one-third, we could add more than eight percent to our food supply.

CLEAN your plate, Patty!

You and all other American boys and girls have a big part in the job of making the food our farmers are producing go just as far as it will in feeding our Army, our civilians, and in helping to feed many of our Allies. If you waste only one piece of bread a week, just imagine what a lot of food waste that would be if all the people in our country did the same.

This is why Mother wants you to be sure and eat all she serves you. If you want more, ask for seconds. With her gas refrigerator, Mother has a good place to keep left-overs for use in nourishing soups, stews, and special dishes.

CIVILIAN AWARDS

Testimony to the effect that the stimulus of the Army-Navy "E" and the Maritime "M" production awards has been very great constantly is accumulating. Both management and labor on the home front have been helped to even greater efforts and results by these recognitions of unselfish devotion to the great task of turning out the vital materials of war. Now both directors and workers in a category other than those previously recognized are to receive an achievement award for work well done. These are the seasonal processors of food. The fact that they are not year-round operators makes them ineligible for Army-Navy "E" recognition. But if they are to receive the award of honor they Food Administration's "A" flag. Qualifications considered in selection for the award will include ingenuity in the development of war food products, low absenteeism, cooperation in the various food purchase programs, accident prevention and the like.

A number of vital factors on the home front still lack recognition in the form of public awards. The power and utility companies, the communications companies, and even the enormously busy railroads do not fall within the technical requirements for existing awards. There would seem to be little reason why the powerful incentive which existing awards for merit have supplied should not be extended to such fundamentally important elements as the electric light and power industry, which has shown an increase of 73 per cent in its show-watt hour output since 1939; or the telephone industry, which last year handled 93 per cent more long-distance calls than in 1939; or the American railroads, which in 1942 increased the ton miles moved as compared with 1939 by 92 per cent and the passenger miles by 135 per cent in the same period. The service industries have done and are doing an outstanding war job. They, too, deserve an accolade.

Professional Engineers Are Growing Richer

Professional Engineers recently, Edward Larson, executive secretary of the national society, predicted that science will develop a rose-colored world after the war. "We will find the American citizenry adopting the helicopter-type plane as a sort of second family car," Larson said. "The housewife probably will do her shopping in it."

The Methodist Broadcaster Weekly News Of First Methodist Church J. Daniel Barron Pastor

Sunday morning the pastor will preach on "The Fruit of a Man's Way" You might be benefited from hearing the message. If you do not get too much from it, however, you will enjoy the fellowship of the church. Miss Drago and her great choir will render uplifting music. The hour will be a time for self-examination and communion with God. Your presence will enrich the service and the service will enrich you.

VESPER AT FIVE At five you will want to come along to the vesper. This service is concluded in time for you to be home by six o'clock and a full evening at home. The topic of the service will be "An Emotional Service."

STEWARDS MEET The Board of Stewards will hold its first regular monthly meeting of the new year Monday evening at 7:00. All the members of the board will want to be present. The budget for the year will be adopted. Other important business will be before us. McGLAMERY ELECTED Mr. Bert McGlamery will be one of the lay delegates to the jurisdictional conference of the Methodist Church which meets in Kansas City, Mo., in May of next year. He was elected by the Central Texas Annual Conference in session in Fort Worth last week. This is quite an honor. We congratulate Mr. McGlamery and are sincerely for him.

DELEGATES FAITHFUL Our delegates to the annual conference were N. A. Moore and Raymond A. McDaniel. They were in attendance most of the conference. We were proud of them. They did well the work.

REPAIRS The projected repairs on the basement, delayed now for about three weeks, will get under way Monday, we are informed. When they are completed we shall have an attractive basement for our work; especially for our intermediate youth. We appreciate those who are making possible this long needed improvement. MARTHA DORCAS LIVELY We are delighted with the new life lately injected into the Martha Dorcas class. This always is a busy group but recently its attendance and interest have been unusually encouraging. Keep on going.

YOUNG ADULTS The Young Adult Fellowship having now met four times, will elect its officers Sunday morning. By means of a questionnaire the members expressed their desire to study a course on Prayer for the next three months. It will begin Sunday morning with the Pastor leading it. At the end of the course another one, similarly chosen, will be started with another teacher. The plan, you see, is to have courses with a teacher for each one, a teacher selected three months hence a course on Getting Acquainted with the New Testament will be offered. As you know, the Fellowship is for young adults under 35 years of age.

PASTOR RETURNED The Pastor, you know, is with you for the third year. How swiftly the years get away! It will not be long till this one, too, will be gone. There are many good times ahead for us. May we all make the most of them. Attend the services regularly. Support your church with your means or you will grow to dislike it. Be a worker in the church. Enlist others in the church. Be a real churchman, rather than a name on the roll.

RECORD You good people made much progress last year. We can make still more this one. By pulling together we shall have a great time and accomplish much good in the lives of the people. Put yourself down as a "puller" this year.

COMMITTEES We have many standing committees. Find out, if you do not know, which one you are on. Then breathe into the committee the breath of life and make it become a living thing.

WOMAN'S SOCIETY The Woman's Society of Christian Service in a truly creative organization in The Methodist Church. If you are not in it you are missing an opportunity to gain

Why not start Sunday and keep up the good deeds right on through the year? BUDGET The budget of the new church starts next Sunday. Will you be good enough to indicate (by a pledge) the amount the church may expect from you during the next twelve months on the local expenses. We suggest that you start your contribution next Sunday as if you can make a perfect record for the entire year. Several did that last year. Many approached it. The church as a whole was generous and systematic; so much so that we were able to run the church with little emphasis on its financial side. May we continue on that knowledge and understanding of many things in the field of religion. You likewise are passing up a chance to be of service. Why not join the Society? Why not put something into this vital work? CHURCH SCHOOL We are justly proud of our church school. It is thoroughly organized. It has a competent teaching staff. It has rich materials for study. Let the teachers and leaders be ever diligent in their efforts to make the most of this part of the church. Let those who are students in the school be faithful in their part. Let those who are not in the school but ought to be get up and get going next Sunday morning. We ought to have at least 300 in attendance every Sunday morning. Are you not one of them? There is a place for you whoever you may be. Start to church school next Sunday.

CHURCH ATTENDANCE Most of our people attend the morning services fairly well. Those of you who have fallen into the evil habit of omitting this cultivation of your spiritual nature ought to bestir yourselves and become habitual church-goers.

Carbon Boy Plans To Produce Food For One Fighter

Jack Butler, a ten-year-old Carbon 4-H Club boy and son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Butler, has an incentive to make this an outstanding 4-H Club year.

His demonstrations are planned for the purpose of producing enough food to feed one fighter in the Armed Forces. Jack is especially interested in this since his brother Brytt Lee, who was a former 4-H club boy—having completed five years of club work, is now stationed at Sppard Field, Texas. Jack is now feeding 5 hogs, 3 of which are subject to register; one dairy cow; and twenty-one hens. It is estimated that the five hogs will weigh around 920 lbs. The best of these will be exhibited at the Eastland Show in the Spring. Make it a thrifty CHRISTMAS—give WAR BONDS. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

CHAPTER ONE

It was a festive day, the town jammed with sheeps and ranchers alike, all tugged out in their best. Over the bandstand, gay with hunting, a huge banner proclaimed in bold letters: The Cattlemen's Association of Duane County Welcomes Roy Rogers, the Singing Cowboy From King of the Cowboys to King of the Airwaves Congratulations, Roy Up in the bandstand, Adobe Joe, a salty old codger, and Roy's lifelong friend, was putting eight befrilled little girls through a last rehearsal of the welcome home song they'd soon be giving out for Roy. It should have been a happy day for all Duane County folks—but things began to go wrong. Rancher-sheep trouble, of course; it had been in the air a long time. It started among the cat-kids on the bandstand. The moment Penny Winters dashed up to join the rehearsal, an insulting chorus of Ba-a-a-a's began. Adobe, kind as he was salty, tried to stop the jeering girls, but Ella Mae, his star soprano, blurted, "We don't want her takin' part in our show. She's a sheeper."

ROY ROGERS

The whole town turned out to welcome Roy on his triumphant return home. A local boy who made good on the airwaves in a big way. Sheeps, Ranchers and pretty young girls, all join in a rollicking welcome to The Singing Cowboy.

Roy missed the glare, but he didn't miss Laramie. Sweeping off his hat, he said, "Hello," his smile sunny with friendliness. But, to his astonishment, Laramie turned away. A little taken aback, he rode on. Before the bandstand, he brought Trigger up in a graceful rear. Then, leaping from the saddle, he hurried forward to greet his old friend, Adobe Joe. The crowd went wild, pushing and shoving, trying to get near him. Everybody wanted to see him, to meet him. Everyone, that is, but Laramie. Long before the broadcast that night, the City Hall was jammed. To the right of the center aisle sat the ranchers and their families. To the left—and definitely not wanted on the right—sat the sheeps. But both sides were hushed and eager as Roy and the Pioneers, against the glow of a campfire background, began their first number. And Penny, holding a single, long-stemmed rose, was more hushed and eager than anyone. When the song ended, the audience burst into enthusiastic clapping. Penny joined in rapturously, Laramie or no Laramie. Roy thanked them, then said, "I'd like to dedicate my next song to a mysterious friend from whom I've received a red rose each week just before my broadcast. I don't know her name, I only know she called herself the Lady of the Roses. And so, Lady of the Roses, this next song is for you." As Penny sighed tremulously and looked down at the rose she had dedicated to her, Laramie's eyes glistened. She opened her bag and drew out a bill. 6 Long-stemmed roses 75c each Telegraph charges $4.95 "Lady of the Roses, indeed!" she said, thrusting the bill toward Penny. "You ought to be ashamed of yourself! A Winters sending flowers to a cattlemen's stooge—a cowboy!" The string of the words was lost on Penny. For her, at that moment, the only real thing in the world was that Roy was starting to sing Roses on the Trail. Her song! Dedicated to her! But Penny was the only person in the hall who heard that song through to the end. A cattlemen, entering the hall hurriedly, went straight to Victor Marsh and whispered to him a moment. Abruptly, Marsh got up and went out, motioning other cattlemen to follow him. As they left, Laramie's foreman, Slade, pushed his way down the crowded aisle; and, in a moment of whispering, Laramie rose, signaling the sheeps to follow her. Adobe Joe, seeing the ranchers and sheeps quitting the hall, glared. Sheriff Darcy also joined the

"We're victims of a very shrewd plan to drive us out of this part of the country," Laramie retorted, and the ranchers surged forward angrily, shouting, "It's a lie! We won't have any peace until the sheeps are driven out!" Just as the sheriff tried to bring them to reason, a shot rang out. One of the ranchers slumped, wounded, in his saddle. "There's your answer, Sheriff. Sheeps will stop at nothing!" "Hey!" one of the riders yelled, suddenly pointing. "There's a gang of men ridin' off toward Music Mountain!" He was right. On a ridge not far away, figures moved swiftly against the night sky. Men on horseback, bolting off into the darkness. "Come on!" Adobe Joe cried. "We'll get them murdering coyotes!" They thundered off into the night. When Pat and Penny drove up, with Roy and the Sons following them, Laramie was in no mood to take Penny's new friends on faith. She had curtly rejected Roy's offer of help, and gestured pointedly at the ruined fence. "Perhaps you'll understand why I don't feel particularly cordial to any ranchers—or their friends." Roy decided it was hopeless to argue with her. This girl was so hard-pressed and so bitter, she was afraid to trust anyone. He told Pat, "I was a fool to get mixed up in this in the first place. From now on, I stick to where I belong—on the radio." But, as he and the Sons were about to mount, Sheriff Darcy and Victor Marsh rode up with the other ranchers. They had had luck under cover of darkness; the ambushers had tricked them and escaped. Marsh was furious. He even suggested that the would-be killers had probably found refuge with Laramie. "We've taken enough from you sheeps," he told her, "and we're fed up with it! The next time we find your sheep trespassing on our property, we'll get rid of them, even if we have to drive them off the cliff near Music Mountain." Angered by the threat of lawlessness, the sheriff took command. Unless they settled the argument by legal means, he said, the government would step in, and every man in the whole county would lose his grazing license. They'd all be behind the eight-ball then. Nothing had been settled. But, for the moment, the argument was over. All together—the ranchers, Roy and the Pioneers—they rode away. As Roy looked back and smiled, Penny started to wave, but Laramie snatched her hand down. With rage was hanging over her and hostility beating at her and her ranch day and night, Laramie had no heart for anything just then. In the morning, when Roy and the Pioneers got into town, they headed for Los Angeles. Roy's face was somber. Pat and the others sang as they drove along and tried to jog him back to his usual spirits, but Roy wasn't in the mood for joshing. He was worried about Adobe Joe, who hadn't returned from his search for the gunman who'd shot the rancher. "I know I should have gone after him," he said worriedly. "Look, Roy!" Bob said impatiently. "Your first duty is your job, not to a lot of rampagin' cattlemen. Stick to your own wave length!" But Roy's face lighted suddenly. Old Joe himself appeared, riding down a long hill, waving. Roy, relieved to see him all in one piece, called joyously, "Hi, you old muleskinner!" and stopped the car. But whatever Adobe Joe had learned on his long night's hunt on the trail, it was never to be told. For, before he could reach them, rifle fire shivers of darkness. Three times the rifle cracked, and Adobe Joe plunged screaming from the saddle and crashed to the ground. Roy and the Sons were out of the car instantly, running. (To be continued)
