Mrs. Millie Harbin Funeral Rites Held Sunday Afternoon

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the Eastland Baptist church for Mrs. Millie Harbin, 76, who died at her home in Eastland, Friday, March 24. Interment with Hammer's in charge was in the Eastland cemetery. Rev. Robert L. Butler of Abilene, and Rev. H. J. Starnes, pastor of the Eastland Baptist church, officiated at the church services.

Survivors include one son and three daughters, L. Harbin, Mesquite; Mrs. Albert Butler, Dallas; Mrs. Nettie Post, Breckenridge; and Mrs. D. N. Pool, Eastland. Also one half sister, Mrs. John McDonald, Canton; thirteen grand children and nine great grand children.

Pallbearers were Frank Brown of Munday, Dolphus Copen of Eastland; Johnny Owen of Gorcee; Dick Harbin, Eastland; Ray Post of Dallas and John Howell, U. S. Navy.

Mrs. Millie Minerva Harbin was born in 1868 in county Texas, October 29, 1868. She had resided in Eastland since she was 11 years old with the exception of short periods she resided in Ranger and Strawn.

MRS. ANGUS DIES

Mrs. A. Angus, 66, widow of the late A. Angus who died in Cisco in July 1941, died early Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jack Hall, in Eastland. Funeral rites were held Sunday afternoon at the Eastland Methodist church. Interment was in a Cisco Cemetery. The family has been residents of Cisco since the early twenties where Mr. Angus was an accountant with the Cisco and Northwestern railroad.

Mrs. Mary Thorp To Celebrate 94 Birthday Soon

Mrs. Mary Ester Thorp is looking forward to celebrating her 94th birthday, April 4, next.

Mrs. Thorp, a pioneer Texan was born on April 4th, 1850, in Jasper county Missouri, the daughter of P. Moses Richardson and Catherine Sealey Richardson, and came to Texas with her parents in 1856. The family settled in Parker county, 12 miles south of Weatherford where they farmed and ranched for nine years when they moved to Goliad where her father farmed and taught school for only a few months before moving to Gonzales county where they remained only a short time and then moved to Flatonia in Fayette county on March 30, 1871.

Four days before she was 19 Catherine Richardson married Fleas E. Thorp at a double wedding in which her husband's sister married her brother.

Following their marriage in Fayette county Mr. and Mrs. Thorp moved to lands they had previously purchased on the line of Eastland and Stephens counties about 13 miles north of Eastland. This was in 1875. Soon after settling on the Eastland-Stephens county line, Mrs. Thorp's father, in partnership with J. W. Shepard, established a general store, applied for and was granted a postoffice which was called Gunsight because of a nearby double mountain that resembled a gunsight when viewed from a distance.

Hauling lumber from Waco with which to build a home, the Thorps cleared land for farming and settled down to live on the frontier. They lived here 35 years and it was here that their eight children were born and schooled. Six of the children survive and are Mrs. Betty Wilkes of Eastland, Pleas Thorp of Eastland, George and Leo Thorp of near Eastland, Ed Thorp of Coleman and Mrs. Eunice Newsome of Pasadena, California.

From Gunsight Mr. and Mrs. Thorp moved to Dawson county near Lamesa settling on lands for which they had traded their Gunsight holdings. They retained, however, the mineral rights in much of their lands in Eastland-Stephens counties and participated in the oil boom in this section a few years back.

From Dawson county Mr. and Mrs. Thorp moved to Crystalval, where Mr. Thorp died on Oct. 10, 1935, and was buried at San Angelo. Following her husband's death Mrs. Thorp moved to Eastland, purchased a home on South Seaman street where she now resides.

Always active hale and hearty Mrs. Thorp only recently has begun to show a decline in health. Last year, using only a garden hoe, Mrs. Thorp planted and grew a victory garden without assistance and a short time ago cut out and made by hand a dress and pieces quilts for pastime with out the aid of glasses.

As did most of the Texas pioneers Mrs. Thorp experienced the hardships of having to bring their supplies at times from distant settlements, journey as much as 40 miles to have wheat and corn ground for flour and frequent encounters with the Indians and lawless characters.

Committees working on the City Clean-Up campaign are endeavoring to have the job completed and Eastland thoroughly cleaned up by Easter, which is Sunday, April 9th.

The clean up campaign is being sponsored by the Civic League and Garden Club, assisted by City officials who are supplying trucks for removing rubbish from alleys curbs and lots after it has been placed for their convenience.

Suspect Arsonist In San Francisco Hotel Blaze That Kills 22

TWENTY-TWO PERSONS died and 29 others were injured as they jumped from windows after fire spread with lightning speed through a small San Francisco hotel. Pictures above show firemen fighting the blaze and bodies of some of the victims after they were recovered from the gutted hotel. Described as "undoubtedly of incendiary origin," the fatal blaze climaxed a series of 11 rooming house fires in the area. Police are searching for a man seen running from the building. (International Soundphoto)

New Processing Will Keep Flavor In Dried Fruits

WENATCHEE, Wash. (UP)—A former college professor has developed a new process for converting fruit into candy through a dehydration process.

The process was worked out by Dr. Frank O. Kraeger, former professor at Washington State College and the University of Louisiana. Unlike most dried fruits, those produced by the new method retain the flavor of fresh fruit. This was accomplished, Dr. Kraeger explained, by reversing the usual process of drying.

The fruit is subject to a high temperature early in the dehydration process, immediately after the fresh fruit has been immersed in a sugar-glucose solution. The temperature is gradually decreased as the fruit dries. Dr. Kraeger developed the process primarily to absorb thousands of tons of fruit which is lost each year because of lack of processing facilities. He pointed out that the fruit can be processed after it reaches full ripeness on the tree. Formerly, over-ripened fruit was regarded as largely lost because it was too soft for handling.

The process also employs another agricultural waste product. The sugar-glucose sweetening and preserving agent is made from cull potatoes which are otherwise unmarketable.

Chief Warden On Local Hi School Teaching Staff

Chief Warden of Olden has been employed by the Eastland School Board as a teacher of physical education in the local schools. He has entered upon his duties.

Warden will coach the high school football team this season and will, in the near future, begin the preliminary training of his players.

Warden, who is pastor of the Methodist church at Olden and one or two small churches, is working to help pay his way through some institution of higher learning which he plans to attend in the future.

Churchill Wins Confidence Vote

LONDON — Prime Minister Churchill won a hands down vote of confidence in the House of Commons today. The tally was 425 to 23. Churchill asked for the vote after the government was defeated Tuesday on a minor educational bill amendment.

W. B. Starr Is In Race For Place In The Legislature

W. B. Starr of route No. 4, Cisco, this week authorized this paper to announce his candidacy for electoral representative from District 107-F composed of Eastland and Callahan counties. Mr. Starr, a successful farmer and business man, submits the following statement:

"I have decided to make the race for electoral representative. The basic industries of Eastland and Callahan counties are agriculture and stock raising. It has been many years since the people of this district have been represented in the legislature by a farmer or stockman. The welfare of all our people, both in the towns and country, lies in the welfare of those who operate our farms and ranches. It has been my pleasure, during my forty years residence in Eastland county, to try to improve the interests of the farmers and ranchmen of Texas, and at the same time to improve the soil from which my living has come.

"I feel I am fitted for the office I am seeking, therefore I am submitting my candidacy to the voters in this district. To those who may not be well acquainted with me I refer you, as to my record as a citizen, to my good neighbors among whom I have lived for the last forty years. As to my financial integrity, I refer you to any banker in this legislative district. (I believe my name on a note would have some weight with any of these men).

"As to opponents I may have, I have only the kindest feelings. I am making the race on what merits I may have and not on any demerits they may have. I want my friends to vote for whom they feel is the best fitted for this office and I assure them that their decision as represented by their ballots will be respected by me.

"Due to war conditions and the scarcity of tires and gas, I may not get to see all the voters, but I hope to contact many of them between now and the July primary. I would be glad to have you visit me at any time, and I would especially appreciate a card of encouragement from those who are glad to see me in this race. I will send you a few circulars, which you can tuck up in public places, or otherwise distribute for me.

"Thanking you for your consideration and cooperation in this important matter, I remain, respectfully yours, W. B. Starr, Route 4, Cisco, Texas.

Robbery Suspect Forgot 22-Year Prison Record

OMAHA, Neb. (UP)—James Butler was too reticent, when questioned about a drug store robbery. He denied having a prison record, saying, "Well, come to think of it, there was a year's stretch I did at Sloux Falls five or six years ago. I stole something."

Examination of his record showed that Butler, now 69, was sentenced to the St. Cloud, Minn., reformatory in 1897, and that after that served in Leavenworth, Kan., Bisfarek, N. D. and the Nebraska penitentiary. He was sentenced to a total of 22 years, and served out most of them.

"Inspector, you must always bear in mind that I couldn't involve myself any deeper. It's a man's prerogative not to testify against himself," Butler replied after being confronted with his tally sheet.

Texas Ballot May Carry Rayburn For Two Offices

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)— Voters in seven Texas counties that comprise the Fourth Texas Congressional District may vote for present House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham for two offices in November.

If he is nominated for Vice President at the Democratic National Convention, his name still will go on the ballots in Texas as a candidate for re-election to Congress.

Texas election laws forbid election officials to put the same man's name on a ballot for separate offices, but it has been held this does not apply to a candidate for President or Vice President of the United States because electors and not the candidates have their names on the ballot.

Precedent for the double race was set by former Vice President John Nance Garner.

TAKES SPECIAL COURSE

From Fort Sam Houston comes the information that Cpl. Tommy H. McNutt, son of Mrs. Ethel McNutt, R. F. N. No. 2, Eastland has just completed a course in cooking at the Bakers and Cooks school, operated by the Army Service Forces at Fort Sam Houston.

California's state flower, the poppy, received its scientific name of "Eschscholtzia" in Conoma county.

POSITIONS ON OTHER SOVIET FRONTS GROW WORSE HOURLY

The Germans admit they have lost Cernauti, the capital of Bukovina Province in Rumania, and a gateway to the Balkans.

The loss of Cernauti shatters Nazi communications vital to their southern armies. And it also paves the way for a Russian drive into the central provinces of Rumania.

Marshal Zhukov's first Ukraine army stormed into Cernauti after crossing the Prut River at two points.

At the same time another wing of the first army made a sudden westward drive to capture Kolomyia.

Still farther southeast, the German position in the big bulge above the Black Sea port of Odessa appeared to get worse hour by hour.

One column of the Second Army—swinging southward through Bessarabia, was reported within 12 miles of the last practical railroad for enemy troops in the Southern Ukraine.

British heavy bombers concentrated on France last night, striking at Germany's hard-pressed rail and aircraft engine facilities.

Mosquito raiders struck at Kiel while other targets in the industrial western Reich were pouided.

In Italy there still was no major change in the opposing battle lines. Latest dispatches reported stepped up artillery and patrol fighting.

Allied medium bombers battered vital Nazi communications, harbor points and air fields above Rome parallel yesterday's heavy bomber assaults against the important rail centers of Milan, Turin and Bolzano. Railroad targets at Sofia in Bulgaria also were pouided.

Lions Hear Talk By Mrs. Collie On Maverick Corral

Mrs. W. B. Collie gave a talk Tuesday at the Lions club meeting on the Maverick Corral which has just been opened for high school students in the basement of the Eastland National Bank building.

Chief Warden, pastor of the Methodist church at Olden and a teacher in the Eastland schools, was a guest Tuesday of Lion James Harkrider.

Lion W. B. Pickens reported on a Boy Scout meeting held at Breckenridge Monday night and made plea for greater co-operation from Eastland citizens in backing up and supporting local scout groups.

B. L. Kinnaird gave charge of the program for next Tuesday's meeting while Lion Kenny will have charge for the following week.

Lion president E. L. Miller presided at Tuesday's meeting and read letters from the Breckenridge and Stephenville clubs soliciting the support of Eastland Lions for certain candidates for district governor. The Breckenridge club endorsed Floyd Jones of Breckenridge and the Stephenville club endorsed Lion Oliver superintendent of the Stephenville school.

1944 TRUCK

Wes Short of the Lamb Motor Company, Eastland Chevrolet dealers, returned from Dallas a few days ago and brought with him one of the 1944 model Chevrolet, dual wheel, heavy duty trucks which he has on display at his place of business on West Main street.

The new truck has all equipment and meets all the requirements of the 1942 models.

Pageantry of British Ceremony Awaits Scribe

Decoration of Heroes Is a Solemn Occasion

By HELEN ESSARY
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON—For the first time since the shock of Pearl Harbor I felt personally close to the war. The bitter struggle, its hopes and horrors became a reality to me in the drawing room of the British embassy. I saw and heard the stuff that Allied heroes are made of.

The room itself was a million miles away from the fighting and the dying. Gold foraythia branches in vases in the tall brocade-hung windows, caught the encouraging sunshine. Guests sat in attentive rows facing Lord Halifax, the British ambassador, who was standing. The spring hats of pretty ladies and the gold braids of uniformed men were reflected in the black mirrors paneling the walls.

At right angles to the guests sat six or eight very young men in navy blue and khaki and several old men and women strangers to Washington. Not far from the ambassador a tall fellow was holding a small red velvet cushion bound in gold braid and tassels. The sort of cushion popular in Hollywood and in other countries where pageantry quite properly pleases the people.

The ambassador was speaking to the slim U. S. officer who stood before him.

"On behalf of His Gracious Majesty King George VI," he was saying, "I have the honor to confer the Distinguished Flying Cross for outstanding achievement in combat on Lieut. Col. Ernest C. Young, U.S.A.A.F. group commander, executive officer and pilot of P-38 type aircraft in the North African theater of operations, Lieutenant Colonel Young has shown outstanding ability in all phases of combat flying and tactics. . . led his group on first lumber mission over Rome. . . led his group of B-25 type bombers attacking Pratona De Mare. . . drove off five enemy bombers in repeated and aggressive attacks. . . made a record in number of enemy aircraft, boats and military installations destroyed and damaged." So the record ran.

The cushion bearer now walked slowly toward the ambassador and the aviator. On the cushion was a heavy silver cross tied with a square or striped ribbon. The ambassador fastened the cross by its ribbon on the shoulder of the aviator. The aviator bowed a little and moved reverently back to his place among his comrades in honor.

Down the proud list the ambassador read the story of valor and its reward. Telling in inadequate words of violent hours of boldness and resolution.

Now it was an aviation redoubtman, first class, United States Navy, Lionel Pelletier of Fall River, Mass., who was about to be decorated. "A member of a crew of a United States Navy aircraft which gallantly attempted to rescue the crew of a Royal Air Force Fortress which had come down in the sea. After drifting six days in a dinghy this aviator was rescued." Lieutenant Pelletier had fought the enemy, the sea and the wind. But when he came back to his chair with the new Distinguished Flying Medal on his blue blouse he was so nervous he could hardly bend his knees to sit down.

"The Distinguished Flying Cross is conferred on Flight Lieut. Arthur G. Donahue (deceased)," Lord Halifax's voice was saying. "The decoration will be accepted by his mother, Mrs. Frank Donahue." The mother of the hero went fatterly forward. But she stood straight and proud to receive the cross her son had won.

A lad who looked as if he were too young to shave snatched out next to receive the Distinguished Flying Cross for having completed 103 fighter sorties. . . performance of exemplary duty and courage and skill in leadership." A short, stocky lad had "inspired his crew by cool and efficient methods and set a magnificent example of courage and devotion to duty." And so ran the condensed epics of these brave men, defenders of our faith.

Who were these men before the war grabbed them? Later we had tea and things from the best ambassadorial china and silver. I had a chance to talk to the wearers of the shiny new medals and to the befit little mother. One of the heroes had been a furniture salesman in a store in a small midwest town. Another hadn't "got settled quiet" when he decided one day to volunteer. Another had helped out in a soda fountain "making a little extra he'd be likely to need in college." Great qualities had been hidden behind monotonous tasks and young inexperience. Yet here these Americans stood transformed Symbols of youth and bravery and patriotism. An inspiration and a heartbreak to us who stay at home and complain or forget.

ATTU BLIZZARD JUST NUISANCE TO U. S. FORCES

By RUSSELL ANNABEL
United Press Staff Correspondent
ATTU (UP)—United States forces spending their first winter in this desolate, surf-beaten island after taking it away from the Japs, are learning plenty about North Pacific weather, and how to continue operations efficiently despite it.

Recently a two-day blizzard howled out of the phantom-white peaks with such fury that by morning of the second day most of the Quonset huts were completely buried. It was impossible to open the doors against the weight of snow—in a number of cases the men had to crawl through the windows and burrow up through the wind-stiffened drifts. Trucks and jeeps were snowed under, the network of trench-like trails was filled in, telephone wires were weighted down, and roads were blocked.

This correspondent, returning at midnight from America's westernmost movie theater, floundered through a shoulder-deep smother of snow, inadvertently slipped off a snow-masked bridge in the blank darkness, and plunged out of sight into a feathery drift filling a deep ditch. Luckily, another wayfarer, Lt. Al Neal, Pittsburg, Pa., had fallen into the same ditch and had gotten hold of a hand line stretched across it earlier in the evening by some thoughtful seaman.

"A hell of a country," Neal asserted indignantly as he pulled us both to the surface. "A guy could get lost in one of these holes and they wouldn't find him until June."

It was a very special blizzard, even by Aleutian standards. But within an hour after daybreak the blizzard was back on a normal operating basis. Tractors, scrapers and snow plows cleared the roads and the landing strips. Mechanics leaned the snow and ice off the tires and ran up the mottled. Men shoveled out the paths, excavated the buried huts—releasing several officers who had been imprisoned due to their windows being frozen shut. Gun crews dug out their revetments. Communications men repaired the telephone lines.

The snow-laden 75-knot wind continued to screech in from the slate-gray Pacific, but the station was back in readiness for offense or defense—the lean, gun-bristling planes poised on the strips, the administrative staffs busy with the manifold routine affairs of the base. Two years ago, the men tell you, such a storm would have tied an Aleutian base in a snarl, because we had neither the experience nor the equipment for efficiently combating sub-Arctic weather. But now weather is no longer a bargeboat, merely a nuisance.

As Lt. Neal remarked as we were clearing our way out of the snow-filled ditch last night: "We hate this damned weather, and we hate the Japs twice as much for making us come out here. But storms don't deal us the grief they used to. We just dig out and go on about our business."

Football Champ Assists Coach At Sweetwater

SWEETWATER, Tex. (UP)—Sammy Baugh, the nation's forward passing champion and Washington Redskins football star, is assisting in spring football practice at Sweetwater High school, his alma mater.

Baugh has been driving in from his ranch north of town at intervals this month to assist coach Mack Alexander round out his team.

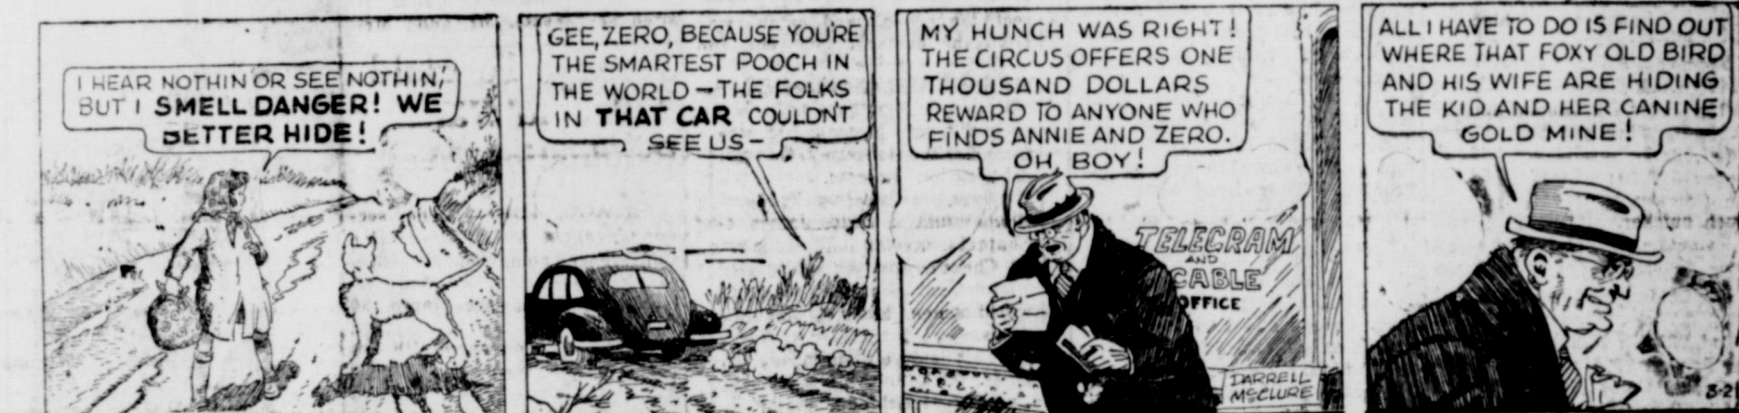

Baugh said recently that he believed that pro football probably will be discontinued for the duration, and that he expects to spend his time on his Double Mountain ranch, giving up the sport at least until peace has come.

Sammy played with the Sweetwater Mustangs two years, coming here from Temple, Texas. His basing began to attract attention in his senior year and he made history while at Texas Christian University.

VICTORY GARDEN MOVE IS STARTED IN EASTLAND

The County Wide Victory Garden Program was started in Eastland recently. Hazel Parchman, Vocational Homemaking Teacher of Deadeona was elected temporary chairman of the same. Mr. Earnest Shaffer was elected temporary secretary. Mrs. Jack Frost gave a report on the progress of victory garden work started in Eastland. Miss Parchman introduced Miss Myra Tankersley, Co. Home Dem. Agent, who told of the necessity for a more intensive victory garden program in 1944. According to Miss Tankersley, there is a need for a 25 percent increase in vegetable gardens to meet the proposed critical vegetable shortage. Where there were 20 cans of vegetables on the grocery shelf last year, only 16 is expected this time. This shortage is to be met by victory gardens most of which will be from town people.

The next tomato in producing is the Stockdale. It produced 3.1-2 tons per acre. It is larger and very fine quality. This tomato as well as any other tomato should be started early. A plant box made in last week in Feb. produces plants that are the desired size for transplanting to the garden. Head Lettuce and Onions — Plants should be planted in the early garden. Potatoes should be disinfected before planting. — Semesan Bel disinfect can be purchased locally. The Irish Potato varieties most common are cobbler and triumph. Katahdin and pontiac are new varieties that produce well and are quality potatoes and keep well. Sweet Potatoes — Should be bedded out now—Nick the potatoes and bed out only salmon colored ones.

Who Are The Two Witnesses?

Letters From Readers
They can't be figurative because the Bible says their bodies will be killed in the streets of Jerusalem and lay in the streets three days, and not be buried and after three days their spirits will come back into their bodies and they will prophesy twelve hundred and sixty days two and a half years after they are risen up again. Whoever heard of the body of Christ spoken of figuratively as the Holy Spirit Either Paul tells us we are the Body of Christ speaking on the church Ephesians 1-2:3-4:5 Chapters. A body of scriptural Baptized. Believers are the body of Christ. The church militant on earth is Christ body and is the Bride of Christ. Whoever heard of the Body of Christ and the Holy Spirit being killed and lay in the streets of Jerusalem three thousand years. Figurative language would mean that Christ Jesus and the Holy Spirit have been laying in the streets of Jerusalem three thousand years. Peter says one thousand years is as one day with God. Lets divide the word of God rightly. There are six calendar days in God's creative work. Divided into live ages.

First Antedeluvian age— A period of two thousand years. Second, the Sanhedrian age, a period of two thousand years. Third, the Gospel age, a period of two thousand years. The fifth age is the age to come as the new earth state. Where in dwelleth righteousness for we, according to his promise, look for a new Heaven and New Earth 2 Peter 3-1:14 Luke 24-46:48 3-1-14, Zack 14-7 Rev. 19-20 Chapters. First 2 days represent 200 years Antedeluvian age. 2. The Sanhedrian age. Third Gospel age. Forth the Preliminary age. 1000 years reign on Earth of Christ in judgment of the wicked following the Tribulation of Daniel. I have briefly given the truth of God about this age important doctrine of Christ.

He told the Disciples he would go away and come again and receive us to himself where he was we might be also. Read John 14-1-5- Read Matt. 23-24-25. When the Gospel of the Kingdom has been preached in all the world among all nations then cometh the end of the Gospel age and Christ will come in the clouds with the great power and Glory and resurrect the saved and catch away from the earth the church and the Gospel and translate the bodies of us that are alive and remain at his coming and we will be caught up together with them to meet the Lord in the air, so shall we ever be with him. Read 1 Thess. 4 chapters Thess. 2 Chapt. Phil. 3 Jude, James 4-5 Chapters, Revelations. 4-5-13-19 20 Chapters and he not deceived by any man about the end of the world Amen. Even so come Lord Jesus.

Chicago To Hold A Second War Production Meet

CHICAGO, (UP)— The second Chicago War Production Conference, being held in response to a request by the War Department, opens here March 30 under the direction of John R. Nichel, of the Commonwealth Edison Co., and Harold L. Geiger, of the International Nickel Co., co-chairman of the executive committee.

The conference is sponsored by 37 members of the Chicago Technical Societies Council in co-operation with the U. S. Army, the U. S. Navy and the War Production Board.

Slogan of the day will be "Ideas for Victory" and 32 panel sessions will be held. Attendance of more than 5,000—the number attending the first conference in the spring of 1943—is anticipated.

In a letter to the Technical Societies, Donald Nelson, WPB chairman, said:

"The success of some of our most vital war production programs depends to a considerable extent on the job that is done in the Chicago area in the months which are just ahead of us."

Texas Hopes For Paper For Coming State Elections

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)— With the War Production Board consistently reducing paper allocations for civilian uses, Texas Secretary of State Sidney Latham is hopeful there's a sufficient supply for Texas elections this year.

Called upon for an estimate of paper requirements for all elections, Latham estimated the state's 254 counties would need stock to print 11,179,833 ballots, 6,700,629 envelopes and about 3,000,000 tally sheets, instructions and other forms required by Texas law.

The first estimate of its kind ever made in the state, Latham did not attempt to calculate the amount of paper needed. He gave the WPB the number and size of forms needed, leaving other estimates to experts.

Forms: Pair of False Teeth

Hats off to the People who Produce your Electric Light and Power

The Charles A. Coffin Foundation confers a special citation for distinguished wartime achievement on the ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER INDUSTRY

"Faced with unprecedented demands, the Electric Light and Power Industry has met every war-production requirement without delay and without impairment of its peacetime services to the public. This achievement merits the appreciation not only of American industry but of the entire nation."

—FROM THE CITATION

THIS CITATION is richly merited—for here is a branch of industry that has done a remarkable war job that has not been generally recognized.

If electric power should fail, or if it be too little or too late, the disastrous effects would startle all America. Vital machines would be motionless. Millions of homes would be cold—and an eerie blackout would descend over the land.

But, electricity has not failed. Rather, in 1943 twice as much power was produced as in the year before the war—with the minimum of new facilities—and despite large losses of skilled employees to the Armed Services.

In the words of J. A. Krug, Director, Office of War Utilities of W.P.B., "Power men—public and private—should be proud of the job that has been done in providing power supply. Power has never been too little or too late."

We of General Electric, who have built a large part of the electric equipment which generates, distributes, and uses the electric power of America, take pride in the way this equipment is standing up under the strain of "forced draft" wartime operation.

Many of the men and women responsible for this remarkable record are your neighbors—the manager of a meter reader who lives across the street, the girl in the accounting department who is in your bridge club, the lineman with whom you bowled last night. A word of appreciation from you to them will lend added significance to this well deserved citation. General Electric Company, Schenectady, New York.

 CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
 "Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 2.
 The Golden Text is: "Truly in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains; truly in the Lord our God is the salvation of Israel" (Jeremiah 3:23).
 Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee; behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation!" (II Corinthians 6:2).
 The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Now," cried the apostle, "is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation;—meaning, not that now men must prepare for a future-world salvation, or safety, but that now is the time in which to experience that salvation in spirit and in life" (page 39.)

The Baptist Herald

Rev. Homer J. Starnes Pastor
 First Baptist Church

The mission offering of last Sunday is now history. The people of the church have again responded in a splendid way. We expected a good response and certainly everything was up to expectation. We went well over the goal of $100.00. The church has responded beautifully to every worthy undertaking when it has been properly explained and presented and publicized. People will give to the cause of christianity when given the opportunity.
 Of course many christians have not come to the place yet where they are willing to trust the Lord with all they are and have. We can't help but feel sorry for such people because they are missing much of the joy of service and are holding their own usefulness in check. We yearn for every member of all our churches to exhibit the maximum consecration and usefulness. To that end let us all work and pray.

Let us be thinking about the Endowment Campaign that is being promoted this year in Texas. Our church in conference adopted a minimum goal of $1,000.00.
 This is in line with other churches in our district. The plan is to set up 54 units of $18.75 each, which is the price of a small bond. All are urged to take as many units as they will. Of course anyone who feels he cannot take a whole unit will feel free to subscribe any part. November is the deadline on this campaign. However, we won't want to wait too long to take care of this worthy matter. Subscriptions may be turned in any time.

The state Sunday School Convention meets in Dallas April 11, and 12. The teachers and officers and any others would find it profitable to attend that convention if only for one day. Much good could be had from attending on the 11th and returning to Eastland after the night session.

Plans are going forward for the Easter Cantata. The choir is putting in much time getting ready for the program. Rarely do you find one who does not appreciate good music. We are blessed with good voices and those who play. Let us give them our best support as they render service in song. The public is cordially invited to the Cantata on Easter Sunday.

There is a need for a man leader for the Royal Ambassadors. The women are to be commended for the fine work they are doing with the young people's organizations. However, boys need a man as leader. Here is an opportunity for some man to do a lasting work.

Rufus M. Jones gives us this fine thought: "If we do not find God walking with us, it is not because he has vanished of his own accord, or has been banished by the hypotheses of science, or has been driven from the world by its sin and wickedness."
 It is because we have failed to cultivate our vision, our power to see him, our gifts of communion and fellowship. We have trained our eyes to see things, to count dollars, to measure distances. We have neglected the most important capacity that belongs to man, the capacity to see God.

Cisto Girls 4-H Club Has Meeting

The Cisto Grammar School girls 4-H Club met Tuesday, March 21 at one o'clock in the homemaking department. President Jo Ann Scott called the session to order and secretary Mary Whitsett read the roll and each club member answered by singing the 4-H song.
 A demonstration was given on the construction of a shoe bag. All 4-H's were urged to make shoe bags in order to develop more skill in sewing, to provide a convenient place for shoes and to develop habits of order and neatness.
 A concentration on garden seed treatment was also given. Chemical treatment of seeds is a proved method for keeping down seed-borne disease and responds with increased yields. Semesars may be used for treating seeds but these chemicals are poisonous and should be handled according to directions.

SPECIAL ATTENTION! Wives, Parents and Sweethearts Of Men In Our Armed Forces

Address of Senator Joseph F. Guffey of Pennsylvania, on the floor of the United States Senate Monday March 13, 1944.

Mr. President—
 Regardless of what men may say in or outside of this Chamber, the bold fact remains true and cannot successfully be disputed, that regardless of the section from which they come, there is a grave fear on the part of some that colored citizens or poor white citizens may, by reason of this Bill and its provisions, obtain the right to vote which otherwise would be denied to them.
 Equally it is true, and equally indisputable, that there are those who are thinking more of how, and for whom, the Soldier will vote, than they are as to whether he obtains the right to vote. It was made very clear here on the floor of the Senate in the course of debate in recent weeks, that if Mr. Roosevelt would announce that he was not a candidate for the provision for a Federal Ballot could be passed within thirty minutes' time. In short, those two fears stand out, and are—
 1. That, if the simple ballot is provided, some of the Soldiers may thereby cast a vote for Franklin D. Roosevelt.
 2. That, if the payment of the Poll Tax and registration are waived, the colored troops and poor whites may thereby obtain the right to cast a vote, which they cannot do under the so-called States' Rights Provision.
 It is my firm conviction that if these two forces of fear prevail, few, if any, Soldiers inside and none outside of the United States will be able to vote for a Government for which countless thousands of them are fighting and dying at this very moment to preserve.

Between those who are afraid to let our colored citizens and poor white citizens vote at all, and those who are afraid to let the Soldiers vote for fear they will vote for Roosevelt the Congress, if this Bill becomes a law, is perpetrating the greatest organized election steal since 1876, when the Republican Party were the beneficiaries of the Presidential Election which was stolen from Samuel J. Tilden.
 Can anyone believe that the verdict of the coming elections will be accepted as binding by those who have been deprived of the Ballot or that those who have been deprived of the Ballot will not feel entitled to resent strongly and to combat the policies which may be adopted as a result of this outrageous fraud and deliberate betrayal of Democracy in the House of its friends.
 Before acting on this Bill, I should like to remind the Senators of a certain hot summer day, some twelve years ago, in 1932, when the previous occupant of the White House, President Hoover, issued orders to the Chief of Staff of the United States Army to send soldiers with fire and sword against the veterans of World War 1 who had peacefully assembled here in the City of Washington for the redress of their grievances.
 I think that it is well to recall that incident because when this war is over there will be other veterans and they, too, may come to Washington and they may demand an accounting from a Congress which refused to allow them to exercise the right to vote and denied them a choice in the election of Federal Officers who will govern the veterans of this war on their return to civil life.

 This measure is not a Service Voting Bill. It is a Bill to franchise twelve million American Citizens in the Armed Forces of the United States.
 I warn the Senate and I warn the Country that Congress is playing with TNT when it attempts to put behind barbed wire in a concentration camp as it were, the men who are fighting and dying for America in Italy, in China, in the Southwest Pacific and in the skies over Germany, the men and women on whom we depend for the successful invasion of Europe.
 Gentlemen, do not hide behind outworn and false arguments. Stand up and be counted either for or against permitting all these young patriots to cast a simple ballot for the candidates of their choice, no difference what party label they wear.

Don't keep the water too hot
It's Hard on the Heater and Piping
ARE YOU taking good care of your water heater to make it last till we win this war? The factories can't make you a new one till it's over.

1. Don't set the thermostat too high; about 130 degrees is considered generally satisfactory.
2. Drain the sediment from your hot water tank at least once a month.
3. Keep burner adjusted.
4. Give your water heater "breathing space." The burner flame requires air for good combustion.

VICTORY GARDEN HINTS GIVEN BY COUNTY AGENT

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine" the old saying, may well be paraphrased, "A Bug in Time Saves Nine Hundred and Ninety-nine."

Don't wait until the cut worms begin cutting down your garden plants to begin poisoning for if you do the poison material used has to compete with the desired host plants. And in many instances the cut worm eats the plants instead of the poison bran. The bran should be put out at the time of planting the seed since the cut worms are already in the ground and are seeking for something to eat. When they are provided with poison bait, they are killed and since there is not another generation this year per cent, the plants are protected 100 per cent.

PROTECT YOUR GARDEN FROM INSECTS

It is unwise to spend your money on seed and fertilizer and waste your time working the garden, unless you are prepared to control the insect pests and there are sure to be pests in every garden, regardless of size or location.

Each gardener should arrange now for a plunger type duster. One with a quart size capacity will suffice for the average victory garden. A garden one half acre or more will require a larger capacity, say one half or three quarter gallon. This duster should be shaped that the under side of the plant leaves can be dusted by the gardener in a standing position. These guns are inexpensive, costing from $1.25 up. They will last ten years, if properly greased and cared for.

Bulletin C-197 entitled Save Victory Gardens From Insect Pests gives the common insects and control measures. This may be had by writing your county agent.

There are a few things of importance in insect control:

- (1) Start treatment immediately when bugs appear.
- (2) It takes from 1 to 2 weeks to get insects under control.
- (3) The method of application is as important as the material itself.

Rotenone 1 per cent will kill any of the insects except those requiring poison bait. Rotenone is not toxic to people.

In applying the dust the top and bottom side of the plant must be covered. In other words, the material must come in contact with the insect.

Cryolite, lead arsenate, or calcium arsenate, all are poison and are accumulative to the human body. Cryolite is preferred to arsenate for it only takes one half as much and for that reason is less accumulative to the body. A 50 per cent mixture of cryolite will kill all of the chewing garden insects. Do not use on plants to be harvested within two weeks time.

Olden 4-H Club Meeting Is Held

The Olden girls' 4-H Club met Monday, March 20 at 2:30 o'clock. Joylean Garrett called the house to order, Melba Yielding called the roll and the 4-Hers answered by exhibiting the laundry bags that they had made. Carmen Alvarado led the following songs—Army Air-Corp Hymn, The Marine's Hymn and Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet.

Loma Faye Hearn assistant Home Demonstration Agent, gave a demonstration on the construction of a shoe bag. The girls were urged to make a shoe bag in order to develop more skill in sewing, to provide a convenient place for shoes, and for the development of good habits of order and neatness.

A convenient and economical method of transplanting plants grown in a plant box or hot house was demonstrated to the girls. A plant bed may be made as follows: Take a box 20x20 inches, about four inches deep and fill 2-3 full with 1-2 top soil and 1-2 well rotted manure mixed well. For spacing plants in this flat, a top is made that fits within the box having 3-4 inch holes 3 inches apart in rows. A peg is inserted in each of these holes, then the lid is removed and plants from the plant bed are transplanted into the flat. This method gives the plants sufficient space and proper fertility to encourage proper growth in order that it may be transplanted to the garden as soon as danger of frost are over.

Alameda Girl Is Lt. Colonel In Victory Army

As a member of the Eastland County Girls 4-H Victory Army, Ima Louise Little of the Alameda 4-H Club is one of the farm girls in the county who is making outstanding records in the 4-H work. Ima Louise has been an enthusiastic club member for six years. She is the first to achieve the rating of Lt. Col. in the Victory Army. To attain this rank she completed all her club goals including construction of a home-made lamp brooder; equipping a shoe shine kit; making a frame garden; equipping a sewing box and making a scarf and a laundry bag.

During these six years of work she has taken five trips besides attending club meeting and county club affairs. The trips were to Carlsbad Cavern, A. & M. Short Course, State Fair in Dallas and two trips to the 1st Stock Show in Ft. Worth. Ima Louise says that all the trips have been educational and entertaining. Her comment on the girls 4-H club was: "I have enjoyed every minute of my six years of club work and play, and I only wish that every girl could reap such benefits."

Over 400 County 4-H Boys, Girls Attend Show

It is estimated that over 400 Eastland County 4-H girls and boys attended the Fat Stock Show on 4-H Club day which was March 14th. Badges with the 4-H Club insignia, the 4 leaf clover, and Eastland County in bold face letters were gladly displayed by each Eastland County 4-H member and sponsor attending. This method made it possible to see members of the Eastland County delegation at a great distance. This badge was the idea of and prepared by Gene Baker, local leader or sponsor of Gorman boys 4-H Club.

The delegations were early risers, some of which left their posts at 4:30 o'clock a. m. en route to Ft. Worth. The modes of travel were busses, trucks, pickups, personal cars, and hitch hiking. Each club provided its own ways and sponsors and parents accompanied the club groups. After visiting all the livestock exhibits, many went to the 2 o'clock rodeo performance and some to the special show put on by the Army Air Corps.

Members of Tudor Game Preserve Elect Officers

Members of Tudor Game Preserve met Friday, March 24, at 8 o'clock p. m. and elected officers for 1944. W. H. Jackson, President; Luther Gailey, Vice-President; and R. W. Drake, Secretary, are the new officers, with Program Committee composed of the above and C. F. Jones and Floyd Lynch.

The Association voted to hold its annual Wildlife meeting on July 15th. The program will include Wildlife Specialists from A & M College and someone from the Game, Fish & Oyster Commission, Austin, Texas. Program will start at 10 o'clock and last throughout the day. The noon meal will be in form of a barbecue.

New markers furnished by State Game, Fish, & Oyster Commission, designating the area as a deer and wildlife preserve are being erected. The members hope to extend the area to include 60,000 acres. At the present, it is 41,000. One hundred & four white tailed deer have been released by the Game Department.

Minister Given Gentle Hint On Funeral Black

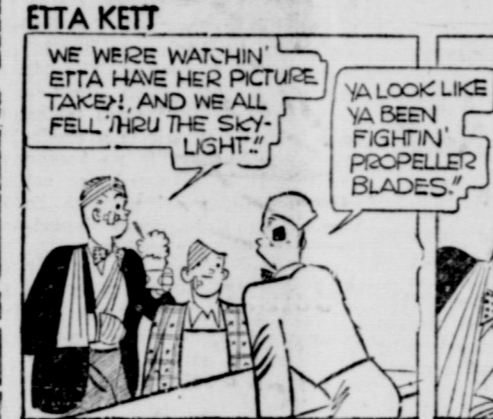

DALLAS, Tex. (UP)—A local Bible class, apparently tired of seeing their minister clothed in his customary black suit, handed him an envelope containing eighty bills attached together.

Recovering from his surprise, the minister asked why and was told, "buy yourself a regular suit of clothes. We're tired of looking at that funeral black."

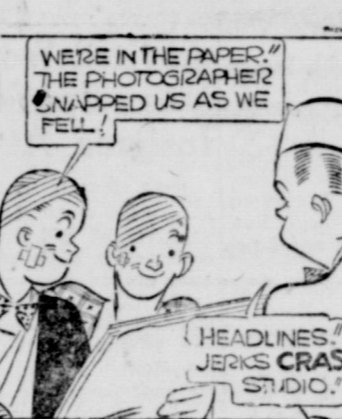

The next Sunday's lecture was delivered by a preacher who looked as though he might have stepped from a business conference into the pulpit.

After the service the congregation indicated they liked the change.

AIRFIELD WOMEN WEAR SPARK PLUG INSIGNIA AT NECK

HILL FIELD, Ogden, Utah.—(UP)—As a substitute for a dog tag, 22 Hill Field workers each wear a miniature spark plug hung around the neck.

The 22 are all women. They and left the kitchen sink months ago to work in the spark plug department of the maintenance air craft shops here.

Last month they cleaned repaired and packed 49,000 spark-plugs. They work it on an assembly basis.

The women—several of whom have sons or daughters in the service—have saved hundreds of working hours by suggesting short cuts and putting them into effect.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Green of Portales, New Mexico, plan to visit here this week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hassell. Mr. and Mrs. Dudley are parents of Mrs. Hassell.

Lt. (Chaplain) L. V. Simmonds, who has been in England, has been granted a 30-day sick leave and is now in a hospital at Chickasha, Oklahoma for treatment for a stomach trouble. Mrs. Simmonds who has been at the hospital with him, is expected to return to Eastland this week.

'Iron Man' 76, Hunts Cougars For 55th Year

SEATTLE (UP)—For the 55th consecutive year, 76-year old John Huelsdonk, known as "The Iron Man of Hoh" and "The Last of the Frontiersmen," is trekking deep into snow-heavy Washington foothills early this spring in quest of snarling deer-killing cougars.

Huelsdonk has been hunting cougars, biggest cats on the North American continent, ever since he broke a trail to the headwaters of the Hoh River on the Olympic Peninsula over half century ago. While carving an empire for himself from the virgin forest, Huelsdonk became a legend for his cougar hunting prowess and pioneer strength.

In 55 years of hunting, the frontiersman has bagged more than 150 of the big cats, including one of the largest ever killed—"Big Foot," whose bloody game killings scoured the Hoh Valley in 1936. Cougar hunting is a rugged occupation. The big cats are crafty, often leading dogs on for miles before taking to a tree. Because it is a predatory animal, there is no season or limit. It is estimated one cat will kill 40 deer each year, so the Washington state game department pays $50 for each pelt.

Huelsdonk earned the title of "The Iron Man of Hoh" in the days when all supplies to the valley were packed in on men's shoulders. He earned double by packing a double load 200 pounds.

One oft-told story has Huelsdonk carrying a kitchen range on his back over a mountain trail. He met a man who asked "Isn't that stove too heavy for you?" The Iron Man slyly replied, "The stove doesn't bother me, but that 100 pound sack of flour in the oven keeps shifting around and throwing me off balance."

When queried about his reputed feats the 76 year old cougar hunter replies, tongue in cheek, "Well you weren't there, were you?"

After the social hour a refreshment plate of open-faced sandwiches, cinnamon rolls, ice cream cookies and homemade ice cream were served to Mesdames Geo. E. Cross, J. L. Cottingham, W. P. If The Beans Are Bad You Know Whom To Blame

What good are trade marks? This is a question of importance to every man who buys anything, because certain economic theorists are now proposing that trade mark be eliminated.

Are these theorists right or wrong? We had better inform ourselves, so we or our representatives in Congress can vote intelligently on the subject when legislation dealing with trade marks comes up for decision.

Good Protection

What is a trade mark? The Oxford Dictionary says: "trade-mark registered device or name of which the exclusive use is secured to the manufacturer who distinguishes his goods by it." This is good for the manufacturer's protection; it is even better for the consumer's protection. If the canned beans you buy are bad you know from the trade mark whom to blame, also what to buy next time.

In fact, looking back into history we find that the original purpose of the trade mark was a requirement imposed by guild officials to identify the maker so he could be punished, if his goods or his work turned out to be below the standards set by the guilds. However, it worked the other way. The silversmith, for example was quick to see that the better the quality of the pieces with his name stamped on it, the greater would be the demand for his products. Purchasers soon discovered that the short way of making sure they were getting their money's worth was to look for the trade mark. All you

Streak Of Fire Gives Fat Man A Run For His Life

SAN ANTONIO (UP)—A three-block stream of fire that chased an unidentified fat man through the streets was caused by the ignition of a stream of gasoline that leaked from a large tank truck.

The fire department extinguished the flames before it could spread to several nearby houses. Fire Chief M. L. Butler believed that the unidentified fat man had inadvertently tossed a lighted match into the spilled gasoline.

It's The Same Old Army

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—Saying that the soldiers in the present world war have the same gripes, but less reason for them, thirteen old-timers who saw service in World War I and are in the army now compare the present day army life with that of the last war.

Stationed at the Fort Worth Army Air Field the thirteen believe the same barracks bull sessions exist and that it is pretty much the same army, except for different slang expressions and softer training. They insist that it is still the same old army despite new blood.

Pleads Own Case And Wins Verdict

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—A youthful hitch hiker's plea to Judge Jack Reeves of the city traffic court of "but, judge, didn't you ever thumb rides when you went to Rice?" got the lad off with only a warning against future offenses.

The boy, a student at the University of Houston, was accused by the complaining officer of blocking a driveway and thumbing rides.
