

Peaches Can Be Canned Or Dried Without Sugar, Says Miss Tankersley

Several Methods For Preservation Of Fruit Explained

By MYRA TANKERSLEY
County Home Demonstration Agent

"Peaches are going to waste for lack of sugar." I have heard this statement many times the last 10 days. There is no need for them to go to waste, because they can be preserved without sugar. They have as much food value, but usually do not have as nice a texture, color and flavor. Plain boiling water or fruit juice is used instead of syrup if the sugar or sugar substitute is not available. To make the fruit juice, wash the softer peaches. Crush and grind them; then strain, if a clear juice is desired.

For canning, select fresh, firm ripe peaches. Wash and peel. To peel, scald the peaches one or two minutes in boiling water, then put them in cold water immediately. The skins slip off easily. Cut into halves and remove seed.

METHOD I FOR CANNING:

Pack the raw peaches into a clean jar or can. Bring fruit juice or water to a boil and pour over the packed fruit. Leave half inch headspace. Steam before sealing:

Pints 10 minutes
Quarts 15 minutes
Half Gallons 20 minutes

Press down and refill if necessary. Wipe off rim and seal according to type of container being used. Process in a water bath after water starts boiling:

Pints and Quarts 15 minutes
Half Gallons 25 minutes

METHOD II FOR CANNING:

Drop the firm fruit into the fruit juice or water. Bring to a good boil. Pack into boiling hot clean jars. Leave half inch headspace. Seal according to type of container being used. Process in a boiling water bath:

Pints and Quarts 15 minutes
Half Gallons 25 minutes

IT TAKES NO SUGAR TO DRY PEACHES

Select fresh, firm, ripe peaches. Wash. You may dry peaches without peeling. Peeled fruit dries more quickly and is a nicer product. To peel, scald the peaches one or two minutes in boiling water, then put them in cold water immediately. The skins slip off easily. Cut into halves or quarters and remove seed.

TREAT WITH SULPHUR TO KEEP COLOR AND FOOD VALUES

Method I —

Dissolve three and one-half tablespoons of potassium metabisulfite or sodium sulfite in one gallon of cold water. Either may be bought at a drug store. Drop peaches as they are peeled or cut into this solution for 15 minutes. Drain and arrange on trays for drying.

Method II —

Another way to sulphur peaches is to burn flowers of sulphur under the fruit. Use one teaspoon of sulphur of each pound of prepared fruit. Put the sulphur in a small piece of paper. Roll it loosely and twist the ends. Arrange a place outdoors to do the sulphuring. Place fruit on trays and then put the roll of sulphur in a pan about 12 or 15 inches under the trays. Have a large, tight box or barrel that will fit over trays and sulphur. Start burning the roll of paper with sulphur. After it has started good, put the box down over the tray and pull some loose dirt up around the edge of the box to hold in the fumes. If peaches are peeled and sliced, sulphur them 20 minutes. If unpeeled and halved, leave under the tight box with the sulphur fumes for three hours.

THERE ARE TWO WAYS TO DRY FRUIT

Method I Is Sun Drying —

Use this method only where the atmosphere is dry. Arrange fruit on slatted or wire trays which have been covered with cheesecloth. Cover fruit with cheesecloth to keep out insects and dust. Two window screens placed together make a temporary drier in an emergency. Cover the bottom screen with cheesecloth or very thin cloth to prevent fruit coming in contact with screen and dust. Place the screen on saw horses or other props so that air can circulate under, as well as over the fruit. If a window glass is placed several inches above the fruit, it raises the temperature 10 to 15 degrees and dries the fruit faster. It takes about two or three days for peaches to dry thoroughly in the sun. Fruit should be taken in at night or in case of a shower during the day.

Method II Is Using Controlled Heat:

Controlled heat can be used in any kind of climate or weather—day or night. It is faster and yields a better product as well as saves more food value. If a commercial drier is used, follow the manufacturer's directions for its use. If an oven is used, it is important to have a very low and controlled heat. You must have a thermometer. A dairy, candy or hot water thermometer may be used. Lay thermometer in center of the tray of fruit. Leave the oven door about one-third to one-half open. Stir the fruit often as it is drying to prevent getting too hot. Start peaches at 125 degrees F. Gradually increase to 175 degrees. When it is about half dry, decrease the temperature to about 150 degrees F. It is especially important to watch the fruit often toward the end of the drying period. It takes six to 15 hours, according to the type of heat, circulation of air and size of peaches.

Test For Dryness

When peaches are dry, they are pliable and leathery and not sticky. They have springy feel.

Good Storage Is Most Essential

Proper storage is as important as the actual drying. Sun-dried fruit can be heated to about 150 degrees in an oven for 15 to 30 minutes. Stir fruit as it is heating. Have cans or jars and lids clean, hot and dry. Pack the hot fruit into hot containers and seal immediately. Self-seal lids are most satisfactory if jars are used. If fruit was dried in oven or dehydrator, be sure it is thoroughly dry. Then pack it while hot into hot containers and seal. All dried fruit should be stored in a cool, dry, dark place.

IF YOU HAVE SUGAR:

If you are lucky enough to have canning sugar it can be stretched by making invert sugar in the following way:

Two cups sugar, one cup water; one-fourth teaspoon tartaric acid; mix, cover and simmer for 30 minutes. Cool. Use one-fourth cup of this syrup and one cup water to make a thin syrup for canning or freezing fruits, sweetening fruits, cereals, making ice creams etc.

PLAN YOUR CANNING PROGRAM

Every household these days should have a definite plan of activity in stocking the pantry shelves with home canned and preserved foods for the winter months, and this plan will not only include planting with a plan, but preserving with a purpose, says Miss Myra Tankersley, Eastland County Home Demonstration Agent of the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

Begin, Miss Tankersley suggests, by estimating the amount of fruits, vegetables and meats your family will need. Then set that number as your canning goal. A good guide to use in estimating this amount is to consider that about half the necessary consumption of food for your family during a year will be fresh and the other processed. If fresh foods are available for as much as three-fourths of the year, half the amounts suggested will be sufficient. If the season is shorter, say one-fourth of the year, you must take one and one-half times the suggested amounts.

Here is the suggested plan: Each individual in the family requires 22 quarts of green and yellow vegetables per year, 22 quarts of other vegetables, such as beets, okra and squash, and 22 quarts of tomatoes or citrus fruits. Also include for each member of the family 22 quarts of other fruit, five quarts of pickles or relishes and seven pints of preserves and jellies. In meats, allow 88 pounds of meat for each person. Usually half this amount is canned, and is equivalent to about 20 quarts of canned meat or chicken.

It is well to remember also that food may be preserved in other ways. In dried food, one-fourth pound is equivalent to one quart of food canned, two pounds frozen equals one quart canned and four pounds stored or two quarts brined are equivalent to one quart canned.

Take into consideration also the likes and dislikes of your family. For example, if tomato juice is a favorite in your household, make your goal high for that product. Strive for variety in some fruits and vegetables.

GIVE THE FURNITURE A SHAMPOO

Upholstered furniture should come in for its share of refreshing when housecleaning time comes, and for this job try dry suds, which work like magic, says Miss Myra Tankersley, Eastland County Home Demonstration Agent of the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

To make the suds, dissolve one-half cup of neutral soap flakes, beads, chips or bar soap shaved in small pieces in one quart of hot soft water. To test the soap to see if it is neutral, put a bit of it in your tongue, and if neutral it will not bite or sting.

When the soap solution has cooled to a jelly-like consistency, beat it with a rotary egg beater until it looks like cake icing. When suds die down, rebeat them.

Remove the dust from the upholstered furniture with a vacuum cleaner or whisk broom. Before shampooing the fabric with dry suds, test in an inconspicuous place to see whether it is washable. If so, then apply the dry suds to a small area with a brush, sponge or cloth. Use a light circular motion. Scrape off the soiled suds with a spatula. Rinse with a sponge or cloth wrung from clear lukewarm water using a circular motion. Rinse several times. Be sure no soap remains in the material. Use as little water as possible so that the foundation will not become wet. Work quickly and wash a small area at a time and let each new area overlap the last one a little. Place furniture in an airy place to dry, but not in the sun.

If fabric has a nap, brush it after it is thoroughly dry so that the threads will be in the right direction. Leather covered furniture can be washed with suds in much the same way.

CORRECTING FAULTS FROZEN POULTRY

Proper preparation and care by homemakers and locker managers can eliminate the five most common troubles in frozen poultry products — discoloration, off-flavors, drying out, excess "drip" or "ooze," and rancidity—according to Miss Myra Tankersley, Eastland County Home Demonstration Club Agent for the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

Discoloration, or dark color in frozen poultry meat, usually is a result of insufficient bleeding she says. Off-flavors usually are caused by not chilling the meat quickly enough. She attributes drying out of meat to a poor wrap. Poor wrapping will also cause discoloration. Tests by many research workers have shown that cellophane currently is the most ideal wrapping material for meat, and poultry especially.

Miss Tankersley says many homemakers have found that in frying chicken previously frozen often the crust will flake off the pieces. This is the result of a drip or ooze. Sharp freezing at 20 degrees F. below zero and keeping the product at zero without fluctuation in temperatures or fluctuation in storage will cause crystals in the product to enlarge, break down more quickly and release temperatures also will prevent the fifth common difficulty, rancidity.

The specialist also recommends that poultry meats be thawed almost completely at room temperature or in a refrigerator so that the meat will retain most of this moisture during the cooking process.

With these various factors controlled, frozen poultry products have been kept in locker boxes for a year and a half without loss of quality. However, most homemakers will find it more economical and practical to use frozen poultry meats within a year, adding new supplies to their lockers as another crop of fryers is available.

WASH GLOVES ON HANDS

When you wash your fabric and leather gloves, use the "hand in glove" method. It's the easiest and best way in the opinion of Miss Myra Tankersley, Eastland County Home Demonstration Agent for the Texas A&M College Extension Service. That goes for cotton and rayon gloves, and pigskin in light and natural shades.

Be on the safe side, though, and never wash leather gloves unless the label shows that they are washable. And don't ever try to wash gloves which once have been dry cleaned. Kid gloves, incidentally, always need dry cleaning.

The specialist suggests that you wash your gloves frequently, otherwise if they're quite soiled, you'll have to rub hard. And that may ruin or roughen the finish. Now here are the general directions for the hand-in-glove washing method. They apply to most types except chamois and do-skin gloves.

Wash your gloved hands in mild, lukewarm suds, squeezing and pressing. But don't rub or brush them. When the gloves are clean, peel them off gently from the wrist, and rinse them in lukewarm water until the water is free from soap. Running water from the faucet into the gloves helps straighten the fingers.

Don't wring or twist your gloves, but roll them in a turkish towel to take up extra moisture. You may hang fabric gloves evenly over a rod or lay them on a flat surface to dry. To dry leather gloves, stretch them lengthwise and blow into each glove to shape them out. Keep them a safe distance from heat or sunlight, and if they have contrasting stitching, stuff them with tissue paper until they dry.

The classifieds get the job done in a hurry—at low cost!

HOW ABOUT A BUMPER CROP OF WAR BONDS

WITH farm income higher than ever before . . . but with fewer and fewer things to buy, there was never a better opportunity in our history for farmers to make themselves financially strong and independent.

When the crop checks come in, put those surplus funds into War Bonds! They are the best investment ever offered the people of America. You never get less than you lend, and you get back $4 for every $3 at maturity.

The farm needs reserves just like our armies in the field. By buying War Bonds, you provide reserves of tanks and guns and planes for our boys today, while building reserves of cash for your own use tomorrow.

With bumper crops on every hand, we owe our boys and Uncle Sam a bumper crop of War Bonds. And we owe it to ourselves to save money against the uncertainties of the future, to re-equip our farms with and more efficient machinery, to repair, rebuild and refurnish our homes. Best of it is . . . we can do both! Let's

- 5 REASONS FOR INCREASING YOUR WAR BOND PURCHASES
1. The tempo of this war is hitting its highest point. Government expenditures for war are at the peak. MORE MONEY IS NEEDED . . . NOW!
 2. In proportion to WHO HAS THE MOST MONEY individuals are not buying their share of War Bonds. America must correct this situation.
 3. War Bonds provide the farmer and rancher with the financial reserve he must have to survive the ordinary ups and downs of farming as a business.
 4. Money will be needed urgently at a future date to replace and repair farm equipment, machinery and buildings. War Bonds will provide it.
 5. War Bonds are the safest investment in the world, return a good rate of interest, are easy and convenient to buy . . . from bank, post office, mail carrier or Production Credit Association.

46 Boy Scouts Attending Camp From Eastland

Forty-six Eastland Boy Scouts from Troops 6 and 103 left Wednesday morning for Camp Billy Gibbons in San Saba County for a week or two weeks of outdoor life.

About half the boys will stay one week, and the remainder for two weeks, Scoutmasters said.

Going with the boys were Scoutmasters Bill Jessop of Troop 6 and J. F. Collins of Troop 103.

The boys attending the Comanche Trail Council camp this year will have added facilities in the form of a large roofed open-air pavilion, built with funds contributed by men and firms in the council interested in scouting.

The pavilion has a walled-in headquarters office and canteen at one end. The remainder of the 30x80 foot structure has a concrete floor and substantial roof, but no walls.

Main purpose of the structure, said W. B. Pickens in a brief talk to Eastland Lions Tuesday, is to furnish a place in which Scouts can have recreation during rainy or extremely hot weather.

Thirty donations of $100 each provided funds for the pavilion and a sick bay, which it not yet completed. Of the $3000 thus raised,

Miss Childress Is Bride Of Lieutenant

Miss Helen Childress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Childress of Muleshoe, was married June 28 to Lt. W. G. Marquardt of Austin at the Centenary Methodist Church in St. Louis, Mo., by Rev. Charles M. Crowe. Mrs. Marquardt is a graduate of TSCW, Denton, and Lieutenant Marquardt of the University of Texas. The bride is a former resident of Eastland, having served as assistant county home demonstrator three years ago.

MISS STUBBLEFIELD, SGT. SCHREINER, WED SATURDAY IN CARBON CHURCH IN CANDLELIGHT NUPTIAL CEREMONY

In a candlelight ceremony last Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Carbon Methodist Church, Miss Rae June Stubblefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claud G. Stubblefield, became the bride of Sgt. Glen S. Schreiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Schreiner of Cape Girardeau, Mo. Candles were lighted by the bride's cousins, Misses Georgann Allen and Tony Gilbert, as the pre-nuptial music was given by another cousin, Miss Frances Stubblefield. She also accompanied Mrs. Joe C. Jagers, who sang "Always" and played "Ava Maria" as background music while the double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Seba Kirkpatrick.

The improvised altar was formed with fern and interspersed with baskets of white gladioli, flanked by standards bearing tall white tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gray linen suit, with black accessories. She carried a white prayer book topped with gardenias and a cascade of white satin streamers. For her "something old" she wore a miniature cameo, the first gift from her father to her mother; her "something new" was a fine linen handkerchief brought by the bridegroom from Germany; her "something borrowed" was the prayer book.

Mrs. F. R. Haile of Austin was her cousin's only attendant. She wore a crepe dress of tomato red and a shoulder corsage of white gardenias. The bride's mother was dressed in a blue crepe costume with a corsage of white gardenias. They, too, carried hand-made handkerchiefs presented them by the bridegroom. F. R. Haile of Austin served as best man.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the Stubblefield home. The bride's table, laid with an exquisite banquet cloth, was centered with an arrangement of white blossoms, and at the end of the table the three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, was surrounded by a wreath of sweet peas. Assisting with the serving were Mesdames C. S. Williams, H. E. C. Morogne, C. M. Allen and Miss Clara Hutchins, all aunts of the bride. Mrs. J. S. Craddock, Jr. presided at the registry.

After a short wedding trip the couple left for Cape Girardeau, St. Louis and Chicago. For her going away costume, the bride wore a green faille suit with white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

Mrs. Schreiner is a graduate of the University of Texas and taught in the Orange Public Schools the past year. Sergeant Schreiner attended Central Wesleyan University and Cape Girardeau College in Missouri. He returned in June from combat service in Germany and Czechoslovakia, and will be stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C. after August 1.

In Automatic Refrigerators it is

THE MAGIC FLAME that makes the difference!

- CONSTANT COLD No stopping and starting of refrigeration cycle!
- TROUBLE FREE No moving parts to wear and need replacing!
- LOWEST OPERATING COST Takes little natural gas to run!
- LONG LIFE Parts that do not move do not wear out!
- SILENT No moving parts to make noise!

The gas refrigerator is basically different from all other automatic refrigerators. A tiny gas flame does all the work. Keep this fact in mind when buying that new automatic refrigerator after the war.

With this simpler refrigerating method, there's nothing to wear—nothing to get noisy—nothing to need fixing.

Wartime is proving the value of this silent, trouble-free performance. With repair men hard to get, owners are happy they chose a gas refrigerator.

So, You Can't Buy Another Bond

Take a good look at this American soldier as he lies in the mud of Rendova Island in the Southwest Pacific, victim of a Jap air raid. It is not a pleasant scene, is it? When you are asked to buy an extra War Bond to Back the Attack think of this picture of your fellow American blasted by the concussion of a Jap bomb thousands of miles from home. FARMERS TO BENEFIT from new telephone developments

The telephone company is preparing a wide-range program to extend and improve farm telephone service. The goal is to bring telephone service to the greatest possible number of farm families.

Before the war, new devices and methods to serve rural areas were being tested and developed. Among them are stronger wire that takes fewer poles, a new type of wire to bury underground, a way to send telephone conversations over electric power lines, and possibly a radiotelephone system to reach out-lying regions.

Just as soon as the war permits, we'll be hard at work on the farm job. It's not a new job—nearly 400,000 farm families have had telephones put in since 1940. But there's room for many more, and room for improvement. We're exploring every means of making farm telephone service better and easier to get.

Fat-Salvage Bee To Aid in Licking National Fat Shortage

It's been ages since we had an old-fashioned "bee" in these parts, but just as we've always pitched in to help a neighbor, so must we pitch in for our country. To help make hundreds of battlefield and home-front es- sentials, more used fats are needed than are on hand. City folks are trying to make up the deficit of over 1,200,000,000 pounds. But their fats aren't enough.

Women in small cities, towns and rural districts must also save every drop of fat. Not just big amounts. But scraps of plates, meat trimmings. Melt them down once a week. Your butcher will give you up to 4¢ and 2 red points a pound. If you have any difficulty, call Home Demonstration or County Agent.

Approved by WFA and OPA. Paid for by Industry.

Hunt Directs Service Department Of McGraw Motor Company Eastland Dodge-Plymouth Dealership Gets Manufacturer's Official Sanction

McGraw Motor Company is repairing jobs at a reasonable rate, despite the labor and parts shortage. Ocie Hunt, veteran automobile repairman and assistant manager of the firm, in charge of the department, said that the company who need automobiles have been nice and we were held up for course there have been a few who couldn't see why we didn't have an extra mechanic standing around waiting to do their job right then." Hunt said that of all the labor shortages in this war, one of the most acute has been that of automobile mechanics. This is so for several reasons—automobile mechanics have the mechanical know-how to do vital war work of various kinds; they have been inducted into the armed services in great numbers; those who have gone into other fields have not been replaced by young men because the young men were in service or war work. Because of all this, Hunt said, the smaller car repair shops over the country have had a hard time—but have done an amazingly efficient job, on the whole, of keeping John Public's car going. Hunt, born in Eastland County at Ranger, came to live in Eastland in 1914 and has worked in automobile agencies here since 1920, with the exception of two years, 1942 and 1943, when he was an instructor at the Camp Normoyle, San Antonio, Automotive Maintenance School of the Army. There he taught officers, including WACs, the ABCs of automobile repairs and maintenance. He joined the McGraw firm last April. Hunt is married and has one daughter.

Official announcement is being made this week that the McGraw Motor Company, 116 East Main Street, Eastland, has been appointed Dodge-Plymouth direct factory dealer for Eastland County. L. E. "Mac" McGraw, owner of the automobile agency, said that although his firm has been operating some time, the official announcement had been delayed while he obtained and prepared a suitable building.

McGraw Says He'll Get You New Car Soon As Possible

Although he has been approached by Eastland residents who want to put up a deposit on a new 1945 automobile, he is not in a position to take the money now, L. E. (Mac) McGraw, owner of the McGraw Motor Company, said this week.

McGraw's firm this week is being announced as official Dodge-Plymouth dealer for Eastland County.

"We won't be able to take deposits on new cars from the general public until we can see some hope of getting the cars in the fairly near future," McGraw said. "We just can't see any such hope now, I am very sorry to say."

He pointed out that the 241,000 1945 passenger cars to be manufactured will take care only of the most essential drivers, and that the present outlook for the car manufacturing schedule for the first quarter of 1946 is not much brighter.

"Most present cars have been on the roads five years or longer, and are running on borrowed time," he said. "It is just too bad that we can't promise new cars just around the corner—but all we do is sell them, not make them."

McGraw said the next best thing to a new car is for present owners to keep their cars on the road until new ones can be had by the general public.

Texas was fifth in the production of regular wheat flour during 1944.

McGraw, formerly an automobile dealer in Winters, came to Eastland in August of last year to put in an agency here. Unable at once to obtain a suitable building, he operated out of a filling station on South Seaman Street until December, when he moved to the present location.

Since then, the building has been worked over and particular attention paid to building up a parts department.

McGraw also has specialized in buying and selling used government trucks and surplus parts and equipment.

Assistant manager of the firm in charge of the service department is Ocie Hunt, veteran Eastland automobile man.

McGraw, born in Alabama, moved to El Paso in 1918 and worked in banks there until 1928. He became associated with one of the leading automobile manufacturers in that year, and in 1940 entered the retail automobile business with an agency at Winters.

In Winters, he was president of the Chamber of Commerce and vice-president of the Winters Country Club.

For a year and a half he was a member of the Texas State Guard, and was staff sergeant and company clerk of Company A, 11th Battalion.

He is a member of the Masonic Lodge and of the Baptist Church. Mr. and Mrs. McGraw live at 811 West Commerce Street.

If the earth did not rotate on its axis the sun would rise and set but once during the year.

The windiest point in the United States is on top of Mt. Washington in New Hampshire.

The guayule rubber plant may become a rival to cotton in Texas as the big cash income crop.

L. E. (MAC) McGRAW, Owner

Eastland's new Direct Factory Dodge-Plymouth Dealership, conveniently located in its new headquarters at 116 East Main Street, is equipped to provide all Eastland County with a complete sales and service headquarters.

I am happy to announce the appointment of McGraw Motor Company as Direct Factory Dodge-Plymouth Dealer in Eastland.

This community was formerly an Associate Dealer point and under our new setup we have the enlarged responsibilities of serving the whole county.

I have been in the auto business more than 14 years, 12 years as a wholesale representative with one of the big auto factories, and two years as a dealer in Winters, Texas.

With this background I am fully aware of a dealer's responsibilities to owners to keep your cars and trucks rolling in the best condition.

McGraw Motor Company has already established its place in the community. Conveniently located at 116 East Main Street, my new headquarters offers service facilities complete in every detail, including steam cleaner, valve refacer, motor tune-up machines, brake relining machine and welding equipment.

The service department is under the personal management of Ocie Hunt, who has had 25 years mechanical experience, mostly in this immediate area.

A complete line of factory-engineered parts and a full line of motor assemblies is being maintained for Dodge and Plymouth Cars and Dodge Job-Rated Trucks.

Our dealership is designed to provide all Eastland County with a complete Transportation Headquarters when new Dodge and Plymouth Passenger Cars are produced once more.

Meanwhile Dodge Job-Rated Trucks,

beginning with the handy half-ton pickup models, are available for civilians. See us now about your present and future truck requirements.

Until We Can Sell You A New Car, Let Us Keep Your Present
Automobile Rolling!

Despite the fact that we are generally short of help and stacked up on repair jobs, the automotive agencies of Eastland feel it is our duty to keep before the public the fact that you must keep your present cars in repair if you want to make them last until new ones can be bought.
Cars are being scrapped at the rate of 4,000 a day in the United States—don't let it happen to you! If your car needs repairs, we'll try to fix it—and the sooner the better for you!

McGRAW MOTOR COMPANY

IS PROUD TO BE OFFICIALLY APPOINTED AS

DODGE-PLYMOUTH DEALERS

FOR EASTLAND COUNTY

- THE ANNOUNCEMENT HAS BEEN DELAYED FOR SOME WHILE, BECAUSE OF THE ORIGINAL DIFFICULTY OF SECURING A SUITABLE BUILDING, AND LATER DELAYS IN REPAIRS AND RENOVATION.

- BUT WE ARE ALL SET TO GO NOW, AND BELIEVE WE CAN GIVE YOU TOP SERVICE IN REPAIRS TO KEEP YOUR CAR ROLLING UNTIL YOU CAN GET A NEW ONE.

L. E. (Mac) McGRAW
Owner
McGRAW MOTOR COMPANY

TO THE PEOPLE OF EASTLAND WHO HAVE BEEN SO KIND TO US
IN OUR NEW BUSINESS, WE SAY

THANK YOU

AND URGE YOU TO COME BACK TO SEE US AT ANY TIME!

- OUR SERVICE DEPARTMENT IS HEADED BY OUR ASSISTANT MANAGER, THE GENIAL AND VERY CAPABLE

- WE STAND BACK OF OUR CAR REPAIRS!

NO NEW CARS YET!

How soon will it be before you can deliver me a new Dodge? This is a question asked us several times a day. We wish we could make deliveries now, but from all indications it will be several months yet before the average citizen will be able to purchase that new car that he and his family have been planning on for the past three years.

Passenger car production for 1941 totaled 3,750,000 units, which averaged about ninety-four cars per dealer throughout the United States, while the authorized production through March of 1946 totals only 691,000 units. This is an average of only fifteen cars per dealer for the country as a whole. Smaller dealers, while being allotted their fair share of the total production, naturally will be allotted fewer cars than larger dealers; we anticipate receiving our fair share of the production of our manufacturer, but we know it will be limited and sales can only be made to the most essential users, on certificates.

Since the possibilities of being able to purchase a new car are so indefinite you owe it to yourself and your country to keep the car you now own in the best operating condition.
