Dancing School In Prospect For Eastland Youth

There is a possibility of a dancing school for the young folk of Eastland, right here at home. Mothers who are interested in their sons and daughters having instruction in dancing were asked to call at the Legion Hall Thursday afternoon any time between 1 and 5 o'clock and talk with Cecil Rudloff, teacher, from Abilene.

Mr. Rudloff hopes to be able to establish a school here and begin teaching by the 26th. He has taught in Coleman, has done USO shows, and the past year studied in Los Angeles and Hollywood.

If he can get a school started here, he will offer class and private instruction in tap, aerobic and ballroom dancing. He mentioned the fact that ballroom dancing is not as formal as the word sounds. He teaches all the gracious old dances as well as the very modern.

Here And There With The Mavericks

BY JOHN JACKSON

After having an open date last week the Eastland Mavericks are in tip top shape to meet the Hamilton Bulldogs in the final windup of the 1945 conference season. The Mavericks plan repeating the victory that they tallied up two weeks ago. The Eastland ball club really went to town against Comanche and hope to do as well against Hamilton. The Bulldogs probably will be stronger than the Indians were but the Mavericks have improved in the last two weeks of practice. The Mavericks haven't a chance at the District Crown now, but by beating the Bulldogs they will finish near the top. The game should be a good one even though Eastland holds a margin over the Hamilton bunch. The Mavericks have a better record than the Bulldogs but lots of times this makes no difference when a team really wants to win. As most of you probably know Eastland and Hamilton play for the District 10-A Championship in 1944 and it was a very close game ending up 6-0 in favor of the District Champions, the Eastland Mavericks. The game will be played here at home on Welch Field and this will be another matter in favor of the home team. The game will be at 2:30 p. m. this afternoon (Friday). A fairly large crowd is expected and if the fair weather continues the stadium should be filled to capacity.

The Doggies or the Mavericks "B" team played the Olden Hornets yesterday afternoon at Olden. They have been working hard this week in preparation for the game. It is their first real game of the season and they were really up into the air over it. They won't be able to suit out against Hamilton so they will get a chance to see what the Mavericks look like to the grandstand if they want to, but I imagine most of the future Mavericks will prefer to sit on the bench with their fellow teammates.

Since we haven't said anything about it before and the season is about to wind up, I would like to take this opportunity to talk a little about this seasons Mavericks team. The team has rolled up a pretty good record for itself and still have a couple of games in which to improve it. The Eastland team has kept its opponents to low scores while rolling up a pretty high total for themselves. The Mavericks have marked up 126 points up to this date and their opponents have been kept down to 47 points. This is a mighty good percentage and Eastland has scored in every game except the two ties which ended up in 0-0, stalemates. They have won 3, tied 2, and lost 2 games this season. The seven games and their scores were as follows:

Eastland 7	Mineral Wells 20
Eastland 12	Winters 0
Eastland 0	Ranger 0
Eastland 0	De Leon 0
Eastland 46	Gorman 0
Eastland 13	Dublin 14
Eastland 48	Comanche 13
Total 126	47

Every team Eastland has lost to or tied has been a close one and the Mavericks haven't been run over a time and furthermore they don't plan to start getting run over this late in the season.

One thing that is essential in a good ball club is teamwork. They have worked together as one from the time they go on the field until they go off, whether it is a game, or just a practice. The 126 points were made by 9 different individuals on the team which is quite unusual. The high scorer for the team is Johnny Hicks with 37 points. Running him a close race is Gene Young with 30 points. The others and their points are: Crossley-12; Hart-12; Brasher-11; Poe-6; Collier-6; Matthews-6; and Blair-6. I think this is a mighty fine record and that is in brief a review of what the team has done this season.

NEW PASTOR

The Rev. John Wesley Ford, newly appointed pastor of the Eastland Methodist church, moved with his family to Eastland this weekend has assumed his duties here.

New Pastor For Local Methodist Church Is Here

The Rev. and Mrs. John Wesley Ford and three daughters, Mary, Rebecca and Barbara, moved into the Methodist parsonage this week. They came to Eastland from Cleveland, where the Rev. Ford has been pastor of the Cleveland Methodist church for the past year, and has been a minister in the Texas Conference for 15 years.

During his short stay at Cleveland, the Rev. Ford has accomplished much. He has been instrumental in increasing the attendance of the Sunday Schoolsome 22 percent. He has taught the men's Bible Class and has sponsored church suppers.

During the year he has conducted a $9,800 financial program. Money from the total sum went to Christian Service, the Crusade for Christ, for World Service, for orphans, church hospitals, and to Len Morris College at Jacksonville.

Perhaps the greatest good accomplishment by the Rev. Ford is the rebuilding expansion program. Under his direction and backed by his enthusiasm, a committee has made estimates and presented to the church conference, blue prints of the proposed educational annex to the church.

He began the Methodist Fellowship Hour, attended by all ages, immediately preceding the evening service each Sunday night. Along with a revival last summer, he sponsored a Program of Church Loyalty, which increased the attendance at both Sunday services.

He worked with both the Lions and the Rotarians in Cleveland and was on the Rotary Scout committee.

Mrs. Ford has worked in WSCS and taught in the children's department the vacation Bible school and has taught an adult class this fall.

Curtis Hertig Tells Lions Of Schools Finances

Aubrey Van Hoy will have charge of the Lion club program for the next Tuesday's meeting while the program for the following Tuesday will be in charge of Robert Vaughan.

TRAFFIC ERROR

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UP) — Walter Rannels, a truck driver from Denver, Col., learned his traffic lesson the hard way. He allegedly attempted to pass a second truck on a hill south of here, and an oncoming car had to take to the ditch to avoid a collision. Driver of the ditched car turned out to be State Highway Patrolman R. D. Karpinski. Rannels was fined $50, with half the amount suspended.

Has Record Of 75 Hand Pieced Quilts In 3 Years

Seventy-five hand pieced quilts in three and a half years. That is the record Mrs. J. H. Hallaran, 128 West Tucker street, Fort Worth has set. Mrs. Hallaran is a sister of Miss Cecilia Haas and Mrs. J. H. Cheatham of Eastland. The family has teased her about the quilt making, but it is her hobby, and it has proved to be a wonderfully helpful one to the Red Cross. The San Jose Missionary Society, the Catholic Hope and other organizations in Fort Worth for Mrs. Hallaran has donated her quilts to all of them.

She has donated 75 hand pieced, hand quilted quilts to the home service department of the Red Cross. Besides making quilts for the organizations mentioned, she has made quilts for her home, for her children and grandchildren. She says she has probably made 500 quilts in her time. She uses the smallest of pieces, never wasting any. The 75 donated to the Red Cross were made from materials gotten from that organization, or friends. The crazy quilt pattern is a favorite with her and most of the baby quilts, which are 44 inches square are made that way. She has made some very elaborate designs though, such as Texas Star, log cabin, and flower garden.

Mrs. Hallaran has many interests besides quilt making. She plays bridge and rummy and reads Pop Boone's sport column. She is a football fan and also likes ring baseball games. In fact it seems she likes life and is ever on the alert for something new.

TO ASK UNO MACHINERY TO PROTECT ATOMIC USE

WASHINGTON (UP) — The atomic powers today offered to share all their secrets with the rest of the world as soon as "effective enforceable safeguards" can be established internationally against the atomic bomb. In the meantime, however, they will keep the secret of how to make the bombs.

The United States, Great Britain, and Canada, in the persons of President Truman, Prime Minister Clement Attlee and Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, announced their decision in a joint statement following five days of discussions.

They recommended, however, ultimate world exchange of all knowledge pertaining to peaceful uses of atomic energy as soon as the necessary safeguards can be set up through the United Nations Organization.

The three leaders proposed that a commission be created immediately under the UNO which would recommend means of forever preventing use of atomic energy for destruction.

The commission would make proposals not only for elimination of atomic weapons from the world's armaments but also for outlawing "all other major weapons adaptable to mass destruction."

INDIA-BURMA REDEPLOYMENT EXPECTED TO BE OVER JAN. 1

CALCUTTA (UP) — Thousands of American men and women of the United States forces stationed at various places in the India-Burma and China theaters—at one time a single theater of operations and the largest in World War II—are today converging on the ports of Karachi and Calcutta on their way home. Their tasks well done, they arrive by plane and rail at the ports of embarkation, begrimmed and dirty but singularly happy. Many of them have traveled thousands of miles to reach the replacement depots at Camp Malir (Karachi) and Camp Kancharpara (Calcutta).

It is officially estimated that 100,000 men either will be on the way home or awaiting shipment at the depots by the end of November. An additional 26,000 will have been airborne over the Hump from the China theater. In December, however, men leaving China will move out through the port of Shanghai.

Troops at present are being transported to the East Coast—New York, Boston, or Hampton Roads—in vessels with capacities of either 3,000 or 5,000. While the trip takes 26 days from Calcutta it is five days shorter from Karachi.

Only a relatively few will go home by air. These lucky ones will ride the ATC airline from Karachi to Abadan, Cairo, Tripoli, Casablanca, with their destination either Miami or New York.

It is expected that the major number of the installations in Burma and Assam will be cleared out by the end of November. New Delhi headquarters, Base Section headquarters in Calcutta, a number of Karachi, meanwhile, will continue to be the main points of concentration of American troops.

Point scores for casualties will continue to drop as the clearing-out process continues. It is estimated that by the end of the year or soon thereafter, the great bulk of troop will have departed. The few remaining will be low-point men handling surplus property disposal or other necessary operations preparatory to closing out American operations in India.

Only about three hours elapses from the time homeward-bound GI's detruck at the processing area until they're assigned to areas to await alerting for the ride to the docks. Which speaks volumes for the system the U. S. Army Transportation Corps has evolved here. How long GI's remain in the replacement depots depends, of course, on the backlog which piles up between ships.

Upon arrival a GI's orders are checked, his points verified. He's tagged for water or air transportation. He's asked whether he intends to stay in the Army. If he says yes, his orders home send him to a reception center, where he's again processed to continue his Army career. If his answer is in the negative, his orders call for direct transportation from the home port to a separation center. This separation center is one nearest his hometown.

The men are entitled to get a full or partial payment. Very few avail themselves of this opportunity, for they all want to draw their money when they hit the East Coast in order that they may indulge in the celebration spree they have dreamed of for so long.

A show-down inspection... a clothing issue... and the processing is finished.

Cel. John N. Hazzer of Newton, N. C., is commanding officer of the Replacement Service which handles these departures. The Camp Malir depot is under the command of Lt. Col. Franklin S. Pruyn, Jr., of Baton Rouge, La., while Camp Kancharpara is commanded by Col. Edgar W. Rughelmer of Charleston, S. C.

The speed and efficiency which highlights this mammoth task of repatriation is a tribute to the officers and men who are handling this intricate and complex task.

Has President's Name Before He Is President

AUSTIN, Tex., (UP) — Probably the only man in United States history to be given the name of a president 21 years before the president took office is ex-Marine Corporal Harry Truman Crozier.

A veteran of the Bougainville and Guam campaigns, young Crozier was tagged "Kelly" while an infant by his father, Harry Bengue Crozier, chairman-director of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission.

And by "Kelly" the ex-Marine has gone most of his life. Selection of his name and nickname came about through unusual family channels.

Both mother and father were opposed to "Junior" as a name when the young man was born in Dallas 21 years ago. Neither had heard of Harry S. Truman of Missouri. The mother wanted one name; the father another.

By compromise they chose Harry from the father's name and Truman, the mother's middle name, six months later, Mrs. Crozier was crooning that old song which went "Has anybody here seen Kelly?"

That's when the father tacked Kelly on the blue-eyed baby and it stuck.

Young Crozier, now a University of Texas student, was graduated in 1942 from Highland Park High School, Dallas, and attended Texas A. & M. College one semester before enlisting in the Marines. He was wounded in the Guam campaign and for 15 months received treatment in Navy hospitals before being discharged.

Making Things Fun New Crafts Publication

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (UP) — A recently announced publication by Chris H. Groeneman, professor of industrial education at Texas A. & M. College, and Miss Susan E. Boehmer, special handicraft supervisor in Cleveland, Ohio, is "Making Things Fun."

This is the first of a series devoted to development of creative handicraft in elementary schools from the third through the eighth grades. The first book contains 96 pages of instructional material, designs, patterns, and photographs of interesting projects in cardboard, wood, paper mache, metal foil, clay, and potato and stick printing.

All of the materials included have been used successfully by Miss Boehmer in the Cleveland elementary schools. The authors also prepared a teachers manual to accompany the book.

Otto Langelene, a student at A. & M. College, illustrated the text and J. E. Clark of the A. & M. staff made the photographs. The response to the first book has been so great from many states that the authors are attempting to complete the entire series within a year. The book is printed by F. C. Company, Austin.

Urges Memorial For Cuban Poet

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (UP) — Officials are considering a former Dominican diplomat's proposal for erection of a monument to the Cuban bard who sang "Niagara's praises during the first quarter of the 19th century.

Persio C. Franco, former charge d'affaires of the Dominican Republic in Washington, urged that a bust of the poet, Jose Maria Heredia, be erected facing the cataraacts on a site known as Heredia Park. Heredia, Franco explained, is known throughout South America for his ode "Al Niagara."

Franco told Robert L. Rice, Sr., chairman of the Niagara State Parks Commission, that if the park were donated by New York State, it would be maintained by the Cuban or Dominican governments.

Franco also suggested international ties might ultimately be strengthened by the establishment here of a Fan-American library containing representative writings from all American countries.

Early Married Life Rugged But Pair Do Make It

FORT WORTH, Tex. (P) -- The married life of Al and Harriet might well serve as a guide for others.

Both quick tempered, their life together was a series of disagreements. They bickered more often than newlyweds should have. Their home life was in the balance. But the couple grew to know each other better, to get along together.

"You won't find a happier pair than those two chimpanzees." In their four years at the Forest Park Zoo, Al and Harriet have appeared before some 300,000 spectators.

Nearly eight years old, the chimpanzees have already lived three years longer than their specie ordinarily does in captivity.

Support the Victory Bond campaign and you will aid in the peace.

Hickman of the State Supreme Court will be the principal speaker. Both of these gentlemen are ex-residents of Erath County and have been intimate friends of Dean Davis for many years.

Dean Davis came to Tarleton shortly after the first World War, and under his guidance and direction the school grew from a student body of 321 students and 24 teachers to over 1800 students and 80 faculty members in the years immediately preceding the last great conflict. No other man has served as long as administrative head of a state college. At sixty-five, he is still regarded as one of the most forward thinkers of this section, and will continue as a teacher in the Stephenville institution.

HOTEL TO END JUMP FROM LOBBY TO 7

DALLAS, Tex., (UP) -- Guests at the Hotel Adolphus who long were amazed at the odd system of numbering floors are to get relief as part of a $2,000,000 projected remodeling program. For years guests entering elevators from the lobby have been whisked to the next floor--the seventh, as the sub-basement is numbered 1, the basement 2, the kitchen 3, the coffee shop 4, the lobby 5, the mezzanine 6, and the second floor 7.

Richard Nash, hotel manager, says the floors under the new plan will be correctly marked, except for elimination of floor 13, which haunts superstitious guests.

Carriers help speed Long Distance

A big help in our job of providing urgently needed long distance circuits is a device called a "carrier."

Resembling somewhat the equipment inside your radio, carriers send or "carry" several long distance calls over one pair of wires at the same time.

By installing carriers as fast as they're available, we're trying to provide as many new circuits as we can, as quickly as we can, to handle today's heavy load of long distance calls. Meanwhile, if any of your calls are delayed, we know you'll understand why.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

It used to be that when you owned a dog, you just owned the dog and that was all there was to it. Of course, you had to see that the animal was a good dog and water and received all the best services. That was in the days when life was simple.

Now, even as old established a custom as owning a dog has become almost unbelievably complicated.

Of course, if you live in a city, you have to pay a dog tax—on the dog, of course. And before you can pay the tax, you have to have the dog inoculated against rabies. And the veterinarian suggests also that it would be a good idea to have the dog immunized against distemper.

All of these things cost money—not much separately but still they add up. Like they used to say about a Model T, "It's not the original cost but it's the upkeep; out of these cars will two-bit you to death."

Then there is the problem of food for the dog. In the old days, you fed your dog scraps and of course some meat—but there is a meat shortage, of which you've no doubt heard.

Someone suggested that we feed Bessie some prepared food. Upon opening the package, we found that the contents looked like pieces of brown cardboard. The directions said to soak in warm water, which was done with considerable misgivings, but to our amazement, Bessie ate this with much gusto and began to grow taller and heavier.

And as she grew, she became playful and energetic. Fox terriers are generally conceded to be the liveliest of all dogs; Bessie is hereby placed in nomination as the liveliest of all fox terriers.

Of course, she had to have a place to romp and run—so that meant fencing in the back yard. Of course, we had been intending to build a fence for a long time (so we said). The fence has now been built at a cost of $77.50.

Say, those friends that gave us the dog, do you suppose they were friends?

Some excellent thoughts, compactly expressed, are these by Dol-Vee Davis Smith, former poet laureate of Texas:

The more a man knows about himself
The less he says about the other fellow.

There's always a way—find it!
I am no bigger than the smallest thing that stirs my soul to wrath.

Opportunity may knock, but I must open the door.

Goshen county, Wyo., was top in the nation last year for the amount of grasshopper poison bait spread. A total of 850 tons of the bait was spread over fields, and more than 70 per cent of the area considered necessary to cover was treated.

Worth and Wyatt A. Watson of Los Angeles.

A number of nieces and nephews also survive including, Mrs. Mamie Ruth Hamrick of Ranger, Finis Langston of Dallas formerly of Ranger and Mrs. J. B. Miles of Anadora, Oklahoma, formerly of Ranger.

Ranger stores were closed from 3:00 to 4:00 o'clock, the hour of the services.

More than 250,000 persons are engaged in raising, handling and selling flowers in the United States.

The winter of 1886-87 was one of the worst in Wyoming history. More than 80 per cent of the range cattle were wiped out.

In 3-Way Parley Over 'Hot Potato'

"Hot potato" among international questions is what to do with the atom bomb. Heads of the three nations that share the secret will try to thresh it out when President Truman, Britain's Prime Minister Clement Attlee, left, above, and Canada's Prime Minister Mackenzie King, right, meet in Washington.
