

Gib Sandefer Aims At Congress Post In Coming Voting

Gib Sandefer, rancher, lecturer and former business manager of athletics at Hardin-Simmons University, and for years manager of that institution's world famous Cowboy Band, has announced his candidacy for Congress from the 17th district, and is planning an intensive campaign throughout the district prior to the Democratic primaries July 27.

Sandefer, known throughout the world as "That Fellowship Man of Texas," doesn't make any claims of being a great statesman, nor does he have any designs for reforming Congress or the world.

"My friends have been after me for several months to make this campaign," Sandefer said in announcing his formal entry into the campaign for Congressman Sam Russell's seat in the House of Representatives of the nation's Congress.

"I think I know the people of West Texas, and if elected to Congress I'll go there as their representative and will work for their best interests, and will work, first and last, for the welfare of the district I represent.

"Like my good friend, the late Will Rogers once said, I have never met a man I didn't like, and I don't expect to meet one I don't like during the forthcoming campaign. Regardless of what the verdict may be on July 27, I'm looking forward to have a little fellowship with the voters of this district during the next few months.

"And if the voters of this district think I can best represent them in Congress, I'll go up there and have a little fellowship with the boys in Washington; tell them about the needs and problems of the people of my district, and of the possibilities for future growth and development of this great section of our state."

Sandefer, a son of the late Dr. Jefferson Davis Sandefer, president of Hardin-Simmons University for 31 years, and of Mrs. Sandefer, virtually grew upon the campus of the institution his father headed for almost one third of a century. Following graduation in 1927, Sandefer remained to assist his father in the development of the institution into one of the leading schools of West Texas.

In the years that followed Sandefer was business manager of the school's athletic program and as such was able to bring nationwide recognition to Hardin-Simmons University. He also was manager of the colorful Cowboy Band. The band toured 12 foreign countries on three continents, travelling some 500,000 miles spreading the tradition of the Texas cowboy in music and spirit.

During World War II Sandefer served as representative of the American Red Cross in far-flung combat areas of the global conflict, in Africa, Italy and in the China-Burma-India theater. Sandefer took his "fellowship" right to the end of the Ledo road and learned that war at its worst or best is hell on earth. It was while serving with American and Allied troops in the muck and mire of the Burma campaign that he became even more convinced that only through world fellowship and a more thorough understanding of the other man's problems and way of life can the future peace of the world be assured.

After returning to this country, following overseas service, Sandefer made a 42-state tour for the War Advertising Council in behalf of the American Red Cross. In recent months he has continued to further his worldwide fellowship and educational ideas as a speaker for the National Dinner Clubs and the Associated Club Network, of which the Knife and Fork Club is a part.

Speaking of the forthcoming campaign, Sandefer said, "It's going to be a pleasure to do business with the voters of the 17th district and I am looking forward to having a little fellowship with the people encompassed in these 12 counties."

Sandefer presents a concise, yet comprehensive platform for the consideration of the people of the 17th district. It follows:

For GI Joe and his sister Jane —The help and encouragement of a grateful country, in every way that can be accomplished. For the war's disabled: All they need, at whatever the cost.

For the farmer and stockman— A legislative program geared to their needs, responsive to their wishes, and guided by their advice and consent, administered as far as possible by the farmers and stockmen themselves through boards representing their local or regional interests.

For the small business man — Recognition as the mainstay of the American system, assistance and encouragement whenever he needs it, protection against the powerful forces that would destroy his existence, and a minimum of governmental interference in the conduct of his business.

For national defense— An adequate and alert military establishment, backed by continuing research and experimentation, officered and manned by professional soldiers paid a decent wage, given an equal break in privileges, and made to feel that their career is as honorable as it is ancient.

Foreign affairs— The principle of the Golden Rule, extended to all nations, all-out cooperation with peace-loving peoples who desire only the rights of mankind and the enjoyment of peace and plenty.

Labor— Maintenance of the principles of collective bargaining, with a sharing of responsibility by labor, industry and government; the promotion of live-and-let-live attitude between capital and labor, with the rights of the public to be recognized and protected.

Oil— Continuance of the practice of conservation through cooperation of state and federal government, and the protection of the interests of the producer, landowner and consumer — which in the long run are identical.

Private enterprise — Government's chief concern should be to serve as umpire, to protect the young and the weak against the strong, the honest from the dishonest, and the good from the bad— with as little governmental control and regulation as possible.

CONGRESS CANDIDATES DIFFER ON UNIONS

The hottest issue in the Congressional race is the regulation of the labor unions. It is "hot" because a candidate faces the bitter and underhanded opposition of the war-wealthy unions if he takes one side, and the wrath of the plain citizens who are being hurt if he takes the other. Either way, he will lose votes.

It is interesting to see how our Congressional candidates differ in the way they have met this issue—in their willingness to take a definite stand on one side or the other, and in the stand they have taken, if any. Six of the eight candidates have so far published their platforms, and here is what each chose to put in print concerning his views on the labor unions (in alphabetical order):

BLANTON
I am for the repeal of the National Labor Relations Act, which has put the working man and the whole country at the mercy of a handful of professional union racketeers, whose lust for power knows no bounds.

I am against the closed shop, as a denial of the fundamental American freedom to work, and as an instrument of oppression in the hands of the unscrupulous.

I am against picketing for the same reason.

I am for requiring strict accounting for union funds.

I am for making unions responsible for their contracts.

I am for making union officials subject to the anti-racketeering and anti-trust laws, from which they are now exempt.

I am for requiring the democratic control of unions by the rank and file of on-the-job members. The lack of democracy within unions lies at the root of all our labor troubles.

I am against creating any more tribunals to decide labor disputes. We already have too many boards and commissions. What we need are fair laws for our present courts to enforce.

BRADBURY
Strikes cannot be stopped by loud talking or political speeches. Intelligence and courage are needed. When I go to Congress I will not be the representative of the labor unions as such, or of industry, but of all the people no matter what their occupation or profession.

BURLESON
Burleson's eleven point platform doesn't mention labor unions.

HERRING
If elected, I will do my utmost . . . to establish between Labor and Management a permanent and sound basis for settling disputes.

granting full and enforceable justice to the grievances of either party, possibly by the establishment by law of an unbiased Arbitration Court of qualified and well-paid judges, whose decisions would be backed by proper and just law.

SANDEFER
Labor—Maintenance of the principles of collective bargaining, with a sharing of responsibility by labor, industry and the government; the promotion of live-and-let-live attitude between capital and labor, with the rights of the public to be recognized and protected.

WAGSTAFF
Labor has the right to organize and bargain collectively and to strike if necessary. In all industrial disputes there should be a compulsory cooling off period, and Federal mediation should be employed before any strike is permitted to begin. The principles of the Railway Mediation Act have proven to be successful in preventing strikes and the provisions of this law should be extended to all industries. (Pol. Adv.)

USES Will Give Information About Work On Farms

Displaced war workers and veterans applying for jobs at the Eastland office of the United States Employment Service will now be able to get job information about agricultural work as well as non-agricultural jobs through a cooperative agreement between the USES and the State Extension Service, Hollis Bennett, USES local office manager, and J. M. Cooper, Eastland County agent, have announced.

"This plan has been worked out to help the Extension Service replace the emergency workers who have withdrawn from the labor force—aged men, women, youths and prisoners of war—with experienced agricultural workers released from war plants and the armed services just as rapidly as such workers become available," Bennett said.

Under previous arrangements, the placement opportunities for agricultural employment was not adequately known to the USES, Bennett said, and workers interested in agricultural openings were merely referred to the office of the county agent for further information, without knowing whether or not specific jobs were available for them when they got there.

"To remedy this situation, a plan has been worked out whereby the office of the State Extension Service will furnish the local USES office with a written list of current agricultural job openings taken from our orders on file," Cooper said. The list will contain the number of workers needed, their occupational classifications and sufficient information concerning employer specifications to enable USES interviewers to make proper selection and referral.

"The employment service will refer those applicants for agricultural openings meeting the job requirements specified to the county agent's office," Bennett said, "if the referral card returned to USES by the county agent shows that the applicant referred is a claimant for either unemployment compensation benefits or readjustment allowances, the USES will notify the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission of these facts."

BARBECUE GIVEN FOR INSURANCE PERSONNEL

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Jones of 1209 South Seaman entertained the Abilene district personnel of the American National Insurance Company with a chicken barbecue at the City Park last Saturday evening. Those attending included: J. C. Patterson, superintendent of the district, Mrs. Patterson and daughter Lona Sue, of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Landers and daughters, Janice and Joyce, of Breckenridge, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Casstevens of Stephenville, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Rainwater, Maxie and Willis, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams and Betty Jo, of Ranger.

Culberson Again Seeking Railroad Commission Post

OLIN CULBERSON

Olin Culberson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, this week announced his candidacy for a second term as railroad commissioner, basing his candidacy on his record of economical administration, his hard fight to conserve the Texas natural gas supply, and his consistent drive for the removal of the freight rate discrimination against Texas farmers, fruit and vegetable growers, ranchers and other producers.

"I have carried out my pledges to follow the 'open door' policy of honesty and friendliness in the Commission's Austin office, have abolished favoritism in Railroad Commission oil-gas regulation, truck, bus, rail and utility matters and have vigorously fought every attempt of Federal Control of oil and gas in Texas," said Culberson.

"But the fight to make of the Texas Railroad Commission what Jim Hogg conceived it should be when he battled the 'special interests' to create the commission has just started. Governor Hogg saw it as guardian of the people's rights and the public wealth. Olin Culberson sees the commission's duty in that same light today. The economic structure of our state is founded largely on our great oil industry and our natural resources must not be squandered now but must be conserved for the welfare of future generations as well as for the benefit of the present.

"One of the prime projects of my first term has been to stop the waste of gas. I have also worked to check the heedless and unrestricted exportation of our natural gas into states having cheap coal. I am most proud of my record on the score."

"Culberson said his greatest single achievement was his steadfast refusal to agree in 1941 to put into effect at once a six per cent increase on railroad freight rates on intrastate business ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission. All 47 other states did put the increase into effect, costing their people plenty by doing so. A year passed during which time Culberson still argued and delayed the installation of the six per cent hike in freight rates in Texas, and then the Interstate Commerce Commission suspended their order. The saving to Texas shippers was approximately $5,000,000.

Culberson, nearing 60 and a veteran of World War I, was born in Coryell County. As a young man he worked in the Katy Railroad yard at Hillsboro as a switchman. He is the first railroad man to ever be elected railroad commissioner.

Recent Bride Given Affair In Abilene

The employees of the West Texas Utilities Company of Abilene entertained in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Newman, Abilene, with a gift tea Wednesday evening, honoring Mrs. J. E. Davis, Jr., recent bride. The house was decorated throughout with gladiolas and queen anns lace. The table was laid with a lace cloth, and centered with an arrangement of gardenias in a crystal bowl, white candles in crystal holders were arranged on each side of the centerpiece.

Fruit punch was served to 60 guests, who registered in the white satin bride's book.

Mrs. Newman will be remembered in Eastland as the former Miss Verba Cee Jackson. Mrs. Claude Maynard of Eastland, mother of Mrs. Davis, attended the tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Hart spent Sunday in Seymour visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hart.

WHO IS BRYAN BRADBURY?

Bryan Bradbury is a candidate for Congress. For those of you who are not acquainted with him his friends invite your attention to the following.

Bryan Bradbury was born in Brown County, Texas in 1912.

He was reared in a country newspaper shop and also worked in the harvest fields. He graduated from the Abilene High School but was financially unable to attend college at that time. He worked in a print shop during the day and studied law at night. He was admitted to the practice of law in 1934.

In 1934 he was elected to the Texas Legislature and served three terms. During this time he was a member of several important committees and chairman of one. He advocated legislation to aid the rural schools, child welfare, rural libraries, old age assistance, and other bills for the benefit of the people. He was the leader in the fight to abolish discrimination in freight rates which will ultimately mean a large saving to the farmers and ranchers of the Southwest.

As time permitted he attended McMurry College and the University of Texas.

He served more than two years in the Navy.

He is married and has one child.

He is a member of the Baptist Church and several civic organizations and has contributed much to his community.

The friends of Bryan Bradbury recommend him highly. He has always had to work hard for everything he has accomplished and we believe that in this great land of ours, you will want to help this man as he tries to climb higher.

Off to a Good Start . . .

. . . is the latest report we have from the Eastland Quarter-back Club. This is a new organization composed of members of all ages representing every phase of our social, business and professional life. Its sponsors, mostly young men just out of service, have in mind doing a lot of constructive things for the community. And they are already hard at work and getting the job done. This group deserves, and should have, the full cooperation and support of our entire citizenship.

LADY NEARLY CHOKED WHILE LYING IN BED—DUE TO STOMACH GAS

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. Had to prop herself up on pillows. Recently this lady got INNER-AID and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly.

INNER-AID contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores here in Eastland County. (Adv.)

Describing the food outlook in a recent broadcast, Clinton Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture, reported "every indication that the world food shortage will continue until the 1947 harvest."
