EHS SENIORS PRESENT PLAY JUNE MAD

BY T. WARDEN

The Seniors of 1946 have scored a hit. The play, June Mad, is a Samuel French creation which has proved itself on the stage in national contests. On the screen as a hit show, starring Jane Withers and Jackie Cooper, and on the radio with Elizabeth Taylor, Lon McAllister and Walter Brennan. The story is the story of almost any family which has growing children and understanding parents. The story is of the Wood family and their daughter Penny's troubles. It is the story of how a red blooded American boy, filled with ambition, makes a stab at success and in the attempt, achieves fame for himself and a close devotion to his father.

The characters of June Mad are Penny Wood, portrayed very well by Dorothy Sue Wright; Chuck Harris, portrayed by Bill Brasher, so that he will not fail to capture your love; Dr. Wood, a good, understanding father, excellently portrayed by John Jackson; Mrs. Wood, portrayed by Lydia Hassell; Roger Van Vleck, New York heart-throb, portrayed splendidly by Bill Eddleman; G. Mervyn Roberts professionally done by Dan Collie Effie, the maid, portrayed by Lynn Walker; Elmer Tuttle, portrayed by Jim Tom Warden; Milly Lou, the stinker, Paula Duncan; Mr. Harris portrayed by Charles Layton; Julie Harris, done by Emily Jean Grisham; Ralph and Shipley Wentworth, portrayed charmingly by Charles Lucas and Roseann Richter. The cast is skillfully directed by Mrs. H. H. Durham. The cast is assisted by Harold Everett stage manager; Dora Dean Hooper properties and prompter; and Juanita Hagar, prompter.

The cast was picked in tryouts from some twenty-five students by very competent judges, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Frost, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Frances and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Freysehlag. Some of the fathers of the class have put in much time on the set along with the students and Miss Johnson. Mr. Hassell and Mr. J. W. Jackson have spent much time painting and building flats, stairways, and French doors. The set is luxurious.

Many of the stage properties will be furnished by Willy Willys Furniture Mart so the set will be very proper.

The play will be the first play in high school to have a two night run so all must get tickets early if you wish to see this production.

Tickets are now on sale by agents, and at the school. Tickets will also be on sale at the auditorium on the night of the play. The price will be $4.00 for adults $3.00 for high school students, and $2.00 for Junior High and Ward School students. The play opens the 25th and closes the 26th.

If you wish to have some genuine entertainment of human emotion, love, and happiness mixed with hilarious comedy, don't miss June Mad.

Minister, After 41 Years, Returns To Preach Here

The following is from the Gospel Trumpet, official organ of the Church of God and published at Anderson, Indiana. It was written by the publication's editor, E. E. Brown, and brought to the Chronicle office by J. W. Hore of Eastland.

The brethren in Texas invited me to preach on doctrinal subjects in their meeting, March 12-14. I was glad to accept their invitation and found great joy and blessing in their fellowship. It was a thrill for me to return to Eastland, as the last time I preached there was forty-one years ago. The town has greatly changed since then. Back in those days it was a small, struggling community, and now it is a large, modern, progressive, western town with fine buildings and a general air of prosperity. Best of all to me was the sight of the wonderful growth of the church in that country. Dozens of ministers and gospel workers swarmed in, so numerous that they left me in a daze, as I did not know half of them. It gave me a kind of pang in my heart to realize that among all the multitudes of workers and preachers at the meeting there was not one whom I had known in that town forty-one years ago. Nevertheless I met several old friends in the gospel work. Among them were E. C. Lee and son Hyman, L. V. Morrison, L. Y. Jones, Leslie L. Gaylord, W. E. Hallock, Robert E. Bowden, T. E. Howard, M. B. Boucher, J. T. Wilson and many others. In addition Brother Dawson and Brother Wolfgram from Anderson were present.

One of the most inspiring things about the meeting was the number of consecrated young men and women who were so keenly in earnest about getting the gospel to the world.

C. E. Brown.

The SPORT TIDE

By Col. Don Brasher

The battered features and sundry injuries you are seeing these days are not the results of a second front here in Eastland. They are only a result of the spring football season. Coaches Little and Harvey were greeted by sixty candidates and that smile they are wearing these days bodes ill for our opponents next fall. The chances for a district championship were materially strengthened by the decision of Joe Neil Poe to return next year. Poe is a smart, aggressive player and is at his best when the going is tough. The boys have started scrimmaging and now is a good time to get a preview of next year's conference champions. Practice is being held in the field back of the grammar school and the public is cordially invited. The following boys answered to the call of the pipskin:

BLANTON SETS FORTH HIS OPINION ON TWO ISSUES

In making his announcement for Congress in this newspaper some weeks ago William W. Blanton reserved the right to make a formal statement later regarding his candidacy. Following is that statement:

To the People of the 17th Congressional District:
The next Congress, in which I hope to represent you, will have before it two matters of such great importance as to overshadow all others. One will be the problem of how to avoid another war. The other will be the great overall issue as to whether we will keep or surrender our personal freedom. Each of these matters involves concrete issues upon which no candidate for Congress should be allowed to remain silent or to play both sides.

I. PEACE OR WAR

I believe there would have been no World War I and no World War II, if the United States had been prepared for them. I believe that disarmament and unpreparedness by the United States will be the surest invitation to World War III and that if we are caught unprepared again in an atomic age it will be our finish. I believe that our only sure way to prevent war is to be prepared for it.
I am for the American Legion plan for compulsory military training.
I am for ending the un-American cage system, as the greatest cause of poor morale, poor discipline and poor living conditions among enlisted men, and as the greatest obstacle in the way of voluntary enlistment.

WILLIAM W. BLANTON

William W. Blanton, above, candidate for congress from this, the 17th, district makes statement on his candidacy.

I am for ending waste, idleness, and social pursuits as outstanding characteristics of our armed forces.

I am for showing no mercy in getting rid of weak, ignorant, lazy, stupid, corrupt, or unpatriotic officers, especially senior officers possessing one or more of those qualities.
I am for giving the armed forces what they need to do their job and for constant vigilance to see to it that they are the up-to-date hard-working fighting machine we are paying for and must have.

II. FREEDOM OR OPPRESSION

Our personal freedom is today threatened by a vast federal bureaucracy, which has saddled itself upon us and seeks to perpetuate and extend itself at our expense and to control us at every turn.
It is also threatened by the dictatorial labor union, which has lost its role of protecting the weak from the strong, and has become the exploiter and oppressor of all.
I hold personal freedom to be the greatest political good, and arbitrary power of man over man to be the greatest political evil.

FEDERAL BUREAUCRACY
I am for radical reduction of the oppressive federal bureaucracy and its powers.
I am against paying slick rascals big salaries to come down here from New York and tell us what to do.
I am against bureau-made law.
I am against kangaroo administrative tribunals.
I am against government interference with business except to prevent monopolies and corrupt practices which are beyond control of the States.
I am against their plan to take eight percent of our earnings and to make us put our name on the sick book and stand in line to wait for whatever doctor they want us to have when we get sick.
I am against the bid for federal control of our schools, using federal aid tweducation as a bait.

LABOR UNIONS

I am for the repeal of the National Labor Relations act, which has put the working man and the whole country at the mercy of a handful of professional union racketeers, whose lust for power knows no bounds.
I am against the closed shop, as a denial of the fundamental American freedom to work, and as an instrument of oppression in the hands of the unscrupulous.
I am against picketing for the same reason.
I am for requiring strict accounting for union funds.
I am for making unions responsible on their contracts.
I am for making union officials subject to the antiracketeering they are now exempt.
I am for requiring the democratic control of unions by the rank and file of on-the-job members.
The lack of democracy within unions lies at the root of all our labor troubles.
I am against creating any more tribunals to decide labor disputes. We already have too many boards and commissions. What we need are fair laws for our present courts to enforce.

Cuts of the great legislative bureau needs a Congress in Washington. It needs an experienced GI who will give the bureaucrats a jolt when the veteran about getting their rights. It needs a man who knows Congress and Washington like a book who won't have to stay up there two years before he gets started.
It needs a Congressman with enough education, experience and sound judgement to fight the cleverest opponent, and with enough courage to fight the most determined. It needs a Congressman who isn't afraid to say what he thinks.

William W. Blanton

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE
"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 21.

The Golden Text is: "If any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous; and he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for our's only, but also for the sins of the whole world." (1 John 2:1,2).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson - Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And all things came of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given us to the ministry of reconciliation" (II Corinthians 5:18).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving man a truer sense of Love, the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings, and this truer sense of Love redeems man from the law of matter, sin, and death by the law of Spirit—the law of divine Love" (page 19).

The Smoke that Showed... the way the wind would blow

STREAMERS of black smoke pouring from the funnel-shaped stacks of the Texas and Pacific trains trailed across the hills and prairies of the Southwest during the early 1870's. It was prophetic smoke... it showed the way the wind of destiny blew... it was a harbinger foretelling the coming greatness of this vast area. For the coming of the Texas and Pacific brought with it the opportunity for economic and industrial progress and linked the Southwest with the markets of the nation and the world. Yes, the railroad helped make possible the development of the Southwest's mighty resources and gave impetus to the growth of towns and cities along its route. This year the Texas and Pacific celebrates its Diamond Jubilee... 75 years of service to the great Southwest. As always, its purpose is to provide fast, dependable rail service for industry... to give its passengers comfortable, safe, swift transportation. Today the Southwest stands on the threshold of a new era of industrial development and again the Texas and Pacific points the way the wind will blow... it is geared to set the pace for even greater growth, greater progress and greater prosperity for the Southwest.

PACIFIC CENSOR EAGER TO RETURN WAR - IMPOUNDED SNAPS AND MOVIES

By GEORGE McCADDEEN
United Press Staff Correspondent
HONOLULU (UP) — More than 1,000,000 censored pictures and 300,000 feet of movies — a photo history of the Pacific War, lie unclaimed in an Army warehouse here and await forwarding to survivors or surviving kin throughout the U. S.
The same military agency that was quick to confiscate seemingly innocent snapshots during war now is anxious to return them because it realizes many of these pictures will become priceless souvenirs of the war era to their owners.
But unless service personnel and war workers or surviving kin in virtually every city, town and hamlet in the nation claim their pictures in the next few months, they will be turned over to the War Department for ultimate destruction.

According to Maj. J. W. A. Whitehorse of Bellville, N. J., in charge of censor's photo files, this vast collection includes some 55,000 packages of still film for which there are no forwarding addresses; another 1,500 packages of still pictures that were returned because of improper addresses; and another 6,000 packages of movie film.
Whitehorse also is holding a large number of diaries, some written on embattled island beachheads where their writers died after penning a few last hurried endearments to loved ones.

Whitehorse vigorously emphasized the fact, however, that surviving kin of men killed in battle in the Pacific should not enquire unless they have proof or reasonable assurance that a fallen relative had pictures impounded here. Demobilization has cut Whitehorse's staff so drastically that it cannot handle reams of correspondence, he explained.
Since censorship was an Army function during the war here, the collection includes pictures taken by Navy and Marine personnel as well as Army and civilians.
Inquiries should be addressed to OFFICE OF THE CHIEF CENSOR, AFMIDPAC, APO 958, c-o Postmaster, San Francisco, Cal.
When film or prints were inter-coded, or turned in, a receipt stub was issued. Personnel holding these stubs will get fast action if they will send them in with proper forwarding addresses, Whitehorse promised. Survivors of battle casualties may find these stubs among the personal effects sent to them by the War Department from its huge personal effects depot at Kansas City, Mo. Receipt of these effects should be awaited. In the absence of a stub, personnel may write a note with their signature, Whitehorse said.
Army officials are puzzled over failure of once eager photographers to claim their pictures. They believe that in the rush to normalcy, soldiers, sailors, Marines, Wacs, Waves, Spars, USO workers, Red Cross personnel, war correspondents and other civilians have forgotten pictures they took on Waikiki Beach, on Army and Navy posts, or on desolate mid-Pacific islands.
A United Press correspondent, thumbing through some pictures in the huge collection, found pictures from points as distant as India, from where personnel had transferred to Hawaii and mid-Pacific commands. There are thousands of the usual snapshot variety — two sailors posing on a beach, or a soldier furtively embracing a professional Hawaiian hula girl model at so much a picture. Or men mugging in bathing suits. And still other men of an aircrew standing beside the B-24 Liberator bomber "Liberty Belle," at a jungle airstrip, as taken (and unclaimed) by Sgt. Edward C. Cozod, whose last address was 1494 E. 17th St., Cleveland, O.
Civilians such as Frank A. Ferrara, last known at 21 Bay 37th St., Brooklyn, may have wondered why his pictures were picked up, anyway. Whitehorse explained that the backgrounds caused most of the trouble. Anxious to include

Circus Comes To Frankfurt, Germany

War-wrought misery may be the key note in Frankfurt, Germany, but spring has added its note to the picture in the form of the "Big Top". Young and old alike turn out to see the circus, and with bombed and shelled buildings serving as an arena, they watch the tightrope walkers go through their acts. This huge crowd is taking advantage of the chance to forget the devastation surrounding them and enjoy a touch of spring. (NEA Telephoto by Emil Reynolds, Staff Photographer.)

What Changes a Few Years Can Bring
... especially in prices and values on homes, business properties, and other commodities we classify as housing facilities. In 1933, for example the average 5 and 6 room modern home, including lot, cost $3,820.00. The same home in 1940 cost $5009.00, while today, if you could get material to build, the price would be $7,197.00. (Figures taken from government statistics). And the improved properties as well as personal properties are up in the same proportion. Are you insured on 1933 values or 1946 values?

Locomotive Power---1831 and 1946

THE "JOHN BULL," made in England, was one of the first locomotives used in America. It weighed 10 tons, sometimes ran as fast as 15 miles an hour.

STEAM TURBINE LOCOMOTIVE with direct drive is the newest "iron horse" in the Pennsylvania Railroad stable of nearly 5,000 locomotives. First of its kind ever built, it may revolutionize steam locomotive design. It travels 100 miles an hour with ease, develops 6,900 horsepower and weighs about 500 tons.

STREAMLINED BEAUTY—The "T-1"—multi-cylindered steam passenger locomotive is another masterpiece created out of the 100 years of experience and research of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Of 50 of these giants ordered by P.R.R., about half are already in service between Harrisburg, Pa., and Chicago.

India's 389,000,000 people—more than three times our population—are crowded into an area a little more than half as large as the U. S. This is divided into 11 provinces of British India and 562 Indian States, self-governed under treaty with the British Crown. The future status of their ruling princes is an important factor in current independence parleys. Sixty-eight per cent of Indians are Hindus, 22 per cent Moslems and the rest of a wide variety of creeds. Hindus and Moslems both want independence but differ violently over its form.

Moslem League threatening civil war unless it gets its way, wants India divided into two independent states, one for Hindus, one for Moslems. Latter, called Pakistan, would comprise these states in northwest, plus Bengal in the east.

He prepared a feast for Jesus in his house, and a great company of publicans and others were there. People reputed to be religious were outraged by such a scene, and they complained to the disciples, "Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners?"

How the Friends of Jesus Responded

Scripture: Mark 1:16-20; 5:18-20; 10:46, 52; Luke 5:27-28

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
A MODERN hymn-writer has written: "I've found a Friend, O such a Friend; He loved me ere I knew Him; He drew me with the cords of love, And thus He bound me to Him."

That was precisely what happened among the first disciples, as they responded to the friendship of Jesus, and heard His call. Fishermen left their nets as He invited them to become fishers of men. Levi, renamed Matthew, a publican (that is, a Roman tax-gatherer), despised for his work by many in the community, left his government job when Jesus said, "Follow me." His name is honored in the first book of our New Testament.

HOW many of us "good" religious people would react differently today, if the unrecognized Christ came into a modern community and attended a party with many persons of bad reputation? It is a common maxim that "a man is known by the company he keeps," but that isn't always a good criterion. What an answer Jesus gave to His "respectable" critics! "They that are whole need not a physician, but they that are sick." He never implied that the publicans were better than the Pharisees. As a matter of fact, among the strict sect of the Pharisees were many fine and earnest people. What Jesus did imply was that the publicans needed Him most.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE MOUSE

For years, I have broken out into a sweat when the dentist began drilling on one of my teeth—but recently, he drilled and I smiled sweetly.

Traveling over Texas: Bluebonnets seem earlier than usual this year; saw my first ones just north of Ennis on April 2.

the trees looked as though they were sprinkled with snow... Approaching Jacksonville, plumes of smoke hovering over a valley at twilight; they came from burning sawdust piles and were held low by the damp air; fresh sawdust burning has a fragrance all of its own.

South of Alto, the Neches was in semi-flood and a house on stilts was surrounded by water. Seated on the porch was an old negro, unconcernedly reading a newspaper.

PROGRESS BY EMBARRASSMENT

The Russian government seems to have been embarrassed by the UN Security Council's consideration of the Russo-German controversy. So Russia, through her obedient friend and neighbor, Poland, apparently is trying to embarrass the United States and Britain by calling attention again to the continued existence of the Franco government in Spain.

Russia's attempt will probably be successful. During the war the two allied western democracies played along with Franco for understandable reasons of expediency. Since those reasons have become invalid, they have known their dislike of the Franco government by a half-hearted and ineffective invitation to the Spanish people to turn out the Falangist clique.

Meanwhile Russia, France and others have pressed for stronger measures. Now things are coming to a head, as they were bound to. A possible result is that the United Nations may be able to establish a precedent as to what constitutes a threat to world peace and what constitutes interference in a nation's internal politics.

There are proven charges against Franco. He gained and held his power with the military help of the Axis. He was a fawning admirer of Hitler and Mussolini, and gave them considerable aid in World War II. He had modeled his government along Axis lines, and is running a dictatorship of a cruel and repressive sort.

But does that make Franco a menace to world peace? Should the United Nations take active steps to remove him even though the Spanish people, given a free election might astound the world by voting him continuance in power, as the Argentine voters did Peron?

There is good reason to answer yes to both those questions. The Spain of Francisco Franco is a menace to world peace because, so long as it remains, the fight against the Axis is not ended. World War II was a war between hostile, incompatible ideologies, even though we seem to have forgotten that today. It was a war to rid the world of the barbarian Hitler and his barbarous ideas of race and government.

But those ideas still flourish in Madrid. And so long as they do, Spanish soil is a dangerously fertile ground for the unfinished ideological war to break out again.

Franco Spain also merits some punishment by the victorious United Nations as an active, if feeble, Axis partner. Spain's collaboration cost Allied lives and delayed victory. Her "neutrality" may have been as much of an asset to Hitler as Italy's belligerency was a liability.

These are all familiar facts, but they must be faced. And when they are faced and acted upon, there are many more trouble spots in the world which must be dealt with before peace becomes a comfortable reality.

CAPT. JENKINS' DIARY...

Nov. 22 — Very cold last night, high wind and a light dash of snow—the first of the season.
Nov. 26 — Eddy, Annie, Miss Cotton, Roy and myself went peccan hunting, had a nice time—got 1-4 bushel.
Dec. 1 — Last night between 11 and 12 o'clock a fire broke out in frame store and dwelling of W. H. Townsend. The wind blowing a perfect gale and no water on hand, in 20 minutes the building and contents were a heap of ashes. A vacant lot saved the rest of the buildings on the square. As there was no lamp in the store and no fire in the stove, the impression is that it was an incendiary attempt to burn out the whole square. Insurance on house and store $3,000.
Dec. 11 — Hillen Simons today killed three pole cats on the Leon.
Dec. 12 — The long drought ended today.
1892 —
Jan. 4, 1892 — Today Briggs Owen caught a large wild cat. It weighed 35 pounds.
Jan. 12 — The weather has been very cold for several days, but this morning was the coldest of the season. Ice on tanks and ponds 1 inch thick. Cattle dying and grass all gone.

Jan. 13 — Ice this morning 3 1-2 inches thick. Freezing all day.
Jan. 18 — Snow today.
Jan. Sunday — Ed Simmons went cattle hunting today — found no cattle, but with his dogs caught four rabbits.
Feb. 8 — Davis sold out his cotton gin to parties in Olden and will put in a livery stable.
Feb. 12 — Hillen Simons caught last week seven rabbits with his dogs.
Sept. 13 — Little Kasalie Simmons, 2 years old, got hold of a bottle of Chloroform and came near dying from the effects of the poison.
Oct. 10 — No rain for the last two months and things begin to look squally. No wheat planted—corn crop short—cotton good but no money in it. It is always too wet or too dry to plow.
Nov. 3 — Today it looks as if he drought has set in for a month or two more.
Nov. 4 — Old man Owens struck water in his well at 80 feet. Today the water is standing 40 feet deep.
Nov. 4 — John Townsend shot two ducks at the town tank.
Nov. 4 — On account of the long drought, the town marshal has turned all the hoes loose to hunt for water.
Nov. 4 — Mrs. E. D. Downtain, while riding in her buggy with Miss Irene Shannon, was badly hurt. The horses were frightened and ran off. Miss Irene was not hurt.
Nov. 7 — Charley Simmons shot

9 ducks, 4 quail and 1 jack rabbit.
Nov. 10 — Another very cold norther — no rain and the cattle are suffering for grass and water.
Nov. 10 — Mrs. Ed Townsend arrived home from a visit to her mother and the Fair in Dallas. She had a good time.
Nov. 15 — Eclipse of the moon — almost total. The next day a very cold norther and high winds.
Nov. 18 — Ice 1-4 inch thick and getting colder. Cattle and horses bound to suffer.
Feb. 28 — This morning at 1-2 past ten o'clock, W. H. Townsend, Ollie and Fay left for their new home in Llano. We hope they will have a safe trip, be pleased with their new neighbors and have no cause to regret the move.

March 2 — The first martins arrived in town today at 1-2 past ten o'clock and went back to report.
March 3 — Ed Townsend sold his house and lot to Mr. Moore for $600 — really worth $800.
March 5 — Ed Townsend moved over to our house today and will look around for a new house.
March 8 — A very cold norther struck our town this morning.
March 16 — More rain and sleet and wind in the northwest and everybody out of wood as usual in cold weather.
March 17 — Very cold and snowing. The wind has been north for 4 days and a lot of old-cows will die this week.
March 18 — Hillen and his dogs caught 2 mule eared rabbits and 5 cotton tails.
March 28 — Ed Townsend hauled his first load of plank for April 5 — Today Ed and C. H. Simmons commenced putting up his house. They expect to finish it this week if nothing happens.

Now... no wheat used in beer or ale

And wheat alone can solve the problem of feeding the world's hungry

Actually wheat has never been a large item in the brewing process—only 10,000 of the entire U. S. wheat crop was used in 1945:

In accordance with United States Government policy, the brewing industry has used no wheat whatever since March 1, 1946.

OTHER MATERIALS CUT 30%

The other grains used have been reduced by 30%—that is, to 70% of the 1945 amount.

Wheat alone can solve the problem of feeding the hungry. The grains to which the industry is now restricted, are of a variety and grade not normally consumed by the people of the world as food.

LESS BEER AND ALE

Altogether, the brewing industry is using 30% less materials than in 1945. This results in a proportionately lower production. But since the current demand for beer and ale is about 25% greater than a year ago, the real shortage is nearer 50%.

Consequently, your dealer will not be able to supply you with all the beer and ale you would like. We know you will understand the reason for this.

Your attention is earnestly directed to the recommendations of President Truman's Famine Emergency Committee, which are summarized in the box below.

This statement tells in clear, simple terms what each of us individually can do to help during the emergency.

What the President's Famine Emergency Committee asks us all to do

1. Save and share wheat and fat products . . . Go light on all foods that take wheat, fats and oils—save breads, macaroni, cakes, cookies, pastries and deep-fried foods. Use drippings for pan-frying. Save salad oil—use boiled dressings.
2. Buy and serve more plentiful foods . . . Balance diets with the more plentiful foods, such as potatoes, fresh fruits and vegetables.
3. Waste NO food . . . Dress up today's leftovers for tomorrow. Make every crust count with melba toast, crumb-toppings, bread puddings and stuffings. Take no more than you can eat. Clean your plate. Turn in unusable fat salvage promptly.

Dividends of 5 per cent on the preferred stock and $2.50 per share on the common stock were paid during the year.

During 1945 the Company refinanced its General and Refunding Mortgage Bonds by the redemption of $40,756,000 of outstanding 6s and issuance of $39,000,000 of 3 7-8s. This reduction, together with purchases of other bonds, provision for payments at maturity, and discharge of equipment obligations, brought the total debt reduction during the year to $3,186,000. Since January 1, 1943, the company has reduced funded debt outstanding in the hands of the public $12,183,000 or 15.8 per cent, and annual interest charges $1,017,982, or 26.8 per cent.

Jap Shows How Airman Was Executed

Before a military tribunal at a war crimes trial in Yokohama, Japan, former Jap soldiers reenact the beheading of 2nd Lt. Darwin T. Emry, an American B-29 pilot from Denver, Colorado, which took place last May. The rope attached to the pole is designed to keep the flyer's head up while the executioner (with sword) does the actual beheading. Standing in the center at rear is Lt. cas and Reisor, Louisiana, to reduce curvature and increase speed of trains, and raising grade and changing alignment of main track near Jefferson Lake between Silver Lake and Grand Saline, Texas, to prevent interruption of traffic from high water, were under way at close of year.

Orders were placed in 1945 for 4 Diesel electric passenger locomotives, 48 light weight passenger train cars, 2 Diesel electric switching locomotives and 75 covered hopper cars, all costing approximately $6,462,000, for delivery in 1946. The 4 Diesel passenger locomotives and 48 light weight passenger train cars, on order, will provide for the operation of two passenger-car passenger trains between St. Louis, Memphis and El Paso, and two nine-car passenger trains between New Orleans and Fort Worth, connecting with the new trains there enroute to El Paso. The report states this new, modern equipment and improved schedules will more adequately meet the public needs.

123 additional industries were located on the line, of which 85 were tied into existing trackage and 38 on new tracks aggregating 6.9 miles in length. The average number of employees in the service during 1945 was 10,305 and the average annual wage paid per employe amounted to $2,594.

Californian Writes of His Trip Back To His Native State of Texas

By S. ED REYNOLDS

Editor's Note—In the first paragraphs of this article last week we made it read "The Morton Valley School grounds where I had spent much of my childhood" when it should have read "The Pleasant Valley School grounds where I had spent much of my childhood. In justice to Mr. Reynolds and for the information of our readers, we make this correction.

Before leaving the school subject I desire to mention the names of other teachers that I studied under at Pleasant Valley. The first teacher that I went to was a Mr. Marshall, who boarded with us, and because of the fact that I liked him so well, he talked mother into letting me go to school, in spite of the fact that I was quite a bit under school age, which was 7 at that time. He had built a pretty good school house at that time, perhaps early in 1886. The up to date furniture that I formerly mentioned, was installed about 1888; before that we used slat benches.

The next teacher that I went to was Mr. R. (Dick) Gray, formerly mentioned in the story. My brother George, who is 68 years of age, told me when I stopped over with them when coming down here that he distinctly remembers he and I being down near the school grounds when the Gray family camped there when first arriving in Pleasant Valley community, supposedly after being employed to teach our school. He said he would never forget his kindly spoken words, "Hello, little boys, I am your new school teacher," etc. George said Mr. Gray won his heart in the kind way he spoke and talked to us that day.

In later years I can hear his usual happy greeting of "Hay-o, Eddie" or whoever he happened to meet, which seemed to have more in it when he said it, than when others said it later, copying after him. I think the Lord prompted Mr. Jones to ask me to write this story just in order that I could bring out a few facts concerning the life of this most unusual and noble character, which was such a splendid example of Christian living at home and in school. He was a good man that did not cramp you with his pity. I remember staying over night with Noble Gray one time and after supper Mr. Gray got his violin out—something he seldom did—and played for us, and all at once he started playing a breakdown and jumped to his feet while continuing playing and began dancing, and Mrs. Gray began shaming him and saying "Oh, Richard, ain't you ashamed," and May, Maudie and Bessie saying "Pa, please stop, please quit it, pa," etc. while "pa" kept it up for some time, laughing all the while, seemingly just to entertain us children, and to show that he believed in making children happy as well as teaching them good morals; he really let down his hair that as I never saw him do it before or afterward, Mrs. Blanch Gray was a modest and lovable character, whose whole life was lived for her husband and family and her neighbors.

Before entering the cemetery, I noticed that there had been a better fence built around it, but upon entering I found many unkept graves, which, no doubt, is the result of the relatives and friends of those buried there moving away or themselves passing on; however, there were many graves that had lately been cleaned and renewed, including my own brother's and grandfather's grave. May God bless the kind hearted person or persons who did it. I noticed some graves that formerly were all kept, neglected. Mr. Eisenberg built a stone vault over his little son's grave when I was a small boy and it was so well built that it is just now crumbling at one corner. A stone mason could mend it with a little mortar, otherwise the stones may be removed for gravestones. There is a good sized cedar tree at the head of Mose Jones' grave that I remember seeing just after it was planted by his son, Monroe Jones and his Uncle Ike Kinard, when they were perhaps 10 or 12 years of age; they are now 66 and 68, respectively. The tree has two large bodies and I think would measure 15 feet from the ground to top, and has so much growth near the bottom that one can't get near some graves by it, including my Aunt Martha Ann Seaborn's grave is next south of that day. Next week we will visit my old home. A survey is being conducted this year in Wyoming by mobile X-ray units to determine the extent of tuberculosis in the state.

Prayer of the Trees Sometimes people wonder why prayers are not answered promptly or the reply is different from their expectations, although we have the assurance our prayers are heard by the angels and carried by them to God. The following story is symbolic: Three large trees stood in a dense forest one day they prayed, asked for what they desired to be converted into when felled. The first prayed to be a beautiful palace where kings and queens dwelt and visitors would come and gaze with awe. The second, to be a large ship, sail the seven seas and encircle the globe. The third wanted to stay in the forest, grow into the tallest tree there and always point a higher finger to God. One day the woodsmen came and chopped down the first tree and instead of a palace, it was made into a common stable but a virgin and her husband found shelter there and that night there was born the fairest babe in all creation and ever since men and angels have been singing the Glory to God in the Highest. Thirty years passed, the second tree was felled and made into a small ship, launched on the sea of Galilee; a tall young man stood on the deck of that ship and with a heart-warming smile told the multitude "I came that you might have life and enjoy it more abundantly." Soon the third tree was chopped down, the limbs were made into a cross and beastly men goaded on by devilish spirits, pinned His shoulders down and nailed that young man to the Cross—the loveliest personality that ever walked upon this earth—but ever since, that cross has been pointed to the road to Paradise, the road which is now open to all and the final station on that highway is God. People who have the influx of the Holy Spirit, knowing what has been done for them, have an ardent love for their Savior. The heart that has once met Jesus will never love another. Marvin Bauer

Should You Plant Seed Peanuts Treated With CRESAN or ARASAN

We offer the information outlined below for your consideration and believe it is of great importance to any grower of peanuts. You can easily verify these statements by writing the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, A & M College of Texas, College Station, Texas for their No. 943 Progress Report. The report is dated April 10, 1945 and all germination tests were made at the Stephenville Experiment Station, Stephenville, Texas.

- 1. Peanuts treated with CERESAN germinated 73.8% of a perfect stand.
  - 2. Peanuts treated with ARASAN germinated 49.2% of a perfect stand.
  - 3. Peanuts treated with SPERGON germinated 37.5% of a perfect stand.
  - 4. Untreated peanuts germinated 22.9% of a perfect stand.
- 1. Peanuts treated with 3 oz. of 2% Ceresan to each 100 lbs. of seed produced 25.9 bushels per acre.
  - 2. Peanuts treated with 2 oz. of ARASAN produced 19.4 bushels per acre.
  - 3. Untreated peanuts produced 10 bushels per acre.

The above germination averages were made over a period of 3 years, 1942, '43 and '44 while the bushel per acre tests were made only one year, however in each year the difference between Ceresan and Arasan showed to be 20% or more. In 1945, their tests showed 3 oz. of Ceresan secured 63% of a perfect stand; 2 oz. of Arasan 34.5% and 4 oz. Arasan per 100 lbs. 38.5% which still shows a difference of 24.5% and 28.5% in the two preparations.

"THOSE EXTRA BUSHELS COUNT" You must secure a good stand if you are to have a good yield. Don't take any more risk than you have to. The Stephenville Experiment Station has the time and is better able to conduct fair and impartial tests than you or anyone else. Their tests are not conducted to aid any one seller to sell its seed but to assist the farmer in every way to obtain the largest yield per acre possible with Arasan but we do sincerely believe that the best results will be obtained with Ceresan.

Little Things Soon Add Up to Big Things By having only 5 more seed germinate in each 100 planted, (not 20 as the tests show in the above) you will have from 2500 to 3000 more plants on each acre planted with 25 to 30 pounds of seed. Each pound of seed consists of 1800 to 3000 possible plants. The above percentages show that Ceresan treated seed produced 6 more bushels per acre, however, say there is only a difference of 2 bushels per acre. That is $4.50 or more per acre. Are you planting 20 ACRES, 50 ACRES or possibly 100 ACRES? Remember, with perfect planting conditions, any treatment will do O.K. but when you plant your crop and have the misfortune of hot, sultry, moist weather or warm rains, then you really need Ceresan for this preparation is at its best during adverse weather conditions. BUY your planting seed treated with 2% Ceresan—the treatment recommended by the Experiment Stations.

NEWS ITEM: You probably know that your peanuts will bring 90% of parity as of July 1st. of this year. Did you know that parity is advancing and on March 15th. 70% meat content peanuts would bring $2.31 per bushel, only 9c less than last year.

Examine our seed—they have proven dependable over the years. CASTLEBERRY FEED STORE EXCLUSIVE EASTLAND DEALER EASTLAND, TEXAS

London Dentist Makes It Easy By Hypnotism

LONDON (UP) — When the smiling dentist gently says "It won't hurt a bit," he means it. At least patients of "hypnotic dentist" Roy Norman Bragg of London assert they have found his dentistry without drugs completely painless.

Word of Bragg's hypnotic drillings spread through London last year. He said he had filled 1,000 teeth in the last 12 months without a single patient complaining of pain while under hypnosis.

Two women reporters volunteered as "guinea pigs" for a hypnotic session with the dentist at his Brixton Road office.

As Bragg spoke softly to the first patient, she relaxed, yawned and then apparently fell fast asleep as he repeatedly told her "you are very tired." The dentist then went to work and methodically drilled and filled a tooth in 15 minutes as his patient slept with open mouth.

At his brisk command, "You can wake up now," the reporter roused herself. She said she felt completely normal and had felt nothing.

The second reporter was hypnotized just as quickly. Bragg filled a cavity without a murmur from the sleeping woman. She was "amazed when he woke me up and told me he had filled my tooth."

The hypnotic dentist's name belies his extreme modesty over what he considers a matter-of-fact way of handling his work. His patients are contented ones—"just as long as it doesn't hurt."

Home Garden Peas, Served Quickly, of Top Quality

With Peas, "Garden Fresh" Means Not Over Two Hours from Picking.

Not only does the sugar in peas begin to turn to starch as soon as they are picked, but the skin toughens rapidly, and within an hour or two their quality has been materially lowered.

Only the home gardener can enjoy them at the peak of their tenderness and flavor, and he must take care to serve them "garden fresh." They are not one of the "efficient" crops, since only the seed is eaten, and for the space required to grow them the yield is small. They are a luxury crop, but how delightful!

Peas thrive in cool weather, and do best where the ground does not freeze deeply and can be prepared in early spring; or far enough north where summer is relatively cool. In sections where hot weather comes soon after the ground thaws out, only one crop can usually be grown, and that of the earliest varieties.

The best way to obtain two crops is to sow an early and a later dwarf variety at the same time. Where the spring season is long enough to allow tall peas to mature, a third crop can be obtained by sowing one of this type, which bears the largest size pods and gives the heaviest yield.

Soil well supplied with nitrogen is needed for peas; they should be planted soon after the ground has been prepared; and in new gardens it will pay to inoculate the seed with a culture which seedsman supply for the purpose, containing nitrogen-fixing bacteria.

Edible pod peas, varieties which are grown for their pods like snap beans, and are harvested before the seeds form, are well worth trying. Sow peas two inches deep and not closer than one inch apart in a single row; double rows, six inches apart, with brush or low fencing set between the rows for the vines to climb, are sometimes used. This arrangement requires weed pulling by hand between the rows. Even dwarf varieties appreciate something to climb, and the semi-tall and tall growing peas require support.

FRANCE GIVES DEATH PENALTY TO 3,644 FOR COLLABORATION

By Haynes Thompson United Press Staff Correspondent PARIS (UP) — Since the liberation of France, 3,644 French men have been sentenced to death for some form of collaboration during the occupation, French Ministry of Justice records reveal. The records, which include all trials from the liberation up to Feb. 15th also show that an additional 83,529 Frenchmen have received varying sentences other than the death penalty out of a total of 115,114 accused by French courts of collaboration.

Although 35,666 persons also have been sentenced to national indignity, 30,627 have been acquitted.

Collaboration trials in France are held by three courts which were created following the liberation and which are independent of normal civil and criminal court according to Justice officials.

Heading the three legal bodies is the High Court, which tries only ministers, generals, admirals and other high-ranking government officials accused of collaboration. Both the president of the High Court and its jurors must be members of the Constituent Assembly and there can be no appeal made from its decisions.

Next is the Court of Justice, which tries ordinary run-of-the-mill collaborators accused of denunciation spying or co-operating with the Nazis.

While both the High Court and the Court of Justice can—and often do—impose the death penalty, the third court, known as the Civic Chamber, handles relatively minor cases of collaboration.

Although the High Court sits only in Paris, courts of justice and civic chambers are located in important cities throughout France.

High Court statistics show a total of 108 Frenchmen have been accused by it, with 24 of them still being sought by police. Twenty-nine are in temporary liberty as a result of the court's decision, 6 are in complete liberty, 14 acquitted before standing trial, and 12 sentenced.

Three of the 12, French Fascist leader Marcel Deat, writer Abel Bonnard, and one-time Vichy Minister of Justice Maurice Gabolde, were tried in absentia since police have not yet caught them. All 3 were given death sentences.

Of the other nine receiving sentences by the High court, five were given the death penalty. Among them were such notorious Vichyites as Pierre Laval, Joseph Darnand and Henri Philippe Petain. Petain's death sentence was later commuted to life imprisonment, however.

A total of 37,537 Frenchmen have been sentenced by the Court of Justice. Among these, 3,636 were sentenced to death, 1,447 to life at hard labor, 8,702 to temporary hard labor, 1,596 to sentences exceeding five years, 16,421 up to five years, and 5,692 were acquitted.

Civic Chamber records show 35,666 persons have been sentenced to national indignity and 8,372 acquitted out of a total of 49,637 Frenchmen who have been brought before the court.

Better Bird House Sets Him In Business

NEWTON, Mass. (UP) — Donald B. Hyde of Newtonville made a hobby of building modernistic houses for pigeons—and built so well that his hobby became a business.

Hyde started designing bird houses to fit "the feathered one's personality" while recuperating at home from a lengthy illness. He found two basic flaws in the conventional bird house — lack of proper ventilation and view, and improper drainage. Any pigeon venturing within the confines of the dark, dank traditional backyard home was inviting pneumonia or its feathered equivalent.

So Hyde constructed his bird homes with glass sides which keep out the weather, let the birds see what's going on in the world, and act as a heating unit when the sun shines.

After building his first model home, the word got around to pigeon fanciers, and before Mr. Hyde could say Dr. Jekyll, there he was with a profitable business on his hands.

World-wide Food Shortage Causes Truman Appeal for Home Food Gardens Again

Because of the world-wide food scarcity, President Truman has called on Victory gardeners to continue in 1946 the home production of vegetables which added so much to the national food supply during the war.

The President's appeal will take many gardeners by surprise, and cause them to change their plans, if they had expected to convert their vegetable plots to flowers this spring. It is recognized that only a serious emergency would have caused the appeal.

Reports of reduced commercial production and higher costs have been widely current, and predictions of a curtailed pack of canned goods have been made. The President's appeal asks for both production and preserving of food by amateurs, just as during the war, in order to increase the country's total supply. Forty per cent of this total in war years was credited to Victory gardens.

Immediate steps to inaugurate a government campaign to back up the President's appeal were taken by Secretary Anderson, who named Paul C. Stark of Missouri director of the National Garden Program and head of a committee to plan the department of agriculture's participation in the campaign.

Mr. Stark will also maintain liaison with other agencies involved, both governmental and private. The program will be carried forward in the various localities by working through the State Extension Services and other established agencies.

Commenting on the plans for this year, the President said: "During the war period, gardening further demonstrated its value to our people in many ways. The splendid response to the appeal for more home-produced food was an important factor in making it possible during the war for the people of this country to be better fed than before the war while supplying the best-fighting forces in the world and providing essential food supplies to our allies. The threat of starvation in many parts of the world and the urgent need for food from this country emphasize the importance of continued effort to add to our total food supply this year."

"A continuing program of gardening will be of great benefit to our people. In addition to the contribution gardens make to better nutrition, their value in providing outdoor physical exercise, recreation and relaxation from the strain of modern life is widely recognized. The Department of Agriculture through a long-time garden program can do much to encourage more attractive home surroundings and improved community development; and can provide a large body of citizens with much needed assistance in home gardening."

Michigan Road Bids Up 30-50 Per Cent Over '41

LANSING, Mich. (UP) — The State of Michigan's postwar highway construction program will cost an estimated 30 to 50 per cent more than in 1941 on the basis of bids taken for the first eight projects.

Contracts are ready to let on the initial jobs as soon as they are approved by the federal Public Roads Administration which will match state funds.

Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler says the added cost of postwar projects reflects wartime increases in prices paid for materials and labor. He says the increased cost is not out of line and the state is prepared to absorb the added expense burden. Ziegler pointed out that in some other states, bids for postwar work have been as much as 75 per cent above 1941 estimates.

Michigan has a $78,000,000 three-year highway construction program ready. Approximately $26,000,000 worth of road improvement is scheduled for 1946.

Artificial breeding service for Holstein, Guernsey and Ayrshire dairy cattle is provided in nearly every agricultural county of New York State.

MITZ HELPING BLINDED VET TO GET DEGREE

BERKELEY, Cal. (UP) — George Durand, 19-year-old Marine blinded on Iwo Jima, was well on his way toward getting a college diploma today—thanks to Mitz, his seeing-eye dog, and the efforts of Mrs. Almer Newhall of the Berkeley Woman's City Club.

Durand was blinded by fragments from a mortar shell only two days before the bloody fighting on Iwo ended, and for awhile the youth felt certain he'd never be able to go to college.

But Durand got his first break when directors of the famous Seeing-eye Institute at Morristown, N. J., presented him with Mitz, a German Shepherd who has become his guide and friend.

Then, with an assist from the G. I. Bill of Rights, Durand enrolled at the University of California at Berkeley, choosing history for his major.

Jacobus ten Broek, a member of the public speaking department and himself blind, talked with Durand when he enrolled and then introduced him to Mrs. Newhall.

For more than five years, Mrs. Newhall has been helping blind students at the university, instructing in Braille—the language of the blind—and reading textbook homework assignments.

Each day, Mrs. Newhall, with the help of Miss Mary Barnby and Dr. Martha Barnby, gives Durand lessons at a special "Braille typewriter" and reads to him his assignments for the day.

Then, Durand, guided by Mitz, leaves to attend his classes.

Durand already has won praise from his instructors, one of whom said "his ability to remember involved passages is a continual source of amazement to me."

For recreation, the ex-Marine likes dancing best.

"After all," he said, "a lot of people like to dance with their eyes closed anyway."
