A Really Glorious Fourth

Symbol of the end of World War II is this flag, being raised over the Japanese naval base at Yokosuka, on Aug. 30, 1945, by Cpl. Charles Dunn, of Co. I, 3rd Battalion, 4th Regiment, USMC. After fighting through action at Bougainville and Guam, and being in the first wave that smashed ashore at Okinawa, this peaceful flagraising made Corporal Dunn happy. But...

... a little less than a year later, he was happier still, for today, his first Fourth of July at home since his enlistment in 1942, he was able to fly Old Glory from the porch of his house in Detroit, Mich. This time the flag is a promise of the lasting peace which ex-Corporal Dunn, like other American fighting men, hopes his war service and sacrifice won.

We call it the Extension Service because that is really what it amounts to—the extension of the land grant college into the county—our land grant college is as you know the Texas A & M College.

Extension work began in a small way in 1904—the land grant colleges in 1909 though that the work should be placed under their supervision instead of under the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In 1914 the Smith-Lever Act was passed and the work began to grow. The act provided for a co-

CLAIMS BOMB BURST AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The operations crossroads atomic bomb "through some human or mechanical error," exploded three seconds ahead of schedule, NBC correspondent, W. W. Chaplin, asserted today in a broadcast from Kwajalein.

It was for this reason, Chaplin said, that there was no greater damage among the target vessels in Bikini Lagoon.

"As far as the air force went, everything ticked perfectly," Chaplin said. "The bomb was delivered at the appointed place. But through some human or mechanical error, the bomb detonated three seconds ahead of schedule.

"This means it blew roughly a mile and a half higher than planned and so the greatest force blew skywards and not down. This bomb burst approximately four times higher than the one at Nagasaki which explains why the same bomb which tore the heart out of that city only sank five vessels, seared a few other and left the boats alive in the Bikini test."

They are sons of Doctor and Mrs. L. C. Brown.

For over twenty five years the American Legion has nursed an ideal in hopes that the American electorate would send to our congress men who are sincere and with a sincere desire to prevent world wide wars. Of course we are not foolish enough to think our great country alone could stop war, however we have been the deciding factor in two of the most destructive wars yet in our world's history. General Hap Arnold using common sense logic stated that the next war would find us as the in-tial target as it has been proven that as long as America is allowed time to prepare, no group of aggressor nations can win a war with us on the opposing side and we will always be on the opposing side when aggression is evident. We know some of the possibilities of the atomic bomb and we have no intention of destroying our bombs or the factories that make them until we are doubly assured all other nations can be trusted to stop all effort to use atomic energy for war purpose. We are a dumb lot perhaps in the eyes of some of the international big-wigs, but if we had been a part of the League of Nations commission that was supposed to suppress Germany by inspection and control. Mr. Hitler and his gang of cut throats would never have gotten a foothold. Atomic bombs along will not prevent or win a war. War minded nations must know we are strong and prepared to keep the peace by being prepared for war, but that preparation will never be complete until our country adopts the American Legion's plan for universal military training, which is an all out plan for war, everyone and everything in our nation is drafted into service, doing away with strikes, and all other or other cessation of our war effort, there would be no need of bond drives, money would not be a necessity and when we can universally take the profit out of war there will be no wars. The American Legion has failed to get any consideration of this measure, and now is a swell time for every veteran to read this proposed plan and if you think it is workable then ask your candidate for congress or the senate if he is interested in the stoppage of sending the flowerhood of America to the slaughter pens of war, ask him will he support the Legion's endeavor to get this master preventer of war enacted into the law of our land. The veterans of World War I and II have a lot of power, I used, let's use it for the good of our sons, the soldier of tomorrow and stay prepared, thereby nipping World War III in the bud.

The Law in Jesus' Day

Scripture: Deuteronomy 6:3-9; Matthew 5:17-19; Mark 10:17-22

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

JESUS said: "Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill."

What was this law which Jesus said He had come to fulfill? It was the Jewish law. But that itself is not so easy to define. If we turn to the early books of the Old Testament, particularly the Books of Leviticus and Deuteronomy, we find a mass of rules and regulations that must be bewildering to the average modern reader.

But if one examines many of these "laws" closely, one finds that they were designed to regulate life in a comparatively small and primitive community. Some of them were manifestly wise measures designed to protect the community against disease; others were designed to maintain the morale and integrity of the community.

JESUS made a distinction, I think, between the moral precepts of the law and mere petty regulations. The law which Jesus fulfilled was summed up not only by Jesus Himself, but also by the lawyer who asked Him, in the parable to the Parable of the Good Samaritan, what he must do to inherit eternal life.

"What is written in the law?" asked Jesus. "How readest thou?" And when the lawyer replied in the two great commandments dealing with love for God and love for one's neighbor, Jesus said, "Thou hast answered right; this do and thou shalt live."

But the difference between formal observance and true fulfillment was quickly shown. The lawyer, "willing to justify himself," asked, "Who is my neighbor?" Note that Jesus did not say, "Someone who needs your help"; He said, in effect, "You can be a neighbor to anyone who needs your help."

That is fulfillment; it is neighborliness unlimited. It is neighborliness not in terms of the other fellow, but of yourself.

THE Jewish law reached its moral height in the Ten Commandments, and in the passage in Deuteronomy 6 assigned for this lesson. These verses, known as the "Shema," were recited every Sunday in the worship of the synagogue.

They must have left a profound impression upon sensitive and seriously minded youth. And we cannot overestimate their importance in the earthly life and development of the boy Jesus, subject to His parents and always in the synagogue on the Sabbath, "as was His custom."

We cannot exaggerate the moral and spiritual inheritance the world has gained from the Jewish law. Many Gentiles before the time of Jesus became proselytes to the Jewish religion, drawn to it by its moral emphasis.

The earthly inheritance of Jesus was in the law and the prophets, the religion of His home and parents, to which He gave new power and direction.

SEATTLE (UP) — Two giant Navy patrol bombers which outlived their usefulness in Uncle Sam's air fleet are being prepared for conversion into 45-foot pleasure cruisers by a Lake Union boat firm here.

"We think we can make dandy cruisers out of the Pby hulls," said Bill Henderson, woodworking foreman of Pacific Boat Sales. "But there's going to be a lot of work to do on 'em."

Henderson plans to cut the aircraft's tail just behind the "blister" and put in a transom stern. Workers will attach a keel to give the vessel stability and maneuverability.

The shipbuilding veteran hasn't decided whether a twin or single engine will be put into the ship, but he says a reinforced engine bed can accommodate either.

"We'll cut out a section fore and aft for the cabin and to give head room," Henderson said. "It'll take two men at least three weeks or a month to finish the job, but we think we'll have a pretty good boat."

Henderson said the PBY's hull is made of an aluminum alloy which will be ideal for boat hulls in these waters.

"Boats must have tougher hulls in Puget Sound, because they're always smacking into driftwood or other debris," he pointed out.

G. Herbert Johnston is the owner of the boat - building, PBY-converting firm.

Miss Colbert. They were far better than any Banton could buy.

The dress designers' problems aren't only with Irish linen and Belgian lace. He can't get any American cotton.

"Wool is getting more plentiful because the Army isn't using so much for uniforms, but cotton is still scarce," he said.

"Can you remember when the cotton industry put on a drive every year to interest Americans in using cotton goods? Those days are gone, for a long time to come."

Volez And Yolanda Look Forward To Jitterbug Death

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Volez and Yolanda, who introduced many popular American dances, are looking forward to the death of jitterbugging.

When it dies, they've got a dance to replace it.

The famed team are currently before the Columbia movie cameras in a specialized feature, a stylized Samba, for the Latin-American musical, "Thrill of Brazil." They said that one of the dances they introduced on a recent tour with their revue, "Dansations of 1946," would supplant jive.

"It's called La Bamba, and it's the gayest dance I've ever seen," Frank Volez said.

La Bamba, he said, has the gaiety of the polka and the popular oomph of the rumba—another Volez-Yolanda introduction.

The tempo—"that's the basic thing; no dance is better than its tempo"—is in 4-4 time, like the polka.

But the polka, Volez explained, was "hop, one, two, three." La Bamba is "one, two, three, hop." Just the reverse.

"But after a couple of bars the tempo is just the same. Except for the rhythm of the hips. There isn't any hip movement at all in the polka."

La Bamba is gayer than the samba, which the team imported from Brazil three years ago, Volez said.

Another new Latin dance, taking hold in New York and Hollywood, is "bambuco," also known as "guabina" in Columbia, where it originated, Volez said.

"It's syncopated Spanish waltz in 3-4 time, with a 6-8 accent. Very interesting—it's an ingratiating rhythm. But anything Latin is tops these days."

Dancers have already forgotten about jitterbugging south of the border, he said. Down in Mexico City everybody's dancing La Bamba, a native Mexican dance exported without change.

Maya Indians in Yucatan live in much the same manner as their ancient ancestors.

Legless Veteran Learns To Solo In 7 1-2 Hours

GREENFIELD, Ind. (UP) — The accomplishment of Charles Colwell, Greenfield, is another testimonial to the courage and spirit of America's fighting men who were permanently disabled on the battlefronts.

The 23-year-old soldier, who lost both legs from mortar fire in Germany, was determined he would not permit his physical handicap to get him down.

So he took up flying, which he felt would facilitate "getting around." In seven and one half hours of instruction, he made his solo flight, according to R. A. Y. Grimes, operator and manager of the Greenfield airport.

Cole's instructor, William Eickenberry, said it was believed the Greenfield veteran was the first one with two artificial legs to solo under the GI flight training.

Wholesale Food Prices Highest Since July 1920

NEW YORK (UP) — Wholesale food prices have boomed to the highest general level since July 29, 1929, since the death of OPA, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today.

Fourteen commodities showed increases in price over the previous week. These were flour, wheat, corn, oats, barley, lard, butter, cooper, cocoa, beans, steers, hogs, sheep and lambs. Eggs and potatoes registered the only declines and the remaining 15 were unchanged.

Cinder blocks have been on the market for 20 years, or more, and are composed of cinders and cement.

FIRST POSTWAR HIGHWAY MAPS ARE PUBLISHED

AUSTIN, Tex., July 1. (Special) - Another bid for out-of-state tourists is in the making as the Texas Highway Department announces limited quantities of its first postwar travel map are now rolling off the presses.

The expected bumper crop of summer tourists in the Lone Star state will be guided over Texas highways with the aid of a map that will give visitors a brief introduction to a few of the state's points of interest. In addition it will afford a complete, accurate, easy to read travel map for the use of all.

The de Luxe map is expected to be the most popular feature at the Department's information Bureau which have been opened at strategic points to supply postwar tourists with reliable, up-to-date facts on highways and tourist attractions which support one of the state's largest and fastest growing "cash crops."

The postwar edition carries a small scale map of the United States, the usual large scale insets of the state metropolitan areas, strip maps of the main Texas travel routes and the Pan American highway into Mexico, it gives mileages between towns and carries a supplementary mileage chart. The highway marking system is explained with illustrations and there is a column of miscellaneous six new charts, paint for 12 decks, floor wax, and 12 new cup towels for the department.

Achievement day was held Monday July 1 in order that the girls could display their work. They served a picnic lunch for their mothers at noon.

The vacation Bible school at the Baptist church closed after a two weeks session with a program and display of work, Friday night. The exercises were well attended.

Mrs. Billy Joe Barnett and son, Dean, have returned from San Antonio, with Sgt. Billy Joe Barnett, who has just received his discharge after service in the Pacific.

Farm to Market Roads Urged By Beauford Jester

LUBBOCK An all weather road within half a mile of 95 per cent of the rural homes in Texas is the goal of Beauford Jester, the candidate for governor declared here, although, he pointed out, Texas already has the biggest farm-to-market road program in the nation. "These roads should be built by the state with federal help and maintained by the state without extra cost to rural people," he said. Jester expressed strong opposition to the idea of farmers mortgaging their property in order to obtain benefits already enjoyed by workers and citizens of towns. The present road program, he explained, provides for 6850 miles of rural roads and will give three-fourths of Texas' rural homes an all weather road within two miles. "I have in mind to speed up this work, instead of just getting it started like some other candidates seem to be advocating," Jester stated "I will do everything possible to increase the per year mileage." Jester also told West Texans he could call a special session of the legislature if necessary, to accomplish redistricting provided for under the state constitution and which would bring West and South Texas fair representation in the legislature.

Sandefor Served Cotton Insects As Field Rep. Of The Red Cross

Although not a GI of World War II, Gib Sandefor, candidate for Congress from the 17th district, served alongside the rank and file of the nation's armed forces on far-flung battlefields of the global conflict. Gib declined a Navy commission that carried with it an essential and important desk assignment in Washington, D.C., to become a field representative of the American Red Cross in various combat areas of history's most destructive war.

Sandefor learned what it is to see a comrade die for the freedoms that always have been and ever will be dear to all red-blooded Americans. He saw ships and their precious cargoes of young American fighting men go down at sea; he saw some of the finest specimens of young American manhood fall on the field of battle, and experienced some of the sorrow and never ending heartaches represented by the little white crosses that mark the resting places of those who went off to war and didn't return.

Sandefor's months of service with American troops engaged in mortal conflict with armies of enemy nations convinced him that this nation can never do too much for those who will bear the scars of battle throughout their lives. "For our disabled war veterans—all they need, at whatever the cost," Gib has said in numerous public appearances and on other occasions.

On March 20, long before Sandefor commenced to become a candidate for congress, Elgan Shield, petroleum geologist of Santa Anna who was in the army in the C.B.I. area with Gib, wrote an Abilene friend as follows:

"I saw Gib in action and I would like to say that he did a most difficult job in a very satisfactory manner. He was able to weld together the various warring factions and lead them into a common purpose. I saw him stand up in front of a group composed of many races, creeds and political factions and sway this crowd as I never saw any other man do. His ability to coordinate these various wills is the kind of ability I believe we need in congress."

Melville de Mellow, managing-director of the All-India radio station, Delhi, India, had the following to say:

Cotton Insects Cause Concern

Cotton leafworms which have now appeared in the State along with boll weevils, which continue to be favored by weather conditions, are causing no little concern to the cotton growers, states F. L. Thomas of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, A&M College of Texas, College Station, Texas. The first leafworms of the season were found in Cameron, Jim Wells, and Willacy counties on June 7, 18 and 21 respectively by federal workers of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine. This finding, according to Sandefor, is a serious matter in the C.B.I. theater: "I have yet to meet a man who could get along with so many people—so well—in so many places—as you did."

Commenting on these statements, Sandefor says, "I believe I can get along as well with the boys in Washington as I did with those in China, Burma, and India."

ly confirmed, means that moths maturing from this brood of worms should be laying eggs about the first of July and that the second generation worms may be expected anywhere in the Southern half of the State within the next few weeks. The first cotton insect survey report issued this year by the Bureau shows that the weevil infestation in Caldwell, Hays, Lavaca, and San Patricio counties was 32 per cent by June 22 compared with 37 per cent at the same time in 1945. In the vicinity of Waco, the infestation last week was two to seven times greater than that for any similar period in the past five years. Flea hoppers have increased in the lower coastal area and have appeared in damaging numbers in Bell and Hayes counties. Cotton plants will be attractive to bollworm moths when they transfer to cotton fields and the probability is great for considerable damage by this pest a few weeks hence in Central Texas.

"For our disabled war veterans—all they need, at whatever cost."

Gib Sandefer

Candidate For Representative, 17th Congressional District

(Subject to Action of the State Democratic Primary, Saturday, July 27)

While not a GI of World War II, Gib Sandefor served alongside the rank and file of the nation's armed forces on far-flung battlefields of the global conflict.

He declined a Navy commission that carried with it an essential and important desk assignment in Washington, D. C., to become a field representative, in combat areas, of the American Red Cross. He served in the China, Burma, India theater, in Africa and Italy.

Sandefor's months of service with American troops engaged in conflict convinced him that this nation can never do too much for those who will bear the scars of battle throughout their lives.

Gib is keenly interested in and understanding of the problems of all veterans. The first plank in his platform reads: "For GI Joe and His Sister Jane—the help and encouragement of a grateful country, in every way that can be accomplished. For our disabled war veterans—all they need, at whatever cost."

Food will stay fresher if put into your Electric Refrigerator promptly

IN THESE days when some foods are scarce and hard to find, your electric refrigerator is called upon to keep amounts of food fresh and wholesome, often for longer periods of time. They will stay fresh longer if you'll put perishable foods into the safe, cold interior of your electric refrigerator as soon as possible.

Perishable foods begin to lose the cold which protects them from spoiling as soon as they leave the store. The minutes you save getting them into your refrigerator will add hours to the time milk and other perishable foods keep.

What Causes Destructive Fires?

... you guessed it—matches and smoking head the list, with a percentage of 29.44. Then comes misuse of electricity 10.28 per cent, followed by lightning, stove flues, petroleum products, etc. During the past 10 years fires have burned up three billion dollars worth of property in the United States, and the figures are increasing despite advanced methods of fire fighting and fire control. Now that we know what causes most destructive fires let each individual lend a hand in helping prevent them.

Let's Look at the RECORD!

The Present County Judge Asks Re-Election on His Record. Here It Is.

All 9 of the Elective County Officials Salaries for 9 Months Totals

$23,700

The Delinquent Tax Collector Hired by the County Judge Received in 9 Months for Collecting Delinquent Taxes --

$31,091.93

John Hart thinks the compensation paid to the delinquent tax collector is out of all proportion to the services rendered and is a raid on the taxpayers of the county!

The present County Judge says that delinquent taxes have been collected on a basis of "Fairness To All". From the 91st District Court Records, here are a few typical settlements made by my opponent:

Vol.	Page	Taxes Owed	Amount Col.
5	282-3	$ 622.69	$ 287.74
5	288	$9000.00	$1262.66
5	295-6	$4300.00	$2000.00
5	238	$1377.93	$1006.66
5	288	$1364.46	$ 600.00

You businessmen - farmers - home-owners, does this sound like the kind of treatment you received when you paid your taxes? Is this "Fairness To All?"

I am for the collection of delinquent taxes but opposed to present contract, amount paid, and method used.

I OFFER YOU THE ASSURANCE OF A SOUND, ECONOMICAL FAIR ADMINISTRATION

BOB WAGSTAFF

IS QUALIFIED

In electing Bob Wagstaff to represent it in Congress, the 17th District will send to Washington a man who is well qualified for the office.

He is a native Texan, born and raised in Abilene, fifty-three years of age, and was educated at Hardin-Simmons University and the University of Texas Law School. He is recognized as a successful lawyer of the highest character and standing in his profession.

He enlisted as a private in the infantry, and in World War I commanded a company in the 142nd Infantry, 36th Division. Veterans of World War II will find in him a man who understands their problems.

He represented his District in the 42nd and 43rd Legislatures. He was the author or joint author of the oil and gas conservation laws under which the Railroad Commission regulates the production of oil and gas; the act transferring funds for the payment of Confederate pensions; laws relating to the leasing and sale of Public School Lands; the act giving cities and towns prior rights to the uses of the water of Texas rivers in preference to public utilities, power companies and irrigation; and the first act creating the Big Bend Park System in far West Texas.

In addition to the above he also took a prominent part in the legislation for the assumption of the County Road Bonds out of the gasoline tax. He was appointed Chairman of the House Committee which wrote the bill, and was appointed a member of the Conference Committee which drafted the final bill, this being the act under which the State now operates for the assumption of county Road Bonds.

There is no substitute for experience. Bob Wagstaff has the necessary experience to make the 17th District a great Congressman.

town could not have suitable projects such as a pig, calf, cows, poultry or some field crop. However, a few of the boys in town wanted and later on, especially during and after both world wars, the town boys were allowed to join Club work is on a national scale being in each of the 48 states and also in the U. S. possessions, such as Alaska, Philippine Islands, Hawaii and others.

The boys have their club emblem which is as you know, a four leaf clover with the letter H in each leaflet which stands for head, heart, hands and health. Their pledge is "I pledge my head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to greater service and my health to better living for my club, my community and my country. Their prayer is—Help us to live O Lord so that the world may be a little better because thou didst make me.

Their club colors are green and white—green because that is nature's most common color and is emblematic of springtime, life and youth—white because white symbolizes purity and high ideals.

We believe that 4-H Club work is important to many boys because it teaches self-reliance, confidence, dependability and responsibility at an age when his mind and character is formulative. We teach him a love for growing animals and crop. We try to teach him a love for the soil from which wealth and material things are secured.

Boys with their projects are given the latest information concerning better farm practices such as spraying their cattle, treating field seed to prevent rot and other diseases, inoculating legume seed, culling, castrating and feeding poultry, propagation of trees and shrubs and others.

Many times farmers can be reached and induced to try new farm practices. For example we secured and distributed 40 1 lb. bags of hybrid seed corn this spring to 40 different club boys. From this some of the "Dads" have been sold on hybrid corn.

We have in Eastland county 11 organized clubs at Pioneer, Ranger, Scranin, Eastland, Morton Valley, Olden, two schools in Ranger, Westemona, German and Carbon. We meet with these clubs once each month during the school year and sometimes in the summer. We have summer camps—two coming up soon, the district camp at Lake Brownwood on July 25 to 27, and the five county club camp at Lake Cisco on Aug. 8 and 9. We held our club rally day in Eastland in April, attended by some 159 boys, girls and their parents and local leaders.

The ages of the boys range all the way from 9 to 17 years of age but the majority are in the 11 to 14 age group.

As I have told you the boys have different projects—This year their projects consist of:

Project	No. Dem.	No. in Dem.
Poultry	86	2877
Dairy Cows	31	31
Dairy Calves	56	56
Beef Cows	28	31
Beef Calves	45	45
Goats	8	275
Sheep	2	20
Horses	22	22
Swine	118	140
Rabbits	9	102
		3599
Peanuts	10	40A
Corn	42	85A
Barley	1	2A
		105A
Gardens	68

We have several boys with more than one project. We have the national 4-H Club contests sponsored each year. The national club congress is held in Chicago each year. The contests are

The contests are in farm safety, meat production, poultry, farm electricity, sheep and goats, dairy production and others. The prizes range all the way from medals to county winners to free trips to Chicago and college scholarships for others.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
"God" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 7.

The Golden Text is: "The earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea" (Habakkuk 2:14.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible "Be Still and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth" (Psalms 46:10.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Ignorance of God is no longer the stepping stone to faith. The only guarantee of obedience is a right apprehension of Him whom to know aright is Life eternal" (Preface vii).
