MGM Strikers Parade

Over 250 striking war veterans paraded before the entrance to MGM Studios in Culver City, California, Wednesday. They wore only parts of their uniforms without insignia and some put steel helmets on their heads. Deputy sheriffs stood by as the mass demonstrators were instructed there would be no arrests as long as the strikers kept moving. (NEA Telephoto.)

Local Haydite Plant Begins Operation

Although far from complete, machinery of the Texas Light Weight Concrete Company being installed here for making Haydite for use in manufacturing concrete, this week turned out its first products.

A large number of citizens, including many business men, were present to see the power turned on and the machinery started in motion.

W. C. Fine, president and local manager of the company, stated the erection of the Eastland plant the latter part of last June with a 90-day limit for getting it into operation in order to hold contracts. He began operation just short of the dead line. The company had been granted a 90-day extension, however, it is understood.

Haydite, discovered in 1902 and for the past several years manufactured in Kansas, is being manufactured in Texas at Eastland and at a plant near Dallas. The company expects to eventually build at least three more plants in Texas.

Haydite is made here from certain clays and is used instead of sand and gravel in the manufacture of concrete for building purposes. Right now the company is unable to fill the orders from builders in Fort Worth and Dallas. The product is not finished at the Eastland plant but is freighted to Dallas to a plant there.

Spokesman for the company stated this week that the one large kiln at the Eastland plant is only the first of five, one of which is already started, for the local plant.

It is stated by those informed that there is sufficient clay on site of the plant now being built here, to operate the plant on for 50 years.

Annual Rodeos Resumed At The Penitentiary

The annual rodeo staged by inmates of the State Penitentiary at Huntsville, will be held each Sunday during the month of October beginning Sunday.

This show has been staged for the past several years and has proven a splendid attraction.

MRS. PEARL HOLLIS PASSES AT PASADENA SEPTEMBER 26TH

Mrs. Pearl Hollis, 58, passed away September 26, last, at Pasadena. Funeral and burial rites were at Pasadena.

The deceased was born at Lonsville, Alabama, June 20, 1888. Survivors include her husband, R. S. Hollis of Pasadena; two sons, Carl of Austin and Roy of Eastland; three daughters, Mrs. Louise Disheroon, Dallas; Mrs. Gertrude Banks, Llano; and Mrs. Lila Pearl Scott of Eastland. Also surviving are a brother, Luther Preston, Phoenix, Arizona, a sister, Mrs. Ada Garrett of Waco, and eleven grandchildren.

Mrs. Hollis had been a Christian and member of the Baptist church for 34 years.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES SLIGHTLY INCREASED

The increased cost of labor, newsprint and other items going into the cost of producing a newspaper, makes it necessary that we raise the price of subscriptions to the Chronicle. We have delayed this action as long as we could consistently do so and are making only a small increase at this time.

91st Grand Jury No Bills Lane In Fatal Accident

The 91st district court grand jury, in its final report last week to Judge Geo. L. Davenport, reported 13 indictments—10 felonies and three misdemeanors—returned.

Among the felony indictments were assault with intent to murder charges against Homer Calloway, A. J. Maxwell, Jimmy Newcome, Arthur Lee Archer and Marvin Brandstetter, of Cisco and vicinity, all indicted in connection with the shooting of H. O. Woodward of Cisco at his home the night of August 22, last. All parties are in custody.

Two other felony indictments were against Jack McKee and Edward Mellor, California youths picked up here and indicted by the grand jury on charges of burglary. McKee and Mellor entered pleas of guilty and were sentenced to two years in the State Penitentiary. Officers will deliver them to the penitentiary authorities this week.

The grand jury found no bill against Geo. I. Lane, charged by complaint with negligent homicide in connection with the accidental death of Miss Hazel Coats of Cisco on Highway 80 between Eastland and Cisco on July 13.

Sgt. Fuller Is Transferred To Dallas Station

1-Sgt. Monroe Fuller of the Eastland recruiting office is being transferred to the Dallas recruiting main station. He wishes to thank all of the many friends he has acquired and the people who helped him to put his station and its ideas before the men eligible for the new regular army.

Sgt. Fuller has been with the Eastland recruiting office since December 5th, 1945, and has been station commander in Eastland since April. While stationed here he has enlisted approximately 150 men.

He also wishes to thank the many men who, since enlisting, have written to him expressing their views on the new army life.

Sgt. Fuller is being replaced by M-Sgt. E. E. Elmore, who is a very capable army man of 17 years experience. Sgt. Fuller is confident that Sgt. Elmore will find the people in the Eastland recruiting district as cooperative as they were when he was stationed here.

Pleasant Place Motel Really A Modern Camp

Pleasant Place Motel, one mile west of Eastland on Highway 80, was formerly known as Red Top Tourists Cottages. It has been improved and remodeled until it is now practically a new place. It is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Carpenter.

This beautiful and unique place has a modern 5-room rock veneered residence and double garage, and servant's quarters built over a concrete storm cellar.

The landscape has a large number of native trees. It is set in Bermuda grass and has many curbs and flower beds.

Several blocks back of the residence are the tourists' cottages. These have two bedrooms, bath and shower for each cottage, and have only recently been completely refurbished and remodeled.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas Fagg Announce New Store Location

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. C. Fagg announce the removal of their furniture store to the building across the street, formerly occupied by the Clover Farm Store. The new building is 50 feet by 100 feet and is over twice as large as their former location on the West side of the square.

Mr. and Mrs. Fagg recently purchased the furniture business from C. C. Worley. In their larger new store, they will add a record department, featuring Columbia records and also Crosley refrigerators, radios and ranges. A radio repair department is also to be added soon.

Phillips 66 To Open Advertising Campaign Here

F. W. Denniston local distributor of Phillips 66 products in Eastland said today that Phillips Petroleum Company has expanded its advertising program to a point where it now includes approximately 1,000 newspapers throughout the middle west.

During the past year Phillips has added a number of general merchandise lines to the conventional petroleum products sold through dealer stations Household appliances such as refrigerators, radios and washing machines, hardware items, fishing tackle and sporting goods and stock remedies are among the products now being merchandised by the company.

Until the time when the manufacturers of these items are able to fulfill the demands of all dealers, Phillips newspaper advertising will continue to feature gasoline and motor oil, the company's principal products, Mr. Denniston stated. With full production of all merchandise predicted by the end of 1947, it is expected that the expanded advertising campaign will assure all dealers an adequate market for all lines of products.

The Phillips 66 station in Eastland, which is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Denniston, is located at 610 West Main street.

EASTLAND MAN TO HEAD GOOD ROADS GROUP

AUSTIN, Tex. (Sp4)—Jack Chamberlain, prominent Eastland County good roads advocate, has been chosen Chairman of the Eastland County Good Roads Amendment Campaign Committee. It was announced today by Charles E. Simons, executive vice-president of the Texas Good Roads Association.

Appearing on the ballot in the November 5th General Election as Amendment Number three, the Good Roads Constitutional Amendment guarantees the availability of motor vehicle registration fees and gasoline taxes, exclusively for road purposes, with the exception of one-fourth of the gas tax which will continue to be allocated to the Available Free School Fund.

"His deep interest in better and more improved highways and farm-to-market roads was the primary factor in his selection to head the Eastland County campaign," Simons said.

Simons also pointed out that the Texas Safety Association, Texas Farm Bureau Federation, State Board of Education, and thirty other state organizations have adopted resolutions strongly endorsing the amendment.

"With so many outstanding organizations backing the Amendment," Simons continued, "we feel that every citizen in Eastland County should be fully informed of the provisions of the measure and the benefits they will derive from it. For this reason, we have selected Chamberlain to head the Eastland County committee and direct a vigorous educational campaign to point out the merits of this amendment."

Chief purpose of this proposal, it was emphasized by the Good Roads Association executive vice-president, is to assure the ultimate construction of rural mail and school bus routes, and all-weather farm-to-market roads. Also, it will insure immediate improvement, maintenance and policing of all roads and urban traffic ways.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

Hold-Up Man Used Toy Pistol

George Bray Pipkin, 23, an escapee from the State Hospital at Wichita Falls, Texas, looks rather chagrined as he is "held up" with a toy pistol by Ft. Worth police Capt. R. M. Burks. Pipkin was captured in Ft. Worth after a cross-country hold-up spree, including Oklahoma City, Knoxville and Joplin, in which he used the same toy pistol. Pipkin has been a problem child to the police since 1936, finally being confined to the State Hospital from which he escaped recently. (NEA Telephoto.)

FARM BUREAU MEET TO BE OCTOBER 11

A series of 11 district Farm Bureau meetings will be conducted throughout the state of Texas during the month of October, it has been announced by Walter J. Hammond, state Farm Bureau president.

One of the meetings will be held in the Brownwood Hotel at Brownwood on Friday, October 11. Raymond McElrath of Coleman, state director, will preside. The meeting, which will begin at 10:00 a. m., will be attended by Hammond and State Organization Director Marvin Carter.

"The chief job of organized agriculture is to maintain farm prices at a fair exchange level," Hammond said. This was not done following World War I and the result was depression. After the other war farm prices dropped 53 per cent. By 1935 two million farmers were foreclosed. Industrial goods dropped only 14 per cent, which brought about disparity between agriculture and other groups.

Principal topic for discussion at the forthcoming farm meeting, will be the proposals of officials of government and other groups with reference to the future of agriculture. "A general study of agriculture as program as proposed by these people," Hammond said, "will reveal that they are the same plans offered and adopted following the first World War which led the nation into depression that not only wrecked agriculture but brought ruin to business, finance, and industry. The present-day trend is toward cheaper prices for farm products."

"If the right plans are not adopted now," Hammond continued, "we cannot hope for anything but a recurrence of the disaster following World War I. An agricultural program must be maintained that will stabilize the prices of farm products, which will in turn stabilize business and industry. It is the responsibility of the farmers of Texas to attend these district meetings and discuss feasible plans for agriculture."

At the forthcoming meetings plans will also be discussed for a state-wide membership drive which will be conducted simultaneously in all counties of the state during the week of October 24-30.

Meeting At Brownwood District Farm Bureau To Be October 11th

A series of 13 district Farm Bureau meetings will be conducted throughout the state of Texas during the month of October, it has been announced by J.P. Walter Hammond, state Farm Bureau president.

One of the meetings will be held in the Brownwood Hotel at Brownwood on Friday, October 11. Raymond McElrath of Coleman, state director, will preside. The meeting which will begin at 10:00 a. m., will be attended by Hammond and State Organization Director Marvin Carter.

Chronicle To Carry Phillips 66 Advertising

F. W. Denniston and wife, who recently came to Eastland and purchased the Phillips 66 service station at 610 West Main street, expressed themselves as well pleased with the town and community. They are rapidly stocking their station first with the well known Phillips 66 products and such other items as they find demand for in the motoring public.

We are glad that the Phillips Company is extending their advertising campaign and that an advertising schedule is to be carried in our immediate field, Mr. Kenniston said.

The advertising, sponsored by the company, is to begin soon in the Chronicle.

QUAKER OATS CO. HAS GOOD NEWS FOR LOCAL HOUSEWIVES

The Quaker Oats Company has good news for Eastland housewives building dinner ware sets of Mother's Oats china. Premium packages of the wholesome breakfast food—voted America's favorite in a recent independent polling—contain either a breakfast bowl, cup and saucer, dinner plate, or other expertly designed dinnerware which will fit into any table setting. The line is featured at local grocery stores.

For many years a traditional stand-by with mothers whose prime interest is providing a nutritious cereal for their children, Mother's Oats leads natural wheat, corn, and rice cereals in Vitamin B1, food energy, protein and iron. In addition, Mother's Oats makes delicious breads, muffins, and cookies, thereby easing the baking crisis by substituting for flour. Recipes for using the oats are printed on each package.

EMPLOYMENT SERVICE HAS NEW INTERVIEWER

The U. S. Employment Service located at Eastland, has added an interviewer to its staff, announced Hollis Bennett, manager. He is Lloyd O. McCoy. Mr. McCoy is a veteran of World War II having served in the Army for 19 months, 8 of which were in foreign service at Manila. He was a technician 5th grade as a Message Center Clerk for 5 months after receiving his basic training at Camp Hood. He was later classified as Technician 4th grade with duties as a Classification Specialist for 10 months. Mr. McCoy attended Hardin Simmons College for 2 1-2 years and 1 1-2 years at Texas Wesleyan College in Fort Worth. He is temporarily living at the Johnston Hotel.

Mr. Bennett stated that with Mr. McCoy's assistance a better service will be rendered to veterans, to job seekers, and to employers of Eastland County.

AMERICAN LEGION

BOB BURKETT, Post Commander
Mrs. Earl Francis, Auxiliary Pres.

The Veterans Administration will start a survey soon to determine why so many veterans are still on the unemployment compensation rolls throughout the entire United States. The VA states that this phase of the GI Bill of Rights was intended for the veterans that were sincerely seeking a job and was unable to find employment. It was stated that one billion two hundred and fifty million dollars had been paid to the unemployed in unemployment compensation to the veterans. That over four hundred thousand have drawn this pay from twenty to fifty-two weeks. This may sound like an alarming situation to many, but when we consider that there were over twelve and a half million men in our armed forces, one tenth of our nation's population, the picture loses much of its vastness in dollars spent and thousands remaining on the rolls. There are gold bricks in every walk of life and the army is where they learn their trade, but the average GI came out of the army with no intention of living as long as possible on his government, most of them is endowed with a initiative too strong to be satisfied with a mere twenty dollars a week and no future.

Do you know Earl M. Ward? His mother, Mrs. A. E. Ward of Alamo, Idaho, would be thankful to anyone having any information regarding her son. He may have settled down in the Dallas-Ft. Worth area, after being discharged from the Navy. Please write Mrs. Ward or notify the headquarters American Legion Department of Idaho at Boise of your knowledge of this ex-gob.

The prosecuting attorney had encountered a rather difficult witness. At length, exasperated by the man's evasive answers, he asked him if he was acquainted with any of the jury. "Yes sir," replied the witness, "more than half of them." "Are you willing to swear that you know more than half of them?" demanded the man of the law. The other thought quickly. "If it comes to that," he replied, "I am willing to swear that I know more than all of 'em put together."

There was an all around good-for-nothing man who died, and at his funeral the minister delivered a most beautiful address, praising the departed in the most glowing manner, his splendid qualities as a fine type of man, a good husband and kind parent. About this time the widow, who was seated in front asked her daughter to look in the coffin and see if it was her father.

Of The Weekly Chronicle published weekly at Eastland, Texas for October 1, 1946.

State of Texas

County of Eastland

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Frank Jones, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Manager and Editor of the Weekly Chronicle and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, as amended by the Act of March 3, 1933, embodied in section 357, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:
Publisher Walter Murray, Mineral Wells, Texas.
Editor Frank A. Jones, Eastland, Texas.
Managing Editor Frank A. Jones, Eastland, Texas.
Business Manager Frank A. Jones, Eastland, Texas.

2. That the owner is: (If owned by a corporation, its name and address, as well as those of each individual member, must be given.)
Walter Murray, Mineral Wells, Texas.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: (If there are none, so state.)
NONE

4. That the two paragraphs next above giving the names of the owners, stockholders, or security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholders or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

5. That the average number of copies of each issue of this publication sold or distributed, through the mails or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the twelve months preceding the date shown above is 1,800.

Pennsylvania Studies Atom Power of Coal

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP)—If atom research in coal goes as far as one Pennsylvania mines official believes it will, you'll be able to carry home in your vest pocket enough power for a winter's heating supply.

Joseph J. Walsh, state deputy mines secretary, said harnessing of atomic energy found in Pennsylvania coal is "entirely within the realm of possibility." Two pounds of coal, he said, carry sufficient energy to operate a 1,000-horsepower motor for 1,900 years.

The atoms in coal have been under intensive research at the School of Mineral Industries at Pennsylvania State College, but the commonwealth still turns thumbs down on making the findings known.

Construction Pending FCC Approval Of Application

Unit Will Serve Area Within 45 Miles Radius Of Ranger

One of the stations in a highway mobile radiotelephone system that will blanket a large portion of Texas, linking together most of the larger cities of the state along principal highways and serving scores of additional towns, will be located at Ranger, according to E. Hooks, manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Applications for authority to construct 23 land radio stations at various points along major north-south and east-west highway routes in the state and to install up to 500 portable mobile radio units has been filed by the company with the Federal Communications Commission, Hooks said. Permission already has been granted for construction of seven of these along U. S. Highway 75 from the Red River to the Gulf.

The land station to be located at Ranger will serve an area within a radius of about 45 miles.

When the system is completed it will be possible for an automobile or truck equipped with a mobile radio set to keep in touch by telephone with any Bell System or connecting telephone while moving along highways from Louisiana on the east almost to New Mexico on the west, and from the Red River on the north to the Gulf and the Rio Grande on the south.

About 2,400 miles of primary highways in the state will be covered by the stations to be built, as well as many thousands of important secondary roads within their range, Hooks stated. The system will be one of the largest integrated highway radiotelephone systems for which plans have been announced by the Bell System. It will fit ultimately into other Southwestern Bell highway radiotelephone systems in Oklahoma and Arkansas, and finally into a national system.

The primary highway routes to be served by the radiotelephone system will be U. S. Highway 75 from the Red River to Galveston, U. S. Highway 80 from near the Louisiana line to a point near the New Mexico line, U. S. Highway 67 from Texarkana to Dallas, U. S. Highway 81 and part of 77 from Dallas-Fort Worth to San Antonio, U. S. 90 from San Antonio to Beaumont, and U. S. Highway 181, 77 and 281 between San Antonio, Corpus Christi and Brownsville.

Among the larger cities to be connected by the system are Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, Galveston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Waco, Austin, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Abilene, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Odessa, Denison, Marshall, Tyler and Longview.

In addition to the 23 transmitters, receivers will be built along the routes to pick up signals and conversations from vehicles. The system will cost approximately $1,300,000, and work will begin on construction as soon as possible after authority is granted by the Federal Communications Commission. Some of the stations are scheduled to be in operation some time next year.

Land radio stations along Highway 75 will be located at Whitesboro, between Sherman and Gaineville; Grand Prairie, between Dallas and Fort Worth; at Powell near Corsicana; at Buffalo in Leon County; at Huntsville; Houston; and Galveston.

Stations serving Highway 80 and Highway 67 from Texarkana to Dallas, will be located at Gilmer in Upshire County; at Campbell near Greenville; at Grand Prairie, between Dallas for Fort Worth; at Ranger; at Trent in Taylor County; at Big Spring; and at Odessa.

Along Highway 81 and part of 77 stations will be located at Waco, Temple, Austin and San Antonio. San Antonio will be linked with the Rio Grande Valley by stations at Pettus in Bee County, Robstown, San Manuel in Hidalgo County, and Los Fresnos in Cameron County. San Antonio also will be linked with Houston and the Beaumont-Port Arthur area by stations at Weimer in Colorado County, Houston, and Beaumont.

the dashboard. When a call comes to a vehicle a bell rings and a light goes on and stays on. Calls from mobile units are made by picking up the telephone receiver, listening to see if the channel is clear, and then pressing a button in the handle to signal the mobile service operator, who connects the call. A call from a mobile unit goes by air to the nearest receiver, then by wire to the transmitter nearest the vehicle being called, then by air to the unit.

The service can also be used in some cases by ships or other water craft; on the Gulf, coastal waterways, rivers and lakes that are within range of land stations. Mobile radiotelephone service already is in operation on an experimental basis in the city of Houston, and authority has been granted to construct mobile systems in Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, and Austin. The stations in San Antonio and Austin will operate on the highway service frequency, and will serve both local city and highway customers. Local service also will be furnished from the highway stations in those cities where transmitters and receivers are located.

Phone Callers Get Sermons On Their Request

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP)—Preaching the gospel from an easy chair occupies the Rev. Harley M. Racer these days.

It may have started as a joke, but Racer, who used to be a missionary in the Tennessee mountains and pastor of University Congregational Church in this city believes it was "God's will" that started him giving short sermons over the telephone.

Every day he gets about 100 calls from persons who've been told to telephone Dale 3851. If they don't hang up after the retired minister says he left no call, he gives them a message from the Bible.

Should the caller hang on longer, Racer reads other Biblical passages and then urges his listener to read the Bible.

"Most persons will listen—even an atheist," Racer says. "Only a small percentage are angry. On an average, the calls take 10 seconds, and I no more than hang up the phone than it rings again."

On Saturdays he usually gets 150 calls or more—sometimes even at 2 a. m. Sunday.

Old Age May Affect Future Home Planning

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—Home planning is being affected by the greater ratio of older people because the requirements of older people are different from those of the younger, more active persons.

Local builders and architects foresee definite changes in the planning and construction of private homes in the next few years. They say a compromise is being sought by designers and builders so that the modern home built for a young couple will be just as practical and convenient 20 years later.

The two major considerations in planning housing for older people are safety and convenience. It has been found, builders say, that 64 per cent of the persons over 60 years of age are victims of household accidents.

Gets First Hand News of Strike

ABILENE, Tex. (UP)—An Abilene amateur radio operator recently learned first hand of a strike of sugar plantation workers in Hawaii.

James A. Lee, the operator, talked by radio with the superintendent of a plantation at Ewa, Oahu, and was told that 25,000 workers are out on strike in the island.

The project managed by the superintendent produces 50,000 tons of sugar a year and employs 1,250 men, he said.

Speaking of Things in General—

...the deductible on windstorm and hail recently announced by the Insurance Commissioner is just an experiment. It may or may not be continued. In the meantime consider the many other protections you have besides windstorm and hail, any one of which is worth what you pay for all. Some of these are—smoke, falling aircraft, vehicle damage, gas explosion—and what if your house blown away? There is no substitute for protection and there is plenty of protection left in your windstorm and hail policy.

THE MINE?

I'M SURE YOU COULD HAVE TRANSLATED THE NOTE YOURSELF IN TIME, I'LL BE SHOWING OFF NOW!

IT'S ROUNDUP TIME AND I'VE GOT PLENTY OF WORK TO DO ON MY RANCH.

GOODBYE, RED!

ADIOS, MISS ALICE!

NOW WE GET-UM BACK FOR ROUNDUP, BEICHUM!

SEANVILLE, THE ROCK HAS A NEW MAJOR, ELK GANTY. WELL THEN, MAJOR, IT'S SETTLED! CUT YOU IN FOR A HALF-INTEREST IN MY GAMBLING HALL-- CUTT!

OF COURSE THERE LL BE COMPLAINTS-- BUT I'LL HANDLE 'EM CUTT!

AND WHAT YOU CANT HANDLE I CAN ALWAYS SETTLE WITH THIS BINGUN!

RIGHT NICE TO HAVE A MAJOR FOR A PARTNER, ELK!

SEHN DONT FORGET! I'M A SILENT PARTNER!

DONT WORRY! I DONT TELL ANOTHER YOUNG MAN A HALF-INTEREST IN THE OPEN DOOR GAMBLING HALL.

NOBODY'S IN HEARIN' DISTANCE!

PERHAPS NOT, BUT THE SHERIFF MAY GET COMPLAIN'S ON 'Y PLACE--

HE'S IN WATCHIN' DISTANCE, AND NOT AS DUMB AS HE LOOKS!

SINCE ELK GANTY BECAME MAJOR, RIM-ROCK IS A HOT SPOT FOR GAMBLING!

COME ON, BOYS! LET'S TRY OUR LUCK AT CUTT SANBORN'S OPEN DOOR!

GUN LAW RULES IN CUTT SANBORN'S PLACE!

I'VE BEEN CHEATED!

IF YOU DONT WANT LIKE IT, GET OUT! PLENTY OF OTHERS LIKE IT HERE!

RECKON I CANT ARGUE WITH A GUN IN MY BACK, CUTT!

GIRLS WHAT DO YOU THINK OF TWIRP SEASON?

PERSONALLY, I THINK ITS POSITIVELY GREEBY-- UNQUOTE, I REFUSE TO CO-OPERATE!

IT'S THE MOST REVOLTING IDEA SINCE THE ATOMIC BOMB!

HOW CAN I FINANCE A DATE? MY BUDGET HAS ALREADY BEEN BLITZED!!

IT'S A SUPER IDEA! IT GIVS GIRLS LIKE ME A CHANCE TO GO ON ACTIVE DUTY!

THAT HEAVEN-SENT I HAVE A MELLOW MAN ALL PICKED OUT! MMM!

WELL, IT MIGHT WORK, ANYWAY, IT'LL GIVE SOME OF MY LESS ATTRACTIVE CLIENTS A CHANCE TO CIRCULATE!

NOW THAT TWIRP SEASON HAS STARTED, IT'S UP TO THE GIRLS TO MAKE DATES WITH THE BOYS AND FINANCE THE DEAL. TAKE THE CASE OF NUTTY COOK, FOR EXAMPLE.

MOM, I HAVE A DATE WITH NORMA LEE, THE CAMPUS GLAMOUR PUG!

AND SHE HAS TO CALL FOR YOU?

WHAT IS THE WORLD COMING TO?

JEEPERS, MOM, I NEVER THOUGHT SHE'D EVEN GIVE ME A SECOND LOOK!

BUT NORMA, NUTTY IS THE SILENT TYPE!

I KNOW! BUT I WANT TO SEE WHAT HAPPENS WHEN THE IRRESISTIBLE FORCE MEETS THE IMMOVABLE OBJECT!

HEY, CHUM-- NUTTY COOK WAS A DATE WITH THE NORMA LEE! WOW!

OH, BROTHER! TWIRP SEASON GETS OFF TO A SENSATIONAL START!

DO SURE LIKE THAT GET-TOGETHER!

YEAH-- NORMA'S A SHE-WOLF ON A SCOOTER!

BUT NORMA, I PROMISE MY MOTHER I'LL BE HOME AT 10!

OH, NUTTY, DONT BE A CURFEW-KEEPER!

SINBETEN UP! HONEY CHILE!

JUST BECAUSE YOU TOOK ME TO A MOVIE AND BOUGHT ME A HAMBURGER, ITS NO SIN IM TOUCCUK LA SIN IM TOUCCUK LA GUNNY!

DON'T BE A MOTHBALL, NUTTY-- RELAX!

NORMA, I WANT YOU TO KNOW IM NOT A SMOOCH-DATE!

I ONLY DO THAT TO TEACH YOU A LESSON-- TO SHOW YOU HOW A GIRL FEELS WHEN A BOY IS THE WOLF!

WHY SINGLE ME OUT? I NEVER CAMPAIGNED TO KISS A GIRL IN MY WHOLE LIFE!!

BUT THANKS FOR TEACHING ME THE PROPER APPROACH! ???

WHY DID YOU KISS ME, NUTTY COOK?

WELL, YOU KEPT PUTTING THE IDEA IN MY HEAD, DIDNT YOU, NORMA?

I JUST DO THAT TO SHOW YOU HOW THINGS WORK IN REVERSE DURING TWIRP SEASON! I WANTED TO SHOW YOU HOW A GIRL FEELS WHEN A BOY IS A SMOOCHER!

YOU CAN WALK HOME!

YOU MUST COME OVER SOME TIME AND SEE MY ETCHINGS!

IMAGINE IT-- ME A WOLF! I NEVER REALLY KNEW WHAT A FATAL ATTRACTION I HAVE FOR THE OTHER SEX!... I GUESS IT JUST TOOK TWIRP SEASON TO HELP ME FIND MYSELF!

SOME GIBB ON THE PUPPY AND WAN'S MAKE A DILE!

KNOW WITH ME?

NOPE-- WITH NUTTY COOK!

GOSH, MY REPUTATION MUST BE GETTING AROUND!

SORRY, BETTY, THE ONLY TIME I HAVE OPEN IS AT 7:30, A WEEK FROM NEXT MONTH!

Time To Plant

From now until October 20 is the time to plant a number of plants, such as sweet william, larkspur, columbine, snapdragons, pansies, annual phlox, coreopsis and others. Portulaca, planted now in pots, will make excellent flowers for the house this winter and may be used in the flower show.

Grown in the house the blooms will stay open the greater part of the day. Grow some of the newer varieties: Jewel, a deep rose red has blooms an inch and a half in diameter.

There are two methods of planting seed at this time of year. The first is to plant in a well prepared bed in the garden and cover with gunny sacks tacked to light frames. Keep top soil damp until the seed begins to sprout. Remove the sack covering, and water with a fine spray until plants have become established. These plants will stand through the winter if they are not permitted to get too dry. Thinning will give larger sturdier plants.

The second method is to plant in seed boxes, flats, or pots. A good sprouting medium is half and half of peat moss and sand, sand covered with fine sphagnum moss or mica-gro. Any of these is good. As soon as the plants have developed permanent leaves, transplant to pots, later transplanting to garden or cold frame. These plants are colorful, easy to handle and make a garden lovely. Plant some extra ones to enter in the spring flower show. We have a lot of fine growers but many of them hide their candle under a bushel.

How Time Lag Gave Argentina Revolt A Break

BUENOS AIRES (UP) — Whereas today the news of wars and rumors of wars is broadcast to all parts of the world within minutes, the first word of Argentina's declaration of independence from Spain in 1810 did not reach Europe for over two months.

An article by Oscar Rios Marmol in the current issue of the Buenos Aires magazine, Mundo Argentino, recalls that news of the Argentine rebellion of May 25, 1810, reached Spain only after British vessels which were in Buenos Aires at the time docked in England the following August.

Meanwhile the revolutionaries had mobilized forces throughout Argentina, sent expeditions against the Spanish in neighboring countries, and had done 4,000,000 pesos' worth of business with British merchant vessels.

British naval officers were the only foreigners present at the first pledging of public allegiance in Buenos Aires to Argentina's May revolution. The London "Monthly Magazine" of July, 1810, reported that 150 British merchant vessels were lining Argentine shores shortly before the revolution, "unable to unload cargo for lack of licenses from Spain."

This strangulation of trade, incidentally, was the economic reason for the rebellion of the Argentine colonists. The first benefit the colonists derived from the revolution was the immediate brisk trade with Britain.

Without the period of grace provided by the time it took Spanish expeditions to cross more than 6,000 miles of water, the Argentine revolution, which touched off other revolts and campaigns and eventually freed all of South America, might have been suppressed.

Chess By Radio Speeds Up Game In Missouri

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Chess, a game in which two persons trying to outwit each other may stare for hours at odd-shaped figures on a checker-board, has taken to the air in Missouri in an attempt to speed up remote control inter-city matches.

Murvin W. Gilbert, president of the Missouri Chess Association, says the first radio match between St. Louis and Kansas City contestants was a great success, but, he adds, the game isn't over yet.

Charles H. Burton, St. Louis, and H. M. Wesenberg, Kansas City, each made 22 moves, each one communicated between the cities by radio amateurs. After three hours the game was called, to be resumed within a few weeks at the convenience of the "ham" broadcasters and the contestants.

Gilbert hails the radio match as an improvement over the old postcard method in which players advised each other their moves by mail and games sometimes took months to play. He says he's now negotiating for matches with teams in Omaha, Boston and Los Angeles.

Marry Me! Girl Pleads Answering For Rent Ad

SEATTLE (UP) — Writer Gary Doremus, Seattle, advertised his apartment for rent and got the usual flood of calls, but was stumped when a 23 year old girl home-seeker asked his age. He replied he was 28. Before he could inform her the place was already rented, she gave the punch line.

"Well, I am 23, and five feet two inches tall, blue-gray eyes and brown hair—will you marry me?" Doremus got his breath and tried to explain he couldn't say "yes". The girl cried bitterly. "Said she was desperate," Doremus mused. "She was really upset, and wouldn't tell me her name then."

Wave Never Afloat, Army Solves That

CINCINNATI, O. (UP) — The U. S. Army in Cincinnati has resorted to naval tactics to help solve the housing problem of 22 women employees.

The Ohio River division engineers are housing the employees on two quarterboats moored here, with the girls paying $15 a month rent and $2 for maid fees. "Just think," says Miss Edith Dunn, division clerk. "26 months in the WAVES and not once inside a boat. Now I go to sea by grace of the army."

President Truman has proclaimed the week of October 6-12 as "National Employ The Physically Handicapped Week," urging all employers with job openings to list them with the United States Employment Service—"It's good business." Mr. Hollis Bennett, Manager of USES at Eastland, stated that 70 handicapped veterans were registered for work in the Eastland office. These men are not objects of charity, but it is the duty of everyone in the community to help take care of them and find the proper employment for them. Give them a chance.

A report of the Association of Casualty and Executives showing that physically impaired workers actually have a record of productivity, low absenteeism and low job turnover that equals or is superior to that of the able-bodied. The report added that there is no provision whatever in insurance policies or rates which either forbids or penalizes an employer who hires handicapped persons.

This program is a year-round activity, although once a year we expect to give it a 'shot in the arm' during this special week. Hire the handicapped. "It's good business."

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (UP) — A 116-year-old pear tree on the Ray Nevius farm near here this year again bore as heavy a crop of fruit as it has ever since a pioneer doctor, Ralph H. Van Pelt, brought it West with him from New Jersey.

FAIR TO TELL STORY OF RAW SILK IN TEXAS

A complete story of the raw silk industry in Texas, a new and potentially great statewide economic venture, will be presented at the Agricultural Show of the State Fair of Texas by a group of the Texas Silk Industries instrumental in pioneering this field. The Texas Silk Industries association, W. H. Hitzelberger, vice-president and general manager of the Fair, has announced.

The exhibit will portray the process by which silk is produced, using a series of displays to trace the progress of the silkworm from the larva, through the cocoon stage, to where the silk-like strands of the cocoon are fed into the thread-spinning machine to form the finished silk.

To aid the understanding of spectators, each stage will be described and explained by C. Paul Bates, manager of the exhibit, who will be on hand to lecture and answer questions.

Hitzelberger said that a particularly notable part of the exhibit will be the demonstration of a newly invented machine that spins the raw silk into thread. This machine, designed by W. S. Roberts of Mineral Wells, is viewed as an important factor in giving impetus to the Texas silk industry, as it will permit an increased amount of the silk to be produced at less cost and with less labor.

Benefits of the new machine say that it automatically performs a job that formerly required the labor of 20 persons working by hand.

Raw silk, an industry formerly exclusive to Japan, was produced in quantity for the first time in America last year, when 9,000 pounds were produced in the Mineral Wells area. Authorities say that Texas seems to be an ideal spot for the promotion of the industry, since the mulberry bush on which the silk worms feed thrives in this region.

More than 1,000 acres in the state have been planted with mulberry bushes, as an experimental project, and plans are to extend this acreage considerably in the near future. Mulberry bushes planted in Texas are a hybrid plant developed by Luther Burbank. This is apparently the only region in the nation promoting this industry.

Louisiana Pirigues Give Way To Auto

HOUMA, La. (UP)—Louisiana's bayou folk are about ready to admit the automobile's here to stay. Before World War II hustled in the motor age in stream-laced Louisiana, the people put most of their faith in the pirogue, the sturdy little dugout popularized by their fur-hunting ancestors.

The war sent highways threading through the moss-hanging countryside. New and larger bus services lured the French-speaking folk from their traditional bayou paddling. The dugouts are practically antiquated now. Besides, it's hard to

Racing Makes County Tax Free

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (UP)—Under a state law passed primarily to aid New York City, Saratoga County this year levied a 5 per cent tax on pari-mutuel betting at the racetrack. The county's cut amounted to $1,062,000, which is quite a chunk for a county whose annual budget runs about $250,000.

What to do with the money brought suggestions from nearly every supervisor in the county. Finally they all agreed on one plan — the virtual elimination of taxes. This year Saratoga County not only will meet its expenses without local taxation but will bank nearly $300,000.

Bones Of Huge Mastadon Found In South Texas

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (UP)—From bones found during an excavation, Prof. J. E. Conner of Texas A. & I. College is piecing together the skeleton of a huge grass-eating animal that roamed the Texas plains thousands of years ago. Some of the bones were crushed, but Prof. Conner and his fellow worker, F. W. Youngman, were able to determine that the animal weighed between four and five tons and was a grass eater. Conner said the species of the south Texas mastadon were numerous at one time and he had found evidence of the animal at Banquete, Concepcion, Beeville, and on Petronilla Creek.

WAR CHEMICAL DEVELOPED TO KILL CROPS

WASHINGTON (UP)—Should the conferences and treaties again fail to bring lasting peace, the nations of the world will be faced with a new war weapon perhaps as destructive as the atom bomb—deadly chemical crop killers.

These chemicals sprayed over enemy fields, slow flying pursuit lanes could cause great populations to starve, and bring famine greater than the world has known.

Experiments carried on at Camp Detrick, Md., with more than 1,000 complex organic compounds have developed chemicals which are capable of destroying virtually all food plants, and others which promise increased food production.

The final report of this secret phase of biological warfare research, by scientists of the Army, Agriculture Department, and various universities, has been presented by the head of the project, Dr. A. J. Norman of Iowa State College, in The Botanical Gazette.

At little as one-tenth of a pound per acre of certain chemicals is enough to make useless food plants, such as cabbages, soybeans, sweet potatoes and sugar beets. In some cases the soil was unproductive for more than two months and traces of the poison remained for a year.

Tests revealed that one drop of a very dilute solution of some chemicals falling on a leaf caused the stem to twist and often to develop tumor like galls. The poisonous effect of the spray was sometimes noticeable within an hour after the drop had fallen on the leaf. If the chemicals are dissolved in oil instead of water, they will stick to the plant even if a heavy rain comes immediately after spraying. Some plants might survive the spray, but only as stunted cripples, unable to produce a normal quota of food.

Spraying tops can seriously affect the underground parts of plants, too. Potatoes were badly damaged by chemicals sprayed on their vines. Such damage would not be discovered until harvest increasing the threat of famine as a wartime weapon.

These experiments, carried on with a considerable number of food plants, indicate that no crop can be considered safe from the deadly effects of the compounds.

Turning to the peacetime work of these chemicals, one has already come into general use as a weed killer, under the convenience designation of 2,4-D. This aid to farming can be used to clear fields without lasting bad effects to the soil.

Many new plant stimulants were developed through the research work. One was discovered that will increase the yield of apples two or three tons per acre without impairing the quality. Another causes blueberries to grow without seeds. With others the sprouting time of fruit trees can be delayed for more favorable weather, thus eliminating one of the greatest causes of orchard failures.

Radio telephone connection between Sweden and the United States is expected to open by the end of this year.

Nazis Found Guilty, Receive Sentences

Pictured are five Nazis who were found guilty of war crimes and crimes against humanity by the International Military Tribunal at Nuernberg, Germany. The five pictured and those whose names are in inset, lower right, all received death sentences. Seven of the twenty-two Nazis tried were given life terms, while three, Franz Papen; Hjalmar Schacht; Hans Fritzsche were acquitted. (NEA Telephoto).

CENSUS SHOWS BIG FAMILIES CUT BY WAR

WASHINGTON (UP)—The American American family shrank to its smallest size in history during the war, and though returning servicemen are adding to its stature, it probably will never be the same, the Census Bureau reports.

Between 1940 and 1945 the size dropped from an average of 3.75 to 3.4 members. The bureau expects it to level off to about 3.6 by July, 1947, and graduate downward to 3.1 by 1950.

The abrupt decline, in spite of high wartime birth rates, occurred largely because the number of men taken into the armed forces was greater than the natural increase, the bureau said.

In a survey on what happened to the American family between 1940 and V-E Day, 1945, the bureau also found that the number of farm families was sliced by almost 12 per cent it was the greatest drop recorded. The bureau attributed it to the call of the draft and higher pay in war industries.

Although many families were broken up during the war and others doubled up, war marriages raised the total almost 2,500,000 to 37,450,000 in 1945. New families and the off-the-farm movement crowded cities with more than 3,000,000 additional families.

At the same time, close to 3,000,000 more women took over that venerable institution, the parent went off to war. That brought the total of families headed by women in the home to 8,200,000, over 20 per cent of the total.

But, the bureau measured, by now "the number of female heads

(of families) has undoubtedly declined and the number of male heads increased correspondingly."

The two person family remained the most popular brand, spreading from around 25 to 29 per cent of all families. The percentage of small families—one to

Midget Blasting Cap Grows Out Of World War

EAST ALTON, Ill. (UP)—Top secret RDX, said to be second only to the atomic bomb in explosive power has made possible production of the smallest blasting cap ever developed only 1 1/8 inches long.

F. S. Elfred, explosives division manager of the Olin Industries, Inc., says the RDX cap, known as "Big Inch" is less than one quarter inch in diameter and can be buried completely in the end of a dynamite stick for mining or quarrying use.

It has 50 per cent more power than TNT, he says, and among other things was used in super-blockbuster bombs during the war.

Idaho Orchardists Find DDT Does Trick

MOSCOW, Idaho (UP)—Nearly all of Idaho's orchardists have swung to the use of DDT sprays. Fruit growers and entomologists have discovered that the difference between the old lead arsenate sprays and new sprays shows up most in the quality of fruit on the trees. A dozen arsenate spray treatments still allowed codling moths to scar nearly half of an orchard's fruit. DDT sprayed orchards that have taken only three treatments have shown practically no damage.

Four members—increased about fifteen per cent and large families—five or more—increased about 17 per cent.

The bureau found that nearly 1,000,000 more families were headed by persons 65 years of age and over, bringing a 1945 total of 5,760,000. These increases the bureau said "reflect in part the improved employment opportunities of older people and in part the greater average length of life as a result of improved health facilities."

Polio Fatalities 5 Per Cent
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (UP)—State health department records revealed a mortality rate of five per cent among infantile paralysis victims stricken in Missouri during the present stage of the disease. Up to Sept. 1, 538 cases had been recorded in the state and this year—a new high.

BOSTON (UP)—The Rev. Charles E. Park agreed to serve as minister at Boston's First Unitarian Church until the congregation could find the right man. That was 40 years ago, and he's still in the pulpit. But the 73-year old clergyman has urged that the congregation find the "right man" pretty soon, because he wants to retire.

TO OUR MANY FRIENDS

We can scarcely express to every one of you how grateful we are for your sympathizing letters and words of consolation. Yet the loss of our son, who was a father, a brother and husband, so prostrated us that we are hardly able to write this reply. You all have assured us that time will reconcile us to our great bereavement. YET—God moves in mysterious ways, and it would help if we had the wisdom to understand why a young man in his prime, such as our love-one, had to be called. Yet your sympathizing words and letters, has enabled us to bear our sorrow. God-bless each and all of you for your thoughts of us in the dark hours, and your sweet words of consolation.

Under The Dome At Austin

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 3. (UP)—The 50th Texas Legislature will have the need for the talents of an expert penologist.

A prime duty for the session will be the drafting of a parole and pardon law. Now, for a long time back, the state has had no statutory regulation on that topic.

A ruling by the Attorney General's Department has held that Gov. Coke Stevenson and members of the State Board of Pardons and Paroles agree that he is right.

All there is that is binding on anyone is the section of the amend ed state constitution that created the Board of Pardons and Paroles, fixed the manner in which the members of the board should be selected, and limited the Governor to a 30-day stay of an execution as his sole clemency power exclusive of the board.

The constitution goes on with a clause giving the State Legislature power to regulate the procedure of the Board of Pardons and Paroles, and to enact parole laws. But that has not been done.

In absence of law on the topic the board goes along following procedure that was laid out by a previous legislature and no longer effective. The board uses the old system merely as a "policy."

on the legislature or lobby for a measure.

But they will be prepared and willing to make suggestions if the legislators call on them for recommendations.

Abner Lewis, board member, is leaving October 3, for Detroit to attend meetings of the National Prison Association and of the National Pardon and Parole Association. These sessions will be held October 4-8. Lewis has been designated by Gov. Coke R. Stevenson to attend, along with Prison Manager D. N. Stakes and Prison Warden A. C. Turner.

Lewis also will make a study of the Michigan pardon and parole laws are credited with being among the best on the statute books.

Lewis is especially fitted to make recommendations to the legislature. He was a member of the 36th legislature, and is an experienced practicing attorney. He can and will write a parole law—if the legislators ask him to do so.

"We will be ready with recommendations, if asked for them," was the way he put it. "But we will not lobby with the legislature for any measure."

Who will take the lead in presenting a law of pardons and paroles is not clear. Perhaps the move will come from the police chiefs or the sheriffs who have been complaining of old offenders being turned out to commit fresh offenses. Members of the pardon board take the position that they should not try to force their views.

judgement.
 Mary E. Evans v. Earl I. Evans, judgement.

Little success has been had with legislation having to do with penology recently. An adult probation law, authorized by popular vote in a constitutional amendment, has been submitted to two legislatures without being enacted. The offered bills proposed to let a District Judge administer the adult probation.

A national compact bill got through the House of Representatives but died in the Senate. Under its terms Texas could have reciprocated in parole supervision with other states that became signers of the compact.

which channel a case reaches the final court.

The Court of Criminal Appeals leans to strict adherence to right of jury trial, and protection of a person against being forced to observe in civil handling of juveniles.

But what is worrying the legislators who visit Austin is not what they are going to legislate about but where they are going to sleep and eat during the session.

Those who can do so, are endeavoring to make reservations already for the session which does not begin until Jan. 14. Most of them will have to leave their families at home for apartments can't be had. After the rush of the registration of the University of Texas' biggest enrollment some single rooms may be findable.

Pre-session plans to begin drafting the session appropriation bills are possible with the withdrawal of announced opposition to W. O. Reed of Dallas for House Speaker. He should be able to select his appropriations committee in advance and Lieut. Gov. Allan Shivers, his finance committee.

While there can be no official designation at this time, they could make tentative selection and request the men selected to meet together to outline the session work.

Bert Childers and the Melon Patch

Bert Childers put an ad in the Clarion the other day. Here's what it said:

"Planted more melons than I can eat this year. Stop by and pick as many as you want. All free."

As you can guess, plenty of folks sent their kids over and plenty of the parents came too. Stripped Bert's melon patch in no time. And as they went away, Bert treated the kids to lemonade, and offered the grownups a glass of ice-cold sparkling beer.

Naturally it puzzled some folks... but Bert explains: "It gives me a kick to share things when I can afford to—whether it's the melons, or the lemonade, or beer. I guess I just like to indulge my whims."

From where I sit, if we had more "self-indulgent" people like Bert—who believe in share and share alike, live and let live, this tired world would be a whole lot better off!

How much light is ENOUGH to study arithmetic?

Arithmetic requires concentration, close attention to small type, extra work for young eyes. BETTER LIGHT is needed for such exacting work to help prevent unnecessary eye fatigue, drowsiness, lack of interest.

Check carefully the lamp your children use for studying—be sure the lamp bulb is large enough—at least 100-watt or 150-watt size—and see that it has a shade which spreads the light—prevents glare.

Paul's Background and Early Life

Scripture: Acts 21:39; 22:3, 27-28; 26:4-5; Philippians 3:5-6

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

The life of the apostle Paul is a notable case history of the power and effect of early training. It is true that Paul's outlook and convictions in the mature years following his conversion were very different from those of his youth—so much so that he was persecuted for his supposed heresy by the same people whom he had formerly joined in persecuting Christians. But Paul answered his persecutors by insisting that he worshipped the God of his fathers.

The one thing that characterized his life both before and after his conversion, was a good conscience. In his persecuting days he thought he was doing God service, just as he did in the days of his enlightenment, when service had become inspired with love and devotion to Christ.

PAUL evidently owed a great heritage to the parents whose God he worshipped, and he owed a great deal to Gamaliel, the teacher at whose feet he sat in Jerusalem, for Gamaliel appears in Scripture as a tolerant and justice-loving Jewish leader.

How much Paul owed to his boyhood life in Tarsus we can only surmise. It was also a seaport town through which much trade and commerce passed, with a mixed population and the heterogeneous visitors that trade and commerce bring to a seaport. Paul's early contacts probably did much to prepare him for that cosmopolitan character he was to assume as a Christian citizen of the world, aspiring to preach the Gospel in every quarter of the then-known world.

HE had, too, the training of the Synagogue, with its school and its Sabbath service. He, like the boy Jesus, heard each Sabbath the impressive words: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might."

Paul was a Jew, and he was a Jew to the end. The foundation of what he was laid in his early youth.

Coming to know Christ enlarged his outlook. It brought into life and vigor every noble teaching of the Scriptures, and it saved him from the folly of putting his faith in the things that had made him a persecutor.

He found in Christ the great Fulfiller, the Messiah and Savior, whom the prophets had foretold. And, finding that Christ, crucified and risen, he became imbued with the Christ-like spirit of love and sacrifice and with the courage of a great mission.

inally read, "the emperor shall be the symbol of state and unity of the people, deriving his position from the sovereign will of the people," the lower house added the words, "with whom the sovereignty lies."

Representative Frank Takizo Matsumoto, American-educated member of the house, told the United Press that the representatives used a "lot of horse sense and tried very hard to prepare a constitution for democratizing Japan."

Matsumoto said "the way the constitution now stands as passed by the lower house it is far more democratic than the trend presently digestible by the Japanese mind."

Except for performing certain functions of state on behalf of the people and with advice and approval of the cabinet and making appointments as designed by the diet, the emperor will have constitutional powers related to the government.

All Japanese except the communists stand solidly for retaining the emperor system on the grounds it is the sole rallying point for the Japanese people in a time of such dire stress and its abolition would be "too drastic and would lead to confusion."

The lower house also provided that hereditary estates of the imperial household shall belong to the state. However, the house agreed with the government that the emperor's "personal" property lay outside the scope of this provision.

One observer said that "the Japanese people are now realizing the folly of the war which was caused by the militarists. Maintenance of armed forces as well as other war potentials will never be authorized under the constitution. That means there will be no possibility of Japan starting another war."

"However, for security purposes Japan will have to depend upon international co-operation. We believe we can find security in the United Nations and will try to our utmost to join that organization. The Japanese leaders recognize there is a danger that the new constitution might be exploited for undemocratic purposes."

The observer added that the article in the constitution renouncing war "sets a high ideal in the interests of peace which other nations should follow."

License Plates Change Color ALBANY, N.Y. (UP)—New York State's division of motor vehicles is bothered by license plates which change color.

Many plates have faded from the conventional deep yellow to a dark cream and can hardly be recognized as New York plates. They are made at Auburn prison and officials believe wartime material shortages and ersatz paints may be at the root of the trouble.

POPULAR PLUNKETT STAGE SHOW COMING OCT. 10-11-12TH

The Plunkett's tented stage show will be in Eastland again with an all new show for a three nights engagement under the auspices of American Legion.

The new flame-proof tent will be set up at old high school grounds.

The show now carries 25 people which is a larger troupe than last year.

Some of the new performers, Jimmie Van, a very clever comedian of big time shows, Tommy Junedus, a Brooklyn, New York, boy that is a very accomplished balancer and acrobat. Jim Plunkett is back from the army so we have all the Plunketts' back together again. Jim is the boy that handles the orchestra.

Capt. Plunkett has a troupe of trained seals doing a swell act this season.

The traveling school house that was a prewar feature on the show has recently been added again. Mr. Peevehouse a former county supt. of Lubbock County, is head of that department, so Miss Jerrine will be on her singing and Miss Gloria with her dancing.

Mr. Plunkett says the new tent seats 1000 people and a copy of their ad in the paper will admit one lady free with a paid adult admission opening night only. Government tax must be paid by holder.

Court Freezes Re-Wed Widow

PHOENIX, Ariz. (CP)—The Arizona Supreme Court not only has refused Mrs. Jewell Bertie Hallford-Williams compensation for the death of her first husband but has given her back a second spouse she does not want.

The workmen's compensation commission awarded Mrs. Hallford-Williams a monthly stipend for the death of her husband, Isaac. Then she married Wade V. Williams and the commission closed the case with a lump sum payment of $1,663.50.

A year later the twice-wed woman went into court and had her second marriage annulled. Next she offered back the $1,663.50 and asked for reinstatement of the monthly payment as a widow.

When the commission rejected the proposal Mrs. Hallford-Williams appealed to the Supreme Court. Said the august tribunal:

"The cause upon which she secured the annulment not being one authorized by law, the petitioner is legally the wife of Wade V. Williams. She is not entitled to have set aside the lump sum payment and have the original award reinstated."

"Men Of Tomorrow" Opens Sunday At Lyric Theatre

One of the year's most significant short subjects, "Men Of Tomorrow," will open at the Lyric Theatre. The technician two-reeler, written and directed by Saul Elkins, and produced by Warner Bros. in cooperation with the Boy Scouts of America, is a dramatic pictorial review of that organization's important role in the training of this nation's youth.

Scout leaders have always been among the first to take cognizance of the American boys' instincts to be in a "gang"—their own "gang" under their own leadership. They've capitalized on this inclination by using it to develop the admirable qualities of leadership and responsibilities in their charges.

During the war, these outstanding characteristics won the honors of a grateful nation for many former Boy Scouts. The same interest and enthusiasm he showed for aviation when was a Scout in Florida, won Colin F. Kelly his wings in the Air Corps. As a Scout in Hackettstown, N. J., John D. Bulkley never dreamed that one day he would be in command of the P.T. boat that sank two Jap cruisers, two armored landing boats and an aircraft tender. That same P.T. boat, with Bulkley at the helm, also evacuated General Douglas MacArthur from Corregidor. The war hero who were once Scouts are legion. Their distinguished service in wartime reflects the benefits that were derived from the inspirational guidance they received during their formative years. This is the same guidance that is shaping the future of the young Boy Scouts of America today—the best of tomorrow's America.

Unclaimed Goods Sale Nets Buyers Some Odd Items

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—Everything from soap flakes to overcrowded living room chairs was sold recently at the Southern Pacific unclaimed freight warehouse here.

The unclaimed goods are sold to the highest bidder. One purchase was sold "sight unseen." It was a box of household equipment including a gas bathroom heater and dining room chairs, which brought $22.50.

The strangest item of all the "Going, Going, Gone" man, F. M. Bilby, agent for the T&NO railroad, has yet sold at the auctions was a second hand casket, he said.

Three-Legged Deer Wins Law's Consent to Live

THE DALLES, Ore. (UP)—Bambi, the three-legged deer, will live and be a pet at the Emory Thompson ranch near here.

The young buck, found limping in a pasture, with a bad fracture, was taken to a veterinarian, who decided on amputation to save Bambi's life.

State law forbids keeping deer in captivity. So Thompson made formal application to state authorities, and under the circumstances it was decided Thompson could keep it.

JAPS POLISH DEMOCRATIC CONSTITUTION

TOKYO (UP)—The house of peers is putting finishing touches on Japan's new democratic constitution, which takes the sovereignty from the Emperor and places it in the hands of the people, guarantees them broad individual rights and renounces war.

The upper house is expected momentarily to complete its work on the draft of the constitution, which already has been approved by the house of representatives.

The lower house changed the wording to make it clear that sovereignty lies in the hands of the people. To article I, which orig-

Church Notes

The Christian Church through the years has observed the Lord's Supper each Sunday and joins with other churches in keeping World Wide Communion Sunday, October 6th.

Here is a challenging story that has revealed the spirit of Christ's sacrifice.

During World War II French soldiers in a German War Prison from the same community banded together and agreed to save a small portion of the flour issued to them by the Red Cross at different intervals. It was hard for them to save this flour since they barely had enough food to keep body and soul together. But the purpose behind the saving of the flour was greater than their physical cravings. When a small packet of flour had been filled the soldiers got permission to give it to the Red Cross with instructions that it be sent back to their home church in a small village in France, and that it be used in making the communion bread for the Lord's Supper during the Christmas season. This was a symbol of their desire to be present with their loved ones as they partook of the Holy Communion, and above all a world representation of Christ's body the supreme sacrifice for all humanity. This was their gift of sacrifice for Christ and what He meant to them.

What does the Lord's Supper mean to you?

World-Wide Communion Sunday—which will be observed this year on October 6th—has come to be the most widely recognized symbol of Christian unity across the lines of nation, race, and class. Certainly there has never been a day when such a scene of Christian fellowship was so urgently needed. For this reason, the First Methodist church of Eastland is joining with other churches of almost every denomination in this land, and around the world, in the special World-Wide Communion Service Sunday morning.

The First Baptist church of Eastland will observe the Lord's Supper on Sunday, Oct. 6, in connection with world wide communion day of all churches. Special significance will be attached to the Lord's Supper at this time because of the need of world peace. Our Lord came to bring peace in to the world and the observance of the supper will draw all men to a closer understanding of the Prince of Peace and His ideals for mankind.

I always look forward to partaking of the communion service in remembrance of Christ who first drank the bitter cup for me.

MRS. J. H. PARKER, NEW CLASS PRESIDENT, PRESIDES AT MEETING

Martha Dorcas Class of the Methodist Church was presided over by the new president Mrs. J. H. Parker Sunday morning.

ALL CHURCH WOMEN'S BANQUET

On Monday evening, Sept. 30, the W.M.U. of the First Baptist Church held its All Church Women's Banquet. The theme of the banquet was an all-seasonal banquet. Each of the four tables were decorated like one of the seasons.

Mrs. A. M. Hearn brought the invocation. "Winter Tales"—a musical warm-up with a sing-song, was led by Mrs. R. N. Grisham.

Mrs. Fred H. Porter brought the welcome. "Spring Fancies" including a stunt from each of the "Seasons" or tables.

The Summertime was represented by a duet, "The Valley of Peace" by Mrs. Hollis Bennett and Mrs. E. W. Patterson. Mrs. Donald Kinnaird, pianist (A u t u m n Leaves) brought introduction of guests from other churches and out of town guests and the new officers of the W.M.U. An address by Mrs. J. W. Ware of Ft. Worth was the highlight of the evening. The benediction was delivered by Mrs. J. H. Hart, the new president.

LOCAL CLUB AND SOCIAL ITEMS

The Stitch and Chatter Club met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Bob Burkett on College Avenue. The afternoon was spent in sewing and chatting. A "going away" gift was sent to Mrs. Wade Overly who is moving to Midland this week, and a lovely glass basket of roses was sent to Mrs. Aubrey McBee, who is ill.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake was served to the following members: Mrs. C. L. Whitley, Mrs. A. K. Garrett, Mrs. W. H. Kuykendall, Mrs. Guy Robinson, Mrs. Howard Upchurch and the hostess Mrs. Burkett. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. A. K. Garrett on Hill street.

Five Eastland Pythian Sisters attended the meeting last Tuesday evening of the Breckenridge Pythian Sisters in Breckenridge. Grand Chief Alta Lacey, Grand Mistress of Records and Correspondence Maude Wright, and Past Grand Chief Maude Sneed paid that Temple their official visit. A banquet preceded the meeting. Those attending from Eastland were Mrs. Blanche Nicols, Mrs. J. W. Foster, Mrs. Bob Burkett, Mrs. C. C. Street and Mrs. Jennie Self.

The West Ward P.T.A. held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon with the president, Mrs. L. E. Corbell, presiding.

The meeting was opened with the group singing "America." The P.T.A. prayer was given by Mrs. R. S. McCord. Program chairman, Mrs. E. T. Spence presented Mrs. Drago's student Carolyn Enis, who played "Concerto in B Minor" and "A Modern Overture." Mrs. George Wright read a message from the National President, Mrs. Mabel Hughes. Mrs. J.
