Emergency Dispatchers: Not A '10-4' World

(Editor's Note: In the second series of In Profile, we're going to explore a bit into the Emergency Dispatch service conducted through the Muleshoe City Police Department. It's a very different type of life, for four to six very different young women.)

You're sitting in front of two telephones and several radios, surrounded by a series of alarm systems, enclosed in a tiny room, which includes a periodically chattering teletype.

It's very quiet -- nothing has been happening except routine license checks by officers out on patrol -- then -- the red phone rings.

You immediately tense up, and take a quick look at the clock, because if it's a real emergency -- times will become very important later.

Reaching for the telephone with one hand, glancing at the clock and picking up a pen with the other hand -- the emergency FLIGHT FOR LIFE HERE THURSDAY NIGHT--Shortly after 8 p.m. Thursday night, the Flight For Life helicopter from St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock, screamed into Muleshoe, landing by vehicle light on the parking lot of West Plains Medical Center. The helicopter was in Muleshoe to pick up four day old Ashton DePalma, born Sunday afternoon to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond DePalma at WPMC in Muleshoe. City and county law enforcement officers look on as Flight For Life personnel and EMT's from Bailey County Ambulance Service load the infant into the helicopter to transfer to a hospital in Lubbock. The helicopter brought in special equipment to be used on the transfer.

Leading Muleshoe Program Gets Off To A Good Start

There are only four 'students,' but they started out with enthusiasm and interest Thursday afternoon, with the kickoff of the Leading Muleshoe training seminar getting underway.

A comprehensive, in-depth study of all the facets of government and "what goes into the make-up of a small city like Muleshoe" will be explored during this year by Rev. Richard Edwards, Cindy Purdy, Donna Kirk and Sandi Robison.

They were officially welcomed by Muleshoe Mayor Darrell Turner Thursday afternoon at the Muleshoe City Council Chambers.

"We like what Toni (Eagle) is trying to do for us," said the mayor. "We need the skills in leadership and the characteristics of a leader; and how to be effective as a leader."

Mrs. Eagle, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, gave a little of the background on the Leading Muleshoe program, and explained what she hopes the program will do for Muleshoe in future years.

Giving an Overview of the program was Elizabeth Watson, Bailey County

Planning Class

Bailey County EMS is attempting to have an EMT class in Muleshoe.

It takes at least 15 students in order to set up a class, and once 15 members are registered, the teacher will be obtained.

For additional information reference attending an EMT class, call the Bailey County EMS at 272-4390, 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

assistant superintendent in the Muleshoe Independent School District, then introduced MISD Superintendent, H. John Fuller, who challenged the group to learn the secrets of being an effective leader.

He said being a leader is "The ability to take and excite people working under you, giving them excitement and skills."

He boosted shared decisions, saying, "It is exciting to see the program happening in Muleshoe" and complimented the organizers of the new program.

"We must keep up with changes," he said, "We cannot afford, in Muleshoe, Texas, to not keep up with the rest of the world and expect to survive."

Muleshoe ISD will be among 1,100 public school systems in the state which will be observing Texas Public Schools Week on March 7-11.

"Although parents and the public are invited to visit our schools throughout the school year, we extend a special invitation during Texas Public Schools Week to join in a powerful partnership that will make a difference for the future of our state," H. John Fuller, superintendent, said.

"The youngsters who entered kindergarten in September will be the graduates of the year 2,000. But last year, 86,000 Texas students dropped out of school. That's 86,000 dropouts who lost their options in life. That's 86,000 dropouts whose survival will cost you -- and your children -- billions of dollars in welfare, in unemployment and in crime," Fuller said.

"More and more, we are coming to realize that the key to the economic well-being of Texas is our education system. Texas needs useful, educated citizens to meet the challenge of the future.

"We want everyone to join the partnership with the schools. The task is too important for the schools to tackle alone; we need the support of parents, businesses and all citizens to insure a brighter future," Fuller added.

Watson Junior High and Muleshoe High School will host open house Tuesday, March 8

Kiwanis Installs New Member At Friday Meet

By: R. A. Bradley

Muleshoe Kiwanis Club met Friday morning at the Old Corral Cafe with 13 members, sweetheart Sue Haire and 12 guests present. Max Crittenden called the meeting to order, Robert Montgomery led the club in the pledge to the flag; invocation was given by R. A. Bradley.

Gary Skaggs gave the friendship coin to Brad because he let the community know just how many meetings that Gary had been to in a row. Brad told Gary that if he didn't keep on coming, he would let the community know just how many meetings that Gary would miss. There is always a lot of fun over why the friendship coin is given from one member to another.

R. A. Bradley had the privilege of installing J'Don Kupe as a new member. We welcome J'Don to the Muleshoe Club. J'Don is employed at Fry & Cox, Inc. He is a member of the Bailey County EMS group here in Muleshoe and has just taken his state test for his EMT technician certification.

Keith Turner reported on the nail drive booth and the Fine Arts Carnival. The Club took in $47 and donated all of this to the Fine Arts Carnival. Thanks to all who came by their booth. Brad even talked Sonni Long into trying her hand at driving nails.

Of the 12 guests Friday morning, 11 were from Amarillo. Nine of these were Golden K members, George Mann, Bill Ferrell, Enoch Henderson, Gene Weaver, Carl Williams, Charles Barron, Clint Spaulding, Ben Pumphrey, J. P. Loswe. Also other members from Amarillo were Gage Robertson and Lloyd Hayes, Lt. Gov. of Division 33. Guest J. P. Lowe from Amarillo had a special guest from Muleshoe, Mr. J. G. 'Dolly' Arnn.

It was good to have each and every one of these guests present.

Lt. Gov. Lloyd Hayes gave the program. Lloyd told of why he was a member of the Kiwanis Club. He told of the Kiwanis aim, which is to Give-Promote-Participate - Encourage and Cooperate. It was a very good program.

Soil Test 'Important' For Crops

It's not too late to collect soil samples for testing to determine fertilizer needs for this year's crops.

Collecting soil samples now and getting them tested can help farmers get a jump on the spring rush at soil testing labs, says Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

Once fertilizer needs are determined, farmers can place their orders, Tanksley says. Again, by ordering early, they can avoid the spring rush. Also, fertilizers usually cost more in the spring when demand is greater and supplies tighter.

With fertilizer at hand, farmers can begin application when field conditions permit. This minimizes spring planting delays because of tight dealer schedules and reduces the potential for moisture loss just prior to planting, explains Tanksley.

For more information concerning soil testing, contact the county Extension office, says Tanksley.

Consider Ingredients In 'Healthy' Snacks

Some of the snack foods found in the health or natural foods sections at the supermarket may be giving you more sugar, sodium or fat than you bargained for, says a Texas Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist.

"Granola bars, dehydrated fruit bars, trail mix and other health snacks can be convenient and nutritious food choices, but also have their drawbacks," says Mary Kinney Sweeten.

Granola bars are a good example. The nutritionist explains that plain granola bars contain grains, such as oats, that add protein and fiber to the diet. With added fillings, chocolate pieces or coating and syrup added to enhance flavor and chewiness, however, some snacks are more like candy than granola.

"Dehydrated fruit snacks which come in bars, bits and rolls are convenient lunch-box treats, but don't compare to fresh fruit for nutritional value," she maintains. "The fruit snacks also have added sugars and sweeteners."

Sweeten says that microwavable popcorn, like regular popcorn, will vary in fat and sodium according to how much butter and salt is added.

"While consumers control how much salt and butter they add to the popcorn made the conventional way, the microwave product may contain more than they would normally use," she says.

According to the nutritionist, many of the trail mixes and bulk fruit and nut mixes have high nutrient values. But some, such as the bulk party mixes, are high in fat, calories and sodium.

"Moderate amounts of almost any snack can fit into a balanced diet," Sweeten says, "but consumers shouldn't assume all foods are healthy because they're advertised that way."

If you're concerned about nutrition, she advises carefully reading the ingredients list and nutrition information on snack food labels to find out just what you're getting.

Senior Spotlight

Anthony Williams is being featured this week in the Sudan Senior Spotlight. The son of Celia Williams, Anthony 17, was born in Littlefield on Dec. 24, 1964. He is an active member of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church of Sudan.

"Although Anthony lives in a household of six brothers and eight sisters, he is a special individual at home and in school" said Star Tennyson.

In 1986-87, Anthony went to State in Track and was a member of the Regional Track Champion team. In basketball, he was on the 1987, Runner-up team at Regionals. He served as secretary of the band in his freshman, junior and senior years.

"In school, Anthony is very dedicated. He tries not to be late for classes but if it happens his excuse is, "sorry, my zipper wouldn't zip".

His plans for the future includes South Plains or Ranger Junior College with a major in coaching and teaching skills. Of SHS, Anthony said, "It's a great school and has some great people. I wouldn't want to graduate any place else". "School is about learning and if I've learned one thing in my life, it's to do my homework and turn it in on time" he said.

"Anthony has had a good life and if he could be reincarnated, he would be himself again. If one person has had an impact on his life it would have to be his mom. "She's taught me to stay in school, do the right things and to make something good out of myself".

"His advise for underclassmen is keep the school looking good and treat the teachers nice."

PROPERTY TAX RENDITIONS

HELP YOU PROTECT YOUR RIGHTS AS A TAXPAYER

is a report to the appraisal district that lists all the taxable property you own or control on January 1, 1988. You may also give your opinion of the property's value, if you wish.

You must file a rendition if you own tangible personal property used to produce income-such as the machinery and equipment used by a business.

The appraisal district may require any taxpayer to file a rendition by sending the taxpayer a written notice and a rendition form.

You may want to file a rendition, even if you aren't required to file, to preserve some of your rights as a taxpayer:

- You put your correct mailing address on record so your tax bills will go to the right address. Even if your bill goes to the wrong address, the law still holds you responsible for paying your taxes on time or else paying extra charges for late payments.
- You can put your own opinion of your property's value on record. If the appraisal district then places a higher value on your property, it must notify you in writing of the higher value and explain how you can protest that value to the appraisal review board.

- By filing a special type of rendition called a report of decreased value, you can notify the appraisal district of significant damage to your property that occurred in 1987. The district will send someone to verify the damage and take it into account when assigning a 1988 value to your property.

File renditions

with your local appraisal district at the address shown below. Forms are available at this office.

The new deadline for 1988 renditions is March 31. You can get an extra 30 days if you ask for it in writing before the March 31 deadline.

For more information, get a free copy of the pamphlet, Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities, at your appraisal district office or from the State Property Tax Board in Austin.

Emergency Dispatchers

someone walks into the police department with a problem.

They are required to keep up with their officer, note the time he is out with a vehicle, or on a call at a residence or vehicle, on a parking lot or in an alley behind a building. That officer has 'X' amount of time to check back in with the dispatcher, or she is on the radio asking for a response from the particular officer.

At the same time, they are required to make quick -- and totally accurate -- responses to other emergencies. Someone who is hysterical may call in and report their residence afire. In that case, the dispatcher must calm them down to learn the exact address.

JODI ELLARD, DISPATCHER

MARTINA VALDEZ, DISPATCHER

Or a hysterical spouse or child may call in with a medical emergency. That dispatcher is responsible for getting quick and accurate directions to the location of the medical emergency. In the case of a vehicle accident, it is the responsibility of the dispatcher to first notify the ambulance, if there are injuries, notify the city police, if the accident is within the city limits, or the Texas Department of Public Safety if the accident is outside the city limits.

In the case of a fire, she must 'page' the fire department, giving them the location of the fire, and what type of fire is involved -- grass fire, residence, business, vehicle, or other -- she is expected to have complete and accurate information at all times, and in all circumstances.

When the midnight dispatcher comes on duty, and it is usually Jodi Ellard or Maria Richards, she is facing very often a very long eight hours.

Then, comes that time, such as a recent Saturday night, shortly before 1 a.m., when a city officer was involved in a high speed vehicle chase of theft suspects -- another officer was tied up with the allegedly stolen equipment, a third officer was out in the county attempting to get back to town to 'back up' the patrol officer who was stopping the suspect vehicle.

Right in the middle of all this, with extra officers being summoned from their homes, a major accident is reported.

A major accident is one involving injuries requiring an ambulance. So the ambulance service had to be summoned, along with the THP, in this instance, Trooper Manuel Ponce who was off duty and at his home.

Shortly after the ambulance had delivered an accident victim to West Plains Medical Center and were still at the hospital, a call came in from a rural location to pick up an elderly woman on a medical emergency.

By the time the night settled down, it was somewhere around 5:30-6 a.m. and everything started being back to routine.

Not just anyone can be an emergency dispatcher. It takes poise, self-assurance, good ears, the ability to make quick and accurate decisions, emotionally stable, the ability to absorb information, and accurately record it accurately and quickly, and especially care. Care for the officer on duty, who relies on the dispatcher for his own personal safety, to provide him with accurate information, and to answer when he calls.

Lots and lots of potential dispatchers cannot handle the stress of this most unusual of occupations, and are forced to give that particular job up without even completing training.

from 7-9 p.m., and the community is invited to see firsthand how the school system operates, according to Bob Graves and Wayland Ethridge, respective principals.

(Editor's Note: The following information was compiled by MISD Superintendent H. John Fuller, to help you understand how your school system operates.)

When Texas declared its independence from Mexico, one of the grievances listed was Mexico's failure to provide public education for Texas children.

book, he stressed how important "One Minute" can be so very important in day-to-day decision making.

He boosted setting goals, and realistic times to achieve these goals. He suggested writing goals down, and reviewing them at least one minute for every day.

"We need to be prepared to attract people who can utilize our resources," said the superintendent, as he spoke of realistic goals for attracting small industries into the immediate area.

One thing stressed by the superintendent was "You don't achieve through competition -- you achieve by setting goals and working toward these goals -- being achievement driven -- not driven by competition."

Several important things as touched on by Fuller included that it is important to give One Minute Praises, telling the group that people like to be told they are doing a good job. However, he suggested that something specific must be pointed out -- not just general praises.

Also of importance was one minute reprimands, according to the speaker.

He was followed by Gayle Fuller, consultant, who presented "Prescription for a Happy Life" by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, and "Problem Solving."

The program got off to a good, and an exciting start for those participating.

Generally, it takes from a week to ten days to know whether someone can handle the job of emergency dispatcher and in some instances, some are given more of a chance to handle the stress, along with several radios, telephones and the teletype when are are clamoring for attention at just about the same time.

Advanced technology has provided almost instant communications with other officers and other cities, but a good dispatcher is still a necessary ingredient to make it all work.

Sometimes officers, ambulanc-ce personnel, and fire department members become rather fearful of an inattentive, slow and inaccurate dispatcher. They realize they have to depend on the emergency dispatcher in many instances for their own safety, so rightfully expect to have the best communications system possible.

Tip your hat to your emergency dispatcher -- they are the lifeline to your safety -- and if they have emergency situations to handle for you -- realize that being an emergency dispatcher is not always a 10-4 (okay) world.

Public School Week

ren. The first state constitution provided $2 million for education, and the Masonic Lodges of Texas offered the first floors of their lodges to house those fledgling schools.

From the very beginning, a partnership between Texans and their schools existed. Those early Texans realized the importance of a strong public education system, and they sought to make education a community affair. That partnership spirit still exists today.

Next week is Texas Public Schools Week. Schools and communities all over Texas will be celebrating Texas Education with the theme "Texas Public Schools and YOU - A Powerful Partnership."

Since HB72, many changes have occurred in curriculum, management and financing. Some of those changes have been challenging, but we have many victories to share with our communities.

We have in the Muleshoe ISD many activities that include: the School Improvement Plan, which endorses the philosophy that "All Children Can Learn;" teachers have high expectations for children; extended thinking skills are stressed; teachers collaborate with each other across campuses; and teaching practices are aligned with the most current, appropriate professional literature and successful practices.

Parents and citizens alike, we invite you to join in a partnership with our schools. Come and see for yourself how children are being taught and how your tax dollar is being spent. Be a part of the team that fosters sound, quality education in Muleshoe ISD.

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTIONS

CAN LOWER THE PROPERTY TAXES ON YOUR HOME

A homestead exemption lowers the property taxes on your home by lowering its taxable value. For example, if your home is valued at $50,000 and you receive a $5,000 homestead exemption, your home will be taxed as if it were worth only $45,000.

You qualify for a homestead exemption if you owned your home on January 1 and used it as your primary residence on January 1. It doesn't matter whether your home is a house, a condominium or a mobile home.

Exemptions are available to all homeowners on their school taxes. Additional exemptions are available to homeowners who are disabled or age 65 and over. Other exemptions may be offered to homeowners by school districts, counties, cities, and special districts. All taxing units offer exemptions to disabled veterans.

Apply to your local appraisal district office at the address shown below for all exemptions you may qualify for. Application forms are available at this office.

If you received a homestead exemption on your present home in 1987, you won't need to apply again for 1988 unless the chief appraiser requires you to reapply.

However, if you passed your 65th birthday or became disabled before January 1, file a new application to receive the additional exemptions.

If you haven't received an exemption on your present home, or if you've moved to a new home, make a new application for 1988.

The deadline for applications is April 30, 1988. Contact your appraisal district before then if you need more time.

For more information, get a free copy of the pamphlet, Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities, at your appraisal district office or from the State Property Tax Board in Austin.

Methodist Women Set Prayer Day

World Day of Prayer begins its second century of celebration on Friday, March 4. A prayer movement of global dimensions, World Day of Prayer is a worldwide expression of mutual prayer and Christian unity, explained a spokeswoman from the First United Church in Muleshoe.

It began 101 years ago in the USA as a day of prayer for mission. It has now expanded, until today, it is celebrated as a common day of prayer by thousands upon thousands of Christians in 170 countries and regions of the world.

The same theme and worship materials are used worldwide translated into hundreds of languages and dialects. In many countries, the event serves as a catalyst for women to come together to bring about changes in their lives.

The theme of this 101st World Day of Prayer is "Open Doors." Written by both Protestant and Roman Catholic women from Bolivia it reflects the background and concerns of South American women who are struggling both to achieve greater freedom and to elevate the quality of life for themselves and for all people.

Church Women United (CWU), since its founding in 1941, has been the official sponsor of World Day of Prayer in the United States and has assumed responsibility for the preparation and distribution of World Day of Prayer resources and materials. CWU is the ecumenical movement that brings protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox women together into one Christian community of prayer, advocacy and service.

Unified by a common faith in Christ, the Women of CWU work for the elimination of poverty of women and children and issues of peace and justice.

World Day of Prayer observances will be held at the First United Methodist Church chapel in Muleshoe on March 4 at 7 p.m. All women in the surrounding community have been issued an invitation to attend.

Safe Spring Break Needs Students 'Help'

To all students contemplating Ski Break:

Whether you're headed for the stock show, the slopes, or just the city part, there's one item we hope you'll make use of when you hit the road. That item is the safety belt in your car.

Sure, it seems obvious. But recent surveys indicate over half of Texas teens (aged 15-19) still aren't buckling up.

If you're one of the minority that does wear belts, fantastic! Keep it up! If you're still among the unbuckled majority, the rest of this message is for you.

Do you feel that buckling up takes too long? Check it with a stop watch. It takes three seconds, or less.

Do you find safety belts uncomfortable? It's just a matter of what you're used to. Think back to your first week with contact lenses. Or pierced ears. Or braces on your teeth. If none of that convinces you, try to imagine the comforts of life in a wheelchair.

Maybe you think accidents happen to someone else. The fact is, until you turn 35, you have more chance of dying in a car wreck than from any other cause. You have an even greater chance of suffering a head or spinal cord injury which could drastically change your life.

Perhaps you think safety belts are only for bad drivers -- not for good ones, like you. It doesn't work that way.

Even if you do everything right, things can go wrong.

Tires blow. Brakes fail. Pavement ices over. Drunks weave over the center line and take the wrong side of the highway. A safety belt will keep you behind the wheel and give you a fighting chance -- in a collision, a rollover, or a slide down the embankment.

Maybe, despite everything you know about safety belts, you still get the feeling they're just not cool.

When it comes to cool, there are two kinds of people: the ones who follow the trends, and the ones who set them. Be a trendsetter. Buckle up!

HEALTH EXPENDITURES IN TEXAS SLOW

Growth of health care expenditures in Texas has slowed, with physician, dental, other professional services, and prepayment and administration showing the largest declines. This two-year trend over 1984 and 1985 also reflects a national slowdown attributed to lower inflation rates for health care services and decreased demand for health care, particularly hospital care. Texans spent 93 percent of the national average per capita, which decreases in population, according to the February Texas Medicine. Texans spend more out-of-pocket for health care than does the US as a whole, and government sources and private insurance play a smaller role in Texas, according to authors Dr. Charles E. Begley and Douglas A. Mains, both with The University of Texas School of Public Health, Houston.

SPS Rate Decrease Pends City Acceptance

Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) and a committee representing the cities SPS serves in Texas announced last week they have agreed to a $14.4 million, or 3.1 percent overall, reduction in electric rates for SPS's residential, commercial, industrial and other retail customers.

Of that amount, $10.9 million is applicable to customers within the city limits of the communities SPS serves in Texas. The remainder would apply to rural areas when approved by the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUCT).

The decrease reflects lower SPS costs of providing service, principally through savings made possible by federal tax reform, said Sam Hunter, SPS vice president of rates and economic research. Effective with SPS's current fiscal year, federal tax reform decreased the Company's federal income tax.

SPS announced in October it intended to request a rate reduction. A committee representing the cities was organized to examine the proposed lower rates. Chairman of the committee is Merrill E. Nunn, Amarillo city attorney.

SPS is filing the request with 74 cities it serves in Texas. If approved by the cities, the decrease is expected to go into effect March 28. A monthly bill for a residential customer using 1,000 kilowatt-hours would drop $3, from $73.51 to $70.51. In Texas, cities have original jurisdiction over rates within their city limits.

The PUCT regulates rates in rural areas, and SPS will request the commission approve an identical reduction for SPS's rural customers.

SPS expects these rates to be approved within the next few months, Hunter said. The staff of the PUCT has been reviewing the effects of federal tax reform on electric and telephone utilities throughout the state of ensure tax savings are recognized in rates.

March Of Dimes Local Drive Is Successful

The March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation would like to thank the residents of Muleshoe for their generous contributions in the recent Mother's March campaign. Under the leadership of Linda Huckaby, Muleshoe has shown its support with contributions totaling over $170! Thanks Muleshoe!

Linda and her 4-H members covered several blocks within the town distributing educational materials and collecting the funds. The funds raised from the event will be used to continue research, education and public affairs programs aimed at the prevention of birth defects.

The South Plains Division of the March of Dimes, along with Junior League of Lubbock, will sponsor a Parent Communication Seminar on March 3, in Lubbock.

School counselors, nurses, youth pastors and other youth sponsors will be invited to participate in the training seminar. These "certified trainers" will then be able to go out into their own communities to train parents in communication skills for discussing contemporary subjects with their children.

For more information about the seminar, please contact Amie Hukill (March of Dimes) at 797-6771 or Judy Copeland (Junior League) at 742-2352.

Again the organizers of the March of Dimes said they wish to thank Muleshoe for the generous support during this educational fundraiser. With such support they say they can one day insure that every baby is born healthy.

MISD Trustee Election Set; Drug Canine Program Adopted

Trustees of the Muleshoe Independent School District have officially called a Trustee Election for Saturday, May 7, 1988.

It was explained that this is a different date from previous years. In previous years, the date was the first Saturday in April.

The reason for this change is that Texas is now holding a Super Tuesday Primary Election in March, making the first Saturday in April a run-off election date. The law will not allow for a non-partisan and a partisan election to be held at the same time.

An additional regulation this year requires that all school board members receive at least 20 hours of training prior to calling an election.

H. John Fuller, superintendent of the Muleshoe ISD said, "Muleshoe ISD is extremely proud of the fact that all seven board members meet and exceeded 20 hours of required training. The MISD trustees averaged over 38 hours of training per person, with some individuals exceeding 45 hours. The number of hours each board member received was officially read into the minutes of the meeting as required by law."

"The positions currently held by Lyndon Huckaby and Gordon Wilson will be open this year," added the superintendent.

Anyone interested in serving as a trustee in the Muleshoe Independent School District may sign up from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. in the school administration office. Deadline to file for a place on the ballot for the Muleshoe Independent School District Trustee Election is March 23, 1988.

MAJOR DECISIONS

At the last regular meeting of the Muleshoe Board of Trustees, several decisions were made.

Approval was given to the administration to seek bids on new playground equipment for both Dillman Elementary School and for DeShazo Elementary School.

Secondly, the trustees approved a canine drug dog program on a trial basis for the remaining 1987-88 school year.

Also, the trustees accepted a resignation from Kim Nelson, elementary P. E. teacher and coach, effective immediately, and they accepted a resignation from head basketball coach Lonnie Scott, effective at the end of the 1987-88 school year.

In other action taken by the board, two year contracts were offered to the following personnel: Tom Jinks, assistant superintendent; Elizabeth Watson, assistant superintendent; Betty Jennings, director of Special Education; Georgia Pena, director of Special Programs; Wayland Ethridge, High School principal; Bob Graves, Watson Junior High principal; Joe Cearley, DeShazo Elementary principal and Barbara Finney, Dillman Elementary Principal.

At its last meeting, the board offered a new contract to H. John Fuller, superintendent, extending his current contract through the 1991-92 school year.

All administrator contracts included the same minimum salary increase that all teachers who have not reached the minimum pay step will be receiving in the coming year. This amounts to a $1,140 salary increase.

The board also heard informational reports from H. John Fuller relating to school functions and activities.

At its regular meeting on Monday, February 22, the Muleshoe Independent School District Board of Trustees approved the initiation of a Canine Drug Prevention Program.

Trustees voted to strengthen their current drug education program by adding a prevention component. A canine program will begin in March of this year and continue through the remaining part of the year subject to review during the summer months.

The program will include random monthly visits to all campuses by a trained drug-sniffing dog and at least one professional dog handler, and an educational component that will consist of assemblies for students at all grade levels. The purpose of the program is "NOT to find drugs on any MISD campus." However, if any drugs are found, both the parents and law enforcement authorities will be immediately notified.

Superintendent H. John Fuller has indicated that he is extremely proud of the progress this district has made in the past four years in both awareness and educational programs.

Both teachers and students have worked in a commendable way in helping "Say No To Drugs." This program is simply being added to further strengthen Muleshoe ISD's position AGAINST DRUGS!

As with its educational program, Muleshoe ISD strives to be #1 in all endeavors. With this additional component, says the school board, MISD will have a well-rounded drug awareness and prevention program.

It's my top priority. Because I'm concerned about creating jobs. Because government is already taking too much from us in taxes. Because the Liberal Democrats who run the Texas Senate want to keep the door open to making you pay a state income tax.

Let's close that door. And protect an important advantage Texas has when it comes to attracting industry and creating jobs. I'm a cattleman and a businessman, I'm a conservative who believes in our Free Enterprise System and that "the government that governs least, governs best."

If you agree, I'm asking for your vote and your help.

At this time we are living in a world full of tension. Fears of nuclear war are with us every day. In times past, men have made one of two choices... to rely on their own abilities... or to do what they can and place their lives in the hands of the Lord. The Bible tells us how men fared with the choices that they made. The strength of God is sufficient for all our needs, and men who humbled themselves and trusted in God always fared better. Let us judge our future by the past and rely on God for our needs.

In Fashion
Several hat designers say there is a growing popularity for hats this spring and they are showing many charming creations.
Hats, like many accessories, are designed to complement one's costume. Choose a hat that is in proportion to the outfit you will wear.
Consider your height with shoes—high heels low crown, low heels high crown. Wide shoulder pads call for a broader brim.
