Plans are rapidly taking form for the 17th District American Legion and Women's Auxiliary convention which convenes in Eastland Saturday and Sunday. Dulin-Daniel Post No. 70 of the American Legion of Eastland and Eastland Women's Auxiliary will be host to the visiting Legionaries.

Reservations at the hotels in Eastland by parties coming to attend the 17th district American Legion convention here Saturday and Sunday have just about taken all available rooms, according to report, and local legion committees have issued appeals to residents of Eastland to place as many bedrooms as possible in their home at the disposal of the local committees. Most bedrooms will be needed for Saturday night only.

Cecil Holfield, Eastland Director of the Possum Kingdom Fish and Game Association, told the Telegram this morning that the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Association called to meet tonight had been postponed on account of bad weather, until Friday night, February 27.

Begin to hear some comments from voters that political campaign in the County is not getting shaping up as in other counties in the State. We really thought that a fairly good picture of the political field so far as Eastland county is concerned, had been given. Others say not, however and declare that many prospective candidates have not convinced the public that they even know their own plans.

At 10.00 a. m. today, committees in charge of ticket sales for the Fellowship Banquet to be at Eastland Methodist Church annex Thursday evening, reported 125 sales. They stated also that the banquet, which has been postponed on account of bad weather, would be held regardless of the weather. Judge Clarence Kraft of Fort Worth is to be the speaker and his subject will be: "Juvenile Delinquency - Its Cause and Remedy."

Life Insurance Death Benefits Up In Texas

Texas families received $39,991,000 in life insurance death benefit payments during 1947, compared with $38,065,000 in the previous year and $35,784,000 in 1945, the Institute of Life Insurance reported today.

The death benefit payments in this state last year were made under 28,739 policies, compared with 29,466 policies in the previous year and 29,984 policies in 1945. The aggregate 1947 payments in the state, $29,274,000 was under 10,717 ordinary policies; $6,936,000 was under 2,907 group life insurance policies; and $3,779,000 was under 16,115 industrial insurance policies. These payments helped keep families together, provide educational funds, pay off mortgages, provide retirement income or stabilize business organizations in all parts of the state.

The national total death benefits paid last year was $1,339,390,000 which compares it with $1,280,362,000 in 1946 and $1,279,667,000 in 1945.

The 1947 national benefits were paid under 1,270,233 policies, compared with 1,259,844 policies in 1946 and 1,318,334 policies in 1945. Of the aggregate payments nationally last year, $955,786,000 was under 351,535 ordinary policies; $202,640,000 was under 102,289 industrial policies.

"The death benefits nationally were the greatest on record," the Institute continued. "This was in spite of the lowest death rate among policy holders ever experienced. The greatly increased volume of life insurance owned accounted for the greater benefit payments. Death benefit payments last year were 33 per cent greater than in pre-war 1941, and the total amount of life insurance in force was 53 per cent greater."

Long's Victory A Sweeping One

NEW ORLEANS — Earl K. Long, brother of the late Huey, won a sweeping victory in yesterday's state Democratic primary to end eight years of reform government in Louisiana and return to the governor's office in the state's skyscraper capitol.

Democratic nomination is the same as election in Louisiana, because of a shortage of Republicans. Long's opponent was Sam H. Jones, a Lake Charles corporation lawyer. Long called him "High Hat, Sweet Smellin' Sam," "Sambo" or "Sam Houston."

Returns from 1,047 of the state's 1,878 precincts gave Long 233,041 votes to Jones 130,327. Long apparently also carried a slate of five other state officers, including the lieutenant governor, into office with him.

In one respect, Long's apparent election paralleled the career of his assassinated brother, the late Sen. Huey P. (Kingfish) Long. Huey was defeated once for governor with all the newspapers of New Orleans against him, but won in 1928.

Judge Refuses To Grant Motion

INDIANAPOLIS — Federal Judge Luther M. Swygert today denied a motion to dismiss an injunction petition filed by the national Labor Relations Board against the International Typographical Union, (AFL).

Swygert's decision cleared the way for a hearing on whether the union should be enjoined from alleged violations of the Taft-Hartley law in its dealings with national newspapers.

The ruling today upheld, in effect, certain sections of the new law which the union had claimed were unconstitutional.

Negro Loses One More Round Of University Fight

AUSTIN — Herman Marion Sweat, Negro mail carrier from Houston, today lost another round in his battle to enter the University of Texas Law School. The Third Court of Civil Appeals, the last hurdle between Sweat and the State Supreme Court, upheld a decision of a district court barring the negro from entering the school.

The court's action affirmed a ruling last May 16 of the 126th District Court of Travis County. At that time the court denied Sweat a writ of mandamus, a legal action that would have forced the University's board of regents to admit him to the school. Chief Justice James W. McClendon charged in the court's ruling today that the State of Texas had "effectually accomplished" by a temporary law school, set up in Austin under the Texas State University for negroes, all that was required under the United States constitution.

Traders Watching Hog Prices Closely

CHICAGO — Grain traders watched hog prices at the nation's stockyard closely today, wondering whether the price of feed would skid along with those of pork-on-the-hoof.

They feared that with farmers sending their hogs to market in huge lots, the demand for feeds such as corn would decrease. That would let feed grains fall in price again and possibly drag the price of cereal grains such as wheat along with them.

Prices on the grain exchanges are important to the nation's housewives for they have the greatest single effect of any influence upon food prices at the corner grocery store.

She Caught A Fish Or Almost, Anyway

MT. CARMEL, Mich (UP)—Miss Allie Seitz tells a fishing story with a twist.

SOME NOT TO BACK JESTER IN FIGHT ON TRUMAN PLANS

Long smouldering differences between factions of both the Democratic and Republican parties, in Texas broke out in flames today.

Several prominent Texas Democrats refused to back Gov. Beauford H. Jester in his campaign against President Truman's civil rights program. And in Republican ranks there was a wide open crack between supporters of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the GOP presidential nomination.

Hope For Peace

WASHINGTON — Democratic leaders clung to their hopes of weathering the party storm today despite growing evidence that southerners are serious about threatened reprisals.

Party spokesmen said privately that no moves were planned to appease Southern Democrats, who are aroused over President Truman's civil rights program. Administration supporters admitted the threat of a party split appeared more serious than ever before but believed there was still hope that tempers would cool.

The southerners may be slapped again today by a House judiciary subcommittee vote approving anti-lynching bill, one of Mr. Truman's proposals.

1948 Red Cross Quota For This County, $6,039

Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, Chairman of the American Red Cross for Eastland county, stated Tuesday that the Eastland county quota for 1948, which is to be raised in a "funds campaign" that will begin possibly about the 8th of March, would be $6,039.

Mrs. Perkins stated that more Red Cross funds were expended in Texas during 1947 than were spent in any other state during that period. This was due to the Texas City disaster and that of a number of cyclones in the state.

Among those active in Red Cross work in Eastland county are E. E. Freysehlag, Harry Taylor and E. E. Woody of Eastland. Mr. Woody is treasurer of the County organization.

OFFICE Nurse

By Adelaide Humphries

© by Adelaide Humphries, Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Janice Hilary, pretty, efficient young nurse to popular and handsome society doctor Eric Holbrook, runs his office for him. Eric and Janice have fallen in love—although Eric already has a wife (who is away) and Janice has a boy-friend (Ben Archer). They continue on formal terms with each other at the office, meeting in over-the-way restaurants when they want to be alone together. They both know things can't go on this way indefinitely but put off doing anything about it.

XVI
 JANICE, too, had to take care to guard their secret—hers and Eric's. She wondered, looking into her mirror, why it was not pointed on her face for the whole world to see. It was impossible that she should continue to look exactly the same. All that was bottled up inside ought to rise to the surface and break through.

Sometimes she thought certain people—her mother, whose mild blue eyes were remarkably keen, Miss Willows, whose long nose could pick out anything amiss like a bloodhound on a trail, Ben—But she was not going to think of Ben yet, either. Sometimes she thought these persons did glance at her oddly. Perhaps they sensed a difference in her that they could not see.

As one day, a long idle Sunday when Eric had had to go somewhere on Long Island, her mother had suddenly asked Janice if she were feeling well.

"Why, of course, darling," Janice's answer may have come too hastily, too heartily. "Why shouldn't I be? I never felt better in all my life."

"Yes, I guess that's so," Mrs. Hilary spoke in a guarded tone, and her glance, resting on her daughter's flushed face, was searching, unmissed. "You do look well, very well indeed. But you've been working so hard, dear—after hours and even evenings." Janice had not always said she was working when she had called up to say she would not be home until late, but she had given that impression. "You can't keep on, you know, dear." Her mother's tone was as mild as her blue eyes, yet there was an urgency about it. "It will get the best of you in the long run. It will sap your youth, your strength. And, of course, Janice, you won't want to keep on working all your life."

"WELL, no—hardly!" Janice's laugh was rather forced. She thought, Now what is Mother driving at? What does she think is wrong with me that she must step in and try to remedy? It was wonderful having a mother like hers, but it could be trying. Janice had never thought that before. She had never had anything to hide from her mother before, either.

"You'll want to be married one of these days." This remark had a casual, innocent sound but there was much that was not casual or innocent behind it.

"What makes you think that?" Janice was glad that she was occupied mending some winter things.

"Why shouldn't I think so?" Mrs. Hilary deposited herself on the edge of Janice's clothing-strewn bed with an air that stated she had no intention of being dismissed because her daughter was so busy. "What girl does not want to be married? I certainly did."

Janice smiled. Her mother was so obvious. But why was she worried? Janice did not consider herself resigned to single blessedness at her age. At least she had not, but now—No, that was the kind of thinking she and Eric had forbidden themselves. Who could tell what the future would bring? Who wanted to know, with the present so perfect?

YET afterwards Janice was to mark the conversation on this particular Sunday as the beginning of the end of that perfection. She had known it could not endure forever. That was why she and Eric had shielded it so carefully.

"We want you to be happy, dear." Her mother's voice was unusually gentle.

"Of course," Janice answered. I am happy, she told herself. I am terribly, unbelievably happy because I have Eric and his love.

It cannot last. She did not really have him. He did not belong to her. It was inconceivable that he ever would.

I am in love with a married man. There, she had said it to herself. It was a fact. It was such a hard fact it could not be pushed into the background. Janice experienced a deep dismay, an utter wretchedness that had nothing to do with the happiness she had just claimed was hers.

"I rather hoped, your father and I," her mother was saying in a voice that seemed far away, "that you might marry Ben. He is such a nice boy. I know, dear, that it's not supposed to be our business, and we don't want to interfere but as I said, all we want is your happiness. We want that very much."

"I'm fond of Ben," Janice heard herself answering, "but I don't love him."

"How can you be so sure?" her mother asked. Her eyes, her tone, added, How do you, my daughter, know so much about love unless you have found it?

Janice hoped her eyes did not give her away. "I'm as sure as anyone could be." She knew her tone was too light, almost frivolous.

Her mother gave a little sigh. She got up from the bed and put an arm around her daughter's straight shoulders. She brushed Janice's cheek with her lips; a fleeting caress, yet it turned Janice's heart over and brought tears to her eyes and a lump to her throat.

And after her mother left the room, Janice sank down on the bed and covered her face with her hands. Mildred Hilary had given her daughter something. But she had taken something away, too.

T & P Inaugurates Use Of New Type Sleeping Car

DALLAS, Tex. Feb. 24—Texas and Pacific Railway's first unit of post war passenger equipment made its public debut this afternoon as it went into service at Ft. Worth on the "Sunshine Special" operating between El Paso and New York. Officials at T & P headquarters in Dallas said the car would be used on that part of the transcontinental run between Fort Worth and St. Louis for the time being.

It is a sleeping car, "Eagle" brand, first of 19 all-room sleepers for use on the T&P's Texas streamliners, the Texas and Louisiana "Eagles." "Eagle" brand consists of 14 roomettes, four bed-

roomettes and four bedrooms like "Eagle Island."

Passage in the new equipment will be at the regularly published rates, depending upon the type of accommodation purchased — no extra fare charge.

Besides all the up-to-date lighting, air conditioning, interior fabrics and colors, the new T&P equipment has some other special features. The coaches, accommodating 60 passengers, are fitted with Rota-Cline seats and wide, clear view windows with a glare resistant glass. A few of the coaches have sandwich grills at the end of each car where passengers can sit at a counter and order light lunches.

Most of the diners are in combination with lounge sections, the dining room proper seating 24 persons, the lounge 18. The all-room sleepers, which eliminate the old-style open section berths, offer roomettes, bedroom and drawing room accommodations with the standard car consisting of 14 a reasonably complete streamliner in operation, because Mopac is receiving new car deliveries coinciding with those of the T&P. This would apply mainly to the passenger run between St. Louis and Ft. Worth.

In regard to exact scheduling of the two new "Eagle" trains which will run over T&P mainlines between Texarkana and El Paso and New Orleans, Dallas and Fort Worth, that point still is under study, according to Chester G. Hayes, the railroad's traffic vice-president. However, regardless of what final schedule conclusions are reached, the two "Eagles" as such will replace the T&P's long-advertised, crack passenger train, the "Sunshine Special."

Matching blue and silver Diesel electric locomotives to pull the new T&P light weight cars have been supplying motive power for regular passenger equipment since April, 1947, awaiting delivery of the $5,800,000 worth of baggage and mail cars, coaches, diners, lounges and sleepers. This $5-

800,000 figure, T&P Purchasing Agent Howard Crouse stated, is $2,300,000 higher than when the cost originally was estimated by the manufacturers. Pullman-Standard (19 sleeping cars) and American Car and Foundry (the 29-car consist of diners, lounges, coaches, baggage and mail cars).

Watches Held For Drinks Called Pawnbroking

PEORIA, Ill. (UP)—A Peoria bartender has learned that giving drinks on the cuff is pawnbroking if he holds the man's watch for security.

Police were investigating a $25 burglary in a tavern when they discovered a cigar box filled with watches. The bartender explained he was keeping them for "security."

Detective Capt. Fred Nusbaum announced police were investigating not only a robbery but operation of a pawnshop without a license.

Your Insurance and Your Future—
... are all bound up together. The person who keeps adequately insured is not only wise but thrifty since insurance provides protection for the thrifty dollar. If loss occurs in the household of the uninsured his life's saving are wiped out, but not so with the insured man. To be both thrifty and wise, be insured. And the less we have the more it is a part of wisdom to guard against financial destruction.

THE TURN OF THE TIDE

I've never seen the ocean, yet I can feel the majestic swinging tide of the waters as plainly as if I were standing there.

But it's in a different way. I feel the turn of the tide most at the turn of the year... as soon as December is over, and January begins.

Are you excited as I am then? Some deep, overpowering hastening flood of emotion flows over my heart... because the moment the New Year comes... I know Spring can't be far behind.

But then... I worship the Spring. And I like only brief flashes of Winter.

There is a surge of life in the Spring that literally overwhelms. The dull Winter days are over... the sun is bright again... the smell of earth is intoxicating... and people open shut doors... breathe the good air... and walk forth once more upon the face of the earth.

And the sap rises in human veins...

Hope flows through the human mechanism... everything is gay... green things meet the eyes... the winds are softer... the trees begin to smile again and slung off their winter garments to better meet the sun...

And I start digging... madly. I love the earth... the feel of the sod.

Tell me are you feeling the turn of the tide.
