Breck All-Stars Loose To Local Rockettes

Saturday night at Fireman's Field, the Willy-Willys Rockettes defeated the Breckenridge All-Stars by a score of 12 to 5. Since this was the local girls first game the results were quite gratifying to their supporters.

The Rockettes plan to play at least two games per week, one locally and one out of town.

After another week or two of practice, the girls will be ready to tackle some of the more outstanding girls teams in the state, with an eye to winning the state softball tourney.

Bullock Makes Statement About His Candidacy

Pat Bullock of Colorado, present State Senator from this the 24th senatorial district, makes the following announcement regarding his candidacy for election to a second full term.

The voters of the 24th Senatorial District:

Early in January of this year I announced my candidacy for reelection to a second full term in the Texas Senate. I now want to take this opportunity to solicit the votes and influence of the citizens of this district in the July Primary.

During my service as your Senator the Lieutenant Governor has seen fit to place me on a number of the most important committees in the Senate.

In addition to my regular assignments, I was appointed on the following special committees: The powerful Senate Investigating Committee; the Educational Investigating Committee, and the Joint Legislative Rural Aid Committee which supervises the distribution of Rural Aid to the various school districts of Texas qualifying to receive aid under the law.

I have tried earnestly to represent the people of the 24th Senatorial District as well as all of the people of Texas while serving on committees and when casting my vote on the Senate floor. I have never dodged an issue nor have I ever ridden the fence on any measure.

Since becoming a member of the Senate I have consistently opposed new taxes of any type. Our tax burden is to heavy now. If and when new taxes are needed to adequately finance our state government, they should come from sources other than ad valorem or sales tax. I am unalterably opposed to a general sales tax.

I favor an Old Age Pension plan that is complete and satisfactory in order that the needy aged may be properly cared for.

I want a more suitable solution for paying teachers a living wage, which we must have if we expect to secure good teachers for the all important job of training the youth of Texas. I favour distribution of school money by the State on an attendance basis, since there is no reason why $55.00 per child, or any other amount should be sent to the districts on the basis of a head count only whether the child attends school or not.

I will continue to fight to keep our tidelanders for the school children of Texas.

I strongly favour a adequate Farm-to-market road program in Texas but I am opposed to forcing farmers to pay for their own Farm-to-Market roads by the abolition of the four cent gasoline refund law. The law allowing refunds to farmers on tractor-used gasoline should never be repealed and I shall continue to fight to see to it that it is never repealed.

There are many other matters vital to the welfare of our people which I would like to discuss but space will not permit. I hope to see as many voters as possible personally, but it will be impossible for me to see all of you. I therefore, take this method of soliciting your support in my campaign for a second full term in the Texas State Senate and I pledge you now that I shall always be found working diligently in the interest of the people of the District and of Texas.

STAND PAT WITH PAT FOR A SECOND FULL TERM.
Sincerely yours,
PAT BULLOCK,
Colorado City, Texas

MAVS. BEAT DUBLIN EIGHT TO SEVEN

By MILTON HERRING
Sunday, the Eastland Mavericks won their first baseball victory of the season at the expense of the Dublin Club. Tom Grimm of Gorman pitched the whole game for Eastland, allowing ten hits and issuing seven free passes. His support made five errors, but fielded brilliantly at other times.

The game was as hectic as exhibition of baseball as has been witnessed anywhere for some time. The Mavericks appeared to have the game salted away in the bottom of the eighth, when they scored three runs and took a 7 to 6 lead. Then the first man up in the visitors' half of the ninth received a pass to third when two errors were made on a low-bouncing ball down the third base line. He scored to knock the count when a pop fly to right field was dropped.

In the home half of the inning, Grimm tripped, but was cut down as he attempted to cross the plate on Tipton's single. Tip advanced to third on Dick's single and a misplayed ball hit by Gunlock, and scored as Clifford Beck rifled a low, hard ball of the first baseman's knee to end the game.

An early 4-1 Eastland was narrowed to 4-2, and then erased as the first baseman, Brown, lost a ball in tall grass in short right field after Marberry had walked.

Dublin went ahead, scoring two runs in the 7th off two doubles, a walk, and an error. Next came the Mavericks' three-run 8th from whence they went on to win the ball game.

The Mavericks meet De-Leon here Sunday with hopes of climbing from the cellar. They are now tied with Dublin for that position.

THE DALLES HIT AFTER VANPORT WIPED OUT; NUMBER DEAD UNKNOWN

DEATH TOLL FOR WEEK-END NEARS 300

By United Press
The toll of persons killed in accidents over the long Memorial Day week-end climbed steadily toward 300 today as millions of tourists folded their fishing rods and bathing suits for the trip home. Highways were crowded with cars this morning as many of the week end vacationers hit the roads early to avoid the big rush this afternoon.

At least 19 Texans had died in week-end violence, but the state was enjoying a comparatively sane holiday on the highways.

A survey today showed that only three persons had died in highway mishaps. Drownings killed 5 persons, three of them in the Colorado River, near Austin.

Plane crashes cost four more lives, and a variety of other violence killed seven other persons.

Across the nation 281 persons had died due to accidents since Friday night. Of the total, 147 died on the highways, 38 drowned, and 96 died in airplane crashes, fires and miscellaneous mishaps.

California led the states with the greatest number of fatalities. The state had 25 violent deaths, 18 of them in traffic accidents. Illinois was second with a total of 20 deaths. Texas had 19, New York State 18, Ohio 16, Pennsylvania 15, West Virginia 15, Michigan 15 and Florida 11.

Thirty-Three In Indianapolis 32nd Auto Race

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31, (UP) —The 33 fastest racing cars in the nation began a battle with death promptly at 10 A. M. today in the 32nd renewal of the annual Indianapolis speedway 500-mile Memorial Day auto race.

The three cars in the first tow of the 11 rows which started, driven by Rex Mays, Bill Holland and Mauri Rose, were exactly even as they crossed the starting line, less than 100 yards behind the pace-maker car which led them around the track for the first turn of the track.

More than 150,000 spectators jammed the grandstands surrounding the two and one half mile brick and asphalt track, attracted by the ever-present danger of accidents and death.

Robeson Defies Questioning By Congressmen

WASHINGTON, May 31, (UP) Negro singer Paul Robeson today refused to tell a Congressional committee whether or not he belongs to the Communist Party.

Testifying under oath before the Senate Judiciary Committee on the controversial Mundt-Nixon control bill, Robeson refused to tell Sen. Homer Ferguson, R. Mich., whether he is "an American Communist."

"That question is the very basis of the struggle for American civil liberties," Robeson said.

The Mundt-Nixon Bill, he said, is "part of the hysteria to break the civil liberties" of the American people.

"Communism," Robeson said, "stands, as far as I can see, for the complete equality of Negro people in America."

PORTLAND, Ore.—The Pacific northwest's worst flood in history smashed a levee and poured into the town of The Dalles, Ore., today after wiping out Vanport, a war-built city of 19,000, with an unknown number of dead.

At Washington, President Truman declared the flood area in Oregon, Washington and Idaho a disaster region, and arranged for the use of surplus war goods for relief and rehabilitation.

Refugees from Vanport, a low lying suburb of Portland made up chiefly of war-time housing, filled Red Cross shelters to overflowing today.

ARABS CLAIM FORCES SPLIT JEWISH AREA

TEL AVIV, May 31 (UP) — Arab reports said today that Israeli army units from the Tulkarm area have driven westward to the sea, splitting the Jewish coastal area claimed by the newborn state of Israel.

Israel sources were silent on the Arab claims but a late Arab communique reported heavy air attacks against the Israelis in the Tulkarm area 22 miles northeast of Tel Aviv.

The Iraq attack toward the coast launched late last week, was reported Saturday to have reached within six miles of the coast in the area of Natanya, Jewish diamond cutting center 17 miles north of Tel Aviv.

The Iraq drive to the coast, if accomplished, has thrown an Arab barrier across the route to be followed later in the day by Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator for Palestine, who landed at Haifa from Cairo this morning with 18 United Nations officials and advisers.

Haifa dispatches said Bernadotte was scheduled to drive down the coastal road to Tel Aviv this afternoon to interview Israel government leaders on the possibilities of peace in Palestine.

Authorities were unable to estimate the death toll, because high water still covered the city.

A huge wall of water broke through the dike at Vanport yesterday, and it was feared many persons were trapped in smashed dwellings, some of which were overturned or torn from their foundations to drift like matchwood in the raging current.

A the Dalles, a inland port city of 8,000 persons situated 90 miles upstream on the raging Columbia River, the levee broke at 6:15 a. m. and muddy water surged into the lower section of town.

Hundreds of volunteers answered a general alarm to wall off the downtown area with sandbags. The downtown section had been threatened earlier by flood waters which burst through a break in the levee. Then, 100 feet of the levee gave way just east of the city, creating a new peril.

At Portland, police broadcast a general alarm for volunteers when dikes began seeping badly north-east of the Metropolitan area.

Women Bartenders Outlawed In Utah

OGDEN, Utah (UP)—Women generally may be good influences—but behind the tavern bar they tend to "lower morals."

At least, that is the opinion of Ogden city commissioners. At the behest of E. S. Hewes, business agent for the Culinary Alliance and Bartenders' local No. 599, the commissioners have made it unlawful for women to serve as bartenders.

However, under a new ordinance, they may carry beer on serving trays from the bar to tables or booths, or at drive-in cafes, or may serve bottled or canned beer over counters in grocery stores.

During World War I, Nebraska furnished the walnut for more than one-half the gunstocks for the rifles manufactured and used in the war.

Arabs Capture Arab in Pictorial Fake

This is Arab make-believe warfare. The soldier at top left, about to be captured by the Arabs in the foreground, is really an Arab, too. He's dressed up like a Jewish Hagadah fighter, strictly for the act. The Arabs then have the scene photographed, purporting to show them taking a Jewish prisoner. Actually, few prisoners have so far been taken by either side. (Photo by NEA-Acme staff correspondent Artin Kamegsisian.)

Anzio Beachhead Where GI's Died Still Shows Tragic Scars Of War

ANZIO, (UP)—The Germans killed 2,800 American soldiers here four years ago.

Driving down to the beach at Anzio today from the rubble town of Cisterna, you see a few farm children wearing overseas caps.

The houses along the gravel road are mostly ruins. Here and there small herds of sheep are grazing.

The red brick silos that dot the horizon have been out of action for years. The big shells of the Americans and Germans fired at each other for nearly four months left the silos full of holes two and three feet across.

Occasionally you see a high tension electric tower bent over like a hollyhock stem that a dog has run into. There are not many of them, though. There are no burn-out tanks are field pieces either, no landing craft rusting in the shallows the way it is on Iwo Jima in the Pacific.

Most of the metal in this area was carried away after the war.

The Italians need every scrap they can get.

Where the road from Cisterna comes to the beach and turns right toward Nettuno and Anzio, there is a plain marble shaft. It memorializes the army units that fought their way across the wide coastal plain to Cisterna, back on the Appian Way.

Up the road a few miles on a slight rise the bodies of the American dead lie buried under a field of white crosses.

The Germans wounded 11,000 Americans and captured 2,400 in the campaign between Jan. 22 and May 25, 1944. Many of the captured were paraded through the streets of Rome, which is only 27 miles northeast of here. The allies had regarded the landing as a short cut to taking Rome.

They didn't foresee that their forces would be stalled at about the same time in the south by a German refusal to withdraw from Cassino. When that happened, Anzio became an isolated struggle to keep a foothold far behind the main enemy defense line.

If you drive the Appian Way from Naples to Rome on a clear day, you see why the Americans chose Anzio for their short cut to Rome.

Much of the coastal plain from Naples to Rome is very narrow. In some places the distance from the beach to the Appennine Mountain range is not more than five or six miles. Some of it is marsh land that was drained once by the Nazis but was reflooded by the Nazis during the war. At Anzio the coastal plain is more than 25 miles wide and the footing is firm.

The towns of Nettuno and Anzio are surprisingly intact. That is because the allied troops didn't run into opposition on the beaches. They landed at 2 a. m. under cover of a naval bombardment and within 10 hours reached all ma-

Firm's Assets Outstrip Its Adding Machine

FRANKLIN, Ind. (UP)—The board of directors of the Mutual Building and Loan Association happily acknowledge after months of waiting that the firm's assets had passed the $1,000,000 mark.

Secretary A. P. Butz had a clerical problem, however. He told the directors they must order a new adding machine at once.

"The old one just takes care of figures up to nine hundred and ninety nine thousand, nine hundred and ninety nine dollars and ninety nine cents," he said.

More than 1,000 Wisconsin high school students have joined junior science academy clubs in the state.

They were able to do so without demolishing the two small major resort towns, although a few buildings had to be knocked down to make a path for the invading army.

The heavy fighting of the next four months was between Anzio and Cisterna. Most of the damage was caused by incoming German shells, including those from the notorious "Anzio Annie," a long-range rifle in the Rome suburbs.

Towns back on the Appian Way—Cisterna, for instance, and Capua, Formia and Aversa—are shells of rubble.

How They Do It In Hawaii Gives New York New Ideas On Slimming

NEW YORK (UP)—Momikai, who comes from Lahaina, is showing New York how they trim down a waistline in Hawaii.

All you have to do is ami, uehe and kalakua.

All Hawaiian girls are adept at ami. That's what Momikai says and she adds it explains the slim waistlines and shapely legs of the hula dancers.

Uehe and kalakua help out too. So if you want to look like a wahini (girl) or kane (man) on the beach this summer, listen to Momikai's revelation of the secrets of her islands.

"Ami is really very simple," said Pearl of the Sea, which is what Momikai means. "It's the circular motion of the hips in the hula. It's supposed to represent the ceaseless rolling of the sea up on the shores of the islands. It's the basic hula step and we sometimes call it "around the island."

She flashed a little smile of white teeth and pinned a carnation into her black, glistening hair.

"Like this," she said. Her hips revolved in a fluid rhythm first clockwise and then counter-clockwise.

"See my waist?" she queried. "See how slender it is. This motion works off all the excess fat." Momikai recommends grabbing two bedposts or standing in a doorway holding on to each side. Now move the hips to the left and around to the right and around and around. Try to keep the upper body still, leaving the rotation to the midsection.

But how about the legs, Momikai? "Ah," she said, "the legs. That's where uehe comes in. You do it like this."

She parted her hula skirt and customers of the Hawaiian Room of the Lexington Hotel promptly crowded around. Momikai, who was flown from Honolulu by the management, apologized because her grass skirt was ersatz, instead of the traditional ti-leaves.

"Flat on your feet," she instructed, "now bend your knees slightly, like a quarter knee-bend.

Then suddenly snap on to your toes. Straighten up and repeat. But all this time you must remember to keep your hips moving in ami. Done well its beautiful and practical."

Everybody watched Momikai's hips until they were pleasantly dizzy.

"Those two are all you need," she said, "to keep in shape—along with proper foods. But if you want to make sure you can do the kalakua, stand erect doing the ami. Then step forward on your right foot, rest your weight on it an instant. Push with the right foot and spin about face. Then forward on the left foot. Repeat the process."

But don't forget to do that ami all the time.

Crusading Governor Starts Drive To Help Mentally Ill Of Nation

By John T. Withy
United Press Staff Correspondent
ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP)—Minnesota's crusading governor, Luther W. Youngdahl, has begun a campaign to cure what he considers one of the nation's greatest ills.

Last year the Minnesota executive took national headlines with his campaign against the state's slot machine traffic. After a hard fight in the legislature, the tall, gray-haired former justice of the state supreme court won passage of a bill which put the machines in hiding. He was acclaimed by anti-gambling forces as their new champion.

This year Youngdahl has emerged with a campaign to improve "deplorable conditions" in Minnesota's seven hospitals for the mentally ill. He started to build up public pressure for improvements. He hopes his efforts will be reflected in greater appropriations by the 1949 legislature.

The campaign may catch on nationally, as Youngdahl already has visited one Illinois hospital to investigate conditions and plans other trips to nearby states. In his lecture talks, here and elsewhere, Youngdahl is bringing in the mental hospital angle every time he can.

The governor is convinced that it isn't just a Minnesota problem. As he puts it, many states are falling down on their duty to the people who need mental treatment.

In Minnesota, Youngdahl got the ball rolling by making personal visits at five of the seven institutions. What he saw prompted him to take to the radio and press to blast the situation.

In one hospital, for instance, Youngdahl said he found cattle on nearby farms getting better treatment than mental patients. At another, he found chains being used as restraints. In a third, he discovered a 14 year old girl, a mental patient subject to tantrums, sleeping nude in a bed with no springs, her hands tied to the frame and only a single sheet to cover her in the cold room.

"These conditions prove to me," Youngdahl has said, "that America must take steps forward in its care of mental patients. This can be done only by spending more money for proper care."

At all hospitals, Youngdahl said he found a shortage of personnel, inadequate medical facilities, and

Buzzards Attack Living Animals

LAKE CHARLES, La. (UP)—Cattlemen in southwest Louisiana are warring on a ravenous flock of buzzards which have been passing up carcasses for living animals.

The buzzards have been attacking and killing all kinds of livestock, but mostly newly-born calves.

W. L. Caldwell, who lives near Lake Charles, reported the flying scavengers had killed 20 of his calves this year, and seven in one week.

John E. Jackson, Calycasieu Parish agent, has told farmers to set up poultry wire traps in their large pastures, using a carcass as a dead buzzard as a decoy.

He said one farmer near Baton Rouge, La., had trapped and killed 3,500 buzzards in one season by using this method.

In most cases, the cattlemen reported, a flock of about 300 buzzards would swoop down and attack a helpless newly-born calf.

Detectives Complete Safe-Cracking Job

DENVER (UP)—Looking at the litter surrounding the Morton & Peabody, Inc.'s safe early one morning, Denver detectives Fred Zarnow and John Toll figured would-be crackers had worked unsuccessfully for about six hours.

The 750 pound safe had been removed from the shop and battered, beaten, cut, hacked and burned, but it remained closed. To add insult to injury, the yeggs had used the shop's own tools for the attempted job.

Finishing the safe-cracking job, Zarnow and Toll opened the safe, in the presence of the owner, in just 90 seconds.

As Agriculture Department Heads, Democrats Admit They Were Good

By Vincent Burke
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—If a Republican moves into the White House next January, the Department of Agriculture may need a new rewrite man.

The first Republican secretary of agriculture in 16 years might want a few department publications rewritten with a different slant.

Take for example, USDA document No. 8, Published last July, it contains the "biographies of persons in charge of federal agriculture work, 1836 to date."

Judging from the pamphlet, some of these officials had shortcomings; but that happened only during Republican administrations. Occasionally there were smart fellows running the department; almost without exception they were Democrats.

The greatest of all, it appears, was Henry A. Wallace. Late in the 1880's the department got its first secretary of cabinet rank, J. Norman Colman. He was a Missouri Democrat and according to the pamphlet, "about the most competent head the department yet had."

Bearded Jeremiah M. Rusk in charge (1889 - 1893). Rusk was an ex-tavern keeper, Civil War officer and Wisconsin governor. He did some good things. But he kicked out the women Colman had hired and gave their jobs to "his army colleagues, many of whom are said to have been senilely deficient. The old soldiers, thus, literally took over the department."

But J. Sterling Morton, a Nebraska Democrat, came along and "cleared out the old soldiers" and "saved $2,000,000 during his administration."

James Wilson of Iowa ran agriculture for the Republicans for the next 16 years. "He delighted to herald ever-advancing agricultural prosperity, but tended to ignore certain insidious factors which menaced this. His successors had to face these problems."

Wilson was succeeded by "an outstanding man, versatile, broad in knowledge and a gifted thinker."

This was David J. Houston of Missouri. You guessed it. Houston was a Democrat. A native of North Carolina, he "was probably the most distinguished man intellectually to head the department until the time of Henry A. Wallace."

The pamphlet notes that President Coolidge's agriculture secretary—William M. Jardine of Kansas—fought against price fixing of any kind.

Later came the New Deal and Wallace. "He (Wallace) created practically a new department of agriculture to carry research into action." He sought to help farmers "build economic democracy in agriculture."

"Wallace sought to make the entire department, old and new

Even Pigeons Are Now On British Ration

LONDON (UP)—Newcomers to Britain's grim rationing system are racing pigeons.

Pigeons already have their own identity cards which are metal rings stamped with their individual numbers. Within the next few months pigeons will be issued ration cards.

Pigeons already have their own aim that pigeon owners are worried that unless more grain is imported, thousands of birds will have to be killed.

"It is the same old trouble, dollars," said the National Homing Union of Pigeons. "Pigeons are low on the priority list and the treasury won't sanction more dollars for more grain."

The ration will be 2 1-2 pounds of grain per week per coot, barely enough to feed two pairs of birds, and coots generally hold 10 pairs.

The man turned, smiled and said: "My daughter... she's getting married, you know." Then he walked off.
