PETER EDSON'S COLUMN

DIRECT FROM CONVENTION HALL

PHILADELPHIA — NEA — First man to speak at the Southern rebel Democratic caucus was the Hon. Jimmy Arrington, a lean Mississippian who began by saying he was glad to be here, he certainly was, because he hadn't seen so many people since the Red Cross gave away flour in 1931. He gabbed on something like this:

"The Democratic party has done left us, it certainly has. Reminds me of a married couple I know, it certainly does. The wife was a good woman, she certainly was, except when her husband got intoxicated, as he certainly did. She didn't treat him very good then, she certainly did not, and it didn't do him any good. Then a friend of hers told her:

"You got to use kindness, you certainly do, you don't use the right technique, you certainly do not." So next time her husband came home intoxicated, this woman was at the gate to meet him, she certainly was, she took him into the house and put him on the couch and took off his shoes and loosened his necktie, and she says, "Honey, do you want me to kiss you?" And her husband answered and said, "You might as well, you certainly might, 'cause when I get home I'm going to get hell!"

"Now that poor man didn't know where he was, he certainly didn't, and the Democratic party doesn't know where it is, it certainly does not."

This illustrates how much sense there is to the Southern revolt. It would be a great thing if the rebels would walk out of the Democratic party. There isn't much chance they will. They won't vote for Dewey, they certainly won't. There isn't any place else for them to go.

But an increasing number of smart Southerners now realize that the South needs a real two party system — one liberal, the other conservative.

The revolting faction which will nominate Governor Don Laney of Arkansas for President is essentially conservative. That is revealed by the two resolutions the Southern caucus adopted just before the convention opened.

One called for a platform plank supporting return to Thomas Jefferson free enterprise, individual initiative and States rights. On the last point the rebels want the States to have the only power to pass laws on the conduct of elections, define crimes committed within State borders, regulate employment practices and segregation of races.

Under this proposal, President Truman's civil rights program would be killed. But, says Governor J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, the purpose of the rebels is not to put over white supremacy, it's to preserve States' rights. For if the U. S. government can pass a law to make lynching a crime, then it can pass a law against burglary and so destroy State courts. This is an important point. It raises the question of whether the State's rights issue is being used as an excuse to kill off civil rights legislation, or whether opposition to Truman's civil rights program is being used as an excuse to get back to States' rights extreme conservation. Governors Laney, Thurmond and Fielding Wright of Mississippi and their followers in the Southern States is the old tidelands issues.

In support of this contention, consider the second resolution passed by the Southern caucus. It calls for retention of under-water mineral rights — oil — by the States. This is the old tidelands issue.

What this resolution indicates is simply that the big oil companies, along with the railroads and the power companies and other big business interests that have for so long been supposed to dominate the Republican party, now have a strangle hold on the Southern conservatives.

An if that's the situation, then these Southern rebels ought to walk out on the Democratic party or vice versa — for a completely new political realignment of both parties. Now's the time, it certainly is.

California's Scientists Fight Cotton Boll Rot

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — The cotton boll rot, a new disease to California is being studied by plant disease men of the University of California College of Agriculture.

Such questions as how the infection occurs, how it spreads and how it lives between seasons are being investigated thoroughly. It was announced by Bryon R. Houston, Davis plant pathologist. From that information, the best control measures will be worked out, he said.

Last season, when the disease was first discovered, Houston proved it was caused by fungus. Damage ranged up to 35 per cent. in some fields. The disease is also called blue-loc and hard-loc.

Movie Show Scrambled

FOTOSKEY, Mich. (UP) — Patrons at the Hollywood theatre who went to see "The Senator Was Indiscreet," saw half of the show and were treated to the last half of "The Secret Beyond the Door," for the rest of the program. Film cans had been switched somewhere along the line in transit.

Uncle Joe's Charlie Mc Carthy Spills The Beans

Twins In Family Four Generations

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — Twins run in the family of a pair of 81-year-old twins. Mrs. Ruth Lee of Capville, Tenn., and W. T. Watkins of Olive Branch, Miss. twins, celebrated their 81st birthday with a family picnic. Mrs. Lee is a widow without children. But Watkins has 11 children. And among his offspring were a set of twins of his own, a set of twin grandchildren and a set of twin great-grandchildren.

Newspaper Tax Held Unconstitutional

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP) — Minnesota's attorney general has ruled that a proposal to collect a one-cent tax on every copy of daily newspapers published in Minneapolis is unconstitutional. Alderman George Todd suggested the tax as a means of bringing in an additional $2,000,000 a year to bolster the city's sagging public school fund. Attorney General J. A. Burnquist ruled that the proposal discriminated against publishers of daily newspapers.

He held further that the tax would, in effect, curtail circulation of daily newspapers and thereby infringe on freedom of the press under both the federal and state constitutions.

America's oldest industry, New England fishing, now represents an asset of $100,000,000 annually and provides 700,000,000 pounds of edible fish each year of the country's food stocks.

It won't work...by itself

It takes a lot more than a telephone instrument to give you telephone service. Before a telephone will work it must be connected by a pair of wires from your home all the way to the switching equipment in the central office. Telephone wire and cable are still scarce compared with the large amounts we need. But we are placing and splicing new cable as fast as we can get it. In some places, there isn't room for more telephone connections on the switchboards. To get more room, we are adding new equipment — faster than ever before. Despite shortages, we would be caught up by now if it was not for the extremely large number of new applications for service. They pour in at a rate of 50,000 a month in the Southwest, and that tremendous demand has kept us from eliminating the wait for telephone service in most places. It is still an uphill pull, but we are gaining on it, and we are grateful for your patience and understanding.

Air Power Hoe Developed To Cut Farm Costs

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — One answer to higher agricultural production costs may be found in the air power hoe invented by Frank King, sugar beet grower. Although the machine is mechanically practical, actual savings in operating costs are not known yet, says J. P. Fairbanks, University of California agricultural engineer who saw it demonstrated. He added that the savings would have to be high, because the hoes cost about $165 each to make, plus the air compressor, cost of tractor, and driver's wages. However, it replaces the drudgery of hand-hoeing and workers won't have a chance to lean on a handle and rest, he says. Up to 20 rows can be weeded at once. A tractor draws an air compressor slowly down the field with air hoses attached on each side. Each hose is connected to a hoe with a piston at the top of the handle. Compressed air jabs the blade back and forth much like a jack-hammer.

There'll be pie in the sky someday soon, and Vonnay Ann Verno, 18, will be carrying it. Vonnay Ann, as queen of the 1948 National Cherry Festival in Traverse City, Mich., will fly to Washington to give President Truman a cherry pie. The blue-eyed blonde hails from Empire, Mich., in the heart of the cherry region.

Even Iron Curtain Spares Babies, UN Food Relief Director Reports

PARIS (UP) — Countries behind the iron curtain are distributing United Nations food for children without discrimination, the executive director of the UN international children's emergency fund, Maurice Pate, reports.

He spoke on his return from an inspection tour of fund activities in Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

Pate, who said he visited towns and villages as well as capitals, told a press conference that he noted "absolute determination to distribute food in accordance with the fund charter."

"That means without discrimination as to race, religion or politics," he added.

Since its organization a year ago, the ICEF has distributed powdered milk, fats, cod liver oil, meat and fish to 4,000,000 children in 12 European countries. It also operates in China and will shortly extend its operation to other far eastern countries.

Pate said the four countries he visited expect a bumper harvest. They hope to abolish bread rationing by the end of the year, although they will be short of milk for another two years.

Distribution of food is supervised by international teams chosen from among members of the UN. Pate said missions in all of the 12 European countries reported fair distribution.

Needs of the children are still greater than ICEF funds, however, Pate told the press. He said roughly a quarter of the children in several eastern European countries are two years behind normal size and weight owing to hardships and food shortages.

However, he said he noted a distinct improvement in condition of the children since he toured eastern Europe last February.

R. H. Shackford, United Press specialist in diplomatic news, has covered more international conferences since the war than any other reporter.

Maynooth, Cradle Of Missionaries Sends Out For Financial Aid

DUBLIN (UP) — Maynooth College, which has sent Catholic priests throughout the world on missionary work, is in serious financial difficulties.

Established 153 years ago, the institution at the time of the disestablishment of 1870 was given a grant of $1,488,000 and has in the interval received various charitable bequests.

Its present financial troubles were outlined by Monsignor Patrick Boylan in an address at the center of Irish Catholicity.

Appealing to former students in all parts of the world and at home to come to the assistance of the college, he said it was not, as some erroneously thought, state-endowed.

Much of the state endowment given by the British of $1,488,000 had been lost by fall off of investments, he said, and added: "In many cases one would need some sort of financial radar to trace the survival of the various portions of that money."

Income which in 1932 was $73,104 fell in 1947 to $58,808. ment of investments but rather there was little hope of improvement was the contrary more likely.

There had been a fall in the number of students for the priesthood annually from 600 to under 500. The deficiency on the year's work in 1947 was $35,220.

"It is not a matter of just balancing the budget but at least $2,000,000 is needed for capital improvements," he said.

Czech Capital Banishes Ice Cream Charts

PRAGUE (UP)—The traditional blue-and-white ice cream carts which blossom out all over Prague every spring have disappeared. The city council forbade "ambulant" sales of hygienic reasons.

Press reports said a spot check had revealed more than 50 per cent of the ice cream sold on the streets was dangerous to health.

Offenders against the new regulation risk a 10,000 crown fine ($200) or a month in jail.

Electrical Show To Be Seen At DeLeon Festival

The farm division of the Texas Electric Service Company's traveling electrical show will be brought to De Leon for the three-day Peach and Melon Festival on July 22, 23, and 24, according to L. D. Stewart local manager.

The show is an elaborate showing of electrical appliances for the farm and home and will be open all three days. Housed in a special tent, this exhibit is of an educational nature as well as bringing with it varied form of entertaining features including an all-string band.

Mr. Stewart had a lot to say about a motion picture on soil conservation that will be shown at the exhibit. The film shows the danger to soil caused by erosion and demonstrates the benefits to be derived from soil conservation practices. This feature of the show should be of special interest to farmers and ranchmen, he said.

Milk Bottles Survive Wreck

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—Bernard Berliner, 32, rode a miracle on wheels.

He had snacks and drinks for sale in a panel truck and was nearing a railroad crossing. He watched a northbound train approach and drove on. But he didn't see the southbound train on the other track.

Berliner jumped and escaped injury. The truck was knocked down an embankment into a fence and damaged to the extent of $150. Not one of the 400 bottles of milk inside was broken.

teering minimum prices and even paying transportation costs of the mineral in some cases."

Stewart said he expected the rush to hit full swing next summer when all prospectors will have assembled the necessary gear and studied up on methods of locating uranium.

"We know there are uranium bearing minerals in the territory, but we don't know how large the deposits are," he said.

If uranium is found in large quantities, future generations of Alaskans may reminisce on the "uranium rush days of '49."

Uranium Rush Is On In Alaska; Spurred By U S.

By John J. Ryan

UNITED PRESS STAFF CORRESPONDENT ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UP)—A $10,000 bonus offered by the Atomic Energy Commission to 'deposit of uranium has started Alaska's biggest "stampede" since the gold rush days of '98.

Prospectors roaming Alaska's wilderness have discarded their gold pans and sluice boxes. They're hunting the hills for signs of pitch-blende, gumite, carnotite and other uranium-bearing minerals.

B. D. Stewart, territorial commissioner of mines, said his offices have been besieged by prospectors seeking information on uranium. He said pamphlets prepared by the AEC giving methods of locating and recognizing minerals containing uranium are being distributed.

Gold Doesn't Pay

"The prospectors are hitting for the hills in great numbers, but they aren't looking for gold," he said. "With the price fixed and production costs soaring, you can't make gold mining pay."

"But a uranium strike would certainly pay. In addition to the bonus, the government is guaran-

TAKE A LOOK AT YOUR INSIDES

bad taste in your mouth, your coffee (and tobacco) lose their natural flavor, your food does not agree with you; you may have heartburn, gas and dizziness; at night the gas in your bladder may press upon your bladder making you get up frequently, thus breaking into your sleep.

In the morning you are tired instead of refreshed. Gradually your health is impaired.

Your complexion may become sallow or bilious; dark rings may appear under your eyes; you may feel lousy, dull and irritable or blue and melancholic. You may have frequent colds (catarrh) or dull head-ache; your bowels stop their free, full and natural action; you have constipation, "intestinal toxemia" or "acute gastritis" as many doctors call it.

HOW TO GET RELIEF
You can relieve this condition, usually overnight, by taking Calotabs at bedtime and drinking water freely next day.

The beneficial effects of Calotabs lie in the fact that they are (1) laxative, (2) antiseptic to the intestines, (3) diuretic to the kidneys, (4) effective in relieving symptoms of biliousness and acute gastritis due to constipation or faulty digestion.

Calotabs are pleasant to take (sugar coated), prompt and effective. Try them and see. Follow label directions. At your druggists.

NATURE'S DANGER SIGNALS
When your stomach, liver, and gall bladder have been upset by improper eating or drinking, or when they are not working well because retained and putrefying food matter in your intestines is poisoning your entire body, you, sooner or later, begin to feel some of the following symptoms:
Your breath may become unpleasant (halitosis), your tongue coated, a
