Area OIL News

KIRK FIELD ACTIVITIES

Folk here is a report on the activities in the Kirk Field, Gorman, for Tuesday, July 20.

W. B. Johnson Drilling Co., have hit it again on their No. 1 Sanders. On an actual official test this well produced 305 barrels of oil in 15 hours under a 20-64 inch choke with 400 pounds on tubing. This sounds even better than the 4 good wells which Johnson had to come in on the Arlan Watson Tract which is in a diagonal offset from this Sanders tract.

National Coop. Refining Association reports on their No. 2 Albritton that they perforated Monday and are preparing to acidize Tuesday afternoon.

Commercial Production Co., No. 2 Roy Parker on its back-pressure official test reports the absolute open flow to be 1,995,000 cubic feet per day. Since a good test in this area runs from 1,000,000 up, this appears to be a good gasser, for the Roy Gaines outfit.

Hunter and Mellard are still underreaming on the No. 1 Blackwell at approximately 845 feet. More water seems to have been encountered.

Burton and Gregg No. 1 Phillips hailing, getting ready to perforate Tuesday afternoon.

Burton and Gregg making a new location on their Phillips lease—the No. 2 Phillips. This will be in the east side about the middle of the east side.

A spudder is moing in today on the B. F. Porter tract. This outfit is being brought in from Snyder and the facts are not available as yet. The outfit was in town trying to find out how to reach the location.

Durwood Fleming Speaker At WSCS Eastland Meeting

"The Church's World Responsibility," was the subject of an interesting talk given by Rev. Durwood Fleming, minister of the Saint Luke Methodist Church in Houston, Tuesday evening at the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church's annual birthday party on the lawn of the Frank Castleberry home in Eastland.

Mrs. R. C. Ferguson, president of the WSCS, gave the welcome and Mrs. Ed F. Willman gave the response and introduced Rev. Mr. Stevens of Cisco, District Superintendent, who gave the opening prayer and introduced Mr. Fleming who was guest speaker.

Mrs. Fred Davenport was presented a life membership by the WSCS and the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Stinecomb was presented a life membership, with Mrs. Ferguson making the presentation.

A member of the Society who had been presented a life membership was responsible for one of the life memberships.

Refreshments of punch and cake were served from tables on the front lawn decorated with beautiful flowers arrangements. Mrs. Jack Ammer poured punch.

Hostesses for the occasion were: Mmes H. L. Hassell, Fred Davenport, Frank Castleberry, Ed F. Willman, N. P. McCarnay, and James Horton.

Approximately 125 men, women and children were in attendance. Those from out of the city were Rev. and Mrs. Fleming and children, Pamela, Martha Ann and John Hugh Fleming of Houston; Mrs. W. A. Clepper of Caddo who is district president of the WSCS, Mmes Hugh Smith, Claude P. Jones, S. H. Nance, B. E. Morehart, J. J. Porter, C. E. Paul, J. T. Anderson, John Sher-tzer, W. E. Ricks, Joe Lovelady, W. M. Joiner all of Cisco; Mrs. J. Floyd Killingsworth, Ranger and Mrs. Sam Chambers of Gateville and Mrs. Herman Foust of Gateville, Mrs. W. A. Martin of Donna and Mr. Bruce White of Cisco.

Colorful Rancher

Frank Good, New Mexico Rancher Is Eastland Visitor; Attracted By Oil

One of the most interesting visitors who has come to Eastland during the present revival of oil activity is Frank Good, rancher of Kenna, N. M.

He wears a double gold chain across his vest and from the chain dangle fully 40 Indian arrowheads which he found on his ranch, and also Mexican coins. He carries a large gold watch with a hunting case.

Good wears a Western hat which has seen much service and a pair of boots into which his pant's legs are stuffed and his legs are bowed and why shouldn't they be as he still rides though he will be 74 his next birthday?

Not only is he picturesque in appearance but in experiences, too. He went to Borden County as a cowboy just after the county was organized in 1891 and was in Dawson County when it was organized. What is now the city of Lamesa was then a round-up ground, he recalls.

Good formerly lived in Eastland County, 1912, he bought the Thorpe ranch, which is partly in this and partly in Steph. s County. During the great boom, big wells were drilled on the Thorpe by the Hercules and the Prairie. In 1928 Frank Day drilled a gasser there and he sold the lease to Woodley Petroleum Company which has since drilled four producers.

Though Good disposed of the surface rights, he still owns much of the mineral rights of the Thorpe so his income from that source amounts to a sum which anybody would be happy to receive.

He is interested in mineral rights in over 600 acres in Eastland and Stephens counties.

He owns two ranches in New Mexico. How big? "Oh," he said, casually, "the two together amount to about a hundred sections."

FLAYING AT STRAWN

The Strawn Flyers will meet the Mineral Wells Resorters in an exhibition game at Strawn Thursday night, at 8:15.

MARSHALL SAYS U.S. WILL TRY TO AVOID WAR

WASHINGTON, July 21 (UP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall said today that the United States will take all possible measures to reach an acceptable agreement with the Russians in Berlin in order to "avoid the tragedy of war for the world."

But in seeking the agreement the United States "will not be coerced or intimidated in any way," he said.

Marshall made his blunt statement at his weekly news conference in response to a reporters question regarding the possibility of "war dangers" in the Berlin impasse between the Western Powers and the Soviet Union.

Marshall gave his firm views on the Berlin situation as Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military chief in Germany, and his political adviser, Ambassador Robert Murphy, were enroute with a first-hand report on the seriousness of the Soviet Union's starvation blockade of Berlin.

Meanwhile, other American officials reported that the Soviet attitude on Berlin may be interpreted as meaning that the Russians are prepared to force a showdown on Berlin at the risk of war.

United Nations for settlement before the Western Allies attempt to force a showdown, responsible UN quarters believed today.

These quarters discounted talk that the Berlin dispute might be near the blow-up stage. They felt that several diplomatic moves would be made before there would be any showdown. And one of these stages was to bring the dispute before the UN.

BERLIN, July 21 (UP)—Soviet military authorities were reported today to have ordered "special precautions" against any Western Allied attempt to force an armored train through the Berlin hunger blockade.

The reports, printed in the British licensed newspaper Telegraph, coincided with the departure of Gen. Lucius D. Clay from Frankfurt for urgent conferences in Washington on the Berlin crisis.

Press reports of the Russian precautions were interpreted to mean that the Russians were prepared to shoot if the Western Powers tried to force their land blockade.

There have been increasing hints that the Western Allies would try such a move, especially since Russia rejected American, British and French notes demanding that the blockade be lifted.

Bible School Registrations Begin Saturday

Rev. William C. Emberton, who was elected dean of the Daily Vacation Bible School to be sponsored by the Church of the Nazarene, announced that registration day would be conducted Saturday from 8:00 until 11:00 a.m. at the Church, located at the corner of West Main and Connellee Streets.

He continued, "We have a program planned that will be of untold value to all the children of Eastland. We urge the parents of the city to see that their child is enrolled Saturday or, they may call 165 any time this week and the children will be enrolled. Our sessions will begin at 9 each morning and will be dismissed at 11. Music, Bible, projects, etc., will all be included in the daily program. Our teachers are all Christians and experienced in dealing with children and you can safely trust them in our keeping. On Friday afternoon a parade will be conducted featuring the rhythm band from the church. All the boys and girls who want to help in this meet us at the church at 2:30 p.m. Let everyone help us have a great Bible School." Remember the school starts its daily sessions Monday morning July 26, at 9 A.M."

Starting this Friday, and every Friday night from eight to eleven, Fahter Jim Night at the Teen Canteen will be open to all teenagers of Eastland County. It will be at the Legion Hall.

Republicans May Try To Expand The Civil Rights

WASHINGTON, July 21 (UP)—Republican leaders discussed today expanding proposed civil rights legislation in the emergency summer session to cover the right to work.

Under the contemplated amendment, a worker abused during labor disorder or blocked from his job by mass picketing could have federal protection if local officials failed to provide it.

"It doesn't make much difference," said one House Republican, "whether a person is clubbed by Southern lynchers or by a Northern mob. Civil rights have been violated in each instance."

The House would expect Democratic New Dealers and perhaps President Truman to balk at such extension of the civil rights program, assuming that it could pass both Houses.

18-Year-Olds Volunteering By Thousands Today

WASHINGTON, July 21 (UP)—Business boomed at military recruiting centers throughout the country today as thousands of 18-year-olds sought to beat the peace time draft by volunteering for 12 months of service.

Under the new draft law, 18-year olds who volunteer for one year's service in this country will be excused from the 21-month draft when they turn 19.

Taking advantage of this "escape clause", hundreds of youths queued up at recruiting centers to sign up with the Army, Navy or Air Corps.

The new draft act provides for registration of men 18-through-25, but only those 19-through-25 may be inducted.

It authorizes voluntary enlistment of 18-year-olds.

N. Dakota Women Rise Up In Arms For Their Rights

By GLENN MARTZ
United Press Staff Correspondent
BISMARCK, N. D. (UP)—North Dakota women admit it's their own fault that more members of their sex are not represented in state administrative offices. They say they've hidden their light under a bushel too long.

Now they're doing something about it. As a result the governor of North Dakota is going to learn things. When Hettie Blythe, past president of the State Business and Professional Women's Clubs, can take time off from her classes at Valley City State Teachers College, she is going to present Gov. Fred Aandahl with a "Who's Who Among Women in North Dakota." The list, composed of names submitted by the state's business and professional women, has been compiled. It contains the names of more than 50 of the state's most outstanding women deemed eligible to administrative posts in state government. Several other women's clubs in the state, including the University Women and P. E. O. Sisters have prepared similar lists for distribution among state department heads. The idea developed when the governor was asked why he didn't appoint a woman to fill a vacancy on the state board of administration. Aandahl was quoted as admitting that he "wasn't too familiar with the talents of North Dakota women." That's when women club leaders went into a huddle and decided to turn talent scouts. Miss Helen Iorns of the state department of instruction, who is state chairman of the "Business and Professional Women's Policy Making Posts for Women Committee," immediately ordered a survey within the ranks of her organization. "It was amazing to see how many illustrious names were submitted," she said. She added: "I only hope the men don't make fun of us. We are serious. We feel we have many women in the state who would do better in some administrative posts than men." Gypsies came originally from India, not Egypt.

Minnesota Farmers Find Prosperity

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP)—Minnesota's farmers are worth $5,000,000,000. A report on farm assets by Rex W. Cox, University of Minnesota agricultural economist, shows that the state's farm wealth has skyrocketed from $2,228,000,000 in 1940 to an all-time high of about $5,000,000,000 today. Farm acreage in the eight-year period has increased only 1.3 per cent, but the value of a single acre of land has shot up 83 per cent since 1940. Cox attributes the rapid rise to price increases. Adding to the picture, he says, is the current low indebtedness of farmers, in contrast with their plunge into debt after World War I.

Navy Man Keeps Coast Clear Of Japanese Mines

By RICHARD MONTAGUE
United Press Staff Correspondent
SEATTLE, Wash. (UP)—Living the life of a death-daring hero of fiction is the lot of Lt. Devon F. Winslow, USN, who each week is within a catfish whisker of being blasted to death.

Lt. Winslow is the Navy's mine expert on the west coast. He was the one chosen to fill the job when war-sown Japanese mines began drifting in the Aleutian current. The current half-circles from Japan, swishes by the Alaskan Aleutian Island chain and bumps the Washington-Oregon coast line.

Before the war it bore only exotic drift wood and prized fish net floats. But now its carries bigger floats—loaded with black TNT.

When one of the mines—studded with blunt feelers—rolls up anywhere along the 531-mile Oregon and Washington coast line, Lt. Winslow is there within five hours.

On the scene, he takes over quickly. Out comes his wrench, back goes the crowd. Winslow removes a steel plate and gingerly slips out the fuse mechanism from the center of the mine. A few black TNT grains drift down, but he brushes them aside.

That done, Winslow knows he will live to fix another mine in a few days. For removing the fuse is the most dangerous part of the whole operation.

Lt. Winslow sets the fuse on top of the mine, causes several sticks of dynamite into the fuse hole and walks back along the wire leading to the blast plunger several hundred yards away.

A quick plunge and the mine, fuse, dynamite and about six feet of sand have departed elsewhere.

Lt. Winslow then walks through an admiring crowd to his wife and small son, who always wait for him above the beach.

Mrs. Winslow, a young pretty girl, says she is used to this death defying stuff by now. But she does admit shaking a bit when her husband pulls the fuse out.

The little boy wants to grow up to do just like his dad, of course.

Nationwide Survey Shows Growing Use Of Home Freezers

A rapidly widening use of home food freezers, both as a means of providing fresh food on a year-round basis and because they can be made to pay for themselves through food economies, is indicated by nation-wide surveys, according to Mr. H. Pullman of the Pullman Store, local dealer for Carrier Corporation, leading manufacturer of air conditioning and refrigeration equipment. One study by recognized experts in this field showed that the market for food freezers was expanding faster than did that for domestic mechanical refrigerators in their early days, Mr. H. Pullman said.

The economic advantage of freezing sizeable quantities of fresh foods, which can be served anytime with all of their original goodness, texture and flavor intact, he pointed out, is appealing not only to housewives on farms and in cities but to restaurants and other establishments as well. "There is no question about the average American housewife becoming frozen-food conscious," Mr. Pullman continued. "She is learning by experience that buying in season more than offsets the small operating costs of a food freezer unit. In fact, savings accumulated in quantity and seasonal purchases, will amortize the original cost of the unit in a matter of a few years.

"A typical case is that of a suburbanite in one of our medium sized eastern cities who purchased a Carrier 15 cubic foot freezer unit about a year ago. There are three persons in this family. By actual records they saved $132 in the last nine months.

"Some of the savings were due to the family's own efforts in raising vegetables in a small truck garden. But the major portion was the result of quantity meat buying at a nearby frozen food locker plant and personal purchasing, preparation and storage of vegetables and fruits direct from farms. This family will have their food freezer fully paid for in savings within three years.

"Carrier Food Freezers, manufactured in 15 and 30 cubic foot models, are the upright type and will hold from 600 to 1200 pounds of frozen food. There is no bending over, no digging down through other food to get the package you want. Open shelves make it possible to take a quick inventory of the food larder at any time. This front door opening on a freezer that is little larger than your ordinary refrigerator was designed after a survey of the wishes of more than 200,000 housewives.

"Actual operating cost, for electrical power, will run from one to two dollars a month. Freezing merely requires moving a thermostat lever. After freezing, the lever is moved to 'storage'. Complete instructions on how to prepare foods for freezing are given to all Carrier customers.

"Frozen food is an essential part of the American home menu. Increasing sales of food freezer units clearly indicate that more and more people are learning that in addition to the convenience of having a variety of food on hand in all seasons of the year, the re-tual dollars savings make it a good investment," Mr. Pullman concluded.

Quake Scatters Audience, But Pianist Plays On

United Press Staff Correspondent PARIS (UP)—In Ankara, a young pianist lit into a Brahms sonata with more than usual enthusiasm.

Suddenly out of the corner of his eye he saw the people in the back of the hall beat an arduous retreat. He kept on playing bravely, attacking the difficult second movement with even more gusto than the first, but people continued to leave.

Finally there were only three old men left sitting in the front row. Almost in tears, 21-year-old Julius Katchen started the fourth movement.

"Maybe they just don't like Brahms in Turkey," he told himself. As the last notes sounded, he noticed with surprise that people were back in their seats, listening quietly.

"Guess what it was," Katchen asked me in Paris this week. "An earthquake."

The chandeliers had started swinging dangerously in the back of the hall at the beginning of the sonata, and remembering that five people had been killed by a falling chandelier during an earthquake last year, they left the hall until the tremors ceased.

That concert was the only time people have left a Katchen concert. Generally they don't let him leave until he has played at least six encores. In Amsterdam, Copenhagen, Berlin, Paris, and Athens the young American pianist has packed people into movie houses, operas, and concert halls to hear everything from Bela Bartok to Bach.

In his recent tour through Germany in Stettin in the only building big enough to house a recital left standing after the bombardment. It was a rickety music hall on the outskirts of town. Two thousand Germans traded cigarettes and went without meals to pay the price of admission.

For every concert he gave to the Germans, Katchen played a free recital for American soldiers and D. P.s.

Katchen himself feels that playing good classical music to the Germans is one way to show them that chewing gum and movies are not the only things the United States has to offer.

Born in Long Branch, New Jersey, in 1925, Katchen started on the piano on his fifth birthday.

His grandmother once had been a concert pianist, and as a birth day present she sat Katchen down at the piano and taught him the scale.

At 11, Katchen was hailed as a prodigy when he played a Mozart concerto with the Philadelphia Orchestra.

His parents yanked Katchen out of the prodigy run in his teens, and the boy went to Harvard College where he majored in Philosophy.

Now Katchen wants to launch his career in Europe before playing with the big American orchestras.

Tree In Utah Said To Be 1000 Years Old

NAVAJO LAKE, Utah (UP)—The Utah fish and game commission reports the discovery of a tree that may be the oldest one on record.

A commission field inspector, Lee Kay, said the scrub oak tree's age of "thousands of years" probably tops the record of California's famous redwoods.

The ancient tree stands in the mouth of Deep Creek canyon, sheltered for years from human eye in a sparsely settled mountainous stretch of southern Utah. It is 48 feet high and 18 1/2 feet in diameter.

Presenting the Candidacy of

COKE STEVENSON

Of Junction, Texas

for the UNITED STATES SENATE

FIRST, We all know our A B C s —

- A—That campaign promises and running the other fellow down don't mean a thing.
- B—That what a candidate can and will do after he is elected is all that counts.
- C—That what a fellow is likely to do after election is to be judged mainly by his past record.

NOW —

- * Coke Stevenson makes no campaign promises except honest and faithful service.
- * He is the only man in this race who has a well known record from having served the whole state of Texas, in the legislature as well as in the Governor's office.
- * That record is extra good or you wouldn't bump into somebody strong for Coke, town or country, and all over Texas, every time you turn around.
- * By the record he has done more for highways, farm-to-market roads (to get them started any way), pensions, school per capita, protection of farmers and ranchmen from predatory animals, and on down the lines, than anybody else in the race.
- * Coke Stevenson is a man of the soil and always has championed the cause of the farmer and cattleman.
- * He is the only man in this race who seems to attach any importance to constitutional and State rights.
- * He is the only candidate for the U. S. Senate that has a past record to show that something can be done about waste in operating the government, and who wants to talk and do something about the subject.

Are These Things Not Better Than Mere Promises?

If you think they are, then

Let the bird cool in the broth and if there seems to be too much fat, you'd better skim off some of it. Take your bread crumbs and soak in a little of the broth. When meat is cool put it through the grinder. Now add 1-2 cup split, cooked mushrooms (canned or fresh) and mix in 1 cup cream sauce. Add 1 full tablespoon of butter, then the whole egg—one at a time. Season with salt and pepper. Beat this mixture very hard. Grease your mold and pack the mixture in firmly. Seal it tight and stem 1 1/2 hours. To steam, you place mold on a rack with no more than two inches of water in the pan cover the whole business and let it simmer quietly. Serve this dish piping hot with a coating of cream sauce, use your second cup and a sprinkling of hard cooked eggs run through the ricer. Garnish with mushrooms and parsley.

Engine Runs Over Boy Who Gets Up Unhurt

NIRWICH, N. Y. (UP)—Mrs. Michael Quattrone looked helplessly on as a railroad switch engine passed over her son.

Then, she and other witnesses stared in amazement. Two-year-old Michael, Jr., got up from the tracks uninjured and toddled back to his mother. The child, who apparently had left his own back yard to visit his grandparents living across the tracks, tumbled between the rails as the engine came along.

Electroencephalograph Is Quite A Word

IOWA CITY, Ia. (UP)—Ever hear of an electroencephalograph? It's a machine that tells what goes on in your brain when you learn something new.

Scientists of the Universities of Iowa and Indiana are co-operating with the U. S. Public Health Service to record "brain waves."

The machine picks up the electricity of the brain through electrodes attached to the scalp. It amplifies and records on a moving tape the electric voltage fluctuations of the brain.

Servel All-Year Gas Air Conditioning provides perfect indoor climate

Customers and Employees at Victor Cornelius Theatrical Advertising now enjoy a cool and comfortable building.

In Texas, today, many business and professional men are no longer bothered by summer's scorching heat. No matter how high the temperature rises outside, their places of business are cool and comfortable for the benefit of their customers and employees. These are business and professional men, like Mr. Victor Cornelius, who have Servel All-Year Gas Air Conditioning installed in their places of business.

COOLS IN SUMMER, WARMS IN WINTER
When the days get warm, they simply flip a switch and the Servel unit immediately floods their establishment with refreshingly cooled, dehumidified air. Servel also filters out practically all irritating dust, dirt, and pollen, too. Pollen asthma and hay fever victims enjoy welcome relief. When winter arrives, again at the flip of a switch, the same Servel unit supplies plenty of clean, even warmth. Just the right amount of moisture is added to the warmed air for comfort. There are never any drafts, never any chilling "layers" of hot and cold air. In between seasons, when neither heating nor cooling is needed, the Servel system circulates clean air at prevailing outdoor temperatures.

GET FULL FACTS NOW

Today, find out how you, too, can enjoy Servel's comfort and profit advantages. Ask your architect or builder for complete information on installing Servel All-Year Gas Air Conditioning in any establishment or home you're planning to build.
