

Whittlin'

By Dolph Moten

The fellow who came up with the expression, "Gripe, Gripe, Gripe," knew what he was talking about.

As many of you regular readers know, some non-sports-minded, and maybe even sports-minded readers, have complained about too much sports news on The Blade's page one. Because it was possible last week, all stories of basketball games were transferred from page one to another position.

And no one noticed it. The people who don't like sports news on the front page didn't even know it was gone. As a matter of fact, the only comment I had concerning the temporary—and maybe it didn't even concern the change—was, "I wish you would be more thorough in your basketball reporting so I would know what was going on."

But, wait! I guess I'm griping myself. I started out to criticize newspaper griping. Forget it. It's probably a good thing.

I dare say, that businessmen who sell coffee soon learn to think that it is good or they couldn't stand it. Did you ever notice how folks complain about the coffee at a Bovina place of business that sells coffee. It matters not if the coffee is good or bad, a nickel or dime; the griping, usually good-natured, goes on all the same.

Imagine how a coffee-selling businessman would prepare himself for his customers' lip as he made plans to raise the price of coffee from a nickel to a dime.

Just how he would go about it, I don't know, but he'd have to set his mind to the fact that he was doing the right thing and decide he could "take" the uncomplimentary remarks that were certain to follow.

Also, he might figure to serve a few less cups of coffee a day. At least until the customers got used to the idea.

Enough of that, if a man wasn't griping, he might be getting into trouble.

Some local man, who had the time and the sun confused, remarked recently, "I'll be glad when summer comes so we won't have to get up until after sunup." That may or may not be worth anything.

'Tis so seldom that predictions appearing in this column "pan out," I want to bring up one that did. I said before district basketball play began that though the Mustangs possibly wouldn't win as many games as they did in 1956, the contests would be more interesting, exciting, chill bump-raising.

Such turned out to be the case. In four of the first six district games, no more than three points separated the winning and losing teams. Why the Mustangs had to be the losers I haven't been able to figure out yet. But the games themselves were as predicted here.

The scores were Nazareth, 50-49; Adrian, 33-30; Happy, 46-44; and Lazbuddie, 38-36. If close counted, as it does in horseshoes, I'm sure the Mustangs wouldn't presently be looking up at the race from the District 3-B cellar.

The losses, though consistent, haven't been by large enough margins to dim the spirit of the fans, much less the players; and both groups are expecting the tide to turn at any time.

Too many fans, I fear, are expecting Lady Luck to jump back on our side come district tournament time.

The winner of the tournament will be tied with the regular season winner. The two will then have a "sudden death" playoff to determine the district winner.

The district tournament will, incidentally, be in Bovina in mid-February. No matter who wins there will be lots of good basketball—both boys and girls.

Though I'm a long time in getting around to making mention of the fact, Roy M. Crawford, Bovina High School vocational agriculture instructor, is a wonderful master of ceremonies. Sometimes I think he missed his calling. However, I'm sure that being an emcee and teaching school are certainly related.

I discovered Crawford's hidden talent, as did many others, at the Bovina Jaycee initiation banquet that was held back in the fall. With his slow-talking, dry wit manner, he was easily the highlight of the program. I say that with all due respect to the main speaker at the occasion.

Though I don't have authority to say so, Crawford would possibly be interested in continuing his emcee career. If your banquet or

Boost Bovina Drawing Has Double Winner

Mrs. G. E. Redwine became the first double winner in the history of Boost Bovina Drawings Saturday as her name was drawn for two "pots" of $10 each.

Mrs. Eula Newton was the winner of the $15 prize.

Two $10 awards were brought about by the failure of the winner of the $5 award the week before to be present. The prizes originate at $15, $10 and $5 and this week's drawing will be for those amounts.

Time, as usual, will be 4:30 p. m. in downtown Bovina.

★ First Victory In Three Years

A long drought was broken Monday at Lazbuddie.

Bovina grade school boys won their first basketball game in three years!

Lazbuddie grade school boys had the "honor" of aiding in the breaking of the "spell." Score was 15-14.

Roger Ezell was high point man with 10. Don Cumpton scored three and Monty Turner two.

Bovina's grade school girls won from Lazbuddie, also, 32-31. Penny Lloyd was high scorer with 16. Julie Roach made 12, and Patsy Richards and Cynthia Patterson had two each.

Delivery date of the new vehicle was Monday afternoon.

The pickup, which the new one will replace, will be used to haul sewer cleaning supplies and to pull a spraying unit when one is obtained, a member of the commission says.

"AND THEN SOME"—

March of Dimes To Reach Quota

Today (Wednesday, January 31) marks the end of the month-long 1957 March of Dimes campaign.

Aubra Ellison, community March of Dimes chairman for Bovina, says he is more than sure Bovina has done itself proud by reaching its quota "and then some."

Quota set for Bovina was $1000. If the $1000 goal is reached as Ellison believes it will easily be, Bovina will be the first Parmer County community to raise that amount for the MOD in one year. Final tabulations will be made after today and the exact figures will be announced in next week's Blade.

Most recent boost to the apparently successful drive was a coffee and cake sale by Lady Armstrong in Gaines Hardware Co., Saturday. The refreshments were "bought" via a donation to the MOD. Mrs. Armstrong and her helpers, Mrs. Betty Adams and Mrs. Carl Rea, made about $126 for the drive.

Mrs. Armstrong says this year's effort fell "a couple of dollars" short of last year's, "but it was much better than I expected." Other promotions earlier for the drive had already collected a large share of the community's MOD money. Coffee for Mrs. Armstrong's promotion was donated by Arnholz Coffee Co. and cream and chocolate milk were furnished by Sealtest Milk.

Lady says she is most appreciative to every one who helped make the effort successful. Bovina Jaycees-sponsored telethon made $556 for the drive and Bovina Woman's Study Club's pancake supper netted $143. These figures added with the cake sales' $126 total $825.

Ellison says this figure coupled with the money from the school and from dime boards should push the total over the quota easily.

About $200 is expected to be donated by students and dime boards are expected to contain about $100, Ellison says.

City Cafe Has Big Opening

"Lots of people and lots of coffee," Mrs. Mildred Richards, manager of City Cafe, said following the Friday Grand Opening of the new business.

Coffee and rolls were served during the morning Friday and coffee and cake were served in the afternoon. The cakes were baked by Earl Roberts.

An estimated 725 cups of coffee were served to guests during the day. Though no charge was made for refreshment, guests were given an opportunity to donate to the March of Dimes. Approximately $30 was collected for the drive.

An advertisement in this issue expresses "Thanks" to people who attended the opening.

LEGION MEETS MONDAY

TO LAZBUDDIE, NAZARETH—

Mustangs Lose Two Thrillers

Lazbuddie Wins Two from Locals

It was the same song, fourth verse Friday night at Lazbuddie as the Bovina Mustangs lost their fourth district game in six starts by less than a three point margin. Lazbuddie's Longhorns slipped by in the teams' second District 3-B game, 38-36.

For the first half it was Bovina's ball game. The locals lead 22-17 at that point and 7-3 at the end of the first quarter. But the third period, which has proved to be fatal for the Ponies before, saw Bovina slip behind, 24-27, and they weren't able to overcome the lead in the last quarter.

Neil Smith led the Mustang attack with 17 points. He was followed by Phil Caldwell, 11; Marvin Young, six; and Tom Ware, two.

Coach R. E. Everett's Fillies took their second district loss from the Lazbuddie lassies in the evening's opener, 79-56.

The game was highlighted by the

Resuscitator Studied At Fire Meeting

Bovina Volunteer Firemen studied the department's oxygen resuscitator at a regular meeting Monday night in the fire station. Otho Hammonds, fire chief, was in charge of the instruction. Thirteen firemen were present.

Fire Destroys Hawkins' Hay

Fire, from an undetermined origin, destroyed an estimated 60 bales of hay and some unbaled hay belonging to Charles Hawkins just west of Bovina about one p. m. Thursday.

Bovina Volunteer Firemen answered a call to the fire and saved approximately half of the hay, according to a fire department spokesman.

Handicapped by lack of water—only the 500 gallons carried on the truck was available—the firemen's efforts were mostly protective. They were able to keep the flames from spreading until the hay that was not burning could be moved out of danger.

A baler crew had been baling the hay during the morning. The fire was discovered when the men returned from lunch.

scoring of Lazbuddie's tall Joy Smith. She accounted for 54 points. Janice Richards and Nancy Cumpton were high for Bovina. They had 33 and 13 points respectively.

Nazareth Whips Bovina Twice

Playing top-notch basketball in the first half, but turning cold in the third and fourth quarters, Bovina's Mustangs took a hard-fought, 44-42, loss from Nazareth last (Tuesday) night at Williford Gym. It was District 3-B loss number seven for the never-say-die Mustangs. They have yet to win a conference game.

The first quarter was like the high-scoring games of yesteryear. Nazareth jumped to an early lead, saw the ponies catch up, then went ahead 20-19 at the end of the period.

Long shots by Neil Smith and side shots by Phil Caldwell put the locals out front early in the second period. It was nip and tuck during most of the quarter, but Caldwell made four quick points late to make the halftime score Bovina 31—Nazareth 26.

Slowly but surely, the visitors started whittling on the Mustangs' lead during the third period. And at the end of the quarter, they had tied the score at 38-all.

Bovina regained a two point lead in the final quarter and went into a semi-stall with less than four minutes remaining. The score was tied at 40-40 and 42-42 as the seconds drained off the scoreboard clock. Nazareth was able to sink the last basket to make the score 44-42 and the ball game was over.

Nazareth won the teams' first round contest by an even smaller margin—50-49.

Smith with 18 and Caldwell with 17 were high scorers for Bovina. Tom Ware, who did a good rebounding job, made four and Marvin Young accounted for three. Leon Richards and Donnie Spring did not score.

Never quite able to get into the ball game, the Fillies, too, were defeated. Nazareth's girls, featuring Gerber, who made 33 points, took a 57-35 victory.

The visiting girls jumped to an early lead and increased it as the game grew older.

The score by quarters: 16-9, 30-17, and 40-23.

Janice Richards made 12 points for Bovina. Nancy Cumpton hit for eight, Joanie Ezell had six, Ellen Berry pitched in four, Kay Leake made three, and Sue Moody scored two.

IN HOSPITAL

Rodney Murphy, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Murphy, spent several days of last week in Parmer County Community Hospital at Friona. He was admitted Monday night, suffering from a virus infection. He was released the latter part of the week.

Also under the weather during the week were the Murphy's other two children, Lynn, six year old son, who also had a virus and fever attack, and three year old Darlene, who suffered an infection in her ear.

HAY A'FIRE—For the second time in as many weeks, Bovina Volunteer Firemen answered a call to a hay fire Thursday. The hay pictured above belonged to Charles Hawkins and was located just west of Bovina. Al Kerby is the man shown reeling more hose from the fire truck. About half of the hay was saved by the firemen. The week before, the firemen put out a hay fire at A. V. Warren's farm at Oklahoma Lane.

Still-lives can be as simple as this one, yet effective enough to be enlarged and hung on a wall.

Still-Life Snapshotting

Have you ever noticed how almost every national snapshot contest has a number of awards earmarked for entries in the "still life" category? Well, if you're like most of us, you've probably thought, "They're for the experts and the specialists—not for casual Sunday snapshotters like us!"

But that's where you're wrong—because still-life pictures are within camera range of everybody who can focus accurately and make time exposures. You need no more complicated equipment than a simple box camera, ordinary home lights or photo-floods, and—of course—a good eye for interesting objects.

Yes, in still-life photography, the "eyes" really have it! For the idea underlying effective still-lives is first to choose pictorial elements that are interesting in themselves and then to arrange them in a composition that's pleasing to the eye. And you'll be surprised to see how very simple elements can create striking effects, achieving beauty just through the pattern of shapes and textures or in the interplay of shadow and substance.

We personally feel a few still-lives belong in every picture-taker's repertory—and in his album, too. For you can't shoot even a single still life without learning much about lighting and arrangement that will prove invaluable to you in all your other snapshotting.

Remember, any grouping of objects can be made to serve your purpose—and the simpler the "props" the better. A willow-ware bowl, some glossy apples, a plate and a paring knife arranged on a checked tablecloth—a collection of Dad's pipes and tobacco or Sister's record player and album covers—a bouquet of salad greens teamed with cruet, herbs and spices—the top of Mother's sewing machine spilling over with fabrics, ribbons and spools of thread—any of these can yield a handsome composition either in color or black-and-white.

Still life arrangements are bounded only by the limits of your own imagination and willingness to experiment. Try an interestingly lighted view of little Kathy's ballet slippers, a music box and a tiny figurine—or give fancy a whirl with a composition that highlights bell, book and candle as its theme.

The study takes up the problems and the ways to solve the problems of the young people of today.

Also on the program for the day was a film, shown by Danny Morton, entitled "Right or Wrong". It told a story of the temptations which young boys are subjected to, and the results of the boy's actions.

Those present for the day were Mrs. Rouel Barron, Mrs. George Turner, Mrs. Earl Stevenson, Mrs. O. H. Jones, Mrs. Della Ezell, Mrs. Sudderth and Mrs. Earl Ware.

The next meeting will be Tuesday afternoon in the fellowship hall. The study will continue in the same book and is subtitled "Juvenile Delinquency." Mrs. Sudderth will continue as leader.

WMU Starts New Study Tuesday

Members of the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church met Tuesday afternoon to begin a new study. Mrs. Johnnie Horn is in charge of the study, "The Call Comes Ringing". It is a study of the lives and work of missionaries in foreign countries.

Volunteer Firemen Doing a Fine Job

By Sally Whitesides

By the time the wail of the fire siren has subdued itself to a low growl after announcing a night fire, lights flick on throughout Bovina. Here and there, in an amazingly short time, car motors roar and men speed off in hot pursuit of the big red truck.

These men, leaving their homes in the middle of the night or their jobs during the day, are members of the Bovina Volunteer Fire Department. City employees, service station attendants, state highway workers, businessmen and others; these are the men who volunteer their time and efforts to protect Bovina's homes and businesses from fire.

There are 18 members at the present time. They are O. M. Hammonds, fire chief; Bill Burnam, assistant chief; Bill Denny, secretary and treasurer; Alfred Haney, Alfred Moody, Weldon Moody, Robert Hopingardner, Ed Hutto, Pat Kunselman, Billy Horton, Elton Venable, Dave Wines, George Trimble, Henry Minter, Don Garrett, Roy Fuller, John Wilson and Herman Estes.

These men didn't simply swing aboard the fire truck and start going to fires. They spend many hours in specific instructions and still attend two meetings, or four hours, each month for instructions on the proper procedure for successful fire fighting, first aid and the use of modern fire fighting equipment.

The local department was organized in the later months of 1949 and the city acquired the siren in the early months of 1950. Prior to the organization of the department, the only fire fighting equipment at the disposal of the public was a hand operated, hand drawn, extinguisher; mounted on buggy wheels. This "antique" may still be seen at the fire station. Hammonds says it is still in surprising good condition. It took many strong arms to pull the apparatus to the fire, but when there, one or two men could operate it to capacity. It takes a minimum of nine men to operate the present equipment of truck, hoses, pressure etc.

In the beginning, the city commission rented a section of the "McCuan" building as the fire house, but in 1952, the present fire station, city offices, etc., were built and all supplies are now stored there.

True to its name, the department is made up completely of volunteers. They are covered with a liability insurance in case of accidents. The premiums, like the fuel, supplies and upkeep of the department, is paid by the city commission, from city taxes. The city commission also allots approximately $50.00 a month to the department for their use. This $50.00 is completely at their disposal as the department sees fit.

Some of their recent purchases have been helmets, coveralls and badges for the men and a pickup to carry equipment which can't be carried on the fire truck.

Although there is an average of only 12 fires a year in this area, the territory has been recently besieged with several serious fires. The most serious was the fire which destroyed the Bovina School building in September, 1953. The local department did not handle this fire alone; but had help from the Farwell, Friona, Hereford and Clovis Air Force Base fire departments. The local department is also on call for any place that needs its assistance.

The BVFD is responsible for fire protection only within city limits, but it does answer calls from rural areas. In fact, approximately 80% of the fires in the area are in the rural district. In case of fire during the day, calls should be placed to the city offices, number 2742. Night calls should be to the Bovina Hotel, number 2741. In case of no answer, Hammonds advises a call to any member of the fire department.

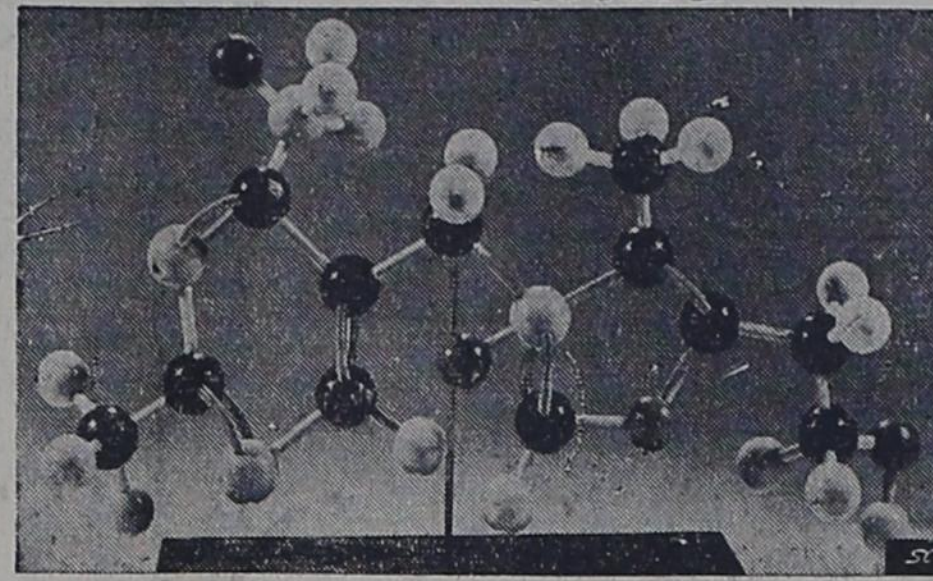

When a call comes in, the individual receiving it first sets off the alarm, writes the place of the fire on a blackboard at the station, and leaves for the fire. There must be at least two men on the truck at the time of its departure. The preservation of lives is the first responsibility of the crew, then the lives of the firemen themselves and the third is the preservation of property.

The lack of consideration by the public is the fireman's largest trouble. Very few untrained men can be of constructive assistance to the firemen in a time of emergency. Hammonds says, because of the time element, of all jobs he can think of, that of a fire fighting crew demands the most team work. Cooperation is well enough, but, unless the men know what is to be done, where and when, they are apt to get in the way and slow down the work of the fighters. Hammonds also stresses the danger to everyone involved when the curious sight-seers follow the truck. Quite often, streets or roads are blocked by these cars. They would seriously handicap a rescue crew in case of an injured person being rushed to the hospital.

Although 18 members may sound like plenty, Hammonds says there is still room for any number of volunteers. There should be at least 30. He says it is the opinion of many people that men "middle-age" or more can be of no help; but this is very inaccurate. Men who know their capabilities and know they cannot man the hoses could still handle traffic, hold the spectators out of danger and do many other jobs, now being done by able firemen or being neglected. If there were older men who would take over these duties, it would leave the younger men to do the manual work. It has also been stressed that all fire meetings, signaled by one whistle, are open to the public. Anyone wishing to attend is welcome.

The truck carries many different types of equipment, though still comparatively limited and more is constantly being added. The big

C₁₂H₁₇CIN₄OS.HCl

The tinkler toy-like contrivance may appear to be something out of Junior's playbox, but it isn't. Reading it, as some people can, it is C₁₂H₁₇CIN₄OS.HCl, or the B vitamin, thiamine molecule. It is a science lecture model.

The discovery of thiamine is a classic of scientific achievement and its most prevalent use, in the enrichment of bread, is in the class of a modern scientific miracle in the field of public health. At the recent American Bakers Association's Annual Convention in Chicago, a program was presented observing the 15th anniversary of the enrichment program and honoring the men who were most responsible for the bread enrichment.

The men were: Dr. R. E. Williams, New York, the scientist who isolated and first synthesized the B vitamin and founder of the Williams-Waterman Fund for the Combat of Dietary Diseases;

Dr. Norman Jolliffe, Director, Bureau of Nutrition, Department of Health, New York;

Dr. Thomas Parran, Dean, Graduate School of Public Health, University of Pittsburgh;

Dr. W. Henry Sebrell, Jr., President, Williams-Waterman Fund;

M. L. Wilson, Chevy Chase, Md., former Director of Extension, U. S. Department of Agriculture, and

Dr. Russell M. Wilder, Mayo

Clinic, Rochester, Minn.

Bread enrichment became possible with Dr. Williams' thiamine discovery. From thiamine, scientists were able to produce other health-vital B vitamins, riboflavin and niacin, to be added to bread.

Nutritionists urged that the mineral iron be added. In 1941, the bakers nationally introduced enriched white bread.

Health officials and the American Medical Association advocated the use of the B vitamins and iron in white bread as a major step in eradicating the mass killer diseases of diet deficiencies.

Dr. W. W. Bauer, Director of the Bureau of Health Education, AMA, at the bakers' convention hailed bread enrichment as a "dramatic change" in the nutritional status of the nation. He told how the federal government ordered enrichment of all white bread and rolls for the duration of World War II.

"Nutrition is no less important in time of peace than in time of war," Dr. Bauer concluded. "The continuance of enrichment is therefore, a strictly logical procedure."

truck, is a "500 gallon pumper with a 500 gallon storage tank." It carries normally about 1000 feet of two and a half inch hose; 300 feet of one inch, low pressure hose, with fog nozzles; 250 feet of high pressure hose with a fog nozzle is also used.

For minor fires, high pressure hoses are used almost completely and carry about 600 pounds of pressure. Low pressure hoses are used in case of major fires and their pressure runs about 100 to 150 pounds. The low pressure provides a much greater volume of water. The two and a half inch, low pressure hose with one inch nozzle is used only in rare cases where water must be shot a great distance. Also carried on the truck is one hand-operated foam extinguisher and one carbon dioxide extinguisher. They are used for petroleum and electrical fires of a minor nature.

Another important piece of equipment which the city acquired in 1952 is a "respirator" or portable oxygen unit. It is used by the department in case of drowning victims, asphyxiation strangulation, heart attacks or any other time when oxygen is needed. In case a family needs the oxygen unit, it may call the city offices, the hotel, or the homes of Henry Minter or Otho Hammonds. It has been used several times recently and is a piece of equipment which is at the public's disposal at all times. It is at the fire station, also.

In the near future, Hammonds plans to have a regular school of instruction for the men of the local department. They will learn, as well as fire fighting, first aid, artificial respiration and the use of the portable oxygen unit. In the past, members of the organization have taken courses set up by the state for training each summer. Last July, three local men went to College Station for a week's training course. Plans are for more to go this year. Bovina will receive a decrease in its insurance key rate for this training.

Contrary to the belief of many, the damages done in the last few years by serious fires have not increased insurance premiums. This is for one simple reason—they were as high as the law would allow before the fires ever happened.

Bovina's key rate is 97 per cent, compared to Friona's rate of approximately 52 per cent. Hammonds believes that within the near future, this rate will be lowered for Bovina. It is in the process. The correct steps have been taken and he feels that it will not be long before we get credit for the improvements made in the last few years. The fire chief stressed the fact that other towns with less key rate have protection that equals but does not exceed that provided for Bovina.

The need of the BVFD at this time is for a fire marshal. The city commission is willing to hire a man to fill the job and it is open for applicants at all times. The duties would take an average of two or three days a month and would be primarily inspections of the city's businesses and public buildings for fire hazards. Recommendations for corrective measures are made to the owners and business men for more fire prevention; followed a few days later by a re-check to see if the recommendations are followed.

According to history books,

Benjamin Franklin was the first to organize a fire department, volunteer or otherwise. His men, many on the "bucket brigade" also pushed and pulled the cumbersome water carts of that day. Later, horse drawn carts outmoded the manual one, and now, both are left far behind when the siren goes.

When the quiet of Bovina's night is disrupted by the moan of the siren, lights blink on all over town. The citizens, all so conscious of fires and possible damages, clutch robes and race to doors to see "which way it went". Then the majority return to their beds and go peacefully back to sleep. They can sleep, because they know their neighbors, members of the Bovina Volunteer Fire Department, are on their way to do a job—and do it properly.

Study Club Has Program On Grooming Thursday

Members of Bovina Woman's Study Club met Thursday in the club house for a regular semi-monthly meeting.

The meeting was called to order by vice president, Mrs. A. B. Wilkinson, in the absence of Mrs. Lloyd C. Battey, president. Minutes of the previous meeting was read by the secretary, Mrs. A. M. Martin. Reports on the pancake supper for March of Dimes held Tuesday evening, January 22, was given by Mrs. Reagan Looney. She reported that the organization had cleared $143.21 from the supper.

In the absence of the chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. Clarence Jones read their report on nominations for club officers for the coming year. A report was also given that four members of the local club attended the meeting and book review held Monday, January 21 by the Farwell Woman's Club.

Program for the day was "Charm and Personality", with Mrs. Clarence Jones speaking on outward grooming, such as clothes, accessories and makeup. Due to the absence of Mrs. O. H. Jones, who was in charge of the inward grooming session of the program; a round table discussion was held with each member present giving her opinion on what makes up inner beauty of any woman. Some of their suggestions were spiritual and physical calmness and tenderness. The group also discussed different age groups, their personalities and the training which was the cause of each case.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. A. B. Wilkinson and Mrs. Leslie McCain. They served refreshments of pecan pie and coffee to Mesdames Rouel Barron, Buck Ellison, Arnold Hromas, Clarence Jones, Ovid Lawlis, Reagan Looney, Mary Ruth Martin, Amos Shockley, A. E. Steelman, Earl Stevenson, Billie Sudderth, J. R. Caldwell and Frank Pesch.

The next meeting will be Thursday afternoon, February 14, with Mrs. Barron and Mrs. Stevenson in charge of the program, which will be on "Religion". Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. E. H. Moody and Mrs. Billie Sudderth.

DID YOU KNOW

The Texas Longhorn, a cross between Spanish aristocracy and American mongrel milking stock, was never recognized as a definite breed?

the farmer was losing 10 acres of cropland. Countywide surveys have shown that in many counties upwards of 5,000 acres of cropland are not producing crops because of fence row thieves. Walker says if fence rows, trees and brush are not controlled, the farmer would at least save his planting seed, time and labor by not trying to produce crops close to brushy fence rows. This he adds would be a waste of good cropland and not very good management.

Now is the time of the year to apply chemicals to these moisture and soil nutrient robbers. Walker says research and many farm demonstrations have shown that best control is obtained by spraying the cut-off stump, the trunk base or by applying a solution in frills to the standing trees. The accepted chemical is 2,4,5-T which should be mixed with diesel oil or kerosene and applied with a hand or backtype sprayer. For the hard to kill trees, Walker recommends a pound of the chemical in six gallons of oil. For easier to kill trees a pound to 12 gallons of oil is suggested. December, January and February are good months for carrying out the control program. Labor is usually available and working conditions more desirable. Too, few broad-leaf crops are growing which might be damaged from drift from the chemical. The chemical is non-poisonous to man or livestock in the recommended formula.

TO INCREASE YIELDS

Small grain producers can increase grain yields from 25 to 30 percent through the use of nitrogen fertilizer as a sidedressing. M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist, says demonstrations conducted over a period of years have proved the value of this practice. In the area south of Waco, from now until mid-February is the time to make the application and those to the north of this area should make the application by March 1 or not later than March 15.

Workers Conference Held Thursday Night

Several teachers in Bovina Methodist Church School gathered Thursday evening of last week in the fellowship hall of the church for a workers conference and covered dish supper.

Following the meal, the group held a round table discussion, under the direction of Robert Wilson, superintendent of the Church School. Most of those present had attended several meetings which were held January 13 through 17 at Hereford. They gathered Thursday evening to discuss and share the things they had learned at these meetings. Each one present brought forward at least one suggestion how to improve attendance and direction of the present Methodist Church School.

Two young people, Miss Janice Richards and Miss Nita Beth Estes, were present for the meeting and gave their opinions on ways to improve the Church School.

Those present for the evening were Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Beaird, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Rea, Mrs. Paul L. Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Ware, Vernon Estes, Mrs. Tom Hastings, Mrs. Margaret Caldwell, Miss Rita Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Whitesides, Miss Richards, Miss Estes and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson.

Byron Turner of Odessa visited several days of last week here with his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ayres. He returned home Thursday.

Clean Fence Rows Conserve Moisture Add To Farm Income

Have you ever stopped to think how much undesirable trees and brush in the farm fence rows costs? A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, says a recent study showed that a single large mesquite tree was using all of the water from one-sixth acre of cropland.

The farmer on whose farm the study was made reported that the tree cost him $9.10 last year. He averaged a half bale of cotton to the acre on his other cropland but got nothing from the area around the tree. He stopped and did a little figuring and for less than five cents killed the tree.

On another farm, Walker said, no crops were growing for a distance of 90 feet from a brushy fence row. In one mile of fence row

Jiffy Coconut Ring

Turn breakfast into an event—serve hot Jiffy Coconut Ring with butter or margarine and marmalade.

In just about the time it takes to turn out a batch of rolled biscuits, you can also make this Jiffy Coconut Ring.

Made from a biscuit dough, the simple coffee cake has the glamorizing touch of a luscious coconut, brown sugar and nut filling. Appealing also is the ring into which you shape the coffee cake.

Any good breakfast becomes better when it includes a nutritious hot bread such as Jiffy Coconut Ring. When you bake or buy products made with enriched flour, you gain a nutritional advantage of three B vitamins and food iron. Breads are just one part of a healthy breakfast. They fit right in with fruit or fruit juice, milk, eggs or meat, and enriched, restored or whole grain cereals.

Your baker's enriched breads are stand-bys for good breakfasting, too. Enriched white bread is almost indispensable for toast. Make a point to add occasional variety to the morning fare with raisin, cinnamon or whole wheat bread and with sweet rolls and coffeecakes.

JIFFY COCONUT RING

- 2 cups sifted enriched flour
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1/2 cup milk
- Melted butter or margarine

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Combine egg and milk and add to flour mixture, stirring only enough to moisten flour. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Roll out to rectangle 1/4 inch thick. Brush with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle with Coconut Filling. Roll up like jelly roll, sealing edge. Form into ring on lightly greased baking sheet. With scissors cut through ring almost to center, in slices about 1 inch thick. Turn adjoining slices of dough in opposite directions and stand on end. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees fahrenheit) 20 minutes.

Coconut Filling

- 1/2 cup chopped shredded coconut
 - 2 tablespoons enriched bread crumbs
 - 1/2 cup brown sugar
 - 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
 - 1/4 cup chopped nuts
- Combine all ingredients and mix until well blended. Makes 1 coffee cake.

Landscaping Trees Available Again

Parmer County farmers who want to landscape their farms are again offered young evergreens through the Texas Forestry Service, advises County Agent Joe Jones.

The agent notes that many farmers have made good use of the trees for windbreak purposes in recent years, and this week he expressed the hope that the project would be undertaken by additional families.

"Don't get discouraged if you lost some of your trees in previous plantings," the agent says. "It's not uncommon to have heavy losses with the first bare rooted trees you try to grow."

He offered these suggestions on how to get maximum survival on plantings:

1. Don't let the roots freeze or dry out before trees are set.
2. Set trees in moist dirt and water immediately.
3. Provide some kind of windbreak. This should be done the day the trees are set out.
4. Water well every week or 10 days during the first year.
5. It is usually best to grow young trees in a bed near the house the first year. Be sure trees are not too close together.
6. Don't order more trees than can be taken care of properly.
7. Plan your windbreak well before you set trees out.
8. Don't order trees unless you want them bad enough to do the things necessary to make them live.

Application blanks are available at the agent's office. Species include Arizona Cypress, Austrian pine, Chinese elm, Ponderosa pine, red cedar, and honey locust. Price is $1.50 per hundred.

The shipping season ends April 1.

Tractors Added To Research Station

Farming activity at the High Plains station of the Texas Research Foundation was stepped up January 25 with the delivery of a second tractor and equipment from the Minneapolis-Moline Company. The first tractor with equipment was delivered by the John Deere Plow Company on January 11 and since that time has been used in deep breaking the land in preparation for the soils and crops research.

Dr. Johnny Davis, associate head of the station, says "We're getting started later than we had hoped to, but until the lease agreements on the land were signed, we could do no land preparation. Now that we are underway and have two tractors, the land preparation will go much faster. We hope to obtain a third tractor so all our research can be done on schedule."

The tractors and farm equipment used on the research farm at Halfway are supplied by the manufacturers on a lease basis rather than purchase.

When you want to mail a letter and the only stamp you can find is one that will not stick, just moisten it lightly then rub it gently across the flap of an envelope. Enough glue will stick to the stamp to keep it in its proper place without doing any harm to the envelope.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

At this time of year, a lot of farm people change places of residence. If you happen to be one who is changing your address this year, don't overlook the fact that as a mother you should make an effort toward helping your child or children adjust to a new location.

Of course, if your children are pre-school age, you have very little to worry about. Fortunately, most children feel like the little boy who was asked, "Son, where is your home?" His reply was, "Oh! Just wherever my mother is."

With older children, though, it is different. Too many parents make the mistake of planning a move and keeping everything "hush-hush" until everything is cut and dried then announce to the children that the move will be made on a certain date.

Like a lot of other things, children need to be prepared for a move. If mothers take time to explain to the children that a move is being planned, that they will go to a new school, and a different Sunday School class, a lot of difficulties can be avoided.

Sometimes the mothers share the children's idea that to move is an unpleasant thing. This makes the move doubly hard on the father. In such a case, the mother should make every effort to make whatever adjustment necessary and to help her children do likewise.

This could be done by thinking about and pointing out to the children the pleasant things which are bound to happen. There is a very enjoyable side to making a new home, as well as the unpleasant side.

You might point out to the children that even though they move away from their friends and playmates, they will soon make new ones. Making new friends can be a wonderful experience, so if it is your lot to be one of the homemakers who are beginning your career in a new place, make the most of it for yourself, as well as for the rest of the family.

When you want to mail a letter and the only stamp you can find is one that will not stick, just moisten it lightly then rub it gently across the flap of an envelope. Enough glue will stick to the stamp to keep it in its proper place without doing any harm to the envelope.

If you have ever wondered about what kind of brown sugar you were supposed to use in a recipe that calls for brown sugar, think we have the answer for you. In a leaflet we read recently it was stated that it was a general practice to specify any degree of brownness except the light brown. Hence if you are not supposed to use the light brown variety, the recipe should specify which one you are supposed to use.

As most mothers of children know, it is hard to think of things to keep them busy when it is necessary for them to stay in bed. If it is necessary for a child to stay in bed over a long period of time, he will enjoy a bedside garden. The garden can be easily made with a coffee can or almost any kind or size can that is available. Flower or vegetable seeds need only warmth and moisture to sprout and will come up within a few days. Several varieties can be planted in the same container. This makes it more interesting when they begin to come up.

Someone has said, "Children are those creatures who are sent to bed at night when they are not sleepy, then made to get up the next morning when they are."

Those of us who have small children in school could take a tip from the ladies who serve our children in the cafeteria. The foods which the children consistently refuse to eat could be added to our shopping list with the idea in mind of teaching the children, by our example, to eat them.

Good eating habits, like so many others, should begin at home. If we have gotten into a rut by serving the same things over and over again until the children hardly eat anything else, it may be time for us to make a new beginning.

If you think you are spending too much for groceries, it might be wise for you to check up on how much of the grocery bill is actually for groceries and how much is for "maid's work."

Most of the items on the grocery store shelves which are higher than they were a few years ago are items which are designed to take the work out of cooking.

When we buy ready-mixed, pre-cooked or partially cooked products we are paying someone else to do the work for us and not for the food. Those of us who cannot afford to pay for this "maid service" will just have to do without these items.

If present indications are carried out, the 1957 turkey crop could exceed the record crop of last year. Producers are urged to study the demand and supply situation in planning for the year ahead.

"The Place Where Most People Trade"

Ralph Smith and Earnest Anthony went to Springfield, Missouri, to get some IH pickups for the Parmer County Implement Company last week. All the transport drivers are on a strike. When the Friona men got to Springfield they went into what they thought was the truck company office and after they'd inquired about driving the pickups home they got their pickups out in a hurry. They'd heard of what happened to fellows who tried to break a strike.

Our apologies to Mr. Southward. Last week we said we'd heard Mr. Southward made 2½ bales of cotton per acre. It was Mr. Southward's neighbors who made that much cotton. Anyway, the point we wanted to make was that Parmer County can grow as much cotton per acre as any county in Texas.

Andy Anderson tells about his granddad migrating to the piney woods of East Texas. Farming was all he knew and he cleared a good tract in the wooded and somewhat rocky land. One day the circuit riding preacher rode by, admired the job old man Anderson had done, and stopped to comment.

"You and the Lord are doing a fine job here, brother."

"Yes," was the reply, "but you should've seen it when the Lord was doing it alone."

Friona has a new division of the first grade and Mrs. McKee is teaching it at present. The new room offers some relief to our three regular teachers who had been coping with about 35 six and seven year old boys and girls every day. Jackie Claborn was sick (but not very) for three days awhile back and when Mrs. Bengler, his teacher saw Mrs. Claborn, his mother, she said, "We sure missed Jackie." The Building Program

The building program at the Methodist Church is getting underway. A complete organization of all committees will be finished Thursday of this week.

The plan that is being used is known as the Roy L. Farrow Plan. Farrow is executive director of Texas Methodist College Association with headquarters at Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

The general chairman of the campaign is Bedford Caldwell. The steering committee is composed of W. R. Beard, pastor, Caldwell, J. T. Hammonds, Robert E. Wilson, Earl Stevenson, A. L. Hartzog, Warren Morton and Mrs. Wilbur Charles.

The objective to be obtained is the building of an "educational building" on the lots back of the present church building.

Family Project: Food 'N Fun

Cookies with the gay "glamour" treatment needn't take much of your time to prepare—and what a way to surprise the family! Your cookies can begin as simple vanilla wafers—buy some at the store if you haven't time to bake a batch. The big secret here is the way you can use candies (and your own good imagination) to decorate and dress up cookies—not just for parties, but for "everyday"—the whole business is that easy.

You'll need:
Cookies (make them or buy them) Frosting (boiled or packaged)
Assorted candies for decoration—such as jelly beans, corn candy, chocolate-covered nuts and many others.

The children would probably love to get in on the "cookie decorating" fun, too, so make a family project of it.

To Haskell

Mrs. Dennis Williams left Monday afternoon for Haskell where her husband's mother, Mrs. Jack Williams, of Rule is confined to a hospital. The local woman expects to return home the latter part of the week.

Study Instructions On Tax Paying!

Probably more folks have their income tax returns audited because of claiming a questionable dependent than for any other reason. Thousands of taxpayers have to come in because they didn't follow the tax instructions on dependents. You don't have to send pictures of all the dependents but you have to give all information and fill out all the forms to let the tax folks know that you haven't claimed your dog. Some folks are surprised that they can't claim their dog or their cow. If some of us would stop and think, maybe the old cow ought to take us for a dependent. Anyway, it is a good idea to study the tax instructions Uncle Sam sends you before you fill out your tax return.

MAMA MUST SIGN, TOO

The tax folks spend a lot of time sending back income tax returns that Papa signs and forgets to have Mama sign. If the return is a joint return, Papa and Mama are both responsible and both have to sign. Prepare your tax return and both sign it, if it is a joint return, now. It may be to your advantage to file early.

Returns Home

Mrs. J. R. Glover returned home Sunday from New Mexico. She had been visiting with a son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Glover and family of Truth or Consequences, New Mexico, for the past three weeks.

Has Slumber Party

Several friends of Eileen Williams, 13 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Williams, went home with her Friday evening after school for a slumber party. The youngsters attended revival services at the First Baptist Church and then spent the evening visiting and playing games. Eileen and her mother took the girls home Saturday morning.

Those present for the party were Marilyn Turner, Brenda Jones, Penny Lloyd, Charlotte Hromas, Cynthia Patterson, Laverne Riley and Elizabeth Edwards.
