Partial Agreement Reached On Germany, Austria

Going Forward With Eastland

Increased travel on South Lawn Street, a gravel thoroughfare, as a result of the new homes being constructed in Hillcrest Addition, is creating a dust and traffic problem, residents of that area advise.

South Lawn runs north and south and was seldom used until the construction work started. The small children had been in the habit of running and playing at will. While parents are doing everything possible to keep them out of the street, they are living in mortal fear that they will be struck by a passing vehicle. The street is in poor shape and dust from the increased traffic is considerable.

Persons traveling on South Lawn are requested to drive slowly and keep a sharp lookout for the little tykes.

Seems everyone around the office had received appreciation gifts during the past week except Boss O. H. Dick. Well, his turn came this morning. J. C. Poe, owner of Poe's Floral Shop, who is on vacation with his family in sunny Florida, sent Dick a crate of oranges. The only catch is that the crate is the souvenir type, with the oranges being about marble size. Dick said it was nice to be remembered, anyway. J. C. also sent along a picture postcard of pier No. 5 of City Yacht Basin in Miami, and wrote:

"Leaving today from this pier on deep sea fishing trip. Margie and Myrie are going along as passengers. Hope we have luck."

Sunday was Father's Day, Negro's Day and my mother's birthday. After arriving back in Eastland early Saturday afternoon, I, and my wife, did a little work, and headed the old Pontiac for Brownwood to visit the folks over the week-end. Sure enough, fried chicken was on the Sunday dinner menu. Now this scribe likes chicken fine, but had some at supper Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick, more of the same Thursday night at the Gorman Lions Club meeting, and the same Friday night at the Scout feed for the Rotary Club.

Don't look now, but our friend, the lady editor Mrs. Ruth Ducker of the Ranger Daily Times, is glowing now over the fact that Charles Thompson is now editing the Long Star Gas Company magazine, "Blue Blaze". Mrs. Ducker even goes so far as to compare the publication with Life magazine. She adds "we're glad to have some reinforcements on our side in the argument with the bachelor editor at Eastland." Am sure Mrs. Ducker will be happy to learn that a fine gentleman by the name of S. E. Price, local realtor who is married by the way and has some grown sons, has just come into the office and asid he doesn't think this scribe needs any reinforcements as I'm able to take care of my end of the squabble quite well."

pack of coons doing away with supplies. Next morning, Moore found that a pound of bacon and a loaf of bread was missing from the foray.

Following breakfast, the scouts were fishing, swimming and on a hiking expedition. While scouts were policing the camp in preparation to depart, a can containing kerosene — left by previous campers — was accidentally tossed on the fire. The can exploded and missing Moore, who was standing by the fire, by inches, sailed into the air and landed fifty feet away, near Brown, who was bringing in fishing tackle.

The trip was taken in preparation for a week's stay at Camp Billy Gibbons the last of this month.

Negro Admitted To Oklahoma U.

NORMAN, Okla., June 20 (UP)—Soft spoken Ada Lois Fisher, a negress who opened the doors of the University of Oklahoma to members of her race began her law studies today in a partitioned section of a white students' classroom.

She started her battle for admittance to the traditionally white State University in January, 1946. Her struggle partially cracked Oklahoma's rigid segregation laws.

"I'm very enthusiastic about starting," the 25-year-old woman said. "After all, I've waited three long years."

Mrs. Fisher will be separated from her white classmates by a railing placed in the room to comply with a new state law.

"I think it's ridiculous, just terribly ridiculous," she said. "Why put one human being behind a railing? If I am qualified to go to school, being a citizen of the state and of America, I don't see why I can't sit anywhere I want."

She described the barrier, which University officials termed a "emergency measure of temporary nature," as "another concrete manifestation of this segregation evil we have. It is a perfect example of un-Americanism."

Mrs. Fisher will be required to eat with 28 other negro students in a special section of the University cafeteria and study in a segregated portion of the library. The negro students will use separate washrooms.

Mrs. Fisher will live at Chickasaw, Okla., and drive each day to the university.

Scouts Lower Entrance Ages In 3 Programs

In an unprecedented move, the Boy Scouts of America have lowered the entrance age for its three programs of Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Senior Scouting, effective next Sept. 1, according to G. N. Quiri, executive of Comanche Trail Boy Scout Council.

In announcing the far-reaching change authorized by the national executive board of the organization, Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief scout executive, said the decision was reached after a three year's exhaustive study during which opinions were obtained from experienced leaders as well as parents.

After Sept. 1, boys may become Cub Scouts at eight years of age instead of nine; Boy Scouts at eleven instead of twelve and Explorers at fourteen instead of fifteen years of age.

The program known as Senior Scouting, Dr. Schuck announced now becomes "Exploring" with its scope broad enough to include land, sea and air activities as well as life exploration. Units specializing in seamanship or in aviation will be known as Explorer Ships for Explorer Squads, respectively.

HOUSE TURNS DOWN BOND ISSUE FOR STATE BUILDING PROGRAM

BY LLOYD LARRABEE United Press Staff Correspondent AUSTIN, Tex., June 20 (UP)—Members of the House refused to grant permission today for introduction of a proposal to finance a building program for elementary and higher education institutions through issuance of bonds by the state.

The plan was labeled by its sponsor, Rep. C. S. McLellan of Eagle Lake, as the "only business-like method" of financing building, and a "vehicle" by which the 51st session could finally adjourn.

However, permission to introduce the proposed constitutional amendment, requiring a four-fifths majority, was denied on a vote of 80-36.

Mehodist Congregation To Honor New Pastor With Supper Tonight

The Rev. J. Morris Bailey, new pastor of the First Methodist Church of Eastland, will be honored tonight by members with a covered dish supper and pounding in the church basement at 6:30 o'clock.

As a welcome to the new pastor and his wife, the church members are requested to bring their own plate and glass, and also a covered dish.

A meeting of the Board of Stewards will be held at 8 o'clock following the supper and pounding.

The Rev. Bailey was appointed pastor last week to succeed the Rev. J. M. Bond, pastor for the past year who was assigned to the Trinity Methodist Church in Fort Worth. He and his wife and two children, Evelyn, 9, and Robert, 5 moved into the parsonage here Thursday, after arriving from Corsicana, where he had been pastor of the 11th Avenue Methodist Church for two years.

Prior to serving at Corsicana, he had pastored at Elvasville, Putnam, Mineral Wells, and Glen Rose. He also served as chaplain with the Combat Engineers of the First Army in Europe for three years.

A native of Waco, the Rev. Bailey attended Baylor University and received his theological degree from Southern Methodist University at Dallas. He is especially interested in youth work, and was active in civic affairs in Corsicana, being a member of the Civitan Club.

In his first sermon at Eastland, the Rev. Bailey preached Sunday morning on the subject of "Commitment of My Life". The choir sang the anthem, "Create in Me a Clean Heart, O God". Robert L. Clinton, Jr. returned from graduate studies in Denton to conduct the choir. These new members were received into the church as follows: Gordon Taylor, Mrs. J. Morris Bailey, and Evelyn Bailey. For the evening service, the choir was composed of men and Homer Smith led the congregational song service. The pastor's sermon topic was "The Importance of Faith".

San Angelo Gets Third Spraying

SAN ANGELO, Tex., June 20 (UP) The polio-stricken West Texas city got its third coat of DDT today.

City manager Sam Lawhon said spraying operations would continue until the epidemic subsided.

The outbreak has stricken 194 persons, killing eight. Four new patients were admitted to Shannon Hospital yesterday, but nine were discharged to bring the total under treatment down to 58. Ten patients were being treated at the Smaller Clinic Hospital.

Three more physical therapists were scheduled to report to Shannon for duty in the next two or three days. At least 20 technicians supplied by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis were on duty today.

portance of Faith". With enthusiasm, the congregation and the pastor affirmed belief that a one hundred per cent increase in attendance could be achieved next Sunday evening at the 8 o'clock worship service. The men will, again, constitute the choir and Pat Miller will lead the congregational song service. Rev. and Mrs. Oran Stephens of Cisco were visitors for the Sunday evening service. Rev. Stephens is the District Superintendent of the Cisco District of the Methodist Church.

Little Hope Held For Crash Victim

MARFA, June 20 (UP)—A 20-year-old El Paso youth lingered near death in a Marfa hospital early today and attendants gave him little chance to recover from injuries received in a traffic accident that killed his mother and four other persons early yesterday.

Robert David Robinson still was unconscious this morning, more than 24 hours after the car in which he and his mother were riding to Pearsall collided head-on with one occupied by five young Marfa residents on U. S. Highway 90 at the west edge of the city. He suffered head and chest injuries.

Hurt fatally were Mrs. G. H. Robinson of El Paso, David Contreras, Matias Salgado, Mariano Jiner and Ernest Miller, all of Marfa.

Henry Magallanes, the fifth occupant of the westbound car, suffered leg and arm fractures and facial injuries, but attendants said he was not in a serious condition.

COMMUNIQUE TO BE ISSUED BY MINISTERS

PARIS, June 20 (UP)—The Big Four agreed today on a temporary working arrangement for running their two separate parts of Germany, and on a plan for signing an Austrian treaty by early fall.

The final agreement was reached in a quick secret session of the council of Foreign Ministers. It lasted barely half an hour. A recess was called, and a final plenary session winding up the first full dress Big Four Conference since 1947 met shortly after 4:30 P. M. (9:30 A. M. CST.)

During the recess Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky of Russia left the Rose Marble palace, site of the conference, presumably to return to his embassy.

A final communique already had been agreed upon. It will be made public after the plenary session. It contained a Soviet agreement to give written assurance of free access to Berlin for the western powers, it was learned before the final session opened.

The Soviet guarantee on Berlin will be in the final communique of the Council of Foreign Ministers, which was winding up its conference on Germany and related subjects later today.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson will fly back to Washington tonight in President Truman's sonal plane. The Independent British Foreign Secretary E. Bevin will leave for London the night ferry train. Future plans were secret.

Western delegates were summoned as a Soviet condition to lifting the Berlin blockade. After the ceremonial blockade removal, transport labor troubles reimposed it by shutting off rail communications between the city and West Germany.

One major difficulty remained to be ironed out at the last meeting to reach an agreement on Austria. The agreement involves former German properties in Austria which Russia will retain. Russia was insisting upon what amounted to extra-territorial rights. The west insisted that those Soviet-owned plants must operate under Austrian law.

Nash Offers New Car Built-In Twin Beds In New Nash Should Prove Hit On Vacation

Vacation-bound America has something new to boost its travel fun this year - a car with built-in twin convertible beds. The 17 million automobiles and 70 million vacationists expected to jam the highways this summer undoubtedly will find hotels, motels and tourist cabins overtaxed, but this will pose no problem for owners of 1949 Nash "Airflyte" cars with the twin convertible bed feature.

The Nash car is easily turned into sleeping accommodations. Latches at the base of the divided front seat backs are released, then each seat back is lowered to steps which have been swung out from under the rear seat cushion. The whole operation can be completed in a few seconds.

The bed feature is standard equipment on all two-door sedans, broughams and four-door custom sedans. On other models, the feature is available as an option.

Because the arrangement permits two separate beds to be made up, it is now possible for one person to recline while the other drives. This feature is receiving popular approval by many persons who alternate driving on long trips and by families who make such trips with small children.

Special screens, which may be locked from the inside, provide full ventilation and freedom from insects. The Nash "vacation car" features not only convertible twin beds, but a trunk compartment with vastly more usable luggage space - 28 cubic feet and luxurious living-room comfort with wide, spacious seats and plenty of elbow and leg room.

Budget-minded vacationists and sportsmen will appreciate the economical operation of the Nash "600" which offers more than 25 miles to the gallon of regular gasoline, at average highway speed.

Girl Admits Shooting Seaman

HOUSTON, Tex., June 20 (UP)—A 20-year-old girl admitted today she shot a Finnish seaman to death and robbed him of $30 because he "got rough" with her after she had promised to have a date with him.

Josephine Martinez said she shot Arne L. Enholm, 40, the night of June 13, at the spot where his body was found the next morning by a hysterical housewife.

Miss Martinez told police, who traced her by a hairnet found near Enholm's body, that they were walking near the railroad track when Enholm suddenly became violent.

"This man slapped me on the face and knocked me down. Then he grabbed my hair and pulled my net off, and tore my shirt, blouse and pants," the girl said in a written statement.

It was then, she claimed, that she got the .38 caliber pistol out of her purse.

"I hit him on the head, and he still wouldn't turn me loose, so I shot him."

She insisted that she only took $30 from the dying man's pockets after searching him thoroughly. Shipmates said earlier that Enholm had some $500, paid him only the night before for work aboard the Lykes Lines freighter Thomas Jefferson.

Miss Martinez said the pistol was given by a "boy friend" to keep for him. Police were searching for the man today.

The Car and it's Companion—
The automobile is useless and harmless without the driver. With the driver it may become most useful, but never harmless. No operator of a moving vehicle ever realizes his responsibility to the public until he has a wreck. Then it dawns on him that he is living in a world with other people, some very peculiar, who have plenty of personal and property rights. So if you drive, drive carefully, but never without adequate insurance protection.

FACTS ABOUT SERIES "E" U. S. SAVINGS BONDS You Should Know

- SAFETY: Because they're the obligations of the strongest nation in the world—Uncle Sam.
- RISKLESS: They can always be redeemed on an upward scale of value, but never at a loss to the investor. They're non-transferable, and can only be sold back to the Government thus being removed from market fluctuations.
- LIQUID: Any bank will convert your Bonds into cash at a moment's notice. In the meantime they accumulate interest equivalent to $4 for every $3 invested if held ten years. In other words, cash plus interest.
- RESERVE: When the going gets rough they are available for your distress. And always they are a reserve for your future financial independence.
- U. S. ECONOMY: Their purchase helps stabilize the economy by removing surplus funds from the spending channels; they're an investment in your country; sales do not increase the national debt as proceeds are used to retire the less manageable debt held by banks, transferring it to individuals.
- LOSS-PROOF: Unlike cash, these securities will be replaced if lost or destroyed.
- AVAILABILITY: On sale at banks, post offices, building and loan associations, Federal Reserve Banks and branches, local industries maintaining payroll savings plans, Bond-A-Month bank plans, and other issuing agents.
- OWNERSHIP: Restricted to individuals, who may purchase up to $10,000 each year, in registered form. A co-owner, or survivor, may be designated.
- TAXABLE: Increment subject to Federal income taxes, but exempt from taxes imposed by any State, Federal possessions, or other local taxing authority. Their value not exempt from estate, inheritance, gift or other excise taxes, whether Federal or State.

At the time of last night's broadcast, the actor was in Galveston with friends.
