TODAY'S PIECE is inspired by a woman who lives in Flushing, New York, and who requests that we use only her initials, L. B.
Mrs. L. B.'s husband has been ill a long time, not down and out, but always feeling bad. Eventually he developed nervous indigestion (Which usually comes from worry.)

Month after month he frequented the doctors' offices, trying first one and then the other. He got no better; if anything, he was consistently getting worse. Finally, he consulted a chiropractor who gave him treatments for a couple of months. But still there was no improvement in his condition. Yes, he could see that he was not only not improving, he was steadily becoming a chronic in-cult to do for he was like the proverbial drowning man grasping for a straw. He was sick of being sick! What particular thought do you think carried through for Mr. L. B? Just this: To live one day at a time, and not to worry about the past nor to take heed for the future.

"Why, when he started that course," says Mrs. L. B., "he at once began to improve. He became less nervous, he discarded the idea newly developed that he must have heart trouble, and he even enjoyed playing with our six-year-old son whose noise and activities so re-cently had unnerved him."

"In an amazingly short time my husband was completely cured. I hope our experience may help some of your readers whose trouble, though maybe unknown to them, is purely mental. We have found to our great benefit that when the mental attitude is right little will go wrong with the physical self."

Asked For Duck Hunting In Texas

Helping arrange shooting dates so that migratory waterfowl hunters in the sprawling state of Texas may get a fair break this fall has been undertaken by the Game, an emergency opration Fish and Oyster Commission. In Friday at her home in Ohio but the matter of when to shoot ducks and geese, what time of day to begin and quit and the daily bag and Pasadena, Calif. is the site of possession limit total, the commis-visory capacity. This is because of the state opened two or the final decision is made by the United States Fish and Wildlife

The commission, through action at its recent meeting at Pampa, already has asked the Federal authorities to cut Texas into two zones so that the season in the Panhandle and extreme West Texas might run concurrent with the surrounding areas of Oklahoma and New Mexico, thus providing for an earlier shooting season than U. S. Tax Income the state at large. Later open season dates are preferable in the more southerly sections of Texas since the waterfowl reach those areas later.

For the main part of the state, the commission has suggested that the split season plan of last fall be replaced by a straight shooting period beginning November 10. In 1949, Texas duck and goose gunners hunted from November 4 to November 21 and then from December 21 to January 7.

Bag limits also would be changed to provide for eight birds a day or the same number in possession. Game Department field men have observed some tendency by hunters to kill more than the bag limit when the daily limit is only four birds, leaving the less desirable species to waste where they fall. Thus, waste would be eliminated through a higher daily limit since the proposed possess ion limit would be unchanged. Similar problems involve the suggested zoning plan to accomodate the Panhandle sportsman. Texas, although as large as two or three ordinary states, has never been zoned for waterfowl hunting. Perhaps one reason is, that with the season in the northern extremity

Eastland County wheat was near the harvest stage this week, and while the acreage is not large, the crop yields will be excellent, according to a few farmers who have the golden grain planted.

All in all, the agricultural year is off in a big way in the county, and if the rains keep coming at the right time, the abundance of the crops in the county may overcome some of the calamity howling that has been heard so widely recently.

Bob Gilchrist, the Eastland oil man, said earlier in the week that it looked as if his wildcat a few the grace of God ever abound to- For TAX ASSESSOR-COLLECTOR miles west of Eastland was a fail-

> After Hydrafrac treatment, the well showed for four or five barrels of oil a day in the Lake Sand, but that isn't enough to make it a commercial producer, he said.

> To offset that bad news, however, is word that the No. 1 Mrs. Briggs Owen well northwest of town is getting stronger and stronger.

And maybe instead of winding up my column with that bit of information, I should be splashing it at the top of Page 1 under a big headline.

We'll know in three or four months, more or less.
