BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

The all-out effort of neighbors formed a fire brigade Monday probably saved the path of a burning pasture fire, and saved lives.

boundary of the Motes farm, on which Richard Tucker is living. The blaze roared southward, completely burning over the 40-acre pasture belonging to John Tucker. Smoke and heat were so intense that John Tucker, his invalid sister Ellen, and Betty Tucker were moved to Mrs. Ann Love's home for safety.

A backfire was set to save the house and the buildings on the old Love estate, where Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brown live and which was in the path of the flames. In the midst of the inferno, fence posts looked like lighted tapers burning from the top, and flames leaped high from the trees, urged on by a moderately high wind.

By three o'clock, the fire was under control, and neighbors formed a cordon around the John Tucker home and burned off the grass on the premises to abate the fire hazard there. At nightfall, only a few snags of posts were burning in the charred and blackened burned-off area.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Blackwell spent Wednesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Poteet.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tucker and their daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Brown, Mr. Brown and Sharon and Dwain, returned Sunday from Sinton, where they visited for five days with Mrs. Tucker's sister, Mrs. LeRoy Rodgers and family. While there, all three families visited in Corpus Christi, Galveston, Laredo and Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Underwood visited in the Morris Underwood home near Ranger last week.

Visiting Mrs. Pearl Huddleston Sunday was one of her friends, Mrs. J. H. Cooper, and Mrs. Cooper's daughter, Mrs. Mackie Gooch, both of Rochester.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer D. Lewis of De Leon were dinner guests Sunday in the Dave Lewis home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rodgers and family went to Carbon following the morning church service Sunday, and had dinner with the Nick Duggan family. Mrs. Duggan and Mrs. Rodgers are sisters. Betty Jean Love went as the guest of Alice Rodgers.

The Kitchen in the Ann Love home is undergoing a face-lifting this week, with new linoleum and new paint on the walls.

Mr. and Mrs. Melva Love are adding two bedrooms and a breeze-way to their home, and making it a modern type home.

The community is surely anticipating rain one of these days, judging from the number of stock tanks which have been built. Old timers say the Leon River is dryer than they ever have known it to be.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blackwell and girls visited Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Neger, and attended Sunday night church services.

Dick Daughtry of Abilene, minister of the Alameda Church of Christ and member of the Abilene Christian College a cappella choir, reported a wonderful trip the past week when the choir made concert appearances in east, northeast and central Texas. Wednesday night, Mr. Daughtry preached for the Waxahachie Church of Christ congregation Wednesday night.

Stanley parties the past week were in the homes of Mrs. Dave Weekes and Mrs. Ira Wilson.

Almost everyone went to Gorman Friday night to see Santa and his reindeer, except Mrs. Everett Huddleston and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Poteet—they forgot about it!

Taylor Tells Rotarians Reds Winning So Far

Harry Taylor talked to Eastland Rotarians Monday on Communism and its effort at world domination, and said the Russian-backed ideology seems fairly well on its way to winning its contest with the old style democracy.

Taylor pointed to blundering on the part of the United States, and said the real menace of Communism is that it takes away the rights of the individual and confers them on the state.

The world-wide trend has been to forget human rights, and that is the way Communism is winning its battle, Taylor said.

Fort Worth Parties Are Honors For Miss Faguy-Cote

Mrs. Virgil T. Seaberry, Mrs. Cyrus Frost, Jr., and Mrs. Hubert Toombs, all of Eastland, were in Fort Worth Saturday to attend a tea honoring Miss Elizabeth Faguy-Cote, bride-elect of Virgil T. Seaberry, Jr.

Miss Faguy-Cote and Mr. Seaberry will be married Dec. 20 at Trinity Episcopal Church in Fort Worth.

The Fort Worth tea Saturday was in the Woman's Club, and hostesses were Mesdames E. Brington Ingram and her daughter, Mrs. Wallis McCormick of New Orleans.

At the tea table, an antique slipper once worn at a wedding and filled with lilies-of-the-valley and stock was used as a centerpiece. The slipper had as a background an expandable silver mesh fan. Silver candelabra held white tapers which lighted the table.

The Eastland women, along with the hostesses, the bride-elect and her mother, Mrs. Arthur Faguy-Cote, received the guests.

Thursday night, Miss Faguy-Cote was honored at a dinner party given by Miss Katherine Calkins in her home in Fort Worth. The table was laid with a white damask cloth and lighted with green tapers in silver holders. An arrangement of rose sweet peas formed the centerpiece. A gift marked the place of Miss Faguy-Cote.

Guests all were close friends of the bride-elect.

Friday at noon, Miss Faguy-Cote was honored at a luncheon in the Fort Worth Woman's Club given by Mrs. Harry Brooks Baker.

Decorations were in the bride-elect's chosen colors of yellow and blue. A doll dressed in blue and surrounded by yellow blossoms formed the centerpiece. Places were marked by square columns of plastic foam topped by miniature wedding bells and yellow love birds tied with blue ribbons. A gift marked the place of the bride-elect.

Eight guests attended the luncheon.
