LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING

"Two tramps were hauled before a police judge, charged with vagrancy. In the course of the testimony, the following evidence was brought out.

Judge: "Where do you live my man?"

Tramp No. 1: "No where, yer honor."

Judge: "And where do you live?"

Tramp No. 2: "I've got the room above him."

If a man lets his wife have her own way ... it's just because he tried to stop her once!

The reason most people don't recognize opportunity is that it's usually going around disguised as work.

An orchid to the friendly and courteous "helo" girls of the Eastland office of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. The Telegram phone is "busy as a bee" every morning and during the past nine months this scribe has been here, we have yet to have an operator fail to give prompt and efficient service.

What weather we've been having the past week, one day it is like spring, and the next day finds bitter, cold weather. Last Sunday afternoon, because of the warm weather, we hid ourselves out to the bridge at Eastland Lake to try our luck with the finny tribe. Must be the wrong season, as "stink" bait or worms failed to attract the fishes to our hook. Another fisherman caught four catfish—every bit of two inches long. Buck Pickens, assistant manager of Texas Electric Service Company, had no better luck with his expensive looking rod and reel. Ah, for spring again.

Governor Stood Up

HENDERSONVILLE, N. C. (UP)—Gov. Kerr Scott couldn't find his official car so he tried hitchhiking. He stood in front of his hotel for 45 minutes without any success. Finally the chamber of commerce hailed a car.

H. L. King Named New President Of Eastland Quarterback Club

H. L. (Hood) King was elected new president of the Eastland Quarterback Club in an annual election of officers and buffet supper held Wednesday night on the roof garden of the Connelley Hotel.

King, owner of King Motor Company, is immediate past president of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, first president of the Eastland Band Boosters Club, and member of the Lions Club. He is a charter member of the Quarterback Club.

Other officers named were: Bruce Pipkin, vice-president; and Wendell Armstrong, secretary-treasurer. The constitution was amended to permit the re-election of Armstrong for another one year term.

Two new directors—Carl Johnson and Bob Gilchrist—were named to replace Boss Pritchard and Frank Crowell.

Retiring officers were: Jack Chamberlain, president; and Bill Brashear, first vice president.

Before retiring as president, Chamberlain said the four year old organization, which was formed to promote sports activities in Eastland will continue to go forward. A new bath house at Maverick Field and a golf course for Eastland were cited as achievements of the past year.

Joe Collins Candidate For Re-Election

Joe Collins has announced that he will be a candidate for re-election as County Treasurer of Eastland County.

In making his formal announcement, Collins declared "my aim is to give as much service to the people of Eastland County as possible."

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Collins of Carbon, he was born August 25, 1924. A graduate of Carbon High School, he had the unusual record of not being absent or tardy for 12 years.

Collins attended Ranger Junior College one year, prior to entering the U. S. Army Air Force at the age of 18. He served in the China-Burma-India Theatre with the First Air Commando group as a radio-gunner on a B-25 bomber. Later, he served as a radio operator on C-47's crossing the "hump" in China, with the rank of sergeant. He was honorably discharged after war service of two years, eight months and 21 days.

Presently serving his first term as County Treasurer, Collins is married and has one daughter. He served as County Campaign Director for the March of Dimes drive in 1949, and again in 1950. Effective January 1, he was elected county chairman for the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis. He is also active in civic, religious and community activities. For the past three years, he has attended the Eastland County Vocational School, taking bookkeeping and accounting.

Water Projects To Be Subject For WTCC Meet

ABILENE, Jan. 19 (Spl.) Reports on tentative domestic and industrial water projects for West Texas will be made by representatives of the Bureau of Reclamation at a joint meeting of the Executive Board of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and all committees of the WTCC and affiliated West Texas Domestic Water Association to be held here on January 26.

Harry P. Burleigh, state planning engineer for the Reclamation Service, will report on the results of recent studies of the Brazos and Colorado River watersheds by reclamation engineers for the purpose of locating sites for multi-city dams.

Encouraged by the call for immediate action on water resources as set forth in President Truman's executive order creating his Water Resources Policy Commission, committees will be activated at the meeting to pursue immediate passage in Congress of its bill to amend the present national water laws by establishing municipal water as a criteria for dam building and giving municipalities priority over all other water users.

Chairmen and members of the four new water committees of the WTCC have been called to a meeting by Homer D. Grant, president, and J. M. Wilson, WTCC president, issued the call to the Executive Board of the WTCC and chairmen of all other committees.

Change Name; Emphasis Of 4-H Program For '50

Announcement has been made of a change in emphasis in the 4-H Electric program, which in 1950 will be known as the 4-H Farm and Home Electric program, according to the National 4-H Committee.

With the change of name, the program will encourage more boys and girls to study and plan how to use electricity, and to demonstrate what electrical equipment they have made, adjusted, repaired and installed.

There will be no changes in awards, or donor, which is the Westinghouse Educational Foundation. Awards comprise gold-filled medals, all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, and six $300 college scholarships to county, state and national winners, respectively.

A merit plaque also will be awarded to the county reporting the most outstanding 4-H Farm and Home program in the state this year.

L. R. Barron of Athens, a prospective buyer of the proposed Eastland County crop, will meet with farmers Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The possibility of setting up a cleaning plant in the county, seed for planting, irrigation, price and other terms will be discussed. While it has been proven that black-eyed peas can be grown in the county on a large scale, the marketing possibilities have been doubtful in the past.

Meeting Set To Plan X-Ray Of Citizens

A meeting of community leaders and physicians will be held in the Eastland Chamber of Commerce office Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, to discuss plans to bring a tuberculosis x-ray mobile unit to the city.

The local chest survey would be part of a countywide one.

Trio Of Marines To Be In City Beginning Thursday, Jan. 26

A trio of Marines are scheduled to make a three-day visit to Eastland beginning Thursday, Jan. 26 to give eligible young men and women in this area first-hand information on what duty is like today in the hand-picked, peacetime, United States Marine Corps.

The trio hails from Dallas headquarters of Marine recruiting and all three have behind them a brilliant war record.

Foremost of the trio is stocky Major E. L. Bale, Jr., officer in charge of all recruiting in the 96 county Texas district who, according to a wartime wire report from Tarawa, chalked up 300 enemy dead to his credit.

The major, then a lieutenant, was a tank commander and had under his command one of the two lone tanks that made the initial push inland at Tarawa.

Afoot, Lt. Bale ran alongside his tank into the thick of action and banged on the side of the tank to point out fields of fire to which the gunners inside were "blind."

The two lone tanks were acc-

Jobs Open In Ceramics Field

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 19 —While most engineering fields now have more applicants than job opportunities, the reverse is true in ceramics, University of Texas Professor F. K. Pence says.

Pence, director of the University's Ceramics Engineering Department and the research laboratory in that work, declares:

"The field is wide open in Texas at this time, and it offers a graduate the opportunity to own part of a stable, small business in a short time."

"Four of 18 department graduates of the last two years have organized and now own their ceramics manufacturing plants."

At present, there are no table ware or electrical porcelain industries in Texas, yet the raw materials, facilities, labor, and market are apparent in the state, he asserts.

To illustrate the industry's rapid growth in Texas, Pence pointed out the many floor and wall tile, enameled-iron, sanitary ware, and artware plants that have been established in the state in the last decade.

Such manufacturing facilities have been started at Dallas (3 plants), San Antonio (2), Tyler (3), Houston, Fort Worth, Waxahatchie, Mineral Wells, Kilgore, San Angelo, Eastland, Ranger, Strawn, Rosenberg, and San Marcos.

The University's Ceramic Engineering Department was organized in September, 1945. Courses for a Master of Science in Ceramic Engineering degrees were offered for the first time in September, 1949.

Outsider Teams To Play Friday In Olden Gym

The Willy-Willys Furniture Mart team of Olden will play the Lamb Motor Company team of Eastland Friday night in a basketball game in the Olden gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock. The public is invited, with admission free.

The Willy-Willys team defeated the King Motor Company quintet, 45 to 35, in a game Wednesday night in the Eastland gymnasium. Wood was high scorer for Willy-Willys with 10 points.

Popular Boy In Junior High 'Indifferent' To Pretty Girls

Is it difficult to believe that one of the most popular boys in the Eastland Junior High School is very indifferent and nonchalant toward two lovely young ladies, also students in the Junior High School.

This becomes a fact in the second annual operetta, "Sleepy Head", which will be given by the Junior High School in the auditorium Friday evening, January 27.

Charles Collins is the indifferent youth nicknamed "Sleepy Head", due to his inability to remain awake under any and all situations.

company Telegram, said the new company will operate on a statewide basis with branch offices to be set up in most counties.

Function of the new company will be to issue guarantee land titles and mortgages, and each branch office will work closely with local attorneys, Irwin stated.

The home offices will be located in the four top floors of the Petroleum Building, which Irwin and Patten recently purchased from C. P. Porter and Morris Cannon of Dallas at a reported consideration of $45,000.

Irwin said he would be in Eastland next week to make definite arrangements for setting up the home office for the All State Guaranty Title Company. "Perhaps I will be able to announce at that time who will be in charge of the home office and the number of personnel."

A. & M. Specialist To Speak Here On Bang's Disease

Brucellosis or Bang's disease in cattle will be discussed by Dr. W. C. Banks, A. & M. College Extension Veterinarian at the regular monthly meeting of the Eastland County Dairy Association in the Courthouse in Eastland next Thursday night, Jan. 26. A. Z. Myrick, Cisco, president, announced today.

Since the disease is not limited to dairy cattle, ranchers, stock farmers and others are invited to attend the meeting and hear the disease discussed as well as the state law pertaining to the disposition of cattle found to be affected by the disease, Myrick said.

Since the disease in cattle can cause the undulant fever in humans through contact or through the drinking of the raw milk, dairymen as well as others are interested in knowing more about it. Breeding troubles in cows is often a result of the disease it was said.

The meeting is expected to start promptly in the 8th district court room in Eastland at 7:30 o'clock.

Just Playful

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UP)—Ernest Pinkney, 25-year-old Negro taken by police to a hospital with deep cuts in his stomach, neck and back, explained that he and a companion had been "just playing with a knife."

The Willy-Willys Furniture Mart team of Olden will play the Lamb Motor Company team of Eastland Friday night in a basketball game in the Olden gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock. The public is invited, with admission free.

The Willy-Willys team defeated the King Motor Company quintet, 45 to 35, in a game Wednesday night in the Eastland gymnasium. Wood was high scorer for Willy-Willys with 10 points.

Joy Lynn Robinson, who plays the part of "Judy", gives a party for Charles who promptly lives up to the name. He falls asleep in spite of the efforts of his entertaining hostess, and group of young friends, who try to keep him awake.

The other young lady is Laquita Fields who takes the part of "Ivy". She, apparently devotes a major portion of her time rousing "Sleepy Head" from his naps. It is difficult to understand how any youth can continually be drowsing in the presence of these two charming young ladies.

Fortunately for all, this situation exists only in the operetta and the solution is found during the development of the story.

EXTRA! THESE TEXANS REFUSE TO LEAN ON UNCLE SAM

The 36 Production Credit Associations in Texas are doing something that deserves the thoughtful attention of the whole country. They are paying off the last dollar of the capital advanced by the Federal Government to enable them to become established.

In a time when large numbers of people are seeking dependence on the Government, it is exceptional to find a group that is voluntarily giving it up. The action is all the more impressive when these facts are considered: The use of this Government capital was free and no time limit was set for its return. In paying it all off, the associations automatically became subject to Federal income and other taxes, from which Congress had exempted them so long as they retained any Government capital.

When Congress set up the production credit system in 1933 and appropriated $120,000,000 to get it started, it aimed to assure the permanency of the associations and also to permit the gradual return of Government capital. The PCA's were made co-operatives, with each borrower buying stock in proportion to his loan. Eventually, it was intended, the farmers and stockmen were to own these associations completely through the purchase of capital and the accumulation of earnings into surplus reserves. The responsibility for achieving these ends was put upon the farmer-stockholders. They were to operate and control the associations, performing the tasks of making repayable loans and building up strong, self-supporting institutions, through boards of directors chosen from among themselves.

The farmers and stockmen, who directed the affairs of the Texas PCA's, took these provisions literally. During a 16-year period they made loans totaling $844,434,623. Losses plus the reserves set up to take care of such contingencies amounted to less than five cents on each $100 loaned. They also kept in mind the other half of the arrangement. By last July 1 all but $105,000 of the $7,835,000 of Government capital once advanced to them had been returned. The last of it is being paid off right after January 1.

It took some hard effort and personal sacrifice by the PCA stockholders to attain this financial independence. To increase earnings they agreed to higher interest rates and service fees on their loans and they dug down in their pockets and bought more stock than was required of them. But they met the challenge, and they began their self-owned status with around $15,000,000 of capital and reserves. This is a sum equal to 25 per cent of their highest volume of loans, a ratio which they seek to maintain.

The Texans are the first of the twelve Production Credit districts to become wholly farmer-owned. By this action they have erased the charge, often made, that these farm credit agencies are subsidized competition. Their reasons, as well as what they have done, are worth noting by the rest of the country. They felt they should carry out their end of the bargain made by Congress. And they like to be independent. That attitude should bring a lift to the hearts of a lot of Americans.

The GAMEO

By Virginia Teale Copyright, 1948, MEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Audrey Yakov, Russian artist, wants to trade letters that will clear Hagar, Blatz of murder charges for a chance to examine a valuable cameo locket in possession of Stephanie Smith. Stephanie, in examining the locket, finds a secret spring and hidden away in the back was a paper which might be a clue in the case. Police are going to Hagar's home with Stephanie to meet Yakov and learn, if they can, the mystery of the sarcasms came.

XXVII
AS he guided Stephanie past the Chief's office, Reddy opened the door a crack. He saw Arnold Pfeiffer hunched in one of the big oak armchairs while Peters scowled at him across the desk. The Chief looked up: "Yes?" His voice was brusque.

"Excuse me, Chief, Miss Smith and I are leaving for her place. Just thought I'd tell you."
"Okay, okay. See you up there in 15 minutes or so." He waved a hand in dismissal.

Reddy took Stephanie's arm. "Wow! The Chief's really got his back up about something. Wonder what Pfeiffer's been telling him. Find out soon enough, I guess."

The car beamed its lights up the street, picking out the purple blossoms of the misembryanthemum that covered Hagar's parking strip.

Reddy leaned forward, "Don't see Yakov's car anywhere. I'm glad we got here first." He braked the car to a stop, "Did you leave your lights on?"

Stephanie was gathering up her purse and gloves, "Yes. I thought I might be coming back alone—I don't like to walk into a dark house."

Reddy gave her his hand as she climbed from the car: "Now you're showing good sense. At a time like this, a good, healthy well-founded fear is nothing to be ashamed of."

She fumbled for her key, "When is Inspector Trotter coming? I expected to find quite a reception committee on the front steps, and here we are all by ourselves."

EASTLAND MAVERICKS ROUND-UP

Electric Wiring Demonstration

Given F. F. A.

The Eastland Chapter of the Future Farmers of America were given a demonstration on electrical wiring by Texas Electric Service Company, Mr. Wheat demonstrated how electricity may be lost when the wires are not large enough, not properly insulated, or a circuit overloaded. A demonstration was given on how not to overload a circuit, Mr. Wheat drew a diagram of a house on the blackboard and showed the class how to wire it. He first used one circuit for the deep freeze. Then he used a separate circuit for a lighting system. Then he used still another circuit for the wall sockets. The reason for so many circuits, Mr. Wheat explained is not to overload a circuit and cause the wires to heat, because that is dangerous and will use electricity that you have to pay for but do not get. He warned against trying to make a circuit break work against its will, for it only kicks off when there is a short circuit somewhere. Mr. Collins explained fluorescent lamps to the F. F. A. boys. The boys appreciated the demonstration very much.

H. M. 11 Has Field Trip

The class in second year Home making went through Horton's Ceramics last Friday. Mrs. Horace Horton acted as guide and explained all the processes in making China and other ware. Workers were watched to see how pieces are shaped, the glaze put on and the pieces stacked for firing. At the end of the tour were many beautiful finished pieces ready to be shipped.

Assembly Program

Recently E. H. S. enjoyed another Southern School Assembly. This time it was the world's most beautiful and talented dog, Suki. Suki could walk a tight rope, croon, and do many other tricks. There were six other dogs in the show. Each dog was talented to do tricks. The dogs were trained and presented by Leon T. Smith, noted animal trainer.

King and Queen Announced

The carnival was a big success and everyone had a marvelous time. It was like a large party with everyone participating in everything and having a lot of fun doing it.

REPORTS CANCER FIND—

Dr. Irene Corey Diller, above, of the Institute for Cancer Research, Philadelphia, has reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science the discovery of fungi—tiny invisible plants—growing in cancer. The discovery is said to be one of the most startling medical finds of this century; however, says Dr. Diller, a "great deal of work" remains to be done in the field.

myers. But the whole thing must tie up somewhere." He gave a short, rueful laugh. "If this keeps up, they'll ask me to turn in my police badge and confine my talents to ambulance chasing."

Trotter had pried out the velvet cushion and was running his fingers over the inside surface of the silver box. He looked up at Reddy and grinned:

"I've felt the same way from time to time. Somehow or other, I've a hunch this thing's ready to fall into a nice clean-out pattern like the colored glass segments in a kaleidoscope." He fitted the cushion into the box and returned the cameo to its resting place. "Didn't Yakov say that these letters or papers he has will get Blatz out of jail? Well, it follows that they'll also point to the real murderer." He snapped his fingers, "Case solved!"

"Yeah," Reddy consulted his watch. "If he ever gets here with the papers!"

"It is getting late," Stephanie commented. "You don't think he could've come back while I was away from the house?"

"How about phoning him?"

AS she started across the floor, the phone pealed shrilly from Hagar's bedroom. Trotter and Reddy turned attentive faces toward the sound as Stephanie hurried to answer the call.

She returned immediately and signaled Reddy: "It's Chief Peters."

Reddy's eyebrows went up in surprise. He strode quickly to the phone.

Stephanie and Trotter sat facing each other, their expressions mutually questioning whether to make small talk, or dropping all pretense, try to eavesdrop on Reddy's words. By unspoken agreement, they eavesdropped:

"Who found him?" Reddy was asking urgently.

Trotter and Stephanie stared at each other with startled eyes.

"Was he able to say anything?" Reddy was demanding. "What does the doctor say?"

"It must be Mr. Yakov," Stephanie whispered. "Something's happened to him!"

SIX ARRESTED AS SUSPECTS IN BOSTON'S DARING ROBBERY

BY LEONARD ZAHN
United Press Staff Correspondent

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 19 (UP)—A long-distance telephone "confession" to participation in the $1,500,000 Brink's, Inc., hold-up was labeled "phony" by police today as they seized six new suspects, a revolver and ammunition.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 19 (UP)—An ex-convict's long-distance telephone "confession" to his part in the $1,500,000 Brink's, Inc., hold-up led to his arrest in Newark, N. J., early today and the seizure here of five alleged accomplices.

Three of the suspects already had been picked up in Boston when the telephone call came in to Capt. John D. Ahearn of the Special Service Squad about 2 A. M. EST.

While talking to the man in Newark, Ahearn signalled other officers to trace the call and notify police in Newark. The man was seized in a tavern from where he was calling and held for questioning by the FBI.

Ahearn said the man told him he drove one of two getaway cars used by the bandits who stole $1,000,000 in bills and $500,000 in checks, most of them non-negotiable, from Brink's north end office Tuesday night.

Shortly after the telephone call, police blocked off an eighth of a square mile in the north end and surrounded an abandoned building in which the ex-convict said the loot had been stored.

However, no cash was found in the building. But police said they found an Italian mad gun similar to those used by the bandits.

Ahearn said the suspect told him eight men were in the gang that tied up and gagged five Brink's employees in New England's largest holdup. Seven masked gunmen had entered the case where the vault was housed and police previously had believed that two other bandits had remained outside as lookouts.

The suspect reportedly said Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Baggett spent the weekend in Mineral Wells visiting Mrs. Baggett's sister, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Dykes.

that he and two other members of the daring holdup drove to Newark the night of the robbery while the other five remained in Boston.

Ahearn said the five men seized here would be viewed in a police lineup today by the five Brink's employees.

He quoted the men arrested in Newark as saying the leader of the gang was a former Brink's employe, a fact tying closely in with a police theory that it was an "inside job."

Another former Brink employe also was an alleged member of the gang, according to Ahearn.

"The man in Newark said he called me because of a favor I once did for him," Ahearn said. "He has a long police record, but I can't remember just what favor I did for him—and I don't know off-hand why he had been in jail before."

Though Boston police were somewhat skeptical of the men's story, they believed they finally had gotten a "break" in the case in which at least 3,000 law enforcement officers are participating.

"Some of it checks and some of it doesn't check," said Ahearn. "It doesn't sound quite right to me. Parts of the story which check include the finding of a pistol in the house together with 1,000 rounds of ammunition."

In their haste to flee, the gunmen left behind more than $1,000,000.

But they took with them "at least" $1,000,000 in small denomination bills and $500,000 in checks, mostly non-negotiable.

At least 3,000 enforcement officers, the greatest force ever mobilized to solve a New England crime, were spurred by offers of rewards totaling $150,000. But as lead after lead petered out, they were left with only a welter of theories.

Prior to the alleged confession and arrests, police had believed a break in the case would come because $1,000,000 "is too much dough to sit on."

The president of Brink's said the firm would spend $1,000,000 to catch the modern-day Jesse

UPSET IN SANDRA'S TRIAL ADDS INTEREST

By O. B. LLOYD JR.
United Press Staff Correspondent

BRADY, Tex., Jan. 19 (UP)—The hitch-hike murder trial of sloop-eyed Sandra Peterson of Somerville, Mass., continues today with the prosecution still reeling from the state star witness's confession that she actually committed the crime.

Tiny, impudent Loretta Fae Mazingo startled District Attorney Ralston P. Haun and the packed courtroom yesterday by testifying that she fired the pistol shots that killed Lewis Patterson, a Brady Businessman, last Aug. 25.

"I had the gun all the time," she said.

Loretta Fae, who is only 15 and a juvenile who can't be tried for murder now under Texas law, was the attractive Sandra's hitch-hiking companion on the day they thumbed a ride with Patterson near here.

Sandra reportedly confessed to the slaying at the time of her arrest last August, but she could not be charged formally until she had reached her 18th birthday last month.

Loretta Fae, nicknamed "baby" because she weighs only 90 pounds said that Sandra had smoked four James Gang dead or alive.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 19 (UP)—When a clerk at the Rockland-Atlas National Bank accidentally stepped on an alarm button yesterday, eight policemen raced to the bank in less than 40 seconds.

marijuana cigars several hours before Patterson was slain and did not know what was happening.

"We got into a quarrel," Loretta Fae said. "I pulled the gun to show her she couldn't push me around. Sandra grabbed my hand and knocked me out of the car as Patterson tried to separate us. I rolled on the ground, but kept the gun. I fired four times.

Patterson had stopped his car to pick up some papers that had fallen out, she said. He fell bleeding into a ditch.

Loretta Fae said she led the dazed Sandra to believe she had killed Patterson.

Sandra was indicted for Patterson's murder on the evidence of her own "confession" and a statement made by Loretta Fae.

"Why did you change your story?" the bewildered Haun asked yesterday.

"Because I wanted her to go to the electric chair first," Loretta Fae shot back.

"You told me as late as last night that it was Sandra, and not you," Haun raved.

But Loretta Fae, a former inmate of state correctional institute declined to change her story. Sandra, who had been quivering during Loretta Fae's testimony, fainted twice before she could be taken from the courtroom.

Although a physician who attended Sandra after her fainting spells did not give a reason for them, Sheriff A. B. Willborn volunteered she had refused food for two or three days. "I believe her fainting resulted from her weakened, overwrought condition," he said.

Loretta Fae, who was wearing a black and white checked suit with long sleeves and puffy shoulders, was led into a hallway as the court recessed.

"What happened?" she asked as she saw officers helping the stricken Sandra to a police car.

She was told that Sandra had fainted again and that the court had recessed.

"Well, what the devil am I doing then?" she asked.

Loretta Fae was taken back into the courtroom for a few minutes while officials huddled around a conference table. She took a cigarette from her pocket and asked a policeman.

"You gotta match for a cigarette?"

As the officer walked toward her, she shouted:

"Watch your hands, buddy. Watch your hands."

for a commission and during his senior year at A. & M. was called to active duty as a second lieutenant.

Accompanying the major on this junket are two sergeants, Bob Carlson and Jack Harmon. Carlson, formerly of Kansas City, Mo., but lately of Garland, Texas—served with the Sixth Defense Battalion of Marines on Midway Island and later served with the Fifth Antiaircraft Artillery on Okinawa.

Harmon is a former newspaperman from Wichita Falls who before he came on recruiting duty in Texas had seen action in the invasion and defense of Guadalcanal as an infantryman of the First Marine Division; his subsequent campaign with the First was at Cape Gloucester, New Britain.

All three of these Marines are vitally interested in giving youths of this area an opportunity to become a part of the Marine Corps that boasts of extremely high standards. However, they know enlistment requirements stand as a challenge to young men that can be met.

For this reason, because enlistment requirements are a challenge to Texas youth, the trio is making a tour to personally answer questions of those young men who are in doubt as to whether or not they can make Marines.

Major Bale says: "This takes personal contact . . . and I don't want to be guilty—ever—of not having given any young men or women who desire a career as a Marine, an equal chance to be long. Eligible men deserve personal attention. That's what I'm ready to give; for it isn't just an over night picnic to enlist in the corps these days, it usually means a man's or woman's career—their chosen profession. Once a man becomes a Marine, adheres to their teachings and does his duty well, that man will probably be with us until he retires."

FLOOD THREAT FORCES 10,000 FROM LOWLANDS

CHARLESTOWN, Mo., Jan. 19 (UP)—The threatening Mississippi River forced 10,000 persons from their lowland homes in Missouri today and the number of displaced persons in the Midwest flood zone soared to 20,000.

Only about 2,000 farmers and sharecroppers stood their grounds in the birds point-New Madrid spillway of Southeast Missouri as

The Marine trio expects to set up shop in Brownwood Post Office Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday: Jan. 23, 24 and 25. They will move to the Post Office in Eastland for Thursday, Friday and Saturday: Jan. 26, 27 and 28.

Men eligible for enlistment in the corps are those between the ages of 17-29 years, inclusive. They must be of normal health, possess sound mental and moral qualities, be single, and have no dependents.

"From these men and women who shall fill out the peacetime Marine Corps—a highly select unit that is compact and traditionally proud."

the Ohio River flood crest bore down toward the "Father of Waters" at Cairo, Ill.

Army Engineers, who had feared they might have to flood the 139,000-acre spillway to relieve the Mississippi's pressure, today said that such drastic action probably would not be necessary.

The engineers said they would not turn the Mississippi's waters into the floodway unless the Ohio's stage at Cairo passed the 57-foot mark.

The Ohio was leveling off slightly above 55 feet this morning, and Sgt. George Klein of the Illinois National Guard said it was expected to crest at 55 1/2 feet later today.

Meanwhile, residents of Vincennes, Ind., on the long-rampaging Wabash River, slept soundly for the first night in two weeks.

The Wabash dropped almost two feet at 12 hours up to midnight last night and continued to fall steadily.

The crest of the Wabash had pushed downriver past Ma. Carmel, Ill., authorities there said, and as teachers helped register evacuees. The mass exodus, by mule, automobile truck and schoolbus, was orderly.

Gov. Forest Smith of Missouri appealed to the Army Engineers not to open the spillway unless they were faced by "an imminent disaster of great proportions."

Some of the 5,000 evacuated from lowlands in Kentucky also were returning. But 600 persons still were in Red Cross shelters in the Smithland, Ky., area and additional hundreds were homeless in Tennessee.

The Red Cross was caring for many of the Southeast Missouri refugees. Some 300 families were housed in a former Air Base at Malden, Mo. Many others found refuge with friends or relatives.

The farmers and sharecroppers moved their livestock out together with their personal belongings. Some of the stock was pastured on highland ground, some was sent to the East St. Louis, Ill., market.

Public schools here were closed

'FALSE' CHARGES AGAINST A&P AIRED IN BIG AD

The second in a series of classes in which "false" charges were made by Anti-Trust Lawyers against the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company is cited in advertisements being published in 2,500 newspapers this week.

Following a pattern set in previous ads, the company quotes a Federal Judge who exonerated an A&P subsidiary of charges it conspired to fix potato prices in three southern states.

Under the caption "Here is another time the Anti-Trust Lawyers were wrong" A&P tells about a suit filed against its produce-buying affiliate in Wilson, N. C. after the charges were heard the jury was instructed to return a verdict of "Not Guilty." Federal Judge C. C. Wyche told the Government attorney that "You can't make a case without facts."

"In this case" the ad states "The Anti-Trust Lawyers gave a story to the newspapers telling millions of farmers that we were the kind of people who would force their prices down deprive them of a decent income and lower their families living standard."

The company points out that not only were the charges false but were made "Despite the fact that it had always been A&P's policy to pay our farm suppliers fair market prices for all produce—to aid agriculture through better distribution of its products—to narrow the price spread between farm and retail prices—and to help farmers build better markets for their products."

The ad also states that a potato expert of the U. S. Department of Agriculture who was called as Government witness testified that contrary to the allegations A&P's subsidiary had made every effort to help the Department of Agriculture aid the potato farmer in better marketing and in getting a better price for his products.

Judge Wyche in dismissing the case said "I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combining almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence, as was done in this case. But as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw and you can't make a case without facts."

Referring to the current Anti-Trust action seeking A&P's complete dissolution the food chain states that the real question involved in this suit is whether businessmen are going to be encouraged to do a better and more efficient job or whether we are going to let the Anti-Trust Lawyers in Washington blow a whistle on anybody who gets big by giving the people more for their money.

The ads are being published A&P says, to counteract the effect of "Damaging Allegations" the Anti-Trust spokesmen "Have been making in the newspapers and over the radio." This weeks ad also summarized the Washington bread case in which Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough dismissed another Anti-Trust case against A&P "as absolutely devoid of evidence." The Government Lawyers have not only been wrong in previous cases against A&P but "They are wrong again" A&P claims.

The Aga Khan is the leading race horse owner in England, with 20 winners in 35 races.

Here Is Another Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Were Wrong!

Ever since the anti-trust lawyers filed their suit to put A&P out of business, they have been making, in the newspapers and over the radio, various "allegations" about how they think this company does business.

Please remember that "allegations" are charges that have not been proved.

In this case they will be disproved.

There have been times in the past when the anti-trust lawyers made very damaging "allegations" about this company that the courts eventually decided were utterly without foundation.

In our last advertisement we told you about the time the anti-trust lawyers charged that A&P, two other food chains and two labor unions conspired to fix the price of bread in Washington, D. C.

And yet, when this case came to trial, it was revealed that the defendants were actually selling bread cheaper than most other stores in Washington, and that there was absolutely no evidence that they had ever engaged in any such "alleged" conspiracy.

That was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all."

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

But this was not the only time that the anti-trust lawyers made such serious "allegations" against A&P which were false.

Again, and still again, they brought cases against A&P and suffered defeat.

As we have said, we think you are entitled to know about these other cases. And now, we are going to tell you about the second time the anti-trust lawyers were wrong.

The North Carolina Potato Case

In December, 1941, the anti-trust lawyers brought a criminal suit in Wilson, North Carolina.

They charged that A&P's fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, and other good American citizens, had conspired to fix and depress prices paid farmers for potatoes in North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Can anyone imagine any charge calculated to be more damaging to a retail grocery business that must rely on farmers, day after day, for the food we distribute to our customers?

In this case the anti-trust lawyers gave a story to the newspapers, telling millions of farmers that we were the kind of people who would force their prices down, deprive them of a decent income, and lower their families' living standard.

They made these charges despite the fact that it has always been A&P's policy to pay our farm suppliers fair market prices for all produce; to aid agriculture through better distribution of its products; to narrow the spread between farm and retail prices; and to help farmers build better markets for their products.

That is why many thousands of farmers all over the country are now coming to our support.

When the case finally came to trial, the anti-trust lawyers put on as their first witness a potato expert of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This expert, who was the anti-trust lawyers' own witness, testified that contrary to the anti-trust lawyers' "allegations," the defendants made every effort to help the Department of Agriculture in its efforts to aid the potato farmer in better marketing of his products and in getting a better price for his products.

When the anti-trust lawyers had put in their evidence and argued their case, Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

Judge Wyche said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I have studied this case from the very outset. In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes."

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence, as was done in this case."

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

So, here was a case in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against A&P in which the Judge decided that there were no facts to support those charges.

That is why we say the anti-trust lawyers can be wrong and have been wrong.

That is why we say that they are wrong again, just as they were wrong in the Washington bread case and the North Carolina potato case.

We are going to show the American people that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency and against real competition.

The real question involved in this suit is whether businessmen are going to be encouraged to do a better and more efficient job; or whether we are going to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on anybody who gets big by giving the people more for their money.

No one can make us believe that it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price.

Dallas Honors Doak Walker

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 18 (UP)—Dallas honored Doak Walker today as the young man who contributed most to the city during 1949.

The Dallas Junior Chamber of Commerce conferred the title upon the three-time All-American Southern Methodist quarterback yesterday after a selection committee completed a long study.

Walker was credited with being the force which had developed the Cotton Bowl into one of the nation's greatest stadia and brought favorable national publicity to the Dallas area.

A distinguished service award was presented to the young athlete by Jaycee President Austin Watson.

The greatest tribute to Walker came from Alphonso Johnson, chairman of the Selection Committee.

Johnson, in giving his report on the committee's study, noted that Walker not only had been a great player who will become a legend in Southwest football history, but had distinguished himself as a "conscientious Christian gentleman and scholar."

He praised Walker's modesty and self-effacing personality, as well as the example he had set for the nation's youth.

Meanwhile, Walker denied a Hollywood producer's report that he would make a series of short "em up" Westerns and forsake a professional football career for a fling in the movies.

Walker admitted he had talked about the motion picture industry with film representatives but flatly refuted the producer's statement that he had signed a contract.

Sam Snead Nips Ben's Comeback

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19 (UP)—Sam Snead spoiled the storybook ending to one of sport's great comebacks and in the process established himself today as a leading candidate for golf's player of the year accolade.

No matter how heavy the sentiment favored game little Ben Hogan in his return from the verge of death, Snead's links mastery with clubs of iron and nerves of steel merited top applause after their 18-hole playoff for first money in the Los Angeles open tournament. Snead trounced ban-tam Ben by four strokes, 72 to 76 on the foggy pat 71 Riviera Country Club course.

So conclusive was Snead's rout that the $10,000 Long Beach, Cal. open which got underway with qualifying play today looked strictly like Sammy against a pack of also-rans. Hogan will not play in this event, but instead has gone to Palm Springs to rest his weary body.

Baylor Still In Need Of Coach

WACO, Tex., Jan. 19 (UP)—Baylor was still looking for a head football coach today, and at least one well-known athlete was known to be interested in the job.

President W. R. White of Baylor said new names were being added to the list of "possibilities" daily, but admitted he was not near a solution.

The position was made vacant when head coach Bob Woodruff resigned to take a similar position at the University of Florida two weeks ago.

Believed to be the top four candidates were, Alphabetically speaking, Don Faurot, head coach at Missouri; Bill Henderson, a member of the Baylor staff since the middle 1930's; Cecil Isbell, former All-American and head coach at Purdue, and H. N. (Rusty) Russell, Backfield Coach at Southern Methodist.

At Houston, his father, said he was "hunting a coaching job" in Baltimore and "seemed mighty interested" in the opening at Baylor.

Also mentioned as possibilities for the vacancy were Buddy Parker, recent Chicago Cardinals coach; Jimmy Kitts, former Rice and Virginia Tech coach now at Texas Wesleyan as a professor, and former Navy coach George Sauer.

industry.
A Dallas, Tex., steel jobber and a Los Angeles oil tank manufacturer charged the defendants with showing favoritism towards pre-war eastern customers. They filed an anti-trust action yesterday for treble damages.

The Aero Sales Co., and the Texas Tank Corp., said they sought steel plate in 1947, in Houston, Tex. The Columbia Steel Company, A. U. S. Steel Subsidiary, offered them only stainless steel at $50,000 a carload, a price which they said was too high.

The two firms contend they lost $1,505,500 because of their inability to get steel at a competitive cost.

"Henry Kaiser is wholeheartedly behind this suit," attorney for the two western firms said.

Named as defendants were Columbia Steel of San Francisco; Arco Steel Corp. of Ohio; Sheffield Steel Corp. of Kansas City, Mo.; Bethlehem Steel Corp. of New York; Bethlehem Steel Co.,
