You can really trust an automobile these days. Mechanically, they are a pretty safe proposition. But you can't always trust the man or woman behind the wheel. Most of the automobile accidents that will happen this year will be caused—not by the car itself, but by the man behind the wheel.

Drivers will fall asleep, pass on hills and curves, take their eyes off the road, run stop signs, drive too fast, mix alcohol and gasoline, and other thousands of stupid mistakes that are uncalled for. If you're a driver, don't do these things. When you get behind the wheel of a car, treat that car like you would a load of dynamite. It is just as potential a death weapon as a lighted match in a powder house.

Saturday is to be a big day in Eastland. It's the annual Ranch Day celebration, sponsored by the Band Booster Club, to appropriate funds for the Maverick Band to use during the coming year. It is the only drive made for the band each year and it behooves one and all to support this drive. Come out with your boots shined and your big hat atop the head. Fun is in store for one and all.

Donations are still coming in for the Two-Way Radio fund but more still are needed. Why not drop by to see Sheriff Williams and leave a dollar for the fund. And those golf clubs for the kids to play with still can be used. Many are needed and they will be highly appreciated.

"I shall try to correct errors where shown to be errors; and I shall adopt new views as fast as they shall appear to be true views.

Abraham Lincoln - (on his statue at Washington).

Willingness to be helpful in a general sort of way is good, but it is not good enough. Action does not always stem from it. Ernie Pyle told how Anna Kerns, a neighbor of his family in Indiana, acted properly.

When Ernie's mother suffered a stroke of paralysis, Anna didn't say, "now if there's anything at all I can do..." she said, "I'll be there at 7:30 in the morning to do the washing for you."

Thomas Dreier in Your Life.

One of the most enlightening discoveries that a man makes is that his opinions are not always infallible.

"If only I had known then," is the plea heard time after time. And why can't you know? If the world would live each day like it was going to be the last, putting every bit of good that it possesses in everything that it does, and if it would stop to think that those things done on this day are just as important as those which will be done ten years hence, then people wouldn't have to say, "well, that part of my life was the best, if I'd only known it."

McCarthy Gives Explanation Of Loan-No-Loan

HOUSTON, May 18 (UP)—Oilman Glenn McCarthy explained today that his desire to pacify creditors probably led to the misunderstandings in recent high finance involving the McCarthy Oil and Gas corporation and two New York City insurance firms.

McCarthy early this week revealed an arrangement with Equitable and Metropolitan Insurance companies that would afford him "upwards of $6,000,000 credit with which to expand his holdings."

But yesterday in New York Equitable President Thomas I. Parkinson tabbed stories about additional loans to McCarthy "inaccurate and misleading."

Explaining the involved position of his firm in the McCarthy interests, Parkinson added, "The stories to the effect that... additional loans have been granted are inaccurate."

McCarthy was in New York City last Friday to conclude the financial arrangement, which seemed so strong that Monday McCarthy announced he would withdraw an application for a $70,000,000 Reconstruction Finance Corporation loan, placed early this year.

For any financial strain within his empire, McCarthy blamed continued imports by this country of oil from the Middle East and Venezuela. He claimed that such dealings had lowered Texas production allowances continuously, and had cut his income in half.

McCarthy added that he thought the agreement was complete when he left New York City last week-end.

Six million dollars was my own estimate of additional funds the insurance companies would advance for my operations over a period of months," he said.

"I'm sorry to have offended anyone, and certainly had no intention of doing so," McCarthy added. "But I wanted my creditors to know that it would not be long until everyone would have his money."

EASTLAND'S DISPOSAL PLANT

FREE ICE CREAM

Kilgore's Milk And Ice Cream Co. Slates Openhouse Friday, May 19

Johnny Kilgore likes to show you through his new dairy plant. Like most persons that know their business thoroughly, Johnny has an almost personal love for the machines that pasteurize the milk that Eastlanders drink and the ice cream they eat.

In five years, John Kilgore's business outgrew his plant so he's added some 1,260 feet of floor space to the original 3,040 feet.

At the same time he expanded his plant, he re-roofed the entire building, built new outside walls, painted the inside and calcimined the outside.

He has announced that he'll hold open house Friday, May 19. At the open house, ice cream will be served free to all visitors.

The business services all of Eastland County. The Kilgore's Milk and Ice Cream Company manufactures its own ice cream, collects, pasteurizes and bottles grade A milk for both wholesale and retail trade.

When you see the plant, here's what you'll see:

Johnny takes you from the office into the creamery. If you're a farmer that sells cream, you've seen this place before. They test the cream for butterfat content, weigh it, and credit the seller.

That's the first stop. The next is the ice cream maker—a Buck Rogerish machine that can turn out 80 gallons of ice cream every hour. It comes out of this machine, after one continuous freezing process that is controlled, ready for packaging, moulding into novelty bars, or for another machine that adds fruit and nuts to the mix.

The packaged units are placed in a freezing unit and there the cream is frozen hard and ready for distribution.

The freezing tunnel, a small compact unit, has received national mention as an improvement on former methods of "hardening" ice cream.

Other members of the firm are Roland Koch, ice cream maker; Rabb Stadium, milk-processing man; George Scroggs, who works in both the ice cream and milk departments; James Wright, Pete Rogers, O. G. Lindhearted, and M. G. Cartwright are all salesmen for the company, and J. R. Armstrong runs the plant office.

T. L. Willis, who has been with the company the longest, is the truck driver. Two high school seniors have been working at the plant for the past three years part time. They are Richard Bumpass and Glenn Hogan.

Marine General Says Russia Not Soft Push-Over

LOS ANGELES, May 18 (UP)—War with Russia is not inevitable but America must not underestimate Soviet military power, says Gen. Clifton B. Cates, commander of the Marine Corps.

"How far the temperature has to rise before (the cold war) turns into a hot war I don't know," Cates said yesterday at an armed forces luncheon. "It did appear that in several recent incidents we were on the verge of finding out."

Cates said the Russians mustered 500 divisions in World War II while the US had 100.

"The military capabilities of the Soviet Union are not to be dismissed lightly," he said.

South Part Of City Gets Sewer Line

Federals Look For Narcotic Ring 'Brain'

Twelve Spend Nite In Jail Following Area's Big Raid

GALVESTON, May 18 (UP)—Twelve persons arrested in the Southwest's biggest narcotics raid in a dozen years spent the night in jail as federal agents searched for the "brain" of the ring.

Altogether 41 persons appeared before Mrs. George W. Coltz, U. S. Commissioner yesterday, but only 12 were charged. They were remanded to jail when they failed to post bonds ranging from $1,500 to $10,000.

The $10,000 bonds were fixed on Rudy Achee, Joe Rangel and Frank Gastano. Gastano was the only one of the trio pleading guilty.

Federal agents, led by Houston Customs Man Alvin Scharff, raided 11 places on Post Office Street and Avenue E. and a downtown taxicab office, pick-up both Heroin and Marijuana.

Scharff did not classify the illegal narcotics, however, nor would he discuss the size of the seizure. He said, however, the day's work was "entirely satisfactory."

James Ryan, chief of the U. S. Narcotics Bureau in the Southwest, said the man behind the ring presumably had been tipped that the raids were coming.

"He was seen in a car driving away from Galveston," Ryan said.

The raid was organized on information given Houston vice squad officers by an informer who said Galveston was supplying narcotics for almost every major city in the Eastern half of the U. S.

Old Sewage Beds To Be Used For Burying Trash Disposal

Work on the new sewer pipe line, connecting the south part of town to the disposal plant, has been completed and tie-in to the main line was made this week.

Installed at a cost of approximately $5,500, the line makes it possible to cover the old sewage beds located southeast of town on the branch of the Leon River.

Included in the installation of the 2,200 feet of line is a pump house and a separator unit. The pump house is equipped with two centrifugal automatic pumps that boost the refuse on to the plant. The separator unit is enclosed in a 16 foot deep trench. Both units are cemented throughout to prevent leakage.

Farm Meetings Set To Discuss Telephone Bill

By using bricks from the old incinerator east of town and personnel from the regular city employees, Eastland saved some $2,500 on the project. It took about two months to complete the installation.

The old sewage beds will be used for trenches to bury the refuse picked up by the city trash trucks and will save the city another $1,000 in trench fees. It will take a year to fill in the old sewage beds and $1,000 per year to dig trenches.

ALL OF CITY SERVED

The new line will carry approximately 10 per cent of the sewage for Eastland. The area it serves was the only part of the city not being served by the disposal plant, and installation of the line furnishes a sanitary outlet for all of the city.

OPERATION OF PLANT

The plant is located a half mile east of Eastland on the south branch of the Leon Creek. There are two large sewage beds—one to filter the liquids out of the creek after they have been purified, and one to dry the solids.

When the refuse arrives at the plant it goes into a large embuff tank. There the solids are cured 60 days and liquid seeped off.

The liquid is then pumped into another tank and when this tank is full, automatic plungers are released and the water is sprayed into the air from several jets, coming down on a bed of sand and gravel to filter into the creek.

FUTURE PLANS

Plans to enlarge the Embuff tank are now being considered due to the fact that it was designed to take care of only a portion of the population now using it.

Then, there is the second case: Four years ago doctors told W. E. Archer of the Texas Employment Commission in Austin that he had cancer. A malignant growth had developed in his vocal cords. Only removal of his larynx would save his life.

The operation was performed in August, 1946.

But later, he had to undergo a series of follow-up operations.

"If I had known anything about cancer and had gone to the doctor earlier, I might have been able to save my larynx," says Mr. Archer.

"At least I wouldn't have found it necessary to have lots of surgery.

Two Texas Cases Cited To Prove Cancer Curable

HOUSTON (Special) — The American Cancer Society, Texas Division, today cited two cured cancer cases as evidence that the state's No. 2 disease killer can be curbed by early and thorough treatment.

Two Texans — one a doctor and the other a public official — once lost their voices to cancer. Today they are not only speaking themselves but are teaching other victims of cancer of the larynx to speak.

Dr. J. V. Hopkins of Victoria developed cancer many years ago. In 1928 he was bothered with a hoarse throat. The condition persisted. He wound up with a diagnosis of cancer of the vocal cords.

If he was operated on, he would lose his voice. If not, the disease would spread and he would have but a few years to live. He chose the former course, and in 1929 was operated on in New Orleans.

After the operation he tried to make sounds, but it was almost impossible. He thought of giving up his practice, but his brother physicians surrounded him. "Go ahead," they said. "See your patients. Write them notes." And that is what he did.

Finally Doctor Hopkins found that if he would swallow air he could bring it back up and make a slight sound. He was enormously uplifted when that happened. He began saying the alphabet. "It has almost every sound you use," he explains.

Soon he was forming simple words. Then came the time when he could pronounce a two-syllable word.

Now and then he would trip on a word . . . think of the word, but be unable to pronounce it. So he would pause, swallow and think hard — until he thought of a synonym word.

In time other doctors sent patients with vocal cords removed to him.

"Go see a man who lost his vocal cords, just like you did," they would tell their hopeless patients. "See a man who taught himself to talk."

So they came. They would find Doctor Hopkins' waiting room full of patients. He would be bustling around, cautioning them, talking in a rasping off-time hesitant, voice — talking successfully without his vocal cords!

Then, there is the second case: Four years ago doctors told W. E. Archer of the Texas Employment Commission in Austin that he had cancer. A malignant growth had developed in his vocal cords. Only removal of his larynx would save his life.

The operation was performed in August, 1946.

But Mr. Archer was treated, and he is now back at the employment commission leading a normal life. And he is talking again — handling claims and settling them.

Both Doctor Hopkins and Mr. Archer recommended that anyone falling victim to cancer of the larynx or vocal cords should seek adequate treatment immediately.

"Give the doctor a chance to do something about cancer," says Mr. Archer. "It can be cured, if you let him catch it in time".

Senate Group To Overhaul Old SS Act

WASHINGTON, May 18 (UP)

The Senate Finance Committee voted 11 to 0 to overhaul the Social Security act for the first time since it was written in the throes of the depression some 15 years ago.

Exactly four months after it began hearings, the committee approved a bill that would approximately double old-age insurance benefits and bring some 10,000,000 additional persons under the program.

Since the legislation is high on President Truman's "Must" list and enjoys strong Republican backing as well, Senate leaders are confident of passage before the current session adjourns. But floor action may be delayed indefinitely by the gathering filibusters on the fair employment practices bill now before the senate.

The House last year passed a similar bill which would increase benefits about 70 per cent and cover 11,000,000 additional persons.

The House bill would raise the Social Security payroll tax on employers and employes to two per cent next Jan. 1, but the senate version would freeze the present 1 1/2 per cent tax until 1956.

Chairman Walter F. George, D., Ga., said no votes were cast against the bill in committee, although two members refrained from voting. He did not identify them.

The strong bipartisan support reflected the feeling of both Republicans and Democrats that present benefits are radically out of line with the cost of living.

The new act would raise the maximum family benefit from $85 to $150. The minimum benefit in nearly all instances would be $25 monthly, compared to $10 at present.

The legislation falls short of President Truman's request chiefly in the matter of extending coverage. He sought to blanket at least 20,000,000 additional persons under the act.

The senate bill would bring in — on a compulsory basis — about 5,000,000 self-employed persons, excluding farmers; about 800,000 full-time farm hired hands (but not sharecroppers); 1,000,000 domestic servants who are more or less employed in the same households; and 600,000 employes of non-profit organizations.

Farm Roundup News

Altus Butler of the Hodnett Grove Soil Conservation Group was about ready to move in 1943, after growing three crops of peanuts and watching his sandy land fields blow away. His peanut average then was less than 20 bushels to the acre.

Altus tried strip cropping with peas in 1943, but this was inadequate by itself, and his sand drifted nearly as bad as before.

Altus has increased his yield every year since he started his conservation program, and is quick to tell you about the change in color of his soil, from a white sand to a dark sand.

He always returns his peanut hay to the land. He thinks that the fertilizer elements in the hay are worth $12 per ton, in addition to the humus it supplies.

The land owner shouldn't be looking for the dollars and cents he can get this year only, but should be getting his farm in shape to make more dollars and cents in years to come, according to Altus.

When asked about planting peanuts for oil stock, Altus said it wasn't worth the drain on your land, and there wasn't any money to be made in peanuts at oil stock prices.

On another place, after watching various renters make from 8 to 12 bushels per acre for years, Altus purchased it in 1947 and sowed it to vetch and rye in the fall. In 1948 he made an average of 20 bushels per acre, in spite of dry weather.

In 1949, just before peanuts were harvested, Altus took Cecil Shultz over his peanuts. The vines at that time were so large that Cecil couldn't tell which way the rows were running. When he combined the crop, he made as much as 65 bushels on some of his peanuts, and had a 40 bushel average over his whole peanut acreage.

Altus says that on his peanuts, that follow two years of vetch and rye, he has no trouble with root rot, but on peanuts following peanuts, with a winter cover crop between, he still has trouble with root rot.

Altus has increased his yield every year since he started his conservation program, and is quick to tell you about the change in color of his soil, from a white sand to a dark sand.

Salesman Gets Ten Years For Mailing Dirt

DALLAS, May 18 (UP) — A 52-year-old salesman was sentenced to 10 years in prison and fined $5,000 in federal court for shipping obscene literature from Ohio to Dallas.

Harry N. Freedman, a blond, stoop-shouldered house to house salesman, was sentenced by Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, despite pleas by Freedman's wife and stepson that he was a model husband and father.

Davidson gave the heavy penalty, he said, because sale of the material — "enough to cover all the tables in this courtroom"—induced the lowering morals "due to the morbid curiosity of the younger generation."

Federal charges have been filed against Bernard Joseph Johnston of Akron, O., accused of shipping the material to Freedman.

The Ohio River's rich basin covers some 200,000 square miles and is home to about 20,000,000 people. The area includes more than 10,000 miles of waterway.

When asked about planting peanuts for oil stock, Altus said it wasn't worth the drain on your land, and there wasn't any money to be made in peanuts at oil stock prices.

Routt Of Football Fame Found Shot, To Death At Home

Brenham, May 18 (UP)—Funeral arrangements were incomplete today for E. O. (Chip) Routt, 60, father of the famed football player of Texas A&M College.

Routt, a Washington County plantation owner, was found shot in the head at his home near Chapel Hill yesterday, and he died shortly after a doctor arrived.

There was no inquest. Joe Routt, his most famous son, became one of the South's west conference's all-time greats as a guard at Texas A&M in 1936 and 1937. He was killed in the European theater during World War II.

Two other sons, Chip and also started at Texas A&M. Chip Routt and also started at Texas A&M.

Don't Be A Traffic Safety Vandal

Ed. Note: This is the final in a series of eight traffic safety articles, prepared by the Texas Safety Association, Inc., and carried in the Eastland Telegram as a public service.

The dictionary lists one definition of a vandal as "a wanton or ignorant destroyer or defacer of any building, monument, etc., which should be preserved."

This definition—"wanton or ignorant destroyer or defacer of any building, monument, etc., which should be preserved"—well describes a group who are operating on our highways today, the vandals of traffic safety. These vandals of traffic safety are those thoughtless, wanton, ignorant destroyers of monuments to traffic safety—highway traffic signs.

You, the traveling public, the taxpayer, are paying for those acts of destruction: acts of destruction through use of signs for target practice, acts of destruction through defacement of signs with paint and crayons, acts of destruction through knocking signs down, acts of destruction through theft, acts of destruction through bending signs double so their message cannot be read, and acts of destruction through carving of signs with a pocket knife.

And what is the price you pay for these acts of destruction? Each year the highway department alone spends an estimated $20,000 to $25,000 in measured dollars and cents in repairing and replacing some 7,800 signs damaged or destroyed through acts of vandalism—enough to build four miles of farm to market roads and get some farmer out of the mud. And the measured dollars and cents are not the only price you pay. No one will ever know just how many people have paid with their lives; how many people are crippled for life; and how many thousands of dollars in property have been destroyed all because a curve sign with a safe speed sign mounted below it has been destroyed by vandalism.

How long should we continue paying the price for this thoughtless

"Dollar For Dollar"
You Can't Beat A Pontiac
Muirhead Motor Co., Eastland

destruction?
If you know one who has been guilty of destroying or defacing traffic signs, remember he is not only violating the law for which he may be punished, but you or your loved ones may be the next victims of his acts of destruction. Be a good sport, help get him to promote traffic safety, and do your part to make highway traffic signs "signs of life" as they are intended to be by helping to stamp out vandalism.

Your Health

Despite the tremendous advances medicine has made in enabling those who were considered sterile to achieve fertility and have a child of their own, there are still many instances which defy medical science.

Certainly, they are not doomed to a childless life. However, legal processes replace the law of nature to give parenthood to those denied it.

The adoption of a child is a great step, a lifetime undertaking. Here again you may receive some help by consulting your doctor. His advice as to the proper agency through which to give the child a new life will be of assistance. There are instances of couples who sincerely believe they would like to adopt a child, but are not able to overlook the fact that the baby is not of their own flesh and blood. Since the adoption of a child must be made from the viewpoint of the child, based upon unselfish parental desires, such a couple would rightly be denied the privilege of taking a child into their home.

That is just one of the reasons behind the many visits and innumerable questions which a licensed adoption agency goes through to check the home the child will go to. Security and happiness for the child which reflects happiness to the parents are the aims of adoption.

Adoption of a child is nearly always a long process. It should be undertaken with your family physician's counsel. In the past six-month period there were 1,732 adoption petitions filed with the Texas Welfare Department. Each year a great many children and a great many parents get a "new lease on life" through adoption.

Huns To Decide Who Owns Firms

BON, May 18 (UP) — The Allied High Commission announced over French objections that ownership of the vast Ruhr coal, iron and steel industries will be determined eventually by the Germans themselves.

The decision was part of a new anti-monopoly law. French Commissioner Andre Francois-Poncet vetoed the clause a month ago. He said it would permit some future German government to organize the Ruhr into a combine for waging war.

Francois-Poncet said he might appeal within four weeks for settlement of the dispute. Since he did not do so, his veto has lapsed.

Today's announcement said "the question of eventual ownership of the coal and iron and steel industries should be left to the determination of a representative, freely elected German government."

The E. H. S. Band presented their annual Mother's Day concert Sunday, April 14. The program was named "Done in Brass by E. H. S." The stage was beautifully decorated in Spring flowers. The concert started with the junior band playing "Peyel's Hymn," "There's Music in the Air," "Long, Long Ago," "German Waltz," "Easy Steps March" and "America."

The concert band played "Men of Ohio," with Nancy Freyschlag directing. "A Dream is a Wish Your Heart Makes," "Symbol of Honor," "Two Moods," "Chattanooga Shoe Shine Boy," "Three Gates of Gold" and then a solo, "Beautiful Colorado."

There was an intermission and the band members presented their mothers with corsages. The concert opened again by playing "El Capitan," "Coming Around the Mountain," "Beacon Street" and "The National Anthem." Everyone enjoyed the concert and it was a big success.

DOUGLAS SCHOOL GIVES PROGRAM

The Douglas School gave a musical program in the High school auditorium Monday morning. Nine pupils from the different grades were on the program. Mrs. Dorsey, who has trained the boys and girls, was at the piano.

The program was enjoyed by junior high and high school pupils. Students who appeared on the program were Charles Collins, Gloria East, Betty Joe Merritt, Tommie Jean Neal, Lillie Mims, Mary Dagherly, Adam Chipman, Charles Wright, and Hattie Lee Lewis.

Charles Wright was master of ceremonies for the program.

BAND BANQUET

Monday evening at eight o'clock the contest band members were entertained with a formal banquet in the cafeteria of the high school.

The room was beautifully decorated with crepe paper, candles and cut flowers.

The evening started with the invocation given by Mr. W. G. Womack. The menu was turkey and dressing, cranberry sauce, English peas, mashed potatoes, pineapple salad, Hot Rolls and butter, iced tea, ice cream and cake.

The dinner was hot and very delicious. It was prepared by the ladies who work in the cafeteria, and served by some of the band mothers.

Next on the program were two musical numbers by G. W. Mc-

Bee and Janelle Patterson, accompanied by Stan Stephen. After that a very interesting talk on bands was given by the guest speaker, Mr. Alton Roan, director of the Breckenridge Buckaroo Band. The last parts on the program were several amusing numbers by the band members.

Just before the end of the program, Tommy Patterson and Beth Hurt brought out a huge gift-wrapped box after box until finally he came to the gift, a beautiful gold Bulova watch.

The program closed with the entire group singing "Beer, Beer, for old Eastland High."

The banquet was wonderful and was enjoyed by everyone.

CHOIR SINGS

The Cisco Junior College and High School Choir, under the direction of Mr. Robert Clinton, gave a program in the high school auditorium Tuesday morning.

This choir was organized last September, but in spite of its youth, gave a very good program. Some of the number given were "Sin Ye to the Lord," "Beautiful Savior," "Charming Belles" and "Rain in the River Jordan."

The group ate lunch in the cafeteria.

38 New Polio Cases Found In Last Week

AUSTIN, May 18 (UP)—Thirty-eight new cases of Polio were reported last week as the dreaded disease centered its attack on the Rio Grande Valley, the State Health department reported today.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said that through the week ending May 13, the Polio total for 1950 came to 428, more than double the comparable figure for 1949. Of the 38 cases listed last week, nine were recorded in Hidalgo county. Over the first four and one-half months this year, Hidalgo county has listed 97 cases to lead the state's polio count.

The year's cases have been registered in 75 counties, Dr. Cox said, compared to 44 in which incident was reported over a similar period in 1949. He said 192 cases were reported over a comparable period last year.

Counties reporting Polio last week were: Hidalgo 9; Dallas, 4; Jefferson, Nueces and Potter, 3 each; Comanche, Tarrant, El Paso and Cameron, 2 each; and Wharton, Victoria, Moore, Travis, Sutton, Keberg, Ector, and Baxter, 1 each.

1. "I have a youthful appearance, and I feel that a lot of the credit for my young look goes to my Ironrite Automatic Ironer. I've had this wonderful machine for several years, and it's the greatest health, labor- and time-saver I own. My Ironrite eliminated long, painful standing at an ironing board. It's simply a joy to sit down, just guide the clothes across the forming board and relax while I iron. I've told lots of friends how Ironrite has saved me time and energy and helped me keep looking younger. My advice is—look at Ironrite today!"
