With the primary elections over, we can settle down for some political peace for a few days until candidates get warmed up for the run-off in November.

As a rule, the political scene this year was pretty quiet. The governor's race was not as highly contested as is the usual case.

With the Korean war underway, a great deal of the attention of the people was shifted from the political scene to the war fronts.

The vote was expected to be pretty heavy in the county despite the apparent quietness of the campaigns in general.

Several close races were expected for county offices and interest was high in about a half dozen of the races.

County Clerk Virgil Love told us that he expects that about 6,500 voters would participate in the county primary elections. That is a pretty fair number. There are slightly more than 5,900 poll taxes paid in the county.

Love also said that there were 201 absentee ballots cast in the county, which is also pretty high. Eastland lead in the absentee votes with a total of 82. Ranger had 54, Cisco 22, Carbon 17 and Gorman 13. The others were scattered about the smaller boxes.

Love, in contrast to several other office holders, was taking it easy Friday afternoon, without a worry about being re-elected.

He didn't have an opponent you see. He added that he was very grateful for the fact that he was unopposed. So, he ventured a prediction on the number of votes which would be cast. By the time you read this you will know how good he is at predictions. He wouldn't commit himself on his choice of possible winners, however.

With the Fourth of July excitement about to fade out, and the primaries over, about the only thing that stands between here and the Old Rip Horned Toad Derby is time, and not so very much of that.

A little less than three weeks of time remain before the second annual Eastland Toad Derby which is apparently going to exceed even the fondest hopes, and it is just in its infancy.

Until Friday at about 10 a. m., 275 entries had been received for the derby this year, according to H. J. Tanner, at the Chamber of Commerce.

A goal of 300 entries had been set earlier. Tanner and other derby officials are confident the final total will surpass their fondest expectations. He estimated that "at least" 350 entries will be received.

Tanner added that the biggest noisemaker yet is planned for the arrival of the 300th toad which is expected this week sometime.

One of the latest entries came from the president of the Coca Cola Corporation, through the efforts of Parks Poe.

The derby date again, August 12.

The King Ford team assured itself a place in the state tournament at Brownwood in August by defeating Wooten's of Abilene in a game Thursday night, the first of the district meet here.

King Ford and the winner of the Cisco Junior College-Lamb Motor game Friday night were to play in the finals last night to decide the district champion. Both of the finalists were eligible for the state meet.

Advisor On Social Security Here Thurs

E. Glen McNatt, field representative of the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration, will be at the Army Recruiting Office in Eastland at 10.00 a. m. on Thursday, July 27th.

Persons wishing assistance with retirement claims or death claims under the Social Security Act, or needing information about their social security accounts, should call at that time for necessary help and information.

Inco'plete Show Put Leroy Up

Relative incomplete election returns indicated that L. R. Pearson of Ranger might have the state representative 107th Floterial district race sewed up without a run-off August 26.

Pearson swept Eastland county with 1,629 votes, trailed by Olin O. Odum, jr., of Cisco with 1088.

Favorite son of Callahan county, Charles H. Dawson gathered only 678 votes in his own county to lead Odum, 601, and Pearson, 582; In Eastland county, Dawson had only 358 votes.

The returns tabulated below are complete for 11 boxes out of 16 brought to the county courthouse at 11 p.m. Saturday. Five more boxes were partially counted. Ten boxes were still out.

The returns for the commissioners race were very light as of 11 p.m. In precinct one, West Ranger was still out. Several boxes were apparently out in the other precincts.

Caso March conceded the election to Allen Shivers in the governor's race. Charles A. Hutchison, a former Ranger man, gathered only 4,488 votes by unofficial returns. J. B. Williams apparently had the Sheriff's race.

Six Boys Win Registered Pigs At Local Rodeo

Six county boys out of 12 won registered Duroc pigs at the Ranger Jaycee rodeo, Friday.

The pigs were purchased from Eddie Wallace, Ranger junior high 4-H boy and one of last year's winners in the annual contest.

Winners last night were the following: W. E. Huckaby, Ranger Future Farmer; Billy Harper, Ranger Future Farmer; Howard Oliver, Ranger 4-H club; James Buckley, Desdemona 4-H club; Guy Warden, Eastland Future Farmer; John Lee Arvatt, Palo Pinto 4-H club.

Baptist Vacation Bible School Set

Ninety-five students registered on preparation day Friday for the Vacation Bible School to be held at the First Baptist Church beginning Monday, Rev. L. M. Chapman, pastor, reports.

Rev. Chapman said that he believed that about 200 Eastland children would enroll for the week long course which will be held from 8:30 until 11:30 each morning at the church.

More than forty-five helpers are to assist in the school.

Monday will be the first day of the regular school and all children of the city are invited to attend.

In some parts of Africa and the Middle East, according to the Book of Knowledge 1950 annual, newspapers print bulletins on the progress of locust swarms, just as American dailies print weather news.

American Troops Take Breather As KoReds Prepare For Drive On Point 22 Miles South Of Taejon

TOKYO, Sunday, July 23 (UP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced in a special communique today that North Korean forces recaptured Yongdok on the East coast of Korea yesterday.

Hard-pressed American troops took a breather on the Taejon front in South Korea today while the Communist invaders regrouped for a drive on Yongdong, highway junction in the hills 22 miles Southeast of Taejon.

Fresh troops of the famous First Cavalry Division—the dismounted cavalrymen who in the second World War took the Admiralty islands, fought through Leyte, and helped capture Manila—dug in along the all-weather highway which runs from Taejon through Yongdong and Taegu to the American supply port of Pusan.

The First Cavalry sent patrols probing into the Communist territory and loosed its big guns on some targets. But it was only warm-up action. Gen. Douglas MacArthur in his Sunday morning communique said the Taejon front was "relatively quiet."

But 700 miles South of Korea, in the Kimmen Islands off Amoy on the China Coast, another Communist attack was taking shape.

The Chinese Nationalists announced from Formosa that Chinese Communists had shelled the two Nationalist-held islands and had assembled 1,500 junks and motorboats in an apparent invasion armada.

The Nationalists messaged Washington asking in effect, what the United States planned to do about the impending invasion and the artillery attack.

President Truman has pledged the U. S. Seventh Fleet to the protection of Formosa against Communist attack. Kimmen Island, and its neighbor, Little Kimmen, are directly across the Formosa strait from the Nationalist island fortress of Formosa.

In Washington, the State Department announced it had not yet received the message from the Chinese Nationalist government.

Officials said they couldn't guess whether Truman's June 27 order to the Seventh Fleet could be extended to the guarding of the shelled islands.

General MacArthur reported to the Army Department in Washington that Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, commander of the 24th Infantry Division, is missing in action. MacArthur said Dean has not been heard from since he elected to stay with one of his units in the bitter action attending withdrawal from Taejon Thursday.

Dean, 56, a veteran of two World Wars, was wounded.

On the center sector of the American line in South Korea, a negro regiment of the 27th Infantry Division joined with South Korean forces in a "seesaw battle" to capture Yechon, MacArthur said. The communique said the village was captured and lost four times in the last two days.

The Communists pressed their drive on the Western flank of the American line to a point below Chongju, rail and highway center 38 miles south of Taejon.

Why is prayer powerful? Because it unlooses all the power of an omnipotent God. Prayer is the check valve to God's Spirit. "If ye being earthly give good gifts unto your children, how much more will your father give the Spirit to those who ask Him."

Prayer is the wireless from the heart of God to the soul of man. Prayer is God's recipe for revival. Prayer is God's eternal pledge of restoration. Prayer is God's pledge of sustenance. Ask ye shall receive, seek ye shall find, knock and it shall be opened to you. Prayer changes things, and it changes men. Prayer is power. Power is victory. Victory is peace. Peace that lasts is of God. Have you tried everything else to solve your problem? Try God in prayer.

Gauges have been set up to catch all the runoff, from two plots, located side by side. In one, the grass has been protected from overuse by livestock for four years. The other plot has been grazed heavily for a number of years.

Last week, after a two-inch rain there had been no runoff from the protected area. The overgrazed area lost .8 inches, or 40 per cent of the water available. This will mean at least 40 per cent less grass, later. Had the rainfall been greater or more intense, the difference would have undoubtedly been even greater.

Retail drugstore sales for 1949 showed a decrease of 2 per cent below the record year of 1948. The total volume for 1949 was estimated at $3,611,000,000.

Cisco, King Ford Teams In Final Tilt

Cisco Junior College outlasted Lamb Motor of Eastland, 2-1, in a nine-inning game at Fireman's Field Friday night to enter the finals of the district tournament against King Ford of Eastland Saturday night.

The game was scoreless at the end of the regulation seven innings.

By winning, the Cisco team assured itself of a place in the state tournament at Brownwood next month, along with the King team which defeated Wooten's of Abilene in its first contest, and the first game of the district tournament, Thursday night.

Officers of "A" company of the home guard will meet with Eastlanders in the commissioners courtroom at the courthouse at 8 p. m., Tuesday, to make plans for the organization of a state guard for Eastland.

The Eastland guard would be "B" company. Officers of "A" company are Calvin Brown, Lt. Col., R. H. Hansford, Col., and John Usery, Capt. All interested in the guard are urged to be present at the Tuesday meeting, Usery stated.

Day Winners Named RAIN DELAYS RODEO UNTIL 2:30 P. M. SUNDAY: JAYCEE FINANCES WOBBLY; STOCK EXPECTED TO BE IN TOP SHAPE

Seventy-four hundredths of an inch of rain squashed chances for the Ranger Jaycee rodeo's final round Saturday night.

Rodeo officials said that a full show would be held, starting at the Ranger rodeo arena at 2:30 p. m. today (Sunday), to determine the final winners.

The Jaycee rodeo is wobbling on spindly financial legs. A good turnout Saturday night would have given the rodeo a profit. A good turnout Sunday can still do it.

A crowd estimated between 3,500 and 4,000 Friday night saw some of the toughest saddle bronc riding of the celebration. The bareback broncs also showed more pep.

Some stockmen figure that the Sunday rodeo will be even better than Friday's performance with the stock pepped up by the rain and change in weather.

Wart Baughman of Archer City, possibly turned in the best ride Friday night in the bareback bronc riding event. A close second to Wart was J. B. J. Straub of Roswell, N. M. Other riders were Joe Vines of Houston and Howard Baker of Bandera. Four others didn't stay on the allotted time.

Cowboys had trouble Friday night in both the calf roping and steer wrestling events.

Several of the cowboys broke the barrier in the calf roping contest; and several lost their steers altogether with too fast breaks in the steer wrestling contest.

Red Walker of Belton set the pace in the Brahma bull riding. Monk Russell of Ada, Okla., was the only other cowboy to ride his Brahma. Thirteen cowboys competed in this event.

The standings so far and first day winners follow: Calf Roping—Doyle Riley of Ballinger, 11.1 seconds; Eugene Johnson, Beaumont, 12.7; Leo Brannon, Waco, 13.2; Roy Sewalt, Brownwood, 13.5.

Steer wrestling—L. G. Gibbs, Killeen, 4.7; Whit Keeney, Stephenville, 5.6; Charles Colbert, Wilson, Oklahoma, 6; Sewalt, 8.

Barrel race—Wynona Barnett, Gatesville, 14.2; Janelle McGilvray, Mertzon, 14.3; June Probst, San Angelo, 14.4; Mary Black, Lovington, N. M., 14.8.

Saddle bronc—Cotton Proctor, Belton; Harold Watson, Belton; Alfred Cox, Spicewood; Guy Weeks, Abilene and Bill Proctor, Belton, tied for fourth place.

Bull riding—Bob Ferguson, Ada, Okla.; Angelo McAnally, Monahan; Red Walker, Belton and Bill Williams, tied for third and fourth places.

Lonnie Young, president of the local chapter, Don Webb and Buddy Aaron represented the Eastland chapter at the meet. Young acted as official delegate of the chapter. They left with Fox Wednesday for the meet.

Frank Gray of Rising Star accompanied the group. He had three years of vocational agriculture and received his Lone Star Farmer degree as a result of his outstanding work in vocational agriculture.

A number of conducted educational tours were made by the boys while attending the convention. Some of the major trips were to Straus-Medina Hereford Ranch and Rio Vista Dairy Farms where a number of valuable registered stock and various improved practices were studied.

Among places of interest visited by the group were Brackenridge Park and a number of old missions, the Alamo and Buckhorn museum.

A fee of two dollars will be charged for the course, but those interested may attend the first night's class without obligation. Individual instruction will be offered in the daytime, Stephens said. All mechanics are invited to attend the course.

Refresher Course In Automotive Work Is Offered

C. L. Stephens, with the division of extension of the University of Texas, will offer a refresher course in engine tune-up and automotive electricity beginning Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the chamber of commerce building.

The classes will be held Tuesday and Wednesday of each week from 7:30 until 9:30 p. m., at the chamber of commerce building.

The purpose of the course is to enable advanced mechanics to obtain a better working knowledge of the technical problems involved in the operation of modern automotive units.

A fee of two dollars will be charged for the course, but those interested may attend the first night's class without obligation.

Individual instruction will be offered in the daytime, Stephens said.

All mechanics are invited to attend the course.

Fox, FFA Boys Return From State Meet

M. D. Fox and three F.F.A. boys returned Saturday from the state F.F.A. Convention in San Antonio.

The Loves of Carmen

By SOPHIE KERR
Copyright, 1948, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Don Jose, young officer in a fashionable Spanish regiment, falls victim to the charms of the bewitching gypsy, Carmen. He kills his commanding officer in a sword-fight over her and is forced to flee to a mountain hide-out, where he joins the band of gypsy rogues who are Carmen's associates. His last illusion is shattered when he learns that Garcia, the leader, is Carmen's husband. Jose remains in the camp while the others go off on an expedition. Carmen is to pick up a victim in town and lure him to a deserted house, where the men will hunt and rob him. But Carmen changes her mind, decides to have a fling of her own. She meets and flirts with Lucrecia, the madam; but does not take him to be robbed. When she returns to the camp, she finds Don Jose alone and brooding. He tells her it is driving him mad to know she is married to another man. "I wouldn't be married to another man if you had used your head yesterday," he replies.

XXII
THEY both stood up as the gallop of Garcia's horse brought him out of the darkness and into the light on the opposite side of the fire.

Garcia dismounted and, hooking his thumbs in his belt, sauntered across toward Carmen, his face ugly.

"You're going to play games with me, eh, girl?" Don Jose started toward the bandit, but Garcia brushed past the younger man as though he were not there. His eyes were riveted on Carmen.

"We had a rendezvous at the edge of town at sunset," Garcia said sarcastically. "Was I mistaken? Could I possibly have missed you? Or is it just possible that you didn't feel like working today?"

Carmen waited until he was very near, then she looked deliberately past him, smiling at Don Jose, an intimate, secret little smile. "I had much better things to do today. Didn't I, Navarro?" Garcia turned on Don Jose but the boy was staring at Carmen, astonished at the lie implicit in her words. He took a protesting step forward. Garcia spat at him contemptuously, then turned back to Carmen.

"You can choose your pastimes where you like, you filthy wench! But while I am master here, you'll work, too!" He slapped her so brutally across the face that tears came to her eyes.

Don Jose went for Garcia then. Garcia struck Carmen again with his other hand, but now she laughed. By this time Don Jose was on him. He jerked Garcia away from Carmen and spun him half way across the firelit space.

Garcia fell but in an instant was on his feet again, his knife in his hand. Don Jose crouched to face him, drawing his own knife. Garcia laughed deep in his throat. "So, puppy, you want to play games, too!"

THERE was no sound but the crackling of the fire as the two men circled, lunged—circled, lunged. They moved with fearful economy, each knowing that this could only end with death for one of them.

Carmen's eyes were wide and black as she watched the battle. She started to gnaw absently at a bone still in her hands.

The two men fought wickedly with every trick and skill known to knife fighting. First one had the advantage, then the other.

They strained, gripping each other's knife hand, body pressed to body, twisted face glaring into twisted face. They would be locked in a death hold for five minutes—six; then suddenly seem to throw each other away, only to spring back at some inexplicable signal.

Don Jose slipped to one knee. Garcia brought up his own knee, hoping to crack the boy's chin. But the other was too fast for him—he leaped up and back and Garcia missed. Each had wrapped a serape around the arm that did not hold his knife and he would flap this into his antagonist's face in feints designed to draw away the other's knife and leave an opening. Garcia sometimes held his hands behind his back, and would come in feinting with his shoulders, to make Don Jose guess which hand clutched the weapon. Their clothes were wet with sweat, their necks corded with effort. Breath came deep and hard but neither could afford exhaustion.

Now Jose lunged suddenly, twisting as he did so, and Garcia gave an astonished grunt. His knife hand relaxed slowly and the blade dropped to the ground.

Carmen's eyes followed the arc of the falling Garcia. There was a great crash as the body fell into the fire and a sudden shower of sparks lit the scene. For one sharp instant Carmen's face was bathed in unholy brilliance. Her expression was inscrutable.

She slid down from the rock. She tossed the bone she had been gnawing into the fire. She wiped the palms of her hands slowly down the sides of her skirt. Then her eyes rose slowly, seeking Don Jose, who breathed in great, gasping gulps, somewhere out in the darkness beyond her.

LATER that night Don Jose and Dancaire buried Garcia. Dancaire said, "Two murders on your soul now—for nothing. Why didn't you just ask him for Carmen? He would have sold her to you."

"Sold her?" "Gypsies sell their women. He bought her. He married her when she was 12 years old—a typical gypsy marriage."

"I am going to marry her." Dancaire stared at him. "How? Where? You can't show your face in a town in Spain."

"Then we'll have a gypsy wedding in the hills." Dancaire turned back and spat. As he walked away he said, "You will be a fine pair. Gentleman and gypsy—the tame and the untamed—dog and wolf."

He turned and looked gravely at Don Jose. "It won't work, Navarro. Dog and wolf weren't made to live together. You'll see."

Ceremony In Parents Home Unites Jaunice Reed and Pitts Slade, Jr.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle Reed of Carbon was the scene of the wedding of their daughter, Martha Reed of Breckenridge, and Pitts Slade, Jr., of Lumberton, Miss.

The double ring ceremony was read at 4 p. m. Sunday, July 16, by the Rev. Lee Fields of Carbon, in the presence of a few close relatives and friends gathered in the livingroom of the Reed home.

Miss Doris Charles of Breckenridge, maid of honor and Mr. Bertie Norris of San Angelo best man, were the couple's only attendants.

Mrs. Slade chose for her wedding a dress of pastel blue nylon chiffon, fashioned with a close fitted shirred bodice, which was accented with a wide satin belt.

The full gathered skirt was over matching taffeta. She wore a corsage of white carnations and tuberoses.

Miss Charles costume was of pink lace worn with a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Slade is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reed and is a graduate of Carbon High School and of Tarleton College in Stephenville. She has been employed in Breckenridge for the past two years.

Mr. Slade is the son of Mrs. Pitto Slade and the late Mr. Slade of Lumberton, Miss. He is a veteran of World War II, having served four years in the U. S. Navy.

The couple left immediately following the wedding for Lumberton, where Mr. Slade is employed by the Taylor Exploration Company of Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Nance and two children, of Roscoe, spent Thursday and Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Davis Nance. Claude Nance and David are brothers.

Leveille-Watkins Vows Exchanged At 9 O'Clock Mass At St. Rita's

At a nuptial Mass in St. Rita's Church Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, Dora Marie Leveille and Billy Jack Watkins exchanged vows in a double ring service. Rev. A. Merkel, pastor, celebrated the Mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Morris Leveille of Ranger and the late Mrs. Leveille. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Watkins of Eastland.

Beautiful fan arrangements of white gladiolas and huckleberry graced the main altar, and the two side altars. A similar arrangement of the gladiolas in tall white wicker baskets were placed beside the side altars. Tall white tapers in gold candelabra added to the solemnity of the scene.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown, fashioned with fitted bodice, and long fitted sleeves which tapered to a point over the wrists. The high round neck closed with tiny self buttons in the back, topped a square yoke of net embroidered with raised enroidered flowers. Accordion pleated ruching accented the square yoke and flared over the edge of the shoulders. Similar ruching formed a tiny peplum at the waist, and came to a point in the back over a deep pleat which extended into a cathedral length train. The skirt of the gown was gently flared, and fell in soft folds from a deep pleat into the train.

A fingertip veil of misty French illusion floated from a regal tiara, encrusted with tiny seed pearls. For something old, the bride wore matching diamond ring, and earrings, belonging to her mother. Her only other ornament was a dainty single strand of pearls.

For something borrowed, she wore a sixpence in her shoe, loaned by one of the bridesmaids, Miss Inez Harrell. Blue garters completed the traditional rhyme. The bride's bouquet consisted of an arrangement of white stephanotis, centered by a single white orchid, and tied with a white satin bow, from which showers of ribbon fell.

The traditional wedding marches were played by Miss Anita Carlin of Cisco, organist, who also accompanied Mrs. Allen Full of Ranger who sang, "Pans Angelica," by Cesar Franck, and "Ave Maria" by Gounod. Mrs. Bill Juneau of Breckenridge sang, "Jesus, Thou Art Coming," at the Communion.

The bride was attended by Miss Ruth Trahan of Austin, a former classmate at the University of Texas. Morris Campbell of Ranger, cousin of the bride was best man. Bridesmaids were Misses Inez Harrell of Breckenridge, Katherine Adams of Cleburne, and Kathryn Ann Watkins, sister of the groom, of Eastland.

Groomsmen were Preston Grissom of Abilene Jerome Ready of Ranger and Billy Martin of Eastland.

The maid of honor wore a marquisette over taffeta gown of ash-rose of roses, fashioned with portrait neckline, tiny sleeves with fly-up cuffs laced with self buttons. A wide waistband; accented the tiny waist and flared skirt, and was set off by lacking with self buttons.

Miss Trahan wore a matching picture halo hat with wide bow in back. A tiny spray of blue tinted daisies matching her bouquet added color to the inside brim of the hat. She wore matching elbow mitts in ashes of roses, set off by tiny ruffling, and carried a dainty colonial bouquet of blue fleur d'amour tied with bronze satin ribbons.

The bridesmaids were attired in ashes of roses gowns similar to that worn by the maid of honor. A tiny spray of daisies accenting the brims of their picture hats, was tinted cream matching the cream roses they carried in old-fashioned nosegays, tied with wine satin ribbons.

Dwayne Juneau, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Juneau of Breckenridge, served as ring bearer, carrying the two rings on a tiny satin pillow. He wore a white gabardine suit.

Karen Bresnahan, small daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Bresnahan of Breckenridge, was flower girl. She wore a lovely colonial gown of ice blue satin with hooped skirt, matching bonnet, and elbow length gloves. She carried a basket made in the form of a flower, with white satin petals edged in silver. The handle was covered with pink satin, and the basket was lined with matching pink mull. The bottom of the basket was also covered in pink satin. A big pink satin bow extended into a cascade of ribbons. She threw pink rose petals in the path of the bride.

Altar boys, Bobby Downtain and LaWayne Shafer, lit the candles, and assisted at the Mass.

Ushers were Bill Bourdeau and Glenn Hart, both of Ranger.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held at the home of Mr. Morris Leveille, father of the bride.

Guests were greeted at the door by a receiving line composed of Mrs. Charles A. Campbell, aunt of the bride, Morris Leveille, father of the bride, and Mrs. Henry Watkins, mother of the groom. They were then introduced to the bride and groom and their attendants.

The house was beautifully decorated throughout with floral arrangements of obelias, roses and zennias. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth, and centered by a floral arrangement of white tube roses in a silver epergne, surrounded by silver leaves, and flanked by tall pink tapers in silver candle holders. The three-tiered wedding cake dominated the table, and was iced in white and festooned with flowers. Placed on a round reflector, the cake was surrounded by delicate sprays of white tube roses. Coffee was served from a silver coffee service by Miss Louise Weir of Breckenridge and Mrs. Leland Whittington of Haskell. Cake was cut by Mrs. W. L. Downtain and A. E. Ernst. Tiny green mints and salted nuts completed the refreshments.

Gifts were presided over by Mrs. A. C. Bart and A. C. Gallagher of Breckenridge, and Mrs. Lula McLaughlin of Ranger, and Mrs. W. A. Little of Dallas. Guests were registered in the bride's book by Misses Cecilia Martha Mooney of Ranger and Anita Carlin of Cisco. Others assisting in the house party were Mrs. Mae Whittington of Breckenridge, Morris Campbell, W. N. Bourdeau and members of the bridal party.

For going away, the bride chose an imported linen suit of luggage tan, white hat set off by matching luggage tan brim and veil, spectator shoes and bag. She wore a white orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Ranger High School, Junior College, and the University of Texas, where she was a member of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism fraternity, and a member of Mademoiselle's College Board. She was employed, before her marriage, as assistant editor of the Breckenridge American, and is a member of Theta Tau chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in Breckenridge.

The groom graduated from Eastland High School, and is employed by Lone Star Producing Co. Following a trip to Colorado the couple will make their home in Eastland.

In the twelve years from 1935 to 1947, so-called "concentration" decreased in 55 per cent of all industries in the United States.

THIS CHURCH PAGE IS PUBLISHED WEEKLY WITH THE HOPE THAT MORE PEOPLE WILL GO TO CHURCH. IT IS SPONSORED BY LOCAL BUSINESS FIRMS WHO BELIEVE WE SHOULD ATTEND RELIGIOUS SERVICES REGULARLY.

From the twelfth century children have been learning to repeat this prayer of faith. Back of that are the other centuries when families quoted the 121st Psalm from which it was doubtless taken...

*"Your Guardian will not slumber,
He will neither slumber nor sleep."*

Precious lad with the dimpled cheeks, knowing so little what the world holds of joy and of sorrow, of foes and of friends, of sickness and of health, of defeat and of triumph. Perhaps he has mother and father now and every care for his happiness. Who knows what tomorrow holds for him? You and I may not be near to counsel and to encourage. What then?

Wise and thoughtful for all the years ahead were the parents who early introduced the lad to his eternal Friend and helped him to be at home in the Father's universe. Some day every boy and girl will have to stand alone; will there be strength from hidden springs, a sense of sustaining Power? Some day every woman and every man must make a choice between the high way and the low; will there be light that shines on the good path the soul should take?

Every child born into God's world has a right to know that God is Creator and Sovereign, that His will finally must prevail. Every girl and every boy has a right to be sure that the universe is friendly and that its basic principle is Love. Every living person has a right to trust and to faith and to hope. Every human being has a right to know that he is made in the image of God and eligible to a place in the divine Family. We are both animal and divine spirit; God breathed His own Spirit into man and he became a living Spirit, like unto God. Every child has a right to live reverently as in the continuing and blessed fellowship with the Highest; he has a right to the adult helpfulness that puts his feet in the Way of Life. Teach him to say, "Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep. If I should die before I wake, I pray the Lord my soul to take."

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial and a stranger alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Stengel Toasts Mize, Boy Who Stays And Stays

By Milton Richman
 United Press Sports Writer
 NEW YORK, July 22 (UP) — Smiling Casey Stengel, with a catch in his throat and a drink in his hand, today toasted beefy, lanky Johnny Mize—"A guy who caused me plenty of misery in my life."
 Stengel sighed heavily as he recalled his managerial days with the Boston Braves.
 "We tried everything to get Mize out," he said. "Just never could, that's all. That big guy made me cry many times, believe me."
 But Casey smiled in his best championship fashion today as he talked about the two home runs Mize clouted in the Yankees' 14 to 5 victory over Detroit last night. New York thus moved to within a game and a half of the league leading bengals.
 By rapping out four hits and driving in five runs, the 36-year-old Mize hoisted his batting average from .347 to 3.90. Over the last four games, he has driven in 11 runs and shows a stratospheric .867 batting average.
 While the Yankees were mowing down Detroit with the aid of Tom Ferrick's fine relief pitching, the Boston Red Sox climbed to within seven and a half games of first place by defeating the St. Louis Browns, 7 to 4. Tom Dimaggio and Birdie Tibbetts each clouted

Doug Tells GI's To Shut Mouths

TOKYO, July 22 (UP)— Gen. Douglas MacArthur ordered U. S. military personnel today not to discuss military matters in public.
 An official order in the daily headquarters bulletin said: "Self-imposed censorship is urgently required of all members of the occupation in the present situation."
 "Discussion of military matters in public, over telephones, or even in small private conversations is potentially dangerous. The repetition of usually baseless rumors may be equally harmful."
 "Even experts sometimes disseminate what certain information star in a 14 to 5 victory over Detroit.
