

Something Wrong With Weather; Stumped Bureau For Explanation

By Kenneth Miller
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (UP)—Something has been wrong with the weather this summer, and the U. S. Weather Bureau is stumped for an answer.

With summer only two months along, the rural folk say fall seems to be bursting out all over. First frosts, birds flying south and the leaves turning red are only some of the things they've noted.

Weather bureau expert Philip Clapp looked up from his charts today and admitted temperatures around the country this season have averaged three to four degrees below normal in a wide belt extending from California to Virginia and from Minnesota to Texas and the Carolinas. This only oc...curs about one year out of every eight, he said.

Clapp said it was due to an absence of the usual influx of warm air from the Gulf of Mexico and an increase in polar air waves from the north pacific and Canada. In addition, rainfall has been abnormally heavy and the clouds have shielded the ground from warming up under the sun's rays.

"Why has there been so much rain?" He was asked.

"You've got me there, pal," was the official rejoinder. "But it's not due to the Atom Bomb."

Among signs that summer is not performing according to the calendar are the following:

1. An observatory attendant on the towering Empire State building in New York reports the birds already are flying south for the winter. Very early for a migration, he said.
2. Workers installing a television antenna at the 1,250-foot level on the same building were amazed last week by a shower of wheat. Though pigeons were delighted, a local weatherman could guess only that a small tornado picked up the kernels from a New Jersey grain elevator and whirled them over in a "wheat storm."
3. The first reported frost of summer came Tuesday at Norfolk,

Conn. The mercury dipped to 34 and ice crystals formed. Freezing temperatures also were noted last week in northern Michigan.

4. Last week also, Chicago had its coldest day ever recorded on that particular day—45.7 degrees. The August average is 69. New lows were recorded, too, at St. Louis with 50 degrees, and Terre Haute, Ind., with 43. Residents said the weather was typical of early October.

5. A hurricane still rages in the Pacific west of Hawaii. Clapp said it was the first one in the area that ever went west from Hawaii this time of year. Two other hurricanes and a "suspicious" storm have whipped up the Atlantic.

6. On Long Island, N. Y., the sumac shrubs all turned red overnight—something that usually doesn't happen for another six weeks.

Clapp, who puts out those "extended forecasts," said his chief headache now is his 30-day prediction of warmer weather for most of the nation until mid-September. "I'm worried," he said. "One week's gone and it's still cold. Maybe there is something to all this."

Air Force Gets First B-36D Of Plus 435 MPH

FORT WORTH, Aug. 24 (UP)—The first new ten-engine model of the B-36 Superbomber, with horsepower equalling 420 average automobile, engines has been delivered to the Air Force.

The new version of the sleek bomber resembles the earlier six-engine models, with one exception. Slung beneath the outer panels of its 230-foot wings are two "pods", each containing a pair of jet engines.

Known as the B-36D, the ship develops almost 42,000 horsepower. From each of the six engines comes a 3,500 horsepower push and each jet is rated at 5,200 pounds of static thrust.

Consolidated - Vultee Aircraft company, maker of the intercontinental Atomic superbomber, made formal delivery of the first B-36D yesterday.

The Air Force disclosed maximum speed of the model D to be "more than 435 miles per hour."

The first production models, driven only by propellers, were rated at "more than 800 miles per hour." Service ceiling of the B-36D was announced as "over 45,000 feet" an altitude which could make it invisible to the naked eye from the ground.

The Air Force accepted the new ships after a year of flight tests by Convair, a company spokesman said today. In addition, earlier models of the 36 are being returned to the Convair plant here for installation of jet engines and other modifications.

The exact number of 36s being built is a military secret. However, Convair recently received a "letter of intent" from the Air Force ordering more.

TO THE VOTERS OF EASTLAND COUNTY

DEAR FRIENDS:

I have during the past six years served you as your County Judge. During that time I have had the privilege of doing those things, with your cooperation, that I honestly believe have been for the best interest of all of the people of Eastland County and not for a CHOSEN FEW.

During this campaign my record has been personally attacked, my character and my morals have been attacked and mud has been slung at me from every direction.

My Friends, I have always tried to conduct my campaign on a high plane. I have always thought that the dignity of a Judgeship called for high type campaigning. I do not believe in circulating half-truths about any matter or issue. That is not being FAIR and HONEST with either the voters or the candidate.

My Friends, I say to you in all frankness that MY RECORD is PUBLIC PROPERTY for every one to see.

The true facts and issues of this race HAVE NOT and CANNOT be denied.

The tax rate HAS BEEN REDUCED from $1.16 to 60c, and has been that rate for all years beginning in 1946. If anyone will honestly tell you that this does not save money for all tax payers, either he is grossly ignorant or is maliciously telling an untruth.

Voters, I have always endeavored to make my home county a BETTER PLACE in which to live, an ECONOMICAL PLACE to pay your taxes, and if re-elected, with your help and the help of my MAKER, I will continue this policy.

Sincerely yours,

Ferguson Says

GI Beginning To Worry About Winter Clothing; He's Not So Optimistic As The Homefolk

By Harry Ferguson

United Press Foreign News Editor
Anybody optimistic enough to believe that the war is going to be over in a few weeks might be interested in this note that has just arrived from Korea:

"More and more G.I.'s are talking about what they are going to wear when winter sets in. They are pretty well convinced they still are going to be fighting when cold weather starts. Right now the temperature goes up to 90 or higher almost every day. The heat and the fact that most of our soldiers are overworked has brought on a large number of fatigue cases. But there's nothing wrong with the G.I.'s that a little more sleep and some air conditioning would not improve."

Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson has risked a guess that the war may be over in late winter or early spring. It's nothing more than a guess because there are many unpredictable factors that could shorten or lengthen the conflict.

For instance, if Communist China should decide to rush to the aid of the North Koreans, the war probably would last for years. If Stalin sent in Russian planes and pilots our supremacy in the air would be challenged and our victory delayed.

When this war is over historians probably will say they were three main phases of it. Right now we are about half way through the second phase. The three major divisions are:

1. The grim opening weeks of the conflict when the South Korean army was fleeing before the Communist tanks and the U. S. 24th Division was thrown into battle with insufficient training and inadequate weapons. Despite the fact that we have yielded much ground to the Communists since then, the situation probably never was so desperate as it was about ten days before the Marines and other reinforcements landed in Korea. If the 24th Division had not made such a brave, resourceful delaying action, our forces would have been cut to pieces and the Communists would be in possession of Pusan right now.

2. The stabilization of the present defense line. We threw a quick punch at the Communists who were moving along the south coast toward Pusan and then aligned our troops in roughly the present battle positions. That line has been bent several times by the Communists, but it has never been broken. That is where we are today. We have a fairly strong defensive position and we are trying to hang onto it until we can get some reinforcements. The Reds keep jabbing at our line and probably will keep on doing so for some time to come. We will keep throwing localized offensives at them in the hope they won't have time to mass for an overwhelming attack.

3. This phase is in the future. It will arrive when our high command has softened up the Communist supply lines and munitions depots with heavy air attacks and when we have enough troops to match the Red manpower. The note from Korea warns: "Better not try to peer around that corner yet."

Everybody on the battle front agrees, however, that the G. I. is being a very practical fellow when he begins worrying about his winter uniform. It gets awfully cold in the Korean mountains.

BOYCE HOUSE SAYS

A candidate orated, "I am a self-made man."
A man on the edge of the crowd said, "That relieves the Almighty of a great responsibility."

Similar—
A business man who was bald-headed was making a talk to a grade school class. He proclaimed, "I am a self-made man."
One little fellow piped up, "then Mister, why didn't you give yourself more hair?"

A new feature has been added to the Style Revue which will be given at 8 p.m. September 7th in the Eastland High School auditorium, according to Miss June McKee, publicity chairman of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority who is sponsoring the event this year under the direction of Mrs. Marene Johnson.

Models are being outfitted from each of the Women's shops and the "Something New" is that they are being joined for the first time by the Men's Shop, who are outfitting 15 or 16 of the young men of Eastland in the latest fall clothing to act as escorts to the women models.

Tickets are on sale now, Miss McKee said and can be obtained from members of the Sorority or from Altman's, The D. L. Houle Shop or the Men's Shop. They are 50 cents each.

The men of Eastland also are invited and are assured that they will be as interested as the women in the program that has been planned with that purpose in mind. A guest artist has been obtained and the stage is being decorated for the show. During the intermission free coffee will be served, Miss McKee said.

Models are being furnished by each of the co-ed Clubs.

Here's an interesting commentary on cowboy manners, written by Curtis Kimmons in the Amarillo Times.

"The cowboy," writes Mr. Kimmons, "may lack the finer polish that education is supposed to bring a man, but he is never lacking in the rules of common, everyday manners. . . when you see a man with boots and a big hat enter an elevator, you can safely bet that the hat will be removed if ladies happen to be present; and if you see him talking to a lady on the street, his hat will be in his hand. He has not been taught these things. It is simply the in-born courtesy of the man on a horse which is at work.

"In the old days of the West when men were rough, the horses wild and the man who had the longest six-shooter was the law, etiquette naturally was somewhat different from that of today. But when the cowboys of that time attended a dance, they stacked their guns at the door and if it became necessary for them to fight, they went outside to do it. In extreme cases, they managed to do their killing where it would cause the least inconvenience and the least shock to the ladies.

"If a man was introduced to another and had to get down from his horse to shake hands, he always dismounted on the side next to the man to whom he had been introduced—even if he had to turn his horse around completely. Dismounting from a horse from the off side could be taken as an unfriendly act because the horse would act as a shield against the other fellow's bullets in event of trouble. The old-timer observed these unwritten rules because they were the etiquette of the range and the man who failed to do so was placed in the same category with skunks, rattlesnakes and rustlers.

"Watch a cowboy talking to a group of men, especially if the other are city dwellers. See how he has the knack of letting the other fellow do most of the talking while he listens respectfully. If, on the other hand, it becomes necessary for the cowboy to give an opinion see how he delivers it without giving offense to his listeners. They may not agree with him, but they will listen, because the opinion is the honest and unreserved conviction of a gentleman, and can be accepted as such.

"Watch him carefully while he

Within Minute After A-Bomb Blast Streets Will Be Choked With Debris

By Joseph L. Myler
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Within a minute after an A-bomb goes off, streets will be choked with debris, fires will be spreading, normal communications will be down.

Or, as the government says in its newly-published book on "The Effects of Atomic Weapons," there will be "complete disorganization."

It needn't last long—if civil defense officials have provided in advance the emergency disaster facilities which the government recommends.

Once roads ringing the damage area have been cleared and emergency transportation and communications have been re-established, you're in the "emergency control stage." It may last a week or longer.

Then comes the "recovery stage."

To reach that stage, however, a city's disaster-relief, rescue, radiological survey, medical, and fire-fighting agencies must have survived in large part the first stage.

To that end the government advises establishment of:

Disaster-relief and first-aid stations in protected areas on lower floors of fireproof reinforced concrete or steel-frame buildings. To be safe against blast and radiation at least half a mile from the explosion, the stations should be protected by two feet of concrete. Surrounding buildings should be fireproof to reduce hazards of a general conflagration.

Control and first-aid rooms, protected by two feet of reinforced concrete, in industrial plants. The roof of such a room should be able to stand up under more than 500 pounds per square foot. There should be no windows. There must be at least two exits. An emergency power source should be available.

Duplicate facilities of all sorts for emergency operations, special storage for medical supplies, emergency communication networks, procedures worked out in advance for evacuation in event of radiological contamination, and measures for immediate debris clearance. Concerning shelters, the government had this advice:

is in town, then go home with him, partake of his hospitality and view him in his natural surroundings and you will understand why the dignity and the proud bearing of a cowboy are the first things to impress visitors from the east—for his is a heritage that has come down to the man on horseback from the days when knight-hood was in flower."

The heated runoff campaign for Lieutenant Governor produced square foot. Two exits are "must." A pressurized ventilation system is desirable to force air through filters to trap any radioactive particles.

Home Shelters — Basements, particularly if they extend beyond the main structure of the house, "would offer reasonable protection." Escape hatches are necessary in case the house catches fire or collapses. A rampart of soil or sandbags outside the house is advisable.

For persons with no access to special shelters, the government's word is:

"The safest places inside a building are the interior partitions, and it is desirable to keep as close to these as possible."

more charges and counter-charges. Two senators, backing the candidacy of Ben Ramsey of San Augustine, entered denials to charges that the state was footing the bill for a "flood of personal letters."

Senators Otis Lock of Lufkin and Jimmy Phillips of Angleton said they had written lots of letters for Ramsey, but none at state expense.

Brooks, in a statement at Marlin yesterday, said a group of senators were using state stationery to ask their constituents to vote for Ramsey.

"This is just another example of waste and extravagance that the people will smash this coming Saturday," said Brooks.

Lock said all his letters, including stationery and postage, were mailed at his own expense and Phillips said he had receipts for postage and stationery to cover the "many" he had mailed.

Ramsey charged that Brooks, a Dallas insurance executive, took advantage of his recent illness to "make false statements about me while I was sick and flat on my back."

Further, said the ex-senator from San Augustine, Brooks is a one-time lobbyist who "went down to Austin when members of the Legislature were trying to raise money for Eleemosynary institutions and asked the legislature not to put any tax on the insurance business."

Ramsey moved into Fort Worth today and tonight was to make his first major radio speech of the runoff campaign. Brooks was in East Texas, working his way through Cameron, Palestine, Crockett and Huntsville.

In Austin, the Secretary of State's office made a new report on campaign expenditures. Fagan-Dickson of Austin and San Antonio led all the candidates with expenditures of $2,498—only $2 short of the legal ceiling of $2,500.

Will Wilson of Dallas, his opponent for the State Supreme Court, listed expenses of $2,073. Ramsey fixed his spending at $2,160 and Brooks listed expenses of $1,600 in the Lieutenant Governor campaign.

J. E. McDonald, the democratic party's Texas "bad boy," seeking his 11th consecutive term as Secretary of Agriculture, had made no report. His opponent, John C.

White of Wichita Falls, listed expenses of $1,542—covering both the first primary and the runoff.

A record for traffic density is claimed by British railways, whose trains annually run 373,000,000 miles, carry 1,200,000,000 passengers and 226,000,000 tons of merchandise.

The farm population of the United States decreased about 10 per cent in the last decade. Non-farm population went up about 20 per cent.

There is a higher ratio of automobiles in relation to population in the west than in the east.

BECAUSE

The next Lt. Governor of Texas should be above any internal friction, beyond all cross currents of politics, and completely judicial when clashes of personalities arise among members of the Senate. He must be in a position to treat them all alike, to be fair to each, and also to be true to his obligations to the people. Pierce Brooks meets these tests.

Pierce Brooks is the only candidate completely free from the entangling alliances, political obligations, cliques, clans and groups which grow up when men stay in office too long.

Quigg Goes Out With Radio Crew To Sell KoReds Into Surrendering

By H. D. Quigg
United Press Staff Correspondent
WITH FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION IN KOREA. (UP)—We went out today with a couple of loudspeakers and a local spellbinder in an attempt to get 50 hungry Communist soldiers to surrender. Our Hooper rating turned out to be pretty poor with the enemy but it was quite a jaunt anyway.

Communists have made several crossings of the Naktong river in the area of the 7th Cavalry Regiment but have been fairly well chewed up when GI's closed in on them. One group that had forded the river had been seen retreating up a draw. They were known to have been across the river two or three days without food, the Cavalry figured that if they could get some loudspeakers out close to them they might be able to talk them into surrendering.

I got in a jeep with the boss of our expedition, Capt. William J. Cochrane of Joplin, Mo., and we waited for amplifiers and some tanks the Captain had ordered to go along. Pretty soon two other jeeps arrived with equipment and in the valley behind us we could see tanks dusting along.

"Who's that you've got with you?" Cochrane yelled to the sergeant driving the first jeep.

"That's a union operator for this set," the driver replied. "We don't want to get in no trouble with John L. Lewis."

A group of GI's lounging under a straw hut across the way immediately began to badger the sergeant and his "operator" in the immemorial manner of soldiers "comforting" other soldiers who are going on a dangerous mission.

"We'll never see you again—where do you want your stuff sent?" they said. "Have you got your insurance paid up?"

Sgt. James Noland of Union City, Ky., grinned back at them. "Let me out of here," he said. "I want to go home."

Our little convoy started down a dirt road—three jeeps followed at about a quarter of a mile by three tanks. We would past tiny villages composed of a few hundred earthen shacks with straw roofs. They were deserted except for a few pigs and dogs. All civilians had been ordered out of the area.

The First Cavalry has killed a lot of the enemy in this territory. Soon the air became ripe with the smell of swollen dead. They lay by the roadside, some covered

Houston Mothers Back Elevator Operator's Protest Of Kissing

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 24 (UP)—Nancy Patterson, shapely 18-year-old city hall elevator operator whose protest of a "fatherly" kiss from Councilman Jim Griffith shook the city government considerably received backing of a number of Houston mothers.

Miss Patterson disclosed that she has received more than 20 telegrams from mothers in the city congratulating her on making public the kissing incident.

A typical telegram said—"Many mothers whose daughters work or may work in public congratulate you on having the nerve to report the elevator kissing incident."

The attractive curly-haired brunette said the telegrams made her "feel good."

Other developments in the so-called "elevator kiss scandal" were reported today.

Observers said that councilmen now are using the stairway whenever possible, and one attempted to organize a stair-climbing safari, but was voted down because all offices are on the eighth floor of the building.

Councilman Griffith, usually the most faithful attender, failed to show up yesterday at an important council hearing.

Miss Patterson said Griffith, a portly 60-year-old long-time political figure, kissed her during an elevator ride from the eighth to the first floor last week. The incident came to light when she marched post-haste to City Civil Service Commissioner Roy Floyd and demanded to know if kissing went with her job. If it did, she allowed she had enough of it.

Councilman Jim admitted the kiss, but said emphatically that it was "fatherly."

"I didn't mean anything by it," he said. "I'm sorry it upset Miss Patterson. I suspect I have kissed all the girls around City Hall in my long career."

Miss Patterson said she didn't care if he had kissed all the other girls; she didn't like it. She added that the elevator incident left her considerably shaken.

To The Voters

REASONS WHY

P. L. CROSSLEY

SHOULD BE RE-ELECTED

County Judge

AUGUST 26th

1. He has a legal education which QUALIFIES HIM to try civil and criminal cases, properly handle all Probate Matters, and to preside over the Commissioners' Court.
2. A large percentage of the cases in Eastland County are tried in the County Court, therefore, you need a legally qualified Judge.
3. He has committed himself to a program where by the RICH and POOR will share a pro-rata part of taxation.
4. He has caused the re-valuation of oil and related properties belonging to a few wealthy individuals and companies so that now their properties are taxed on a fair basis with that of the small home owner, the farmer and small business man.
5. He completed the refunding of the courthouse bonds resulting in a saving of $68,500.00 in interest to Eastland County.
6. His re-valuation program has given Eastland County more than $15,000.00 NET PROFIT this year, at a cost of only $3,967.75.
7. He has caused your tax rate to be reduced from $1.16 per hundred to 60c per hundred without raising the values of the property, except as to those few wealthy individuals and oil and related industries.
8. He is fair, honest, and has your best interest at heart.
9. With P. L. Crossley as your County Judge, IT WILL NOT BE NECESSARY to hire legal counsel to help run your County Government.
10. His Legislative experience and acquaintance better enables him to be of great value to the county in needed legislation, particularly FARM to MARKET ROADS.

Local Draft Boards Defer Most Students

College students doing satisfactory work have an excellent chance to get draft deferment.

Dr. G. C. Boswell, Ranger Junior College president, reported the following information from the state headquarters of the selective service system.

The local board will postpone a student's induction if he is pursuing a full-time course of instruction at a college. The deferment will be granted even if the student has got his call for induction. The deferment will be for the academic year or until he ceases to do satisfactory college work.

Registrants who have completed at least one academic year of a full-time course of instruction at a college; are in the upper half of their class, and are able to satisfy their local boards that they had made normally required arrangements before August 1, towards enrolling for a full-time course in college for the academic year ending in the spring of 1951 will be considered for an occupational deferment, the instructions to Dr. Boswell said.

A graduate student can get a deferment under the same provisions. "Registrants shall be placed in Class II-A whose activity in study, research or medical, scientific or other endeavors is found necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety or interest."

ADMIRAL SHERMAN REVEALS MORE MARINES PLANES, WARSHIPS HEADED FOR KOREA

By Frank Tremaine
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, Aug. 24 (UP)—More Marines, Marine planes and U. S. warships are on their way to Korea, Admiral Forrest C. Sherman Chief of Naval Operations, disclosed today.

At the same time Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army Chief of Staff, predicted that United Nations ground forces will hold their present "considerable" bridgehead in southeast Korea.

Sherman and Collins talked with newsmen after visiting the front in Korea. The naval chief planned to return to Washington by air tonight.

Sherman said the far eastern naval command "is going to be considerably reinforced." Naval personnel in the area already have been doubled in the three months since the Korean war began, he said, and now total 90,000 men, excluding Marines.

There are 150 ships in the Far Eastern Command and it is still growing, he said. They include a large carrier task force, an escort carrier task force, a blockade squadron, an amphibious force and many auxiliaries.

All types of warships are being reactivated in the United States, he said; and many will come to the Far East. The extent of the buildup will depend on future developments.

He did not say how many more Marines were on their way to Korea, but he said Marine Air Force reinforcements would be in "proportion to the ground force." There already is one Marine brigade in Korea.

Sherman said unification of the Armed Forces was working better than ever in the Korean operation. "From where I have been, there is much closer and more effective coordination now than in the last war," he said. "Certainly, in Washington, where the problems are more difficult, there is an increasing understanding of the problems of the various services and appreciation of their capabilities."

Collins told newsmen on his return to Tokyo today from Korea that there is still a "tough job ahead" at the front, but added: "I think things are coming along now. I am well pleased with the morale and general tenor of things."

"There has never been any doubt in my mind that the 8th Army would hold the line. We have a considerable bridgehead in Korea and, what's more, we are going to hold it."

Collins and Sherman flew to Korea from Japan Tuesday, then split up for separate inspection visits. Collins and Lt. Gen. Walton

H. Walker, commander of the 8th Army, visited several American and South Korean positions, but had to abandon plans to inspect the American 27th Regiment's advance command post north of Taegu because Communists had infiltrated behind it.

Pitcher Gets Commission As Mortar Hurler

WITH THE 25th DIVISION, Korea, Aug. 24 (UP) — M-Sgt. Lowell W. Caldwell, a star baseball pitcher for army teams, was commissioned a 2nd lieutenant in the field today because he's equally good at pitching mortar shells into the enemy.

Caldwell, a native of Tacoma, Washington, pitched his first game against the 24th infantry regiment nearly 24 years ago and has pitched against almost every army unit in the Far East. He was promoted in recognition of his outstanding performance as platoon sergeant with a heavy mortar company.

Churchill Says Wasn't Scared—Not Much Anywa

By Rutherford Foats
United Press Staff Correspondent
8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 24 (UP) — Randolph Churchill, daredevil son of Britain's wartime Prime Minister, said today he "didn't really have panic in my belly, but I thought the game was up for a moment" when wounded by enemy mortar fire.

The 39-year-old newspaper correspondent son of Winston Churchill was wounded in the right leg last night when he accompanied an American patrol across the Nak-tong river into enemy lines in the moonlight.

Shrapnel exploding 15 feet away dug a hole the size of a half-dollar near the shinbone of his right leg and buried a splinter in his right foot.

The same burst of enemy mortar fire wounded Frank Emery, international news service corres-

One soldier in the American 1st Cavalry patrol was wounded so badly he was left behind on the west side of the Nak-tong.

Churchill and Emery were able to make it back across the Nak-tong and were treated at a forward aid station. Their wounds, though ugly ones, were described as not serious.

Churchill, with a splinter still imbedded in his foot, passed off his injury as "quite minor." He has built a reputation for living adventurously and taking risks. In the United States he frequently was arrested for speeding.

He is in Korea as correspondent for the London Daily Telegraph.

This time, he said, "I didn't really have panic in my belly but I thought the game was up for a moment."

"Things were going nicely," Churchill said. "But these snag and complacent reflections were now to be rudely shattered."

Sobell Goes To New York Under Guard

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (UP)—Morton Sobell, electronics expert accused as the 8th American member of a Communist Atomic spy ring, arrived by plane from Houston, in handcuffs last night. He was accompanied by a U. S. Marshall and a guard.

The 33-year-old Sobell was taken immediately to the federal house of detention to await arraignment tomorrow on charges that link him to the Klaus Fuchs spy ring.

There was a vivid flash from a mortar about 100 yards away, he said, and a shell exploded about 15 yards from him. A piece of shrapnel struck his leg.

"It felt like when you bruise your shin on a rock," he said.

ring. Sobell fled to Mexico June 22, six days after David Greenglass was seized here on espionage charges. He was arrested by Mexican officials and turned over to FBI agents at Laredo, last Friday.

The radar specialist was employed by the Reeves Instrument corporation which has top-secret government contracts.

Draft Board Changes Mind

SOMERVILLE, Mass., Aug. 24 (UP)—A Somerville draft board today withdrew its threat to turn Phillip E. Brown over to the District Attorney for failure to register as ordered Aug. 1.

It learned that Pfc. Brown was wounded with the First Cavalry Division in Korea August 9.

Hollywood Film Shop

By Patricia Clary
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—One of the hottest actors in town has an Adam's apple that would kill the sale of collars, a nose that looks like it's left over from a bargain sale, and the build of a WPA post office.

The man is Paul Douglas and that's not his worst enemy describing him. It's Douglas himself. But it's to that plain mug of his that Douglas gives all the credit for his success.

"They figure I must have something to make up for this map," he said, "so they put me in terrific yams, they write me swell dialogue, they throw gals in my arms under 'how can you miss' circumstances, and the public's so relieved to see somebody beside a junior Adonis in the boy-meets-girl set up they give me a cheer."

"Guys look at me and say, 'If that mug can win a gal, it's a cinch for me.' Gals look at me and thank God for the guy they're with."

A man with a face like Douglas gets another break, too. Camera-men love to work with him.

Angles All Bad
"You know why? It's because he doesn't have to worry about my bad angle—they're all bad. He doesn't have to fuss with the lights or anything, because nothing he could do could make me look better."

"I'm a cinch for makeup men, too. They figure nothing can be done, so that's what they do."

What with no makeup, no special lighting, no careful camera angles, Douglas is always ready for a take and that puts him in good with his directors.

Even the wardrobe man gets it easy. Douglas wears one suit, a New York policeman's uniform, in 20th Century-Fox's "Fourteen Hours."

No one has to help him with his lines either.

"I worked long enough for this to be letter-perfect," he said. "But everybody who tested me decided I ought to be driving a truck."

Reds Attempt—

miles north of Tongyong city with heavy artillery fire. Two American Mustang pilots flew repeated missions against the Communist attackers in the narrow neck of the peninsula.

"South Korean military sources believed that a regiment of the North Korean Seventh division was attacking down the Peninsula with the objective of capturing Koje island and flanking the UN beach-head from the south," Miller reported.

The South Koreans opened their defensive - offensive with a bang. They caught a force of overconfident Communists making merry on the outskirts of Tongyong, killed about 300 and took numerous prisoners as well as a rich store of arms and ammunition.
