Did you know that you are required to stop your car immediately before passing a school bus which is discharging children, if that bus is on a highway outside the business or residence district?

Probably not. Neither did we until we received a memo from the Texas Safety Association this week to that effect.

After having stopped, you may then proceed at a prudent speed not to exceed 10 miles per hour, until you are safely beyond the bus.

This is required of you whether you are meeting or overtaking the school bus. This law was passed in 1947 by the 50th Texas Legislature as a part of the Uniform Act of Traffic laws.

There are approximately 6,000 school buses which carry Texas children to and from school every day. The law stated above is one of several which have to do with the operation of a motor vehicle in the vicinity of a school bus which is loading or discharging children.

Some interesting accident facts have been brought to our attention by General Motors Corporation.

Where do accidents happen? Two thirds of all fatalities occur in rural areas. The rural mileage death rate is also about twice the urban rate.

When? The late evening hours are the most hazardous according to the report. Saturday and Sunday are peak accident days. Late fall and early winter are the most dangerous times of the year.

What? Pedestrian accidents and collisions between motor vehicles are the leading urban types. About 60 per cent of those killed in cities are pedestrians. In rural areas, major types are collisions between motor vehicles and non-collision accidents.

Who? Drivers under the age of 25 have the worst record. More than 90 per cent of all drivers involved in accidents are men. Fatality rates are highest for elderly persons and those in the 15-24 age group.

Why? About 75 per cent of fatal accidents involve a driver violation. More than 75 per cent of pedestrians killed are guilty of unsafe practices. In other words, carelessness causes a majority of traffic fatalities.

Moral, Be careful. Free coffee and donuts will be served at the Eastland Bakery and Coffee Shop at its grand opening Saturday. Better go down to their place at 110 North Seaman and get acquainted.

The Mavericks open their home football season Friday night at Maverick stadium.

Season tickets may still be purchased. They are available at the office of the secretary of the school board in the Exchange building.

The Mavericks are due to play a lot better ball Friday than last week at Coleman. They should improve weekly with experience.

Ballinger is not expected to be as strong as the Coleman team, and it could be a very interesting game, and closer than expected.

Eastland may not be at top strength because of their extremely small squad. After Coach Wendell Siebert picks out eleven starters, there are not many boys of enough size to give the boys a good scrimmage. That is one reason for scheduling the tough opponents in the opening games.

Several persons who read the headlines and the story in the Telegram Tuesday about the First Cavalry Division making gains in Korea, thought that a gross error had been made.

A few called, and said that they did not believe that the U. S. had any cavalry divisions in Korea. Which is correct in a technical sense, but the First Cavalry Division is there.

Explanation is that the First Cavalry is actually an infantry division in everything except name. Formerly a cavalry group, the division did not change its name when it gave up riding horses. So the First Cavalry is in Korea, and they have been there since the early days of the war. It was no error as some thought, they are really there.

Mavericks To Test Ballinger In First Home Football Tilt

Eastland High's Mavericks tangle with another band of Cats Friday night at Maverick Stadium in their first home game of the season at 8 p. m.

Ballinger's Cats will be the opposition Friday.

It is not generally believed that they will be as unruly as the Blue-cats of Coleman which scratched the Mavericks to the tune of 32-12, in the lid-blasted for both teams last week at Coleman.

The Mavericks came out of their first game in good spirits, and generally in good physical condition.

End Eddie Haines is the only Maverick starter on the injury list. Haines is favoring an ankle injury and may not be able to play Friday night. He seemed to be responding well to treatment, however, and there is a possibility that he will see some action.

In lieu of Haines at end, James Freeman may be the starter.

Edwin Aaron will probably be at the other end. Gerald Davis and Derrell Black are likely tackle starters with Larry Miller and Bill Gaeta or Norman Watson at guards. Bob Womack will be the center.

In the backfield it will be little Rodney Stephen at quarterback, with Gerald Ables and Dick Ewalt likely at halves and Doug King at fullback.

Black and Davis are developing fast and before long if they keep learning and improving, will not have to give any quarters to anyone in defensive work.

Harold Justice and Don Roff are likely to see action in the line, and Morris Lee Riggan probably will see some action in the backfield.

Stephen will probably handle all the passing and punting chores.

Black does the kick-off honors for the Mavericks and Aaron usually tries for extra points.

Coaches Siebert and Ed Hooker have been drilling the Mavericks long and hard on defensive assignments this week. Pass defense has come in for special attention, with Stephen playing safety and Ables, King and Ewalt also working in the secondary on defense.

Siebert said that he did not entertain too much hope for winning over Ballinger, but added that the Mavericks might make it rough for the Cats Friday night.

The Mavericks face another high rated opponent next week at home before getting a rest from the gridiron wars. Albany will be the foe, and for the third straight time the Eastland team will enter the game as solid underdogs.

'He Doesn't Have To... DALLAS OILMAN CHARGED IN CONNECTION WITH LOTTERY FREED ON $2,500 BOND

WACO, Sept. 14 (UP)—Wilbur Arthur Brian, Dallas oilman arrested and charged in connection with a $2,000,000 international lottery ring, was free on $2,500 appearance bond today.

Brian, one of 10 persons arrested in a nationwide FBI roundup, was taken into custody yesterday as he entered the Fall Hotel at Marlin. Brought to Waco, he waived preliminary hearing last night before U. S. Commissioner J. W. Coker and was released on bond. He must appear before the U. S. Federal District Court at Miami, Fla.

Arrest of the Central Texas oil operator came after a tip from the Canadian Royal Mounted Police led to seizure of $450,000 in undistributed lottery tickets at the Franklin Press in Miami. Tickets worth some $1,500,000 were taken from the 10 persons arrested, the FBI reported.

The federal agency said the lottery was a sweepstake for the Dec. 26, 1950, running of the Christmas two-year old stakes race at Knutsford Park racetrack, Kingston, Jamaica, British West Indies.

Those arrested were charged with conspiracy to transport lottery tickets across state boundaries, a federal crime carrying a maximum penalty of $10,000 fine and five years imprisonment.

Henry O. Hawkins, agent in charge of the Dallas FBI office, said Brian's arrest was preceded by seizure of 240,000 lottery tickets with a face value of $300,000 at the oilman's Dallas home.

They apparently arrived in Dallas by air express on Sept. 1 en from the 10 persons arrested, when Brian was out of the city," said Hawkins.

A similar opinion was expressed by Brian's wife, who said the search and seizure "came as a shock." She said she had no idea how the tickets came to be at the house.

"They came by mail while my husband and I were at Marlin and apparently the maid signed for them," Mrs. Brian said.

"My husband had nothing to do with any lottery. He doesn't have to make money that way."

Brian brought in a new oil well near Marlin on Tuesday.

Agent Hawkins said the lottery tickets weighed 510 pounds, and were arranged in 20,000 books of 12 tickets each.

North Atlantic Nations Have Airbases Ready

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (UP)—North Atlantic Pact nations have a vast network of strategic air bases built up for emergency operations against Russia, Pentagon sources said today.

The network stretches along the Arctic Circle from the Aleutians to Norway on the north and from Gibraltar to the Persian Gulf on the south.

If war should come, big B-36 Intercontinental bombers could take off from these fields almost immediately to deliver Atomic bombs on Russian targets. Interceptors also could use the bases to head off Soviet aircraft enroute to bomb the United States or other pact nations.

Some of the more vital spots along these perimeters also are guarded by radar warning units and similar protection is contemplated in other areas.

Eastland Bakery, Coffee Shop To Serve Free Coffee Saturday

The Eastland Bakery and Coffee Shop will open Saturday at 110 North Seaman Street, next door to the Ideal Cleaners.

Owners of the new business are Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Elrod and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Overstreet, who have been working for about three weeks on cleaning, painting, repairing of the building and installing the machinery for their establishment.

Both families are moving here from Ranger. Overstreet has had about 17 years experience in the bakery business, and formerly was connected with the Ranger Bakery.

The building has been re-worked completely, and the coffee shop will have all new equipment.

The bakery will specialize in special order cakes and all kinds of bread and pastries. Novelty breads of all kinds will be sold, wedding cakes, cookies and all types of special orders will be made.

Three Mothers — One Child Lady Who Says She Persuaded Her Best Friend To Bear Her Husband's Child May Call On Other Woman

HOUSTON, Sept. 14 (UP)—Mrs. Edward Hartman, who says she persuaded her "best friend" to bear her husband's child, feared today it would be necessary to bring the other woman into court to back up the childless Mrs. Hartman's story.

Scientific tests were being conducted to determine whether the baby, 13-month-old Eugenia Leon, belonged to the Hartmans or to Mrs. Farrie Lee Bell, a waitress who claims the child was born to her last October.

Mrs. Bell said yesterday she was "getting acquainted with my baby all over again."

The Hartmans had agreed to give the woman custody of the child for a week while the tests were being made.

Lawrence Armin, attorney for Mrs. Hartman, said the "good, unmarried girl" who was the "actual mother" probably would have to be called into court. Mrs. Hartman has said the girl was willing to appear in court "if we need her."

Mrs. Bell, who hailed the Hartmans into court in an effort to gain custody of the baby, said she gave birth to the baby last Oct. 12 and released it to the Hartmans temporarily because of financial difficulties. She calls the child Caroline Sue.

The Hartmans claim they got the baby last August. Mrs. Hartman said the "mystery woman" became the mother of her husband's child at her suggestion because she (Mrs. Hartman) was unable to have children following an operation.

Mrs. H. J. Childers was reported ready to testify she kept the baby for Mrs. Bell for nearly a year before turning it over to Mrs. Hartman.

Mrs. Bell, who hailed the Hartmans into court in an effort to gain custody of the baby, said she gave birth to the baby last Oct. 12 and released it to the Hartmans temporarily because of financial difficulties. She calls the child Caroline Sue.

The West Ward PTA will hold its first meeting Tuesday, Sept. 19, at the West Ward school. Carl Elliott will be the speaker. He will explain parts of the Gilmer Aiken Bill.

Members of the South Ward PTA are invited to attend the meeting.

The Eastland community singing class will meet Sunday afternoon at the Church of God, located at the corner of Lamar and Valley Streets in Eastland. Invitations are extended to citizens of other communities. Everyone is invited to attend and participate in the afternoon singing.

NUDE PHOTOS SLATED FOR DESTRUCTION

Science Backs Down Before Co-Eds Yells

SEATTLE, Wash. Sept. 14 (UP)—President Raymond B. Allen of the University of Washington said today that nude photographs of co-eds taken in the interest of science, will be destroyed.

Indignant co-eds protested to the university about being photographed in the nude because they were not told why it was being done.

WHILE THIS PROJECT IS AN important one from the standpoint of scientific study," Dr. Allen said, "the purpose of the photographs was not fully explained to the students due to the large number of women concerned and the shortage of time available. He said taking of pictures had been discontinued and all films already exposed would be destroyed.

The nude photographs were being taken for research study by the constitution laboratory, a Columbia University medical school research project. Barbara Honeyman, executive director of the project, said the idea was "to determine if a relationship exists between an individual's behavior and his physique and to establish norms for medical diagnosis and treatment." Miss Honeyman took the pictures herself.

IN ALL ABOUT 300 GIRLS were photographed in the nude here.

A spokesman at Columbia University in New York said photographing of young, unclad women and men has been going on for 15 years at several institutions.

For the past two years, Mrs. Harris has been in the hospital. Now there are not funds available for this, and she now lives in a little room built onto her husband's work shop.

It is reported that Mr. Harris has been unable to get credit. The room is said to be in poor repair, and leaks when it rains. It is believed that it will not be livable during the winter.

Anyone wishing to donate to the needy woman is asked to send their contribution to Mr. B. E. Harris, Rural Route, Ranger, or in care of the Telegram.

Church workers have been contributing food and some furnishings for the woman.

Fighting Spotty

KoRed's Radio Upset By US Navy Attack

By Ralph Teatsorth United Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Friday, Sept. 15 (UP)—The mightiest Allied air-sea bombardment of the war has blasted Korean port of Inchon, gateway to Seoul, and given the enemy his greatest case yet of invasion jitters.

American and British cruisers and destroyers levelled their five and eight-inch guns against Inchon and its island approaches, while Navy Corsairs climaxed a two-day attack by strafing, rocketing and gasoline-jelly bombing enemy airports and other installations in record numbers.

Hundreds of fires were started both at Inchon and at Seoul 18 miles away.

The jittery Pyongyang radio, acknowledging the record strike, said:

"On Sept. 13, the Peoples army, navy and coast defense units shelled United States warships which penetrated near the Inchon area and sank three small-type destroyers, four landing boats and inflicted heavy damage on three landing boats." (The Pentagon admitted slight damage to destroyers).

It was the enemy's first mention of Allied landing craft in the Inchon area, and indicated that the Communists believed United Nations forces were softening up the Korean west coast for an amphibious assault deep into the heart of Red-held South Korea.

Military quarters here quickly denied enemy claims of losses against the combined task force but refused comment on the landing boats.

They pointed out that any plans for a United Nations offensive would involve the strictest security.

It was a day of comparative lull on the battle front—the 120-mile perimeter protecting the Allied base of Pusan at Korea's southwestern front.

The Taegu front at the north-west corner of the line remained the hottest spot. There, United Press Correspondent Peter Kalischer said that U. S. First Division Cavalrymen had recaptured two hills to the west and most of another eight miles north of Taegu, a vital communications center.

Kalischer described the fighting as "small scale but savage."

Along the Naktong river front to the south, second division infantrymen captured a small hill, but action in that sector was light except for sparring and a number of air strikes.

Still farther south, on the Masan front, United Press Correspondent Gene Symonds reported a twin-pronged "local" enemy attack, which drove one unit of the American 25th division out of its position in the division sector. Approximately 500 Reds were involved in the attack and at nightfall Thursday the Americans still had not been able to regain their position.

The Americans held firm against the southern prong of the attack, but a spokesman said "one hell of a fight" still is going on.

But the air-sea strike against Inchon held the center of attention.

It was in that area, just off Inchon, that South Korean Marines landed from British naval ships about a month ago. They landed on Tokchook island and expanded their operations to Sojak, Yonghung and Palmi islands in the same area.

On Sept. 8th, R.O.K. Marines occupied Taeyongpyong Do island in Saeju bay, northwest of Inchon, against light resistance.

Temperance Prexy Upset DENVER, Sept. 14 (UP)—The President of the Women's Christian Temperance Union said today it was "almost treason" to ration beer to troops fighting in Korea.

Gray Motor Company will have on display Friday the completely new Packard Motor Car for 1951, with sweeping advances in styling, interior and power.

J. M. Gray, proprietor of the Gray company, described the 1951 cars as "the most refreshing concept of motor car design offered by Packard since the pre-war Clipper which signaled a new style cycle for the entire automobile industry."

A long list of design innovations, a new line-up of power—including the auto industry's highest compression full-size engines—and brilliant new "Fashion Forum" interiors all highlight the new Packard.

"Packard's completely new 1951 cars represent a $15,000,000 investment in engineering and tooling," Gray said. "This expenditure symbolizes Packard's high confidence in attainment of ever-broadening goals in the automotive future."

words of praise yesterday from the Governors of both Texas and Florida as a convention of citrus and vegetable growers came to a close.

Gov. Fuller Warren of Florida told delegates Texas was wise in setting up the State Citrus Commission in 1949. He said a similar body set up in Florida in 1935 had tripped production and sale of citrus through advertising and quality control.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas praised the commission for its "untied stand" in facing problems of the Texas citrus and vegetable industry.

"She was standing in front of the car pushing against it," Mrs. Anfield said. "I put down the bait bucket and started toward the car, but by the time I got there she had disappeared. I found her body underneath the car in the deep ditch."

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—A star has to do more than don a con-skin cap these days to make a picture about the pioneers. Clark Gable had to learn to speak an Indian dialect, load an 1830 rifle and croon five old folk songs.
It is taking a small army of technical experts to insure realism in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer movie, "Across the Wide Missouri." Among them was Chief Nie-Hah-Pow (Nipo) Chiu-Tum-Nah, one of the nation's outstanding authorities on Indian dialect sign language and customs and a representative of the National Committee of American Indians.

Gable's even taking lessons in love from the Indian chief. The star makes love to an Indian maid who speaks no English. Nipo showed him how to say "I love you" and such in sign language.
The Indian maid, Maria Elena Marquez, makes her Hollywood debut speaking only the Blackfoot dialect she learned from Nipo.
Coached in Music
Gable worked with five music coaches on the five American folk songs he sings. He also took a course in how to play the concertina and how to use an 1830 Hawken muzzle-loading rifle.
"I have the greatest respect," he said, "for those pioneers, pouring powder down the barrel, ramming home bullet and patch, withdrawing the ramrod, priming and firing. This must have been tricky business while someone was chasing you with a tomahawk!"
John Hodiak, another member of the cast, has been taking lessons in the Scottish sword dance. But instead of hopping over the crossed blades in his stocking feet, he learned with the blades lying flat and his shoes on.
Ricardo Montalban took archery lessons. So did many of the Sioux Indians who are supposed to attack with bow and arrow. George Chandler had to take lessons in oil painting and bagpipe playing.

COWGIRL OF OLD WEST CELEBRATES 79TH BIRTHDAY; RECALLS OLD DAYS ON RANCH

A real girl of the Golden West, who often worked as "hand" on her father's ranch, Mrs. Eppie Carr, recently celebrated her 79th birthday here. A rich vitality still glows behind a face young for its years, and some flash of the vivacious and spirited cowgirl she once was hints of days gone but not forgotten.

She was born Eppie Jane Keith on the ranch of her father just outside Desdemona June 22, 1871. Her father, B. M. Keith, was a frontier stockman and a charter member of the Texas Ranchers Association. The first marriage license issued from the courthouse in Eastland county was issued to Mr. and Mrs. Keith.

Eppie Jane followed easy in the tradition of the Texas ranches. A healthy girl with rich auburn hair which she could sit on, sparkling brown eyes, and apple red cheeks, she rode all of her life, and once went as one of her father's "hands" to ride cattle from Dublin to Coleman. They had camped temporarily at Dublin when the trip was made.

Mrs. Eppie Carr

At the age of 15, she met R. S. Carr, a stockfarmer from Tennessee. It was at a neighbors house, and the young man, then 26, teased Eppie Jane by swatting her with a white silk handkerchief. Eppie Jane retaliated by keeping the handkerchief. Soon the couple were engaged, and her fiancé wrote her that he would soon come back for her. Her parents objected to the marriage at first, due to Eppie's youth, but romance won out, and the couple were married when Eppie was 16, and her husband 27. Her parents bought her wedding clothes, including "store bought" shoes, at DeLeon.

The couple settled on a small farm near Desdemona, and had twelve children, six girls and six boys. Eleven of the children are still living. Mrs. Frona Ames, the daughter with whom Mrs. Carr makes her home, recalls hearing of her father working once for Sandeford splitting rails for 50 cents a day, board and room. He could split 500 rails in a day. Mrs. Carr rode horseback until her fourth child was born, then switched to a buggy so all the children could ride.

Mrs. Carr moved to Ranger about 10 years ago. Her husband died in 1929. She recalls now how as a child she attended a one-room school in Victor, near Desdemona. The only school she ever attended.

She was one of a family of sixteen children, including one set of twins. She is a member of the Methodist Church, and has been for about 63 years. She taught the Intermediate Sunday School class at Victor for about 40 years, while her husband taught the Men's Bible class.

Her health is exceptionally good for her age, a fact she attributes to two things.

"I always take good care of myself," she says, "and I always try to look on the bright side of things." She still does not use glasses even to read, although she does have a pair.

Mrs. Carr celebrated her birthday recently at a reunion held August 26 at the Willows Park here. All eleven children were present except one son of Kermit, grandchildren, great grandchildren, and other relatives bringing the number attending to 80.

Mrs. Carr's children are: Mrs. Frona Ames, Mrs. Mary Cheney and Mrs. Jennie Merriek, all of Ranger; Mrs. Jessie Louis of Desdemona; Mrs. Alveta Compton of Fort Worth; Oscar, Moody and Herman, all of Kermit; John T. Carr of Levelland; Stanton Carr of Stephenville and Cecil Carr of Desdemona.

HOW LAWYER GOT ON FINANCE COMMITTEE IS $64 QUESTION

By Lyle C. Wilson
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (UP)—How the busiest criminal lawyer in St. Louis became the newest member of the Democratic national finance committee is a question to which party leaders have only one answer today. They don't know.

The new honorary Democratic finance committeeman is Morris A. Shenker. He most recently appeared here as counsel before Senate committees for persons connected with gambling, including horse racing. The Kefauver committee is seeking any link which may exist between national politics, organized gambling and crime.

One of Shenker's clients before the Kefauver committee was William Molasky of St. Louis who is described as the top St. Louis distributor of racing news.

Another was William Brown, chief stockholder in Molasky's firm who testified that all of the company's 25 to 30 customers probably were bookmakers.

Molasky has been identified as the man who put up $2,000 in 1948 for the successful campaign of Forrest Smith for governor of Missouri. Smith is a Democrat.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch observed editorially that, in return, Molasky "hoped to name one of the members of the St. Louis police board, a board which once was expected to give gamblers the green light for an invasion of St. Louis."

The go-between who presented Molasky to the 1948 chairman of the Democratic state committee in Missouri to receive the $2,000 was Shenker.

And Shenker is reported to have been Molasky's choice to serve on the police board. There was a misunderstanding somewhere. Molasky never got the chance to name a police board member.

Shenker is a successful man at 43, approximately 30 years after arriving in the United States as an orphan of the Ukrainian civil war following the Russian revolution.

"Busiest criminal lawyer" aptly describes him. Ralph Coghlan wrote in the Post-Dispatch that there was a complaint a year ago that trial of criminal cases in St.

Louis was hampered because nearly half the defendants had the same lawyer—Shenker.

Announcement last week that Shenker had been named to the Democratic national finance committee astonished some persons here, including chairman Estes Kefauver, D., Tenn., of the Senate crime committee.

Kefauver rejected a demand for an investigation on grounds there was "no evidence that Mr. Shenker will seek any improper contributions." But he said the appointment "will not set well with the public and certainly will be embarrassing to the Democratic party." He hoped it would be reconsidered by party leaders or that Shenker would refuse to serve.

National committee chairman William M. Boyle, Jr., won't even discuss Shenker now.

But last week he told correspondent Duke Shoop of the Kansas City Star he never had heard of Shenker and didn't know he was on the honorary list. He added that Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., Missouri's Democratic senatorial candidate, probably had suggested Shenker for the honored place.

"That's the way they do it," Shoop quoted Boyle in the Star. "Leading candidates suggest friends for the honor of raising money."

Hennings got in with a fast denial. He said he was not consulted and made no recommendation.

Boyle assured Shoop Shenker's position wasn't important, anyway, that there were several hundred such honorary jobs.

Boyle and other Democratic leaders who don't know Shenker will have a chance to meet him late this month in New York. The several hundred honorary committeemen have been invited to a big cocktail party to meet the Democratic brass from vice-president on down.

Attention Plus
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—A 26-year-old housewife complained in divorce court that when she asked her husband for "more attention," he slapped her. She said her husband also tried starving her and wouldn't give her any money.

Without Painful Backache
As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions. If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Triumph of Anatomic Design is a tremendous success!

Place your order now with your nearest Kaiser-Frazer dealer!

Way back in February, the first models of the brilliant new 1951 Kaiser were publicly previewed in major cities across the nation. The reaction was immediate. Spontaneous enthusiasm from all who saw this great new car. Then, beginning on May 10th, the 1951 Kaiser was put to the acid test: it was offered generally for sale to the American public in dealer showrooms from coast-to-coast. The result? Everywhere, new owners are acclaiming its spectacular, low-slung beauty... its landscape-sweeping Control Tower Vision... its easy-to-enter High Bridge Doors... its road-hugging low center of gravity... the sensational performance of its new Supersonic Engine. The unprecedented demand for these new cars clearly establishes the 1951-Kaiser as the value leader in the medium price field. Indeed, a majority of buyers of new 1951 Kaisers are trading-in late models of other makes...to own the only really new car you can buy! Despite extended work-days and the huge facilities of the Willow Run plant, the list of unfilled orders for spectacular new 1951 Kaisers lengthens every day. Therefore, we suggest that an order placed now assures you of earliest possible delivery of the most exciting new car in America.

RJC FOOTBALL TEAM GOES TO ABILENE TO MEET H-S FISH FOR SEASON OPENER

Coach Boone Yarbrough Predicts Scrappy Football For His Team

The Ranger Junior college football squad opens the season at 8 p.m. today against Hardin-Simmons Fish, there. Betting should be running about even.

The Rangers have ten lettermen from last year's squad to furnish experience.

Coach Boone Yarbrough predicts that the whole squad will climb on a limb with any other predictions.

Last year, the Rangers won a majority of their games, taking six, losing three and tying one to stack up second in district play.

DRAWING HELD FOR ANTELOPE HUNT

The drawing for permits to hunt antelope in the Trans-Pecos area during the 1950 open season was held in Austin on September 11th, according to the Chief Clerk of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

Antelope hunting licenses will be issued within the next ten days to the 337 applicants drawn from a total of 571 applications. The names of all applicants, some single applications and others by hunting parties, were drawn by a representative of the International News Service.

W. O. Pearson of Mission and B. H. Jackson of McAllen were the first applicants whose names were drawn to receive licenses.

An additional 85 applicants, or 20 per cent of the 422 surplus backs to be killed, were allotted to landowners whose properties are to be hunted. These permits may be used to secure licenses from the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission by the landowner or whoever he designates.

Applicants not among the first 337 names drawn will be placed on an alternate list in the order in which they were drawn. In the event that permit holders are unable to make the hunt, they are requested to notify the department immediately so that alternates may be moved up to take their places.

No antelope hunt was held in 1949 because of serious losses during the preceding winter. In 1948, 702 permits were issued and the total bag for that year was 629 male antelope.

Boyce House Gives You Texas

By Boyce House
In Lockhart lives the historian of the city and county—J. Henry Martindale. Caldwell County was named in honor of Matthew "Old Paik" Caldwell, who led the Texans at the Indian battle of Plum Creek. When the county was created from parts of Bastrop and Gonzales Counties, the enactment directed that the county seat be located on the Byrd-Lockhart league and be called Lockhart. Lockhart was one of the couriers sent out by Col Travis before the fall of the Alamo.

Mr. Martindale considers the two high points in the history of the county, the development at the turn of the century, by Alexander D. Mebane, of the cotton plant to a standard of perfection and the discovery of oil in 1922 by Edgar B. Davis near Luling.

The oldest protestant church building in Texas still in its original condition, built about 100 years ago is in Lockhart—the Episcopal Church, and it is an inspiring edifice to visit.

Historian Martindale quotes an advertisement from an early daily newspaper, "Capillary abridgment and tonsorial enactment performed at the City Shaving, Bathing, and end of 7th, rain).

St. Louis at Philadelphia, postponed, rain.

Court To Hear Charges Against Conroe Trio

CONROE, Sept. 14 (UP)—A defeated political candidate, his wife and his brother will go on trial Oct. 30 in connection with Montgomery County's absentee ballot tampering case.

The three are La Verne Smith, his wife Marie, and Clyde Smith. They were indicted pointly on 11 charges of destroying and suppressing ballots. The Smith brothers also face a charge of burglary.

The case grew out of the alleged removal from the county clerk office of 86 absentee ballots in the August race for county commissioner of precinct three in which La Verne Smith lost to incumbent Guinn Sanders. The ballots were altered and some were destroyed.

The Car And Its Companion—
The automobile is useless and harmless without the driver. With the driver it may become most useful but never harmless. No operator of an automobile ever fully realizes his responsibility to the public until he has a wreck. Then it dawns on him that he is living in a world with other people, some very peculiar, who have plenty of personal and property rights.
