YOU NAME IT

By Everett Taylor

If you have not seen the Eastland basketball teams in action, tonight would be a good time to do so.

A couple of close and hotly contested games should be unreeled at the Eastland gym. A "B" team game will open the affair at 6 p.m. or thereabout.

The opposition is Ranger, but the games will not count in the district records, as it is a return match for titles played earlier in the season at Ranger.

In those games the Ranger girls won and the Eastland boys won. It was the only victory of the season for the Mavericks, although they have played very close games in their last two outings.

Ranger's boys will be out to make up for that defeat, one which was very unpopular with the Ranger fans.

To make it a busy night up around the High School, Murray Cox will be the feature attraction at a show sponsored by the Farm Bureau in the High School auditorium tonight.

A large crowd is expected to be on hand to see movies Cox made in the northwest during a recent trip.

Also on the ledger for the Farm Bureau program is a string band from Cisco which will provide additional entertainment for the group gathering there.

There were a lot of different ideas presented at the hospital meeting last Friday night, but everyone present seemed to agree on one thing: Eastland needs a hospital.

The way to get a hospital was the big problem, and still is.

When the committee which was appointed to investigate the possible cost of a hospital here makes its report, then will be the time to expect some real action in the project.

Most of those at the meeting were of the opinion that the raising of the money to build a hospital was not the largest problem to be considered.

The method of running the structure on a profit making, or at least so that it will not lose money, is considered the big problem.

The following is part of a letter from Hugh C. Mehaffey who has been in Korea since Nov. 12. He is the son of Hugh C. Mehaffey of Eastland. He is a machine gunner with the 3rd infantry division.

"I am 60 miles north of Pusan, reorganizing the Division. We left the Hungnam beach the 24 of December and I arrived in Pusan the 26th, and got here the 28th.

"Boy, we really had a good meal Christmas on the ship and also one here yesterday. We were having a rough time up north when we left. Our regimen; held off nine Red Divisions for five days, and we only lost two men. For a month we ate out of tins cans and most of the time the food was frozen as well as the weather. You never have had any cold weather in Texas to compare with that in North Korea.

"My feet were frozen once, but they are o.k. now. I guess you heard about the 3rd division getting the Marines out of that mess up north. Well, it was our platoon that made the spear head. We got hit three times in 35 minutes and we didn't lose but one man from our outfit but I saw Marines laying on the side of the road in piles."

S-Sgt. Charles Brannon says that recruiting has dropped greatly from the heavy influx of the first week of this year, but several volunteers are still going through the local station.

Seems that volunteers for the regular army are gaining slightly with the restrictions placed by the Air Forces on their volunteers.

8th Army Advances 10 Miles

Allies Recapture Suwon; Commies Fall Back Toward Seoul In North

By Ernest Hoherecht
TOKYO, Wednesday, Jan. 17 (UP)—U. S. 8th Army troops in western Korea drove another 10 miles north Tuesday, recapturing Suwon and forcing the Chinese Communists to fall back toward Seoul, 17 miles north.

In central Korea, however, other 8th Army troops withdrew from the embattled Wonju area to set up a new and straighter defense line to the south.

Fifth Air Force fighters and bombers blasted the Reds with 419 sorties during the day, hitting 33 towns among a long list of targets along the front.

Chinese rear guards put up only a token fight in Suwon before fleeing north. Allied air fleets raked them and mowed down at least 150 troops.

With the capture of Suwon, the 8th Army had advanced 12 to 15 miles since it launched what it called a "reconnaissance in force" yesterday. Osan, 10 miles south of Suwon, fell without a fight yesterday.

However, the 8th Army still had not come into contact with the main Chinese forces below Seoul.

Legion Sponsors ROD Program Thursday Night

The Dulin - Daniel Post 70 of the American Legion, is sponsoring a program in observance of ROD month, to be held Thursday night.

Frank Sparks will be the speaker at the program. The public is invited to attend the affair which will be in the Legion Hall.

ROD month was planned by the American Citizenship Committee to help safeguard our freedoms.

ROD stands for Responsibilities, Obligations and Duties. Plan for the month is to encourage Texans to preserve their rights by using them and fulfilling their responsibilities to them. January has been proclaimed ROD month by Governor Alan Shivers.

In suggesting the observance of ROD month, the American Citizenship Committee of the State Bar Association stated, "We are disturbed over the possible loss of our rights and freedoms which are now in constant danger from two enemies—the communist and the lethargic American citizen—the one who wants to keep his liberties but is too lazy to do anything about it."

Sparks will speak on the responsibilities, obligations and duties of the citizen at the meeting. C. G. Stinchcomb, post commander, urged that everyone attend the meeting in the interest of freedom.

Stinchcomb said that a group of Colored veterans in Eastland are putting in an application with the Dulin-Daniel post to start a Colored Legion Post in Eastland.

He said that about 20 Colored Veterans have been signed up for the proposed post.

3rd Son Lost In War

MEXIA, Tex., Jan. 16 (UP)—Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Durbin, who lost two sons in World War II, have been notified that a third is lost in Korea.

Period Of Fear

Our Civilization Is Sick Rotarians Are Told By Marshall At Meet

"Whether we realize it or not, our civilization is sick," Rev. Otto F. Marshall, pastor of the First Christian Church, told members of the Eastland Rotary club at their regular meeting at the Connellie Hotel roof garden, Monday.

"World War II and the war we are engaged in today are symptoms of this sickness," Marshall continued.

Marshall explained that we are prone to place the blame for our condition on Hitler, Stalin and others.

"Not any one man or group of men can bring on a war," he declared. "The moral conditions are lacking to make our technical achievements a success."

"We are living in a period of deep seated fear," Marshall stated. "The basis for this fear is that the atomic bomb was first used for destruction. Its use for the good of humanity has not been discovered."

and it seemed unlikely that the Reds would yield much more ground without an all-out battle.

One report said the Chinese were throwing up a defense line just north of Suwon.

An 8th Army spokesman disclosed that a third Chinese army—the 40th—had moved through the former South Korean capital and joined the 38th and 50th armies south of Seoul. That put some 20,000 Chinese troops between Seoul and the 8th Army line.

Sixteen B-29 Superfortresses carried the war to the Communist North Korean capital, Pyongyang, with a 130-ton, half-hour raid. B-26 light bombers which followed up the attack were jumped by two Soviet-built YAK fighters, but the American aircraft probably shot down one of them and escaped unscathed.

Air reports said the Reds were in "full retreat" toward Seoul.

F-80 jet Shooting Stars, F-84 Thunderjets, F-51 Mustang and B-26 light bombers joined Naval carrier-based fighters in ripping enemy columns between Suwon and Seoul. They hoped to better yesterday's toll of 1,600 enemy dead.

Light snow interfered with some of the air attacks.

A Communist plane nicknamed by the Americans "Red Check Charlie" dropped four bombs on U. S. position in the Kumyangjang sector late yesterday, but caused no damage.

Chamberlain Is Made Country Club President

Jack Chamberlain was elected president of the Lakeside Country Club at a meeting of stockholders and directors at the Connellie Hotel Roof Garden, Monday night.

Chamberlain replaces Don Hill as president of the group. Other new officers elected included H. T. Weaver, vice president and Veon Howard, treas. J. Ross Rucker, secretary, was re-elected to that position.

Gayland Poe was elected as a director to fill the unexpired term of B. F. Gilchrist. Other new directors elected were E. K. Henderson, Bruce Pipkin. Don Hill automatically became a director.

A special appreciation was expressed to the outgoing officers, Don Hill, president; Hubert Westfall, vice president and J. T. Cooper, treasurer; directors Everett Plovman, W. S. Poe and Bill Hoffman; and to Ross Rucker, secretary, for their work during the difficult first year of the club.

Man Came To Dinner Turns Out N. Korean

WITH U. S. 2nd DIVISION, KOREA, Jan. 16 (U.P.)—Corp. Ray D. Selby, 19-year-old medical corpsman from Poteet, Tex., will think twice before he invites another stranger to dinner.

Selby found a Korean house with a fireplace to warm his frozen rations. While cooking over the fire, a helmeted Korean carrying an M-1 rifle popped in the door.

The stranger was sniveling and stood by the fire to get warm. Selby passed him a can of rations and they sat there eating until another soldier entered. It was the company interpreter, a South Korean.

The interpreter talked a minute with the stranger then suddenly leveled his carbine and marched him out of the house.

"It seems the guy I'd been feeding was a North Korean," Selby said. "He had infiltrated our lines but got a little too hungry."

Whisenant Reports Good Bass Catch

J. L. Whisenant of Olden was in Eastland Monday morning sporting a catch of five very nice bass.

He had not weighed the catch, but all were estimated at about three pounds or more. He reported that he made the catch at the Leon Power Plant Lake Monday morning using minnows for bait.

Natural Gas Tax Predicted By Rep. Pearson; State's Big Headache Is How To Raise 110 Million Dollars

"Money—110 million dollars in new money—that is the headache confronting the 52nd Texas Legislature."

This is the way Representative L. R. Pearson of Ranger sized up the situation before he left for Austin to take up his duties with the Legislature.

Asked for a statement, Pearson replied, "I am not much on publicity, but I will try to answer a few of your questions." When asked what, in his opinion, would be the big issues coming before the 52nd Legislature, the Representative answered:

"The big problems confronting the Legislature will be: 1. New money—they say, 110 million dollars worth; 2. Redistricting; 3. Revision of the Election Laws; 4. A new water code for Texas; 5. Regulating trucks and buses, especially the truck overload; 6. Revising the Code of Criminal Procedure; 7. Reducing the ever increasing traffic deaths on our highways.

"These, in my opinion, will be the big issues coming before the 52nd session, followed by other legislation, of slightly lesser importance. However, the entire legislative program must be geared to National defense. We cannot overlook the fact that we have a war on our hands, and every thing else is secondary to winning the war and restoring the peace."

Continuing, Pearson said: "The No. 1 problem for the Legislature is money—and where to get it. The smart boys—the State Comptroller, the Board of Control, et al—say that new taxes are inescapable. I am not too sure about this. I have always been a low tax advocate. I have yet to vote for a new tax bill of any kind. I will not vote for a new tax levy of any kind until the Appropriations Committee screens the appropriations, and it is definitely determined that new taxes are absolutely necessary to efficiently maintain the State government.

"I will not vote for creating any new boards, commissions or additional state services. We could well dispense of some we already have. However, if new levies are absolutely necessary to maintain an efficient, streamlined state government, I will not sidestep the responsibility, as badly as I hate to vote for new taxes, especially in a war time when we know the National Government is going to tax to the limit.

"If new state taxes must come, the 64 dollar question is from what source. I do not want to stick my neck out, but I will make one prediction of things to come—predictions which have proven less than 1 per cent correct. I predict, if the 52nd Legislature writes a new tax bill, the new levy will fall principally on natural gas. I am confident the Legislature will not pass a general sales tax, nor will it pass a State income tax. Also, a gross receipts tax is out. An attempt will be made to add one cent per gallon to the gasoline tax. My guess is the gasoline tax will not be raised. I repeat, the new levy, if voted, will be placed principally on natural gas.

"Redistricting, long delayed, is a constitutional mandate and should be voted. Our area will lose in representation, due to loss in population, and my district will be abolished by redistricting, yet I will support it.

"Also, I will support a new water code for Texas, giving individual and municipal use the first call on water, over industrial and irrigation.

"The election laws should be revised, and also the Code of Criminal Procedure. Our insurance laws, too, can stand a little revision.

"I will also support any remedial legislation which will reduce the heavy death toll on our highways. Our traffic casualties exceed our casualties in Korea.

"I do not know the answer to this question, but I will support any reasonable legislation to improve this alarming situation.

"On other questions coming before the 52nd Legislature, I will vote for what I consider the best interest of my state's and district. I will appreciate hearing from any of my constituents. Any suggestions about any matters coming before the Legislature will be appreciated by me, and will be given careful consideration."

Eastland Cagers Vie With Ranger

An exciting flurry of basketball is expected when teams from Ranger invade the Eastland gym tonight.

Ranger's boys will be out to even the score against Eastland for a two point loss to the Mavericks in Ranger earlier in the season.

Eastland's girls on the other hand, will be out to avenge a loss to the Ranger girls.

A "B" team game is also on the schedule, slated to start at 6 p.m. The girls game will be second on the slate and the boys tilt, which should be hotly contested, will conclude the night's program.

The win over Ranger is the only victory of the season for the Eastland boys. They have had trouble holding early gains leads in the final minutes of the contest.

Ranger, on the other hand, has scored several victories, including a district win over Dublin. Eastland lost to Comanche in its only district contest.

The games tonight will not count in district play.

Eddie Haines, Rodney Stephen, George Harris, Doug Williamson and James Freeman will probably be in Coach Ed Hooker's starting lineup for the Mavericks.

FLIGHT OF SKY GIANTS MADE UNDER SIMULATED COMBAT

LONDON, Jan. 16 (UP)—Six giant American B-36 bombers, each capable of carrying an atomic bomb 10,000 miles, landed in Britain today at the end of a 5,000-mile, one-stop training flight from their base in Texas.

Carswell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, home of the B-36, announced the planes used Limestone Air Force Base, Maine, described as a "routine staging base" for their take-off from the United States. Upon takeoff from there, they were on a simulated combat mission of more than 20 hours.

An Air Force announcement said the 10-engine, semi-jet sky giants carried a simulation of "complete combat armament" but that no live ammunition was aboard.

Each plane flew a different route to Britain and each one will fly a different route back when they start their return within the next four days.

The flight was the first made to Britain by the B-36, a souped-up 435-mile-per-hour mammoth powered by six conventional gasoline engines and four auxiliary jet engines.

None of the big bombers will be stationed permanently in Britain on this trip. There already are two types of four-engine bombers assigned permanently to British bases. They are the modified B-50 and the B-29 Superfortress, the plane that carried the first atomic bombs against Japan.

Col. Thomas P. Gerrity of Chicago, led the mission, and a spokesman at Carswell Base in Fort Worth, headquarters for the 8th Air Force, said "such routine training missions are a part of the long-range navigation and cruise control training program being conducted by units of the strategic air command."

"Operation U. K." was conceived and executed secretly.

Maintenance crews were flown to England from Fort Worth in advance of the takeoffs, which the Air Force said were spaced to achieve both day and night departures.

The radioed report from overseas came from headquarters of the 3rd Air Division, near London, the Air Force said.

Public information available on the B-36D shows it has a non-stop range of more than 10,000 miles and a top speed of "more than 435 miles per hour." In full combat dress, it carries sixteen 20 millimeter cannon and has lifted an 84,000 ton bomb load, the heaviest ever carried by one plane.

The flight to England was "more than 5,000 miles" for each plane.

Evidence of the varying routes the B-36s will "fan out on separate missions ranging from 25 to 40 hours" on the homeward missions.

The equipment now in the clinic was recommended as excellent. Much more equipment would be needed, however, for a hospital. This overall cost, that of buying the present clinic, plus that of adding onto it the rooms and equipment necessary, is the cost to be determined approximately by the committee appointed at the meeting.

Mrs. Emma Sue Services Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Maggie Emma Sue, 81, 409 S. Walnut, were held at 4 p.m. Monday at the Hamner Funeral chapel in Eastland.

W. E. Moore, Church of Christ Minister, conducted the services. Burial was in the Eastland cemetery.

Mrs. Sue died early Monday in a Ranger hospital. She had lived in Eastland for a number of years. She was born February 16, 1869 in Alabama.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Hoyt Davis; one son, J. O. Sue; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Alice M. Sue; four grandchildren, Mrs. Will Rust of Houston; Weldon Davis, Eastland; Alice Sue, Marlin; and three great grandchildren, Monroe Rust, Houston; Ray Eugene Sue, Snyder and Mitzi Davis of Eastland.

Funeral Rites Set For Mrs. Donnell

Mrs. M. E. Donnell, 90, grandmother of Mrs. Pat Crawford of Eastland, died Monday in Burk Burnett, at the home of Mrs. W. D. Phillips, a daughter.

Services will be held in Burk Burnett Wednesday.

She was born May 10, 1859. She lived here several years with Mrs. Crawford.

Proposed Plan For Hospital Is Explained

Some persons were confused by the story in Sunday's Telegram concerning the plan for Eastland's hospital.

The story read that the plan for converting the Caton Clinic into a hospital of 15 units was most generally the acceptable one. To some this was misleading, according to reports.

This was understood to mean that the clinic would remain the same size as at the present time, with only improvements.

The actual proposal is to use the Caton Clinic as a starting point to a hospital and build onto it. It is to be enlarged into a hospital of 15 units.

This enlarging cost and the cost of buying the present clinic and its equipment as a starting point to the costs to be estimated by the committee appointed at Friday's meeting.

Here is the plan as presented in the report by Mrs. John Turner, chairman of the committee which investigated the possibilities for a hospital:

Several sites for a hospital were investigated with the help of Charles Root of Colorado City.

Root recommended the purchasing of the Caton Clinic, which Dr. Caton has agreed to sell at a price to be set by a disinterested outside person, and enlarging it into a 15 unit hospital.

He said that the clinic was set up in such a manner that it would make an excellent starting point for construction of a hospital. He pointed out that the reception room was adequate for a hospital, and there was room in the present construction for the examination rooms and specialization room.

The equipment now in the clinic was recommended as excellent. Much more equipment would be needed, however, for a hospital. This overall cost, that of buying the present clinic, plus that of adding onto it the rooms and equipment necessary, is the cost to be determined approximately by the committee appointed at the meeting.

Lamb Cagers Win From Alexandria

Lamb Motor Company's independent team proved to be too strong for Alexandria's team at the Eastland High School gym, Monday night, winning a 40-26 decision.

Gregory led the winner with 12 points, with Glenn Hart adding 11 for the Lamb team.

J. D. Tatum of Alexandria captured high point honors with a total of 16 points. Fitzgerald scored eight for the losers.

Halftime score was 22-8, with Lamb in front. The Lamb team eased up in the last half and coasted to victory.

Players for Lamb included Raymond and Clifford Beck, Weldon Tankersley, Nolan Butler, Don Doyle, Peoples and Lamb Edwards.

Funeral Rites Set For Mrs. Donnell

Mrs. M. E. Donnell, 90, grandmother of Mrs. Pat Crawford of Eastland, died Monday in Burk Burnett, at the home of Mrs. W. D. Phillips, a daughter.

Services will be held in Burk Burnett Wednesday.

She was born May 10, 1859. She lived here several years with Mrs. Crawford.

Friends Want Louis to Quit, But Admire His Honest Pitch

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Anyone ever so slightly acquainted with competition knew Joe Louis' reflexes were gone before they saw the old Brown Bomber against the stationary target that was Freddie Beshore.

For one who was a remarkable athlete, Louis aged very rapidly, and crowding 37 his fighting years definitely are way behind him. His admirers want him to quit, but fierce pride carries Louis on. He refuses to believe that he is as bad as he looked against Ezzard Charles last September and young Cesar Brion in late November.

Sure, Louis looked much more formidable against Beshore, a better catcher than Yogi Berra, than he did against the rapidly moving Charles and the journeyman workman who is Brion.

Certainly, he looked trimmer at 210 1/2 pounds, a four-year low. The tragedy of it is that Louis will continue to look better as he goes along against carefully-selected bums whom he can bust.

It's bad enough for Louis to be active at a stage where opponents have to be hand-picked.

As his close friend, Sugar Ray Robinson, points out, satisfactory performances against palookas only give Smokey Joe false encouragement and ideas, which are bad at his age in the beak-busting business.

ROBINSON is so right. "When you take a licking, like Joe did from Charles, they can't pay you enough."

Jack Dempsey turned down a million when he was 32. Dempsey and Gene Tunney were two of the mighty few who knew when they had enough. That's why they have all their marbles and are so highly successful today.

Punchment at any place along the line doesn't do a fighter any good. It's highly damaging at Louis' age. If he keeps going, he has to be hurt.

In the serene and yellow, Louis still has to be admired—for giving it an honest pitch.

Only one who has boxed professionally fully appreciates how he suffers in training. Few realize that it is the conditioning a fighter dreads, not the fight.

Louis spent so much time in training camps that he learned to despise them while still in full stride.

It took a lot of courage and character for Louis to battle his waist-line into submission.

Extent of Defense Mobilization Hinges on Manpower Program

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Department of Defense is having a tough time trying to justify its position on the speed of mobilization. It is accused of having a "siesta" attitude—taking a midday nap while the commies are overrunning civilization.

From all over have come charges that the country isn't mobilizing fast enough. That defense contracts aren't being let fast enough. That cutbacks and controls aren't being applied in tough enough fashion.

In Washington, the complaint has been that nobody can find out what the armed services want. The size of military requirements has become the multi-billion dollar mystery. And the delay has not been satisfactorily explained.

There is a certain amount of justification for this criticism. But the Department of Defense does have some valid arguments defending its present gradual mobilization policy.

When Defense Secretary George Marshall was testifying in closed session before Senate Appropriations Committee, all the senators present took time out for a 10-minute speech telling the General that we should have all-out mobilization in a hurry.

GENERAL MARSHALL stood about as much of this as he could, and then turned rather sharply to one of the senators and asked in effect, "What do you mean by full mobilization? Do you mean armed forces of 15,000,000 men? How long would you and the country be willing to support that big a force?"

The senator ducked, saying, "I'm here to ask you questions." Assistant Secretary of Defense W. J. McNeil, comptroller of the armed forces, had a similar experience in a private session with a congressman whom he prefers not to identify.

This congressman started making the speech about the need for full mobilization. It so happens that this congressman has a 17-year-old son.

"I tell you what I wish you'd do," Secretary McNeil said to the congressman. "I wish you'd go to the House tomorrow and introduce a bill—clearing it with Chairman Carl Vinson first, to make sure that it gets passed. In this bill, I wish you'd provide for universal military service of seven years for every boy of 18."

The congressman said he thought that was a bit extreme. McNeil then went on to explain why that would be necessary, if the United States was to maintain armed forces of 10,000,000 men, to match Russia.

THE explanation begins with the depression. There wasn't very much production in the United States from 1932 to 1939. This applies to babies as well as to food and factory goods.

The result is that today there are only a little over 1,000,000 physically fit boys reaching age 18 this year, and for the next five years or more. So if the United States is to build up and maintain an army of 10,000,000 men, it will have to draft 1,000,000 men a year and keep them in service for as long as the emergency lasts, or for at least seven years, permitting them to resign at age 25.

Well, the mathematics of the thing is that if 1,000,000 18-year-old draftees a year are to be kept in service for only two years, there can be at the most not more than a 4,000,000 man defense force. And this would mean that 2,000,000 older men would have to stay in service as professionals.

In other words, manpower is the first consideration in any calculation for a mobilization program. How big a defense force is the United States going to build up? How long will it be kept in service? After those determinations are made, then the calculations can be made on how much equipment they will need.

It would be nice to have one tank, one airplane or one jeep complete with bazooka and trailer for every man in service. But are they necessary? The answer is of course not. So why waste the money ordering all this equipment?

Teenager Gets Appetite Back; Thanks HADACOL

HADACOL Supplies Vitamins B-1, B2, Niacin and Iron Which Her System Lacked.

According to Sara Loraine Beck, Box 253, Coker, Alabama, when a person is only 15 years old and feels jittery, can't eat or sleep the way they should, it's mighty bad. That is the way Loraine says she used to feel, but that was of course, before she started taking HADACOL. Loraine found that taking HADACOL helped her system overcome deficiencies in Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Loraine Beck's own statement: "I was run-down, sick and skinny, and weighed only 90 pounds before I used HADACOL. I would not eat because I had no appetite. Now I weigh 123 pounds and have an appetite. I feel a lot better. I have been taking HADACOL 10 months and am still taking it. I am 15 years old. HADACOL has done me lots of good."

Texas Defeats Arkansas For Conference Lead

By Ernest Conine
United Press Sports Writer
Texas University's Longhorns grabbed undisputed possession of the No. 1 spot in Southwest Conference basketball play last night with a 50 to 42 victory over Arkansas that apparently paved the way for the resignation of Porker Coach Presley Askew.

Texas A&M, lagging behind Texas by a slim half-game margin, plays Southern Methodist at Dallas tonight in an attempt to overhaul the high-stepping Longhorns. Lowly Rice and Baylor battle at Houston the only other game on the schedule.

Last night's victory was the fourth straight in conference competition for the Texas squad, while the game marked Arkansas' third loss without a win.

Coach Askew had announced last week he would resign if he failed to win the last eight games of the season. Last night's game was the first of the fateful eight.

The steady-shooting Longhorns stayed in front all the way as they chalked up a 33-31 half-time advantage, then coasted to victory in the final half.

Forward Jim Dowies, the night's high scorer with 14 points, threw a personal wet blanket over the hopes of 3,200 Arkansas fans by lobbing in all of his points on set shots far out on court.

Jack Hess paced Arkansas with 11 points.

SMU is expected to prove double tough for A&M tonight because the Ponies, who have dropped two games in four starts, realize they must be unbeatable the remainder of the season if they are to remain serious title contenders.

Jobs Open In State Agencies

Chas. S. Gardiner, Director, announced today that the Merit System Council is giving competitive examinations for certain positions with the State Department of Public Welfare and the Texas Employment Commission. There is a very great demand for stenographers in every part of the state. There is a growing call for Field Workers, Interviewers, Clerks and Clerk-Typists. There is a limited need for Farm Placement Interviewers, Labor Representatives, Senior Child Welfare Workers, and also one opening for Test Technician.

Gardiner announced that the examinations for these positions would be given in up to 45 cities over Texas on February 24, 1951. He warned that applications must be sent on or before February 3, 1951.

Gardiner called attention to the advantages of working for the state. Among the special benefits to which he called attention are good salaries, liberal vacation and sick leave, and under the Merit System, permanency of job and promotion based upon quality of work done. Qualifications for these positions range from high school graduation to college graduation.

Only 12 Basic Divorce Causes Counselor Says

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (U.P.)—There are only 12 basic reasons for divorce, a veteran marriage counselor-divorce lawyer said today.

No. 1 Of the home wreckers is a lack of common interest, according to Edward Kaufmann who has handled more than 1,500 divorces and separations in 30 years of legal practice in Europe and the United States.

"I sat down one day and analyzed and tabulated the first 300 cases that I had handled," he said. "I found that there were 12 complaints that covered all of them. Since then I have repeated the project on varying numbers of cases, and each time the results has been the same."

Kaufmann said that lack of common interest accounts for about 65 per cent of all unhappy homes. Sexual incompatibility, which groups under this broad title, causes about half of the divorces and separations resulting from lack of common interest Kaufmann said.

At the base of most sexual incompatibility, the attorney said, was boredom.

"If the marital act becomes routine, if it always occurs in the same surroundings, under the same circumstances," the

Austrian-born specialist who calls himself a "reconciliation lawyer" said, "The marriage may be put in danger of divorce."

Both husband and wife, Kaufmann declared, should strive to vary their sex life and to keep it interesting and thus insure a happy home.

Second to lack of common interest, Kaufmann said, was what he described as "an intellectual inferiority of the wife." This was the fact that most husbands control the family purse-strings too closely and keep their wives dependent upon them for all their wants.

Kaufmann said he always tries to obtain a reconciliation. "When I first started out in Vienna, I was averaging about 10 per cent in preserving the home," he said. "Now my average is about 60 per cent of all the cases."

Kaufmann fled his native Vienna and the Nazis in 1939 and came to the United States. He became an American citizen in 1944. Last year he published a book entitled "You And Your Marriage."

Marine Platoon To Carry Texas Flag To Camp

DALLAS, TEXAS—The North Texas Marine Platoon now being formed by the Marine Recruiting Office here, will carry the Texas flag to camp.

Lt. Col. James Tinsley, of the Marine Barracks, Quantico, Virginia, was asked to loan the Texas flag, carried by the statewide Marine Recruit Platoon enlisted in 1946, by the Dallas recruiters. Colonel Tinsley's reply was brief and to the point, "Sure, mailing it today."

The flag was given to the Colonel, who was Executive Officer of the Recruit Battalion in which the Texans trained, by the Texas Platoon. He has kept it as a memento ever since.

most became a full time job for the platoon, it was stolen twice from the platoon's quarters and once from the Colonel. In each case it was recovered, and will again lead a group of Texans through their first phase of training in the Marine Corps.

Major E. L. Balo, Jr., Officer in charge of the Dallas Marine Recruiting Office stated, "The results for the first ten days of the campaign have been more than gratifying, and the platoon is shaping in to a representative group of Texans: students, farmers, oil men, and cowboys. Over sixty men have applied during this ten day period."

Mrs. Fannie Hall of Carbon was the guest here Monday in the home of Mrs. Nellie Pate and Mrs. Aaron Collins.

To hear Frank Sparks Discuss the "Responsibilities, Obligations, and Duties of a Citizen." Thursday night 7:30 p.m. at American Legion Hall. This program sponsored by American Legion Dulin-Daniel Post No. 70.

Bill of Responsibilities

PREPARED BY THE AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP COMMITTEE, STATE BAR OF TEXAS

We who advocate democracy as the best form of government for an enlightened and progressive people, enjoying as we do the blessings of liberty under the Constitution of the United States, do set forth this Bill of Responsibilities as a guide to all citizens for the preservation of individual freedom and democratic government.

- I. It shall be the duty of every citizen to render undivided allegiance to the Constitution of the United States, to work for its betterment and perpetuation, to respect the sovereignty of the people's government, and to defend the nation against all its enemies whomsoever.
- II. It shall be the duty of every citizen to be familiar with the Constitution of the United States and to be informed as to what rights and liberties are his, and to use these rights in such manner as is consistent with his own welfare and the welfare of his fellow citizens.
- III. It shall be the duty of every citizen to defend with his life the rights and liberties granted to him and to his fellow citizens by the Constitution, to obey the laws of the land and aid in their enforcement, and to oppose vigorously any persons whose intention is to transgress the law or oppress the rights of others.
- IV. It shall be the duty of every citizen to make honest, wise and courageous use of the free and secret ballot at every election; to exercise freedom of thought, speech, and worship; to protect the free dom of the press; to safeguard the right of trial by jury and to render willing jury service when called upon; and to perform all other acts conducive to the perpetuation of the rights set forth in the Constitution.
- V. It shall be the duty of every citizen to protect and sustain the unwritten liberties and rights vested in him by custom and usage and to perpetuate the ideals of the equality and dignity of the individual, upon which the Constitution is founded.
- VI. It shall be the duty of every citizen to be active in the political party of his choice, and to be vigilant of the public officers, to render all possible aid to them, and to serve in public office by ap pointment or election when qualified and when called upon to do so. It shall be his duty to strive for the selection of public officers of ability and upright character; and when holding public office, to serve in such manner as will subordinate private or minority interests to those of the people at large.
- VII. It shall be the duty of every citizen to achieve the highest practicable level of education, and to work for the advancement of education by supporting and improving the public schools and by fostering the desire for education among his fellow citizens.
- VIII. It shall be the duty of every citizen to instruct his children in the principles of freedom and to spread the ideals of democratic government at home and abroad.
- IX. It shall be the duty of every citizen to defend the right to buy and sell, to own land and other property, to engage in commerce, and to work and earn a living wage, as a fundamental guarantee of the freedom and welfare of the nation.
- X. It shall be the duty of every citizen to preserve an attitude of self-reliance, and to use all legitimate means to achieve financial independence and security; to practice thrift and economy in his own affairs and to require the same of local, state and federal government.
