Farm Bureau Aims, Ideals Are Explained By County Secretary

Joe Bob Browning, Gorman, secretary of the Eastland County Farm Bureau, has submitted the following information on the Farm Bureau.

Browning said that many farmers do not know what the Farm Bureau is and what it stands for, and offered the following statement for those who are interested. The Farm Bureau stands for: Fair prices on farm products. The right of an individual to work. Continued support of the National Farm Program to place farmers on a parity with other groups and conserve soil and other natural resources.

The Farm Bureau favors fair prices at the market place instead of direct government payments to farmers, and reduction of unjustified spreads between producers and consumers.

Elimination of overlapping and duplication, and establishing economy, efficiency, and decentralization, in administration of farm programs is another aim of the bureau, which also favors expanded foreign trade and continued market research.

The bureau stands for support of county agents, experiment stations, schools, health work, Land-Grant Colleges, vocational agriculture, soil conservation, rural electrification, Veterans Farm training program and other services to farm people.

More and better farm-to-market roads are advocated by the bureau as is support of 4-H Clubs and Future Farmers of America. Adequate farm credit at a fair rate of interest, equitable freight rates for Texas and the South more widespread private ownership of farm lands, adequate pay for rural teachers to provide adequate educational opportunities for farm children and other policies and actions to make rural life more attractive are other goals of the bureau.

Commission Gives Stand On Hospital

I. C. Heck, city manager, has requested that the following statement be published on behalf of the Eastland City Commission.

"There has been some misunderstanding concerning the City Commission's stand on the hospital question," Heck said. "I hope the following statement clears up the matter."

TO THE CITIZENS OF EASTLAND

This letter is addressed to the citizens of Eastland, in order that each will know what the City Commission think about getting a hospital for Eastland, and what they are willing to do toward making this an accomplished fact.

Therefore, when the six members of the hospital committee met with the City Commission on February 10, 1951, and asked the city to sponsor a hospital for Eastland, their answer was and still is: "The city of Eastland will sponsor a hospital in the city of Eastland, on a limited basis, provided sufficient funds were raised to build and equip a hospital, and that same was put under the management of the city manager."

This was unanimously approved at regular commission meeting of February 17, 1951.

The City Commissioners feel a city cannot go forward without a hospital. We realize it will take a year or two to put same on a paying basis, but from there on it should be able to carry its own financial burden.

The city spent five thousand dollars to close the old disposal plant south of the city, which was a health hazard.

The city is spending seventeen hundred dollars more yearly for the new street lights.

The city is spending approximately five thousand dollars this year on a street graveling program.

The city is purchasing a new fire truck at a cost of ninety-five hundred dollars, to paid one-third cash on delivery, one-third in one year and one-third in two years.

It is costing the city more than four thousand dollars yearly for up-keep and maintenance of the cemetery.

We now feel the number one project for Eastland should be a hospital. We hope Eastland will develop into a hospital center. It will take the help of every citizen in Eastland to build a hospital of which we will all be proud.

Eastland City Commission.

Two Volunteer For Armed Forces

Dennis Garrett, Eastland, and Darrell Boggs, Gordon, have recently volunteered for duty in the Armed Forces, M-Sgt. Frank Lockman, Eastland recruiting officer, has announced.

Garrett volunteered for the Paratroops and Boggs for Air Force duty.

The Texas Farm Bureau Federation was chartered in 1934 and is an independent organization to farmers and ranchers.

It works to protect, promote and secure agriculture. It is federated with the American Farm Bureau Federation. (45 states and territory of Puerto Rico.) It is governed by the membership, through county resolutions, county voting delegates, adopted state resolutions and elected board of directors.

Anyone interested in the welfare of agriculture can become a member of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation. Any farmer whose income was 51 per cent or more from agriculture is eligible to become a state or national officer.

The membership is not liable or assessable for any funds except the annual dues and that is voluntary.

County organizations meet annually before state annual meeting and pass resolutions they want to see enacted, retained, abolished or issues projected.

Each county is allowed one voting delegate for the first 25 members and an additional voting delegate for each 100 members thereafter. The voting at the state annual meeting, through resolutions passed, determine the policies of the state Farm Bureau.

MacArthur Still Left Wondering

TOKYO, March 28 (UP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur will welcome a new United Nations Declaration of policy on Korea, sources close to the supreme UN commander said today.

They said he has been calling for such a statement ever since the Chinese Communists entered the war last November.

U. S. Defense Secretary George C. Marshall's press conference statement yesterday that a general 8th Army advance beyond the 38th Parallel would call for a political decision caused surprise here.

Informants said it appeared to conflict with President Truman's repeated statements that up to MacArthur, who is still operating under UN directives that sent the 8th Army almost to the Manchurian border last year.

HIT THE DIRT—This isn't a baseball term either. Major General Robert Soule, Commanding General of a U. S. Division, while visiting the leader of task force Hawkins near Hijongbu, is pinned down by enemy sniper fire near his helicopter. General Soule is in the back, and 'copter pilot, Capt. Robert Winkler, Planada, Calif., is in foreground. Ed Hoffman, Acme-NEA Staff Photographer, who made this exclusive photo, was also pinned down by the same fire. (NEA Telephoto).

ODESSA GAMBLER GIVES NAME OF NEVADA THUG AS PARTNER

AUSTIN, March 28 (UP)—Gambler Paul Harvey said last night that Benny Binion of Las Vegas was a partner in his casino at Odessa, but Harvey admitted that he pocketed all the profits because "I needed it for the house."

Harvey told a Texas Crime Investigating Committee that the casino was located in his plush home, Binton, he said, was a partner until "the first of the year."

The Nevada gambler was supposed to receive a one-third share of the profits, about $60,000 but Harvey said he kept it for operating expenses. He said Binton called him Monday to ask about the money.

21 Enlistees Sought For Hawaiian Duty

The United States Army is now offering a special assignment in the Hawaiian Islands to 21 qualified men of this area, Major Walter J. Alonis, commanding officer of the US Army and Air Force Recruiting and Induction Main Station, Abilene, has announced.

This assignment will not include persons requiring hearing aids, special size shoes or clothing, or persons who are specialists or scientists. Twelve percent of the quota may be colored.

Men must be enlisted before April 9 to take advantage of the offer. All qualified men will be sent to the Reception Center at Fort Sam Houston, Texas for assignment to Scofield Barracks, Honolulu, Hawaii.

For more information concerning the assignments, anyone interested may contact M-Sgt. Lockman at the US Army & Air Force Recruiting Station, 311 W. Main, Eastland.

Lions View Movie At Tuesday Meet

Members of the Lions Club viewed a movie of Officers Candidate School at their regular meeting Tuesday, held in the Masonic dining hall.

The movie was shown by M-Sgt. Frank Lockman who explained that Officers Candidate training was a 26 week process. The movie portrayed the activities at the training school.

Station Reactivated

KINGSVILLE, March 28 (UP)—Flag-raising ceremonies at 2:45 p.m. Sunday will signal reactivation of the Naval Auxiliary Air Station at Kingsville.

Harvey's testimony came near end of a one-day session by the committee seeking to show a tie-up between gambling in Texas and organized crime syndicates.

Harvey also said that Los Angeles Mobster Mickey Cohen once approached him about "laying-off" bets for Harvey.

Harvey denied making any agreement with Cohen but admitted that Cohen visited him at Odessa last August.

Cohen, who was subpoenaed to appear at yesterday's hearing, failed to show because of what he called financial difficulties.

The Texas Legislators promptly filed a contempt order against Cohen with Travis county district attorney Bob Long who was expected to present it to a grand jury Monday.

Cohen, informed of the contempt citation at his Los Angeles home, said he might show up in Texas by Friday. Members of the crime committee were scheduled to resume their normal house duties today, though, and no definite date was fixed for another meeting.

More Testimony In Murder Trial Given Today

NACOGDOCHES, March 28 (UP)—State witnesses were scheduled to continue testimony today in the "sudden impulse" murder trial of a young Missourian.

The trial of Clifford W. Alamas, 19, got underway yesterday with completion of a jury and a plea of guilty from the defendant.

Almas is charged with shooting William L. Dauphinais, 25, Corpus Christi naval air base sailor, and dragging his body into a roadside ditch near here Feb. 16. Dauphinais had picked up Alamas hitchhiking.

Almas' statement to authorities on the slaying recounting how he got a "funny feeling in my stomach" when he decided to commit the murder—was introduced into testimony.

Under questioning by District Judge H. T. Brown, Alamas said his plea of guilty was voluntary, and he understood conviction could mean a prison sentence or death.

Poe Is Candidate For School Board

Parks Poe has filed as a candidate for membership on the Eastland School Board. Poe is manager of the local Coca Cola Bottling company. He was president of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce last year and is at present a director of the chamber.

Important business is to be discussed at the meeting according to auxiliary officials, and all members were urged to be present.

Mrs. Johnnie Haines won the golf ball at Tuesday's regular ladies' day at the Country Club for having the least number of putts on odd holes.

Testing Due On Reynolds No. 5 Today

Pipe has been set in Bankline's No. 5 C. E. Reynolds and testing was due to begin Wednesday or Thursday.

The well produced from the Duffer lime, a new pay horizon in the Briggs Owens area, after being treated with 2,000 gallons of acid this week. The well kicked off and flowed 44.5 gravity oil into the pits at the rate of about 10 barrels per hour.

Also in the Briggs-Owens area, about five miles northwest of Eastland, the Johnson No. 2 Mize was perforated Wednesday morning and was being prepared for hydraulic treatment. Pipe was set at 3,680 feet.

Savage Brothers were to perforate their No. 2 Perdue Wednesday. No hydraulic was planned for the well. A good show was reported on a drill stem test. The well was drilled to 3,400 feet, through the Lake Sand.

In the same area, the Mize-Dulin No. 2 was drilling at the top of the Caddo Wednesday.

D. D. Feldman was preparing to re-perforate their No. 1 Simpson, south of the Briggs-Owens pool.

LAREDO, March 28 (UP)—Laredo's voters almost unanimously approved a $3,305,000 revenue bond issue for a city-owned water system yesterday. In a special city election, the bond issue carried 1,295 to 11.

Chinc Rear Guards Diehard In Annihilation Waged War

By EARNEST HOBERECHT United Press Staff Correspondent TOKYO, March 28 (UP)—U. S. Forces waged a battle of annihilation against diehard Chinese rear guards north of Seoul today while South Koreans on the east coast drove more than six miles into North Korea.

An 8th Army communique reported that American troops ran into heavy enemy resistance north northeast of Uijongbu in a fighting advance up one of the main highways from Seoul to Pyongyang.

The Americans blasted the Reds from their foxholes and other defenses only a few miles south of the 38th Parallel with massed artillery and tank fire and bayonet charges.

Communist resistance was light or non-existent all along the rest of the muddy 140-mile front across Korea.

It appeared only a matter of hours before U. S. forces on the Central and Western fronts would join the South Koreans in crossing the 38th Parallel—old frontier between South and Communist North Korea.

Five North Korean towns already have been overrun by the South Koreans in their thrust across the Parallel on a broad front running inland from the east coast.

(In Washington, U. S. Defense Secretary George C. Marshall said Gen. Douglas MacArthur has authority to send his troops as far beyond the 38th Parallel as necessary for military security, but added that any general advance there would be a matter for political decision.)

Communist rear guards fought delaying actions only on the Western front atwar; roads running from Seoul to Pyongyang, capitol of North Korea.

However, the battered remnants of Six Corps of 4th Chinese Field Army and three or four corps of the rested 3rd Field Army were believed digging in on a 60-mile front on just north of the 38th Parallel in Central Korea.

B-29 Superfortresses hit enemy troop concentrations just north of the central front and around Haeju in Western Korea last night in a rare night attack.

South Koreans of the capitol division were swarming north through the hills and valleys above the 38th Parallel between the east coast and inland mountains without resistance.

When enemy rear guards pinned down one South Korean column yesterday, a force of destroyers offshore, including the U.S.S. Massey, blasted the Communists.

The advance yesterday overrun Yangyang, five miles up the coast road from the parallel; Karyong, northwest of Yangyang; Chonggok, north of Yangyang; and Sorin, also in the same vicinity, Kaupno, three miles north of the Parallel, was captured by the South Koreans Sunday.

American, Puerto Rican, Belgian, Filipino and South Korean Infantrymen on the opposite side of Korea plodded along muddy roads and across rugged hills north of Seoul to within seven miles of the parallel.

They routed Chinese rear guards and cleared minefields as they advanced. A Chinese counter-attack north of Uijongbu was repulsed without loss of ground early today. Another yesterday afternoon similarly was defeated.

DALLAS COPS SHOOT EX-CON

DALLAS, March 28 (UP)—Two Dallas policemen shot an ex-convict early today to stop a footpace that began when they surprised him trying to gain entry to a drug store.

The thwarted burglar was identified as Melvin Kelsey, 51. He was treated for bullet wounds in the chest, left arm and left leg. None of the wounds was serious, doctors said.

Policemen D. L. Blankenship and J. F. Tuck fired at Kelsey several times after he leaped from the roof of the drug store and ran. While they were chasing Kelsey, the policemen discovered later, another man with him in the burglary attempt escaped.

Five Injured In Omaha Accident

OMAHA (Morris County), Tex. March 28 (UP)—A freight train collision and explosion here yesterday injured five persons, set the depot ablaze and scattered debris over a wide area.

A local freight rumbled into rear of a standing freight at the Omaha depot, causing the moving locomotive to "explode like a bomb." The crash occurred in a heavy rainstorm.

Dan Walker, Omaha bank worker, said the depot area looked like it was bomb hit.

Most seriously hurt was Willie C. Hewitt of Tyler, a brakeman. He and J. W. Wilcox, also of Tyler, an engineer, and L. E. Williams of Tyler, a fireman, comprised crew of the engine which exploded.

Also hurt were R. L. Vickers, conductor on the standing train, and J. M. Falls, a clerk at the depot. All but Falls were hospitalized.

The explosion set off by the crash knocked down power lines in the area and hurled a pair of wheels from one freight car 100 feet through the air. They landed in center of a highway paralleling the tracks.

Both trains belonged to the Cotton Belt Railroad which said they were locals operating out of Mt. Pleasant, Tex. The moving freight was bound for Texarkana, about 40 miles northeast of Omaha.

Former Commie Says U. S. Could Win War Quickly

HOUSTON, March 28 (UP)—Louis Budenz, a former Communist party leader in the United States, says that the war in Korea could be won quickly and relatively easy if this nation would turn "its full might loose."

"If permission were given to bomb Manchuria and blockade the Red China Coast, then the war could be brought to an end," he said.

"The reason this hasn't been done," he said, "is because there are some important people who are pledged to see that this doesn't happen and, secondly, the British pound is red with American blood."

Budenz, who until 1945 when he renounced his Communist party membership, was managing editor of the Daily Worker. He spoke last night at the University of Houston under the auspices of St. Thomas University.

Budenz said there are two illusions in America about Russia and her satellites. One is that Russia is militarily and economically stronger than she really is; and two, that Russia's conspiratorial system here is weaker than it really is.

He said the greatest threat to the U. S. and the greatest aid to Stalin right now is the intelligence and wealthy who lend their efforts to the Communist cause.

Lubbock Whips Springers

LUBBOCK, March 28 (UP)—Lubbock High School's baseball season was off to a perfect start today—a no-hit, no-run game produced by two pitchers.

Lubbock defeated Big Spring, 6 to 0 yesterday, behind the perfect twirling of Dick Oldman and Benny Day.

Oldman worked four innings and struck out 10 batters. Day finished the seven-inning game and fanned eight.

Trying Hard To End Lease

HOUSTON, March 28 (UP)—A $75,000 damage suit was on file in district court yesterday against Quinn Connelley, manager of the Houston Tennis Club. The suit was filed yesterday by club members.

They alleged that Connelley had locked them out of the club and they asked district judge Wilmer B. Hunt, in addition to the $75,000 for a court order allowing them to use the club building.

The petition claimed Connelley is seeking to break an agreement by which the club leases the property. Under the agreement, the suit claimed, the lease has 37 years to run.

A letter written by Connelley last Feb. 15th was cited. The letter said the organization had defaulted and he was terminating the lease as of March 20th.

THE man nearest to Paul Twing looked quick and hard. His thin face was lined and weather-beaten. He wore a Navy pea-jacket. The man behind him was well-dressed, mature, and portly. The heavy black eyebrows behind his rimless glasses contrasted sharply with his sparse gray hair.

The tear May Jenkins thought she had discarded came cascading back.

Paul leaped down the steps and seized the younger man—the one in the pea-jacket—by both arms.

"Jo-Jo!" Paul Twing cried in happy excitement. "Jo-Jo, I thought you were at sea—probably on the other side of the world!"

May's sign of relief was audible. Captain Martin Jaboe grinned at Paul. "No kid, I was supposed to be, but I've been expecting company—and here you are! Come on in. Bring the young lady and the youngster inside."

Paul, May and Judy crowded inside. Captain Jaboe reached up and closed the door. Cross remained on deck.

"So this is little Judy," Captain Jaboe reached down and held her plump cheeks between his two broad hands, then patted her on the head. Next he looked up at May. "And I suppose you are the mysterious lady I've been reading about in the newspapers and hearing about on the radio today."

"May Jenkins," Paul laughed. "May, this is my friend Captain Martin Jaboe."

"Hello, Captain," May smiled at him.

Captain Jaboe smiled back and studied the young woman for a moment. Then he turned and nodded toward the older man, who had watched the greetings in silence, without changing expression.

"I want you folks to meet another friend of mine Mr. Moss." Mr. Moss shook hands all around and said polite things in a deep theatrical voice.

CAPTAIN JABOE hooked his thumbs in his belt and said, "Sit down on the bunks, folks. We have some talking to do."

The sea captain's voice was serious. May had misgivings as she found a seat on the bunk. What would Captain Jaboe do? And who was this mysterious Mr. Moss and how did he fit into the picture?

Paul seated himself on the bunk next to May. Judy took May's hand and May lifted the child up onto her lap.

Paul didn't seem to be afraid. He took a deep breath—as if his whole outlook on life would be better from now on. He looked up at Captain Jaboe.

"How did you know I was coming, Jo-Jo?" Paul asked.

Captain Jaboe laughed. "Easy, I know you, kid. I sailed with you long enough to know how your mind works and I'd have kicked your head in if you hadn't come to me. The FBI had it figured pretty square too. I had to play it cute."

"You sure did, Jo-Jo," Paul agreed. "Now tell us where we're going?"

"We're not going any place."

Paul stood up. The smile had left his face. His hands were clenched. "What do you mean?" he asked quietly.

"Sit down," Captain Jaboe put his hand against Paul's chest and pushed him gently back onto the bunk. "Kid, you three are going to give yourselves up."

"What?" Paul roared the question and was back on his feet. May slid Judy off her lap and stood beside Paul, clutching his arm.

"You can't ask that," May said huskily to Captain Jaboe. "You can't, Captain."

The sea captain swung around to May. "I'm not asking it, I'm darn well insisting on it."

"But why?" Paul demanded incredulously. "We've gotten away from the FBI, the police, everybody. We're free. Why should we give ourselves up now?"

"You fool. Because you have no choice!" Captain Jaboe shook his head in disgust. "Where can you go without papers? Without a passport? Where is there a crew I could master that would keep their traps shut? Who wouldn't catch wise? What could I do with you, but dump you off on some God forsaken coral reef? Is that why you grabbed the kid? Did you take her away from that woman to give her a better life—or did you want to throw her into the sea?"

Paul Twing sank down onto the bunk again. He dropped his head into his hands and groaned.

MAY JENKINS had an urge to take his bowed head in her arms. She knew what Paul was thinking and feeling. He had never thought beyond reaching his old friend Captain Jaboe.

Captain Jaboe had been the goal, the objective. It had seemed to be the solution to Paul's problem. Now the stiff logic of Captain Jaboe's sharp words had slapped the spirit and strength out of Paul.

Paul Twing lowered his hands and looked up at his friend.

"Okay, Jo-Jo," he said in a flat voice. "It's been for nothing. I'll have to send Judy back to that woman."

Crime Foes To Speak In Austin

Two of the nation's top foes of organized crime will speak at the statewide conference of prosecuting attorneys called by Attorney General Price Daniel in Austin March 30-31.

They are Warren Olney III, chief counsel for the California Crime Commission, and Daniel P. Sullivan, operating director of the Miami Florida Crime Commission. Both have had many years of experience in fighting the organized gambling rackets which invaded their states, Daniel said.

Olney served seven years as deputy district attorney, and three years as chief criminal deputy attorney general of California, beginning under Gov. Earl Warren, while he was Attorney General of California.

Sullivan, a former FBI agent in Texas, has directed the Miami Crime Commission in its successful campaign to eliminate race horse bookies, slot machines, and other commercial vice from Miami. He will speak on "The Importance of Citizens' Crime Commission."

Daniel said that he was calling the meeting of the state's 315 prosecuting attorneys to consider pending legislation and means of co-operation with law enforcement officers for the purpose of better enforcement of present laws and "to serve notice to the world that Texas will not allow the entry of gambling racketeers who are now being ran out of other states."

Auto Kills More Than War—

According to statistics just published by the National Council, nearly a million persons have been killed by automobile family since the advent of the auto in 1906 total casualties for all of our seven wars including the auto have been only 845,000. We know of no way to auto slaughter, but we do know that careful driving will and adequate insurance will pay the bills in case of acci-

SHERIFF THROWS LIGHT ON COHEN AND CHICAGO THUGS

HOUSTON, March 28 (UP) — Harris County Sheriff C. V. (Buster) Kern offered testimony linking Cohen to the port city of Houston.

The tall, gangling sheriff related an incident early in January when nine persons, most of them from Chicago, were arrested and held briefly for investigation.

Kern said the group purported to represent a sales promotion firm. However, he said that calls in their behalf were received from Cohens brother at Chicago, as well as from Cohen himself at Santa Monica, Calif.

"These nine," Kern told the committee, "were field men—they went around feeling out the situation."

"Were they connected with Cohen?" Kern was asked.

"Well, he called about them and so did his brother," the sheriff answered.

Advice of Her Mother-In-Law Proves Helpful

Mrs. W. O. Jones

There are a lot of jokes about mothers-in-law; in fact, comedians just can't seem to perform without making some reference to them. But there are many, many wonderful mothers-in-law in this old world who have the best interest of their sons-in-law and daughters-in-law at heart. Mrs. W. O. Jones, 7244 N. Bell St., Chicago, Ill., can certainly agree to that for when Mrs. Jones wasn't feeling well, her mother-in-law recommended HADACOL. And HADACOL seemed to be just what Mrs. Jones needed, and HADACOL may bring you the relief you are seeking if you are weak and run-down due to lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron.

Here is what Mrs. Jones says: "I am a housewife and mother of three children. I had been feeling very run-down, would tire so easily, and just felt listless. My mother-in-law suggested I take HADACOL, as she had heard of it through friends of hers. I just took it for a few days, when I noticed I was feeling stronger and seemed to have more energy. I continued taking HADACOL and it has certainly built up my strength. I am no longer run-down, don't tire nearly as much. I am now on my sixth large bottle of HADACOL, and intend to continue taking it."

HADACOL can help you if you suffer such deficiencies. Ask your druggist for HADACOL today. Only HADACOL gives you that "Wonderful HADACOL feeling."

SOMEBODY'S BUILT A BETTER PLASTIC LUNCH BOX FOR BING

By Elizabeth Toomey
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, March 28 (UP)—
Somebody's built a better lunch box, now that food prices have folks skipping the noon snack.

And the Crosby boys, Everett and Bing, are about ready to put it on the market.

Older brother, Everett, who is Bing's manager and president of the Crosby Enterprises, explained the streamlined plastic lunch box on a business trip here and added that "Bing's Things, Inc.," also has a new pliable metal doll and a razor with a small battery in the handle, capable of generating power for about 300 shaves.

"We're swamped with people who have invented something and want to help in developing it and getting it on the market, but only about one out of every 500 is good," explained husky-voiced Everett, drawing a picture of the lunch box on the white table cloth of a midtown dining spot.

"The thing that makes this lunch box better is that it allows a child to go to school with a really nourishing lunch," he continued.

There are two round plastic containers for hot or cold food, plus a thermos with a new plastic screw-on cap—no cork to get rancid.

The containers will keep hot or cold for ten hours now, he said, but they're still working on them to try for 12 hours. The outside of the rectangular box comes in various shades of plastic.

"Looks like a makeup box in pastel for working girls," said Everett, who was eating a ham sandwich on rye bread as his lunch. "In fact you can remove the compartments and it is a makeup box."

The pliable metal doll, with lead feet so it stays upright no matter how it's bent, will come in a kit equipped with fabric and sewing equipment. "We may even have a clothes designing contest," Crosby said thoughtfully.

Most of the varied Crosby ventures are handled in California, Everett explained, but he "did a lot of selling here," including television films as well as new inventions.

"We've got a new series of 15-minute television programs starring two chimpanzees up for sale now," the non-singing Crosby said enthusiastically. "They play two detectives, and we use other animals for other characters. The words are dubbed in."

Those who catch up on conservation when the commercial comes on the T-V screen should enjoy the new series.

"The chimps give the commercials too," Crosby said. "That's the best part of using them instead of people."
