CHEATS DEATH IN CRASH—Capt. Brice Long, looking over his wrecked plane at Straughn, Ind., was one of five pilots who escaped death when eight F-84 Thunderjet fighter planes crashed in the vicinity of Richmond, Ind. Capt. Long, who crash-landed his plane 17 miles west of Richmond, said he had safely ridden out an electrical storm when "my engine exploded." Air Force and FBI agents are checking for possible sabotage. FORCE RAMS INTO KUMHWA EIGHTH ARMY REPORTS TASK

By Ernest Hoberecht
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, June 11 (UP)—United Nations forces shattered the Communist "iron triangle" in central Korea today with twin drives through Chorwon and Kumhwa in pursuit of fleeing Red armies.

Beaten Chinese Reds streamed north from the mountain redoubt by the thousands toward Pyongyang and Kumsong, both 28 miles above the 38th Parallel.

At the same time, however, other Communist forces began an ominous buildup along the 38th Parallel northwest of Seoul for a possible blow against the western flank of the advancing Allies.

An 8th Army communique reported a tank-infantry task force ramed into Kumhwa, 20 miles north of the Parallel and eastern anchor of the enemy's crumbling "iron triangle," at 12:55 p. m. (10:55 p. m. Sunday EDT).

Five minutes later, the communique said, another tank-led Allied column shoved into Chorwon, 14 miles to west southwest and western anchor of the mountain-rimmed triangular plateau.

Both cities were deserted ruins. High officers said the Reds were falling back on Pyongyang, 12 miles northeast of Chorwon at the apex of the "iron triangle" and Kumsong 12 miles northeast of Kumhwa, for a new stand.

Rear-guard stragglers fired a few bursts of machine-gun and automatic weapons fire at the advancing Allies, but the advance otherwise was unopposed.

The fall of Chorwon and Kumhwa knocked the Communists out of the area.

State-Wide Cry For Funds Now

DALLAS, June 11 (UP)—A possible state-wide appeal for funds to support the USO program in Texas will be discussed here Wednesday by a newly appointed state community chest committee.

Lorin Boswell, President of the Fort Worth Community Chest, is chairman of the group. Members are Fred M. Lange and Lester Swander, executive directors, respectively, of the Dallas and San Antonio chests.

The USO plan to be discussed by the committee would spread the cost of the USO to every county, Lange said in announcing the meeting. This would be justified, he pointed out, since every county has boys going to camps where these USO installations are needed.

Stewards Meet At Church Today

The first meeting of the new Board of Stewards of the First Methodist church will be held at the church at 8 p. m. today.

of the redoubt from which they had launched their ill-fated spring offensive two months ago. It also put the Allies astride a valley running northeast to the east coast port of Wonsan, 80 miles north of the 38th Parallel.

Farther east, the 8th Army communique reported Communist resistance also was dwindling. Advances of 2,000 yards or more were reported north of Hwachon and Yangju.

Only patrol activity was reported on the western front, but an 8th Army spokesman said the Communists had begun a potentially dangerous flanking movement there.

Red reinforcements were spotted moving south toward Kaesong, 35 miles northwest of Seoul and a mile and a half south of the 38th Parallel. UN 8th Army patrols also found Communist forces "sensitive" north of the Imjin river above Seoul.

Collision Kills Four Texans In Neosho, Missouri

NEOSHO, Mo., June 11 (UP)—A fiery three - automobile collision near here yesterday killed four Texans and injured several other persons, one critically.

Trapped in the flaming wreckage of one of the cars were four members of one family. The dead were identified by police as Irvin Thomas, 45; his wife, Johnnie, 45; a son, Bobbie, six, all of Stamford, Tex., and Mrs. Thomas' mother, Mrs. E. J. Colville, 70, of Stephenville. Clorice Thomas, 12, remained in critical condition at a Neosho hospital.

The collision occurred at the junction of two highways. Police said the eastbound Thomas car crashed into a northbound one driven by Raymond Smith, 33, of Wichita, Kan., and occupied by 4 members of his family. Those two automobiles careened into a third vehicle, driven by Bob Ward, 17, of Neosho, and rebounded down the embankment.

Grocer Is Held Without Bond For Murder Of Galveston Man

GALVESTON, June 11 (UP)—A Gilchrist grocery store operator was held without bond today, charged with the murder of a 50-year-old associate of the late Sam Maceo.

Charles Faggard, Sr., who runs the Faggard Grocery Store at Gilchrist, was charged in the fatal shooting of Tony Genna, Genna, a partner in the M&M Music Company which operates juke boxes and other coin machines, was shot Saturday night in front of the grocery.

Faggard's son, Deputy Sheriff Charles Faggard, Jr., witnessed the shooting and arrested his father. The dead man was at one time chief mechanic for the Maceo syndicate in charge of slot machine maintenance.

Damage Heavy In Abilene

ABILENE, June 11 (UP)—Damage was estimated today at $31,000,000 or more in a savage Sunday night thunderstorm which lashed Abilene with winds as high as 120 miles per hour and hailstones of baseball dimension.

About a dozen persons were injured, mostly by flying glass, but none required hospitalization.

The same gigantic thunderstorm, apparently, did heavy damage to Rotan, 45 miles northwest of Abilene, and also struck Coleman and Brown counties, lying southeast of Abilene.

The Senn Grain elevator was flattened and several other business buildings, and at least one apartment house, were heavily damaged by wind and hail at Rotan. Police said only person injured there was Richard Hutchins, age 6, slightly hurt when a puff of wind smashed a trailer into an automobile where he took cover.

In the city of Brownwood, plate glass windows were shattered, the steeple of the Presbyterian Church was torn off, power lines were knocked down in scattered sections of the city, and the frame gymnasium of Daniel Baker College was heavily damaged. A gaping crack was opened across the width of one of the gym walls.

Kiner Will Get Married Soon

NEW YORK, June 11 (UP)—Home-run King Ralph Kiner and Tennis Queen Nancy Chaffee will be married in the fall.

Engagement of the $65,000-a-year Pittsburgh Pirate Star, Baseball's "most eligible" bachelor, to the current No. 1 Glamour Girl of the courts was announced by the couple last night at a party in a New York restaurant.

Kiner said they would be married "when both our seasons are over."

The baseball season ends Oct. 1, while the National Tennis championships end Sept. 3.

Government To Study Beef Deal

CHICAGO, June 11 (UP)—This week may be decisive in determining whether housewives face a shortage of beef due to the government price rollbacks, experts said today.

The American Meat Institute and the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers predicted that widespread shortages would appear in butcher shops beginning today.

But a United Press survey in 34 cities this weekend indicated that housewives might not care whether or not there was beef to be had.

The survey showed few instances of "panic" buying to stock up on beef and many butchers said housewives weren't buying beef anyway because of the high price compared with other types of meat.

At Washington, a meat industry spokesman—Joe "Judge" Montague, representing the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Producers Association—virtually admitted defeat in the fight against controls. He said he had no hope for cancelling or modifying the rollback orders.

The American Meat Institute, which represents meat packers, said 95 leading packing firms dressed 59 per cent less beef last week than they did a year ago.

The Institute warned that retail shortages would become "severe" unless farmers and feeders began shipping more cattle to market soon at prices packers consider they can afford to pay under the rollbacks.

New York retailers indicated, however, that they weren't worried more about a shortage of customers.

A spokesman for the New York Fresh Meat Dealers Association reported "stiff consumer resistance" at meat counters.

He said housewives purchased cheap cuts while shopping Saturday, leaving butchers with expensive cuts to store for the week end.

Police Making Investigation

HOUSTON, June 11 (UP)—Police today were investigating the death of a 44-year-old Buffalo, N. Y. seaman who died from a fractured skull after lying on a city jail cell floor most of Saturday night.

The seaman was identified as Joseph Van Wynsberghe. An autopsy showed that he had a skull fracture at the back of his head.

The seaman was found on the city jail floor by Jailers H. H. Thornton and J. F. Scroggins. Another prisoner told them Wynsberghe had fallen from his bunk to the floor about midnight Saturday and had stayed in the same position the rest of the night.

The seaman was arrested outside a bar and charged with being drunk. Police said an investigation had disclosed that there had been some kind of disturbance at the bar in which the seaman was involved.

Radio Station Still On Air

ATLANTA, June 11 (UP)—Atlanta Radio Station KALT broadcast as usual today, its tower intact. But it might not have been so.

A light airplane, enroute from Houston to Texarkana, crashed in a heavy rainstorm near here yesterday, narrowly missing KALT's tower as the craft fell.

Milton Nelson, 54 Texarkana, was the pilot. He was not seriously hurt and crawled out of the wreckage.

One KALT Radio program was temporarily disrupted. The station dispatched half of its gospel quartet, standing by to go on the air, to the pilot's aid. The quartet was replaced by transcribed music.

Five Men Believed To Be Dead

STRINGTON, Okla., June 11 (UP)—Five men were believed today to have died in a twin-engine plane, found burned and crumpled against a hillside in rugged Southeast Oklahoma.

Four bodies were recovered and a fifth was believed destroyed inside the fire-twisted aircraft.

Patrol trooper Vernon Rogers, who accompanied a rescue party on its four-mile trek across heavily wooded and water-logged countryside, said all bodies were too badly burned to be identified.

Four of the victims were believed to be Army enlisted men from Fort Hood, Texas.

Maj. C. C. Holsey, Chief of the Oklahoma Civil Air Patrol, said the plane was a Cessna missing since June 2 on a charter flight to Dubuque, Ia., with five men aboard. He said the pilot was reported to be Douglas Wagner, Dallas.

Names of the military personnel were withheld pending notification of next of kin. However, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Denlinger, Sr., Maquoketa, Ia., and Mr. and Mrs. John Kirk, Otter Creek, Ia., expressed belief their sons, Dale Denlinger, Jr., 23, and Bertrand Kirk, 22, were aboard the plane. The parents said the four servicemen were on 72-hour passes from Fort Hood.

A Civil Air Patrol pilot, participating in a four-state search for the plane, discovered the wreckage yesterday while searching the missing craft's flight route. The plane last had been seen when it stopped at Durant, Okla.

No Ranch Now For Ind. Folk

DUMAS, Tex., June 11 (UP)—A Noblesville, Ind., family's plan to own a Texas ranch ended yesterday when Garth Scott, 42, died of second and third degree burns suffered in an explosion.

Scott and his son, Don, 16, were here to inspect the Wiseman Ranch, 16 miles of Dumas, and the father was burned when he attempted to light a gas refrigerator Saturday at the ranch house. The son was shaken by the explosion of the gas, but was not seriously hurt.

The gas exploded less than an hour after the Scotts had arrived at the ranch which they intended to buy.

Scott had telephone his wife, Lucille, to fly to Dumas and meet him. She is unaware that her husband died and will arrive today.

He died at Moore County Hospital about 8 a. m. Sunday.

Rudolph Midleton Places In Rodeo

Rudolph Midleton of Eastland tied for third place in the calf roping event at the eighth annual Stephens County Rodeo at Breckenridge, which closed Saturday night.

John E. Burrus of Jonesboro won the second round calf roping in 9.4 seconds, a local record.

Tornado Tares Up Power Lines

A small tornado tore up telephone and power lines near Alexandria, Louisiana, yesterday while a wind and hail storm caused $1,000,000 damage at Abilene, Texas and an earthquake started New England residents.

The Louisiana twister caused no injuries.

It dipped to earth from a "huge yellow cloud," ripped up telephone poles in the north section of nearby Marksville, La., then plowed through the southern edge of Alexandria where it blew signs off buildings, denuded trees of their leaves, and knocked down a transformer.

Hailstones the size of baseballs pelted Abilene during a thunderstorm that struck the city with winds clocked in gusts of 120 miles an hour.

A dozen or more persons were injured during the blow but none seriously enough to require hospitalization.

The Abilene Weather Bureau said one blast of wind blew steady for 30 seconds at 109 miles an hour and another for five minutes at 75 mph.

Insurance experts said damage probably would exceed their early estimates of $1,000,000.

The earthquake in New England was the strongest recorded since Harvard Seismological Station opened in 1933.

It occurred in two phases yesterday, the first at 1:20:54 p. m. EDT and the second at 1:21:06 p. m.

Seismologists said it was centered about 15 miles off the coast of Rhode Island and nine miles beneath the ocean floor. The Rev. John F. Devane, assistant seismologist at Weston (Mass.) College, described it as "fairly strong."

He said it was magnitude four earth-VV quake, similar to smaller tremors experienced in California and Japan.

Witnesses Will Be Called Today

BROWNWOOD, Tex., June 11 (UP)—Some 21 state witnesses were called today to testify in the murder trial of Marvin Eugene Johnson, 21-year-old Lamont, Calif., hill-billy singer, who is accused in the shooting death of a Dallas policeman.

The case is being tried in Brownwood's 35th District Court on a change of venue from Dallas. Some 200 prospective jurors have been called for questioning.

Dallas County District Attorney Henry Wade, who will lead the prosecution, said the state's chief witnesses in the trial would be Maxfield (Bill) Pomeroy, one of the four accused in the death of officer Johnny Sides, 22, and the wounding of Harold Dawson, Sides' partner.

Pomeroy, 19, testified in a previous murder trial in a Dallas Criminal District Court in which a jury gave "uncle" Robert Johnson, 33, the death penalty for the slaying.

Unofficial Observers See Loss At Quarter Million Or Greater

Eastland was counting the damage and cleaning up Monday morning in the wake of a vicious hailstorm which slashed through the city late Saturday causing damage to homes, churches, schools, gardens, autos and businesses estimated by unofficial appraisers at a quarter of a million dollars or more.

Powered by high winds, the deluge of hailstones swept down upon the city at about 7 p. m. Saturday smashing and slashing at every available object for about 30 minutes, leaving icy pellets ranging from marble to baseball size piled up like snowdrifts against buildings and in gutters.

The Church of Christ, First Methodist, First Baptist and Christian churches suffered heavy damage to stained glass windows, which may be difficult to replace.

Trees and shrubbery were stripped of limbs, leaves and fruit. Gardens were beaten into the ground, and crops which were up south of the city were believed to be almost totally destroyed.

The bank building and the court house had numerous windows on the south side pounded out, and blinds in some windows were ripped into pieces.

Only a few windows were remaining in Poe Floral's greenhouse where damage was believed to be over $600.

Scores of window panes in school buildings were smashed. Roofs to homes underwent a heavy pounding and leaks came to light with Sunday night's rain of .62 of an inch. A number of homes also had window panes destroyed and paint scarred on the south and west sides.

Automobiles which were exposed to the storm turned up with numerous dents and some had cracked or broken windshields.

Rainfall accompanying the storm totaled .60 of an inch making an overall total for the week-end of 1.22 inches.

Hail damage north of the city was slight, only small pellets falling in the vicinity of the golf course. The worst of the storm extended southward from the city to near Carbon and faded out as it moved eastward.

Olden reported light hail damage as did Ranger, but the force of the storm there was not of the intensity as in Eastland.

Rev. J. M. Bailey

Rev. Bailey Reappointed To Eastland

Rev. J. Morris Bailey was reappointed to the First Methodist Church, Eastland, for his third year, Bishop William C. Martin announced at the final meeting of the Central Texas Methodist Conference Sunday in Waco.

The church had requested the return of Rev. Bailey for the third year.

Changes in pastors were made at Carbon, De Leon, the Wesley Church in Cisco, Olden - Bullock, Seranton, Putnam - Cottonwood, Claiborne, Breckenridge circuit, Burkett circuit, and Caddo.

Rev. Robert Lindsey of the Olden - Bullock church was transferred to Burkett and Rev. W. M. Slatton comes to Olden from Cottonwood.

Rev. Eugene Crueger comes to Carbon with Rev. Lively Brown going to Hutto of the Georgetown district.

Rev. W. L. Connell goes to the Desdemona - Flatwood church from Clairette and Rev. J. W. Tickner goes to the Corsicana district.

Rev. R. A. Pape moves to the Seranton circuit and Rev. S. R. Grace goes to Caddo. Rev. L. T. Welch goes to the Clairette circuit.

Rev. A. W. Franklin of DeLeon moves to the Trinity Church, Waco and Rev. S. A. Baker comes to DeLeon from the Waco church.

MacArthur May Lash Policy

WASHINGTON, June 11 (UP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur is reported to be preparing another assault on administration Far Eastern policy.

Zero hour is believed to be fixed during this week's tour of Texas as where MacArthur has scheduled five speeches in four days. Thereafter the General is considering a schedule of one speech a month until the dispute about Far East policy is clarified more to his satisfaction.

That would be the nature of an all-out campaign. If the General's box office draw is maintained such a program should lead to some political fireworks. Whether a series of speeches will be booked probably depends somewhat on the welcome Texas gives MacArthur.

The word in Washington is that MacArthur will make a documented reply in Texas to Defense Secretary George C. Marshall, the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Beyond that it is reported that the General has been considerably aggravated by the trend of some testimony before the Senate committee which is investigating his dismissal and President Truman's policies in the Far East.

His sharp telegram last week to Sen. William F. Knowland, R., Calif., read like the expression of a man who had his dander up. In challenge to material given the Senate investigators by Acheson, MacArthur snapped that any intimation he had favored forcing Chinese Nationalists and Communists into a political coalition was a "prevarication."

Prevarication is not quite so bad as lying. Webster says it is "to deviate from the truth."

MacArthur cannot appear in Texas other than as an enemy of the administration, whatever he may say. If the General is angry, as reported, his attack is likely to have political punch in a state where the balance between pro and anti-Truman Democrats is very narrow. The pro-Truman candidate for the Senate in 1950 was Lyndon B. Johnson, a member of the Texas delegation to the House of Representatives.

Out of 1,000,000 votes cast, Johnson won by a margin of only 87. The narrowness of his victory and some of the circumstances attending it have hotted up political feeling between Mr. Truman's friends and foes. The administration will keep a careful eye on Texas while MacArthur is there.

Senator Russell's Private Life Helps to Explain His Career

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The junior gentleman from Georgia, Chairman Richard Brevard Russell of the Senate Armed Services Committee, is a bachelor. That explains a lot about his career.

Though he is a most eligible catch for any gal or for any hostess, Senator Russell shuns the Washington social racket like the plague. When he first came to Washington, he considered many of the invitations he got something like command performances. He felt he had to go.

But one night at a party he got into an interesting discussion with a British army colonel. Everybody seemed to be sticking around, so Senator Russell stayed too. Till darn near one o'clock. As he was about to leave, he heard one old dowager say, "Well! Now that the ranking guest is leaving, I guess it's safe for the rest of us to go home."

That was the end of the Russell social career. Senator Russell now lives in Washington with one of his married sisters and her husband, Col. J. K. Stacy, an airline official. But until he moved in with the Stacys, Senator Russell kept a bachelor apartment in the Mayflower hotel for many years.

He did some of his own cooking, too. Scrambled eggs and country ham—with grits—is his favorite dish. But sometimes when Louisiana's Sen. Allen J. Ellender comes up to see him, they cook up quite elaborate meals. Senator Ellender fancies himself as something of a southern chef.

Dick Russell was the oldest of 12 children. He has seven brothers and four sisters, all living and all married. Their mother, now 63, still lives at the family home and farm just outside of Winder, Ga., a little town about 40 miles northeast of Atlanta. The senator makes his home with his mother when he's not in Washington.

A grand old lady of the old South, she has a mother's natural leanings for her first-born. And it's generally understood among his friends that Senator Russell certainly won't marry while his mother is still alive, and maybe not even after that.

The senator's father, now dead, was a former Chief Justice of the Georgia Supreme Court. The Russell family, early Scotch-Irish settlers in Georgia, had a wool mill and an iron mill near Marietta before the war. They were destroyed by Sherman's march. None of the Russell men was of age for service in the Confederate army. But Mrs. Russell had a brother killed in the war.

Of the senator's seven brothers, one is a Federal court judge, one a farmer, one an army lieutenant colonel, one a preacher, one a businessman, one a school teacher and one a physician. When they all get together with their children at the Winder place for family reunions, it makes a lot of people to feed and photograph.

Dick Russell went to school near Winder and got his law degree from State University in 1918. He served 123 days in a naval training unit on the campus at Athens in World War I.

He was county attorney at 20 and elected to the state legislature when he was 21. He was speaker of the House for two terms and then ran for governor. When elected, at 32, he was Georgia's youngest governor. He served only three years of a four-year term because, as governor, he backed a bill to end lame-duck terms of office. Then he ran for the Senate and was elected, and thrice re-elected. His present term expires in 1954 and he now intends to run again.

When he first came to Washington, Senator Russell insisted that he be given places on Appropriations and Naval Affairs committees. He said he wanted those or nothing. That was pretty brash talk for a freshman senator. But it happened to come at the time when Huey Long had resigned his committee appointments in protest. Rather than face another revolt, the leadership gave in and Senator Russell got what he wanted. He's been getting it fairly regularly ever since.

Man Is Drowned In Alvin Bayou

ALVIN, June 11 (UP)—Ernest B. Dickerson, Jr., 28, was drowned yesterday when he stepped into deep water at the mouth of Chocolate Bayou.

A fishing companion, Roy Payne, said Dickerson tried to wade across the bayou when he stepped in the hole and was pulled down by his clothes and heavy boots. The body was recovered.

Outfielder Is Killed By Ball

DOTHAN, ALA., June 12 (UP)—Otis Johnson, 24, Dothan outfielder, died yesterday of head injuries received when he was "beamed" nine days ago in an Alabam-Florida League game with Headland, Ala.

Johnson, whose skull was fractured by a ball pitched by left-handed Jack Clifton, became the first fatality in organized baseball since 1947 when James Davis was killed in a similar manner in the Longhorn League of Texas.

Wedemeyer Is Called Today

WASHINGTON, June 11 (UP)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer was called before the Senate MacArthur committee today as Republicans demanded that top Naval officers such as Admiral William F. (Bull) Halsey also be questioned.

Wedemeyer, author of the controversial 1947 report on China and Korea, was ready (at 10 a.m. EDT) for a review of his policy recommendations which some Senators contended were "buried" in official files.

Wedemeyer also faced questions as to his views of Gen. George C. Marshall's 1946 efforts to bring the Chinese Nationalists and Communists together. Gen. Douglas MacArthur contends that step was "one of the greatest blunders" in American diplomatic history and he denied that he ever favored such a Nationalist-Communist coalition.

The GOP move to call the Admirals arose in connection with a proposal by Sen. Lester C. Hunt, D., Wyo., to end the inquiry, now in its sixth week, on or before June 30. The Hunt move may be voted upon later today.

Sen. Styles Bridges, R., N. H., said that GOP Senators will insist before any quitting plans are made on an "iron-clad" agreement to call Halsey, Pacific war hero, and Admirals Louis E. Denfield, Arthur W. Radford and Oscar C. Badger.

Republicans have reason to believe that the blunt-spoken Halsey is ready to rally to MacArthur's defense. Radford and Badger, they said, have vast "first hand" knowledge of Formosa and other Pacific problems, while Denfield—like MacArthur—was "busted" from his job in an earlier policy squabble with President Truman.

"We think this committee, the Congress and the nation has a right to the first hand knowledge of Pacific problems which these men can give," Bridges said.

Behind the GOP effort is a determination to crack a solid front of military testimony received by the committee thus far. The nation's service chiefs went down the line in backing President Truman's "limited war" policies in Korea and his dismissal of MacArthur.

Republicans admit privately that the military testimony has not been advantageous from their viewpoint.

BEEF ON THE CUFF—Butcher Edward F. Butler of Syracuse, N. Y., left, offers easy terms to buyers of his high-priced steaks. He's explaining the deal to Mrs. Leon Prue, a customer. What it really adds up to is a stunt to emphasize the high cost of beef.

Squabble May Be Settled

PHILADELPHIA, June 11 (UP)—The big football television squabble between the University of Pennsylvania and the National Collegiate Athletic Association may be settled by the attorney general of the United States. The suggestion to put the whole matter up to attorney general J. Howard McGrath was made yesterday by Penn's athletic director, Francis Murray, in a telegram to NCAA president Hugh C. The NCAA has suspended Penn Willett said he would make no comment on the proposal until he discussed it with other NCAA officers and the NCAA's legal counsel, but he promised a statement sometime today.

The NCAA has suspended Penn from good standing because Penn announced last week that it would go ahead with plans to televise its football games next season in defiance of a limited television plan which had been adopted by the NCAA. Penn appealed for hearing on the suspension but was turned down by Willett on the grounds that the subject had been thoroughly reviewed at the NCAA convention in Dallas in January.

In making his new move, Murray said in the telegram to Willett that he was willing to let the attorney general decide whether the NCAA's limited ban on television violated the Sherman Antitrust Laws and the NCAA constitution.

Manpower Waste Is Charged

WASHINGTON, June 11 (UP)—The Defense Department smarted but had no answer today to the Senate Preparedness Committee's charge that the equivalent of three to five divisions of combat-qualified men are doing "chair duty."

In a report on an on-the-spot survey of manpower in 16 Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps Training Camps, the committee said that baseball players and other athletes and civilians rejected in the draft should be called up for limited service to free the "arm chair" corps for combat.

Wasted manpower also was hit by Sen. Robert A. Taft R., O., and Sen. Mike Monroney, D., Okla. Taft said a leading general had told him "we could get 25 per cent more divisions out of our land Army than we are proposing to get." Monroney agreed with Taft "if we get the orderlies and men in the PV's and so on."

The Senate Committee, headed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, D., Tex., reported that "sitting at desks, working in kitchens, carrying messages, driving automobiles, operating motion picture machines, running PX's and doing similar jobs are nearly enough men to fill our commitment (six divisions) in Europe."

Yanks Could Leave Field

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO, June 11 (UP) — Casey Stengel, who as a New York Giants outfielder once tipped his cap to permit a bird to fly from his hairy pate, said today he'd haul his New York Yankees off the field someday unless the fans stop the "carnival."

Stengel was incensed particularly by innumerable firecrackers and bales of torn paper thrown onto the field at Comiskey Park by White Sox fans during the four-game New York-Chicago series, won by the Yanks three games to one to cut the Sox' league lead to 2 1-2 games.

But he also referred to an incident at Cleveland in which a fan handed pitcher Eddie Lopat a black cat to break the "Jinx" the burly southpaw had held on the Indians.

"Something's got to be done to stop this carnival they're making out of the game," Stengel said. "Yesterday somebody threw a firecracker right behind my 19-year-old Kid Right Fielder las is the guest here in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Earl Stephens and Mr. Stephens.

(Mickey Mantle) just before he had to catch a ball. "That's not baseball; that's carnival, and they've done it all the time we were here. If it doesn't stop, one of these games, I'm going to pull my team off the field."

The crowd, 53,940 Friday and 52,054 yesterday, gave the Yanks no breaks during the series. The games were stopped at times Sunday to permit groundkeepers to pick up paper which littered the outfield. But the firecrackers were the big annoyance to Stengel, and they were thrown frequently behind right fielder Mantle.

"Why, he jumped every time one of them landed," Stengel said.

"And Saturday somebody threw something that looked like a ball, wound with string, behind (Jackie) Jensen out there in center field."

"I'm afraid of somebody getting hurt," he said. "If somebody threw a firecracker and it exploded right in front of some player's eyes, why, he might be blinded."

Baseball May Get MacArthur

BOSTON, June 11 (UP) — The Boston Globe said today that Gen. Douglas MacArthur may succeed A. B. Chandler as Commissioner of Baseball.

The newspaper quoted Boston Braves Owner Lou Perini, a member of the four-man committee seeking a new commissioner, as saying of MacArthur "he's my man."

The Globe story said: "The four-man committee of Major League Club Owners has contacted Gen. MacArthur and is trying to persuade him to take the $65,000-a-year position...."

"It is believed MacArthur has neither turned down the offer nor has decided to accept it—he may be waiting for Chandler to step out before making his decision."
