Q. I'm in the Army again and I have a term NSLI policy. I understand that I may apply for a waiver of my entire premium. Is that right?

A. That is permitted under the new insurance law enacted by the Congress earlier this year. See your Insurance Officer for full details.

Q. I am taking a course under the GI Bill for which I now find have no aptitude at all. Can I still change my course and thus use up the remaining two years of my GI Bill entitlement?

A. You may change your course if you can prove to VA that the course to which you desire to change is more in keeping with your aptitudes, previous education, training, or other pertinent factors. You should apply to the VA office having your records.

Q. Three years ago I got a GI business loan which I repaid. Now I want to buy a home. Am I still entitled to a GI home loan?

A. Yes you are. The VA office that guaranteed your business loan will be glad to tell you how much of a guarantee you may receive from VA for a GI home loan.

Q. I never did apply for my first NSLI dividend. Do I still have time to apply?

A. Yes. Write to the VA office that has your insurance records, giving your full name and address, your insurance policy number, and your military serial number.

Bank Deposits Here Jump To All Time High

At this time the Eastland National Bank has on deposit $3,484,713.00. A year ago the amount was $2,675,330.00. One year ago loans totaled $834,008.00, while at this time the amount is only $701,960.00. Deposits now are at an all time high, while loans are considerably smaller than they were a year ago.

RAINFALL HERE 1.85; MUCH HEAVIER IN OTHER SECTIONS

Rainfall in Eastland during the past 24-hours has averaged 1.85 inches and if the drouth has not been broken it has been seriously crippled. The Telegram has been unable to get reports from points in the South, though it is not thought the rain there was as heavy as in the city. East and West of Eastland heavier rains were reported. Cisco got approximately three inches, while the precipitation in Ranger was more than three inches accompanied by high wind. North of town the rain was heavy.

Considerable hail fell here, but it was small, and it is not thought any serious damage was done. W. C. Hammond brought in a sample early today—some 12 hours after the storm. The hail was

Rent Controls On In Three Texas Counties

TEMPLE, Oct. 23 (UP)—Rent controls became effective in Bell, Coryell and part of Williamson County today.

Executives of the Office of Rent Stabilization said the clamp-on was made because of the proximity of Fort Hood and Gray Air Force Base. According to the order, rents may not exceed those charged on July 1, 1950.

Named as an advisory board to help administer the controls were: Bill Elkins of Killeen, State Commander of the American Legion, representing landlords; J. H. Arnold of Killeen, representing tenants; and Ace Alsop, Jr., of Temple, Roy Sanderford of Belton and Earl D. Reed of Rogers all to represent the public.

County Turkey Crop Is Large And Profitable

The more we see of this county the more we are convinced that farmers and poultrymen, generally, are neglecting one big crop—the turkey crop.

Of course there are many thousands of these birds scattered over the county at this time, but there should be many tens of thousands, if we are correct.

Monday, in company with W. D. Spain, we visited two turkey farms; both of them very near the city. We first stopped at the H. R. Casey home, some eight miles Southwest of town. At this time he is just finishing out 455 baby beef type Bronze turkeys, and they are fine birds. Quite a few of his Toms are nearing the 30-pound class, and by the 10th of November he could easily have a hundred of this size and type.

The second group was found at the S. E. Carter farm, some two or three miles northwest of the Casey farm. The Carters also grow the Bronze turkey. At this time they are feeding out about 400 birds, and they will be ready for market in about 15 days. With present market prices both of the growers will have raised a profitable crop.

The turkey is a peculiar bird and demands special attention, though with proper feed and care even a novice might be successful. Soil and climatic conditions here are very favorable for the successful breeding of the bird.

And the old idea that it takes a fortune to start in the turkey business has been exploded. Any farmer with a reputation for paying his debts, and who can buy his poulters, may grow turkeys on either a large or small scale, said Mr. Spain of Spain Feed Co. Feed may be financed so that no money will be required until the birds are sold.

There are some very large scale turkey growers in Eastland county and the 1951 crop will bring many thousands of dollars into the county.

Buddy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Aaron of Eastland.

Insulation Is Subject Used At Rotary Club

Ned Whittington of Waco and Bob Williamson, of Wichita Falls, both connected with U. S. Gypsum Co., had charge of the Rotary program at the regular weekly luncheon Monday.

Mr. Whittington made a short talk in which he gave his hearers a brief review of the Gypsum industry. There are four major companies operating in the United States of which the U. S. Gypsum Co. is the largest. The nearest plant to Eastland will be found at Sweetwater, where most of the sheet rock used in the Southwest is manufactured.

Monday's program was largely confined to insulation, of which rock wool leads all others. A 32-minute film was shown and "insulation" since pre-historic days was depicted on the screen. The world has always felt a need for insulation—something to keep out the heat or the cold. Many attempts have been made, during the ages, to find something that would make this possible. Aborigines in tropical areas learned that mud and straw offered protection against heat. They didn't know why, but they knew it offered a degree of protection. The Eskimo knew that snow houses would keep them warm, but he didn't know why.

Science came along with various experiments, and discovered that it was dead air pockets that did the work. Straw and mud worked wonders, but the straw would burn and the mud would fade away. The world needed something with dead air cells that would be safe and durable. In rock wool this was found. Water doesn't harm it in the least, and it is fire proof. So when insulation is mentioned today, it is quite natural that our minds go immediately to rock wool.

It rock wool that keeps your refrigerator cool, and it's rock wool that keeps your house warm in the winter.

Eastland County Gets Wildcat

Three States Oil Co., of Ardmore, Okla., No. 1 Thomas Howard is to be drilled as a wildcat 10 miles southeast of Eastland in Eastland County.

Slated for 1,990 feet with cable tools, it will be 450 feet from the north and 850 feet from the east lines of Thomas Howell Survey 3.

Charles Wampler, Longview, No. 1 Bernie McCrea has been spotted as a Cisco townsite location.

Drillsite is 166.3 feet from the north and 190 feet from the west lines of Subdivision 1, City Block 134, No. 1 McCrea is contracted for 3,700 feet with rotary.

E. J. Walter No. 1 O. B. Jones, S. N. Mathis Survey, Eastland County wildcat 12 miles east of Eastland, has been completed with a daily potential of 10.89 barrels of 34 gravity oil and 33 1-3 percent water on pump from open hole at 1,139-50 feet.

Bert Fields No. 1 H. C. Pelfrey, Section 61, Block 4, H&TC Survey, wildcat six miles east of Cisco, has been abandoned at 3,674 feet.

Farmers Will Harvest Crop Scrap Metal

Farmers, always on the vital job of producing food for our fighting men, and civilians, as well, will begin harvesting a new crop this week. This time it will be a crop of scrap metal—old refrigerators, automobiles, and smaller items, and with present prices for "scrap" they may expect it to be rather profitable.

At the request of NPA, more than 3,000 Department of Agriculture state and county mobilization committees are organizing local scrap groups to help move farm scrap to the mills. Additional sub-committees are being organized to reach farmers individually at the township level.

Mr. Tutt emphasized that only scrap is wanted now, and that the campaign is not a farm-to-farm drive for tin cans. It is pointed toward recovering such heavy items as broken and worn-out machinery, plows, harrows and old horse drawn equipment; also old mill and water towers, broken tools, anvils and sweeps.

"There is no longer a scrap shortage," Mr. Tutt emphasized. "The situation has become an emergency."

Pee-Wee Teams Will Clash In Milk Bowl Game

One of the newest and most unique of the multitudinous bowl games will be staged in Marlin December 8th, when Pee-Wee teams clash in the National "Milk Bowl Game" in Marlin.

These little guys proved they could furnish gridiron thrill too. Last year the Milk Bowl was played at Waco in Baylor's new stadium with the football mites of New Orleans and Mexia. Marlin is planning to have a collection of celebrities on hand for the bowl.

The pee-wee teams are bonafide football squads, restricted to 14 years of age or under, weighing not more than 100. The game will be a nonprofit affair.

Joe Novich general chairman of the affair is requesting entries to the Milk Bowl.

Japanese Visit Houston Fishery

Egyptian Premier Call Britain An Enemy On Return To Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 23 (UP)—Police fired over the heads of demonstrating students and hurled tear gas bombs today to disperse an anti-British parade through Cairo streets.

The fusillade, followed by the gas bombs, scattered student demonstrators from three secondary schools as they converged on the campus of King Fuad I University.

Police acted under the government's state of emergency orders to prevent violence that might endanger Egypt's still undisclosed "action" program to expel increasing forces from the Suez Canal Zone.

Earlier, heavy police cordons ringed the American and British embassies to block incidents there. A senior Cairo police officer said his forces opened fire when students converted anti-British demonstrations into an organized parade.

Meantime, British authorities slashed all regular train traffic to and from the tense canal area after Egypt refused to supply trains for the movement of British troop reinforcements there. A British military spokesman said the cut will remain "until further notice."

The only trains to and from the Canal Zone were those carrying supplies for the Egyptian Army and food for civilians.

Premier Mustapha El Nahas Pasha announced last night that his government will not "remain idle in the face of criminal acts committed by the enemy."

Today, former Egyptian Army chief of staff Aziz Al Misri Pasha, one of Britain's bitterest foes in the Middle East, revealed he may head a nationwide underground movement against the British.

Al Misri said he has received invitations from "several political parties" to launch the underground campaign. He said a meeting will be called shortly to discuss formation of the resistance group under his leadership.

(The British-operated Near East Arab Broadcasting Company described Al Misri as a former pro-Nazi interne. It said a large gathering of Egyptian youths of all political opinions nominated him as their underground leader.)

The Egyptian premier addressed cheering crowds at the railroad station upon his return to Cairo from Alexandria. Referring to last week's Canal Zone clashes with British troops, he said: "This enemy has lost his head and is laboring under a sweeping fit of fright—we are in the process of bringing him to account."

Nahas did not reveal his government's plan of action. He reiterated appeals for public calm.

Check Sent To Pay MacArthur Bills In Texas

HOUSTON, Oct. 23 (UP) — Millionaire Glenn McCarthy had a check for $5,010.55, cash totaling $1.93 and six cans of black-eyed peas today to apply toward the cost of General Douglas MacArthur's Texas visit.

The Houston oilman, who protested last week about being "stuck" with the check for the general's junket, was happy to receive the cash and the canned goods. But he refused to comment on the $5,000 check mailed to him by a fellow oil man, Sam E. Wilson of Corpus Christi.

Previously, McCarthy had declined an offer by Hugh Roy Cullen, another Houston millionaire, to pay all or any part of the MacArthur bill.

The $1.93 in hard money came from an auction at Athens, Tex. Duncan Robertson, a professional auctioneer, inflated the price of a can of beans to the high figure and sold it to L. A. Payne, an Athens businessman. Payne sent both money and peas to the McCarthy-MacArthur fund.

Houston's city council has voted to pay $2,500 of the $8,510.55 bill, but Dallas and Fort Worth have been vague about their intentions in the matter, claiming it might be illegal to use tax money for such a purpose.

NO SURVIVORS BY WILL HENRY

Copyright 1950 by Will Henry. Used by arrangement with the publishers, Random House, Inc.

THE STORY: John Clayton, who has "gone Indian" after disillusionment with the white man's policy while he was a scout, has fallen in love with North Star, an Indian holy woman. However, while he and some braves were carrying on a war with whiskey runners, he learns that a Sioux traitor named Mouse has revealed the plan to one of the runners named Slatemeyer who has gone to kidnap Star in revenge.

XVI
ALL that night we drove through a high plains blizzard. By dawn the ponies and their riders were caked inches deep with frozen snow. Gulping pemmican as we rode, we pushed on, crossing the Missouri above Fort Sully, following the Teton River across the Bad Lands, reaching its headwaters two night later. Striking the Cheyenne the next day we got clearing weather, sundown raising the jutting headlands of the Gate of the Buffalo far ahead.

Here we parted company, Yellow Bird and the eight braves riding west for the lodges of Crazy Horse.

Two days later I arrived under the broad hulk of the Gate of the Buffalo.

Scattered within eight feet of me were the bodies of several Indians, all stripped and scalped. The body at my feet had run a bull elk with me the month previous. It had had a name then: Heyoka, The Clown. These were Sioux.

Nor was that all. Heyoka had been a Fox Lodge brave, one of the police detail for Mesa Valley.

So Slatemeyer had Star. I knew this as surely as I breathed. It was impossible at the time to imagine how he had made the capture. Later, when I knew, it appeared entirely simple. Yet pure simplicity is frequently the hallmark of genius and in his violent way Slatemeyer was undoubtedly a genius.

Arriving three days ahead of me he had placed his Crow in ambush, sent Mouse into the valley with fires or camp-sign, no pony dust. It was possible I had missed him, also that he had skirted the hills, turning north. But the best bet was he had gone due south to strike the headwaters of the White, this stream running east to empty into the Missouri at Fort Kiowa only 10 miles above his camp.

In reducing his course to this choice, I took into consideration his precious whiskey. Slatemeyer wouldn't want to be absent from his stock-in-trade any longer than necessary.

An hour's journey on Hussien brought me to the end of the territory pelted by last night's storm. On a hunch I ran out a quartering movement, striking a broad trail within 15 minutes. I counted no more than 25 ponies and knew I had Slatemeyer in front of me.

Another 15 minutes and a still broader trail of at least 50 ponies struck in from the west. Crazy Horse, too, was ahead of me.

A new thought arose to frost the warmth of this discovery. Trusting the generalship of the great Oglala I could not help but remember he had the sanguine Yellow Bird along, together with 50 other Fox Lodgers, all doubtless loyal to Star but possibly even more intrigued with the prospect of arranging for brother lodge member, Mouse, to lose his dues-paying status instanter.

I could guess the temper of the trailing Sioux, imagine quite easily the mad spate of "Hookakeys!" which would announce their sighting of Slatemeyer's band—and the ensuing rush which would just as surely mean death for Star as for the whiskey runner and his crew.

The first thing an Indian will do when hard pushed is abandon all equipment save horse and gun. The second, kill any captives he has along. Even if Slatemeyer would otherwise, the first cornering of his crew by Crazy Horse would wing a Crow lance into the bowels of the Indian girl.

I put Hussien's heart and lungs on the auction block of necessity. Had my own life been at stake I might have held some reserve in WORLD'S LARGEST LIVING SIGN! After 13 years, the scene pictured above has become a familiar sight to air travelers over northern Indiana. Occupying an area 250 feet high by one-half mile in length, the 8200 pine trees spelling the name have now reached an average height of 20 feet. Seven rows of trees planted 6 feet apart form the letters. The huge sign is located 10 miles west of South Bend, Indiana on Studebaker's 200-acre proving ground, where the new 120-horsepower Studebaker V-8 engine was test-driven for hundreds of thousands of miles.

HEALTH TALKS

"What the average community needs is a well organized health department which emphasizes five types of activities to protect the child's health," says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "These activities are: (1) The safeguarding of child health and motherhood; (2) the control of contagion; (3) accurate recording of births and deaths; (4) support of public health laboratories; and (5) sanitary control of diseases spread from human waste and by vermin and insects."

"The full time local health unit gives due emphasis to each of the above mentioned activities. To illustrate how these 5 essential functions are inter related, the interest of the various divisions in the new born baby, preschool and school child may be cited as an example. Child health is safeguarded by providing information and instruction to the mother. Through the use of vital statistics complete and accurate birth registration is kept, as well as records indicating deaths which occur among children from preventable diseases.

"Contagion is prevented or controlled against further spread through the encouragement of immunization early in life, through the prompt reporting of infectious disease. Public health laboratories and sanitary engineers provide additional bulwarks of protection for child life.

"Adequate health organization and wholehearted support on the part of various state and local agencies are essential if these activities are to be successfully maintained."

session of a two-day meeting of the Texas League of Municipalities.

About 500 delegates are expected to attend the banquet and hear the governor's address.

State Attorney-General Price Daniel spoke out at yesterday's session against "overcentralization" of powers in the federal government. He said Washington is "robbing" states, cities, and individuals of the political rights and revenues.

Daniel cautioned city officials to "preserve your integrity and independence" by paying close attention to the responsibilities of local government. He also recommended that cities decline further aid from the federal government as one method of cutting down centralized power.

Several other groups are meeting in conjunction with the league at the Baker Hotel here.

Texas Volunteer Parole Boards To Their Work Well

AUSTIN (SpI) — Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd stated in a report to J. F. Tucker, Chairman of the Eastland County Voluntary Parole Board that the Texas Voluntary Parole System is functioning economically and satisfactorily.

Shepperd reported that when he assumed the duties of Secretary of State in February 1950 there were 600 parolees unaccounted for in Texas. He commended the Texas Voluntary Parole Board members for their cooperation and assistance in enabling the Department to reduce the number of missing parolees to 60.

The Texas Voluntary Parole System, Shepperd stated, is a positive and constructive program designed to aid the parolees in becoming worthwhile citizens of the community. Parolees, he reported, are released from prison on recommendation by the Board of Pardons and Paroles to the Governor or for the granting of clemency. After clemency has been granted, a parolee is under supervision of Parole Board members until expiration of his sentence.

The Parole System, Shepperd reported, has proved to be a sound program as a method of progressive public protection. The Annual Report of Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles shows that in 1949 there were 11 per cent parole violators. This figure was reduced to only 3.8 per cent in 1950.

These men, the Secretary of State reported, are supervised at the very low cost of only 4 1-2 cents daily for each parolee while it costs the Texas Prison System 82 cents daily for each inmate. This figure, he stated, does not take into consideration the amount spent by the State in caring for the dependents of those incarcerated. The Department of Public Welfare shows in their Audit Report for that $212,426.27 was spent in aiding these families.

In comparing the costs of the Texas Volunteer Parole supervision with that of other states, the Secretary of State cited the fact that the state of New York spends $62 for each parolee yearly; Massachusetts $54 yearly; Virginia $70 yearly; Wisconsin $34 yearly while Texas only spends $15 yearly for each parolee.

Shepperd also praised the work of the members of the Voluntary Parole Board and cited several cases where through their efforts delinquent have been restored from the prison system to daily pursuits of everyday life.

Other members of the Eastland County Voluntary Parole are: Jim Ingram, Ranger; M. L.

Police Hunting 400 Hot Seats

Artificial Breeding Is Success View Of Local Dairy Herd Owners

J. M. Cooper, county Ag. Agent For a nominal fee dairy cow owners can artificially breed their animals to some of the most outstanding bulls in the entire country, Clyde Hickson, Cisco, technician for this work said recently.

Jersey, Holstein, Guernsey and Shorthorn bulls from the North Texas Artificial Breeding Farms near Dallas are available for artificial insemination with the cost per cow being $6.00 for the first breeding with fifty cents for each repeat breeding unless the animal settles at the first Hickson said.

Those within a thirty mile radius from Cisco are asked to call 605 W at Cisco before 10 o'clock a.m. on the day the service is desired. Hickson makes up his route from the phone calls that come in prior to that time. He sometimes travels up to 200 miles per day on his route to artificially breed cows. He was employed by the Eastland County Dairy Association for this work and was trained at the North Texas Artificial Breeding Farm under Dr. D. G. Snokler and associates at the Dallas artificial breeding farm.

A new Guernsey bull Norman's sum Lad purchased direct from the Guernsey Islands and being imported into this country by the breeding farm will soon be available for servicing cows in this area. The bull is expected to arrive on the farm sometime in October. Other famous bulls on the farm are the Holstein bulls, Texas Magnificent Prince, Inka and Carnation Madcap Discovery.

Waterfowl May Be Plentiful In Area, Claim

AUSTIN, Oct. 23—The Chief Clerk of the Game and Fish Commission said the delay in distribution of the official 1951 migratory game bird proclamation has been caused by printing difficulties.

He advised the approximately 2,000 persons authorized to sell state hunting license that the documents would be available about October 18.

The waterfowl data usually is included in the regular game law digest. This year the migratory game bird regulations were so late taking form in Washington that the digest had to be issued without them. Now printing problems have beset separate preparation of the proclamation. The Chief Clerk said the delay was handicapping license dealers because of the high interest this year in the waterfowl season. He went on to explain that the drought-blighted dove season and unfavorable prospects for big game had stimulated inquires about the duck and goose shooting period.

The Chief Clerk noted incidentally that reports from the northern states, which opened the waterfowl season October 5, agree that waterfowl are fairly abundant this year. Minnesota reports, for example, state that ducks are more numerous than they have been since the good shooting seasons of 1945-46.

Corduroy Keeps the Secret In New Maternity Styles

BY GAILE DUGAS, NEA Woman's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Corduroy, that warm and wonderful fabric, appears for winter in maternity dresses that combine a great deal of style with much practicality. Nothing about these fashions hints of maternity. With slight alterations, they can continue on in a wardrobe after the blessed event.

Narrow-wale corduroy is paired (left) with jersey in a two-tone dress by Stark Styles. A cummerbund provides for concealment. A beige jersey top has a dark green corduroy bib inset and overlaid by a jersey collar. Sleeves are widely cuffed in the corduroy. Skirt is straight with the necessary fullness centered at the waistline.

A navy corduroy jumper dress (right) in the narrow-wale has a pale green chiffon ascot tucked in at the neckline. Lapels are deep and rounded; sleeves are the merest caps. Standaway scalloped pockets have self-button trim. An adjustable belt that's self-covered and an elastic expansion underneath keep the skirt. Skirt has a gentle fullness.

Truman May Put Interim Embassy At Rome Post

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (UP)—President Truman may set up an "interim embassy" in the Vatican until congress acts on his controversial nomination of Gen. Mark W. Clark to be America's first ambassador to the holy see, informed sources said today.

Mr. Truman would like to rush Clark to Rome while congress is vacationing, but such action may be stymied by an 1870 law barring military men on active duty from civilian government posts. Clark told Mr. Truman before the surprise nomination was announced last Saturday that he would not retire from the army to accept the ambassadorship, and the administration's top legal experts doubt they can find a loophole in the 80-year-old law.

Clark, the Army's ground force commander, could be sent to the vatican as Mr. Truman's personal representative, if a recess appointment is impossible, but the best opinion is that the appointment probably will be held until congress returns in January.

Informed sources said it may be possible to establish an "interim embassy" with a career diplomat serving as charge D'affaires pending arrival of an ambassador.

Meantime, chairman Tom Connally of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee told a reporter that he will oppose the nomination. The Texas Democrat, who will be up for reelection next year, said last night that "in the war in Italy he (Clark) discriminated against and sacrificed large numbers of the 36th Division (Texas National Guard) from my state in the crossing of the rapido River."

"I formed the opinion from his conduct in that matter," Connally said, "that he should not be appointed to any high or responsible position in military or civilian life."

Asked if his opposition was connected with the rising controversy over the nomination, Connally replied that he would not discuss anything but what I said. Connally's stand is particularly significant because the Foreign Relations Committee must vote on the nomination when the lawmakers return. It was one of the

Last Election Bid Made Today By Churchill

LONDON, Oct. 23 (UP)—Winston Churchill made his last big speech of the British General election campaign today in southwest England where his son Randolph again is trying to get into the House of Commons.

Randolph's opponent is Socialist left-winger Michael Foot. Foot licked young Churchill last year and is touted to repeat on election day, this Thursday. The constituency is in Plymouth which started the Empire more than 30 years ago by sending to Commons an American born woman, Lady Nancy Astor. Welshman who hates wealth and calls conservatives "vermin," is his leader. Bevan, Foot and Co. are straining to break Great Britain away from its close anti-Communist alliance with the United States.

Many Britishers love Bevan. few times that Connally has clashed publicly with the administration on any foreign policy issue. Protests from protestant clergy men continued to pour into the White House.

But more fear him. Socialist Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee felt compelled in his last big campaign speech to assure voters that "bye" Bevan would not become prime minister—at least not soon. Of course those British who still have wealth, Bevan says: "We are going after them." He means that.

All British politicians are left wingers or at least left-of-center by American standards. And that includes Winston Churchill, leader of the so-called conservative party.

Churchill and his party are not Socialists. But if they win the election they will inherit a lot of Socialism and they will be stuck or blessed with it, as the case may be. They will have to keep most of it. Socialism is in Great Britain to stay.

British voters understand that the election question is not whether Socialism shall be abolished and private enterprise and private property be returned to the old pedestal. The question is whether the British are to have a great deal more Socialism under one more labor government of considerably less under a new government of so-called conservatives.

UN JETS VICTORIOUS IN BIG AIR BATTLE WITH RED MIGS

By EARNEST HOBERECHT
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, Oct. 23 (UP)—American B-29s and escorting jet fighters shot down or damaged 14 to 17 Communist jets today in the biggest air battle of the Korean war just south of the Manchurian frontier.

One American superfortress and a thunderjet fighter were lost and several other B-29s damaged in the wild 250 to 280-plane battle over northwest Korea while ground fighting far to the south diminished in apparent anticipation of new truce talks.

However, two columns of American 47-ton Patton tanks rumbled up two parallel valleys to a point more than a mile northeast of Kumsong and killed an estimated 200 Chinese in a hit-run raid. They wounded 150 other Chinese and destroyed large stocks of supplies.

Still other Pattons bombarded Kumsong itself, 29 miles north of the 38th parallel on the central front, for the third time in four days. They kindled fresh fires in the apparently abandoned Communist stronghold.

An estimated 150 to 180 Russian-built Mig 15 jets—the largest number ever encountered at one time over Korea—noosed on the 100-plane American air fleet as the B-29s dropped 50 tons of bombs on a nearly-completed Red airfield at Namoi, 15 miles south of the Yalu River frontier.

First reports from the half-hour air battle 15,000 to 30,000 feet high in "Mig Alley" said five enemy jets were shot down in flames, two probably destroyed and seven to 10 others damaged.

It was the heaviest toll of enemy fighters in a single battle in jet history. Far East Air Force headquarters said the Mig attack was "one of the heaviest and most determined" ever launched by enemy jets against the B-29s.

One heavily-damaged B-29 crashed in the Yellow Sea off the west Korean coast, but the crew was rescued by amphibians. An unspecified additional number of damaged B-29s made emergency landings at allied airfield in South Korea.

All 32 escorting Sabrejets returned safely to base after tangling with more than 100 of the Communist jets. However, one

"Abdullah" King Will Face His Mother Today About Samia

HOUSTON, Oct. 23 (UP) — Sheppard (Abdullah) King got set to face his irate mother today with the hope that he could win her over to his plan to marry an Egyptian belly dancer.

"I haven't heard from mother since I talked to her from Paris three weeks ago," King said.

She told him at that time to "get rid of that woman."

"Mom will just raise hell," he said in anticipation of the meeting.

King flew in last night from Europe. He planned to divorce his wife and "hop back to Cairo" where shimmy artist Samia Gamil waited for him.

He had just put his key in the door when his sister, Patricia, drove up with his mother. His sister greeted him warmly, but his mother swept past him with a curt, "turn out all the lights." The romance began in Egypt where King was traveling with his sister and Gloria, his wife.

Gloria was divorced from the 26-year-old oil heir in 1950. She has contended since that she can't remember re-marrying him in Dallas last June.

King's plans call for him to straighten out the divorce situation, skip back to Cairo, marry Samia and bring her to this country.

Samia will continue her abdominal gyrations after she and King set up housekeeping in Dallas, King said.

A New York promoter, Miles Ingalls, already is at work attempting to get bookings for her in several New York hotels, King said.

The playboy, who embraced the Moslem religion in accordance with Samia's request, said he had faithfully kept up with its tenets, except one.

"I don't mind giving up ham," he said, "but it's pretty rough to give up liquor." He hasn't succeeded so far, he said.

sly. The savings have amounted to far more than a billion dollars.

"We found human resources being wasted—the defense department has taken steps to stop that shameful waste. The savings have meant extra divisions of strength for America.

"We found that this nation was being victimized that tin purchases be halted until the price dropped. They were, and it did. Again, hundreds of thousands of dollars were saved."

Johnson described the present congress as a "preparedness congress." He said the recently-completed session was "one of the most significant in the history of the Republic."

Johnson Says His Committee Saved Taxpayers Money

HOUSTON, Oct. 23 (UP) — Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson said today that his Senate preparedness subcommittee has saved American taxpayers "billions of dollars."

"We found valuable war plants being sold as surplus," the Texas Democrat said. "We stopped that. The savings were incalculable."

Johnson made the statement in a speech prepared for delivery at the annual convention of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

"We found our money being poured out to buy natural rubber at record-breaking prices, while our own synthetic rubber plants were idle," he said. "We urged the re-opening of our synthetic rubber plants. The price of natural rubber dropped drastic-

It was the third straight day of air battles over northwest Korea.

No Better Time to Order One!

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

There are many motorists in our community who have reached that position in life where they feel themselves entitled to a Cadillac—and yet, for one particular reason, have postponed placing their order.

They have heard, and quite rightly so, that there is some delay in delivery of new Cadillacs. And so, they have decided not to visit us until the car can be had more readily.

To them we say—there is no better time to order a Cadillac than right now. For each day you delay is costing you its price in motoring pleasure and satisfaction!

When you stop in at our showroom, we will talk to you frankly about what you may expect as to date of delivery. And we think you may be delighted to discover that the waiting period is not so long as might be expected—for so fine a car in such great demand.

And we think you will find, too, that once we have your order, it's a wonderful, satisfying feeling to know each passing day brings your Cadillac closer at hand.

But only when that day does arrive, and you take to the highway, will you know how well worth waiting for a Cadillac is.

For only when you experience its magnificent performance for yourself—so stimulating to the spirit and so restful to the body that you actually look forward to those moments behind the wheel—will you realize how completely Cadillac stands alone.

Of course, if you have already placed your order for a Cadillac—then stand firm in your purpose!

Dealers who sell other cars are undoubtedly beseeching you to switch your preference—for the sake of immediate delivery.

But just remember: immediate delivery means not in demand. You are waiting for a Cadillac because so many wonderful people, like yourself, want no other car. And they know that their waiting will pay its rewards.

So stand firm. And be patient—for each day brings you closer to your heart's desire.
