Around The Square

By Mack

As far as we are personally concerned, we don't care if they designate Sunday, February 30, as Thanksgiving Day. We probably won't have a turkey anyway, as we are too poor to buy one and have no friends close enough to make the promotion for us.

But we are very "thankful" for a lot of things. We are thankful that more and more people are showing signs of cooperation. After all it is only November 14th, and here in Eastland we have already set the date for this festive occasion. We figure others will follow—maybe. Thanks—this year will be observed on THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 22, so far as Eastland is concerned, though about half of the town has been planning for the 29th. And why not? The chamber of commerce and a group of leading citizens have been preaching this date for some time. The Daily Telegram blatantly announced it after the decision was made.

Now we must go back and tell our public that we lied about it. It has been definitely "reset" for the 22nd, and we predict there will be no more changes. Schools will close on the 22nd as will the postoffice, bank, city hall, Daily Telegram and most all others. Next year we are going to get a good almanac, one of those Wine of Cardui kind and if it says Thanksgiving come on July the 4th we will celebrate it then.

Time was when you could trust a calendar, for such simple things as holidays, but that was before the New Deal. Since that time you can't trust anybody or anything. We haven't kicked about Thanksgiving being changed though we have felt it was a foolish move. But if any Deal, Fair Deal or otherwise tries to change Christmas, we are going to offer a protest that will reach the high heavens. Enough is enough and too much will give you running fits. And that may be what's wrong with us now.

Our forefathers managed to wobble along with the 4th Thursday in November for more than a hundred years. There was never a flare-up. Even a half wit could tell you anything you wanted to know about Thanksgiving. At this time able jurists, philosophers, editors and brain-trusters would have to consult the New Deal dictionary, and then as likely as not would insist that they were not to be quoted, for they might be wrong. Now isn't this a hell of a mess?

Our old granddad never saw inside of a college, but he could tell you what day Thanksgiving fell on a hundred years in advance. New Dealers can't make up their minds for as much as a year at a time. It's simply against the laws of God and gravity, and the fellow who thinks he can change either of these has less than we have.

People put your troubles in your pocket, go out and buy a turkey, and on Thursday, Nov. 22, 1951, A. D., call in your family, friends and loved ones, offer thanks to a wise and loving God for His many blessings; the first of which is allowing you to be a citizen of the greatest Nation under the canopy of heaven, then eat that famous bird and enjoy it. Brother you will enjoy it.

P. S. We will enjoy our turkey if we manage to get one. If we fail we'll enjoy those red beans. Been using them for 50 years and they have never let us down yet. Remember the date Nov. 22.

Midland Couple Sends Donation To Our Hospital

A nice donation to the Eastland Memorial Hospital was received today by the treasurer of that fund from Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton E. McRae of Midland, former residents of Eastland.

Mr. McRae is a nephew of Mrs. John D. McRae, of Eastland. Mrs. McRae is the former Adrian Hagaman of Ranger.

This donation is of special interest because it associates Mr. McRae with two new West Texas hospitals. The citizens of Midland have just completed the building and equipping of a large hospital there. Mr. McRae headed the committee charged with getting the necessary finances together.

UP Foreign Editor Balances Good And Bad News Of The Week

By HARRY FERGUSON
United Press Foreign News Editor

Balancing sheet for the week between good news and bad in the hot and cold wars:

GOOD NEWS:
1. President Truman and Prime Minister Churchill plan to confer early next year on means of keeping British rearmament going. There is a fair chance that out of their talks will come some fresh approach to the problem of how to end the cold war, and, in any event, the two nations probably will emerge with a solid front attitude toward Russia and her satellites.

2. Yugoslavia, despite being a Communist nation, moved further into the anti-Moscow camp. She went before the United Nations General Assembly in Paris with an appeal to halt what she described as aggressive plans against her by Russia and her European satellites. The United States and Yugoslavia signed an agreement that will provide modern weapons for Marshal Tito's army.

3. A ray of hope remained that some settlement of British-Iranian controversy over nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. could be worked out in Washington. U. S. Government agencies were reported to be giving "sympathetic consideration" to the request of Premier Mohammed Massadeh of Iran for a loan. In return this nation may win some concessions in Britain's behalf.

BAD NEWS:
1. It became clear at the United Nations general assembly in Paris that there is scant hope for Russia and the western democracies to arrive at a workable compromise on the cold war. Representatives of both sides delivered speeches in which they refused to budge from the positions they now occupy. Russia flatly refused to consider a proposal for a realistic limitation of armaments, including atomic bombs.

2. The Chinese Reds continue to commit atrocities on allied prisoners of war in Korea. There was confusion and contradiction among allied officers in Tokyo and Korea as to the extent of the crimes against the prisoners, but there seemed little doubt that the Communists consistently were violating the Geneva Convention which sets forth rules for civilized warfare.

3. British and Egyptian blood was shed in a clash in the Suez Canal Zone. There appeared to be no way to conciliate the quarrel that broke out when Egypt repudiated a treaty with London and demanded that British troops leave the Canal zone. Both Cairo and London announced they were standing firm.

McCarthy Reveals Plans In Egypt

CAIRO, EGYPT, Nov. 16 (UP)—Texas oilman Glenn McCarthy lifted the lid today on his hush-hush middle east mission—he hopes to launch a "huge" oil exploitation project in Egypt.

The deal could be closed in a minute, he said, if Egypt waives its law that 51 per cent of the proposed company's stock must be owned by Egyptians.

"If the Egyptian government agrees to let me own an operate my business," McCarthy said, "I'll buy all the land I can explore on."

The Houston oil and hotel executive said millions of dollars were involved but did not name a specific sum. He issued the statement after a two-day swing by plane and automobile of the Red Sea coast and Sinai Peninsula.

McCarthy said that the areas he inspected have "plenty of good oil possibilities."

"The government seems to be cooperating by listening to my views, but it must relax the ownership law before my business can begin functioning," he said.

McCarthy indicated he will leave for home tomorrow with Howard Hughes agent, who traveled with him on the entire mission.

At the time the two men set out for the middle east, they made no statements on the mission and scrupulously avoided the press. It was reported—and later denied in Washington—that McCarthy an Meyer were on a government mission.

Egypt Accuses Britain Of Waging A War

PARIS, Nov. 16 (UP)—Egypt accused Britain before the United Nations today of waging a "real war" against the Nile country, but offered a plebiscite in the Sudan to settle at least one phase of the dispute.

In explosive terms that astonished the assembled diplomats, Egyptian Foreign Minister Salah El-Din charged British actions in the Suez Canal Zone represented an actual breach of world peace.

But in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, claimed by the Cairo government as territory under the crown of King Farouk, he proposed a plebiscite to determine its future. Egypt will withdraw its armed forces and officials from the jointly administered Sudan for the plebiscite if Britain will do the same, he said.

"The necessary machinery, atmosphere and preparation" for the plebiscite, could be provided with cooperation from the UN, Salah El-Din told the general assembly.

Otherwise, in his torrent of accusations against the British, he did not request any specific UN action. The 25-page address, delivered in a breaking voice, was aimed chiefly at arousing world opinion.

Rangers Lose To Henderson

RANGER, Tex. (Special)—In a game played last night the Ranger Junior College Rangers were noosed out in a slug-fest by two points, the final score was 20-18 in favor of Henderson County Junior College at Athens.

Coach Dick Henderson of the Rangers said that the local team should have won the game, and it looked as if they would up to the fourth quarter when the other team came from behind to score and win.

The game was mixed with rough playing and outright slugging on the field that went on without the referees taking action.

Quarterback Buddy Hamrick scored two of the Rangers touchdowns and threw a 12 yard pass to end Tommy Wilson for the other.

Little Items Of Local Interest

The committee to work up the classes and list of premiums for the Eastland County Livestock Show met Thursday afternoon to complete its work. J. M. Cooper is chairman and the committee is composed of all county high school agriculture teachers, Judge Clyde Grisso and Archie Campbell of Olden.

Local nimrods are busy at this time oiling guns and buying shells and obtaining licenses to hunt. Deer season is almost here, and ducks, geese and doves are fairly plentiful.

Movements about the county court house are normal again following several days of pandemonium. Court records and may officials have been tied up in Breckenridge this week as the result of the Walker embezzlement trial.

Agricultural Association Is Organized

The Eastland County Agricultural Association is not a new organization, though it has been operating without constitution or by-laws these years.

This week a group of members met at the Gorman high school building, elected officers and directors, and adopted a constitution and by-laws with which they are to be governed. M. D. Fox, Eastland Vocational Agricultural teacher, was elected president; W. L. Garner of Eastland, Soil Conservation Service, vice president; T. D. Wheat, Eastland, rural representative of the Texas Electric Service Company, secretary treasurer, and J. M. Cooper, county agent, reporter.

High lights from the constitution follow:

The name of the Association shall be "The Eastland County Agricultural Worker's Association."

Purpose: 1. To acquaint the different agricultural workers with the duties and responsibilities of the various agricultural agencies in Eastland county.

2. To unify recommendations by the different agricultural agencies for agricultural practices recommended for Eastland county farmers and ranchers.

3. To participate in worthy undertakings for the improvement of Agriculture in Eastland county.

4. To provide and encourage the development of organized rural youth activities.

5. To keep abreast of the latest agricultural developments and practices recommended by agricultural and industrial organizations.

Regular meeting will be held on the second Wednesday night of each month.

Connally Says Cease Fire Is Near In Korea

FORT WORTH, Nov. 16 (UP)—Sen. Tom Connally said last night that American negotiators are nearer a cease fire agreement in Korea than at any time since the conferences began and blamed continuance of the war on Soviet Russia.

In his first report to Texans since Congress ended its session, the veteran Democratic party leader struck out against administration critics with a statement that the nation is the "richest strongest country on the globe."

"But for the encouragement from Communist Russia and her influence with Communist China, the war would already have come to an end," Connally said.

The Senator, already announced as a candidate for re-election next year, made no direct mention of his personal critics in the radio address.

He said, however, "I am aware that there is considerable dissatisfaction among some people as to the situation in the United States."

"However," he continued, "I want to point out that a citizen of the United States today lives in the richest . . . strongest country on the globe. He lives in the most prosperous nation the world has ever seen. Let the American people contemplate these facts and examine their own conditions, as compared with what those conditions were in other years."

MUD HOLDING UP FIGHTING ON FRONT AS TALKS GO ON

By Arnold Dibble
United Press Staff Correspondent

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Nov. 16 (UP)—Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, United Nations truce negotiator, warned the Communists sharply today that fighting in Korea will continue until an armistice is actually signed whether it be days, weeks or months.

In a confused and quarrelsome meeting in the Panmunjom truce tent, Communist Gen. Lee Sang Cho asked Hodes to redefine the Allied objectives in insisting that fighting be continued during negotiations.

"You know what that objective is," Hodes said firmly. "We are after an armistice and not gain on the ground."

"If the delay (in negotiations) lasts four or five months, the fighting will continue until the armistice is signed. Or, if negotiations continue for two days, three days or three weeks or longer, the fighting will continue until an armistice is achieved."

"You might as well know this now if you have not known it before."

A UN communique said the Reds argued in the longest subcommittee meeting yet held that the Allies had strayed far from their earlier proposals based on definite demarcation lines drawn on a map.

Thanksgiving Is To Be Observed On November 22

There seems to be considerable confusion as to what day to observe as Thanksgiving, November 22nd or 29th. The city commissioners have checked with the business houses, chamber of commerce, and schools here, and with other cities in this vicinity, and there seems to be a divided opinion.

However, a majority favor observing November 22nd, therefore the city hall will be closed on the 22nd, in observance of Thanksgiving.

Cold Wave Hits Eastland; Snow Is Very Likely

Following several summer-like days in which the thermometer reached 85 degrees, the long predicted cold wave reached Eastland Thursday night. Top coats are very much in evidence today, though the temperature is still a little above freezing.

In a general weather forecast, considerable ice, sleet and snow has been predicted for this season.

W. H. LaRoque Of Cisco Dies Wed.

W. H. LaRoque, 74, Cisco, former editor of the daily paper in that city, and for many years a resident of Eastland county, was buried in Stag Creek Cemetery in Comanche county Thursday.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist church in Cisco, with Dr. Judson Prince, pastor of Riverside Baptist church of Fort Worth, in charge. Dr. Prince is a former pastor of the Cisco church.

Pallbearers were J. B. Pratt, J. B. Elliott, T. C. Williams, O. L. Stamey, Charles S. Sandler, Norman Huston, H. R. Garrett and Carlos Turner.

Mr. LaRoque was born in Williamson county, June 16, 1877. On October 10, 1900 he was married to Miss Irene Fielder of Sidney. In 1918 the family moved to Cisco, and after teaching for a few years Mr. LaRoque began a newspaper career which lasted for more than 25 years.

He was an active member of the Baptist church and for many years was a member of the choir. Surviving him are his wife, two sons, two daughters, five grandchildren and two brothers. The sons are J. T. LaRoque, Abilene; and Lloyd LaRoque, Arlington. The daughters are Mrs. A. D. Anderson of Cisco and Mrs. J. P. Elam, Jr., of Harlingen. Brothers are Herbert and C. E. LaRoque of Sidney.

Infant Betty Ann McGough Buried Today

RANGER, Tex. (Special)—Funeral services were held today at 3:00 p.m. for Betty Ann McGough, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McGough of Cisco, who died early this morning at a local hospital.

Funeral services were held at the Killingsworth Funeral Chapel in Ranger, with Rev. L. C. Anderson of Cisco officiating.

The little girl is survived by her parents, five brothers, William Edward, Glenn, Kenneth, Johnny, and Jimmy; and two sisters, Loretta and Wanda Jean, all of Cisco.

The surviving grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Mack McGough and Mr. George H. Stewart of Ranger. Numerous aunts and uncles also survive.

Interment will be in the Evergreen Cemetery at Ranger.

Work Resumed At Ford Plant

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 16 (UP)—Production was resumed today on a full-scale basis, following agreement between management of the Ford Motor Company plant and the Kansas City local of the United Automobile Workers (CIO).

Some 1,200 Ford union workers walked off the job Oct. 18 in a production dispute involving six men. The Union charged an unjust "speed-up" had been ordered in the division which makes sides and tops for Fords.

Management and Local 249 reached an agreement Wednesday, and plant manager Roger N. Cocks worked a skeleton crew yesterday, followed by the full force today.

Junior Arterburn

SPORTS

Tech's Success Accredited Largely To Junior Arterburn

LUBBOCK, Nov. 14 (Spl.)—Texas Tech's surprising showing this season has been largely due to the efforts of a quarterback from Ranger, Junior Arterburn.

At the season's start, DeWitt Weaver and his staff of assistants—all new—faced a rough schedule with only three returning offensive starters. Texas Christian, Baylor, and Texas A&M were to be faced, along with the best teams in the Border Conference. So were Tulsa University, Houston, and New Mexico.

Weaver and company brought with them the explosive split-T offense utilized to such advantage by Oklahoma University and Maryland. But to make it work they had to develop a split-T quarterback—no easy chore.

Arterburn, who did most of his playing last season on defense, was the man picked to carry Tech's record. For the season they have won four games and lost three.

That's not phenomenal, but one of the victories was over the leading team in the Southwest Conference—TCU. Tech actually coasted to a 33-19 victory. Third and fourth stringers played out the fourth quarter while TCU was getting its only points.

The other three victories were over Border Conference teams—West Texas State, defending champ, 46-7; Arizona, pre-season favorite, 41-0; and Texas Western, 27-7. Consequently, Tech is in a tie for first place with Hardin-Simmons, whom the Red Raiders meet here Dec. 1.

And none of the defeats were disgraces—to Houston, 0-6; to A&M, 7-20; and to Baylor, 20-40.

For his work against Texas Christian, Arterburn gained back-of-the-week honors for the Southwest and ranked third in the nation on the AP poll.

Against Arizona he gained three-fourths of Tech's yardage and was officially nominated for All-American honors.

In the game with the Wildcats he ran for 128 yards and three touchdowns and passed for 139 yards. One of his scores was on a 49-yard run; the other, on a 37-yard scamper.

Arterburn is slightly built at 165 pounds spread over a 5 feet 11 frame, but he is tough enough

"Ike's" Brother Given Honor At College Meet

HOUSTON, Nov. 16 (UP)—Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, and President of Pennsylvania State College, is the new president of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities.

Dr. Eisenhower was named to the post yesterday. R. F. Paole, retiring president, and president of Clemson Agricultural College, became chairman of the executive committee.

Other new executive committee members are Fred S. Hultz, president of North Dakota Agricultural College; Arthur A. Hauck, president of Purdue University; J. E. Buchanan, president of the University of Maine; and the University of Idaho.

Dr. Florence B. King, professor of Home Economics at the University of Vermont; N. W. Dougherty of the University of Tennessee, and P. F. Sharp of the University of California.

A final speaker at the three-day meeting, Rep. Olin E. Teague of Texas, told delegates many colleges are now faced with the question of how far they will take part in federal educational programs or whether they shall remain primarily state institutions.

Reds Have Their Money Problems

HONG KONG, Nov. 16 (UP)—Canton civic officials tore up 14 huge portraits of Chinese Red leader Mao Tze-Tung, painted for a city parade, because the portraits didn't look enough like him it was reported today.

Press reports said the chagrined officials paid $100 to the artist before reaching their decision. Other examples of waste reported in an investigation of the city government were:

1. A government cook dried a freshly scrubbed kitchen floor with an electric fan.
2. A costly reviewing stand, torn down after a rally, was rebuilt for another rally two weeks later.
3. Some $70 has been spent monthly to repair a public toilet, but it still leaks.

Oilman's Yule Display Brings City Objection

WICHITA, KAN., Nov. 16 (UP)—Residents of an east Wichita neighborhood believe the elaborate Christmas decorations of oilman Al Skalsky are "a nuisance a traffic hazard and disturbance of the peace."

The city council yesterday to stop Skalsky from putting up the display this year. The residents complained that the decorations, which last year included animated mechanical deer, drew such crowds of sight-seers that streets are choked intermittently for weeks.

Bullock, who was charged with aggravated assault by means of the kiss, said he was "working his way through college" in the traditional magazine peddler's manner. He said the girl didn't seem to mind the kiss.

In imposing the sentence, Judge Snell remarked: "I'm giving you 30 days in Sheriff Kern's business college (the county jail). You can work your way through that."

Jealous Buck Gores Keeper

MACON, GA., Nov. 16 (UP)—A big buck deer flew into a jealous rage and gored a 74-year-old zoo attendant here when the man's attention to a doe aroused the buck's ire.

Macon hospital attendants said Joe Everidge, Baconsfield Park Zoo caretaker, was in "fair" condition today. Everidge was found bleeding an unconscious yesterday by another attendant, Albert Guest.

Guest said he found Everidge lying unconscious in the deer pen, "with the big buck pacing all around him."

Guest said Everidge petted the doe an always fed her first. He said all bucks are ill-tempered during the mating season, and the animal resented Everidge's attentions to the doe.

Mae West Turns Down TV Offer

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 16 (UP)—Baxum Mae West turned thumbs down on television today because "it hasn't reached large enough proportions yet."

The golden-haired actress returned to Hollywood yesterday, all bundled up in a blue mink coat and wearing long blue eye-lashes to match, and announced she would like to make a movie "if I could find a script that had what the people want."

So far, she said, film studios haven't found her the type story she wants.

"I know my public. The Hollywood Studio's don't," she added.

Rapid Expansion At The Junior College Library

RANGER, Tex. (Special) — Ranger Junior college library is rapidly expanding its collection of books and other materials to meet the growing demands of its student body and faculty for more and more informative and recreational reading material.

The biograph collection in this library has long been emphasized, for the importance of such writings in revealing not only the life of the principal characters described but also the historical, religious, geographical, and sociological background of the country and the era in which the person lived is well-known.

Hence, it is not surprising that many of the new books are in the field of biography and autobiography.

Whether the reader's interest is in the field of literature, the theatre, medicine, business, reporting, religion, government, fine arts, or in just an interesting life, the biography collection offers books for him.

Among the new biographies are found Marchette Chute's "Geoffrey Chaucer of England" and her "Shakespeare of London"; James Holly Hanford's, "John Milton, Englishman"; and John Carr's "The Life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle", for those readers interested in literary figures; Billie Burke's "With a Feather On My Nose," Basil Woon's "The Real Sarah Bernhart," Robert L. Taylor's "W. C. Fields," and Theodore Huffs "Charlie Chaplin", are for those interested in the theatre. Hugh Young's "A Surgeon's Autobiography," James McCord's "My Patients Were Zulus," and Cecil Woodham-Smith's "Florence Nightingale", appeal to those interested in medicine and nursing.

The business man is represented by Dr. Joe B. Frantz' "Gail Borden," "Dairyman to a Nation," while reporting is written about by H. V. Kaltenborn in "Fifty Fabulous Years."

Regillon is spotlighted in Edgar Goodspeed's "Life of Jesus" and in a "Man Called Peter," written about Peter Marshall, former chaplain of the United States Senate.

Frances Perkins' "The Roosevelt I Knew," Marion Crawford's "The Little Princesses" and "Mary: Mother and Queen", and the Duke of Windsor's "A King's Story", shows the lives of the leaders, past and (England's) present, of two great nations.

New biographies in the field of fine arts include Lochner's "Fritz Kreisler" and Haberly's "Pursuit of the Horizon." Mary Bushakra's "I Married An Arab," Gene Fowler's "Bear James, John Gunther's "The Riddle of MacArthur," Betty Martin's "Miracle at Carville," Mary Ellen Chase's "Abby Aldrich Rockefeller," and J. A. Kugelmass' "Louis Braille: Windows for the Blind", are representative of the new biographies which are about interesting people—some famous, some unknown.

While the library has been adding to its biography collection, it has not been neglecting other fields. Among some of the other new books in the library are found Williams' "The People and Politics of Latin America," Suderlin's "Examples of Gregorian Chants," Bernard's "Toward Better Personal Adjustment," Fisher's "Steel Serves the Nation," Vaughn's "Effective Personality Building", Goetschius' "The Homophonic Forms of Musical Composition," Sprout's "Foundations of National Power", Wonderlich's "Choral Collection", Bergmark's "Economic Geography of Asia," "Who's Who in the United Nations," Gleason's "Examples of Music Before 1400", Kingsley's "Nature and Conditions of Learnin", Parrot's "A Shakespeare Handbook," F. E. Hill's modern translation of Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales", Bengston's "Fundamentals of Economic Geography," and Pro-

chnow's "The Toastmaster's Handbook."

Ranger Junior college continues to grow, and with it grows the library, which is adding hundreds of volumes to its collection each year.

Ben Matthews, who was injured in a car accident Tuesday of this week has returned from the Ranger General hospital and is reported to be improving at his home, 1521 South Bassett St.

A VITAL LINK IN NATIONAL PRODUCTION

The scrap metal he gathers is as necessary for producing tanks and autos, nails and bridges, as iron ore from mines. He needs your broken machinery, old batteries, in fact anything discarded or useless made of iron and steel or other metals to send on to the mills. Most steel is made from 1/2 scrap and 1/2 pig iron. Other metals, too—zinc, lead, aluminum, copper, etc.—are re-used in production. Scrap is critically short.
