Well, we are sure glad we got in our supply of calendars, otherwise we would have been celebrating the Fourth of July by this time. Just as an experiment we tried counting the days on our fingers, and using a sun dial to keep time. The first thing we did was get things mixed up. We announced the end of the year on December 26, and promised that our next brain-storm would appear in 1952.

The next day happen to be December 26, and another column made it's appearance in print. People asked why, and we didn't know. We knew that we hadn't celebrated a New Years Day recently, but without a calendar how were we to know what we were doing. Somebody must have punched a big hole in the sun dial. That was a pretty bad mixup but it could have been worse. What if Warren Motor hadn't sent over that first calendar.

We simply got Christmas and New Year mixed up (no egg-nog persuasion) and only for the calendar we might have done something. P. S.—We were turned in the wrong copy and if one of our customers hadn't called our attention to it, we likely never would have known the difference.

This being the last week in the year, it is about the saddest. Between Christmas and New Year, there is not very much going on, and we all have time to reflect, count our money, and see how much we fell short of making a living. We know exactly now, for we have 35 cents in cash and a double hand-full of tax receipts. There was a time when a fellow could just try to do anything. He would tell his creditors that "Jesus Paid It All," and he would go Scot free. But that can't be done any more. We still have Harry and he is the most just, stern and penny-grabbing collector the world has ever known. He has already bled the country white with fool taxes, but he hasn't quit asking Congress for additional tax grants. He simply wants it all, and being from Missouri, you can't show him anything. When he gets it all, he will have killed the goose that layed the golden egg.

He'll remember those billion dollar donations he's been talking out so freely, about the time he goes to pressing clothes again. He will get the shock of his life when he goes back to independence and finds people using scrip for money. Can't do otherwise if Harry ships every dime in this country to Europe.

He thinks he has the world by the tail and a down-hill pull on it, so long as he can keep 51 percent of the voters on federal pay-rolls, but there is a joker to this that Harry hasn't discovered. When the 49 percent pay in every dime they have, and begin giving I.O.U.s you had better look out. Employees will have to start collecting from themselves, they will begin asking this question: "What are we going to use for money?" They will "turn" to Harry for the answer and Harry will "turn" to the mountain and beseech the rocks to fall on him.

There "ain't no more" Santa Claus Harry, and you have known it all along. You have worn your costume jewelry, and played the shell game with great fan-fare. You have strutted around like a turkey gobbler, but you have sold the world short. Yes, we have been sold down the river, and you told us to like it or else—You have operated the government like a tin-horn gambler. You have taken on every fool chance, and passed up all the good and sensible bets. It won't be long now until we shall make a change, and you may rest assured You will not be in the running. Poor, foolish child, and you brought it all upon yourself.

Eastern Third Of Nation Chilled; Midwest Enjoying Light Heat Wave

A severe cold wave gripped the eastern third of the nation today as the frost-bitten Midwest basked in a comparative heat wave and struggled to dig itself out from under a record snowfall.

New England north of upper New York State for the most part registered below-zero readings with the lowest at Concord, N. H., where a chilly 11 degrees below was recorded at midnight. The shivery weather stretched south to Florida and into the eastern gulf states. Atlanta, Ga., reported 31, Tampa, Fla., 47 and New Orleans, La., a chilly 43.

But the Midwest and Plains States had almost toposat weather compared with the persistent deep freeze of the past several weeks.

It even looked like the temperature might get above freezing in snow-buried Chicago which has been the center of a snow-freeze-snow cycle for the past three weeks.

The city, choked with a record total 47.3-inch snowfall since the cycle began, called out its civil defense forces yesterday to dig the city out of its mountainous blanket of snow.

The West Coast, particularly northern California, had rain and warm weather troubles, however. Melting snow from the mountains and continued heavy rains swelled rivers in the area and floods were threatened on the Eel, Sacramento and Russian Rivers. Fort Bragg, Calif., had 3.68 inches of rain in 24 hours.

Landslides blocked Highway 101 near Willis, Calif., and halted rail traffic over the Western Pacific's tracks near Eureka, Calif.

Two feet of water covered some highways in the area and the

Texans Warned To Comply With New Safety Law

AUSTIN, Dec. 28 (UP)—Texas drivers were warned last night to "either live up to the state's new safety responsibility law and stay on the road, or you don't and get off the road."

The warning was sounded by Public Safety Director Homer Garrison, Jr., in a radio address originating in Austin.

The law, which requires the operator or owner of every vehicle involved in an accident which results in death or injury to a person, or property damage in excess of $100, to furnish evidence that he is able to meet claims for damage up to $15,000, goes into effect Jan. 1.

Garrison said the new law will be enforced "without fear or favor," and added, "it allows no room for quibbling or compromise. You either live up to it and stay on the road, or you don't and get off the road."

He also described in the broadcast how a motorist could have his operator's license and registration plates reinstated if they were suspended under the law.

Garrison said an official leaflet explaining the law's principal provisions in detail is available without cost at service stations in the state.

weather bureau said more rain was on its way. Weathermen said that the long overdue warm spell should last at least two days. It crept up from the Southwest and was moving east, they said.

The forecasters said it would move into the East and rout the cold weather there by late tomorrow.

Chicago's snow problem remained in the emergency classification. The city council decided to pass a $150,000 appropriation to pay for new snow removal equipment and employees to maintain it.

The eastbound warm front forced thermometers to climb fast as it shoved out the cold air in its path.

Spencer, Ia., had 25 below zero yesterday. Early today the temperature was up to 10 above and climbing fast. Temperature rises in the West were up to 35 degrees in many locations.

Services Are Announced For Lamar Baptist

Rev. Truman Walker, pastor of North Lamar Baptist church has announced as his subject for the Sunday night service, "How God Has Blessed the North Lamar Baptist Church During 1951."

Services will begin at 7 o'clock and the public is invited to attend this and all other services.

He believed the American people have been amazed and dispirited by revelations of corruption among some federal officials.

"In my own views," he said, "any misdeed, corruption, flouting of government funds or use of a government position for the enrichment of individuals or officials is an act of treachery to the government of the United States."

"These traitors must be sought out and not only discharged from places of trust, but prosecuted in the courts wherever they have violated the laws."

On other things Connally said:

ALL FOR LOVE—Luciano Negrini, 42, and his bride, the former Claire Mary Young, 21, of Chicago, Ill., leave the Milan, Italy City Hall after their marriage in a civil ceremony. The groom, a former priest who broke his vows, and the bride, who renounced her American citizenship earlier this year, were automatically excommunicated from the Roman Catholic Church. (NEA Telephoto).

Senator Connally Would Shut Off Relation With Hungarians

HOUSTON, Dec. 28 (UP)—Sen. Tom Connally today called for an economic boycott of Hungary and a severance of diplomatic relations with that nation because of its imprisonment of four American fliers.

Describing Hungary as a "bandit state," the veteran Texas-Senator asserted that he was opposed to paying any blackmail or tribute to the nation.

Then he added emphatically: "We might as well let these totalitarian states know that the United States does not propose to let them transgress international law and follow out criminal policies against American citizens."

"We cannot tolerate this kind of blackmail by bandit states," Connally called Washington's decision to pay the $120,000 fine assessed by the Hungarian government "most unfortunate."

In Houston for a Christmas visit with his son, Federal District Judge Ben C. Connally, the Senator refused to discuss political issues, adding that would come in due time.

He did, however, call for a thorough housecleaning of "unworthy" federal officials, whom he called traitors to the government and their prosecution if laws have been violated.

Korean Fighting Is For Keeps As 30 Day Truce Ends

By Warren F. Franklin
United Press Staff Correspondent
8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Dec. 28 (UP)—United Nations forces, fighting "for keeps" in below-zero weather, today recaptured an advance position following a three-day battle in which the Allied outpost was cut off temporarily.

In the air, American Sabrejets outnumbered 3-to-1, shot down one of more than 70 Communist MIG-15 fighters in a 20-minute battle over North Korea. It was the third MIG shot down in two days compared with no UN losses.

Allied infantrymen this morning regained a hill on the eastern front in a fierce see-saw battle that began Christmas day with a Chinese attack. An 8th Army operations officer said the battle was the largest Communist action since Nov. 27, when the temporary truce line was drawn on the maps at Panmunjom.

However, on the first full day since the 30-day truce line agreement expired, neither side showed any willingness to launch a large-scale attack. Any ground captured now may be held since the agreement obligating a return to the Nov. 27 positions under an armistice has expired.

He is devoted to economy and expects to vote on every occasion to see that unnecessary expenditures are eliminated.

He has always supported the oil depletion allowance in the tax laws.

Dallas Boy May See Dream Fulfilled Soon

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (UP)—An 11-year-old Dallas, grammar school student arrived today on his way to Paris, where he hopes to shake hands with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and convince him he should run for president of the United States.

Stephen West, smallest boy in his seventh grade class, took off from Dallas Love Field yesterday on the first leg of the "dream" flight with his mother, Mrs. E. A. Adam, a secretary.

Mrs. Adam said she bought tickets for the Texas-to-Paris flight with money she had saved from her salary because Stephen "idolizes the general and has dreamed of meeting him."

"I really like Ike," Stephen said after his plane landed at Laguardia Field. "I hope I'll get a chance to meet him."

Stephen said he was almost certain that Eisenhowers aides would arrange a hand-pumping

Knife Tossing Intruder Jailed

EDINBURG, Dec. 28 (UP)—Tito Guizar of McAllen, accused of forcing an Edinburg family to hide him from police and then amusing himself by throwing a knife at the baby's crib, began serving a six-month sentence today for carrying the weapon.

Assistant District Attorney Dave Harger said Guizar forced the family to hide him and throw a knife so it would stick in their baby's cardboard crib. The child's mother attracted the attention of a passerby who notified police.

Suicide Ruled

HOUSTON, Dec. 28 (UP)—Lee Henry Fein, 31, shot and killed himself in Memorial Park yesterday, Justice of the Peace Tom Maes ruled today.

In reconstructing the suicide, Maes said Fein apparently walked into dense woods in the park, folded his jacket into a pillow, lay down beside a log and shot himself through the heart.

A native of Lagrange, Fein came here about nine months ago. A note he wrote to Miss Rose Marie Bordovaky, a friend, said the doctors had told him he did not have long to live.

Juvenile Gives Up After Weds. Robbery Spree

DALLAS, Dec. 28 (UP)—A 19-year-old juvenile offender who staged a series of holdups Wednesday and escaped from the last in a flurry of gunshots was in jail here today after giving himself up to Sheriff Bill Decker.

Ernest Lloyd Beshers of Mesquite, suffering from two bullet wounds in his back, walked into the sheriff's office and admitted the holdups yesterday without explaining his act. He gave officers a cigar box containing $97, all that remained nearly $800 taken in the three robberies.

Beshers' wounds were treated at Parkland Hospital, then he was returned to jail. Decker said a "big chunk" of the youth's hair was cut off by a shot which grazed his scalp.

Decker said the youth took a car from a used car lot Wednesday morning, held up milk deliveryman Clarence Williams just outside Dallas in the afternoon, taking $112, and finished up the day with two hijackings on East Grand which netted him almost $600 more.

At Lougs Drive-In Grocery, William Douglas, an employe fired one shot as the bandit drove off. At the drive-in liquor store, four blocks away, owner John Carcelli fired 16 shots from an Army carbine at the departing car after the bandit ordered Carcelli and his father-in-law Frank Lanni to "turn your faces to the wall and don't look at me."

Officers found the bullet-riddled car abandoned an hour later. Fifteen of Carcelli's shots had hit the car, officers said.

Production Of Poultry Will Rise Next Year

The poultry industry can expect another banner year in 1952 according to latest figures of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Increased production of eggs and broilers is expected and turkey production may exceed the 1951 level, which was a record high. Indications are that the strong demand for poultry products will continue and prices are expected to average about the same.

While the total value of poultry products in 1952 may be as much as 5 per cent higher than the estimated $4 billion for 1951, costs will also rise and net returns to producers may be a little lower.

Commercial broiler production will probably continue its long-time increase, assisted by the new aureomycin-vitamin B-12 feed supplement, which helps bring birds to maturity faster and on less feed. Broilers today are supplying almost half of the nation's chicken meat, compared to a negligible amount 15 years ago.

Turkey growers are expected to raise more small birds, which are proving popular and economical for year-round use. A record 52.8 million turkeys were produced in 1951, and indications are that the production of small and large turkeys will increase in 1952.

Bleeding Man Found In Barn

HUMBLE, Dec. 28 (UP)—A man who identified himself as H. V. Stripling, 66, of Nacogdoches was found today lying in a dairy barn near Humble, bleeding from a head wound.

The man was found by Henry Choseo, owner of the dairy, who notified deputy sheriff Roy Bass of Humble.

Stripling said he had been hit in the head and thrown out of a car by two men who had given him a ride from Nacogdoches after they learned he had no money.

Vacuum Cleaners Aid In Defense

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP)—California's civil defense secret weapon is the vacuum cleaner.

The state office of civil defense has installed 19 ordinary vacuum cleaners with filters up and down California's 400-mile long coast as part of a warning system against radioactive dust.

The vacuum cleaners are mounted at airports, industrial plants, business buildings and even homes. All 20 feet above ground to avoid street dust.

The defense office said the dust-catchers will stay in operation during atomic tests at Frenchmans flat in Nevada. After atom explosions there, a radioactive cloud of a non-harmful variety was found floating over California.

Only oldtime golfers still call a golf course a "links." A links, or linkland, is a stretch of sandy soil deposited by the ocean. The word's origin, as applied to golf, is St. Andrews' Old Course, shrine of the game. St. Andrews is not a made course, says Herbert Warren Wind in the January Reader's Digest. It was always there—on the natural linkland that fringes the Scottish coast.

This Model Plane Beat Russia

Washington, D. C.—The model airplane which ended Russia's monopoly of the model aviation scene twenty-eight months ago and brought a world's record to the United States for the first time has gone on display in the Smithsonian Institution, where it joins such famous planes as the Wright Brothers' Kitty Hawk, the Spirit of St. Louis, the Winnie Mae, and other history-making craft. R. C. Somerville, left, general sales manager of Plymouth Motor Corporation, is shown above presenting the plane to Paul Garber, curator of the Smithsonian's National Air Museum. Somerville announced that youngsters will have another opportunity to try for world records at Plymouth's Sixth International Model Plane contest at Detroit next August. Details of the contest will be announced soon.

Roughage For Emergencies Is Discovered

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 28 — Texas livestock men are searching far and wide for roughages to feed their cattle this winter. They have been importing hay from the Midwest since last July. This search has uncovered several emergency roughage materials. Some of these are low in quality but may be used if fed with other roughages of higher quality and a protein supplement such as cottonseed meal.

John H. Jones, animal husbandman with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, reports that corn-cob-and-husk meal, ground peanut hulls, dehydrated green cotton stalks and gin trash are some of the emergency roughages now being fed.

The gin trash being used is free of dirt and consists of cotton burs leaf trash, small amounts of immature seed and lint. Samples of gin trash have shown from 8 to 12 percent crude protein.

"Most of the corn cobs and shucks in Central Texas have been ground into meal for roughage," says Jones. "Although this feed has a low protein content, it has more fattening value than most of the other emergency roughages. It makes a good bulky kind of feed, suitable as a carrier for cottonseed meal."

Ground peanut hulls are low in protein and very high in crude fiber. Grinding improves the hulls for feeding, and they may be used as part of the filler for cattle. A commonly used mixture consists of 40 percent ground peanut hulls, 40 percent cottonseed hulls and 20 percent cottonseed meal.

One of the most promising emergency roughages is dehydrated green cotton stalks. The preparation of this material resulted from a scarcity of alfalfa for dehydration and the urgent need for feed. Green, leafy cotton stalks were available, and Joe Varisco of College Station was able to prepare a small tonnage of dehydrated cotton stalk material before frost.

Analysis of a sample of the dehydrated cotton stalks at the State Chemists Laboratory showed a crude protein content of 10.35 percent and a nitrogen-free extract content of 45.66 percent. The material has good quality, color and smell.

Varisco gave several sacks of the dehydrated stalks to the Experiment Station. J. E. Roberts, superintendent of the Main Station Farm at College Station, reports that cattle eat the material very readily.

Time To Prune Your Orchard

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 29 — Next year's fruit crop depends to a large degree on the care given the trees during the dormant season. One of the orchard jobs that shouldn't be neglected, according to J. E. Hutchinson, horticulturist for the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, is the annual pruning and it should be done during the next few weeks.

A lot of equipment isn't needed but essential tools include a pair of long handled pruning shears, a 14-inch briar tooth saw and a pair of hand pruning shears. Be sure the tools are sharp, says the specialist, before starting the job.

Fruit trees, says Hutchinson, are pruned to stimulate new growth for next year's fruit to grow on. Pruning also keeps the trees down to handling dimensions. It is much easier to harvest the fruit from properly pruned trees and he points out that fruit needs sunshine to ripen as it should, and pruning allows the sunlight to reach the ripening fruit.

Hutchinson also points out that the tops should be cut back to balance with the root system on tree set this winter. This practice of balancing tops and roots will insure better growth and a better tree later.

Pruning, he says, also gives the orchardist a chance to remove dead or diseased limbs and branches from the trees and to check each tree for insects and diseases that might otherwise go unnoticed.

Fires-Accidents Raise Death Rate To 139 In Texas

B YUNITED PRESS
Fire took ten lives in Texas yesterday, but death on the highway brought the growing holiday casualty toll to 139 by this morning.

Eighty-three persons had been killed in traffic accidents since the count began at 6 p.m. Dec. 21. Fires had claimed 18 lives, and murder, suicide, drowning and other tragedies had killed 38.

Latest additions to the fatal list were two Marshall women who were killed near there early today when a car in which they were passengers collided with an empty bus.

Police identified the victims as Hazel Gertrude Gilstrap, 37, and Mildred W. Nelson. Their driver, Lewis F. Wardlow of Dallas, was treated for minor injuries, according to police.

One fire took five lives in Corsicana Thursday.

An oil stove exploded in the home of Joseph Parish, a negro day laborer, and flames killed five of his children from five months to 17 years old.

Four persons died in Ft. Worth from burns.

Mrs. Arline F. Johnson, a 35-year-old widow, was found suffocated in her home after a fire early yesterday morning.

J. C. Herod, a 54-year-old city street department employee, was burned to death in his bedroom late last night.

Six-year-old Judy Bishop died yesterday of burns received when a long dress she was wearing while "playing lady" caught fire Wednesday at her home.

Donald Ray Smith, a 16-month-old baby, was burned to death in his crib yesterday while his mother tried vainly to enter their flaming home to rescue him.

Fire took its other victim at Crowell. G. R. Smith, a house painter, was trapped in his room behind a hardware store. The flames destroyed three business houses, but Smith was the only casualty.

Texas Still In Need Of Soaking Rain USDA Says

AUSTIN, Dec. 28 (UP)—Texas still is in need of soaking rains, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said in its weekly crop bulletin today.

Light rains in the eastern and upper coastal counties brought some benefits, the USDA said, but there was little in last week's weather to brighten the crop outlook.

Cold windy weather limited most farmers and ranchers to necessary stock feeding and odd jobs, and low temperatures caused some damage to young oats in the northern and northeastern counties.

Damage to commercial vegetables from the cold spell was light. Some damage was suspected to cabbage and radishes in the coastal bend. In the Valley, harvesting of spinach, carrots, lettuce, tomatoes and peppers continued.

DALLAS—

(Continued From Page 1) session. He figured they must have wanted to meet someone like Babe Ruth or Tom Mix when they were little boys.

One of the items Mrs. Adam brought with her was a letter from Shape staff members, asking her to give them a telephone call as soon as she reaches Paris Sunday morning (10 a.m. Paris time).

The soft-spoken Mrs. Adam said she and Stephen would make a grand tour of Paris during their two-week trip.

"He especially wants to see Eiffel Tower," she said. "And we are going to see as much of New York as possible before we leave tomorrow afternoon."

Mrs. Adams said Eisenhower became Stephen's hero about two years ago when he started reading the front pages of the Dallas newspapers as well as the sports and comic pages.

Stephen said he agreed with all the grown-ups who want Eisenhower to run for president.

"I think he should be president," he said. "He's a good leader and gets along with people. He's honest and has a strong character. He's a good example for everybody to follow."

Mrs. Adam said neither she nor Stephen had slept on their flight from Dallas.

"Stephen was very much interested in flying and kept his eyes open all the way," she said.

On the first leg of the trip, from Dallas, to Chicago, Stephen walked excitedly up and down the aisle of the airliner, Mrs. Adam said. He calmed down long enough to eat dinner.

RELEASED—

Abbott tried in vain all day yesterday, however, to obtain the airmen's freedom. He called twice at the Hungarian foreign office, but each time was put off with reached on the American offer word that no decision had been to pay the $120,000 in fines.

Finally the foreign office summoned Abbott to appear at 11 a.m. today (5 a.m. EST) and indicated it would hand over the Hungarian reply at that time.

Meantime, wives of two of the imprisoned airmen waited tensely in an apartment living room in Erding, the fliers' home base, for word of their husbands' release.

Mrs. Ruth Duff, German wife of T-Sgt. Duff, moved in yesterday with Mrs. Florence Henderson, wife of the transport's pilot, so that they might share the anxious vigil.

"I'm staying right here until I get word Jess is out of Hungary," blonde Mrs. Duff said as she sat by the telephone.

Mrs. Henderson agreed.

The Air Force plans to fly the two wives to Weisbaden for a reunion with their husbands.

The Illinois Agricultural Association claims to be the largest state farm organization in the United States, with 183,721 members.
