Fort Worth To Send Group To Eastland Mon.

Eastland will be visited at noon Tuesday by a group of 35 Fort Worth business men traveling by chartered bus to extend to this town a special invitation to the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show.

The show opens Friday and will run through February 3.

The delegation, preceded by a station wagon of western entertainers, will stop in Eastland for luncheon with the Eastland Lions Club.

Sponsors of the trip are six Fort Worth Lions Clubs. Trip chairmen are Joe Richker, Roy Sawyer, Allen Johnson, Curby Mike, Claude S. Walker and J. M. Pennebaker.

The trip was planned by Charles F. Williams of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce Good Will Committee and Charles G. Cotten of the Chamber of Commerce.

Towns in the order they will be visited are: Weatherford, 8:30 a. m.; Mineral Wells, 9:15; Paic Pinto, 9:50; Strawn, 10:30; Ranger, 11:05; and Eastland, 11:35 a. m.

Cisco, 1:50 p. m., a brief stop at Moran, Albany, 3:05 p. m., and Breckenridge, 4:05 p. m.

Oldsmobile Be Seen Thurs. At Osborne Motor

Oldsmobile's 1952 line of cars will be introduced to the public on Thursday, January 24, according to John Osborne, Osborne Motor Co. There will be a representative display of the 1952 models at Osborne Motor Co.

Styling and mechanical improvements will be outstanding in the 1952 Oldsmobile cars, including new Hydra-Matic Drive, according to advance information from J. F. Wolfram, Oldsmobile general manager and vice president of General Motors. Working within material and tooling limitations, Oldsmobile engineers have achieved real results in appearance and performance, Wolfram stated.

All these 1952 model changes are designed to enhance the comfort and the beauty of the Oldsmobile while, at the same time, making it easier for the motorist behind the wheel. Whether it be on the highway or in crowded city traffic, the 1952 Oldsmobile will perform up to new high standards, according to Wolfram.

March Of Dimes Drive Making Fair Headway

Miniature "Iron Lungs" placed in various business houses in Eastland, are slowly being filled. Those in charge of the "March of Dimes" drive here seem to be pleased, so far, though Eastland has many dollars to raise before her goal is reached.

The "Christmas Cheer Fund" of the Telegram has been passed on to this worthy cause, and one of the lungs was enriched by $5.10. The Christmas drive was cancelled shortly after it was announced, so as not to conflict with other organizations, but about a tea-cupful of dimes and pennies found their way into our jars. Now they are in an iron lung.

Korean Truce Negotiations Appear To Be Near Climax

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Jan. 19 (UP)—Korean armistice talks reached a new crisis today and there was speculation that the Reds might break them off.

The negotiations reached their lowest ebb since last summer with these rapid-fire developments:

1. The Communists charged in a "grave protest" that U. S. jet planes machine-gunned a marked Red truce delegation convoy on the Pyongyang-Kaesong highway yesterday. The U. N. promised a full investigation.

2. Communist newsmen Alan Winnington, a sort of unofficial

Water District Should Include Eastland, Claim

Right now the main reason you should pay your poll tax is that there is an election coming up on January 31st.

This election will decide whether we wish to join hands with Ranger, and possibly Cisco, too, and arrange for an abundant water supply for the county. Ranger has a charter and is ready to go, but has invited her sister cities to come in with her. It will cost very little more to arrange a water supply for the entire county than it will for one city, and also the cost would be split two or three ways, assuring a nominal cost for all.

The proposition before us, right now, is that of voting to join with Ranger in the Water Supply District. At this time Ranger comprises the district, though the charter can be amended to include Eastland. Let's accept the offer.

3 MYF Meetings Be Held Monday

Methodist youth of the Cisco District will meet in three sub-district MYF meetings Monday evening at 7:30. Local Methodist youth and their adult workers will attend the meeting at the First Methodist church in Ranger. A special program of worship, fellowship, and refreshments will be given.

The annual MYF banquet of the Cisco District Methodist youth will be held in March, according to announcement by Rev. J. Morris Bailey.

Hospital Workers Daily Report

Workers reporting for work on the Eastland Memorial hospital Friday evening were Bruce Butler, L. E. McGraw, Wayne Jackson, Bill White, Verner Chambers, Homer Smith, Don Smith, Dr. James C. Whittington, J. O. Thompson, Neal Seaborn, and Dick Whittington.

The hosting committee were Meses. Bill Hoffmann, Bill Collins, and J. R. Phillips.

Attendance Of Church Great Need In U.S.A.

The subject for the morning worship service at the First Christian Church will be "Proving Truth". The subject for the evening service will be "A Concern for Souls".

Our constitution says that no one can be denied the right to worship God. According to the constitution every child has the right to learn about God, to hear the Bible Stories, to be taught the Christian Way of Life.

But here's the difficulty, while the government can't deny a child the right to attend church school and church — THE PARENTS CAN. They can rob a child of its most sacred rights by just neglecting its spiritual needs.

Did you know that about half the children in America are growing up without religious training? And yet there is a church in every town! Instead of talking about juvenile delinquency, we ought to crowd our churches with children—and parents! We ought to start Sunday.

Come to church, the friendly church with a spiritual message.

Methodists To Hear Leslie W. Seymour Sun.

Rev. Leslie W. Seymour, superintendent of the Cisco District of the Methodist Church, will speak Sunday morning at the 10:50 worship service of the First Methodist church, according to an announcement by the pastor, Rev. J. Morris Bailey.

The chancel choir, under the direction of Mrs. Cyrus B. Frost, Jr., will sing the anthem "Give Ear To My Words, O Lord" by Rogers. Mrs. J. P. Kilgore, organist, will play "Peace" by Kern and "Devotion's Hour" by Nolte.

Sunday evening at 7:30 worship service the pastor will preach on the subject "Evidences of Christian Loyalty." Frank T. Crowell will lead the congregational singing and the men's choir will sing. Mrs. T. J. Haley will play for the service.

Sunday school meets at 9:45 and the evening youth groups meet at 6:30.

Payments Poll Tax Very Slow

If you haven't paid your poll tax, now is the accepted time!

This is presidential election year. It is state and county election year. It is water district election year, and maybe a lot of other elections that we don't know anything about at this time, so pay your POLL TAX.

To date only 2,335 citizens have paid in Eastland, though there are some books out at Ranger, Cisco and Rising Star, where people may make payments. In all probability this would raise the total to some 2,600. Pay your's today.

New Yorker To Build Hotel On Indian Camp Site

ANADARKO, Okla., Jan. 19 (UP)—Logan Billingsley, New York real estate broker who first saw this "Indian capital of the world" from a covered wagon with his parents in 1901, has announced he will build a 200-room million-dollar hotel here "for sentimental reasons."

Billingsley, brother of New York Stock Club owner Sherman Billingsley, said the idea for the project came to him last summer when Anadarko's annual American Indian Exposition attracted thousands of visitors. Billingsley was one of them.

He warned that the plan will flop unless citizens "modernize" and "advertise." Now, said Billingsley, whenever he praises the place, people ask her "where the hell is Anadarko."

In an article in yesterday's Telegram it was stated that Conoh Hooker predicted victory for the basketball boys. This was a misstatement and we hasten to make correction.

Congress Argues Over How To Cut Truman's Budget

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (UP)—A new row broke out in Congress today over the best way to cut President Truman's expected budget of more than $80,000,000 for the next fiscal year.

The budget for fiscal 1953 will be sent to Capitol Hill Monday. But arguments already were raging over the best way to handle it.

Two of the most powerful men in Congress—Speaker Sam Rayburn and a d chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.) of the House Appropriations committee—took opposite sides.

Cannon wants to put the entire federal spending program in a single bill for Congress to consider in one package. He argued that this would save both time and money.

Rayburn insists on sticking to the traditional method of putting each government department's money in a separate bill. Rayburn went along with Cannon in trying the one-package approach two years ago but vowed then he wouldn't do it again.

The Texas Democrat contended that the one-package bill did not promote economy of time or money.

Cannon quietly called a meeting of his committee yesterday with the idea of getting it to okay a one package plan again. Presumably he wanted to get the committee to vote before Rayburn found out what was going on.

But one of the speaker's friends on the committee tipped Rayburn off and, it was learned, he soon had enough support lined up to defeat Cannon's move. Cannon called off the committee meeting.

"There's plenty of time yet," Cannon told reporters. "I took a plebiscite and found that a majority of the Democrats on the committee wanted the single bill this year."

Broilers For County Goal Of Poultrymen

A second meeting within the week has been called by County Agent J. M. Cooper, for poultrymen and others interested in the production of broilers, to meet at the Courthouse on the 29th of January, to perfect plans for this industry.

Eastland county was at one time known as the egg basket of Texas, but during recent years there has been a slump in the production of poultry and poultry products here. Interest is being shown at this time, and if present plans go through the production of broilers on a large scale may be realized this year.

At this time there is only one large dressing plant here, but another could be arranged for within a very short time, it has been pointed out. Large packers are also interested in live birds, and might be interested in buying the Eastland County crop in this manner.

Olden Hornets Take Two Games

The Olden Hornets, boys and girls, went all out last night to take two fast games from Scranton. The girls' game appeared to be most anybody's game all the way through, with only one or two points margin for either club. Time ran out with the Hornets one point in the lead. Score, Olden 17 and Scranton 16.

The boys game was another close one with the Hornets slipping by their opponents to take a count of Olden 40 and Scranton 38. The game was fast and rough with two good clubs out for a win, and with every boy who saw action doing himself proud.

Presbyterians Announce Their Sermon Subject

Regular services will be conducted at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday. Subject for the Sunday evening service will be "Things That Hinder Most." The pastor, M. P. Elder, will speak.

Milton Fullen Buys Chevrolet Business Here

It is no longer Lamb Motor Co., but Fullen Motor Co., Eastland Chevrolet dealers. As a matter of fact this has been true since the first of the year when Mr. Lamb sold the business to Milton Fullen. Mr. Lamb has purchased the Chevrolet Agency in Snyder.

With one exception the front office will not be changed. H. E. Hickman, resigned here and went with Mr. Lamb to Snyder. The shop personnel will not be changed.

Mr. Fullen is not a stranger in Eastland, as he has been a resident of Eastland for more than 20 years. In 1939 he established the Fullen Plumbing Appliance Co. and operated the business until he entered the services of Uncle Sam in 1945. He returned a year later and reopened the business. Later he was associated with Mr. Lamb in the Frigidaire business.

He is showing the new 1952 Chevrolet today, and invites the public to visit the place at their earliest opportunity. He will continue to sell new and used cars and do a general repair business.

Zone Rally Be At Nazarene Church Sunday

The Ranger zone of the Church of the Nazarene is having its quarterly rally today and tonight at the Church of the Nazarene, located at West Main and Connelley Sts. At the 2:30 service Rev. J. E. Perryman of Mineral Wells will speak. Supper will be served at 6 p. m. followed by the evening service at 7:30 at which time Rev. Douglas Roach of Dallas will speak. Various phases of the church work will be discussed in the afternoon with the night emphasis being on the young people work.

The pastor, Rev. William C. Emberton, says, "There will be several special songs and musical numbers in the course of the service. We invite all our friends to attend the night service and help Eastland win the banner."

NO FEDERAL AID

I saw men and women building a hospital in Eastland, Tex., an unorthodox community achievement.

The hospital is being erected without federal or state financial aid and no bonds were sold to raise the money. Though built through the cooperation of a citizenship, the venture will not be a cooperative, and when the $125,000 structure is completed it will be deeded by the people to the city.

This memorial hospital was initiated by the Women's Civic League and Garden Club of Eastland. The building site had been contributed and at the time I was there, about $50,000 had been donated in small amounts. Men and women were working without pay, under the supervision of an architect and a foreman. After work hours, on holidays and at all hours of the night, volunteers could be seen on the job contributing of their time in a labor of love to this community project—bricklayers, masons, carpenters and painters.

Equipment was bought from a closed hospital at Kigore—$50,000 worth for $8,000—and this was being scraped and reamended by the Eastland Hospital Volunteer Workers' Association. An operating fund is being collected by water users contributing $1.00 per month per water meter.

Eastlanders believe in the adage: "If you pay as you go, you won't be sorry you went."

Eastland Masonic Lodge Celebrates Its 75th Anniversary At Party

By H. P. Fentecost
Eastland Lodge Number 467 celebrated its 75th Anniversary with a party December 20th at the Masonic Hall.
Bill Jessop, master, called the meeting to order and introduced, Judge V. T. Seaberry, who acted as master of ceremonies, gave a resume of the colorful history of the lodge and introduced Brother Charley Cluck, who gave the invocation, for the beautiful meal prepared for the occasion. Brother Cluck is Grand Chaplin of the Royal Ach Chapter of Texas.
In Mr. Seaberry's talk on the lodge's history he introduced Brother Earl Conner, who is the oldest past master of the lodge and is one of the two members, who have been presented 50 year pins.

He then presented Brother C. S. Woodward and Mrs. Woodward of the home for aged Masons at Arlington. They were accompanied by Mrs. Jim Ewing who gave an account of life as lived by the occupants of the home.
Brother Woodward introduced Brother James, past high priest of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Texas, speaker of the evening, who told of the life in the home and of the work of Mr. and Mrs. Woodward. Members of the orchestra were introduced and accompanied Mrs. Woodward who sang as part of the evening's entertainment.
The meat was served by the ladies of the eastern Star. A very enjoyable time was reported.

Texas Authors To Be Guests Of San Antonio Club

Mecca for Texas Authors will be the Plaza Hotel, San Antonio headquarters for the third annual Texas Authors' Day, sponsored by the San Antonio Manuscript Club.
According to Virginia Taylor, Director, the two-day conference program is being carefully planned to be of maximum value both to the conscientious beginner and to the "arrived" writer.
Highlights of the session will be the Award Banquet, April 19, when $300 in cash prizes will be awarded the winners in seven contest categories, ranging from single poems to book-length fiction and non-fiction. All contest entries must be postmarked not later than March 1, must be unpublished material and must be accompanied by the contest entry blank, available at Texas Authors' Day Offices, 633 Bedford Building, San Antonio.
The two-day conference will open with Poets' Luncheon, April 19, at which time guests will be invited to read original verse up to 20 lines in length.

Outstanding writers, editors and teachers who can give the maximum stimulation to beginning writers and fresh viewpoints to those already publishing are being selected as speakers for the Friday and Saturday sessions.
Since the two-day conference immediately precedes San Antonio's annual Fiesta, those planning to stay over for that event should make reservations as soon as possible according to Martha Crawford, president of the Manuscript Club.
Punctuality Kills
TORONTO, Jan. 19 (UP)—John Virgint's lifelong passion punctuality killed him.
The 68-year-old employe of a moving firm had a perfect record for getting to work on time. Yesterday, however, he was delayed by a strike of local bus and street-car operators.
Unable to get a lift, Virgint ran. He collapsed enroute. Seconds before he died he murmured "I shouldn't have run."
The Ryukyus islands now have more fire-fighting equipment than at any other time in their history, due to the $147,000 GARIOA program.

POTPOURI AND WORSE

By Major Hoopie McCorkle
Telegram Philosopher

By the time our customers read this item Eastland County should be as wet as California, and that is really wet. They have had more rain out there in the last six weeks than they have had in the last decade. And the funny thing is—they didn't want it and are as mad as a nest of disturbed hornets. Out there they don't know that water is good for anything but to wash their feet in, and most of them use the Pacific Ocean for that.

They make a lot of noise out there about their fine fruits and vegetables. They got along with this bluff for many years, but when they got to bringing too much, we began cleaning up and working our citrus orchards down here in Texas, and since that time even Californians eat Texas grapefruit when they can get it. Of course they won't let Texas grapefruit be shipped into that state, so it is necessary for them to leave home to get the Texas product.

Up in Chicago they serve Texas grapefruit at the table and sell the California product to feed mills who in turn spike chicken feed with it. Poor hens, and they can't help it. The California product resembles Texas grapefruit in only one way—both are round. In taste there is as much difference as there is between rye water and sweet nectar. The California grapefruit is yellow on the outside, but the cost for hand picking them eats up all the profit. Texas fruit is sold in its original sell without coloring. After all it is the juice, and not the peel that people are interested in when they buy grapefruit.

California also boasts her spuds. Some of them are pretty good, but not as good as those we are going to grow this year. While we have never had any experience in the potato growing business we know we can't fail. All you do, they tell me, is dig up the ground and drop little chunks of spuds in a hole. Cover the chunk with about 6 inches of dirt and you are ready to go fishing. Later get somebody to plow them up for you, and if you are any farmer at all, your 10 by 20 garden should produce at least a ton of No. 1 potatoes, which at prevailing prices would net you about $200.00.

Of course the Californians say they do much better than this, but as we have never had anyone to prove it to us, we hold our doubts.

All we can say is if they can do it in California, we can do it much better in Texas.

A fellow from Carbon brought us a turnip a while back. It weighed 17 pounds. It was grown out in the orchard under a peach tree and got very little sunshine. If California can beat this, we will produce something they can't produce.

They do have pretty flowers out there, but who wants to eat flowers? In Texas we have quit "scabbing" on the florists and buy our flowers from them. By doing this we enable the florist to eat, and we have more land for crab grass, and similar products, that grow without any effort on our part.

Our garden is about 50 feet square, and is well seasoned with Johnson grass and other alien plants. Our neighbors say it will be a fight to the finish. We are to be referee, and it will be our duty to see that this Johnson grass never gets more than one foot taller than the potatoes. If it does it means, good bye spuds.

We will also plant a few tomatoes, beans, peas, radishes, chard, and a lot more onions. The only thing that is worrying us now is a market for our produce. Maybe we can get some big concern to locate here with a branch house large enough to care for our needs. Of course there is no doubt but we will succeed, even if we have to import a gallon or so of California irrigation compound. That stuff will make bark grow on a radish and corns and bunions on a cantaloupe. One good swig of it will fix you to where you will never drink again, and they won't even have to embalm you, when you die, and you most surely will—promptly.

We thought for a while we would get a bunch of geese to keep the Johnson grass down, but after pricing them we decided bullets get-away. We will leave in such haste that a tank will be paved out where the garden and grass once stood. We don't like snakes and when we get scared, we get scared.

If a snake should move in on us, and we see him first, he won't have any shade after we make our get-away. We will leave in such haste that a tank will be paved out where the garden and grass once stood. We don't like snakes and when we get scared, we get scared.

We have been working on this stuff for an hour and it hasn't rained yet, but it will. We feel it in our bones, and they never let us down. So go right ahead and fix up for a vegetable garden, for you are going to need it. With $6 spuds and bull beef at a dollar a pound, our only salvation is going to be home grown turnip greens. Of course as long as we can buy red beans at 6 for a quarter, we can have a little bean soup. Of course if you try to make a gallon of soup with just two beans, you can't expect much. We have an old rooster down at the house that we are saving for hard times. If had comes to worse we will get him a small pair of rubber boots and allow him to jump in our bean soup a couple of times and then we can call it chicken soup. Unless the bean soup is too hot, the old rooster will last indefinitely, and will give a delicate, rubberish flavor.

We are mentioning these things so you will know what to do in case we draw another drouth. But it is going to rain.

"Take Mine For Example . . ."

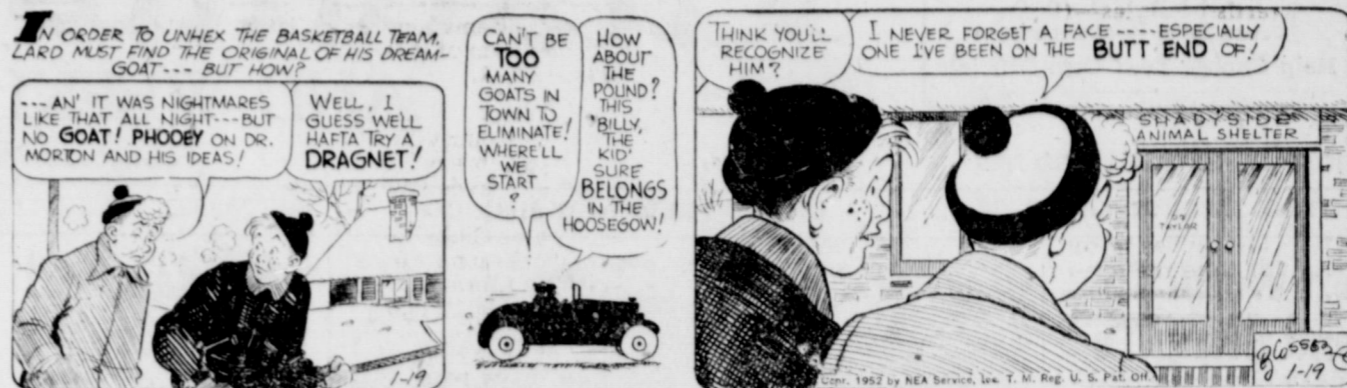

ENID, Okla., Jan. 19 (UP)—Municipal Judge Doug McKeever reprimanded his old friend, Dr. Fred Entriaken, for allowing his driver's license to expire.

"It's easy to remember your license renewal date," McKeever scolded. "The licensed expires on your birth month every two years. Take mine for example," he illustrated. "It expires . . ."

The judge got up and accompanied Entriaken to highway patrol headquarters to take the new examination with him. His own license had expired last July.

Coffee Essential To Entertainment Of "His" Friends

Soner or later, every married woman must face the determined and rather defiant announcement by her husband that he is having a couple of friends over for supper. Spoken in a certain tone this clearly means a stag party for a change—all with all of the talk concentrated on sports, business, and politics, and none at all touching on fashions or gossip.

If the wife is smart, she'll cater to this occasional declaration of independence with a special kind of entertaining, and thus win the everlasting gratitude of her mate. To make it special, however, the following pointers should be kept in mind.

The first certainty about a man's kind of meal is that it should be kept simple, with plenty of well-seasoned filling food, but no fuss and bother, no dainty dishes, and above all, no fancy frills.

Second, it should be informal, with nothing in the table setting, the menu, or the accommodations to suggest that he hour was intended for anything but relaxation and easy conversation—or "bull session" as the boys call it.

Third, the coffee should be brewed to perfection, fresh and strong, with a good reserve supply for as many helpings as the guests might want. The husband's capacity is a known factor, but hearty coffee - drinkers among men have been known to drink a quart or so in a single evening without looking like they've had nearly enough. The menfolk have no exclusive claim on this favorite drink, but coffee after the meal is one of the every-day pleasures practically all of them look forward to—so mark this point well.

Fourth, there should be plenty of ash trays, both on the table and the living room. And book matches for those pipes that never stay lit.

The selection of meat is no problem, but meat there must be. A

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Love not only makes the world go 'round. In the flicker city, they swear it creates actresses.

Find a girl in love, they say, and you will have one who is inspired before the cameras. For proof, they turn to a dozen recent examples.

Peggy Dow, for instance, is credited with her best work in the recently completed Samuel Goldwyn picture, "I Want You." While the cameras were turning and she went through the motions of love with her co-star, Farley Granger, she really was thinking of Oklahoma oil man Walter Helmerich. As soon as the film was finished, she married him.

Other Examples Cited
It was the same with Ruth Roman, who was deeply in love with Mort Hall while making "Strangers on a Train" and married him afterward, and with Doris Day in "On Moonlight Bay." The man in the case was Marty Melcher, now Miss Day's husband.

There are so many examples, it almost looks as if the way for a girl to get a husband is to fall in love while she makes a movie.

Kim Hunter gave a standout performance in "Streetcar Named Desire," while she was romantically interested in Broadway star Robert Emmet, and she now has marched him in front of the altar. Then there is Pricie Wymore, who made "Rocky Mountain" and married Errol Flynn.

Shelley Winter Watched
Exponents of the "love makes the actress" theory are keeping an eye on Shelly Winters' work in "The Untamed," made while her interest was centered on her current flame, Vittorio Gassman.

And if you ask for more proof they point to Mitzi Gaynor, who became a star with her first big role. She already was in love with Richard Coyle, whom she intends to marry a year hence when she is 21.

Lawrence Washington, a brother of Gen. George Washington, was a Marine officer in one of the three Marine regiments recruited in 1740.

WHAT'S NEW IN EROSION CONTROL
Latest results from experiments show that terraces should not be built in meadows and permanent pastures. Research men say that it is better to control erosion and excessive run-off of water by the use of cover crops and grass.
Where row crops are planted on slopes, the rows should always follow the contour of the land. Strip cropping will help to hold back the water and prevent erosion. Good farmers make the water walk off their land—they do not let it run.

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

TELEPHONE NEWS TO 601-223

Thursday Afternoon Club Present Program On "A Nation Grows Old"

Mrs. Fred Davenport was leader of a program entitled, "A Nation Grows Old", at the meeting of members of the Thursday Afternoon club Thursday at the woman's club.

Mrs. Harold Durham talked on "Gerontology" a new division of the G.F.W.C. which was followed by a skit entitled, "Living Later Years", portraying the life of very old ladies. The time of the play was present and the setting was in Washington, D. C. Parts were very realistically played by Meses. Earl Conner, Ben Hamner, D. L. Houle and Hubert Jones.

Mrs. Arthur Marrell, president, presided over the business session following which she introduced Mrs. Davenport, who in turn presented members of the cast.

Others present were Meses. J. Morris Bailey, Frank Castleberry, Frank Crowell, Cecil Collins, I.

C. Heck, Iral Inzer, W. P. Leslie, W. W. Linkenhogor, Milburn S. Long, Frank Lovett, Jack Muirhead, B. W. Patterson, Robert Perkins, E. R. Townsend, Dixie Williamson and Clyde Young.

The next meeting of the group will be February 7th at which time, Mrs. W. W. Linkenhogor will be the leader of a Civil Defense program.

Bible Study To Begin Monday

Members of the Fellowship Bible Class of First Christian church enjoyed an old time fish fry in the church annex Thursday night. Approximately 70 men were in attendance.

The group was served Norwegian Cold Water Cat fish, fried to a golden brown, by Chef Otto Marshall, assisted by Curtis Young, Jack Carothers, Pop Gaines and Cap Germany. The chef was formally dressed in white chef's cap and white trousers, and might have been mistaken for a chef at Del Monicoas.

The menu consisted of fish, potato chips, potato salad, ranch style beans, rye bread and coke and coffee, as was so informal the men actually enjoyed it.

Guests began arriving about 6:30, and at 7 they were seated for the feed. There was no program of any kind—just a feed and fellowship hour, enjoyed by class members and their friends. Some came dressed in their Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes, some in their shirt sleeves.

All were at liberty to leave at any time they wished, though several groups were still strolling at 10 o'clock.

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to thank our friends and customers, for the fine business we have enjoyed, and hope you will favor your new Chevrolet dealer, The Fullen Motor Co., with your continued patronage.

My best wishes for a successful future go to Mr. Fullen and his fine group of employees.

Friends Invited To Wedding And Reception

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hassell are issuing an invitation, via of the Telegram, to their friends to attend the wedding of their daughter, Linda to Mr. Gerald Stroud, which will be at 7 o'clock in the evening of Saturday, January 26 in the First Methodist church.

No invitations are being mailed locally and Mr. and Mrs. Hassell also want each of their friends to attend the reception, immediately following the ceremony, at the Woman's Club.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE
"Understanding is a wellspring of life unto him that hath it." (Proverbs 16:22), his Bible verse is the Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "LIFE" which will be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, January 20.

Further pointing out the importance of understanding God is this citation included in the Lesson-Sermon: "My son, attend to my words; incline thine ear unto my sayings. For they are life unto those that find them, and health to all their flesh" (Proverbs 4:20,22).

Mary Baker Eddy writes in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," "Be watchful, sober, and vigilant. The way is straight and narrow, which leads to the understanding that God is the only Life. It is a warfare with the flesh, in which we must conquer sin, sickness, and death, either here or hereafter,—certainly before we can reach the goal of Spirit, or life in God" (page 324).

Other Sunday guests in the Jones' home are Mrs. N. S. Par-tain and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Maddux and family of Dublin.

French Approve Radical Premier

PARIS, (UP)—Radical Socialist, Edgar Faure was approved by the National Assembly today and became the youngest French Premier in 50 years. The vote was 401 to 101.

The 43-year-old financial expert was supported by all parties in the assembly except the Communist bloc, which voted against him, and the rightwing followers of Gen. Charles De Gaulle, who abstained.

Faure began work immediately to form a government—the 15th in the less than six year existence of the fourth republic.

Ike Beats Taft In Unofficial Louisiana Race

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 19 (UP)—A republican faction made up of supporters of General Dwight D. Eisenhower defeated backers of Sen. Robert A. Taft (R. O.) in Louisiana's GOP primary election Tuesday, complete but unofficial returns showed today.

The new faction won 10 of 12 contested places on the republican state central committee and 15 of 20 seats on the powerful Orleans Parish (county) executive committee.

John E. Jackson, sparkplug of the Taft movement and GOP National Committeeman, lost his bid for a place on the executive committee, but won a place on the central committee.

Striking Color Harmonies Grace New Bel Air

Smart, new styling and improved performance add further distinction to the 1952 Chevrolet Bel Air. In appearance, the latest models are marked by vivid two-tone color combinations and luxurious interiors that make use of fine fabrics and harmonizing leather trim. Increased comfort through new engine mounts and modified shock absorbers and more responsive operation through carburetor changes are advances incorporated in all new Chevrolets. Optional Powerglide will carry an automatic choke.

Double-Duty Dimes

Patient care and professional education both were provided by the March of Dimes, as shown here. Richard Heimrich, 4, of St. Louis, is making a come-back on the road to health, with March of Dimes help, since he was stricken with polio in 1949. March of Dimes also provided a physical therapy scholarship for Margaret North, of Maplewood, Mo., shown attending Richard.

Among trees native to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park that attain record size are Canada hemlock, silverbell, red spruce, yellow hackeye, mountain ash, while laurel and rhododendron grow to three size here.

USDA Sets Milk Meeting; Abilene

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (UP)—The U. S. Department of Agriculture will hold a hearing Feb. 11, in Abilene, on a federal order to regulate the marketing of milk in Central Western Texas.

The hearing will be open to producers, processors and other persons concerned with the order, the USDA said.

More Beef For '52

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (UP)—A record number of cattle is being fed for market, promising more meat for consumers this spring and summer, the Agriculture Department reported today.

The department said 5,094,000 cattle were on feed Jan. 1, an increase of 11 percent over last year.

Scattered throughout 28 states, most of them many miles inland, coal mines have never required for defense the camouflaging and anti-aircraft protection necessary for other key industries.

New Chevrolet Being Shown In Eastland

A brilliant array of smart, new colors, a richness in passenger compartments never before achieved in the low-price field, an easier ride and readier power response headline an impressive list of advances in the 1952 Chevrolets.

Distinguished in styling and performance, the new Chevrolets meet in every respect the exacting standards that have won the company its dominating position in the automobile industry. In 1951 Chevrolet sold more cars than any other make for the twelfth consecutive peacetime year.

Specifically, the new models on display at Fullen Motor Co. showrooms offer:

Greater comfort through radically re-engineered power mountings and a re-design of shock absorbers.

Looking Back on 1951—
... the inventory shows that the scales weighed out a good portion of the better things for us to enjoy. While the mistakes we made stick out like a sore finger and our failures almost overwhelm us, yet these discouragements are small indeed compared to the unhappiness and tragic experiences of some who happen to live in other countries. We are glad we live here where we have had the opportunity to serve a host of loyal customers for more than a quarter century.
