Around The Square

With Mack

That sandstorm Sunday reminded us of old times, although the revised version has taken a lot of the sting out of these sandies. Another thing is that we are about a hundred miles too far East to enjoy the old aboriginal type to the fullest extent. We get them in a weakened down or modified form here in Eastland, and those of us who have enjoyed the genuine article, know that a sandstorm fashioned after Sunday's version, isn't much of a sandstorm.

We could smell the sand Sunday, and a small portion of Terry county dropped in our back yard, but we were not alarmed. What we got Sunday is known as "wind practice" out in West Texas. Usually there is a practice session for about two weeks, and after that somebody opens the gate and turns the breeze on full force.

When this is done everybody from Cape Cod to the Gulf of Mexico will know the wind is blowing and the sand is flowing. At times it is hard to tell where the ground level is, for the soil in the air may be as solid as that underfoot.

We have seen prairie dogs digging holes in the air. This was very difficult for the wind filled the new hole with sand almost as rapidly as the dog would dig.

Featherless hens are very popular in some sections we have visited. A good sand storm will pick a chicken clean. After several generations Mother Nature just quit growing feathers on these birds, but gave them a heavy, buckskin-like skin that protected them from the elements. Gravel mixed with the blowing sand would bounce off the backs of these featherless beauties until they would be so tough a .45 calibre bullet would not penetrate their hides. But there is a silver lining to every storm cloud. People learned chicken hides made excellent shoe soles, and many people now wear them.

Enough about sand storms, so we will change over to dieting. We have been planning this for years, but everytime we sell ourselves the idea the wife pushes a good dinner before us. We take steak and cream gravy, the French fried potatoes and hot rolls. We enjoy them and eat two or three helpings—all there is in sight and then strike out for the store for a little ice cream. We rain two pounds and feel like a stuffed toad just before he explodes. We shed bitter tears of remorse but it is too late—the work is done and have to start all over.

While scanning over the diets in the almanac a few days ago we ran across one that said: "Eat All You Want to Eat and Reduce." We adopted this one for

West Texans Are Thanked For Fat Stock Show Aid

In a letter addressed to Chambers of Commerce, Mayor, Reception Committees, Police Escorts, State Highway Patrols, Editors and other, Chas. G. Cotten of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, extended thanks to all West Texans for their cooperation in making a success of the 1952 Fat Stock Show. The letter in part follows:

"Well, the show is over, the weather was wonderful, and the people came to the show which, for fifty-six years, they have supported as no other Fat Stock Show and rodeo in the land. Prizes have been won and awards made to many fine boys and girls who, like their dads and mothers, long ago learned the importance of livestock to Texas.

"Among the thousands in attendance, surely there were those from your city and the surrounding territory, and to those of you who cooperated in making our Invitation Tour to your city 'click' as it did, this general letter is a personal letter to say thanks, and I do mean thanks for everything you did.

"Here's wishing you success in your own undertakings in 1952 and, if there is anything that Fort Worth can do that will help you, please call upon us."

Poultrymen Man Visit Kaufman

The following letter, signed by J. M. Cooper, county agent, is being mailed to numerous poultry growers in this county this week in an effort to arrange for a visit to Kaufman county poultry farms:

"We are proposing a one day trip to Kaufman County sometime in the next several weeks to look over their broiler raising plants and discuss with them their methods and marketing of broilers.

"They have at present time 126 houses of 3,000 capacity or larger per house.

"It is proposed that we leave Eastland around 7 o'clock a.m. and arrive back about 10:30 or 11 o'clock that night. Kaufman is about 35 miles southeast from Dallas.

"We get a bus of 33 person capacity for around $3.50 per head roundtrip. We feel that this is much cheaper than going in a car. Besides bus fare you would be out money for dinner and supper unless you cared to carry a picnic lunch.

"Women as well as men are invited to go on the trip.

"If you think that you would like to go sign your name and address at the bottom of this letter and mail back to me in the enclosed envelope. If enough wish to go we will set a date, make arrangements for a tour down there, hire the bus and call on you for the bus fare. If there are not enough that care to go now we will postpone it until later on in the spring. Signing this letter does not obligate you to go at this time."

Hot Ball Game Scheduled For Saturday Night

A hand-picked quilt representing basketball players of the "Gay 90's" era, will go to Carbon Saturday night to meet a similar team gathered at random from that city.

History does not mention the players. The nearest thing to sport events we have been able to find was Washington's stunt when he threw that dollar across the Delaware River. Basketball was not mentioned.

Eastland players will include: Frank Sparks, water boy; Stanley Webb and Joe Collins, forwards; Richard West, center; John Hart and Roy Lane, guards; Joe Nussle, forward and Frank Tucker, score keeper.

The game will be played in Carbon high school gym at 7:00 p.m. Saturday night. Proceeds will go to the "March of Dimes."

Queen In England; Will Assume Royal Duty Today

FIRST ACT WILL BE TO PLAN FOR KING GEORGE'S FUNERAL

By Jack V. Fox
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Feb. 7 (UP)—Queen Elizabeth II sped across Europe today on the last 3,000-mile lap of a flight from East Africa to assume the British throne.

One of her first duties will be to arrange the funeral of her father, King George VI.

The 25-year-old Queen, Britain's first female sovereign since Victoria, and her husband, Prince Philip, were expected to land at London Airport about 4:30 p. m. (11:30 a. m. EST) after an overnight flight from Kenya.

Waiting at the airport to pay homage to the Queen were Prime Minister Winston Churchill and a host of other notables representing the 612,000,000 persons over whom she now reigns.

Just one week ago at the same airport, the Queen as a carefree Princess had bade farewell to her father, and taken off with her husband on a projected 30,000-mile royal tour around the world.

Court circles believed King George's funeral would be held Monday, Feb. 18, to give nobility from all over Europe time to arrive in London. The Kings of Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Belgium and Greece and the Queen of the Netherlands may be among those attending.

Elizabeth and Philip had reached only the first stop on their intended five-month tour—the East African Colony of Kenya—when word came that the King had died in his sleep of coronary thrombosis. They immediately cancelled the remainder of the tour and headed back to England.

Even while Elizabeth was in flight, she was formally proclaimed Queen Elizabeth II by the Privy Council at a solemn session in the banquet hall of historic St. James Palace here last night. It was the first time in 115 years—since Queen Victoria ascended the throne—that a female sovereign has been proclaimed.

The official proclamation will be read and published officially throughout the Commonwealth tomorrow. In London, it will be read at St. James Palace and then taken by a colorful procession of heralds and messengers to Charing Cross and the Royal Exchange to be read again.

It was expected that the King's body would be transferred from Sandringham House to the Church of St. Mary Magdalen on the estate grounds after dusk today. It will be placed before the altar. Sometime this week-end, the

V. I. Martin Is Elected Head Universal Mills

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of Universal Mills, Fort Worth, V. I. Martin was elected president to succeed the late Gaylord J. Stone who died January 15. Mrs. Gaylord Stone was elected vice president and Leon Stewart was named secretary.

Martin, who is 42 years of age, has been connected with Universal Mills for the past 22 years. He started in as a mill hand. After 14 months in the mill he was transferred into the office. In steady succession he has been connected with the sales department, the traffic department and the accounting department. For the past two years he has been executive vice president and assistant general manager. In this latter position he has been able to relieve the president of a large share of the administrative burden.

In Fort Worth Mr. Martin has been active in civic affairs. He is past president of the Rotary Club, a member of the Executive Club and the Knife and Fork Club. He is a Shriner and a member of the Church of Christ.

1st Battalion of Grenadier Guards will escort the King's body to London, where it will lie in state in the great Hall of Westminster, adjoining the Houses of Parliament, until the funeral.

A catafalque was being erected in the great hall today. It was there that the King's father, George V, lay covered by a purple velvet robe with the Imperial Crown on his coffin after his death in 1936.

In London, a line of men in high silk hats and women in mourning gowns waited patiently in the cold sunshine to enter the great door of Buckingham Palace to sign the register signifying their sorrow at the King's death and the condolences to his family.

Although her future home will be Buckingham Palace, Queen Elizabeth will drive straight from London airport to her present official residence, nearby Clarence House, where she will receive a number of ministers of state and other officials.

Tomorrow morning Elizabeth will appear before the Privy Council comprising 250 of the greatest men of her realm and take her oath. Prince Philip, who was sworn in as a Privy Councillor only last Dec. 4, probably will attend.

Stowaway Makes Ocean Trip

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (UP)—Blackie, a canine stowaway, was back in New York today after a round trip to England, Germany, France and Ireland aboard the luxury liner America.

The stowaway, a black and tan mongrel, was discovered one day out of New York. During the voyage Blackie hobnobbed with dogdom's aristocracy in the top deck kennels. If no one claims him he will become the ship's mascot.

FHA Disaster Loans Available To County Farmers At Eastland

The prolonged dry weather has resulted in the designation of 89 counties in Texas as disaster areas. No estimate is available of the actual losses sustained by farmers and ranchmen as a result of these production losses, but L. J. Cappelman, state director of the Farmers Home Administration of Dallas, said that the situation faced by farmers throughout the state is one of the most serious since the drought of 1934-35.

Drought conditions reported by Cappelman follow closely those outlined by Pasture and Land Cover Conditions Map issued by the office of Louis P. Merrill, director, Soil Conservation of Texas, under date of January 15, 1952.

The map depicted conditions covering about two-thirds of the state extending from Bailey and El Paso counties on the west to Cherokee on the east and Starr on the south. Over this area, conditions are described as severe. Only in one-fifth of the counties are adequate moisture and cover conditions reported. A survey completed recently by Cappelman's staff indicates credit conditions are tight, which prompted designation of the counties as disaster areas and Farmers Home Administration has made available funds for crop production purposes.

The record breaking drought cut crop yields drastically and because of low crop income many farmers have been unable to finance production of this year's crop. Disaster loans are available in each county designated as a disaster area. Farmers who have suffered production losses on crops and livestock may apply for funds to pay for feed, fertilizer and materials for insect control where needed, gas and oil for tractors, feed for livestock, essential farm and home operating expenses, and repairs to machinery and other expenses incident to production of a crop.

Credit is advanced under authority of Public Law 38 and is available to family type farmers who have sustained losses, and who cannot obtain from local sources the funds requested to plant a crop this year. Farmers may apply for loans at the office of County Supervisor, George I. Lane, located in Room 509, Petroleum Building, in Eastland, Texas.

Cappelman admitted some concern about the lateness of the season and the lack of moisture and other favorable planting conditions. With the Department of Agriculture calling for full scale production in 1952, many areas of the state are going to be hard put to get acreage planted to the crops wanted in the production program. "Despite adverse growing conditions, I believe farmers will come through," he said.

Improved farming practices that are emphasized in the FHA program will be discussed and agreed upon by the county supervisor and the applicant at the time the loan application is prepared. In discussing the farming practices Cappelman emphasized that a program of diversification is the safest course for farmers to follow. Case files in FHA county offices disclose that farmers who have carried out a balanced farming program with livestock do not need emergency aid this year even though they did sustain losses because of drought conditions last year.

Housemovers On Strike Leave House In Street

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 7 (UP)—Summit Avenue had a new landmark today.

A team of house movers jacked up a 12-room home yesterday and moved it into the street, one of St. Paul's busiest thoroughfares.

About that time, a group of AFL hod carriers and building union members arrived and set up a picket line. The house movers shrugged and walked off the job, leaving the house where it was.

Governor Working Toward An Uninstructed National Group

By O. B. Lloyd, Jr.
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Feb. 7 (UP)—Gov. Allan Shivers has quietly launched his fight against the Fair Deal administration with a grass roots campaign to control the Democratic precinct conventions.

He is waging the battle on the basis of a single goal—an uninstructed delegation from Texas to the Democratic Presidential Nominating Convention, rather than on anti-Truman talk.

As head of the Democratic Party in Texas, an uninstructed delegation would leave the governor free to bargain in opposing the nomination of Mr. Truman or any hand-picked Fair Deal candidate.

In fighting for an uninstructed delegation, the governor is waging all or nothing.

"If we get that," a source close to the governor explained, "we

Mrs. W. S. Barber Eastland Pioneer Resident Dies

Mrs. W. S. Barber, 103 East Valley, Eastland, died this morning about 9:30 after having been critically ill in a Gorman hospital. Mrs. Barber, a faithful worker in the First Methodist church, as long as her health permitted had been in the Gorman hospital for the past six weeks.

Funeral arrangements had not been made at press time but will be sometime Friday afternoon, R. F. Jones, a son-in-law, said.

Mrs. Barber would have been 85 years old next month. Making their home here with Mrs. Barber was her sister, Mrs. Durdan and a brother, Jim Elmore. Mrs. R. F. Jones, of Eastland, is a step-daughter. Mrs. Cressley of Carbon is a step-daughter. Other step children are Jule Barber, who is critically ill at his home in Amarillo, Miss Jennie Barber of Breckenridge, Frank Barber of Houston, and Lynus Barber of Clovis, N. M.

Mrs. Barber is also survived by a twin brother, Ed Elmore of Archer City, and a sister, Mrs. C. C. Reynolds of Lubbock. She had lived here for more than 45 years, friends said.

Flier's Family Posts Reward

It was announced here today that a $500 reward was posted Wednesday for information leading to the location of Perry Marvin Singleton, missing flier.

The 22-year-old pilot's family authorized Lt. Col. John D. Wallace, commander of Civil Air Patrol, Group 9, to announce the reward.

Singleton has been missing in the Abilene area since Saturday night when he talked for 20 minutes with the airport control tower there.

A University of Colorado student, he was flying a single-engine Beechcraft Bonanza to Dallas from Boulder, Colo.

Singleton's mother, Mrs. M. P. Singleton of Carmel, California, and two brothers, E. C. Singleton of Midlothian and M. C. Singleton of Dallas, who have been in Abilene since Tuesday, authorized CPA to offer the cash reward to "person or persons furnishing information resulting in the location of Perry Singleton."

Tech College Is Showing Growth

LUBBOCK, Feb. 7 — Texas Tech sits in fifth place in enrollment among Texas colleges, according to a Federal Security Agency bulletin.

Tech's 4,901 students for the fall semester of 1951 places Tech 84th among 1,806 colleges and universities in the United States. Colleges leading Texas Tech in enrollment in Texas were Texas University with 12,290; University of Houston with 10,469; Texas A&M College with 6,519; and Baylor University with 4,986.

As a state, Texas was fifth in total college enrollment with 116,904 students. New York, California, Illinois and Pennsylvania rank ahead of Texas in that order.

To achieve victory, the governor will have to start winning his fight at the precinct level. "Local Democrats," strong in their support meet him on that ground.

After that will come contests for control of the county conventions and, finally, the State Democratic Convention May 27 at San Antonio.

The governor has based his strategy of control on hopes for a coalition between the far-right conservatives, the middle-of-the-road Democrats, and the not-too-far-to-the left liberals.

Customary Democratic shenanigans of splinter parties and rump conventions do not jibe with the governor's plans.

The greatest threat on this front comes from the arch-conservatives, long identified with the "Texas Regulars, Dixiecrats," and "States Righters."

Victory for Shivers would be jeopardized if this group should bolt. However, it has been reported leaders of this faction have promised to stay hitched to Shivers' leadership—at least through the state convention and up to the national meeting.

The governor's appeal to this group is based on his willing acceptance of party leadership, his known opposition to the Fair Deal administration and his fight for the uninstructed delegation.

His strategy of taking down anti-Truman talk is aimed at the liberals.

To this group, able lieutenants of the Shivers' administration are pointing out: "A vote for an uninstructed delegation is not a vote against the Democratic party. It is not a vote for bolting the party. It is not disloyal."

So far as the governor is concerned, the Conservatives and the Liberals could resolute and act on other issues as they would. Shivers doesn't care. Taxes, foreign policy and domestic issues—aside from possibly the tideslides, are not involved in his campaign for the uninstructed campaign.

The overall planning of the grass roots campaign is being directed by two of the governor's top former aides—Weldon Hart and John Van Cronkhite, both of whom are now joined in a public relations firm.

The governor, meantime, is warning that voters in this election year must decide between "creeping socialism" or returning government "to the man in the street."

The issue, the voters are being told, will be decided on the basis of who controls the precinct conventions.

"If you want creeping socialism," the governor recently said, "—say so. If you want the return of power—to the man on the street, you ought to say that, too."

Both pro-Truman and anti-Truman forces are advising voters the place to have their say is at the precinct conventions. Consequently, most observers are predicting attendance at this year's May 3 precinct meetings may reach an historic high.

Bank Causes VA Error In Insurance Notice

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7 (UP)—A bank was to blame for a mix-up in which an Island Tree, N. Y. woman received notice to file a claim for her veteran-husband's death benefits as she sat drinking coffee with him at breakfast, a Veterans Administration spokesman said today.

H. C. Crossan, district manager for the VA, said a bank stamped "maker deceased" on a check Harold Bogan sent in for payment of his insurance premium. Crossan said this sent the claims section into action since the VA begins to contact beneficiaries after receiving "any legitimate information" that the policy holder is dead.

Drunk Pig Downfall Of Moonshiner

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 7 (UP)—An unidentified moonshine maker has a guzzling pig to thank for the caper that led two lawmen under a hill to find his bootleg whiskey still.

Sheriff's Deputies Sid Hall and J. F. Hewlett spotted the 250-pound "drunk" reeling along a highway near here yesterday. "That hog was so loaded," Hall said, "he made three passes at the open gate of an abandoned garden, but hit the wire each time."

Hall and Hewlett backtracked along the tipsy pig's trail across a field and down to a creek, where they found a six-gallon still, eight hogheads of mash and eight gallons of moonshine. "There were hundreds of hog tracks around the still," they said.

"The tracks going in were straight, but those coming out were crooked."

AROUND—

it really looked like a bargain. But we should have read the whole story instead of the heading. We later discovered we could eat all we wanted to eat, but the menu was limited, and that was the catch. Well, we are on this diet now, and have lost 5 pounds in four days. In another month, if we hold out that long, they will have to put a rock in our pocket in order to balance the scales.

Here's the diet: For breakfast we may have one whole egg, soft boiled, salt free and no butter. One small size slice of whole wheat toast (butterless) and as much black coffee, no cream or sugar, as we can get down. At noon we may stuff ourselves on a combination of shredded raw cabbage, raw carrots and celery. No salad dressing, but to make it more palatable we are at liberty to use lemon juice and vinegar, plus another slice of the aforementioned toast. In the evening we are allowed half of a pear, two rye wafers, and all that combination of raw vegetables we can push down. Once a week we get two ounces of lean, broiled steak, and on Sunday morning we are allowed one small slice of bacon highly scorched in order to remove every trace of fat. Should we faint between meals, we are to revive ourselves with four ounces of either skimmed milk, well watered down, or cultured buttermilk. Take your choice, and it is hard to tell which is the worst. To this milk may be added one teaspoonful of honey which constitutes our weekly allowance of sweets. The good thing is we can have all we want, if we happen to want nothing, but raw carrots and raw carrots. This diet may reduce us, but will likely kill us before the month is up.
