One of our customers has accused us of working for a collection agency, so we take this early moment to correct him, and possibly others, who may be laboring under the same impression. We do not now, and never did, work for such an agency, but we do try to pay our bills, and if possible on time. The mention of credit records in this column Tuesday was not personal, but rather, very general. We do not have any connection whatsoever, with the Retail Merchant's Association. We never have had.

This association has kept our "record" for many years, and to date we have never caught them in a lie, and in earlier days they may have had to use "props" to hold this record up to where it would stand the light. That was bad. Should such ever occur again we hope they will call us, give the details, and allow us an opportunity to remove the "smear." If we let our "credit rating" get down in the mire, it's not their fault. We should be the guilty party, for they are strictly within their rights when a member calls and they tell him the truth.

Right now we don't happen to need any credit, but there may be a day when it will come in handy, and we don't want to put in three months trying to explain the report away. It's good for honest people, but does put a "dead beat" on the spot. If our ratings drop below 99 per cent good we want to be given an opportunity to give it a "shot."

But as a matter of fact more people are good risks than poor. One just notices the "rotten risk." He is sick in one spot, like a carbuncle, but he appears and feels like he is all over.

We are not the oldest man in the county, but we can remember back when a man's word was accepted as his bond. (Hardshell Baptists may have had something to do with this.) But today we have a few people whose note or bond isn't worth the paper it is written on. Takes all the courts in the county to force him to pay his honest obligations, and he won't do it then if it is humanly possible to shove the load off on friends and co-signers.

What this country needs is a little more love and respect for others. This Fatherhood of God and Brotherhood of Man plan will cure most of our ills. Courts never will. They offer temporary relief for short seasons, but seldom cure. And it is not the court's fault.

Seems like we are really getting this old world all messed up. Maybe some of us have quit trying to do anything about it, but just take it as a matter which is of no concern of ours. This should be. We can not hope to revolutionize or civilize the world, but we could make it a much better place to live in, if each individual would do his or her part.

Really conditions are alarming. Most of us need a good boiling out. We sleep when we should be working, and expect the other fellow to do our part.

Speakers included former Congressman Vito Marcantonio, leader of the New York American Labor Party.

County Farmers Protest 1952 Peanut Program At Meetings

Approximately 100 peanut farmers of the Carbon area held a meeting protesting the proposed peanut program for 1952, and in expressing their disapproval of the proposed program they voted unanimously to pass a resolution protesting the action of the PMA and the Department of Agriculture in trying to force such a program upon them without an opportunity to be heard in the matter.

The tentative program as outlined by these two agencies is a loan program, such as offered cotton and wheat farmers. The plan contains no provision whereby a farmer can sell his peanuts to a skeller or anyone else and be guaranteed a support price on them. Under the program the loan of the ninety per cent support price as authorized by law. As the program now stands the farmers value of the program is less than could sell their peanuts to the

CIO Oil Workers Favor Striking For Higher Pay

DENVER, Feb. 14 (UP)—The majority of CIO Union Oil Workers in Colorado, Wyoming and the Texas Gulf Coast area favor a nationwide strike in support of demands for a $2 a day general wage increase, the union said today.

In Denver, the CIO Oil Workers International Union said that all of its local units reported on a strike vote so far have voted in favor of the strike, with a "number of units" yet to be heard from. Members of the union at plants in Beaumont, Port Arthur, Port Neches, Texas City and Houston in Texas have voted to walk off their jobs if the oil companies turn down the wage increase request.

At Casper—oil capital of Wyoming—and Sinclair, Wyo., union spokesmen said the vote among the workers had been "overwhelmingly" in favor of a walkout in the industry.

The union called for a strike vote among 300 of its 600 bargaining units Feb. 6 after lashing out at "arrogant refusal on the part of the companies to even talk seriously about a substantial wage."

Some 50,000 workers would be directly affected by a strike. The workers include all phases of petroleum production, but the major concentration is in refining, a spokesman said.

Hardest hit if a strike were called would be the Gulf Coast of Texas and the rim of the Great Lakes, it was said.

The average oil worker is paid about $2.10 an hour, though the scale ranges from $1.60 for common labor to $2.50 for the more skilled jobs.

DEMANDS INVESTIGATION—Dr. Walter P. Schrieber, left, former German medical corps general with his son Paul Gebhardt Schrieber, 17, demanded an investigation into what he called "communist inspired" charges that he committed war crimes. The Boston, Mass., chapter of the Physicians' Forum is the group which brought the charges and they are demanding Schrieber be deported. Former head of the German Army's preventive medicine branch, Schrieber is now working for the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine in San Antonio, Texas on a six-month contract which expires February 28. He will not be re-hired, the Air Force has announced. (NEA Telephoto).

Ranger Jaycees Sponsor Show For Better Livestock Locally

March 21-22 has been set as the dates for the annual Tri-County Livestock Show, sponsored and financed by the Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Jaycees sponsor this show each year in the hopes that it will help in the improvement and expansion of the livestock industry in these three counties.

All livestock producers, who are eligible according to the following listed rules, are invited to enter and take part in this civic project, at no cost to themselves. It is only desired by the Jaycees that both visitors and exhibitors will reap an educational benefit worthy of their efforts.

Entrance rules are:
(1) All entries will be under the control of the show officials, but the show will in no case be responsible for any loss or damage that may occur.
(2) All exhibitors are requested to notify B. S. Dudley, Jr., Box 577, Ranger, Texas of their intentions to enter the show by March 15, 1952.
(3) All animals must be bona-fide property of the exhibitors not less than thirty days prior to the show.
(4) All animals in the breeding class must be purebred.
(5) All animals may be shown only in the one class in which they are entered.
(6) All animals must be in their places by 11 a.m., Friday, March 21.
(7) No animal may be removed from the grounds before 4 p.m. Saturday, March 22.
(8) All entries will be subject to the decision of the shifting committee. Upon the committee recommendation, any objectionable animal may be disqualified, or by reason of disease.
(9) Where there are fewer entries in a class than the number of premiums offered, judges may award prizes of such value as the animal deserves. When there is no competition, the first prize will be awarded if the animal merits such.

(10) All prizes are for the Junior classes only. Identical classes for adult entries will be judged and ribbons will be awarded. No prize money will be given adult classes.

(11) Junior classes are open to any and all residents of Eastland, Stephens and Palo Pinto Counties under 21 years-of-age.

(12) Adult classes are open to all exhibitors who wish to display good livestock.

(13) Every exhibitor must furnish the bedding for his entries.

(14) Ribbons will be awarded at the time of the judging, but all cash premiums will be mailed following the show.

Judging will be by classes of beef and dairy cattle, swine, sheep and goats.
The stock, while in the barns at the Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce Rodeo grounds, will be under the direct supervision of four members of the Ranger FFA Chapter. Floyd Woods will supervise beef cattle, dairy cattle by Billy Ferguson, sheep and goats assigned to Byron Gailey, and Jimmy Long will handle the swine. Judges in all classes will be members of the Agriculture Department of Abilene Christian College.

The shifting committee will be composed of R. E. Harrell, H. C. Wilkerson and Dr. Dick Hodges.

B. S. Dudley, Jr., chairman of the Jaycee livestock committee and Vocational Agriculture teacher of Ranger high school is the show secretary.

Prizes offered in the Junior classes will total more than $500.00 this year.

Nightclub Raid Nets Big Haul

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 14 (UP)—Negro bandleader Duke Ellington and W. S. Welch, manager of the Harlem Globe Trotters basketball team, were among 15 persons jailed early today after police raided a nightclub in an investigation of after-hours drinking.

Officer Charles Kilgore, one of three policemen who battered down the rear door of the Silver Slipper, said Ellington, his manager, Harry Carney, Welch and the others were drinking liquor from coffee cups at 3:15 a.m. Texas has a midnight liquor sales curfew.

Also arrested were Vernice Hastings, owner of the Silver Slipper, Johnny Phillips, operator of the Mona Lisa, another San Antonio night spot, six Negro patrons, four white patrons and two Negro waitresses.

Ellington gave his name as Edward Duke Ellington, and his address as 1619 Broadway, New York City. All but the two witnesses pleaded guilty to violation of the curfew and were released after paying $5 fines.

Austin Revenue Collector Fired

Minnesota Youth; Suspected Killer Taken In Texas

DEL RIO, Feb. 14 (UP)—A Minnesota youth who threatened to shoot himself to prevent arrest today awaited extradition to Minnesota to face a charge that he murdered his pretty young wife.

John G. Boyko, 22, was arrested by Border Patrolmen near here yesterday after a midnight chase at 100-mile-an-hour speeds.

The emotional teary-eyed youth was picked up on suspicion of car theft.

He is accused of shooting to death his wife Jacqueline, 17, last Monday in Minneapolis. The wife was found on the bedroom floor with a bullet wound in her temple.

Mrs. Boyko's mother, Mrs. Julian T. Johnson, found the victim's body after neighbors heard cries of the couple's four-month-old daughter Roxanne, who was in a crib, unharmed but hungry, near the body of the young woman.

Boyko wept when Patrolmen Edwin C. Dennis and William S. Eaton stopped him after the 40-mile chase.

He put a pistol to his head and threatened to shoot, the officers said.

"Well, if I come out, will you not hurt me?" they said he answered when they called to him. Then he stepped from the car and surrendered, when they assured him safety.

Minneapolis police notified local officers they would leave today to take custody of Boyko.

Boyko was driving a car with Kansas license plates. He told officers he left Minneapolis Feb. 3 under contract to deliver a car to Long Beach, Calif.

Hornets Are To Tackle Gorman Friday Night

Olden Hornets will need to be at their best Friday night when they take on the basketball clubs from Gorman. Games will start in the Olden gym at seven o'clock.

In the boys' division, a win for Coach Weaver's boys, so far as the writer knows, would put them in a tie for first place honors in the district.

Olden, Gorman and Seranton have all been heavy contenders for district honors throughout the season, and Friday night will be another of who's it ball games worth watching. So mark your calendar, put a string around your finger, put off that dinner date and be present to back the Hornets.

Old Time Sand Storm Strikes In This City

Dust, sand and wind during most of the day yesterday, forced many Eastlanders to forego all pleasure trips and many important ones. The house was the only safe place you could breathe with any degree of comfort.

The wind here was never higher than 35 miles, and most of the day it was only about 25 miles. The sand was high over the city, though a general sprinkling of silt was noticed all day. Portions of North and East Texas had rain but dehydrated dust was the only thing on Eastland's menu.

Will Organize Cemetery Assn.

There is to be a meeting called by the committee from the Staff cemetery group on Thursday night, February 21, at 7 p.m. in the evening. The meeting is being called for the purpose of organizing a cemetery association. Every person interested is invited to be present.

The meeting will be held in the Baptist church.

Firing Of Scofield Follows Suspension One Other Official

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (UP)—Frank Scofield, Internal Revenue Collector at Austin, whose office currently is under investigation after suspension of Eugene L. Meyer, a top official there, was himself asked to resign.

The surprising development came late yesterday after Scofield said in Austin he was resigning because of his health.

John B. Dunlap, Internal Revenue Bureau commissioner, said the resignation of Scofield was requested "for the best interest of the revenue service."

President Truman said he had accepted the resignation, but Dunlap provided the shocker a short time later when he said:

"This office suggested to Mr. Scofield our preliminary investigation of the administration of his office indicated that it would be for the best interest of the revenue service that he submit his resignation."

"Our investigation is continuing. There will be no further statements until this investigation is completed."

Scofield's resignation brings to seven the number of Internal Revenue Collectors fired or requested to resign since tax scandals broke in the tax collectors agency last summer. In all 130 Internal Revenue employes have been forced out of government service.

An investigation of income tax officials in Texas was announced last month by James N. Cooner, special agent in charge of the intelligence unit of the Bureau of Internal Revenue at Dallas. He termed the inquiry "routine."

Meyer, assistant chief of the Austin Income Tax Division, was suspended last month. F. B. Parson, chief deputy collector of the Austin office, said the suspension resulted from an investigation of Meyer's personal income tax.

Parson declined comment on Scofield who is ill in Setton hospital at Austin.

Scofield wired Dunlap yesterday that "after five weeks of serious illness and upon repeated advice of my physician that I must have complete rest from all business activities for several months... I tender my resignation."

Scofield, who had held the job since October, 1933, when he was appointed by the late President Roosevelt, became ill last month while en route to Washington to attend a meeting of Internal Revenue Collectors from over the nation. He was hospitalized for a time with influenza here.

Bureau sources say Scofield's salary as collector had been "more than $11,000 a year." The position is appointive and does not come under civil service.

Mrs. Scofield was quoted as saying in Austin her husband had not been asked to resign.

However, she declined to confirm the report.

Scofield's son, Vernon, took to his father's hospital room a United Press request for a statement on Dunlap's announcement. Visitors are barred from the room, and although a telephone is in Scofield's room no calls are accepted however, the younger Scofield reported that his father had no statement to make.

"There won't be any," he added.

Survivors are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Burton, a brother, Lynn, and sister, Carroll, all of Breckenridge.

Four other persons were in the car at the time of the wreck. John Oliver of Jackboro, was hospitalized in Breckenridge. The other three occupants were not injured.

Famous Aviatrix To Visit "Ike"

Better Medical Service Forecast For Many Texans

Increased medical service for the one out of twenty people in Texas who suffer diseases of the heart and blood vessels was forecast yesterday by Ben H. Wooten, president of Dallas' First National Bank and chairman of the 1952 Heart Fund drive in Texas.

Local heart campaigns will be conducted in most of Texas' 254 counties during February to make such necessary service possible, Mr. Wooten said.

With the striking keynote "New Hope for Hearts", the 1952 Heart Fund will seek to secure $347,000 during the month long campaign to help achieve new scientific advances and public health progress in combating heart diseases, recognized as the leading cause of death and disability in Texas.

The Texas campaign is being held simultaneously with the nation wide drive of the American Heart Association. Seventy five cents of all money invested in

West Texas Now Suffering From Wind Erosion; Continued Dry Weather Could Prove Serious

FORT WORTH, Feb. 14—Recent high winds sharply expanded western Texas areas undergoing moderate to severe wind erosion damage, the Soil Conservation Service reported today following its periodic survey of land cover and wind erosion conditions.

Hardest-hit single area reportedly was in the vicinity of Big Spring where battering westerly and northerly winds on February 2 and 3 reached 58 miles an hour and scooped out great quantities of dry, loosened soil.

Regional Director Louis P. Merrill of the SCS places the new toll in acreages which have been damaged to a moderate or severe extent this blow at 901,000 acres. Oklahoma acreages undergoing moderate or severe damage have totaled 154,000 acres.

The reports of SCS District Conservationist, W. S. Goodlett of Big Spring, Jesse Jenkins of Lamesa and Z. C. Dameron of Pecos, to Merrill said residents of those areas described the blowing of the past weekend as the "worst since 1934." Dry, unprotected fields in Big Spring area blew down to plow depth in many areas. Goodlett placed the acreage undergoing severe damage at 21,500 acres. According to SCS definition, "severe" damage means that soil is blown out from two inches to plow depth or that the surface is covered by more than six inches of hummocky accumulations.

Other areas reporting increased damage from recent storms include Lamesa, with 265,000 acres of moderate to severe wind damage; Castro and nearby counties to the north and west, 35,000 acres; and Fanna, 8,500 acres.

At Guyton, Okla., SCS District Conservationist John F. Bailey reported 150,000 acres in the moderate to severe damage category, again of 25,000 acres in the last two weeks.

Merrill estimates the amount of emergency tillage done by Texas farmers alone as an erosion preventive measure at approximately 2,000,000 acres. This practice, he explained, halts soil movement by winds for a time, but it is only an emergency measure at best and can not be depended on to last through a long season. The super-erosion with the Soil Conservation Service to get a more effective long range program of wise land use, plant and residue cover, and grass on too-hazardous lands.

At Lubbock District Conservationist Homer Taff said only scattered fields in his area blow during the recent storm. Well over three-fourths of the cotton lands in that area have been protected temporarily by emergency tillage, he said, but he added that the tillage may not be effective much longer. Winter wheat, however, has recovered rapidly in that area as a result of January moisture. Conditions to the west and south of Lubbock remain critical.

SCS District Conservationist Jesse Jenkins at Lamesa said the soil in the area is now too dry for further emergency tillage. However, more than 100,000 acres in that area have been given temporary protection by the practice.

Formal Double Ring Rites Unites Miss Lambert, Mr. Young At Church

The First Baptist church in Eastland beautifully decorated for the occasion was the scene Friday for the 8 o'clock wedding of Miss Maxine Lambert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Lambert, 501 S. Ostrum, and Gene Young.

Mr. Young is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Young of Weatherford, recently of Eastland.

The Rev. C. Melvin Rathel read the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladiolus, ferns and palms flanked by tall white candelabra holding white tapers which lighted the scene.

Mrs. Donald Kinnaird, organist, presented the traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Patsy Young, who sang "O Promise Me" and at the close, "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace, fashioned with a high neckline, a train of the lace was over the full skirt of nylon net, over white taffeta. The long pointed sleeves formed a point over the hands. A small heart shaped cloche decorated with seed pearls held in place the finger tip veil of fine illusion. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, belonging to her mother. She carried a Bible arrangement of gardenias showered with feathered carnations.

Mrs. Jocelia Kent, of Fort Worth, was her sister's matron of honor. Her gown was made similar to that of the bride, and was of rose net over matching taffeta. It was also ballerina length. Her hat was made of the rose taffeta and her shoes had been dyed to match. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and candle-tuft.

Mrs. Beth Lasater and Mrs. Faye Lineberger, both of Cisco, and sister of the bride were the bride's matrons. They were identically attired in ballerina length gowns of aqua net over aqua taffeta, with matching hats, and shoes dyed to match their gowns. They carried colonial bouquets of deep pink carnations.

Misses Charlotte Van Hoy and Jeannie Howard lighted the candles preceding the ceremony.

Lonnie Young of Weatherford, served his brother as best man. Wayne Lambert, brother of the bride and Gordon Wayne Cooper of Fort Worth, were the ushers.

A reception followed the wedding and was held at the Woman's Club, where the wedding party was joined by the couple's parents in receiving the guests. Mrs. Gordon Wayne Cooper of Fort Worth registered the guests. The refreshment table was laid Harris presided and were assisted in serving by Mmes. Fran. Lightower and Frances Cooper. About one hundred guests registered at the reception, including several out of town guests.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Monterey, Mexico, Mrs. Young was wearing a rust colored checked wool suit with brown accessories and the gardenia corsage from her wedding bouquet. Upon their return they will make their home at 500 South Baccott Street.

Leaflet Starts Chain Of Events That Sends German To Texas A&M

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 14 (Spl.) — An anti-Nazi leaflet which fell into the wrong hands in 1936 started a chain of events which brought Dr. Joseph Stadelmann to Texas A&M College—by way of a Nazi prison and the Swiss border.

Dr. Stadelmann, now an associate professor of modern languages at A&M, was imprisoned by the Gestapo for reading the leaflet and refusing to tell who had given it to him.

Mrs. Stadelmann was imprisoned for reprisal but later was released as she was expecting a child.

The Nazis found that Dr. Stadelmann was writing a novel, then nearing completion, which was built around the social changes inflicted by the Nazi regime. The manuscript was destroyed. He was held in prison and was permitted no activity, the Gestapo hoping that the monotony finally would force him to reveal his anti-Nazi connections.

To occupy his mind, Dr. Stadelmann devised a system of cubic chess whereby the game can be played in the third dimension. Unable to diagram the system in prison, he kept the method in his head until he escaped to Switzerland.

After eight months in the prison at Stuttgart, some of his fellow prisoners picked locks to free themselves and Dr. Stadelmann. Making their way into Austria, they frequently lay in the mud for hours, waiting for the Nazi searchers to pass.

After crossing the Swiss border, they were permitted to stay and join the hordes of Polish, Czech and German refugees from the Nazi terrorists who were given asylum in Switzerland.

Mrs. Stadelmann, hearing of her husband's escape and knowing the probable fate of any of his family left Germany, concealed money in her shoe and trekked alone through the forests to reach the Swiss border. Within a few hours after her arrival in Switzerland, she gave birth to their daughter.

She was ill for many months. But Dr. Stadelmann was notified by police of her arrival, and they were reunited.

Since refugees in Switzerland were not permitted regular employment, Dr. Stadelmann eked out an existence by giving courses in chess, by painting and giving language lessons.

"I must have had at least a dozen professions during that time," he said.

When he painted, Mrs. Stadelmann was his understudy. She still paints, but her husband has long since abandoned the art. Instead of painting he now plays the piano. His wife is a violinist.

MAE IN CROCHET—A foot-high figurine of buxom Mae West, in her best "Diamond Lil" clothes, is one of the pieces in the "Dress Through the Ages" collection of Mrs. Lillian Lunn. Mrs. Lunn is now showing 150 such miniatures made of stitched or crocheted velvet cord or wool in London's Park Lane.

During their stay in Switzerland, the Stadelmanns were planning their move to America. Their first opportunity was to go to South America, and since they had friends in Venezuela, they went there.

For eight years, Dr. Stadelmann worked in a library in Caracas. During that time their second child, a boy, was born, and Dr. Stadelmann wrote another book—an effort to eliminate the deficiencies of Esperanto, the proposed universal language.

The book was printed and was being shipped to distribution points when a revolution occurred in the South American country. Almost all the copies were lost.

When Dr. and Mrs. Stadelmann gained entry to the United States, it was to teach at the University of Denver. He taught there one year before coming to A&M in 1947.

Accustomed to mountainous terrain, they found this section of Texas quite different from anywhere they had ever lived.

"It took us a while to become accustomed to the fitness of the landscape," Dr. Stadelmann said.

"But the people are so friendly here. I love it very much."

Since his escape from the Nazis, Dr. Stadelmann has reconstructed a small part of the book which the Hitlerites destroyed. "But I shall probably never finish it," he said.

The language professor took his Ph.D. degree from the University of Munich in 1931.

In Germany, he taught English and French. At A&M he teaches German, Spanish, and Russian, including technical readings in German.

Airplanes Aid Game And Fish Commission

AUSTIN — The story of the air arm of the Texas Game and Fish Commission is told in the February issue of Texas Game and Fish magazine.

It relates how Game Warden Claude Keller, flying a Stinson two-seater, not only patrols the Gulf of Mexico coast line but also serves as a flying transmitter to relay messages for his straggling associates on duty inland. Keller, who has been a pilot for more than ten years, flew an artillery spotting L-5 during the war. This background as a "grasshopper pilot", pin pointing targets for the big guns, helps him locate law violators in the Gulf as well as in nearby inland rivers.

Warden Keller watches particularly for netting in closed waters along the coast and for use of illegal equipment, and faulty oil barges that pollute the waters of the inter-coastal canal.

Inland, he locates illegally placed fishing nets by noticing the corklines on the surface of the water.

Over the Gulf, Keller sometimes has to use wartime tricks to surprise offenders, such as diving out of the sun or, on cloudy days, suddenly dropping through a hole in the overcast.

Warden Keller also spies on the waterfowl hunters. He said he "doubted" if anybody ever shot at him but he recalled the times

TEXAS OBSERVES BROTHERHOOD WEEK—Governor Allan Shivers, right, presents to E. E. (Bob) Smith of Houston a copy of the official proclamation designating February 17-24 as Brotherhood Week in Texas in 1952. Smith is a member of the national board of the National Conference of Christians and Jews which for 24 years has been carrying on an educational program for civic understanding and cooperation between Protestants, Catholics, and Jews. Smith is also national vice chairman for the Southwestern division of the Conference. He has recently received recognition in a national magazine for his efforts to improve Latin American relations through his work with the Texas Council on Human Relations. Governor Shivers is honorary chairman for Texas of the annual Brotherhood Week celebration.

Two Guest Speakers Presented On Civic League, Garden Club Program

Two guest speakers were presented on the Health program of the Civic League and Garden Club at the Woman's Club Wednesday afternoon. They were Sgt. Jess Cole, chairman of the arrangements for the Blood Mobile Bank and Mr. W. E. Moore, area supervisor for the Public Welfare Department. Both men were introduced by Mrs. Theo Lamb, hostess chairman.

Sergeant Cole told of the need for 300,000 pints of blood for the armed forces. He told that the unit would take 150 pints daily, which would be processed in Fort Worth and sent directly to Korea.

He said that the unit would be in Ranger March 4th and 5th and would be located in the basement of the First Methodist Church. He asked the co-operation of all who were able in giving blood on those days or on March 6th at which time the unit will be in Cisco.

Those wishing an appointment were asked to contact Sgt. Hendrix at the local recruiting station.

Mr. Moore told of his work in supervising eight field workers, who care for the needs of 1606 people in Eastland County alone, whose care costs monthly $54,761.00. Other than Eastland his area includes Calahan, Shackelford and Jones Counties. People whose care he supervises include the aged, the needy blind and dependent children, which he now numbers as 97 cases, including 218 children, he said.

Mrs. Samuel Butler, president, presided and heard reports of officers.

Mrs. John Turner reported on the progress being made in the construction of the Eastland Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Sam Gamble made the treasurer's report.

The group voted to assist Cleveland Govan in his plan to raise money for the building of a recreation center and play ground for the colored children. Mrs. Virgil Seaberry was appointed chairman, with their committee members to be named later.

Mrs. Theo Lamb told plans for the Mid-winter festival of which Mrs. Veon Howard is the chairman, and asked for assistance in selling the tickets.

Mrs. Harvey Basham invited members to open house at the Woman's Club introducing the Debutante cosmetics, on the evening of December 19th. She said she would donate 10 per cent of all sales to the Eastland Memorial Hospital fund.

Mrs. Alvis Wood of Ranger demonstrated her puppet show and Mmes. Theo Lamb, Earl Conner, Jr., and L. E. Huckabay were appointed on a committee to work out the time and place for the table laid with a white Maderia cutwork linen and decorated with an arrangement of red carnations centered with a "Dan Cupid". Tall red tapers in crystal candleabra flanked the centerpiece. Mmes. Lamb and M. A. Tredwell presided. Other hostesses were Mmes. L. E. McGraw, Joe Frank Sparks, Jr. and Fred Maxey. Mrs. Cyrus B. Frost, Jr. played a background of violin music, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Donald Kinnaird, through-out the tea hour. Others present not here-to-fore mentioned were Mmes. Ed Castleberry, Frank Castleberry, W. F. Davenport, N. L. Smitham, E. Roy Townsend, R. E. Sikes, W. E. Brasher, Don Parker, Victor Cornelius, W. F. Leslie, Milburn S. Long, Ida B. Harris, I. C. Heck, Art Johnson, James Horton, R. L. Carpenter, Jack W. Frost and Sgt. Mary Hardwick of the Abilene recruiting office.

Voluntary Enlistments And Selective Service

By T.S.A. Jim Hendrick

It has occurred to me that only a small percentage of the parents really understand the advantages of the voluntary enlisting in the Armed Forces. The evidence to support this point of view is all around us: men voluntarily enlist every day by the thousands. They must have a reason—and a good one.

If your son is of military age and not physically disabled he is vulnerable for service in the Army or Marine Corps for two years. When he is released, he is obligated for additional years of reserve service, subject to call at any time. Therefore, he should make the most of his military service by benefiting from certain specialized occupational training offered now to volunteer enlistees.

Other programs such as Officer Candidate School, the Army and the Air Force and several others, may be his for the asking if he meets certain qualifications. Some of you folks, before sending your sons to civilian schools investigated their facilities to determine whether they offered certain advantages; why not look into the military service in the same manner?

A few moments at the US Army and US Air Force Recruiting Station will get you the answers. Incidentally Selective Service registrants who have received their pre-induction examinations but are not yet notified to report for induction have until March 31 to enlist in the service of their choice.

Aviation Cadet requirements have been eased, too. Civilians with two or more years of college may now enter Air Force pilot or observation training without taking the five-hour mental examination formerly required. Applicants need only to bring their credit transcripts and birth certificates to the Army and Air Force Recruiting Station and make application. Those who meet other requirements as to age (20-26 1/2) and are unmarried citizens, will be sent at government expense to a nearby air base for physical examination. The final processing

Concrete Made With Corncobs Is Developed

A corncob concrete strong enough for 1-story farm buildings has been developed. Structural strength, light weight and good insulating value are qualities of the new product, reports Capper's Farmer.

Corncob concrete is 3 times as good an insulator as regular sand and gravel concrete, says the nationally-circulated farm magazine. You can drive screws and nails into it easily and they hold well. After some remaining problems are whipped it should be suitable for building milkhouses, machine sheds, workshops, hog and poultry houses.

One problem is to find a good "sealer" to keep out moisture. The corncob concrete, being porous, absorbs water readily.

The new concrete consists of 1 part cement, 2 parts sand, 3 parts corncobs, and one-fourth part hydrated lime by volume. The lime increases strength because it neutralizes acid in corncobs that tends to reduce strength of the concrete. The cobs are prepared by running them thru a hammer mill and screening to, between one-eighth and one-fourth inch pellets. These pellets must be soaked in water at least 5 hours before the concrete is mixed, other wise they expand after the concrete is poured and prevent it from getting properly.

The first "corncob house" stands on the Michigan State College experimental farm at East Lansing, representing the progress made since 1948. Blocks of the raw mixture were made by a company in Lansing, at about the same cost as regular concrete blocks.

consists only of aptitude tests at Lackland AFB, San Antonio training Center.

If accepted, early assignments to training will be made and they will become cadets with pay of $105 per month, uniforms, housing, food and medical care, plus $10,000 free insurance. Graduates will be appointed Second Lieutenants in the Air Force and awarded silver pilot or observer wings. It's a great life, fellows. Give it your careful consideration.

Whooping Cough May Increase In The Next Month

AUSTIN — Inasmuch as the incidence of whooping cough in Texas is expected to show an increase during the coming months, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, released a statement today urging that strenuous efforts be made to control the spread of this debilitating childhood disease. There were 1273 cases reported during the first 5 weeks of this year.

"Whooping cough can only be contracted by direct exposure to the disease, and isolation of cases must be universally practiced if the incidence is to be controlled," Dr. Cox stated.

"The infectious agent or germ of whooping cough is transmitted by droplets expelled in coughing, sneezing, or speaking," Dr. Cox said. "The discharges from the nose and throat are dangerous to susceptible persons; the need for early recognition and careful isolation of whooping cough is obvious. Your family physician should be called at the first sign."

"The first symptom of this disease is usually a dry cough, which persists day and night and tends to become increasingly severe. The disease is fully developed when coming of food and whooping accompany the paroxysm of cough. Dr. Cox stressed the fact that children who have whooping cough should not attend school or come in contact with other children until three weeks after the appearance of typical signs of the disease.

Prevention and control of whooping cough, especially among infants and small children, may be accomplished through use of appropriate vaccine and convalescent serum," Dr. Cox asserted, "and it is important that such measures be taken to protect them. Neglecting to do so, and allowing the young child to suffer an attack of this disease, may seriously impair his future health."

American women spent $100,000,000 for hair-tinting preparations in 1951.
