Around The Square

With Mack

Fifty-nine years ago this month the town of Cisco was practically wiped off the map by a "cyclone." More than 20 individuals were killed, and many others were injured. Property loss mounted sky-high, and scores and hundreds were homeless.

There are still many citizens in this county who remember the "Cyclone." A few of them were in the storm that passed through Cisco and on northeast for several miles. R. W. Smith well remembers the date, April, 1893. His mother and sister were in the storm, though he escaped as on that particular date he was on the creek fishing. The grandmother of Miss Vera Johnson, English teacher in Eastland High School, was killed as the twister swept the Yellow Mound community.

We have heard of the "Cisco Cyclone" ever since our landing in West Texas. It has always been described as being terrible. The only good thing was that Cisco, at that time, was a small town, rather than the city it is today. Should a similar storm strike today, the deaths and injured would run into the hundreds.

Cyclones always leave freakish markers in their wake. At Cisco a Texas and Pacific locomotive was picked up in the air, turned around and then set back down, facing the opposite direction. Chicken feathers were found driven into trees. Most anything can happen when a tornado strikes.

The more we think about this the more we realize that the wife is right when she asks for a "stormhouse."

Another thing we don't like is this series of earthquakes we are having. Now they may be alright in Japan, for the Japs are accustomed to be shaken around, but in Texas we are too busy for such things. However, if we happen to draw one, we'll probably take it and like it, though we still think Japan is a more suitable area.

There are times when we feel that boys and 22 targets just won't mix at all. And right now is one of the times. Last week one Eastland county boy paid a $25.00 fine for shooting a sign owned by the Eastland County Cattle Raisers Association. Two yearlings were killed in the Staff community last week by rabbit hunters. So far as we know no arrests have been made in this case, though we understand that car license number was taken.

It is also unlawful to shoot up and down a highway, or across one. Many violations of this type have been made known recently, and other arrests may follow.

Parents should think twice before turning a gun over to a child. As a matter of fact the parents are more guilty than the child, and should be dealt with.

Another little rain would not be out of order at this time. The weather man seems to be in a good humor, and it may be he will remember us with a nice shower before the week passes. If he doesn't that cucumber plant of ours will never grow cucumbers 18-inches bath water from our friend, Mr. long, even if we do steal a little bath water from our friend Heck. We much prefer rain water as it doesn't have soap and settling powders in it.

Two Parties To Hold Meetings Saturday, May 3

Two SMU Artists To Be Presented By Music Club

A most outstanding program of Music will be given by Southern Methodist University faculty members opening National Music Week, at 3 p.m. May 4th in the First Methodist Church in Eastland.

The program is sponsored by the Music Study Club and will present Mr. Phillip Williams, associate professor of violin in Southern Methodist University, Dallas, is an outstanding artist having presented 142 concerts.

Mrs. Ruth Rankin Rutherford, faculty member, and honor graduate of Juillard School of Music is a favorite concert pianist.

The public is cordially invited to attend. Mrs. Art Johnson will preside. All Music Club members will be hostesses. Mrs. D. L. Kinaird is the club's president, Mrs. Don Parker, National Music Week and publicity chairman and Mrs. A. F. Taylor, general chairman for the concert.

This is the first program given by the Southern Methodist University in Eastland and it is the desire of the club members and the leading music educators of the city to fill the auditorium of the Methodist Church for the occasion.

Farm Bureau Meeting Held

A meeting of the Eastland County Farm Bureau was held at Carbon, on April 24 with approximately 200 people attending.

Some very interesting talks on farm credit were given by R. V. Payne of the Federal Land Bank and Dick Weston of the Production Credit Association.

A string band from Carbon and the Norris trio furnished entertainment for the evening. Drinks and cookies were served to those attending.

The next meeting will be held in Scranton in May.

Many Visit Art Exhibit In City

Mrs. Bill Walters, Sr., took 1st place in the Eastland Art Exhibit held at the Woman's Club last week. Mrs. Laverne Allgood and Mrs. Walter Singer tied for second place.

Those receiving honorable mention were Miss Ellen Whatley and Mmes. Roy Lawson and Bill Walters, Sr. Mrs. Florence Jessop was in charge, while Mrs. Horace Horton served as critic. Attendance was extremely good, Mrs. Jessop said. The schools visited the exhibit, and many out-of-town visitors were registered.

The male moth often will starve to death from grief when his mate is caught in a trap.

HOSPITAL PERSONALITIES

By Mrs. Samuel Butler

WAYNE JACKSON'S faith, strength and determination have helped build the Eastland Memorial hospital. When the hospital furniture and equipment arrived from Kilgore, he was another of the men who helped clean and refinish it. Enthusiasm, the great hill-climber, sustained him in these first days of hard work. His generosity in donating $100.00 worth of auto paint to spray paint all the furniture and equipment encouraged the volunteer workers. They knew they could depend on Wayne Jackson.

We think of "The Years of the Locust" in connection with the building of the hospital foundation. The time was not so long as the Locust Years, but it took all the courage and patience strong brave men could muster. Ask Wayne Jackson, he was there. Did you ever try to fill a concrete mixer with a tractor? Few

SERGEANT GRANDMOTHER—Tracey Hiller, 4, left, and Brooks, 2, visit their grandmother, M-Sgt. Katryn Hiller, oldest enlisted WAF in the Air Force at Lackland AFB. Mrs. Hiller, 53, only grandmother in the Air Force, says of her job: "I don't know why people look at white hair and think you should be home rocking your grandchildren. Mine would rather see me in a military parade." (NEA Telephoto).

Eastland Schools In Good Shape, Opinion Of Superintendent; Many Reports Made At Rotary Meeting

The Rotary Club had a more or less diversified program Monday, when the members met for their weekly luncheon. President Whittington opened with a short report on the water bonds. Everything is going along as well as can be expected, but before we have our last election we are to have the attorney general's ruling before we vote, he said. Now we plan to tell him what we need and if it is within the law, we will vote it.

Looks at this time as though the new Memorial Hospital will be completed during the month of May. Of course we will have a formal opening, but the date will of necessity have to be announced later.

Jim Horton, who attended the National Rotary Conference in Wichita Falls, over the week end, gave a report on what he heard and saw. Jim was thrilled, and said he heard one of the best speeches he ever heard in his life. Dr. Whittington backed him up in the statement.

Supt. W. G. Womack was guest speaker, and gave a kind of resume of the Eastland School system. Eastland, he said, has one of the best school systems and plants to be found anywhere in Texas. Most all buildings are in good repair and some of them look almost new.

Finances at this time are in good shape, and with the aid given by the State under the Gilmer-Adkins bill, they should remain this way. The district has been enlarged, and at this time there is something like seven million dollars of taxable property in the district. A faculty of 36 teachers is employed in the schools, and there is little crowding, he said. In fact more pupils could be cared for without additional teachers, he said.

Eastland has a high school, junior high, two ward schools and a colored school. There are two teachers at the colored school, with a combined student body of approximately 40. All classes above the 5th grade are composed of negroes in Eastland, Cisco and Ranger, with two trucks used to bring in the out-of-town students. Cafeterias were mentioned, and each of the schools has its own cafeteria. High School and Junior High students are charged 30 cents per meal, while grade school and the colored school charge 25 cents. Patrons are invited to visit the cafeterias, by paying 50 cents for a well balanced meal. The government assists in defraying costs. All children eat at the cafeterias, even if unable to pay.

Mr. Womack is of the opinion that the Eastland Schools are in good shape and a credit to the city they serve.

Men And Women Needed Tonight At E. M. Hospital

Men will be needed tonight at the Eastland Memorial hospital to pour cement and to assist in moving the remainder of equipment to the hospital, from the Reed building, M. H. Perry construction chairman said.

Women will be needed to clean the bedding and vacuum the rooms after the bedding is in place. Each were asked to bring their vacuum cleaner and join in this project tonight.

Reporting for volunteer duty Monday evening were Rev. Otto Marshall, Horace Horton, Milton Fullen, Parks Poe, John Whatley, H. H. Durham, Bernard Hanna, G. T. Thomas, Johnson Smith, Willie Speaker, Leon Bourland, M. H. Perry, Clifford Wilson, Robert Vaughan, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Mac Moy, Ed Witttrup, Bill White, Raymond Beck, Doc Alford, Theo Lamb, D. Samuels.

Hostesses were Mmes. Horace Horton, J. E. Turner, P. A. Cox, and Ed Allgoor ORCHIDS to day go to Mary L. Hogg of Fort Worth for seven pounds of coffee to be used for the volunteer workers. Miss Hogg is the house guest of her Niece, Mrs. J. M. Weaver at Bellhurst Ranch.

Eastland High School Seniors To Present Play

April showers may bring May flowers, but we know that April practices bring an enticing May play! A zesty group of seniors under the capable direction of Mrs. Marjorie Tye has been busy for the last two weeks to bring to you a delightful refreshing comedy, THE INNER WILLY by Betty Knapp.

Just as a good cook must carefully mix and blend the choice ingredients to be assured of an epicurean delight, so a good play must have the proper mixing and blending of such choice tidbits for the comedy lover as a moving dialogue sprinkled with hilarious lines, fascinatingly interesting characters (and are) they plentiful in this play!! and rib-tickling situations. All of these ingredients have been carefully and skillfully blended to bring to you one of the zaniest, funniest, and delightfully entertaining comedies ever seen on high school bill.

Those who have been kindling the fires under the pot of play production and have also been stirring and mixing are presented below with the character that they will represent in the play:

Willoughby Adams by Lowell Herring; Aunt Hester by Helen Turner; Aunt Louise by Gene Griffin; Aunt Olga by Maxine Harbin; Inner Willy by Herb Weaver; Stanley Clark by Larry Miller; Mike by Rodney Stephen; Marybelle Turner by Delores DeBusk; Trudy Marshall by Frances Van Geem; Janet Marshall by Maralyn Thomas; Carol Martin by Jane Myrick.

Be sure to be in the High School Auditorium, Thursday, May 1 and Friday, May 2, curtain time is 8:00 p.m. so be on hand to join in the fun and bring all the family. Prices are 50 cents for adults, 35 cents for students (high school and junior high) and 25 cents for children. Avoid box-office rush by purchasing your tickets now from any senior. We'll see YOU there.

Little Items Of Local Interest

Joe Faircloth, at this time chief deputy sheriff under Frank Tucker, has resigned this post as of May 1st, and will devote his time in the future to soliciting votes. Joe is in the race for County Commissioner, and doesn't want to be worried with outside duties until he accumulates enough votes to put him over in Precinct 1. He has already duffed the gun, and is giving his hip a chance to straighten up before he begins the precinct-wide tour for votes.

The regular monthly meeting of the Eastland Livestock Growers Association will be held at the Faircloth Sales Barn on Thursday night of this week. A representative attendance is urged.

L. R. Pearson of Ranger, staked No. 3 Miller, Jr., as an 1,800 foot cable tool project, this week. The test is four miles northeast of Eastland. It is to be 1100 feet from the north and 500 feet from the west line of the southeast quarter section of section 2, block 4, H.&T.C. survey.

Nickey Nelson underwent an emergency appendectomy Monday morning at Ranger General Hospital.

Nickey is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Nelson of Olden.

L. T. Everton Is Candidate For District Clerk

L. T. (Lois) Everton, has requested this paper to announce to the voters in Eastland County that he is a candidate for the office of District Clerk.

Mr. Everton announced for this office eight years ago, but as he was engaged in defense work at that time, he later withdrew, and did not make the race. In fact, he has never held office. He has spent a major portion of his life in this county growing up in the Kokomo community. For the past several years, however, he has made his home in Eastland.

He is a former Eastland county school teacher.

Mr. Everton says he will make the race on his own merits and not the demerits of his opponents. If elected, he feels he is qualified to fill the office in a manner that will prove satisfactory to all.

His candidacy, of course, will be subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

Youth Camp De... Four FFA At

A "typically Texas" gathering of over 500 persons assembled at Bobby Holder Camp at Possum Kingdom Lake Saturday morning to hear Pricc Daniel, Attorney General of Texas dedicate the camp to the Future Farmers of America.

Surprise development of the day occurred when Lewis Wood vice-president of Farm and Ranch magazine, handed area FFA president Tommy Smith a check for $1,000 to be used "in furthering the work of the boys at the camp."

The gathering was "typically Texas", said Daniel, in that those attending were "all patriotic citizens, interested in the development of youth."

my's voice was hoarse with anxiety. "Positive. It was his car and besides, I got a good look at him as he drove off." "Didn't you stop them? Didn't you ask them anything?" Alma demanded wildly.

"I ran after 'em and yelled, but it didn't do any good. She saw me and said something to Bright and he stepped on the gas. The light was with them and they were out of sight by the time I reached the corner." "And then?" Alma asked.

"I WENT upstairs to her apartment. I couldn't believe I'd seen straight. My good sense told me I must be mistaken. But she was gone, all right. She'd left her wheelchair behind her and all her luggage except one bag. And anyone could see she'd left in a hurry. 'What do you folks think it means?' 'I think you're already beginning to guess, Joe,' said Alma. 'There is only one reason why she and Bright would have left together. And Mrs. Denton wasn't being helped into the car—she was getting in. She didn't need my help! Didn't you know that wheelchair was a blind?'"

The look of anger on Joe Denton's face proclaimed his innocence

Air Reservists Plan Big Meet Abilene, May 5

Some 1300 Air Reservists will meet an Air Force team in Abilene to talk over their current status in a survey to begin May 5th.

The survey for Reservists from 26 counties surrounding Abilene will be processed at the Quadrangle building, on McMurray College campus. The survey is to be made to find out the current status of Reservists, as to dependents, physical condition, education, and occupation, but is not in any way connected with a re-call program.

Gaines Drills New Water Well

Pop Gaines has just completed a deep well at his place of business, and if the chemical test turns out as he hopes, he will have his water problem, so far as factory needs are concerned, for a long time to come.

This well is 155 feet deep, and at this time water is standing 130 in the hole, which puts it in the artesian class.

Should the test prove O. K., it will be a wonderful well, and if not it will be good for certain industrial purposes, including cooling systems, air conditioners, etc.

QUESTION: In building a trailer house with waterproof hardware for outside walls, we have heard much debate over whether to install an inside or outside waterproofing material. Can you please settle this question?
 —L. B. Port Oxford, Ore.

ANSWER: By using metal foil insulation, you can retain the dead air space, gain protection against summer heat, and save heat in the winter. Apply the foil under the interior wall material, with the foil side facing the exterior.

QUESTION: The interior walls of my concrete block home were plastered right over the blocks. There has never been a washboard. How can I put up washboards on these walls?
 A.H.K., Climax, Colo.

ANSWER: You can nail the washboard to the walls with steel cut nails, driving them into mortar joints or you may drill holes 2 to 4 feet apart and attach the washboard with anchor bolts; or attach the washboard to the wall with adhesive fasteners.

QUESTION: I have been getting water in the cellar of my new home through the joint where the wall and cellar floor meet. What can I do to correct this fault?
 —R. C. P. Motten, Pa.

ANSWER: There are two methods used to detect and correct this fault. The first one is to cut out a groove along the joint with a cold chisel and hammer to a depth of about 2 inches. Fill the groove with waterproof cement. The second method is forming a ledge about 2 inches out on the floor and about 2 inches up the wall using waterproof cement. Where the wall or floor have been painted, the first method is best, as a bond between new cement and a painted surface is rarely successful. You can obtain the waterproofing liquid to mix with cement from building supply dealers.

Mental Disorders Represent Problem To Texas Agencies

AUSTIN—Mental disorders today represent a real problem and it is estimated that almost fifty percent of all hospital beds are filled by persons suffering from mental or nervous diseases, declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

It thus appears that modern civilization is exacting a terrific toll. High speed living with its cruel exactions upon nature, is responsible for a large part of the trouble. But improper personal conduct must also shoulder much of the blame. The fact is that nearly fifty percent of the patients entering hospitals for mental disorders are there because of organic or toxic causes.

For example, general paralysis is the direct cause of many mental troubles in males entering hospitals. This condition is an organic disease of the brain due to the germ responsible for syphilis. It is a preventable disease. Early and effective treatment of acquired syphilis will block the end results of general paralysis in the insane.

WHEREZIT And WHATZIT

THE DARDANELLES have been fought over by empire builders since the Trojan War. Persian conqueror Xerxes crossed from Asia into Europe over the straits in 480 B.C. and Alexander went the other way in 334 B.C. The Crimean War was fought to keep the straits from Russian control. In a more romantic vein, Leander is alleged to have swum the Dardanelles (then called the Hellespont) nightly to visit his love, Hero. His swimming feat was matched once by the English poet Byron and also by the late adventurer Richard Halliburton. But, it is Soviet pressure on Turkey that brings the historic waterway into the news today. Russia is sensitive about the Dardanelles because they offer a sea gateway—the only one—from the Mediterranean to the Soviet Black Sea shores. As one of the losers in World War I, Turkey was forbidden by the Lausanne Treaty to fortify a strip along the Dardanelles and Bosphorus. The Montreux convention of 1936, noting the ominous rise of Hitler, permitted the Turks to re-fortify the area, and, if at war or threatened by aggression, to close the straits. With Turkey likely to be admitted to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, Russia is taking an even harder look at the Dardanelles. The Kremlin recently warned that Turkish entry into the Atlantic alliance would be viewed as "an act of aggression" against Russia.

Luggage Might Make Good Gift

One of the nicest things the family can do for Mother is to pool its ideas and resources to give her a really "special" Mother's Day gift. This is the best time, say the Luggage and Leather Goods Manufacturers of America, to select a set of matched luggage for her own use.

With vacations coming on, and convention time nearing, any Mother will welcome a handsome ensemble that will travel smartly without having to borrow sister's train case, Dad's wardrobe, and brother's week-end bag to make it complete.

If she likes to elegant feel and look of genuine leather, you'll find quality sets in all styles and colors. The most practical Mother will enjoy canvas coverings plus new synthetics which mean that her luggage can take anything the roughest handling will give it. And the air-minded Mom will be happy with anything you choose, for all new luggage is constructed lighter, sturdier—in keeping with the fast traveling pace of today.

Her basic requirements may be added to on birthdays, anniversaries or Christmas by individual members of the family, each piece matching her starter set.

Housewives In Texas Work Too Much Is Claim

The 2,040,804 homemakers of Texas work too hard.

Statistics reported by the home arts department of the Tile Council of America reveal that the housewife in this state spends an average of one full, eight-hour day per week at general housecleaning.

Practical home economics studies show that this time could be cut in half, providing 8,163,216 more hours each week for the state's housewives to devote to charitable and civic affairs in this period when all volunteer hands are needed for community affairs outside the home. Here's how:

- 1. Let the house work for you, not you for the house. Keep dirt-catching at a minimum by eliminating geogaws, dust-absorbing upholstery, and easily stained carpets. Stick to washable accessories and floors such as clay tile which may be wiped clean in seconds. 2. Build time-saving conveniences into the home, devoting as much of the budget as possible to automatic appliances, durable and easily cleaned surfaces such as clay tile in kitchen and bathroom, and a heating system which produces a minimum of grease and dirt.

3. Live as closely to a household schedule as a man does to an office routine. Time frittered away is never recaptured.

4. Learn shortcuts. For example, periodically dust the windows instead of washing them thoroughly. Use a cart to move cleaning accessories from one job to another around the house. Give up the old-fashioned habit of wiping dishes with a towel three times a day, instead allowing them to air-dry after scalding on the heat-resistant clay tile drainboard of the sink.

5. Spend time wisely. An hour devoted to decorating a cake is not sensible management unless you have plenty of time. This state's housewives apparently do not!

FLASHBACK

Sometimes it's a fleeting moment—sometimes it's weeks, months or years in the headlines—

Then they fade from sight—For example, whatever became of Alf Landon?

Hailed in 1936 as "The Kansas Coolidge", the popular governor took the worst shellacking from Franklin Roosevelt ever handed a Republican presidential candidate. Nevertheless, for some years after that, Landon continued to be a sort of sage of the GOP. He has quoted on every conceivable occasion, even more often than ex-president Hoover. But about nine years ago he began to fade from the headlines.

Where is Alf Landon now? He's still living in his home town, the pleasant city of Topeka. Shows little interest in politics this year, though, devoting most of his time to dabbling in oil leases. Flashback—a United Press spot-

Native Grasses Do Well In This Section, Opinion Of Stockmen; Grazing Test Made Near Dublin

Native grasses have won again in their eternal struggle to keep a cover over hills and valleys, dominate other vegetation, take everything our Texas climate could offer, and still produce a good amount of quality forage for livestock.

Leonard Garner, two and half miles southwest of Olden, Texas has 239 acres of native pasture that is now in good and excellent range condition. Twentyfive ewes and fifteen yearling cattle were carried on this pasture all winter. The sheep were not fed anything and they were in good flesh all of the time. The cattle were only fed cake a few times during the winter.

Mr. Garner stated cooperating with the Upper Leon Soil Conservation District in 1944. He made a through study of his land, vegetation and needed treatment and worked up a plan of operations to apply the soil and water conservation practices that were consistent with the capability and needed treatment.

Improving this 239 acres of native pasture was part of this plan. In 1948 Garner dozed down the brush and ran goats (from 100 to 150 head) to control sprouts until 1950. Under the fallen brush the grasses were protected from grazing and able to make good seed crops. Grazing was deferred during the summer and fall season in 1950 and during the summer of 1951.

The principal native grasses that increased to make this good pasture were Little bluestems, Sidecoats grama, Indiangrass, and Texas wintergrass.

The native grasses, such as Little bluestem, Sidecoats grama, Indiangrass, and Texas wintergrass have increased to make a good cover. Even with very little rainfall, Garner has wintered his sheep on this pasture without any supplemental feed, there is plenty of Texas wintergrass, which is protected by the cover of the warm season grasses.

Texas Tech To Go "Western"

Lubbock—The annual tradition of "Western Days" will again be observed on the Texas Tech campus May 1-3 as the Texas Tech Rodeo Association presents its third annual National Intercollegiate Rodeo.

Western Days are sponsored by the Rodeo Association and the Block and Fiddle Club at Tech.

The amateur rodeo series will start with a parade from downtown Lubbock to the Tech campus Thursday afternoon, May 1.

The first performance will be staged in Jones Stadium starting at 8 p.m. Thursday. Price Daniel, attorney general of Texas and guest of honor, will crown a rodeo queen at the May 1 show and be special guest at a breakfast early Friday morning. The queen is yet to be selected from campus organizations' entries.

Another rodeo performance will be staged Friday night, the third performance Saturday afternoon, and the last show Saturday night. Several sheriff's posse, including riders from Lubbock, Seagraves, and Post, will participate in the parade and in the grand entries.

Thirty colleges, all members of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association, have been invited to participate in the rodeo events. George Stuchka, Seneca, Neb., is the 1952 rodeo producer. An all-college dance will follow the final show. Prizes will be

YOUTH—

Bobby, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Holder of Breckenridge, was an unusually well liked youth. His untimely and accidental death brought about a plan to build a youth center, to be dedicated to youth activity. Daniel was introduced by J. D. Sandefer, Jr.

The program was opened in a ceremony prepared by the area FFA officers, and under the direction of Tommy Smith, president.

Murray Cox, farm editor of WFAA in Dallas was master of ceremonies and made the introduction of speakers and guests. He recognized several persons responsible for the work of developing the camp, among them Floyd and Mrs. Holder, parents of Bobby, J. D. Sandefer, Jr., C. A. Mitchell, of Sears Foundation, which has also contributed greatly to the work, Lou Wood, Jack Cox, E. R. Alexander, first FFA advisor in Texas, C. K. West and Frank Briggs, 80-odd year old editor of Farm and Ranch magazine.

Jack Cox made the introduction of special guests, B. E. Bowers, D. T. Bowles, Eugene Thompson, and Monroe Veale, all original trustees of the camp. He recognized representatives from each of the 24 counties in the area.

J. B. Payne, area supervisor, named concerns and persons who have been helpful in FFA activities, and told how the camp came to be, in a talk titled "Who and How the Job Was Done." He also introduced Lewis Wood, who declared he knew of "no American program as important as the development of youth during their critical years", and praised the FFA camp as fulfilling that purpose.

Wood also presented a $1,000 check to Tommy Smith, which was additional to help already given by the Farm and Ranch magazine. He said some $4,000 will also be made available due to the efforts of FFA boys in selling subscriptions to the magazine.

Hack Veale, in charge of raising finances for the further development of the camp, made a short talk on "Where Do We Go From Here."

He said there has been considerable enthusiasm in each of the 15 counties he has contacted in the drive to raise funds.

Robert A. Manir, chief of agriculture education in Texas, declared that the camp will grow in proportion to the interest in it and in youth itself. He said he knew of no better place for boys to develop the ability to know people and get along with them.

The program was closed with an invocation by Rev. W. E. Plapp of Breckenridge.

The Federal Food and Drug Administration's seizure of unfit foods averaged more than 23 tons for each working day during the last six months of 1951.

Game Officials Want Waterfowl Zoning In State

AUSTIN—The Texas Game & Fish Commission Friday renewed its efforts to have Texas zoned for waterfowl hunting.

It authorized its executive secretary to again appeal to the Federal Fish & Waterfowl service which has final authority.

Commission members agreed that Texas is so large that one hunting season for the entire state handicaps goose and duck hunters in either the north or south part.

The Commission also authorized the executive secretary to draft a legislative bill whereby a limited number of doe deer should be harvested each fall to balance the herds.

The Commission decided to continue experiments with fishways across Padre Island as a means of providing sports fishing in Laguna Madre, and authorized for their efforts to keep Yarbrough Pass open. A delegation urged a new pass to be cut at Redfish Bay.

It approved a new Commission-sponsored basic research center at Texas A&M College and agreed to designate Spring Lake in San Marcos as a fish sanctuary.

The Commission took under consideration a proposed new state hunting license, with attached tags for big game.

The Commission authorized the executive secretary to study the proposed licensing of fox hunters. It proposed action on a suggestion to license more agencies to sell fishing and hunting permits.

The executive secretary reported that at least one more year will be required to prepare a state song bird for public sale.

The Commission named a committee to meet in Fort Worth Tuesday to study a site for the new Eagle Mountain fish hatchery.

A total of 1,393,000 motorists ran out of gasoline on the road last year and 733,000 lost their keys or locked themselves out of their cars, reports the Automobile Club of New York.
