This synthetic era of prosperity some people are enjoying, is certainly putting wrinkles in the stomachs of others. We have stood it without a murmur, but when the "joyful and hilarious" group begin throwing it into us for being "snaps", that is something else.

The Federal Reserve Board, for instance, reports that the U. S. Public has enough dollars saved up to knock off work and take a two-year vacation. In the first place we do not believe the statement is quite true. If it is, we do not live in the United States, and even though we might live in the States, we do not have money enough to knock off work for a single day. If we fail to work today we will have nothing to eat tomorrow.

However, the Federal Reserve Board is the only group in the world capable of creating money out of thin air. One of these days America is going to awaken, get wise to the trick, and begin paying with real money for this "air-made" stuff that has been floating around so freely.

The average working man in these parts doesn't have enough money to knock off work at all. It crowds him to finance a hamburger when he makes his weekly visit to town. Even the wealthier group has cause for worry. They know something is wrong, and that these statements about two-year vacations and "oodles" of money is just cheap, political rot. Merely employing it as a political plug to keep folks guessing.

It's beginning to appear as though we may have a day of reckoning, and after that some people may find it healthy to take a vacation for keeps. We can't enjoy a healthy prosperity when we are going deeper and deeper in the hole every year. The only way we can pay the interest (not the principle) on what we owe now, is to employ confiscatory tactics in the collection of taxes. Harry is the only man in the United States who doesn't know this.

You can't spend three times as much as you make and hope to come out at the big end of the horn. To dream of such indicates that you are not all there—dead from the ears up. There are entirely too many Americans trying to get something for nothing, but it just can't be done.

Of course it is blamed on the war, but it isn't spent for the war. Truman woke up one fine morning and found out some subcommittee needed a stenographer. He ordered a million and has had them on the payroll ever since. Another very brilliant thing he did was to purchase 2 1/2 typewriters for each of them. This didn't increase national efficiency, though it didn't lower his vote any.

If Ike doesn't remove existing conditions along this line, we are going to vote the populist ticket in now on. If he does the right thing we will help him pay Harry's debts, though we know that final payment will be made about the year 2467 A.D., unless the interest eats us up before that date.

What we should do is give this country back to the Indians, or at least put it in their names, until we can go through bankruptcy, then take it away from them again and take a fresh start. However, some Indian friends up in Oklahoma, say they don't want it—wouldn't have it as a gracious gift. They are not so dumb—been paying taxes too.

Manufacturing Plants In This City Turn Out Products Of Many Kinds

A display of products made in Eastland by Eastland People features a Window Exhibit at the Eastland Chamber of Commerce Office. Many products produced in Eastland and made by Eastland Citizens are sold in a nation wide market, stated H. J. Tanner, Chamber of Commerce Manager. Though we are an extremely long way from a Detroit or a Ft. Worth as an industrial center, Tanner added.

Many of our citizens are not aware of the many things that are manufactured or processed in Eastland. Electrical power is generated here that could, if required, produce light, heat a flat-iron, to say nothing to possible radio and television and almost the washing of babies, to communities as far from Eastland as 300 miles.

Women wear brassiers, presumably for a very good reason, and for that Eastland can be grateful, as their manufacture here gives employment to some 230 of our local citizens. A coke, most everyone will affirm, is a good drink. Twenty-five of our citizens produce cokes to supply this entire area, bottling on some days as high as 130,000 bottles. If you lunch in a cafe in penobscot, Maine, San Diego, Calif., Marietta, Ohio or Fort Lauderdale, Florida, you may look up to ascertain what is showing at the local movies. You will be told by a card printed in Eastland, Texas, and sent to the local theatre owner, giving you the day or weekly program.

California and Ohio have almost claimed a monopoly on the production of glazed artware. Products second to none in this line manufactured in Eastland can be bought in gift shops, department and variety stores throughout the country, and their stressing the

Speed Entered Into 35 Per Cent Accidents

CHICAGO—The faster you go, the harder you hit? Excessive speed was a factor in 35 per cent of the nation's 37,300 motor vehicle deaths last year, according to "Accidents Facts," the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, just off the press.

Twenty-eight per cent of the drivers involved in these accidents were reported violating some speed regulation. Fourteen per cent exceeded the stated speed limit, 5 per cent exceeded safe speeds although traveling under the stated limit, and 9 per cent violated safe speeds in areas where there was no stated limit.

Scouts Return From Vacation In New Mexico

Members of the Exploration Scout Troop No. 48, who have been vacationing in New Mexico for several days, have returned home, after a two-week stay at Philmont Scout Ranch, which is the national Scout Camp, at Cimarron, N.M.

The boys report a wonderful trip, and if the people of Eastland do not think it can rain they should spend a few days in the mountains. It only missed one day in the 10 days they were there.

The first night was spent in Alamogordo, twelve miles north of Fort Sumner. The second night in the Cimarron Canyon below the Eagle Nest Lake. Then 10 days at the Base Camps; most of them above 9000 feet.

The trip home was by way of Eagle Nest Lake, Taos and the Indian Pueblo. Spent the night in Santa Fe and visited the Palace of Governors.

The last night was spent at the Bottomless Lakes just out of Roswell.

The Scout Troop is sponsored by the Eastland American Legion. List of those who made the trip: Bill Jessop's group from Eastland: Bob Womack, Stanley Harris, Jim Ed Willman, Joe Ernst, Joe Muirhead, John Whately, Doug King, Jamie Jessop and Herb Weaver. Homer Tudor's group from Breckenridge: Bart Reil, Bill Pardue, Neil Hitchcock, Jimmy Dye, Wm. Peavey, David Masner, Bobby Barents, Jackie Merrell, Jimmy Brooks and Bobby Knight. Brantley Hudson's group: Johnny Menier, Brownwood, Lathe Jernigan, Goldthwaite, and Clyde Matthews of Bangs.

southwest theme is greatly adding to the demand of their product.

The first plant in the entire south making hydrite, a lightweight aggregate, used in the making of building blocks, is established here in Eastland. Hydrite is made from one of our most valuable natural resources, our clays. Four kilns operate 24 hours a day and 7 days a week and still the demand for this product can not be met.

Two plants in Eastland manufacturer lightweight building blocks can be seen all over west Texas in homes, patio enclosures and barbecue pits.

Venetian blinds made to any size, color or standard, manufactured in Eastland, can be had. For many years the making of casinghead gasoline has been a major industrial activity in the economy of Eastland. On a quiet night the engines on the compressors, necessary to make this vital fluid, can be heard.

Should you be on a vacation trip to Tucson, Arizona, or Niagara Falls, New York, traveling with a trailer, your next door neighbor in a trailer camp may have a very fine Trailer home built in Eastland. Automobile engines wear out.

Twenty-seven men are busy today in Eastland reconditioning old motors, which new reconditioned motors are sold in all parts of the United States. Many times drilling contractors in the oil business are confronted with a problem requiring a special built tool to get them out of their difficulty.

Local concerns are equipped to take care of large or small requirements in this line. Small novelty party favors, entirely made in Eastland, are sold in multi-gross lots throughout the southwest.

Stop and look at the Chamber of Commerce office window. You may have seen most of its contents but may never have realized that the things displayed were made in Eastland by Eastland Citizens, who by their labor in part, make up the economy of our community.

Little Items Of Local Interest

Judge R. L. Rust and his son, C. B. Rust, have just returned from an extended trip over several western and Northwestern states. While away they visited in New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho and Utah. They had many and varied experiences, and enjoyed every moment of the trip. According to the judge it rains in the West. He saw, all one day, rain, hail, sleet and snow. In Wyoming, he says, wild game is plentiful, that deer and antelope, quail and pheasants are found dead along the highway, where they were killed by passing cars and trucks. Yellowstone Park was one of the most interesting sights.

W. K. Bazley of Canyon, but former Eastland resident, is here this week arranging to move his father, W. C. Bagley to Canyon. It will be remembered that the father sustained a broken leg some two months ago, and has been in the Ranger hospital since that time. His condition has improved, and with the aid of a crutch, he can now make his way about the house. Until complete recovery he will make his home in Canyon.

TWO-STATE POLICE APPEAR STALLED IN STEVENS CASE

DALLAS, Aug. 6 (UP)—Police of two states appeared in a temporary blind alley Wednesday as they investigated conflicting clues in an effort to solve the murder of a 21-year-old Dallas waitress.

The nude, headless, handless body of Betty Jack Stevens was found in a dry creek bed near Yukon, Okla., last week. The letters "RAT" were carved on her body.

Tuesday, a 27-year-old soldier's wife at Lawton, Okla., told police Miss Stevens told her two weeks ago a Dallas man was "after her."

However, Dallas police said there were discrepancies in Mrs. Bertha Kean's story or that of another person. Dallas Police Capt. Will Fritz said he has a statement from another witness that Miss Stevens was in Fort Worth, Tex., at the time Mrs. Kean said she was in Lawton.

In a signed statement to Lawton police Mrs. Kean said the Dallas waitress came to her home in Lawton for protection.

Mrs. Kean said she had seen the man, described as tall, dark and "Spanish-looking," treat Miss Stevens cruelly "many times."

Quartet Sings At Lions Club

Kendricks Quartet supplied the program for the Lions Club Tuesday, and several excellent numbers were rendered. Lion Clyde Young was responsible for the program, and he used fore-thought in making the selection, as it was highly appreciated.

Attendance was not as good as usual, though many members are out of the city at this time, enjoying vacations.

Bandleader's Wife Denies Unnatural Sex Relationship

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Aug. 6 (UP)—Bandleader Ben Bernie's widow accused showman Billy Rose Wednesday of exhibiting an affidavit claiming she had unnatural relations with his estranged wife, Eleanor Holm Rose, at an all-female sex party.

Mrs. Dorothy W. Bernie, 42, filed misdemeanor criminal libel charges against Rose in municipal court Tuesday. Should Rose return to California, he would be prosecuted. He cannot be extradited.

The late "Old Maestro's" widow specified in her complaint that her former employe, Mrs. Alberta Jones, gave Rose the affidavit for use in his contested New York divorce suit.

Mrs. Jones' spicily-worded document said Mrs. Bernie participated in sex parties with the long-legged Mrs. Rose and another woman identified only as "Trudy," according to the plaintiff.

Rhee Appears Winner Of Korean Race

PUSAN, Korea, Aug. 6—President Syngman Rhee appeared Wednesday to be the winner of South Korea's first popular presidential election on the basis of half the returns.

Unofficial returns showed Rhee leading his closest opponent by 1.5 million votes. Returns from rural districts may boost the lead.

By mid-afternoon, the count showed Rhee had 2,409,714 votes. Cho Pong Am 507,335 and former Vice President Lee Shi Yong 425,445.

Rhee scored significant victories in the opposition strongholds of Pusan and Seoul. Tabulations there gave him a total of 270,749 in the two cities against 136,876 for both his opponents.

The 77-year-old president took the lead soon after the unofficial vote started. His margin grew rapidly as returns arrived from other parts of the country.

In the vice presidential race, Ham Tai Yung, believed favored by Rhee, took a slight lead over Lee Bm Suk, former home minister who broke with Rhee several months ago.

Link said the unidentified left his lawn sprinkling system turned on when he left last week for his northern home. It sprayed 697,000 gallons before a meter reader discovered the mistake. Link said the bill will be about $175.

There will be nomination and election of officers, as well as the lunch and refreshments, with plenty entertainment all the time. You don't have to dress up, just come as you are. No talent, other than an open mind is needed. County Executive Members Of Red Cross Meet

William R. Wright of Cisco, vice chairman of the Eastland County Chapter of American Red Cross appointed two important committees Tuesday afternoon at a called meeting of the executive members in the County Court Room at the Eastland Court House.

Herbert Tanner, Eastland, Rip Galloway, Ranger and G. C. Rosenthal of Cisco were appointed to make a study as to the methods of raising Red Cross funds.

The need for such a committee arose after the Cisco delegation asked that a quota be assessed Cisco that they might join in the Community Chest and not have a special Red Cross drive.

Wright also appointed a nominating committee composed of Mrs. Edward, Eastland, Mrs. E. Roy Townsend, Eastland, Mrs. John Love, Ranger, and E. E. Freyslag of Eastland and asked that they report August 19th at 2 p.m., time set for the annual business meeting.

Present were Mrs. A. Louise Weber and Mrs. Alice Jones, Rising Star, Wright and Rosenthal and Dr. E. E. Addy Jr. of Cisco; Mrs. E. Roy Townsend, Mrs. Don Parker, H. J. Tanner, E. Woody, Mrs. K. W. Jamison and James Matthews of Ranger, Hilton Gilliam, and Mr. Boone, district area supervisor.

Short talks were made by Wright, Rosenthal, and Boone.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (UP)—House investigators have dug up a whole new batch of scandals in the Internal Revenue Bureau—this time in its alcohol tax unit.

Congressional informants said a thorough-going investigation, conducted with the active help of the Treasury Department, has produced evidence that a number of liquor dealers were allowed to settle large federal tax claims for "puny" sums.

They said it also has been established that liquor licenses were issued to former prohibition era bootleggers and to other "shady characters" and that persons with "political influence" have wangled choice jobs in the alcohol tax unit.

Public Airing Scheduled
The findings are scheduled for a public airing later this year by the House Ways and Means subcommittee headed by Rep. Cecil King, D-Calif., which already has turned up widespread corruption in the nation's tax collecting system.

Hearings have been delayed because of the illness of Carroll Mealey of Albany, N.Y., former deputy internal revenue commissioner in charge of the alcohol unit. Mealey resigned because of ill health.

The investigation had been largely in the hands of M. L. Harney, assistant director of the Bureau of Narcotics who was named a special assistant to Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder to direct the department's own house cleaning program.

Some Top Flight Investigators
Harney's staff includes Treasury agents, narcotics investigators and other top flight personnel.

The House subcommittee staff, under chief counsel Charles Lyon, is keeping close tabs on the results and doing a little snooping on its own.

One congressional source said the tax unit apparently has no fixed policy on settling back taxes of liquor dealers.

This source cited one case in which a dealer in a southern city got off the hook by paying $5,000 to settle a tax claim estimated variously $50,000 to $100,000.

14 Minor Reds To Be Sentenced

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6 (UP)—Fourteen "second string" Communist party leaders will be sentenced Wednesday for conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the government unless a federal judge grants a motion for a directed verdict of acquittal.

The secondary Red leaders, so-called because they apparently received orders from higher Red officials convicted in New York in 1949, face a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment or $10,000 fines or both.

A jury of eight women and four men returned the guilty verdict Tuesday after more than five days of deliberation and study of the mountains of documentary and oral testimony presented during the six-month-long trial.

The Communists immediately were re-arrested to the custody of U. S. Marshal James J. Boyle, Ball was denied.

Among the defendants was William Schneiderman, allegedly the former acting manager of the national Communist party. He was reported to have taken over the reins of the party after the trial of the 11 top Reds in New York.

His fellow defendants were the so-called cream of the California party.

The government's charge against the self-admitted Communists was based on the Smith act. The government alleged they were "professional revolutionaries" who had conspired to teach and advocate the necessity of overthrowing the government by force and violence in order to achieve a Communist state in America.

Wetbacks Are Constant Source Of Trouble; Many Aliens Cross Border

A deluge of illegal cheap labor, sprinkled with fugitives and Red agents, is flowing over the Mexican-California border, while 75 harassed Border Patrol Inspectors struggle around the clock to seal off 40,000 square miles against these wetbacks. (So nicknamed because some of them swim the Rio Grande.) Wetbacks have slipped in by the tens of thousands, possibly hundreds of thousands, officials won't even guess, but despite this fact, Congress this year cut Immigration Funds from $41,000,000 to 40,000,000. The startling behind-the-scenes story of this tidalwave traffic in illegal labor is told in an exclusive illustrated article in the current issue of People Today.

BRIDGE PARTY? Serve your guests ROYAL CROWN COLA

Most wetbacks that are caught are marched back over the border. But those from far away get air transportation to Guadalupe (200 daily) courtesy of the U. S. taxpayer. Cost: $50 a head, plus $59 for processing, food, etc.—totaling about 7,000,000 a year. Wetbacks are not penalized for their first across-the-border try.

INDEPENDENCE PAYS: MORE FOR DOCTORS

Independent physicians top the list. Their incomes averaged $13,378 for 1951 while salaried doctors earned $9,522. The average doctor man collected $12,518, which was $980 above 1950.

LESS FOR LAWYERS

Salaried lawyers made more money than independents, earning $10,197 in 1951. Unsalaried legal men made only $8,936. National average for lawyers was $9,375 which was $103 more than 1950.

ALWAYS FOR DENTISTS

Most dentists are independent and they collected $7,856 from their patients in 1951. Salaried dentists are too few to allow estimates. Average dentist made $450 more than in 1950.

For America's three best-paying professions—doctors, lawyers and dentists—independence pays more for some, less for others, as shown in the above news-chart. It shows the average 1951 income for the three professions, according to the Office of Business Economics of the Department of Commerce. Physicians make more money when working for themselves, but lawyers, when working on salary, have higher incomes.

but a second illegal entry would mean a year in jail.

The ultimate goal of the wetback is a new life with a new name and birth certificate prices up to $1000 in Los Angeles' Mexican slums or ranches of central California, but most wetbacks who are not caught right away wind up in the cotton and sugar fields of the Imperial Valley, at 40-50 cents an hour (Americans and legally imported Mexican laborers get 70 cents or more.) Last year, the Patrol picked up 221,000 wetbacks in the Imperial Valley alone. Big ranchers encouraged the wetback deluge. "But now they no longer want wetback labor," Inspector Parker told PEOPLE TODAY. "We check periodically and one day we pulled 370 from a single farm. Farmers can't risk that happening with a fast-spinning crop on their hands. They're also waking up to the danger of a large illegal population. Some of the hardest workers are escaped criminals."

Despite the Patrol's excellent work, under present circumstances, they are fighting a losing battle, reports PEOPLE TODAY, and the taxpayer is losing money.

Truman Backed Candidate Falls By The Wayside

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 6 (UP)—Stuart Symington, once an important figure in President Truman's administration, Wednesday gave the President's favorite candidate for the Democratic nomination for senator a sound drubbing in the Missouri primary.

On the basis of incomplete returns Symington had better than a two to one margin of victory over State Attorney General J. E. Taylor.

"It looks like I'm in," Symington said from a penthouse party where a victory celebration had started early Tuesday night. Returns from 3,505 of Missouri's 4,732 precincts gave Symington 296,097 and Taylor 117,203.

Lost Truman's Home Area Symington took an early lead and held it as the votes poured in throughout the night from Missouri's 114 counties.

The presidential setback, the second in two years, extended even to Mr. Truman's home bailiwick, Jackson county Kansas City, Jackson county, which has been controlled for the last half-century by the Pendergast organization that pushed Mr. Truman along the road to political glory, gave Symington a 3,000-vote lead in early and incomplete returns.

As the vote—expected to set a new record—was tabulated, there were few upsets.

Former Gov. Phil M. Donnelly was conceded a safe margin for Democratic nomination as governor.

Endorsed by Pendergast A veteran Missouri legislator, Howard Elliott, led a five-way race for Republican nomination as governor. James M. Pendergast, nephew and political heir of the late "Boss Tom" who put Mr. Truman in the Senate 18 years ago, had endorsed the attorney general even before the President announced in May that Taylor "one of my best friends," would get the White House vote.

Another "king-maker" toppled in St. Louis, Sheriff Thomas F. Callanan, leader of a strong faction here, was trailing his opponent for re-election. Callanan failed to ride the current of victory for Symington, whom he had endorsed.

B-29 Crashes Near Tokyo

TOKYO, Aug. 6 (UP)—A United Nations B-29 Superfortress crashed and burned Wednesday shortly after taking off from Yakota Air Force Base on a combat mission to Korea.

Nine of the 12-man crew parachuted to safety. The fate of the other three men was not immediately known.

Crew members jettisoned all the B-29's bombs before the crash. An Air Force spokesman said he "believed" all the bombs were dropped in a sparsely populated area.

The Superfort, of the type that has been making life miserable for the Communists in Korea, crashed about seven miles south of the Yakota base 35 miles northwest of Tokyo.

The plane had been in the air only four minutes before the crash. When it hit, a small flash fire burst out and then the entire plane went up in flames.

Doves Nest In Rotten Piling

BEAUMONT, August—A colony of mourning doves nesting in some old pilings near here, is doing its bit for research by being readily available for banding.

Game Wardens Jack Woodford and Clyde Renfro have banded about three dozen of the birds. The concentration came in mighty handy because they had found few birds in more common nesting areas.

The pilings are all that remain of earthen oil tanks used before the liquid was piped into metal containers. Holes have been eaten into the ends and sides of braces by the elements. There the doves found substantial and comparatively safe nesting facilities especially since the pilings stand in water.

MAN'S ABILITY TO MAKE RAIN MAY SOLVE DROUTH THREAT

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK.—The good news for drouth stricken areas of the East and South is that many prominent authorities say man definitely can produce rain from the sky provided he has a cloud of the right kind to work with.

The bad news is that any man messing around with the weather in areas criss-crossed with city and farm interests, had better watch his step or he will find himself under a steady rain of law suits.

Present drouth areas of the East and South are urban and rural, freely intermixed. As the result, only one rain-making project has been publicized and that one has 500,000 insurance against suits.

But in the mountain and desert states of the west, where towns are far apart and anyway rain help everyone, professional rain-makers are numerous. The best available statistics how they have contracted to produce rain if and when they can cover more than one third of the area west of the Mississippi.

Few Rainmaker In East
East of the Mississippi, the professional rain-makers are very few in numbers and are disinclined to advertise their prowess, in contrast to their western brethren. One, the Wallace E. Howell Associates, now is preparing to produce rain in the parched Connecticut river valley. Tobacco farmers are paying the fee and also the premium on the insurance.

Dr. Howell was employed by New York City in 1950 when its reservoirs were threatening to run dry. It rained more than the normal amount that summer and he is named along with the city in 116 pending suits asking $1,250,000 in damages. The plaintiffs are farmers who didn't need so much rain and resort keepers whose business always is hurt by rain.

What is needed before professional rain-makers can progress are court precedents establishing degrees of responsibility and a national law or uniform state laws that will permit drouth areas to save themselves by rain-making if they can, even if adjacent areas get so much rain it hurts certain kinds of business.

The freshest objective word on rainmaking comes from Dr. Bernard Vonnegut who—with two other scientists of General Electric Co., Dr. Irving Langmuir, a Noble Prize winner, and Dr. Vincent J. Schaffer—conducted pioneer experiments beginning in 1945 although the first experiments of the kind were conducted in Holland in 1939.

Accomplishments Are Recorded
Writing in the year book of the American Technion Society, he described the series of experiments, both in the laboratory and in the field, which demonstrated conclusively that men can make it rain

Quick Thinking May Save A Life

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, (UP)—Sometimes a little presence of mind can save a life.

Such a thing, plus training in driving, saved the life of Sgt. First Class Roy M. Johnson of Augusta, Ga. As a result, the soldier Tuesday received a citation from the National Safe Drivers Association, Inc.

Johnson's Misery occurred in Korea in 1950. The 29-year-old soldier, a medic, was driving a jeep through a supposedly deserted town.

He turned a corner and headed toward a group of soldiers thought to be wounded. He never found his buddies. Instead he came bumper to front end with a North Korean tank. The Negro sergeant's jeep was clearly marked with a red cross, but the enemy fired on him anyway.

Seriously Wounded
Johnson was knocked from the provided he has a super-cooled cloud, and not necessarily a large one.

Such a cloud produces rain naturally when its conditions are right. It is made up of many tiny droplets of water. These condense into larger drops which break up an unstable situation.

But many super-cooled clouds contain no particles and the scientific problem of rain-making was to provide them by "seeding" the cloud.

First, it was with solid carbon dioxide, or dry ice. Later silver iodide was proven even more practical because it could be sent into the atmosphere from the ground in clouds of its own to deal with whatever super-cooled clouds it encountered.

But much scientific work remains to be done before man thoroughly understands nature's processes. Still, progress has been made. Vonnegut remarked: "In spite of the apparent hopelessness of man's 'doing anything about the weather,' it is beginning to appear that by more subtle methods he may some day exercise a considerable measure of control over its course."

vehicle, with a serious wound in his left arm.

With the arm hanging by shattered muscles, the boy lay wounded on the ground. A member of the tank crew came toward him and fired another shot into his chest. Thinking the soldier dead, the tank crew left.

"I was scared, all right," Johnson said, "but I fought off unconsciousness and tried to keep my head like I was taught to do. I played dead even after the enemy left for about an hour and then finally got to my feet."

His jeep was a mess but finally he found another one. With the use of only one arm, through his training, he was able to start the car, shift the gears and make it back to the rear lines to a medical aid station for medical treatment.

The arm was amputated and he was returned to the states for further treatment. He has been at Walter Reed hospital ever since.

Thanks Go To Army
The sergeant thanks the Army for saving his life. In 1943 at Camp Lee, Va., he went through a rigorous and thorough course in the transportation corps school there. He learned to handle skillfully everything from a jeep to a 2 1/2 ton truck. During much of World War II he piloted a truck and served in the European theater of operations from May, 1944, to December, 1945. He served in the Far East command from February, 1947, to July, 1950.

"I learned about everything there is to learn about driving any kind of a machine," he said.

"Safety was one of the many things they taught us." Johnson thinks that in his present job, he might be of some help to others who have suffered misfortunes.

Even though his arm is off above the elbow, he has been fitted with an artificial limb, which he has learned to use.

He has a rating in what the Army calls "occupational therapy," in which he is a technician. His job is to demonstrate the use of his artificial hand and hook to other amputees at Walter Reed hospital.

Editor Reports Fishing Gems

AUSTIN, August.—The current issue of the TEXAS GAME & FISH magazine has a writeup about the managing editor of one Texas newspaper who personally covers the fishing assignment.

The article "High Level Fishing Lowdown"—concerns Managing Editor Al Parker of the Wichita Falls Daily Times and his authorship of that paper's reports from the local lake area, and beyond.

Parker, who insists that "when the fishing bug bites you, the only remedy is to get going," is quoted as saying that some Texas newspapers are overlooking a great field of news from the fishing front.

WEEKLY WILDLIFE WISDOM

Hunters sometimes are puzzled why game harvest limitations vary. The reason is that one county's maximum production of deer may be lower than the adjoining county's. Yet the county with the smaller production is entitled to a legitimate harvest of game under proper game management because the area can maintain just so much. For example, one farm may raise one quail on ten acres while a nearby farm may raise one quail to the acre. The contrasting production of game is comparable to the contrasting of crops. One farmer's soil may yield many times that of a neighbor's.

U. S. Approves Hunting Dates

AUSTIN, July 30.—The Executive Secretary of the Texas Game & Fish Commission has been notified of U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service approval of recommended mourning dove hunting regulations for Texas.

He also was advised by telegram that the fall waterfowl regulations for Texas will be approved probably on August 8.

The Federal agency has final authority over dove and waterfowl regulations since doves, ducks and geese are migratory.

It approved a 40-day mourning dove season for North Texas beginning September 1 and a 40-day season for South Texas beginning October 1. Shooting will be restricted to afternoons, beginning at 12 o'clock noon and ending at sunset. The limits are ten birds per day and ten in possession.

The Washington agency also approved the whitewing season, recommended by the Commission, for September 12, 14 and 16, shooting to begin at 4 p. m. and to last until sunset. The limit is the same as mourning doves.

Both mourning dove and whitewing dove regulations are identical with 1951 except that the South Zone mourning dove opening date was changed from November 15 to October 1 and the whitewing dates were altered to provide for a weekend hunting period beginning on a Friday and extending through a Tuesday.

The Executive Secretary said all indications were that the waterfowl regulations will be announced much earlier than last year. He has been designated to attend a National Flyway Conference on August 5 which will have a part in final decisions.

The Game & Fish Commission has recommended Texas be zoned for waterfowl, with a proposed north zone season beginning October 31 and a proposed south zone season beginning November 21. On the theory that a longer
