WATER FAMINE EXISTING IN EASTLAND

Around The Square

With Mack

While our water problem has not been settled by any means, it has been attacked from a different angle, and we have been assured that we will have water to drink. But that's about all. Tree and lawn waterers, and wasteful people, along with leaky faucets, and people who have to have two baths daily and a full tub of water each time, may fix it to where we will all be walking over to Abilene to get a drink.

Our four larger commercial customers have made arrangements to care for their own needs for the time being, so it is now up to the little fellow to conserve water, if he wishes to continue water drinking for the remainder of the drought.

Effective immediately, you are to get 1000 gallons of water per month. For this amount you will pay $2.25, but if you use more than that amount you will pay $4.00 per 1000 gallons.

If you feel an urge to use just a little more water than is absolutely necessary, just remember you may be taking a drink from a child who needs it. You may have the money to pay for it, but the City doesn't have the water to sell. Nor do we know where we can get it. Effective Friday of this week, trucks will begin hauling water into Eastland from various points. Some will come from a well south of the City, and possibly some of it will come from Olden, if the new well comes in either today or tomorrow. Cisco is letting us have just a little water on a day to day basis—maybe cut off anytime without notice. It is not water from Lake Cisco but another lake west of that city.

All together the supply will be very limited, even when we mix what little water we have in our lake with it. It will all be treated, and while it may have a foreign flavor, it will pass the tests of the State Health Department.

For this reason you are requested to use just as little water as is possible.

We know how it feels to see our trees dying, our lawn perishing, and our hedge looking like a dried broom weed. We know what is to drink water that tastes more like grass stumps and moss than it does water. We know how it feels to go through a hot, and dry summer without a cooler, but we have experienced all this and more.

A little shower brought up our precious garden seeds—seeds that were different. We planned a regular botanical garden, as well as staple vegetables for food. We saw them curl up and perish, and we felt as though we could perish ourselves. We have seen our trees die, and we felt like crying, but we didn't use this precious liquid, called water, to save them. Our conditioner was the type that consumed water—a lot of it, so we didn't use it, but suffered the heat instead.

But we have held our water consumption down to a minimum. One doesn't deserve any credit for this, but all should feel it a duty to do so.

During this emergency let us all make each gallon count. In the meantime we will continue watching for rain which is sure to come just before it is too late.

Little Items Of Local Interest

Monday is Labor Day, and according to custom most Eastland business houses will be closed or that day. In fact this is one of the six holidays that merchants her agreed to take before 1952 began.

No special program of any kind has been announced here, though most people will observe the day in a manner to their liking.

Fred Sanner, sports writer for the Abilene Reporter-News, was a visitor in this sanetium late Wednesday. Mr. Sanner is getting ready for the football season, and is contacting most towns in this area.

J. T. Gregory, co-owner and manager of the Eastland Creamery. In the future the firm will deal in milk and cream only, and will not distribute ice cream. At this time they are featuring the new, "Pure-Pak" containers. The plant is located at 394 South Green St.

New Pay Sand Found Ector County Field

BARTESVILLE, Aug. 28 (UP)—Discovery of oil in the Fusselman formation in the Penwell-Elmberger field of Ector county, West Texas, has been announced by Phillips Petroleum Co. Phillips said the Fusselman strata is the fourth zone in the field, where the company owns leases on 5,700 acres, now producing commercially. The announcement said Phillips' 1-B Millard well produced 44 barrels of 43 gravity oil in one hour through a well choke on a drill-stem test of the Fusselman sand from 7,397 to 7,497 feet. It will be drilled to about 8,800 feet to test the Ellenburger strata.

Japan, India Complete Treaty
TOKYO, Aug. 28 (UP)—Japan and India announced resumption of full diplomatic relations Wednesday as instruments of ratification for the full peace treaty signed last June were exchanged at New Delhi. Under the treaty, India waives all reparations claims against Japan and will undertake to return Japanese property in India.

Texas Cattle Leave For Greener Pastures As Drouth Continues

By United Press
The drouth-enforced stampede of Texas cattle to greener ranges in Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri and Kansas now numbers "several hundred thousand head," a federal soil expert said Thursday. But cattle shipments to other states may be futile, Louis P. Merrill, chief of the four-state Southwestern Soil Conservation region said, because "it's mighty hard to find grass anywhere in the Southwest."

Merrill announced that his office would complete by Sept. 15 a four-state survey of drouth damage "which will show that for the area covered and severity of impact this drouth exceeds anything on record in the Southwest."

The survey, he said, would include Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. Other parts of the Southwest were better off, weatherwise, Thursday.

Partly cloudy to cloudy skies produced scattered light rain and hundershowers in Colorado and Wyoming and temperatures in the two states Wednesday reached only 98 at La Junta and Lamar, Colo. and 84 at Cheyenne, Wyo.

Polio Epidemic In Texas Shows Heavy Decline

By United Press
Dr. George W. Cox, the Texas state health officer, said Thursday there has been a definite break in the state's polio epidemic, but the great disease gave indications of moving north into Oklahoma and Kansas.

Oklahoma's polio toll climbed late Wednesday to 625 cases for the year, only 28 less than for all of 1951. Six new cases and two "possibles" were admitted to state hospitals.

And in Kansas, polio cases passed the 500 mark, with 19 new cases reported Wednesday. Kansas has had 12 polio fatalities, Oklahoma 25.

Ike Hall, chairman of the 1953 March of Dimes campaign for Oklahoma, predicted this year would be the second worst in history for polio, exceeded only by 1948, when more than 1,300 cases were reported.

In Texas, Dr. Cox said only 162 cases were reported to his office last week, the lowest number in nine weeks.

The total number of cases in Texas so far this year continued to climb, however, now standing at 2,946. That's nearly three times the 1,053 cases reported to the state health department for the comparable period of 1951.

But at Houston, only two polio cases were diagnosed Wednesday, both non-resident. And at Dallas no city case was reported for the second consecutive day.

Lions Club To Wage Campaign For Attendance

Eastland Lions have sharpened into a vigorous New Member and Attendance Campaign, and say they are going to let the people of this city hear the Lion's roar.

The week beginning September 7, has been designated as 100 per cent attendance week as a tribute to the club Presidents. A committee has also been appointed to arrange for some "special activities." The committee is to report at the next weekly meeting.

If you are a Lion, might be well to be in attendance next week, also the boys may put something over on you, it is said.

FAILURE—Robert Miller relaxes in the Cassopolis, Mich., jail while Sheriff Edgar Probst, left, and Fire Chief Donald Rhoades attempt to free him from the bars of the jail door. Miller became trapped in the narrow opening in an escape attempt and it took twelve hours and an acetylene torch to free him. (NEA Telephoto).

Eastland Schools To Open Tuesday, Sept. 2; One Post Is To Be Filled

Eastland schools will open Tuesday, Sept. 2, according to Supt. W. G. Womack. All posts have been filled with one exception. The school is still in need of an assistant coach and science teacher.

Following is the new roster: W. G. Womack, superintendent and math; Wendell T. Siebert, principal, history and drivers education; George Bledsoe, band and A Cappella Choir; Loreta Morris, home economics; W. M. Crow, vocational agriculture.

High School
Charles B. Harris, math and history; Edward Hooker, coach and science; Verna Fay Johnson, English; Evelyn Whately, librarian.

Vacancies Filled, Carbon School To Open Sept. 2

H. L. Mullins, principal of Junior High at Spur, has been chosen as superintendent of Carbon High School, and word has reached us that he has accepted. His wife has been employed as a teacher in the grade school in Carbon.

H. A. Duffner will serve as High School principal in the Carbon school, and L. R. Higginbottom as elementary principal.

Grade teachers there include H. C. Jordan, Raymond Smoot, Mrs. Bilye Sue Goode, Mrs. H. L. Mullins, Mrs. Pearl McFarland, Mrs. Jim Brewer, and Gene Young.

The High School faculty, in addition of Principal Duffner, will be composed of the following: Mrs. Ed F. Willman, Travis Spence, Mrs. H. A. Duffner, and Mrs. Dahlia Steel, librarian. The Home making post is to be filled.

School will open on Tuesday, September 2.

"Cub" Team Has Ice Cream Party

Mothers of the Eastland Cubs, entertained the boys with an ice cream party Wednesday evening at the home of Brandy Humphreys. All members of the team, together with Manager J. R. Pogus, were present. They had plenty of ice cream and cake, and some to spare.

This team is composed of the 12-15 year old boys, and they will play their last game for this season, tonight, when they meet the Stephenville team at Ranger at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to see these boys play. No admission charge will be made, though the boys will take up a collection to help defray their expenses.

Hurricane "Able" Enters Danger Zone Off Coast

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 28 (UP)—Hurricane "Able" fresh-born of the year's first tropical storm, drifted deeper into the crucial "1,000-mile zone" on its west-northwesterly course across the Atlantic Thursday.

From now on, the 400-mile span of squalls packing winds up to 75 and 85 miles per hour would be watched from all sides by weather planes, its course carefully plotted.

The U. S. weather bureau here estimated the hurricane's irregular "eye" to be centered 360 miles north-northwest of San Juan, Puerto Rico, and predicted heightening winds.

This was well within the 1,000-mile circle targeting Miami on the U. S. mainland on hurricane maps, but there was fair weather over most of the west in between.

The weather bureau said the storm was moving west-northwestward at 10 to 12 miles per hour and was expected to continue along this course at least for the next 24 hours.

Weathermen predicted "some increase in intensity" of the hurricane-velocity winds which hurricane-hunter planes had recorded among the heavier squalls of the stormy expanse.

Gales were found extending out ward 200 miles in the northern half of the circular storm area but winds in the southern half were reported to be "not strong."

Protection In Case Of Fire Been Assured

While it is hoped that Eastland never has a disastrous fire, and especially during the present emergency when water is to be obtained only at a premium.

However, the City Council has taken care of this problem, and should there be a fire, large or small, citizens may remember that the large tank on the hill at City Park is filled to the brim and is being held in reserve for just such an emergency.

Again you are asked to NOT waste water, and to be CAREFUL with fire.

Hobbs Home Is Well Cared For

Many gifts, as well as considerable cash, has been delivered to the J. C. Hobbs family. However, we have been unable so far to show a list of gifts as most donors have taken gifts directly to the family rather than clearing them through this office.

We received one cash contribution from Friendship Class of the First Christian Church. It was for seven dollars and Mrs. Aaron had taken this to the family. The Fellowship Class of the Christian Church, raised $17.46, which was delivered to the family Sunday afternoon. Cap. Germany came by today and informed us that it was not $7.00 but $17.00 that he delivered to the home. Seven dollars was correct so far as the women's class is concerned, for that is all the cash that has been brought to us. Mr. Germany's $17.00 was never brought to our attention, until today.

However, all cash seems to have reached the Hobbs family, its final destination.

Texan Completes Korean Mission On Cop's Bike

FIRST MARINE AIR WING, Korea, Aug. 28—Capt. Charles A. Willis of Doucette, Tex., started out on his first Korean combat mission in a Corsair warplane and came back on a bicycle.

Willis' plane ran short of fuel as he was returning from a combat mission on the west coast and 30-year-old pilot was forced to parachute over Allied territory.

He landed in a rice field near a schoolhouse and immediately was surrounded by 200 children.

Willis then walked to a road and started back to base. A Korea policeman came along on a bicycle and insisted that the flier take it to get home.

The next day Willis flew back to the Sheol in a helicopter and distributed a big batch of cookies he had persuaded the press sergeant to make.

Water trucks will begin moving water into Eastland tomorrow (Friday) morning, is a statement credited to L. C. Heck, city manager, following a called meeting of the City Council Wednesday.

The water situation has reached the acute stage. Something had to be done, and done now, and it was up to the City Council to do it. The council has acted, and here is the story:

Today our daily water requirements indicate that slightly more than 400,000 gallons of water is being consumed each day. One hundred thousand gallons has been going to four industrial plants, but effective now, the four industrial plants have arranged to get their supply elsewhere.

The minimum charge will remain the same $2.25, but for this sum you will get 1000 gallons of water instead of 2,500 you have been enjoying during recent weeks. If you consume more than 1000 gallons in one month you will pay $4.00 per 1000 for additional water used.

People are urged to check water leaks, and those with water consuming air conditioners are asked to be extremely careful. Maybe your commode is using too much water. If it is, cut down the amount used.

With the rates listed above, the city will likely take a loss of about $9,000 per month, and should we have to go to more distant points for our supply, the rates will of necessity be hiked again.

Water from Strawn is out, as is that at Mings and Thurber. The cost would prove prohibitive, it is said.

Just at this time water haulers will bring in water from a well south of Eastland, and in all probability from a well north of the city, also Lake Biernev, just west of Cisco, and possibly by next week will be getting a portion of the supply from a new well that has been drilled on a farm near Olden.

These sources mentioned above, along with our almost depleted supply at the lake, will constitute the mixture which is to be treated and used as a temporary water supply. The picture is not bright, and it may get worse. Sources mentioned above are limited. What we get from Cisco is on a day to day basis, and may be cut off without notice. Wells may fail when they are put under a heavy pumping program.

Gordon Wood has been awarded contract for water hauling. He will use large tank trucks, and each truck will have a capacity of 4,500 gallons. He will operate with three shifts of drivers.

And in the meantime people are urged to conserve water. Stop taking all the water you want, and probably need, and take only that which is absolutely necessary, the council advises.

English Channel Walk Planned

INGLEWOOD, Calif., Aug. 28 (UP)—A 29-year-old former Navy diver sought a backer Thursday for his planned undersea walk across the English Channel. Bill Abernathy said he wants to do it "to show people the value of deep sea diving."

SURVIVOR—Airman Peter R. Rosing, one of the survivors of the B-17 accidentally shot down by a Sabre Jet over the Gulf of Mexico, receives blood plasma aboard the Navy minesweeper that rescued him from the rain-swept Gulf. Rosing received burns about the face and hands when the stricken plane caught fire. (NEA Telephoto).

"Deed of Trust" Secures Real Estate Note

In most cases the seller wants the cash when the buyer buys the house. Then the problem to the buyer is, how to raise the money? The answer is, borrow it. Regulation X of the Federal Government requires the buyer to have a certain amount of his own money on hand for payment on the house, and it is not older than a certain age. However, even as to houses not under Regulation X, the buyer should have some cash of his own.

One item common to all loans is the promissory note. In this note, the borrower promises to re-pay to the lender the amount of money borrowed. Of course, the borrower agrees to pay the lender some interest for the use of the money. The rate of interest can be as high as 10 per cent and still be legal in Texas, but most lenders today charge about one-half of that rate. The rate of interest is usually lowest on those loans that are insured by an instrumentality of the Federal Government, such as Federal Housing Administration (FHA) and Veterans Administration (VA).

A note usually provides for the sum of money being re-paid to the lender in installments—monthly installments probably being the most common. This portion of the note is very important to the borrower as he does not want the installments to exceed the amount he can afford to pay. On the other hand, the borrower does not usually want the installments to be too small. Small installments mean that the principal is re-paid very slowly and, therefore, over the life of the loan, the borrower pays more interest. In regard to re-payment, if the note contains a provision enabling the borrower to pay the loan in part or in full prior to the maturity of the note, (payment privilege) then the borrower can use his extra cash to reduce his indebtedness. Also, a liberal prepayment privilege may be very useful to a borrower if and when he desires to sell his house. In order for the lender to have something to fall back on in case the borrower does not fulfill his promise to re-pay the money, most borrowers are required to place a mortgage on the house and let them be buying. In Texas, the mortgage instrument used is a "Deed of Trust", a complicated instrument. In its essentials, it is a conveyance of the real estate by the borrower to a third party ("Trustee") for the benefit of and as Authorities said a major disaster, such as the bus accident that killed 28 persons near Waco, Tex., three weeks ago, was averted only because the gasoline transport was empty.

22 Injured In Bus And Truck Accident Wed.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 28 (UP)—Twenty-two persons were injured—four critically and one seriously—Wednesday when a speeding gasoline transport crashed into a Los Angeles-bound bus on U. S. 66 near here.

The rest of the 37 passengers aboard the Continental Trailways bus were shaken up but uninjured and of the 18 others injured, six were hospitalized at Sandia Special Weapons Base here and the rest released after first aid treatment.

New Mexico state police blamed "excessive speed" of the truck for the accident, saying the driver of the bus, C. L. Ripple, 37, Albuquerque, had pulled off the highway in an effort to avoid the oncoming transport, which hit a wet spot on the pavement and smashed into the left side of the bus.

B. C. Harrison, 27, Roswell, N. M., driver of the truck, was seriously injured in the collision. On the critical list at Sandia base hospital were three sailors—Seaman Recruit William J. Farrell, Seaman Recruit Donald E. Jones and Seaman Apprentice Lawrence Pusch, all of San Diego, Calif., naval training station—and Delmer H. Hall, San Pedro, Calif., a shipyard worker.

All of the injured were brought to Sandia base or Albuquerque hospitals. A second bus was sent to the accident scene to take the uninjured passengers on to Los Angeles.

Others who were hospitalized but whose conditions were not considered serious were: Jerry Martin, Pireotown, Ark.; Mrs. Harriet M. Robinson, Los Angeles; Mrs. Mary Flynn, Eagle Mountain, Calif.; Donald Steele, Colton, Calif.; and Mrs. Ethel Rhynes, residence not listed.

Jap Premier Call Election

TOKYO, Aug. 28 (UP)—Japanese Premier Shigeru Yoshida dissolved the cabinet Thursday and called for new general elections Oct. 1, the first to be held in an independent Japan since the end of the occupation.

The dissolution came in response to demands from opposition parties, the press and members of Yoshida's own liberal party. These groups pointed out that the present government and diet were elected three and one half years ago under the Allied occupation and do not now represent the will of the Japanese people.

Yoshida said he will seek re-election and again appeal to the voters for a chance to head a new government. Wartime political and military figures, who were purged from public life by the occupation, will be running for the first time in the October elections. They will oppose new leaders who have risen to prominence during the period of the occupation.

Yoshida won the respect of occupation leaders for the way in which he guided Japan through the stormy days of Red terrorism in 1949, the peace treaty and the transition to independence.

PLUG 'N TRIGGER

By J. FRED EDER
United Press Outdoors Expert

A careless song a bit of foolery, and a little nonsense now and then does not—"mish-mohe even a monarch"—so said Walpole.

Truer words were never spoken and often high spirits coupled with a desire for a little fun result in the development of useful and practical ideas! Although followers of Isaac Walton are usually considered or looked upon as serious minded individuals, many modern day anglers take to fun just as readily as other humans. In fact a fun loving nimrod with a system composed of "good natured and practical pranks" is hard to beat for fun at home or in camp.

A stunt that started out as a bit of foolery has developed into a brand new and highly interesting sport which in turn has elevated the lowly carp to a pedestal usually reserved for the finest Kentucky race horses.

Now you may be wondering the connection between carp and Kentucky thoroughbred race horses. I will admit the similarity exists in the name only—racing. Still on the lowly carp's side of the ledger no more thrilling, exciting an unpredictable "race" was ever run than that afforded by a "carp race." No, it's not a typographical error, you read it right—"carp race."

If you think Mr. Carp can't run a thrilling race you're in for a lot of excitement and fun that no other form of racing has ever been able to duplicate. Two, three, four or more individuals can play the game. In fact, the more the merrier if sufficient water space is available.

The first problem is to catch the carp for racing carp of fairly good and strength should be used. At least they should be fairly equal in size when matched with one another.

A good "doughbait" or any other of the many numerous carp baits will catch carp and take care of the first detail, that of obtaining a "stock of racing carp."

Next on the list will be a good supply of "gas filled balloons preferably painted with large number." These balloons should be fairly large and tie securely to a strong line—your old reel line or at least 15 pound test will do. Length of the line should be approximately six to eight feet. Now select your favorite "steed" or rather "racing carp" and securely tie a harness of at least 15 pound test line around the center of the carp's body and between or around the dorsal fins, thus preventing the line or harness from slipping either direction. To this harness is attached the six foot line with balloon with several of the entries. Thus prepared with line, harness, and gas filled balloon you're ready for the races.

The purpose of the gas filled balloon as you have probably suspected by now, is to trace the movement of the carp in the water and indicate the route or movement of your carp!

There will be times when your "racer" will submerge the balloon, but not for long. The extreme buoyancy of the gas filled balloon will bring him back close enough to the surface again to let the balloon rise and float above the water!

With the racing carp ready for the races, the entries should be taken to the ends of a fairly large slough or lake cove, preferably free from brush. The contestants are then released in the water and the race is on. First carp to swim out of the neck of water is the winner.

A large circle can also be marked off way out in the open deep water of your lake thus eliminating any chance of your entry becoming snagged.

The circle can be marked with brightly colored jugs anchored so as to form a large circle, the first "racing carp" to swim out of the circle is the winner. Carp are a hardy species of fish and can stand the strain of racing fairly well if handled with wet hands and a reasonable amount of care while in captivity. After the race the carp can easily be recovered.

Never release them back to the lake. Dispose of them, as the species is undesirable and a detriment to black bass and species of game fish.

If you prefer they can be kept indefinitely in a live box. Other than the feeding, no other care will be required by your "stable" of "racing carp." It's a stable of racers than can give you and the gang a lot of fun, thrills and excitement second to none and at the same time rid Mr. Bass of an enemy that plays havoc with his swarming beds.

YUMMIE!—Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois evidently gets eye-popping pleasure out of the milk shake he's sipping through a straw. He's pictured taking time out for refreshment at the Illinois Centennial State Fair.

reacts to his playmates and how they react to him is almost life looking into a crystal ball to see how he will fit with his co-workers in jobs and clubs when he grows up. A boy who lives in a world all his own and doesn't learn the lesson of give-and-take can't be expected to turn into a well-rounded sort of adult.

Not only his activities with others affects a child; what he learns to do by himself will show up in the long run. In later childhood (from 6 to 12 years of age) when a boy begins to make model airplanes or a girl starts to fasten clothes, the parents should encourage these talents. Not only does a child need to have the right equipment and learn how to use it; he needs the moral support of his elders.

Speaking of moral support, family hobbies can be a lot of fun. Seven-year-old Sue will be more inclined to practice her piano lessons if mother can play the "hard-part" in a four-handed duet. And even if father sings off-key, she'll think there's nothing quite so nice as a family sing-song.

In dad's workshop Sonny might make a toy boat with a little help from dad who takes a little time out from building a chair. On the other hand, mother might call on dad and Sonny to steady a board she is sawing for a coffee table. All three will benefit from the experience of sharing a hobby.

Women learn to set aside time or a hobby, they are more likely to strike a good balance between work and play when they grow into adulthood.

Even if an adult never had a hobby when he was a child, it's never too late for him to learn. Take the case of Grandma Moses, the famous artist whose talent was not discovered until she was in her late 70's. A late start certainly didn't seem to stop her.

A&M Creates New Agricultural Publicity Office

COLLEGE STATION, (Spl.)—Creation of an Agricultural Information Office for the Texas A&M College System was announced Wednesday by Chancellor Gibb Gilchrist.

The new office will take over the duties and facilities of the Editorial Office of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Publications Office of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, with the mailing rooms of both services and informational work of the School of Agriculture of the Texas A&M College.

Tad Moses, editor of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, was named head of the new set-up with the title agricultural editor.

The old Horse Barn, a landmark on the A&M College campus, is being renovated to house the Agricultural Information Office. Occupancy is expected in about 90 days. Consolidation of personnel and facilities will take place at that time, Chancellor Gilchrist said.

Moses has been in editorial work since 1924 and Station editor since 1943 as assistant director of information. From 1924 until 1943, he was assistant editor and editor of the Cattle, published in Fort Worth by the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

Play To Child Is As Work To His Parents

"Playmate, come out and play with me" is a song which has been chanted by generations of children.

"Play" in regard to children is a word somewhat lacking in meaning; it is not a lot of foolishness as many might believe. A child's play is his job just as surely as his father's job is farming or engineering. The way a child learns to play will mark him for the rest of his life. Seeing how he

BIG BLOW — Five-year-old George Clark, of Battersea, England, finds it takes a lot of lung-power to get a single note out of the pipes held by Arlene Allan, of Manchester, Ia. Arlene is a member of the pipe band of the University of Iowa now touring the British Isles.

Literature Of Today Is Good, Is Claim Made

Many people today believe that the United States is producing a mass culture in which religion languishes, the arts are smothered by the demands of mass entertainment and the life of the spirit wanes. In this atmosphere it is easy for observers to point to a decline in the moral behavior of young and old. Teen-age crime and official corruption in Washington are seen as signs of widespread ethical decay.

Such conclusions are of doubtful validity, contends Frederick Lewis Allen, writing in the September Reader's Digest. Mr. Allen, editor of Harper's Magazine and experienced observer of the national scene, marshals a wealth of evidence to demonstrate the current vitality of the public conscience and a broadening appreciation of the arts.

Concern about the distribution of income and the ideal of equality of educational opportunity never er before commanded such general acceptance. Our expanded sense of public obligation is manifest in the amount of time individual men and women devote to such community institutions as the churches, hospitals and schools.

Refuting the widely held notion that American material prosperity has throttled the arts, Mr. Allen looks at the records of the recent past in the fields of literature, painting and music. An increasing amount of high quality writing has found a place in our mass periodicals. Examples: Churchill's memoirs in Life, Faulkner's short stories in The Saturday Evening Post. Despite some trash on best-seller book lists, most fiction and non-fiction volumes enjoying top sales are among the best of their time, Allen holds. In the low-priced reprint field, George Orwell's Nineteen Eighty-Four has sold more than 750,000 copies; a translation of The Odyssey, 350,000.

The markets for art, report more sales of paintings in the 1940s than in the all previous history of the United States. Total attendance at art exhibitions in 1948 was over 50 million. Local museums have greatly increased in number; sales of artists' materials had a tenfold boost between 1939 and 1949.

condition of the world rests heavily on America our culture may prove to have been not the enemy of excellence but its seedbed," Mr. Allen concludes. "This is something new; there has never been anything like it before."

Music shows the same pattern of resurgent interest. In 1900 the nation's symphony orchestras were a "handful." By 1951 we had 659 symphonic groups. Fifteen hundred American communities now support annual series of concerts. Sales of phonograph records in the "classical" category are estimated at 30 million for 1951.

WMU Has Guest Speaker Monday

Rev. E. M. Treadwell, missionary to North Brazil was guest speaker at the meeting Monday afternoon of members of the Women's Missionary Union at the First Baptist Church.

Rev. Treadwell told of conditions existing in Brazil and of his trips into the interior and of distributing Bibles to many who had never before seen one. He told that most of his preaching was on the streets as there were no churches, and of people who walked nine miles to hear the word.

Mrs. Farks Poe, president, presided over the regular monthly business meeting, preceding Rev. Treadwell's talk.

Thirty six members attended.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnson have returned from a weeks visit with their daughter, Mrs. S. L. Hake and family in Midland and in a corner of West Texas.
