Around The Square

With Mack

We feel a lot better today than we did yesterday whether we look it or not. Fact is we don't go in very much for looks anymore, and even if we did it wouldn't do any good. When you reach the point that height and breadth are the same, it is time to leave the beauty contest. We are now about 5 feet 8, by 8 feet 5.

The things that make us happy may be summed up as follows: Yesterday it looked as though it might never rain, while today it looks as though rain is inevitable. A good rain would help everybody but the owners of good water wells. To them a gully-washer would be a catastrophe. However, they have little to fear, for the earth is so dry it will have to rain continuously for 30 days to even dampen the cloddy bottom of City Lake, much less fill it.

All this tends to make a fellow want to draw a deep breath and take new courage. Yesterday we were trying to trade our home for a dozen hamburgers, while today it is not for sale.

We need to laugh more and cry less—crying dehydrates us. We laughed when we heard that members of the seining crew out at City Lake came near drowning when they attempted to seine the lake. They had been planning to encounter 3-foot water, and lo and behold it turned out to be 10-foot water, and only for the fact that they were good swimmers it would have been too bad.

They moved to Lake Ringling and it was worse. Their hard luck seems to be our gain. We have a few million gallons more water than we thought we had, which will help us stretch the gap between the present and a good, general, lake-filling rain.

Indeed we are feeling better today. Since we began trying this little squib, we note that rain is falling. Not a chunk floating type rain, but one that will dampen the roots of our over grazed grass. The kind that makes the world a better place in which to live—a life giving rain. When our soil is soaked down for about 8 feet, let the big rain come—about six inches in as many hours. Within 30 days this area would look like the Promised Land, rather than like old sun tanned Eastland county.

Today barbers can make a living with six bit shaves. Faces are only half as long as they were yesterday, and the barber won't have to listen to belly-aching customers.

Fruits and vegetables will drop in price, for people can grow better garden truck than they can buy in a can.

All in all everything looks bright today even though it is cloudy and rain is falling.

Water Tests In City Attracting Much Attention

Time was when an Eastland county drilling report had to do with petroleum only, but today there is a different story, for the liquid now in demand is water. A report like this is timely:

Arthur Murrill No. 1, lot 401 South Oak Lawn, spudding in.

Bill Hoffman No. 1, drilling in hard shale.

Jas. Reed No. 1 Eastland, abandoned at 22 feet. Blue shale harder than the drill bit.

Mack Ayres No. 1, Hill showing. Well likely to be shot.

James Reed No. 2, abandoned at 23 feet, a duster.

Bruce Lasater, No. 1, Laundry trace, with drilling to continue.

Little Items Of Local Interest

Mrs. W. E. Cooper has just returned from the Ozarks in northern Arkansas, where she has enjoyed the summer with her sister. Mrs. Cooper says the Ozarks, at this time, are very beautiful. Meadows are green, and grass on ranches is excellent. Her sister, resides on a ranch, and the country resembles Springtime. Mrs. Cooper says.

Most Eastland football fans will be in Cisco Friday night to witness the first of the season.

HARD AT WORK—After speaking to a jammed house at the Civic Auditorium in Seattle, Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate, stepped next door to the Ice Arena to visit with a group of Nisei girls at the Far Eastern Trade Fair. Stevenson is on a political jaunt through western states in his battle for election as Chief Executive. (NEA Telephoto).

TRUMAN FOES VICTORIOUS IN PRIMARIES IN EIGHT STATES; MCCARTHY RENOMINATED

By United Press

Staunch Republican foes of the Truman administration powered their way to victory as returns from eight state primary elections were tabulated Wednesday.

The most striking victory came in Wisconsin where Communist-baiting Sen. Joseph McCarthy won renomination over a liberal Republican opponent.

It was McCarthy's first test at the polls since he began his charges of Communist infiltration into government, and he won it handily.

His strongest opponent, Leonard Schmitt, admitted defeat with only about one third of the state's precincts counted.

The Merrill, Wis., attorney had banked on radio "talkathons" to overcome McCarthy's advantage of great popularity with the state's regular GOP organization.

Medical Group To Meet In Ranger, Tuesday, Sept. 16

The Eastland, Callahan, Shackelford, Stephens, and Throckmorton County Medical Society will meet at the Gholson Hotel in Ranger September 16 at 7:30 p.m.

Three speakers have been scheduled to appear on the program at the meeting. The women's auxiliary will meet with the medical association.

"Present day concepts in the treatment of narcotic addiction" will be the topic dealt with by Dr. James W. Osberg, chief of the addict service of the U. S. Public Health Hospital in Fort Worth. Mr. Arthur Berliner, chief of the social service at the hospital will deal with the "Social aspect of Narcotic Addiction." FBI Agent Johnson will speak to the doctors on the "Legal aspect of narcotic patients" Tuesday. Mr. Johnson is also from Ft. Worth.

Dr. D. Ball of Cisco is president and Dr. W. P. Watkins of Ranger, secretary of the association.

Cisco's Mrs. Sandler Is New County Blood Chm of Red Cross

Mrs. Charles Sandler, 404 W. 9th St., Cisco, new chairman of the Eastland County Chapter of the American Red Cross's blood program is an active civic worker, who is accustomed to getting the job done, as was displayed by the diplomatic way in which she went about organizing for the blood mobile unit which will visit Ranger, Oct. 2.

Mrs. Sandler is now busy completing her blood program organization on a county-wide basis. In Ranger, Sgt. Jess Cole will serve as chairman and Mrs. J. P. Morris as co-chairman. Mrs. Morris is also donor recruitment chairman. Other committee members include Mrs. H. C. Croom, refreshment, Mrs. J. A. Pates, telephone. Mrs. P. J. O'Donnell, hostess and canteen chairman.

Mrs. Sandler although new to the organization as blood chairman is not new to the Red Cross organization. She has been an active worker in the Red Cross program for many years. She has been chairman for Cisco for the fund's drive and assisted Mrs. W. W. Wallace, chairman in obtaining blood donors for the mobile unit's visit in March, 1952. She served during World War II as co-chairman for the surgical dressing program.

ington, Minnesota, New Hampshire and Vermont also nominated candidates for the November general elections.

In all, 32 nominees for the U. S. House of Representatives and six for the Senate were chosen in the primaries Tuesday.

Sen. Harry P. Cain of Washington and Sen. Arthur V. Watkins of Utah were two other GOP critics of the administration who led their opponents by comfortable margins.

Sen. Ralph E. Flanders R-Vt. seemed safely on his way back to Washington when he rolled up an overwhelming victory lead over a political unknown, William Serrano of Brattleboro, Vt. In November Flanders will face the Democratic senatorial nominee Allan R. Johnson of Barre, Vt., but the GOP nomination is virtually the same as election in Vermont.

Here is a state-by-state breakdown of significant action in the primaries: ARIZONA: Senate majority leader Ernest W. McFarland won automatic renomination when no other candidates filed against him. Republican Barry Goldwater, who is fighting for the Democratic senatorial nomination, held a lead of almost 10 to 1.

COLORADO: John W. Metzger, a former attorney general, held a steadily widening lead over two opponents in his attempt to win the Democratic nomination for governor. Incumbent Gov. Dan Thornton was unopposed on the Republican ballot. Republican Rep. William S. Hill seemed to be winning renomination.

MINNESOTA: Republican Gov. C. Elmer Anderson and Democrat Orville Freeman apparently won the gubernatorial nominations. Anderson held a commanding lead. Freeman's opponent conceded shortly after midnight.

UTAH: GOP Sen. Arthur V. Watkins appeared to have staved off an attempt by Mariner S. Eccles to capture the Republican senatorial nomination. Watkins led by a little less than two to 1.

WISCONSIN: A see-saw race for the Democratic senatorial nomination rivaled the McCarthy-Schmitt battle for attention. Former Attorney General Thomas Fairchild apparently was beating Milwaukee attorney Henry Reuss and winning the right to oppose McCarthy in November. Incumbent Gov. Walter Kohler was unopposed for renomination on Republican side of ballot.

VERMONT: Gov. Lee E. Emerson and Rep. Winston L. Prouty joined Flanders in winning Republican renomination. Emerson had a close squeeze. The traditional Vermont GOP landslide was expected to sweep all three men into office in November.

NEW HAMPSHIRE: Former Nashua Mayor Hugh A. Gregg won a 4 to 1 victory for the Republican gubernatorial nomination over three opponents. As in Vermont, the GOP nominees were expected to coast to victory in November.

WASHINGTON: Cain took a commanding lead over two opponents in the incomplete tabulations. The incumbent Republican, however, may face serious opposition in November from Democratic Rep. Henry Jackson who was unopposed in his bid for the senatorial nomination. Jackson had accumulated a heavier vote total than Cain, who is a vocal administration critic. GOP Gov. Arthur B. Langlie apparently won renomination.

Disaster Loans Discussed; Aid Is In Sight

Farmers Home Administration supervisors from Wise, Montague, Parker, Falo Pinto, Taylor, Callahan, Young, Jack Stephens and Eastland counties met in the office of FHA Supervisor George I. Lane at Eastland for the purpose of discussing the procedure to be followed in administering the new farm Disaster Loan program that the Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Charles Brannan, of the USDA has recently instituted under public law 38.

Wallace W. White, Acting State Field Representative from the State FHA Office at Dallas, reviewed the steps that must be taken by the county personnel and the farm families who will participate in this program. To be eligible to secure a loan from these funds a disaster as a result of the prolonged drought. Details of this program can be obtained from the Farmers Home Administration supervisor in each county.

Those in attendance in this conference were: Murray Nolte, Wethorford; Michael B. Watson, Graham; Clarence Symes and C. O. Hogan, Abilene; O. Ray Brown and F. W. McDade, Decatur; Geo. I. Lane, William B. Beeson and Elmer L. Purtle, Eastland; Wallace W. White and Elizabeth Hoffman, Dallas.

Contract To Be Let For Ranger-Eastland Road

Contract will be let Tuesday, Sept. 16, for the new proposed Eastland-Ranger highway and if the contract is awarded, as it likely will be, work should begin at an early date.

Not only will the new highway be appreciated, but it will afford considerable employment for some of Eastland County's hard hit and drought stricken farmers and others.

This is a major project, and there seems to be ample funds earmarked for it.

Conventioners Urge Demo Support Of Ike

STEVENSON TO BE ON BALLOT, CAMPAIGN FOR IKE IS URGED

AMARILLO, Tex., Sept. 10 (UP)—Angry Texas Democrats were issued free license Wednesday to vote for Dwight D. Eisenhower for president without tarnishing their party label.

Party brass, meeting more than 2,000 strong in state convention Tuesday, put the name of Adlai Stevenson on the Democratic ballot—because Texas law required it—but then summarily freed disgruntled party members from Gov. Allan Shivers on down to vote for the GOP presidential nominee. The ballot listing also maintained faith with the "pledge" required earlier by the national convention.

In unprecedented action, the Texas rebels adopted a resolution urging Shivers and all other state officials to vote and "actively campaign" for Eisenhower, went on record freeing party members to vote as they would Nov. 4, booed the name of Stevenson—because of his opposition to state ownership of tidelands—and lustily cheered the name of Eisenhower.

"Loyal" Group Still Confident

"Loyal" Texas Democrats nonetheless predicted Wednesday the state convention action meant victory in November for Stevenson.

W. H. Kittrell of Dallas, a long-time liberal Democratic leader, said convention action was "frank and above board," but predicted, "we'll meet at the crossroads and when we do, Stevenson will win."

To cement the wedding of the parties in Texas, Democrats picked the Dallas law partner of the state Republican chairman to head the Democratic state executive committee for the next two years.

Wallace Savage, 39-year-old Dallas county Democratic chairman, stepped into the key political post. Alvin H. Lane, partner in the law firm of Lane and Savage, was targeted two weeks ago by Republicans to head the GOP state executive committee.

Dual Ballot Proposed

Diehard conservative Democrats, spawning from a core of former Dixiecrat leaders, fought unsuccessfully for a hybrid ballot bearing both the names of Stevenson and Eisenhower as Democratic presidential nominees.

However, Gov. Allan Shivers said the dual ballot plan would be illegal, and the proposal was defeated on a roll call vote.

Shivers, stepping into the role of convention keynote, told the convention it was his reluctant decision that under Texas law, Eisenhower's name could not be put on the Democratic ballot.

In the same breath, Shivers said that Stevenson had to be retained as the party nominee because of "moral and legal obligations"—a reference to a pledge he gave at the national Democratic convention at Chicago, as well as to Texas law.

Much Interest Shown At First Baptist Revival

Large crowds and deep interest characterize the revival services now in progress at the First Baptist Church.

The 7:00 a.m. services have been averaging about 60 and are growing each day, with the service at 10:30 having almost the same number attending. This service also has been growing in attendance daily.

The Sunday School each evening has had 180 present and the enthusiasm has been contagious as the teachers and officers have taken their members on visitation during the day.

Mr. Hoyt Mulkey, the new music and youth director is directing the attendance in the choir has the music and the attendance in been most encouraging. There has been splendid congregational singing.

There have been six additions by letter, one for baptism and two rededications recorded thus far.

The pastor is doing the preaching, and his sermon topics for Wednesday night and Thursday morning are: "A Place Hereafter", "Growing in Grace", and "Assurance."

First Rain For Weeks Falls Over Eastland Area

While the drought has not been broken, Tuesday's shower did knock a small dent in it. The precipitation in Eastland amounted to .48 of an inch and will be greatly appreciated. Other places over the county, especially in the eastern portion, got considerably more rain.

This half-inch will likely tend to improve the range, though very little, if any stock water, was impounded. No water was caught at city lake other than the .48 inch which was rained in.

Heavy skies indicate that the rain may not be over, and that additional moisture may be expected.

Rotarians Asked To Meet Lions For Ball Game

The Telegram has been asked by the Lions Club to deliver a challenge to the Rotary Club to meet them at Firemen's Field on Thursday night, Sept. 18, when the two teams will meet for a baseball game.

Under the rules, neither of the teams will be allowed to practice. So far as equipment goes everything is barred other than tennis shoes.

Carbon Reports Good Producer As Oil And Gas Flow From Test; Well Is Good For More Than Allowable

A report from Carbon, from a rather reliable source, indicates that Carbon has a new oil well and a good one.

Woodson Oil Co., Fort Worth, with Cadaine & Sons, drilling contractors, also of Fort Worth, have topped the Ellenburger at 3,579 feet with a wonderful showing. This test is on the D. Hall tract 1 1/2 miles south of Carbon.

They ran a drill stem test from 3579-59 feet, and had gas to the surface in four minutes. The well was flowing oil in 35 minutes, and recovery of 1400 of free oil was made. Flowing pressure of 600 pounds was registered, and shut in pressure was increased to 1100 pounds in 15 minutes.

Indications are that this will be a good well, and while we can't give an accurate figure concerning the flow, people in charge say it will produce the allowable or better.

Veteran Mental Patient Held In Father's Death

GALVESTON, Sept. 10 (UP)—A 27-year-old veteran who had been admitted to a state psychiatric hospital as a patient only four hours earlier stabbed his father to death as his mother fought frantically to separate the two men.

Frank Dupree, Sr., of Georgetown, a 58-year-old teacher at a veterans vocational school, died Tuesday from 19 stab wounds in his chest, three in his back and several smaller cuts.

Frank Dupree, Jr., was charged with his murder and confined to the psychopathic hospital.

Willie Burns, Galveston chief of detectives, said Mrs. Dupree and her husband brought their son to Galveston and he was accepted as a patient at the state hospital earlier Tuesday.

Work Goes Up In Smoke

DUTCH FLAT, Calif., Sept. 10 (UP)—Citizens who gave their talents in building a home for long-time resident Jess Hughes then watched it burn to the ground 24 hours later, said Wednesday they would use funds from a donated fire insurance policy to try again.

She Got It All

YUBA CITY, Calif., Sept. 10 (UP)—Mrs. Lucille Deal not only won a divorce from her husband, but she also gained custody of all listed community property. The list: one lawn mower.

Attendance At Lions Club New On The Upgrade

Best meeting in six months, was a statement made by several Lions at the close of Tuesday's session. Not only was the program good, but attendance as well. Almost every seat was occupied and the club had several visitors.

Among several visitors was Gene Young, assistant coach, who is well known in Eastland. Coach Edd Hooker brought an address on "football" and while his remarks were to the point, he gave Lions an opportunity to become acquainted with the new Maverick set up. He feels optimistic, despite the fact that many of the boys are new. "Good timber," he said, and some of these fellows are going to be heard from.

A group of Eastland Lions will likely attend the Mineral Wells meeting, it is thought.

The committee in charge of "special entertainment" will have a report at the meeting next week.

Civic Organization Compares '52 Democratic-GOP Platforms

Planks of the platforms adopted by the Republican and Democratic parties in their national conventions bearing upon the federal budget, tax reduction, tax administration and national defense, contained the following statements:

Federal budget:
Democratic platform—Declares for holding spending "to the lowest practicable level"; deplors "irresponsible assertion that national security can be achieved without paying for it."
Republican platform—Pledges "reduction of expenditures by elimination of waste and extravagance so that the budget will be balanced and a general tax reduction can be made."

Tax reduction:
Democratic — "As rapidly as defense requirements permit, we favor reducing taxes, especially for people of lower incomes. But we will not imperil our nation's security by making reckless promises to reduce taxes... We adhere to the principle of ability to pay."
Republican — "Our goal is a balanced budget, a reduced national debt, an economical administration and a cut in taxes."
Tax administration: Democratic — A pledge "to eliminate loopholes which favor special groups"; a promise to "continue to support sound development and growth of bona fide cooperatives"

Corn Kernel Muffins

For breakfast, brunch or lunch—here is a menu to please all comers. It's so delicious, nobody believes that it's a "breeze" to make!

Pamper your family with these easy-to-make Corn Kernel Muffins—hot, golden brown and tender. They are so quickly prepared you may wonder why you long ago didn't adopt the Southern practice of making quick breads. Corn Kernel Muffins have many hidden assets, too—especially when you use enriched flour. Enriched flour contains extra B-vitamins and food iron. And these "extras" are available at no added cost to you.

With Corn Kernel Muffins, bring on baked eggs topped with bacon strips. A good starter is cantaloupe wedges or chilled tomato juice. Don't limit Corn Kernel Muffins and baked eggs to breakfast time. This menu is an easy and "fun" way to entertain at brunch. Serve it with a fruit salad, coffee and assorted cookies for dessert. Buy the cookies at the bakery when time is limited.

Corn Kernel Muffins and baked eggs make a hearty lunch for school children. Accompany with a tossed salad and milk, followed by fresh-sliced peaches and cream.

Restrictions On Construction May Be Lifted Soon

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 UP—Government controls on construction may be relaxed sooner than planned, if the military does not require all the steel set aside for its use during October, November and December.

The plan now is to allow more steel, copper and aluminum for almost all types of construction beginning next April. But the construction industry insists there will be plenty of vital material sooner than that—perhaps as early as Jan. 1. Defense production officials have agreed to look into the supply situation again in two months.

Steel earmarked for military use in the fourth quarters of this year is the major stumbling block to earlier easing of the controls. Copper and aluminum supplies are than sufficient for the amount of construction to be permitted under new higher ceilings.

More Than Militia Can Use The Defense Production Administration has tagged more steel for military output than most industry observers think the military can possibly use, and the other industries would like the steel for themselves.

The government officials admit they are being cautious in defense allotments, but they say would rather not run the risk of not being able to meet some military requirement.

They also say that though there may be plenty of materials for some phases of construction work, controls still will be necessary on other items used in building.

Would Help All But Industry The relaxation would permit all except industrial construction to help themselves to bigger allotments of controlled materials without resorting to government red tape.

In effect, it would remove the government's ban on recreational building, allow apartment house builders to make their own authorizations for the first time, and it would raise self-authorization limitations for builders of one-to-four family houses and commercial buildings.

Some of these orders originally were scheduled for July 1 and others for Oct. 1, but the recent steel strike forced the delay.

Government and industry officials agree it will be easier to size up the supply situation when they meet again Oct. 29.

May Strain Mortgage Plan Meanwhile, the government is considering a plan to stretch out part of its housing mortgage buying-and-selling operations by using the same funds over and over again.

The Federal National Mortgage Association, which handles all such transactions for the government, buys mortgages from mortgagemakers when the public de-

UNLAWFUL FLIGHT TO AVOID PROSECUTION (ASSAULT WITH A DANGEROUS WEAPON)

DESCRIPTION

Age, 30, born June 18, 1922, at Longmeadow, Mass.; height, 5' 6" to 5' 8"; weight, 145 pounds; build, medium; hair, dark brown; curly; eyes, blue; complexion, medium; race, white; nationality, American; occupations, laborer, farmer, cook, dishwasher, pantryman; scars and marks, burn scar on left cheek, 3" scar on palm of left hand; remarks, has nervous habit of running hands through hair, walks with head bowed.

On June 1, 1950, Martin walked into a farmyard near Belchertown, Mass., and asked for help in moving his stalled car. The farmer mounted his tractor, but Martin drew a pistol and demanded money. When his benefactor moved to get off the tractor Martin shot him twice and then beat him on the head with a rock. Martin placed the prostrate form on the tractor and drove it into the barn. He then stole $440 from the farmhouse and fled in the farmer's truck, which he abandoned later that evening. The farmer, though badly wounded, recovered. On June 18 Martin was apprehended and incarcerated in the county jail at Northampton, Mass. He escaped on September 4, 1950, by scaling a high barbed wire fence.

Any person having information which may assist in locating this individual is requested to immediately notify the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice, Washington 25, D. It now is authorized to buy $3.6 million worth.

The new plan would give to an organization which buys mortgages from FNMA, better known as "Fanny May," the right to sell mortgages to FNMA in the future. Thus, the agency would have to stand prepared to buy as many mortgages as it sells.

The ready supply of money it would have to keep would prevent its getting larger or smaller. The assurance that he could always sell a mortgage to FNMA would give the purchaser of a mortgage

Twenty-First Prison Rodeo Is In October

HUNTSVILLE, Sept. 3 (UP)—(ECHO)—When Rodeo Manager Albert Moore blows the whistle that signals the opening event, the Mad Scramble, Sunday, October 5th, the 21st Annual Prison Rodeo will be under way. The two hours of rodeo action that follow promise to be the fastest, wildest, most thrill-packed 120 minutes of whirlwind action any rodeo fan could desire.

The wildest horses and meanest Brahma bulls are being rounded-up in the river bottom pastures throughout the Texas Prison System and are being shipped to Huntsville for the big show.

Inmates, who apply for a chance to ride in the rodeo, are being selected for a try-out rodeo to be held one Sunday this month. Rodeo Manager Moore says only the best riders and performers on that day will be selected for the appearance in the arena when the show begins.

Top-flight specialty performers of "outside" rodeo circuits have been contacted and booked for appearance between cowboy riding events. Special guest performers for each Sunday's presentation, such as the University of Texas Longhorn Band which is scheduled to appear on Opening Day, have been invited to attend and execute their specialties.

No effort is being spared to make this year's annual rodeo the biggest and best, fastest and wildest ever to be presented in Prison Stadium at Huntsville.

Reserved seat ticket sales have begun and requests for reservations are coming in on every mail according to L. W. Wright, in charge of ticket sales this year.

When ordering reserved seats by mail or wire patrons are requested to specify plainly the number of seats and the dates for which they are desired. Check or money order must accompany all requests for reservations. All reserved seats are $2.40 each, tax included. Mail orders should be addressed to L. W. Wright, Prison Rodeo Ticket Office, Huntsville, Texas.

from the FNMA more freedom.

Government housing officials still are pondering the idea. They have not decided yet to put the plan into effect. If they do, it probably would apply only to mortgages on non-defense housing, which is about half the housing construction business today.

Rain Refreshes Much of Texas

South Texas was refreshed Wednesday from general rain which fell over much of the area Tuesday and the monotony of the entire Southwest weather picture was punctuated by scattered thunder showers over a wide section.

The U. S. Weather bureau at New Orleans early Wednesday ordered small craft warnings continued along the Gulf Coast from Corpus Christi to Morgan City, La. but said easterly winds, "occasionally 25 to 30 miles per hour" would diminish Wednesday night.

And forecasters had good news for Oklahoma: The parched state was due rain within the next few days. But the weather bureau conceded that expected precipitation would not exceed a half inch, far too little to break the month's drought and too late to help the corn or cotton crop.

It still was hot in the Southwest Wednesday. Temperatures Tuesday reached 95 at La Junta, Colo., and 95 at Sheridan, Wyo. It was 93 at Joplin and St. Louis, Mo., and Chanute, Kans.; 95 at McAlester, Okla., and 96 at Alice, Texas.

Rain in the Houston and Beaumont areas of Texas was expected to help later varieties of rice. Water supplies had become so short that salt water backed up from the Gulf of Mexico into irrigation canals and threatened the crop in many areas.

Rain in Texas ranged up to 2.82 inches at Iresidio. Houston got an inch and Victoria, some 50 miles inland from the Gulf reported 1.11 inches.

A federal-state crop reporting service noted Tuesday soil moisture throughout the Southwest was negligible.

A cottonmill firm serving Texas and Oklahoma announced its mills at Elk City, Okla., and San Angelo, Munday and Slaton, Tex., won't even open this year because of the drought-ruined cotton crop. It said a new mill at Memphis, Tex would be able to handle everything.

A spokesman for Western Cottonmill Mills said the firm hoped to reopen other mills next fall.

First Hydrogen Bomb May Be Tested This Fall

By Herbert Foster
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (UP)—The United States may explode its first hydrogen bomb this fall, qualified observers said Wednesday. The Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission announced that Joint Task Force 152 will conduct secret tests this fall on lonely Eniwetok atoll in the Pacific. The announcement said only that the tests will be "looking toward the development of atomic weapons."

Alias Basil Willing By Helen McCloy

THE STORY: Jack Duggan, a private detective who had been posing as Basil Willing, is murdered and a woman who employed him, aged and blind Katherine Shaw, dies under mysterious circumstances. Both deaths occurred in connection with a dinner party at the home of Dr. Zimmerman, who is a psychiatrist as is Basil Willing. In spite of the deaths, Dr. Zimmerman resumes his gatherings which are held to study some of his patients. Basil asks Miss Shaw's secretary Charles Dean to attend and report on what occurs. Late that night, Perdita Lawrence, who attended the dinner with her father Stephen Lawrence, calls Basil, telling him that her father is dying. Basil has managed to bring Lawrence out of cocaine poisoning. Lawrence survives only after Basil says he must do so for his daughter's sake.

XXIV AFTER an hour Basil Willing came out of the room and shut the door. Perdita sat on the top step of the stairs, eyes questioning. He nodded and heard her soft exhalation of relief. They went down in silence. She brought coffee from the kitchenette to the table before the fireplace. "You saved his life."

"No. You saved his life." She looked at him stonily. "You're trying to make me feel comfortable. But I shall never feel comfortable again."

"Why not?" She turned away. "I can't help feeling it was my fault somehow." "Tell me what happened before you called. You both dined at Dr. Zimmerman's."

Her startled eyes searched his face. "How did you know?" "Miss Dean told me the Friday dinners were being resumed. Were they all there—the Yorkes, the Cannings, Brinsley Shaw and Miss Dean, Dr. Zimmerman and Mrs. Mann?"

"Yes." "Did anything happen out of the ordinary?" "No. Father seemed just as usual." "Wasn't he excited? Gay? Something like that?" "A little, when we got home.

South Koreans Take Strategic 'Capitol Hill'

SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 10 (UP)—South Korean infantrymen recaptured strategic Capitol Hill Wednesday and held it against two savage Chinese Communist counter-attacks. The victorious Republic of Korea troops scrambled to the crest of the central front height around midnight and chased demoralized Communist defenders down the northern slope. A half hour later they sent this terse message: "The hill is secured."

Red commanders threw 400 men into a screaming counter-attack, but Allied machineguns, grenades rifle and artillery fire halted the assault almost before it got started. Then a Chinese Red company tried to push the South Koreans

"The moment I saw your father tonight, I knew he'd been poisoned with some opium derivative. I suspect cocaine because I know he had cocaine in his possession. Jack Duggan died of cocaine poisoning after meeting the same group of people you met at Dr. Zimmerman's tonight. The coincidence is more than curious."

PERDITA leaned back wearily in her chair and closed her eyes. "Coincidences do happen. Father's been taking cocaine for a month." "So had Miss Shaw." Her eyes opened in a flash of fear. "You mean..."

"If it were not for Duggan's death, I should assume that what happened tonight was either accident or attempted suicide. But I can't reconcile that with Duggan's death. Can you?" "I—don't know anything about Duggan."

"Has your father any property that you or anyone else will inherit?" She shook her head. "He has no property." "Now I'm going to ask you something that may seem irrelevant. What did Rosamund Yorke mean when she told you about two months ago, 'You will notice only one thing out of the ordinary there—a certain number of us never speak of the future?'"

"She—I..." Perdita pushed her hair back from her forehead. "I'm so tired. I can't think. Let me talk to you some other time, Dr. Willing. Please."

A shrill note sounded four times in a monotone, then ascended half the scale and ended in a throaty chuckle. The trill was repeated, checked. A dozen other treble notes joined the invisible chorus until the world seemed full of rippling, fluttering sound, half chatter, half song, with a dash of whistle. Outside, the sun-worshipping birds were halting the first intimation of dawn.

Basil looked at her directly. "Did you give your father an overdose of cocaine? And then change your mind, as many mercy-killers do, when he seemed to be dying?" "No."

Dr. Treadwell Tells Of Baptist Work In Japan At WMU Meeting

Dr. M. A. Treadwell talked on Monday afternoon at the Royal Service meeting of the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Treadwell, leader had prepared a table of curios collected by her husband, while stationed in Japan at one of the army hospitals. He was stationed at Fukuoka, Japan and lived for one year near the Baptist church and Baptist schools established there, and gave first hand information on the work.

Others on the program presenting the work in Japan were Mmes. Eldon Anderson, Gene Rhodes, Carl Jones and Harold Hitt.

Mrs. H. W. Sims gave the devotional.

During the business session, presided over by Mrs. Parks Poe, president, Mrs. Sims was elected president of the WMU for the ensuing church year beginning October 1. Other officers elected were Mrs. Nettie Rushing, treasurer and Mmes. Paul Daniel and Frank Lovett, circle chairman.

Plans were made for the all day of prayer meeting with noon luncheon, September 22 at the Church and announcement was made of the meeting of the Cisco Baptist Association here September 25th.

About thirty-five members attended.

Go Hawaiian with refreshments, too

As every hostess knows, there's nothing like the Hawaiian touch to put sparkle and fun into a luncheon or dinner party. Or into simple refreshments before or after a game of cards or an evening of tele-viewing!

One easy but dramatic way to say Hawaii in refreshments is with pineapple-shaped cookies to go along with ice cream that's topped with minted pineapple. There's nothing difficult about cutting out cookie dough in the shape of a pineapple! All you need to do is make a cardboard pattern (about 4 inches long from base to top of leaves) being careful not to make the leaves too thin and spindly. Lay the pattern over rolled-out dough and cut around it with the tip of a small knife. Once the cookies are on the cookie sheet, press the body of each "pineapple" lightly with the side of a fork to give an air of realism.

When it comes to a recipe for sugar-cookies that are easy to handle and easy to eat whether cut in pineapple shapes or in regulation rounds, you'll like this one especially well!

Crisp Sugar Cookies

- 1 1/2 cups C and H Cane Granulated Sugar
- 1 cup mixed butter and shortening
- 2 eggs, unbeaten
- 3 tablespoons sour or sweet cream
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
- 3 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Using spoon or electric mixer at low speed, gradually add sugar to shortening, beating until fluffy. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Add cream and flavorings. Stir in flour sifted with soda and salt; mix well. Cover and chill until stiff. Roll out a small amount at a time very thin on lightly floured board or canvas. Cut with floured cookie cutter, or lay cardboard pattern on the dough and cut around it with tip of knife. Bake on ungreased baking sheet at 400° F. (hot) 6 to 9 minutes, until golden. Remove at once to rack to cool. Makes 4 to 6 dozen medium-size cookies.

Pineapple Sundae Sauce

Cook together 1 1/2 cups crushed pineapple (not drained) and 3/4 cup C and H Cane Granulated Sugar over moderate heat until thick. Chill. Serve as is, or, if you prefer, tint pale green with food coloring, and add 2 or 3 drops of mint flavoring. Makes 4 sundaes.

Speaking of Hawaii, look for more good ideas for entertaining the Hawaiian way on the back panels of the 5-lb. and 10-lb. bags of C and H Cane Sugar at your grocer's.

Bridge System Badly Run Down

AUSTIN — There's an old saw about not crossing a bridge until you get to it, but Texas has some 2,000 that are unsafe to cross.

A minimum of $304 million dollars is needed to bring these water-way spans to a point of safety, according to Highway Department estimates now being studied by the Texas Good Roads Association.

More than half of these structures, which total 276 miles in length, are inadequate for traffic demands made on them every day. One of every ten is incapable of supporting the legal load limit, while half of them are too narrow to permit passing, too low for clearance or too weak to accommodate today's modern traffic load.

Many of these bridges, particularly on through highways, now are being widened. Many more, however, are not on the new surveys and will not be widened. Meantime, only precaution by the drivers will prevent many serious accidents.

Thirty Enrolled For WTCC School September 19-20

ABILENE — Thirty have enrolled for the West Tex. Chamber of Commerce short course for chamber of commerce managers and office secretaries to be conducted Friday and Saturday, Sept. 19 and 20, by the Community Services department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Rex Jennings of Brownwood, chairman of the sub-committee in charge of the course, has announced it will open Friday evening with a banquet. M. D. Fanning of San Angelo will preside. Joe Cooley of Abilene will welcome the visiting managers. Fred H. Husbands, general manager of the WTCC, will speak on the subject, "Chamber of Commerce Management as a Profession".

John B. Zachry of Monahans will preside over the Saturday morning session of the course itself. Lester G. Fleener of Borger will conduct the afternoon meeting. Chamber of Commerce executives who will be instructors and their subjects are: Ralph E. Duncan, Community Service manager of the WTCC, Program of Work; J. H. Greene, Big Spring, Membership and Budget; Leon Huff, Snyder, Annual Meetings and Reports; H. J. Tanner, Eastland, Civic Activities; Jack Austin, Wichita Falls, C-C Agricultural manager, Agriculture Activities; Rex Jennings, Brownwood, Trade Development.
